Publisher's Foreword

Islam has given two reliable pathways for the guidance of mankind. One of them is the clear Verses of Qur'ân while the other, quite consistent with the first, is what we call Sunnah or Hadith.

To explain and interpret its basic and brief teachings, Qur'ân has itself mentioned the need for Sunnah and the Prophet's model lifestyle. The latter explains the former. The Sunnah is an indispensable guide to understand the commandments and passages of Qur'ân. Without Ahâdith, the entire faith and the entire Shari'ah (Islamic Law) will become no better than a riddle. It is to be noted that the wealth of expository material relating to Shari'ah, as found in Ahâdith, was also given to the Prophet ﷺ by Allâh through the archangel Gabriel (Jibra'il). This is why Qur'ân is called Revelation Recited (Wahy Matlu) while the Hadith is called Revelation Unrecited (Wahy Ghair Matlu).

The Arabic word Hadith means conversation, account, narrative, report, and also novel or modern. But as a technical term, however, it means the deeds, utterances, circumstances and matters of Allâh's Messenger ﷺ or, in other words, whatever has come down to us concerning Allâh's Messenger ﷺ and his mission (through his Companions and their followers). Hadith is also called Sunnah (Tradition), Akhbâr (information, report, communication, and message) and Athar (track, trace, sign, mark). Hadith may be verbal, or practical or just tacit (that is, when the Prophet ﷺ did not object to some thing, thereby giving his tacit approval). However, some include even the Prophet's Shamâ'il (his physical descriptions, natural disposition and habits) under the general heading of Hadith.

The authority of Hadith, its truth and its position in Shari'ah is indisputable. The proper art of writing began soon after the Prophet ﷺ began his mission. The Verses of the Revelation "Who has taught by the pen,"[1] and "Nun; by the pen and by what they write (therewith),"[2] gave impetus to the art of writing during the era of the Prophet ﷺ. The people of Arabia who boasted of a retentive memory and their ability to reproduce with accuracy what they committed to memory now began to set down what they learnt in writing. We have come to know from varied sources that the scribes of Qur'ân totalled more than fifty in numbers. As for the narration and recording of Ahâdith, a much wider and more elaborate system evolved in the succeeding ages.

[2] Al-Qalam 68:4.

The things being set down in writing, in addition to Qur'ân, during the Prophet's era were: official letters of the Islamic State, the Prophet's letters, the State Constitution, the Prophet's sermons, treaties, deeds of gift, writs guaranteeing security, census, writs of manumission of slaves, names of governors and officials appointed for different regions and provinces, state instructions and guidelines, details of revenues and expenditures of Baitul-Mâl (Exchequer), and the Ahâdith based on what the Companions saw the Prophet ﷺ do or heard him say. All these documents, written down with great care and accuracy, make an invaluable treasure. Moreover, we have authentic details that prove the Companions recorded Ahâdith carefully and responsibly.

On many an occasion did the Prophet ﷺ instruct his Companions to put in writing what he said. For example, the Farewell pilgrimage sermon was set down in writing at the request of Abu Shah of Yemen.

These Traditions dating back to the era of the Prophet ﷺ, and his Companions, set in motion a trend that continued during the successive generations of Muslims, till an elaborate science of Hadith blossomed forth with many technical terms, like Riwâyah (narration), Dirâyah (cognizance), Al-Jarhu wat-Ta'dil (Science of Validation of Ahâdith), terms that gave a scientific dimension to this branch of knowledge ensuring the safeguarding, preservation, and interpretation of Ahâdith. The Biographies of Narrators (Asmâ'ur-Rijâl), a branch of Hadith sciences, holds a prominent place among the arts and sciences developed by mankind. It is about this branch of knowledge that German Orientalist Dr Springer, while editing Al-Isâbah fi Tamizis-Sahâbah, remarked: "No nation in the past or in modern times ever invented an outstanding science like Asmâ'ur-Rijâl that provides information about five hundred thousand Muslims."

Of course, we concede that the enemies of Islam, hypocrites and liars fabricated some Ahâdith in an attempt to spread them. But, then, the Hadith scholars goaded by faith and endowed with keen observation, knowledge, and comprehension, while using scientific methods of inquiry, challenged and eliminated those fabrications from the treasure of (genuine) Ahâdith. No doubt, it was a notable achievement worthy of praise in the annals of human knowledge. Here is an incident illustrating the scholars' achievement in this field:

The Abbasid caliph Hârun Rashid (170–193 AH) had a disbeliever arrested for fabricating Ahâdith and ordered his execution. The disbeliever said to the king: "O Commander of the Faithful, how will you deal with those four thousand Ahâdith I have already fabricated, making lawful things unlawful, and the unlawful lawful, although not a word in those 'Ahâdith' was ever spoken by Allâh's Messenger." Thereupon, the king retorted: "O enemy of Allâh, how can you escape from Abu Ishâq Fazâri and 'Abdullah bin Mubârak? They will sieve them out and eliminate them letter by letter."

It is a well-known fact that the painstaking efforts of scholars gave Ahâdith a high degree of reliability next to Qur'ân. When the Ahâdith had been read over carefully, revised, corrected and expounded in the light of the principles of Hadith sciences like Jarh (invalidation), Ta'dil (validation), and Asmâ'ur-Rijâl, the stage for the recording of Ahâdith was set. Thanks to the exhausting efforts of Hadith scholars and their deep sense of responsibility, the Muslim nation got, in addition to Sihâh Sittah (the Sound Six books of Hadith) a vast treasure that included Musannafât (Hadith compilations according to subject-headings), Jawâmi' (comprehensive books of Ahâdith), Sunan (collections of legal and doctrinal Ahâdith), Masânid (Hadith compilations according to complete chains), Ma'âjim (compilations arranged according to names of Companions or regions or names of teachers of compilers), Mustadrakât (compilations of Ahâdith meeting the conditions of other compilers but not found in their books), and Mustakhrajât (compilations containing Ahâdith of other compilers with different chains of narration), the manuscripts of which—numbering in thousands—researched, edited and furnished with explanatory and marginal notes, exist even today in international libraries attracting the attention of research scholars. Anyhow, among those compilations, the six canonical books of Ahâdith (Sihâh Sittah) rank as the centerpiece.

I have a wish since long to present the Sound Six (Sihâh Sittah) translated into modern English in such a way as to list the inferences and gainful conclusions drawn from each Hadith, to remove any misgiving and misunderstanding, satisfying the mind and soul, and reinforcing the faith. With this noble cause in view, Darussalam has solicited the services of several learned scholars and researchers who are working with zeal on the translation of the Sound Six and writing commentaries on them.

All the Ahâdith of this collection have been documented, referenced and traced by the great research scholar, Hâfiz Zubair 'Ali Za'i.

One thing I want to mention is that in these collections, the original Arabic texts of the Ahâdith contain complete chain of narrators while in translation, for the sake of simplicity, only the name of the first narrator is mentioned who narrated the Hadith from the Prophet ﷺ.

Preface

Hadith is next only to Qur'ân as a source of Islamic laws and proofs. The term Hadith applies to the words and acts of Allâh's Messenger ﷺ as well as his tacit approvals called Taqrir. The latter refers to acts done in his presence but he did not disapprove of them, his silence indicating his approval. All these three categories of Ahâdith are variously known as (1) Khabar, (2) Athar, (3) Hadith and (4) Sunnah. (All these words have already been mentioned under the technical terms employed by Hadith scholars).

In contradistinction with Khabar and Athar, the words Hadith and Sunnah are widely popular, so much so, that a mere mention of any of these two words, inevitably brings to mind the words, acts and tacit approvals of Allâh's Messenger ﷺ. No other thought comes to our mind except the foregoing at the mention of the word Hadith or Sunnah. Yes, of course, some people have made a distinction between Hadith and Sunnah, advancing as argument the words of some scholars, but, in fact, this distinction is not right. The Hadith scholars make no distinction between the two. According to them, Hadith and Sunnah are synonymous terms. Similarly, taking Sunnah as referring to the Prophet's habits, modes of behavior and manners and thereby denying their legal authority is equally wrong. It is, in fact, a deception, a concealed escape route leading to the rejection of Ahâdith. Again, in the same way, considering only the acts of the Prophet ﷺ that he did persistently and uninterruptedly as binding is, in fact, a rejection of a vast number of Ahâdith. Those who say so have, in deed, allied themselves with the rejecters of Ahâdith. Moreover, rejecting a Hadith on the ground that it is in conflict with Qur'ân and entraping people into believing so, is not the way befitting a Muslim. That is the way of the crooked, the sectarians and the dissenters who reject a lot of Ahâdith on the seemingly attractive plea of being in disharmony with Qur'ân.

Two centuries after the advent of Islam, the Mutazilites (Mu'tazilah)[1] rejected some Ahâdith. Their purpose was to justify their wrong and misleading beliefs. Likewise, about a century and a half ago, the naturalists, too, criticized the canonical authority of Ahâdith, their purpose being no more than to affirm naturalism and reinterpret Qur'ân according to their own desires and whims. It is the same group of naturalists who, impressed in our times by the 'rare research works' of the Orientalists and charmed by the wizards of the West and their civilization, are working in an organized way to alienate the Muslims from their own culture and Islamic values and traditions and are moulding them according to modern civilization.

Anyhow, the term Hadith or Sunnah applies to whatever the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said, did, or gave his tacit consent to. This, like Qur'ân, is an independent, distinct and reliable source of faith and law (Shari'ah). To benefit by Hadith and rely on it in giving legal rulings, we need to know the following:

Things worthy to note

1. The faith revealed by Allâh is Islam and only Islam. "Truly, the religion with Allâh (is) Islam."[1] "And whoever seeks a religion other than Islam, it will never be accepted of him and he will be one of the losers in the Hereafter."[2] Allâh commanded the believers to hold fast to the religion and forbade them to divide and fall apart: "And hold fast, all of you together, to the Rope of Allâh, and be not divided among yourselves."[3] Allâh also warned us through His Messenger ﷺ: "And (He commands you, saying): This is My straight path, so follow it, and follow not (other) paths, for they will separate you away from His path."[4]
2. Since Qur'ân has warned us, in several Verses, against separation and disunion, which means only dissenting and dividing up into sects, and since the Prophet ﷺ has commanded us to follow one course only and condemned other courses as wrong, it naturally follows, therefore, that the True Path can only be one, not many. How can many paths be true at one and the same time? It is not possible, neither by reason nor by tradition. Qur'ân declares: "After the Truth, what else can there be except error?"[5]
3. What is this religion of Islam or the Straight Path? Where is it to be found? It consists of two things: Qur'ân and the Hadith of the Prophet ﷺ. Allâh's Messenger ﷺ said: "I am leaving to you two things. You will not go astray as long as you cling to them: the Book of Allâh and the Sunnah of His Prophet."[6]

[2] Âl 'Imrân 3:85.
[3] Âl 'Imrân 3:103.
[4] Al-An'âm 6:153.
[5] Yunus 10:32.
[6] Muwattâ' Imâm Mâlik: 3.

4. This religion, unlike other religions, is not unguarded. It is secure from tampering. Since this religion is final and the only way of deliverance for mankind till the Judgment Day, Allâh has undertaken the responsibility of guarding it. He said: "Verily, We, it is We Who have sent down the Reminder and surely We will guard it."[1] The intended meaning of the Reminder is Qur'ân that is guarded and made secure. It remained unchanged and will remain ever so in future. Since it was impossible to understand it and act by it without Ahâdith, the safeguarding of it implies the safeguarding of Hadith also. Therefore, in order to safeguard the Ahâdith, Allâh created a group of Hadith scholars who took pains to safeguard the Ahâdith, separating the genuine from the spurious. Hence, Qur'ân and Sunnah are the only two basic sources of religion. However, to understand them correctly, the way of the Prophet's Companions and the righteous predecessors is an indispensable aid.

5. None of the founders of the schools of Islamic jurisprudence ever claimed that their ruling was final. On the contrary, they acknowledged they may have erred and, hence, advised their followers to ignore their ruling in case a sound, authentic Hadith is ever found contradicting their ruling. Moreover, they are known to have recanted some of their opinions. In case a Hadith was found later on contradicting the ruling of some jurist, his students are reported to have declared that the Hadith in question had remained unknown to their Imâm (the jurist) and that he would have surely recanted his ruling if only he had known it. It should be noted that Ahâdith were collected, recorded and examined long after the founders of the schools had gone. For example, the Sound Six (Sihâh Sittah) and other books of Ahâdith were compiled later on. But, no doubt, those Imâms of jurisprudence were excusable for their errors. Hopefully, they may be rather rewarded because their intent was good. Anyhow, now that Ahâdith have been collected and recorded, insistence on a particular legal ruling and rejecting a Hadith on different pleas is quite unjustified.

6. The students of the Imâms of Fiqh (Islamic jurisprudence) disagreed with their own teachers and mentors on some issues, but none blamed or rebuked them for having done so, but rather praised them for their truth and scholarly ability. So it is no error or sin if today someone disagrees with the learned Imâms of Islamic jurisprudence. He deserves praise, rather than condemnation.

About the Four Books of Sunan

The Four Books of Sunan (Sunan Arba'ah) refer to Sunan Abu Dâwud, Sunan Tirmidhi, Sunan Nasa'i and Sunan Ibn Mâjah. The term Sihâh Sittah, widely known in the Indo-Pakistan subcontinent, refers to the six books of Hadith, that is, the foregoing four books of Sunan and the Sound Ahâdith of Bukhâri and Muslim (Sahih Bukhâri and Sahih Muslim). The latter two books, also called Sahihain, are believed by orthodox Muslims (Ahlus-Sunnah) to contain only Sound (Sahih) Ahâdith. With respect to the chain of narration (Sanad), no Hadith in those two books is weak.

Shah Waliullah wrote, while commenting on the two books: "As for the two authentic books of Ahâdith (Bukhâri and Muslim), scholars of Hadith sciences are unanimous that the Muttasil (Connected)[1] and Marfu' (Traceable)[2] contained in the twain are absolutely Sound and Mutawâtir (Continuous)[3] up to their compilers and that anyone who belittles the two is an innovator (Mubtadi'), following a way other than that of the believers."

Anyway, it is accepted by all, that the Four Books of Sunan do contain some Ahâdith that are Weak (Da'if). They are grouped together with the two books of Bukhâri and Muslim and often referred to as the Sound Six (Sihâh Sittah). This collective name is in popular usage. This title has been given to them, not because all the Ahâdith of the Four Sunan are Sound like those of Bukhâri and Muslim but because most of them are, except some that are Weak. In other words, the Ahâdith of the Four Sunan are generally, not totally, Sound. That is the reason why they are grouped together with those of Bukhâri and Muslim and collectively called Sihâh Sittah. Anyhow, this collective title created an impression among the laymen that all the Six are the collections of Sound Ahâdith. Besides, a large section of learned scholars who are usually unaware of the science of the Methodology of Critical Evaluation of Ahâdith (Naqdul-Hadith) and the science of Biographies of Narrators (Asmâ'ur-Rijâl), believe that the mere fact a Hadith exists in any one of the Four Sunan is enough to guarantee its soundness and, especially in the event of argumentations, they make good use of it and the Weak Ahâdith of the Four Sunan are taken as Sound and advanced as argument to prove their point. The majority of scholars find it difficult to tell the Weak from the Sound because this matter cannot be decided without a thorough knowledge of the science of the Methodology of Critical Evaluation of Ahâdith and Biographies of Narrators. Only a few scholars are expert in the Hadith sciences.

This state of affairs continued till our times when the great traditionist and Hadith scholar of this century, Shaikh Nâsiruddin Albâni (d. 1999 CE) undertook, by grace of Allâh, the task of researching Ahâdith all over again, in a spirit of revival and reformation. Ever since the recording and compilation of Hadith books, no notable research work on Ahâdith had been done. This field of activity was almost stagnant. It was Shaikh Albâni who initiated this work in modern times with a renewed determination. On the one hand, he prepared a team of experts, endowed with a talent for research and inquiry, from amongst his own students and, on the other hand, he himself carried out an immense and wide-ranging research work on Ahâdith. His achievements in the field of Ahâdith are briefly given below:

One of his notable achievements is that he researched the Ahâdith of the Four Sunan and identified the Weak and the Sound, a work that proved that, unlike Bukhâri and Muslim, not all the Ahâdith of the Sunan are Sound and that the mere fact a Hadith exists in the Sunan is not enough to prove its reliability but, rather, its soundness or weakness can be determined only in the light of the principles of Hadith evaluation. He divided each book of the Four Sunan into two parts, the Weak and the Sound, thereby making it easy for any cleric not skilled in the methodology of evaluation to benefit by this division and know the Weak from the Sound.

Shaikh Albâni also called for the term 'the Sound Six' (Sihâh Sittah) to be changed. He proposed a new name: the Six Books (Kutub Sittah) for all the six books of Hadith because the four books of Sunan contain some Weak Ahâdith. To call all the six books Sihâh Sittah (Sound Six) conveys the idea to general public that all of them are Sound. His view was that the four books of Sunan should be called the Four Sunan (Sunan Arba'ah), Bukhâri and Muslim the Sound Two (Sahihain) and all the six be renamed the Six Books (Kutub Sittah).

An Earnest Plea

I entreat the readers of Kutub Sittah (the Six Books), a publication of Darussalam, to make their intent clear and pure before reading or teaching them, and determine that they would accept without hesitation each and every Hadith of the Prophet ﷺ and give it precedence over the opinions of others.

Second, they should pray to Allâh fervently and sincerely to guide them to the Straight Path. We say "(O Allâh,) Guide us to the Straight Path" in our daily prayers, but it seems to have little effect on us because we do not realize what we say. I entreat you, dear readers, to pray from the deepest depths of your hearts for guidance and not to take for granted or remain self-satisfied with your denomination that may well be an accident of birth or milieu.

Third, Allâh has given you intellect, good sense and reasoning faculty. You use them to improve your material wealth and worldly possessions. You do not feel contented with what you inherit from your parents but ever strive to increase it and add to your material comforts, although you know that the joys of the world are short-lived and will perish sooner or later. Is it sensible to strive day and night for the fleeting pleasures of the world and ignore the joys and comforts of the Hereafter that are abiding, unending and supreme? Is it wise of us to keep on following the religious traditions we inherited from our family or acquired from our environs, no matter what they are?

Surely, it is not a good use of the gifts of Allâh, the gifts of reason and intellect. Reason demands of us to seek the Straight Path. Not to do so is to wrong yourself as well as your children. Remember that straying away from the Straight Path means loss in the Afterlife. It is our duty, therefore, to save us and our children from that great loss that is the inevitable end of those who digress from the Straight Path. And the only way to avoid losing in the Afterlife is the one we have outlined in the foregoing pages.

Our Actions and Day of Accounting

We, too, are not exempt from what we have said earlier. Our instructions to others are equally binding on us as on them. We call Allâh as witness that we have been fair in our evaluation of Ahâdith. While deciding the soundness or weakness of a Hadith, we never let ourselves be swayed by bias for any particular sect, party or denomination or mental reservations, or preconceived notions or circumstances. We have been completely fair, just and honest in our evaluation of Ahâdith. We have tried to be completely neutral. We have kept our inquiries untainted with prejudice. Our research is purely scientific. We followed only the accepted principles of Hadith evaluation. Only then did we decide a case or give a ruling as to which course is right or preferable. Twisting or distorting a Hadith, or wriggling out of it, or stretching it in an attempt to arrive at far-fetched meanings, dubbing a Sound Hadith as Weak or a Weak one as Sound, declaring without proof a Hadith as abrogated or abrogating—all these things we believe to be fraud, deception, and concealment of truth. We seek Allâh's refuge from these trickeries. Of course, we may have erred in applying the principles of Hadith evaluation, or we may have erred for lack of access to information, or we may have misunderstood something—and we will be grateful to those who point out our errors and we pledge to correct them forthwith—but, by grace of Allâh, we remained honest and fair throughout our research work, there being no taint of bias for or prejudice against any school of thought, or party, or sect, or denomination, nor self motive or desire for profit. Allâh is the Warden over what we say.

Conclusion

If a person realizes the greatness of Allâh, his fear of Him will increase. And if a slave is afraid of His Lord's retribution, he will increase in righteous deeds. Fear of Allâh is a cure for idleness. It is also an excellent trait for a believer.

Hasan Basri said, "I have kept the company of a people who are more worried of their righteous deeds being rejected than of their being punished for their misdeeds."

Yusuf bin Abdul-Hasan was described as follows: "Whenever he emerged, he would look as if he was coming from the funeral of a close relative of his; and whenever he sat down, he would look as if he was a captive who was about to be executed. Whenever Hell-Fire was mentioned, he would react as if it was created exclusively for him."

Know that a Muslim should maintain balance between fear and hope. For, fear only, if it is not accompanied by hope, can kill. Breeze of hope enlivens the souls.

Fear is the driver of the soul while hope is its guide. If it becomes slack with its guide, its driver eggs it on; and it refuses to abide by the instruction of its driver, its guide encourages it. Coolness of hope ameliorates the hotness of fear, and the sword of fear deals a deadly blow on procrastination. If a servant ponders over the favor of his Lord, he will show gratitude to Him and forsake anxiety and worries. If he looks at his sins, he will take precaution and will spend the night seeking pardon and forgiveness.

My dear brother, death in the cause of seeking knowledge is better than perdition in the path of idleness. Continue to awake in the night and observe frequent supererogatory fasting. Leave sleep alone for the sleepers. Endeavor to catch up with righteous people. After you have attained cure to your ailment, rejoice with the assurance of Allâh: "And give good news to those who believe (in the Oneness of Allâh and in His Prophet Muhammad ﷺ) that they shall have with their Lord the rewards of their good deeds?" (Yunus 10:2)

But if you die in your ailment, console yourself with Allâh's promise for the martyrs: "Verily, the Muttaqûn (the pious), will be in the midst of Gardens and Rivers (Paradise): In a seat of truth (i.e., Paradise), near the Omnipotent King (Allâh, the All-Blessed, the Most High, the Owner of majesty and honor)." (Al-Qamar 54:54-55)

Be always in remembrance of Allâh; perhaps your little remembrance of Allâh may make Him also remember you, as He said: "And the remembering (praising) of (you by) Allâh (in front of the angels) is greater indeed [than your remembering (praising) of Allâh in prayers]." (Al-'Ankabut 29:45) So be sincere in your remembrance of Him.

Abu Hurairah ﷺ narrated: "Allâh's Messenger ﷺ was traveling along the path leading to Makkah that he happened to pass by a mountain called Jumdan. He said: 'Proceed on, it is Jumdan. The Mufarridun have gone ahead.' The Companions said: 'O Allâh's Messenger, who are Mufarridun?' He said: 'They are those males and females who remember Allâh much.'"[1]

Abu Hurairah ﷺ said, while he was in the house of Umm Darda: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ reported from his Lord that He said, 'I am with My slave when he remembers Me and his lips move (in My remembrance)."[2]

Abu Darda said: "Those who always remembered Allâh shall enter Paradise smiling."

One of the signs of a lover is that he feels stirred up whenever the name of his beloved is mentioned. If you love someone from among the people of this world and you hear his name being mentioned, you feel stirred up from within.

However, remembrance of Allâh is being recited to you and nothing changed in you! You hear Allâh's commands and prohibitions many times and yet you fail to reflect upon them; though He has made the reflection on His Verses easy for whoever strives in His way. But there are some among His slaves who ponder, implement His commandments, and abstain from His prohibitions. Whenever such people look at their good deeds they realize that they have not done enough. They never enjoy any food, drink or sleep without remembering Allâh. Can't you hear Him describing such slaves of His and commending them in His Glorious Book saying: "The believers are only those who, when Allâh is mentioned, feel a fear in their hearts and when His Verses (this Qur'ân) are recited unto them, they (i.e., the Verses) increase their Faith." (Al-Anfâl 8:2)

He also describes them as: "As-Sâbirun [who patiently bear whatever may befall them (of calamities)]." (Al-Hajj 22:35)

So He thanked them for that and concealed their misdeeds. He informed them that He will be pleased with them on the Day the sky shall split open and, the Day "Man will be informed of what he sent forward (of his evil or good deeds), and what he left behind (of his good or evil traditions)." (Al-Qiyâmah 75:13)

On that Day, the sinner shall regret and be in sorrow for his negligence. He will be weighed down with his misdeeds. When he will be called to read his record of deeds, he will see that it is full of evil acts and he will be confused. When he sees other sinners like him being sent and dragged to Hell, he will then show a remorse that will be of no avail to him. He will cry but he will not be heard. He will neither be shown mercy nor be excused.

The punishment is severe for those who transgressed and behaved arrogantly. Therefore, my admonition for you is that, you should repent and give up sinning. Perhaps, you will be lead aright. For, Allâh helps those who seek refuge with Him and work righteously.

Introduction

Methodology of Research and Tracing of Ahâdith

Praise is to Allâh. We extol Him and seek His help. None can misguide him whom Allâh guides and none can guide him whom Allâh misguides. I bear witness that there is no God except Allâh, Alone, without any partner, and I bear witness that Muhammad is His slave and His Messenger. The best speech is the Book of Allâh and the best course is the course of Muhammad ﷺ while the worst things are (religious) innovations and every innovation is an error and a delusion.

I thank Allâh, our Lord, Who made it possible for me to research and trace the Ahâdith of Sunan Arba'ah (Sunan Abu Dâwud, Sunan Tirmidhi, Sunan Nasâ'i and Sunan Ibn Mâjah).

Among the four Sunan, Sunan Ibn Mâjah holds a prominent place. I have already done research work and written a commentary on it in Arabic under the title Tas-hilul-Hâjah fi Mukhtasar Takhrij Sunan Ibn Mâjah. It is included in the Urdu edition now. To know my work and methodology, in this treatise, the following points need to be borne in mind:

- Sunan Ibn Mâjah contains two types of Ahâdith:
  a) Ahâdith that occur in Sahih Bukhâri or Sahih Muslim or in both.
  b) Ahâdith that occur neither in Bukhâri nor in Muslim.
- My own research finding is that all the Musnad (with chains of narrations) and Marfu' (traceable to the Prophet ﷺ) Ahâdith of Sahih Bukhâri and Sahih Muslim are Sound (Sahih). This is also the opinion of all the scholars of the nation. As for the other Ahâdith, I have given my verdict as to their soundness or weakness. See, for example, Hadith no. 50: the chain of narration is Hasan (Good), and Hadith no. 11: the chain of narration is Da'if (Weak).
- If I ruled a narration to be Weak, I also stated my reasons for that. For example, Hadith no. 19: Abu Bakr bin Khallâd Al-Bâhili narrated to us from Yahya bin Sa'eed from Shu'bah from Ibn 'Ajlân that 'Awn bin 'Abdullah told him, narrating from 'Abdullah bin Mas'ud. After I had declared it to be Weak, I wrote: "There is an interruption (Inqitâ') in its chain of narration because 'Awn bin 'Abdullah did not hear from 'Abdullah bin Mas'ud."
- When I ruled a Hadith to be Hasan or Sahih, I also gave the reference of another Hadith scholar in case he also declared it to be so. See, for example, Hadith no. 87.

- In case a narration of Ibn Mâjah occurs in Bukhâri and Muslim as well as in other books, I have given the reference of Bukhâri and Muslim only while tracing it. See, for example, Hadith no. 10: (Muslim) although this narration also exists in Sunan Tirmidhi (Hadith no. 2229).
- The references of Bukhâri and Muslim do not mean that the narration, with respect to its text, is exactly the same in both Bukhâri and Muslim. It only means that the narration in both the books is the same with respect to the chain of narration. As to the text, it may be long in one and short in the other or vice versa or words may differ but the meaning is the same.
- Since, according to research scholars, Bukhâri has precedence over Muslim, I have given precedence to Bukhâri while tracing Ahâdith. But in some places, Muslim has been mentioned first while tracing. The reason for that is that a greater part of the chain of narration exists in Muslim. See, for example, Hadith no. 58: collected by Muslim on the authority of Sufyân bin 'Uyainah and by Bukhâri on the authority of Mâlik. The following chart explains it further:

It is clear from the foregoing chain that Muslim is closer to Ibn Mâjah. Hence, he has been mentioned before the other.

[For some reasons, like explicit affirmation of a Mudallis (Truncated - immediate narrator not known) having directly heard from whom he is reporting, references from outside the Sound Six have also been given. See, for example, Hadith no. 35, collected by Ahmad from Hadith of Muhammad bin Ishâq about whom it was affirmed that he had heard directly from him.]

- Two things should be noted about Tadlis (truncation):
  a. There are those who cannot be accused of truncation, any such charge against them being baseless and false, like Bukhâri, Muslim, Abu Qilâbah Jarmi, Makhul Shâmi, Zaid bin Aslam, Jubair bin Nufair, and Hammâd bin Usâmah. All of them are leading Hadith scholars and narrators of the First Level. Their Mu'an'an Ahâdith (in which the narrator relates using the preposition 'an, meaning 'from') are considered to have been heard directly by narrators unless there be a reason ruling it out.
  b. The Mu'an'an narrations, in Hadith books other than those of Bukhâri and Muslim, by narrators like Qatâdah, A'mash, Sufyân Thawri, and Abu Ishâq Sabi'i against whom it is proved that they did truncate, are considered Da'if (Weak) in case they did not hear them directly or any follow-up. Imâm Shâfi'i said: "We do not accept a Hadith from a Mudallis (truncater) until he says 'so-and-so told me' or 'I heard'"[1] . In the matter of Tadlis, his opinion is generally prevalent and preferred.
- Some scholars take the Mu'an'an narrations by Sufyân Thawri, Sufyân bin 'Uyainah, A'mash and others as Sound and those of Hasan Basri, Abu Zubair, and Abu Ishâq etc., as Weak. I do not see it as the right methodology. In my opinion, a decisive and categorical stand should be taken regarding this issue. See my treatise At-Ta'sis fi Mas'alah At-Tadlis for details.
- In case there is a difference of opinion among scholars about a narrator regarding his trustworthiness or weakness, finding it impossible to apply a single, consistent rule or reconcile between divergent opinions, I have always preferred the opinion of the majority of scholars.
- If a narrator is considered trustworthy by the lenient (Mutasâhil) experts in the science of Biographies like Tirmidhi, Ibn Hibbân, Hâkim, I have classified him as Unknown (Majhul), but if he is endorsed as trustworthy by two of them, for example, by Tirmidhi and Ibn Hibbân, I have classified him as good (Hasanul-Hadith) and truthful (Saduq).

  Note: Some scholars consider Imâm 'Ijlî as lenient. I do not agree with this view but consider Imâm 'Ijlî as moderate (Mu'tadil).
- When a narrator is classified as trustworthy or good, it endorses the reliability of each narrator in the chain of the narration. For example, Nâfi' bin Mahmud Al-Maqdisi's narration has been graded Hasan (Good) or Sahih (Sound) by Dârâqutni and Baihaqi. Hence, he is trustworthy (Thiqah), according to them. See also Nasbur-Râyah 1/49 and 3/264, and Silsilatus-Sahihah 7/16, Hadith no. 3007. It is wrong to classify such a narrator as Unknown (Majhul) or concealed (Mastur).

- While grading a Hadith as Sahih or Hasan, I have taken into account other Ahâdith as corroborators (Shawâhid) or follow-ups (Mutâbi'ât). So some Ahâdith have been graded Sahih or Hasan in the light of Shawâhid and Mutâbi'ât.
- Despite these methodologies of Hadith evaluation, errors may creep in. To err is human. But I declare hereby that I will not hesitate to recant if it is proved that there is error in my inquiry and the tracing of Ahâdith.
- While validating or invalidating narrators, I have invariably referred to original books of biographies of narrators and, after thorough investigation, selected the most correct and most preferable opinion. In case, the name of a preceding scholar of Hadith has been given without remark or note, it means I agree with him.

The Six Collections and what the Eminent Scholars said about them

Sahih Bukhâri:

Ibrâhim bin Ma'qil Nasafi said that he heard Muhammad bin Ismâ'il Bukhâri saying: "I collected the book Al-Jâmi' in ten plus years and I made it a proof between me and Allâh."

Ibrâhim bin Ma'qil Nasafi also said that he heard Bukhâri say: "I did not include in the book Al-Jâmi' but only that which is authentic. I have excluded many other authentic Ahâdith to avoid prolongation."[1]

Sahih Muslim:

Hâfiz Abu Abdullah bin Mandah said that he heard Abu 'Ali Husain bin 'Ali Nishapuri saying: "There is no book of Hadith under the heaven more authentic than the book of Muslim bin Hajjâj."[2]

Muhammad bin Husain Masarjasi reported from his father who said that he heard Muslim bin Hajjâj saying: "I compiled this Al-Musnad As-Sahih out of a collection of three hundred thousand heard Ahâdith."

Sunan Abu Dâwud:

Abu Bakr bin Dasah said that he heard Abu Dâwud saying: "I collected five hundred thousand Ahâdith reported from the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ. And I selected from this number four thousand eight hundred Ahâdith that I included in this book of mine - the Sunan. In this collection, I mentioned those that are authentic or closer. Four of these authentic Hadith are enough for a Muslim as the basis for his religion. These four are:

1. The Prophet's saying: "The reward of deeds depends upon the intentions."[3]
2. The Prophet's saying: "The proper practice of one's Islam demands that he should leave alone that which does not concern him."[4]
3. His saying: "None of you believes until he loves for his brother what he loves for himself."[5]
4. His saying: "The lawful things are clear and the forbidden things are clear. But between the two are things are not so clear..."[1]

[3] Bukhâri (1); and Abu Dâwud (2201).

Abu Bakr Sawli reported that he heard Zakariya bin Yahya Saji saying, "The Book of Allâh is the foundation of Islam, and the book of Sunan by Abu Dâwud is the covenant of Islam."

Ismâ'il bin Muhammad Saffar narrated that he heard Muhammad bin Ishâq Saghani saying, "Knowledge of Hadith was softened for Abu Dâwud as iron was softened for Prophet Dâwud ﷺ."[2]

Abu Sulaimân Khattâbi reported: I heard Ibn A'rabi saying while he was reading to us the Sunnah by Abu Dâwud, he pointed the manuscript from which he was reading and said, "If someone has no source of knowledge beside a copy of Allâh's Book and then this book - Sunan Abu Dâwud - they are enough for him."

Khattâbi then said, "There is no doubt in what Ibn A'rabi said. This is because; Allâh revealed His Book as explanation for everything. He says: 'We have neglected nothing in the Book.' (Al-An'am 6:38) In the Verse, Allâh the Exalted informs us that there is nothing in matters of religion that the Qur'ân does not address."

However, this explanation is of two kinds: clear and explicit explanation and hidden and implicit mentioning. The detailed explanation of the latter was assigned to the Prophet ﷺ. This is the interpretation of Allâh's saying: "And We have also sent down to you (O Muhammad ﷺ) the Dhikr (Reminder) and the advice (i.e., the Qur'ân) that you may explain clearly to men what is sent down to them, and that they may give thought." (An-Nahl 16:44) Therefore, whoever combines between the Qur'an and the Sunnah has indeed attained both sources of explanation.

In his book, Abu Dâwud included Ahâdith about foundations of knowledge and traditions and rules of Fiqh. As far as I know, no scholar before Abu Dâwud or after him had accomplished this.

Abu Sulaimân said: A report reached us that Abu Dâwud said, "I did not include this book of mine a Hadith that the scholars unanimously rejected."[3]

Sunan Tirmidhi:

Hâfiz Abu Sa'eed Abdur-Rahmân bin Muhammad Idrisi said, "Muhammad bin 'Eisa bin Sawrah is one of the leading scholars of Hadith. He had a number of works among them are: Al-Jâmi', Tawârikh and Al-'Ilal.

[2] Tahdhibul-Kamâl 1/169.

[3] Tahdhibul-Kamâl 1/170.

These works are compilation of a widely-read scholar, who is cited as an example in erudition."

Abul-Fadl Muhammad bin Tâhir Maqdisi said: I was with Imâm Abu Ismâ'il Abdullah bin Muhammad Ansâri at Hira' when the mentioned was made of Abu 'Eisa Tirmidhi and his book. He said, "In my view, his book is more useful than those of Bukhâri and Muslim because; the benefits that are in the books of these two scholars can only be attained by well-versed scholars. But as for the book of Abu 'Eisa Trimidhi, all the people can benefit from it."

Sunan Nasâ'i:

Abul-Fadl bin Tâhir said: I asked Imâm Abu Qasim Sa'd bin 'Ali Zanjâni at Makkah about the situation of one of the reporters of Hadith and he declared him as trustworthy. I then said: But Abu Abdur-Rahmân Nasâ'i regarded him as Weak. Thereupon Zanjâni said: "My son, the condition of Abu Abdur-Rahmân on narrators of Hadith is stricter than that of Bukhâri and Muslim."

Hâkim Abu Abdullah bin Bayya' said: I heard Abu Hasan Ahmad bin Mahbub Ramali at Makkah saying: I heard Abu Abdur-Rahmân Ahmad bin Shu'aib Nasâ'i saying, "When I decided to compile the book As-Sunan, I made Istikhârah to Allâh concerning some Shaikhs about whom I had some reservations. The result of the Istikhârah was that I should reject their narrations. As a consequence, I had longer chains of narrators in some Hadith in which I would have had shorter chains."

Hâfiz Abdul-Ghani bin Sa'eed Misri said: I heard Abu Hasan Khidr As-Suyuti saying, "I saw the Prophet ﷺ in my sleep while there were in front of me many books among them was As-Sunan by Abu Abdur-Rahmân Nasâ'i. The Prophet ﷺ then told me: 'When are you going to stop gathering books and how much books are you going to acquire before you stop?! This is enough!' He then picked with hand part one of the Book of Purification from Sunan Nasâ'i. It then occurred to me that what the Prophet ﷺ meant was that Nasâ'i's book is dearest book to him."[1]

Sunan Ibn Mâjah:

Abu Zur'ah Râzi said, "I read the book compiled by Abu Abdullah Ibn Mâjah and I did not find there but few Ahâdith whose authenticity is contestable." And he mentioned some Ahâdith that are less than twenty.

Abu Abdullah Ibn Mâjah said, "I showed this transcript to Abu Zur'ah Râzi. He checked it and said, 'I think if people lay their hands on this book,

[1] Tahdhibul-Kamâl 1/172.

all or most of other great compiled works will become unnecessary."[1]

Comparing Ibn Mâjah's Book with Other Collections

Comparisons have been made between Sunan Ibn Mâjah and other collections such as Muwatta' of Imâm Mâlik, Sunan Ad-Dârimi, Musnad Ahmad and Sahih Ibn Hibbân. Yet, Sunan Ibn Mâjah succeeded in becoming the sixth of the major collections. The following are books compared to Sunan Ibn Mâjah:

Muwatta' by Imâm Mâlik

Abu Abdullah Mâlik bin Anas ﷺ was born in the year 93 or 94 AH. He was among the leaders of the generation that succeeded the Tâbi'in. He was a pious scholar and a great jurist. He showed great concern for the Prophet's Sunnah. He valiantly defended it and ferociously waged war against those who sought to oppose the Sunnah. He gave the Sunnah priority over all other things and never did he rely on invalid analogies at the expense of the Sunnah. He died in the year 179 AH.[2]

As regards comparing Muwatta' to Sunan Ibn Mâjah, Shamsuddin Jazari said about Sunan Ibn Mâjah: "It is the sixth of the six major collections, according to the scholars of Hadith. What Ibn Athir said that Muwatta' - not Sunan Ibn Mâjah - is the sixth of the major collections is his personal view."[3]

There are scholars who regarded Muwatta' as the sixth of the major collections. Some of these scholars are: Razin bin Mu'awiyah 'Abdari and Ibn Athir Jazari.[4]

Musnad by Imâm Ahmad

Imâm Ahmad bin Hanbal is a real leader and Shaikhul-Islam. He is one of the eminent Imâms.

Ibrâhim Harbi said, "I saw Abu Abdullah – Imâm Ahmad. It was as if Allâh has endowed him with the knowledge of the earlier and latter generations combined."

A man said, "I have never seen anyone more knowledgeable about Fiqh and Hadith and its meanings more than Ahmad."

Ishâq bin Râhwaih said, "I would sit in the company of Ahmad and Ibn Ma'een and we would do joint study. Whenever I inquired about something as regards its meaning and interpretation, no one but Ahmad would dare speak."[1]

His book, Al-Musnad, is one of the greatest and most comprehensive books of Hadith. But it needs some arrangement.

Ibn Kathir said, "There are in Musnad of Imâm Ahmad many Isnâd and narrations that are equal in status to many of those found in Sahih Muslim, even in Sahih Bukhâri, but which none of them and none of the four collectors of Sunan had collected.

As for the statement of Hâfiz Abu Musa Muhammad bin Abu Bakr Al-Madini concerning Musnad Ahmad that its Ahâdith were Sahih, is not correct. This is because; the book contains, in addition to authentic Ahâdith, Weak and even spurious narrations such as narrations about virtues of Marw, 'Asqalân and Birthal-Ahmar, as pointed out by the scholars.

This is in addition to the fact that Imâm Ahmad had missed many Ahâdith. It is said that there are narrations from close to two hundred Companions that Imâm Bukhâri and Imâm Muslim recorded but that Imâm Ahmad did not have in his Musnad.[2]

Sunan Ad-Dârimi

Ad-Dârimi is Hâfiz Abdullah bin Abdur-Rahmân bin Fadl bin Bahrâm bin Abdullah Abu Muhammad Tamimi Dârimi As-Samarqandi.

Abu Hâtim bin Hibbân said, "Dârimi was one of the learned scholars of Hadith and was pious. He was well-versed in Hadith and Fiqh. He authored may works and taught Hadith to others. He promoted the Sunnah in his country, called unto it, defended it and defeated those who sought to oppose it."[3]

Some eminent scholars such as Hâfiz Ibn Salâh, Nawawi, Salahuddin 'Alâ'i and Hâfiz Ibn Hajar ﷺ believed that it would have been had Sunan Ad-Dârimi been regarded as the sixth of the six major collections.[4]

Sahih Ibn Hibbân Al-Busti

Imâm Abu Hâtim Muhammad bin Hibbân was a great and well-versed scholar. He was the leading scholar of Khorasan. He has many great and famous works to his credit. He was born in the year 270 AH.

Abu Sa'd Idrisi said about him, "He was the judge of Samarqand for quite sometime, and he was one of the eminent jurists and scholars of Hadith. He was also well-versed in medicine, astrology and other sciences.

Among his works are: Al-Musnad As-Sahih, Al-Anwâ' wat-Taqâsim, Kitâbut-Târikh, Kitâbud-Du'afâ' and many others. And he taught people Fiqh at Samarqand.

Hakim Nishapuri said, "Ibn Hibbân was one of the vessels of knowledge in Fiqh, Arabic language, Hadith and admonition. He was among the wisest men."[1]

Yâqut said, "Ibn Hibbân accomplished in the science of Hadith what others failed to do. People used to travel to Khorasan to read his works."

His book Al-Musnad As-Sahih is regarded as more authentic than Sunan Ibn Mâjah.[2]

Signs the Scholars Adopted for Sunan Ibn Mâjah:

After the six major collections - Sahih Bukhâri, Sahih Muslim, Sunan Abu Dâwud, Sunan Tirmidhi, Sunan Nasâ'i and Sunan Ibn Mâjah - have become popular among the scholars, they adopted signs as a shortcut to each of them.

The signs that are used as shortcuts for the each of the six collections, according to Suyuti are as follows:

(خ) for Bukhâri

(م) for Muslim

(ق) for Bukhâri and Muslim

(د) for Abu Dâwud

(ت) for Tirmidhi

(ن) for Nasâ'i

(ه) for Ibn Mâjah

(4) for the four collectors of Sunan

(3) for the collectors of Sunnah excluding Ibn Mâjah

(حم) for Ahmad in his Musnad[3]

An Important Point

Most of the collectors of the Sunan ﷺ died with close intervals.

Imâm Abu Abdullah Muhammad Ibn Mâjah Al-Qazvini died in the year 273 AH.

Imâm Abu Dâwud Sulaimân bin Ash'ath As-Sijistâni died in the year 275 AH.

Imâm Abu 'Eisa Muhammad bin 'Eisa bin Sawrah Tirmidhi died in the year 279 AH.[1]

A number of scholars wrote eulogies in honor of Imâm Ibn Mâjah ﷺ. Among his scholars are: Yahya bin Zakariyya Tarâiqi and Muhammad bin Aswad Qazvini.

A Life Sketch of Imâm Ibn Mâjah

Imâm Ibn Mâjah, ﷺ is a bright star that continues to shine to this day on the firmament of Hadith sciences. He is counted among the greatest and most high-ranking Imâms of Hadith. He has also the honor of being one of the six Imâms whose collections of Hadith are widely popular among the Muslims.

Like other Imâms, he earned great fame for serving the Hadith sciences and played an important role in the recording of Ahâdith. His whole life he spent watering the garden of this science. To collect and record the sayings of the Prophet ﷺ, he traveled to several countries, learning from the greatest Hadith scholars of his times and then gathering together those pearls in a single place for the benefit of later generations.

Ibn Mâjah was a great scholar of Hadith, Qur'ânic interpretation and history. Especially in the field Hadith sciences, he was counted as a great memorizer of Ahâdith and an expert in this field. For this very reason, Hâfiz Shamsuddin Muhammad Dhahabi, Hâfiz Ibn Hajar and other critics in the field of Hadith sciences have acknowledged his leading position, high station, breadth of vision, and the ability to memorize Ahâdith, extolling his academic and technical services in this field.

Name and Lineage:

Abu 'Abdullah Muhammad bin Yazid bin 'Abdullah Rab'i Al-Qazvini nicknamed Ibn Mâjah. He was a non-Arab. He was Rab'i because he belonged to the tribe of Rab'i and was called Al-Qazvini because he belonged to Qazvin (Iran). Various explanations have been given for his nickname. Allamah Zubaidi, writing in Tâjul-'Urus, has given several explanations for the nickname, one explanation being that Mâjah was his mother's name. Imâm Nawawi gives weight to this explanation. Shah 'Abdul-'Aziz Dehlavi in Bostânul-Muhadithin says: (The correct opinion is that Mâjah was his mother.) That is why the Arabic word for son (Ibn) is written with the Arabic letter alif to indicate that Ibn Mâjah qualifies Muhammad, not 'Abdullah. Anyhow, some scholars believe that Mâjah was his father's name. That is also the opinion of Hâfiz Ibn Hajar.

Birth and Early Education:

He was born in 209 AH corresponding to 824 CE. Yâqut bin 'Abdullah Al-Hamavi, quoting Ja'far bin Idris' Târikh Qazvin, wrote: Abu 'Abdullah died in the year 273 AH and I heard him say "I was born in 209 AH." Much of Ibn Mâjah's childhood is unknown but it appears that, according to the practice of those days, after receiving his early education, he turned to the Hadith sciences in his own hometown first that had become by then the cradle of Hadith sciences.

Travels in Pursuit of Knowledge:

After learning from the teachers in his own home town and the towns nearby, he began his travels in 230 AH, when he was 21 or 22 years old, to other countries to acquire more of Hadith sciences. Ibn Jawzi writes in Al-Muntazim: "He travelled to Khorasan, Iraq, Hijaz, Egypt and Shâm and attended the gatherings of Hadith scholars." Imâm Hanbal writes: "He journeyed to Kufah and Basrah, Egypt, and Shâm. He also learned from the scholars of Makkah and Al-Madinah and, later, traveled to Baghdad that was in those times, according to Imâm Dhahabi, the 'home of chains of narration and memorization' (Dârul-Isnâdul-'Âli wal-Hifz), the seat of the caliphate and knowledge. But he never ceased or tarried but continued his journeys in quest of knowledge. Again he traveled to Damascus, Homs, Egypt, Isfahan, Ashkelon (seaport in SW Palestine) and Nishapur where he became a pupil of the stars and celebrities of Hadith sciences. This gives us a good idea of how hard he strove to learn Hadith sciences and, in his desire to collect Ahâdith, journeyed to distant seats of learning.

His Teachers:

Imâm Ibn Mâjah had the honor of learning Hadith sciences from a number of great scholars of his times including those of Makkah, Al-Madinah and Qazvin. Among those of Al-Madinah were Hâfiz Ibn Mus'ab Zubairi, Ahmad bin Abu Bakr Al-'Awfi and Hâfiz Ibrâhim bin Al-Mundhir. His Makkan teachers were Hâfiz Jalwâni, Abu Muhammad Hasan bin 'Ali Al-Khilâl, Hâfiz Zubair bin Bakkâr, the Judge of Makkah, Hâfiz Salamah bin Shabib, etc. Notable among his teachers in Qazvin were 'Amr bin Râfi' Bajali, Ismâ'il bin Tawbah and Muhammad bin Abu Khâlid Qazvini. He also studied under other prominent teachers like Jubârah bin Mughallis, Abu Bakr bin Abu Shaibah, Nasr bin 'Ali Nishapuri, Abu Bakr bin Khallâd Bâhili, Muhammad bin Bashshâr, Abul-Hasan'Ali bin Muhammad Tanâfisi and 'Ali bin Mundhir.

His Pupils:

The list of his pupils is very long. They are scattered far and wide, in Qazvin, Hamadan, Isfahan, Baghdad, and other places. Notable among them are 'Ali bin 'Abdullah Al-Falâni, Ibrâhim bin Dinâr Al-Jarshi, Ahmad bin Ibrâhim Qazvini, Hâfiz Abu Ya'la Al-Khalili and Abu 'Amr Ahmad bin Muhammad bin Hakim Al-Madani Al-Isfahâni.

Narrators of Sunan Ibn Mâjah:

Among his closest students who had the honor of narrating Sunan Ibn Mâjah were Abul-Hasan Al-Qattân, Sulaimân bin Yazid, Abu Ja'far Muhammad bin 'Eisa, and Abu Bakr Hâmid Al-Abhari.

Recognition of his eminence by Scholars:

A great Hadith scholar, interpreter of Qur'ân and historian, his outstanding rank, especially in the field of Hadith sciences, has been acknowledged by scholars of Hadith sciences in every age.

- Imâm Dhahabi says: "Imâm Ibn Mâjah remembered Ahâdith by heart. He was a critic in the field of Hadith sciences, truthful, upright and a man of wide learning." Imâm Dhahabi wrote in Tadhkiratul-Huffâz: "He was a great memorizer of Ahâdith and a Hadith scholar and Qur'ân interpreter of Qazvin."
- Abu Ya'la Khalili said: "He was very trustworthy and an authority; and had a deep knowledge of Hadith sciences.".
- Allamah Sindi said: "Among the Imâms of Hadith, he had a high rank, was pious and a trustworthy scholar by consensus."

Writings of Ibn Mâjah:

After completing his education, Ibn Mâjah turned to writing and composing and left behind three great works:

As-Sunan: The Sunan Ibn Mâjah is counted among the Sound Six (or, say, the Six Books) and ranks sixth. A detailed account can be seen in the following pages.

At-Tafsir: It was a large commentary on Qur'ân in which the Imâm had collected Ahâdith and comments of the Companions and Tâbi'in[1] supported with chains of narrations. Sayuti counted this commentary and that of Ibn Hâtim among the voluminous commentaries of Qur'ân. Ibn Kathir, in Al-Bidâyah, said the same thing.

At-Târikh: A great history book and a manifestation of his great scholarship and learning, Ibn Kathir called it a complete history while Ibn Khalkân, the famous historian, called it Târikh Malih (nice history).

It is a pity that the last two books are no longer extant.

Death:

The Imâm died on Monday, 22 Ramadân, 273 AH corresponding to 887 CE, aged 64. May Allâh forgive him and have mercy on him. Amen.

[1] Literally, the word means 'Followers' or 'Successors'. A technical term meaning those who saw and met a Companion of the Prophet ﷺ.

Hâfiz Abul-Fadl Muhammad bin Tâhir Maqdisi said, "I saw a book Ibn Mâjah authored on biographies and history of regions from the time of the Companions till his time. At the end of the book, there is a statement with the handwriting of his student Ja'far bin Idris that reads: Abu Abdullah Muhammad bin Yazid Mâjah died on Monday and was buried on Tuesday 22nd of Ramadân 273 AH. I heard him saying, 'I was born in the year 209 AH.' He was aged 64 years. The funeral prayer was performed on him by his brother Abu Bakr, and he was buried by his brothers, Abu Bakr and Abu Abdullah; and his son, Abdullah."

Some scholars said that Ibn Mâjah died in the year 275 A H.[1]

Many a poet wrote moving elegies on his death. Hâfiz Ibn Hajar, in Tahdhibut-Tahdhib, quoted a verse written by Muhammad bin Aswad Qazvini: "The loss of Ibn Mâjah weakened the columns of the throne of knowledge and shook up its pillars."

Ibn Mâjah's Book: As-Sunan

Ahâdith began to be put down in writing even during the era of the Prophet ﷺ but these Ahâdith were no better than compilations by individuals. Their purpose was just to put them down in writing, with no regard for order or sequence. Later, during the caliphate of 'Umar bin 'Abdul-'Aziz (99 AH-101 AH), the state undertook this task but most of the works in this field were the products of individual labor. During the second century of the Hijra calendar, famous books like Muwattâ' of Imâm Mâlik and Musnad of Imâm Shâfi'i were prepared but the third stage of recording Ahâdith, known as the Golden Age, came only in the third century AH. Many a collection was made in this age. These included the Six Books (Kutub Sittah), popularly known as the Sound Six (Sahah Sittah), Sunan of Ibn Mâjah being one of them and considered the last of them.

Sunan Ibn Mâjah began to be included in the Six Books by the end of the fifth century AH. Since then, in every succeeding age, it kept on growing in value and importance. With respect to soundness and strength, Sunan Ad-Dârimi, Sunan Ad-Dârâqutni and other books of Sunan were superior to Sunan Ibn Mâjah but they did not gain popularity like Sunan Ibn Mâjah.

It is to be noted that Sunan is a technical term used by scholars of Hadith sciences to denote a book of Ahâdith relating to legal rulings, from the Chapters of Purification (Abwâbut-Tahârah wa Sunanha) down to the Chapter on Wills (Kitâbul-Wasâya) in the same order as followed in books of Islamic jurisprudence.

How important and useful the Sunan Ibn Mâjah is, can also be guaged by the fact that when Ibn Mâjah showed his work to Imâm Abu Zar'ah, the latter remarked: 'If this book reached the public, all or most of the existing Jawâmi' would cease to be used. The words of Imâm Abu Zar'ah proved to be true to the last letter. Several Jawâmi', Musnads and Sunan were eclipsed by Ibn Mâjah's Sunan.

Hâfiz Ibn Hajar, writing in Taqribut-Tahdhib, termed the book Jâmi' Jaiyid (a good, comprehensive Hadith collection).

The book, As-Sunan by Imâm Ibn Mâjah was an excellent and beneficial work that stunned the scholars of his time.

He himself said about the book: "I showed this book to Abu Zur'ah Râzi. He checked it and said, 'I think if people lay their hands on this book, all or most of other great compiled works will become unnecessary.'"[1]

The book was published and is popularly known among students of knowledge as Sunan Ibn Mâjah.

There was also an old edition of the book printed in Egypt in whose cover was written: 'Sunan Al-Mustafa by Ibn Mâjah'. However, there is no authentic proof for correctness of this latter name, and no one has ever called the book of Ibn Mâjah with this name.

As for the first name Sunan Ibn Mâjah, it is inconceivable that author could give his work this name. For, the custom is that the author gives his book a name and then adds 'by so-and-so'. It is not in the habit of the scholars to ascribe their books to themselves in a genitive construction. It is even unimaginable.

There is a very old and authorized manuscript of Sunan Ibn Mâjah that dates back to year 601 AH. The manuscripts had writings of a number of scholars including Ibn Qudâmah and Imâm Mizzi, in this manuscript, Ibn Mâjah's work is called As-Sunan li Ibn Mâjah. This is the correct title of the work.

One should not say that there is little difference between the title Sunan Ibn Mâjah that means 'the Sunan of Ibn Mâjah', or As-Sunan li Ibn Mâjah that means 'the Sunan collected by Ibn Mâjah'. For, in the second title, what normally comes to mind is that you are talking about the Sunan (traditions) of Allâh's Messenger ﷺ while in the first title; the reader will think that you are talking about the Sunan of Ibn Mâjah and not that of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ. Also, if you compare between the two titles, you will realize that the respect the second title commands in the hearts is greater than that of the first one.

All this is in addition to the fact that the author did not title his work Sunan Ibn Mâjah. Therefore, books and opinions of their authors in giving titles to their books should be respected. It follows then that, Ibn Mâjah's book should be called 'As-Sunan by Ibn Mâjah', especially when printing the work.

It is, however, strange that though this book has been published several times, the correct title did not appear in the cover of any of these editions. What is more astounding is the fact that one of the editors of the book, Dr. Muhammad Mustafa A'zami adopted the authorized manuscript in which this title appeared. Yet, he disregarded this title.

While the scholars might be excused if they refer to Ibn Mâjah's work as Sunan Ibn Mâjah in their normal conversations, this usage should not be condoned if it is written on the cover of the book.

The Work's Printed Editions:

The work of Ibn Mâjah was first printed in 1233 AH in India. One volume of it was printed. The printing was then discontinued until the year 1273 AH when the second volume was printed, also in India. The work was republished once again in Lahore, India in 1311 AH.

In 1313 AH, it was published in Cairo. It was this Cairo edition that has in its margins the commentary of Sindi.

The book was published several times thereafter, the latest and most recognized of these editions is the one edited by Muhammad Fuwâd 'Abdul-Bâqi published in 1373 AH. It is the edition recognized by most scholars whenever they wanted to quote a Hadith from Ibn Mâjah's collection. This edition was reedited by Dr. Muhammad Mustafa A'zami and published again in 1404 AH.

General Information on Sunan Ibn Mâjah:

It has been pointed out earlier that the work is published in two volumes. It consists of thirty-two books on knowledge and Fiqh, and of one thousand five hundred and fifteen (1515) chapters.

According to Muhammad Fuwâd 'Abdul-Baqi's edition, it consists of four thousand three hundred and forty-one Ahâdith; and according to A'zami's it consists of four thousand three hundred and ninety-seven Ahâdith.

Ibn Mâjah started his collection with 'the Book of Sunnah', which is alternatively called 'the Introduction'. Indeed, this book with which he started his work is one of the most beautiful and most wonderful introductions for such a work. This is because; the collection itself is about the Sunnah and its fundamentals. It is therefore, very appropriate to start by discussing the Sunnah.

In this wonderful introduction, Ibn Mâjah mentioned many chapters. If he were to separate them, each of them would have been like individual Sunnah books such as As-Sunnah by Abdullah bin Ahmad, As-Sunnah by Lalkâ'i and As-Sunnah by Ibn Abu 'Âsim.

Ibn Mâjah then mentioned chapters that deal with the virtues of the Prophet's Companions such as Abu Bakr, 'Umar, 'Uthmân, 'Ali and others. He then mentioned chapters concerning the Khawârij and Jahmiyyah.

In the Book of 'Aqidah, Imâm Ibn Mâjah mentioned chapters concerning a person who introduced good practice or bad practice; a person who revived a Sunnah that was extinct; and the virtue of a person who learnt the Qur'ân and taught others.

These and other chapters mentioned by Ibn Mâjah are like fundamentals and principles of the science of Sunnah that should be inevitably read by whoever wants to learn the Sunnah or is keen about the Prophet's practice.

The first Hadith in the Sunan by Ibn Mâjah is as follows:

Ibn Mâjah narrated with his Isnâd that goes to Abu Hurairah ﷺ who narrated that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "Whatever I have commanded you, do it; and whatever I have forbidden you, refrain from it."[1] This statement from Allâh's Messenger ﷺ seems like an interpretation of Allâh's Word, "And whatsoever the Messenger (Muhammad ﷺ) gives you, take it; and whatsoever he forbids you, abstain (from it)." (Al-Hashr 59:7)

Starting the book with this Hadith also has its significance. The comprehensiveness of the Hadith in the sense of its command that the Prophet ﷺ should be followed is an indication that the 'Book of Sunnah' is the best and the most beautiful thing the compilation can be started with.

The last Hadith in the Sunan by Ibn Mâjah is the one he reported with his Isnâd to Abu Hurairah ﷺ that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said, "There is no one among you who does not have two abodes: An abode in Paradise and an abode in Hell. If he dies and enters Hell, the people of Paradise inherit his abode. This is what Allâh says, "These are indeed the inheritors." (Al-Mu'minun 23:10)[2]

Though this Hadith is one of those ones that only Ibn Mâjah narrated to the exclusion of the other five collectors, it is authentic. The other five collectors are: Bukhâri, Muslim, Abu Dâwud, Tirmidhi and Nasâ'i.

One of the wonderful lessons this Hadith teaches is that entering Paradise is the goal of all slaves and the consequence of all their actions. Ibn Mâjah concluded his collection with this Hadith to indicate this and that it is the end of whoever followed the Allâh's pleasure. It also indicates though the misguidance of those who deviated from the Sunnah of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ may hurt the Ahlus-Sunnah in this world, they will be comforted on the Day of Resurrection. For, they shall inherit in Paradise the places of the inhabitants of Hell. The recompense shall be according to the deeds.

They were hurt by these people's abandonment of the religion and the Prophet's Sunnah in this world, so Allâh rewarded them for that by making them happy in the Hereafter and making them inherit places in Paradise allocated to the dwellers of Hell.

Further, it is also authentically reported from the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ that he said, "The scholars are the heirs of the Prophets, for the Prophets did not leave behind Dinar or Dirham, rather they left behind knowledge, so whoever takes it has taken a great share."[1] The legacy the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ left behind is his Sunnah. Those who inherited it in this world are the scholars who follow his Sunnah and act upon it. Therefore, they deserved to be exclusively described as 'the inheritors' in the above Verse.

[2] Ibn Mâjah (4341); Albâni classified it as Sahih.

This should not be surprising; for, in this world, they inherited the legacy of knowledge left behind by the Prophets; and, in the Hereafter, they shall inherit the abodes of Paradise.

The above explanation is an attempt at finding reason for Ibn Mâjah's concluding his collection with this Hadith.

Concerning describing the Sunan Ibn Mâjah as collection of Ahâdith that deal about Fiqh issues - in line with the definition of latter scholars who defined Sunan as a collection of Ahâdith arranged according to Fiqh chapters - we do not believe that this description is accurate enough. This is because; the Sunan collections, in addition to their inclusion of chapters on Fiqh, also include chapters that are unrelated to Fiqh. Therefore, it is better to define them as 'the Sunan collections are books that mostly consist of Ahâdith arranged according to Fiqh chapters.'

For example, Sunan Abu Dâwud consists of Ahâdith about Mahdi, and this has nothing to do with rules of Fiqh.

There are also books in Ibn Mâjah's collection that have nothing to do with rules of Fiqh such as 'Chapters on the Interpretation of Dreams', 'Chapters on Asceticism' and 'Chapters on Tribulations'.

The Chapters on Asceticism, which is the last part of the collection, consists of Ahâdith that describe the Day of Resurrection and its horrors, description of the Prophet's Water Fountain, and mentioning of the Prophet's intercession. Ibn Mâjah then mentioned Ahâdith about description of Hell-Fire and then description of Paradise.

It is therefore clear that Ibn Mâjah's collection does not consists of chapters of Fiqh only but also comprises other chapters of knowledge.

The Sunan Ibn Mâjah is the sixth of the six major collections of Ahâdith. Others are: Sahih Bukhâri and Sahih Muslim, Sunan Abu Dâwud, Sunan Tirmidhi, and Sunan Nasâ'i. Hâfiz Ibn 'Asâkir made a collection of parts of each of the Hadith of the collection and Mizzi did the same on all its narrators.

However, Ibn Salâh and Nawawi did not make a mention of Ibn Mâjah's collection in their works. They did not regard it as one of the major collections. They regarded the major collections as only the five, following the way of the earliest scholars of Hadith and methodology of the many of latter scholars. When some of these scholars realized that Ibn Mâjah's collection is immensely useful and strong in terms of Fiqh and they realized that it included many Ahâdith that are not in the Muwatta of Imâm Mâlik, they included it among the major collections making them six.

The first Imâm to include Sunan Ibn Mâjah to other five collections is Abul-Fadl Muhammad bin Tâhir bin 'Ali Maqdisi in his work, Atrâful-Kutub As-Sittah. He was followed in doing so by Hâfiz Abdul-Ghani bin 'Abdul-Wahid bin 'Ali bin Surur Maqdisi in his work, Al-Kamâl fi Asmâ'ur-Rijâl, which is a work about the narrators of the six major collections, and summarized under the name Tahdhibul-Kamâl by Hâfiz Jamâluddin Abu Hajjâj Yusuf bin Abdur-Rahmân Al-Mizzi.

There were scholars such as Razin bin Mu'âwiyah 'Abdari and Athiruddin Abu Sa'âdat Mubârak bin Muhammad - otherwise known as Ibn Athir Al-Jazari Ash-Shâfi'i - who counted Muwatta' Imâm Mâlik as the sixth of major collection in place of Sunan Ibn Mâjah. 'Abdari did so in his work Tajrid while Ibn Athir did so in his work Jâmi'ul-Usul.

There were also eminent scholars such as Ibn Salâh, Nawawi, Salâhuddin 'Alâ'i and Hâfiz Ibn Hajar 'Asqalâni who believed that it would have been more preferable to count Sunan Dârimi as the sixth of the major collections instead of Sunan Ibn Mâjah.[1]

Date of Composition:

Ibn Mâjah left his home town in 230 AH in quest of Ahâdith and died in 264 AH. It was during this intervening period that he composed his Sunan and showed it to Abu Zar'ah. This leads us to infer that Ibn Mâjah wrote his Sunan between 230 AH and 264 AH.

Number of Narrations and Their Degree of Soundness:

According to Abul-Hasan Qattân, the Sunan Ibn Mâjah contains 32 Books, 1510 chapters and 4000 Ahâdith while, according to Muhammad Fuwâd 'Abdul-Bâqi, it contains 37 Books, 1560 chapters and 4341 Ahâdith. The latter opinion has more weight.

According to Fuwâd 'Abdul-Bâqi's research, of the additional 1339 Ahâdith, called Zawâ'id of Sunan Ibn Mâjah, 428 Ahâdith are Sahih, 199 Hasan, 613 Da'if and 99 Munkar (Denounced) and Maudu' (Fabricated). Shaikh Nâsiruddin in his book Da'if Ibn Mâjah, counts 948 Ahâdith as Da'if.

Ibn Mâjah's Conditions Regarding the Ahâdith of His Collection:

We did not find that Imâm Ibn Mâjah wrote any introduction to his book in which he explained the conditions he followed and the methodology he used in compiling his book As-Sunan. He neither did that at the beginning of the book, as most scholars did, nor in a separate booklet, as some of them, such as Abu Dâwud did.

Also, we did not know of any scholar who gave any assessment to Ibn Mâjah's collection that its Ahâdith are generally authentic, as it happened with the collection of Nasâ'i and those of others. As a result, we could not say that Ibn Mâjah stipulated that he would include only authentic Ahâdith in his collection. In fact, the reality of his book indicated the contrary. What the study showed is that Ibn Mâjah's collection contains greater number of Weak Ahâdith and greater number of narrations that can be described as fabricated - though these are very few - than any of the other five collections.

How then can we know the conditions Ibn Mâjah followed in compiling his book and the methodology he used? To start with, two things should attract the attention of the reader of Ibn Mâjah's collection:

One: Ibn Mâjah was greatly keen on compiling as many Ahâdith as he could as long as they are explicitly related to detailed branches of Fiqh. He was enthusiastic about mentioning evidences for detailed Fiqh issues. That is why his book was praised in this aspect. Ibn Kathir described Ibn Mâjah's collection in his book, Ikhtisâr 'Ulumul-Hadith, as 'a good and useful work, strongly chaptered in Fiqh.'

While making exhaustive compilation of these evidences of Fiqh, he was compelled to collect as many Ahâdith as he could regardless of authenticity or weakness of the Ahâdith. Perhaps, some scholars of Ibn Mâjah's time used to cite some of these Weak narrations as proofs and he wanted to bring out to our knowledge their chains so that we could know their status.

Two: It is related to the first factor - Ibn Mâjah has additional Ahâdith over those of the other five collections. These additions are many. If one was to consider the number of Ahâdith of the two Sahih collections and then those of the other three collections, namely Sunan of Abu Dâwud, Tirmidhi and Nasa'i, and he was to consider the fact that the other three collectors also arranged their collections according to Fiqh chapters without stipulating that they collected only authentic narrations; he would realize that Ibn Mâjah still had more exclusively additional Ahâdith than any of the other five collectors. The number of these additional Ahâdith is one thousand five hundred and fifty-two (1552) Ahâdith, according to the book Miftah Az- Zujâjah by Imâm Busairi. This number is undoubtedly great.

In the light of the above two clear factors - namely that Ibn Mâjah was enormously concerned about branches of Fiqh and collecting proofs on detailed Fiqh issues and that he had more exclusively additional Ahâdith than any of the other five collectors - we can then be able to answer the question: What was the methodology of Ibn Mâjah and what was his purpose of compiling the book?

It is now clear to us that the purpose of Ibn Mâjah was to bring to us chains of transmitters of reports cited as basis of the rules of Fiqh regardless of the degree of authenticity or otherwise of the chains.

Works Concerning Narrators of Sunan Ibn Mâjah:

1. Imâm Dhahabi wrote biographies for narrators of Sunan Ibn Mâjah whose narrations were not collected by Bukhâri and Muslim. He named this work, Al-Mujarrad fi Rijâl Sunan Ibn Mâjah. The work has been published twice.
2. Dr. Abdullah Murâd 'Ali's thesis, Al-Matrukunal-ladhina fee Ikhrâji lahum Ibn Mâjah; this is a contemporary work.
3. There is also another work in this regard by Dr. Sa'di bin Mahdi Al-Hâshimi. It is published by Islamic University of Al-Madinah in 1402 AH.

Distinguishing Qualities of Sunan Ibn Mâjah:

The Sunan of Ibn Mâjah possesses some distinguishing qualities that kept it apart from other books of Ahâdith, made it outstanding and popular and called the attention of scholars in all ages. Here are those distinguishing qualities:

- The style is excellent. The titles of chapters are in harmony with the Ahâdith listed under them. There is no confusion or meshing or disorder. The chapters follow each other in the same order as in the books of Islamic jurisprudence, and the Ahâdith, too, are well-ordered—a quality that poses no difficulty in deriving legal rulings.
- The chapters are well-ordered and well-arranged. There is no repetition, a quality lacking in other basic Hadith books.
- The book, though brief, is comprehensive with respect to legal rulings. It is for this quality of comprehensiveness that Ibn Hajar, in Taqribut-Tahdhib, called it a 'good Jâmi''.
- On several occasions he identified those Ahâdith that are Gharib (Unfamiliar). Of course, Tirmidhi is famed for having already done so, yet Ibn Mâjah's work in this field, namely, identifying Ahâdith in some special chapters and ruling them as Gharib is unique. We do not find it in other books.

- There were some Ahâdith specific to some particular town, there being no narrator of those Ahâdith in other towns. But Ibn Mâjah, while recording, gives the name of the town the narrator of a particular Hadith belongs.
- Ibn Mâjah added 482 Sahih Ahâdith to his Sunan that do not exist in the other five books of Hadith.
- There are 3002 common Ahâdith existing in both Sunan Ibn Mâjah and the other five books but Ibn Mâjah recorded them with quite different channels of narration. This multiplicity of channels of narration has further strengthened Ahâdith, a distinguishing quality of Sunan Ibn Mâjah, a quality that is not found in other books.
- There are 1339 Ahâdith in Sunan Ibn Mâjah that do not exist in the other Five books. Hadith scholars have also recorded them as Zawâ'id (additions or supplements). It is owing to those Zawâ'id that the Sunan of Ibn Mâjah has been elevated to the position of 'the sixth of the Six'.

Position of Sunan Ibn Mâjah among the Six Collections:

Allâh, High and Exalted has appointed for the Sunnah well-versed and learned scholars who shall protect it against the distortions of extremists, arrogation of liars and misinterpretations of the ignorant. These scholars devised various ways of recording the Sunnah in order to preserve it. One of the best results of these efforts, the most authentic, the most accurate and the most well-accepted by all and sundry is 'the Sahih', collected by Abu 'Abdullah Muhammad bin Ismâ'il Bukhâri. This is followed in terms of accuracy and acceptance by Sahih collected by Abu Husain Muslim bin Hajjâj Nishapuri.

These two collections are then followed by 'the Sunan' collected by each of: Abu Dâwud Sulaimân bin Ash'ath Sijistâni, Abu 'Eisa Muhammad bin 'Eisa Tirmidhi, Abu Abdur-Rahmân Ahmad bin Shu'aib Nasâ'i and Abu Abdullah Muhammad bin Yazid who is also known as Ibn Mâjah Qazvini; though he did not attained the status of the other five.[1]

Râfi'i (d. 623 AH), said in his book, At-Tadwin about Ibn Mâjah's collection: "Ibn Mâjah's collection, As-Sunan can be mentioned along with the two Sahih collections and the Sunan collection of each of Abu Dâwud, Nasâ'i and Tirmidhi."

[1] Tahdhibul-Kamâl 1/147.

As it has been pointed out earlier, there was a controversy among the scholars as to which of the three collections - Sunan Ibn Mâjah, Muwatta' Imâm Mâlik and Sunan Dârimi - should be counted as the sixth of the six major collections. This controversy was widened by Majduddin Ibn Taimiyyah's argument that Musnad of Imâm Ahmad deserved to be counted instead of Sunan Ibn Mâjah.

This controversy was, however, brought to a logical end by the latter scholars; that is by incorporating all the suggested books and raising the major collections to nine. Hence, we have the basic five collections: Sahihs of Bukhâri and Muslim, the Sunan collected by each of: Abu Dâwud Sulaimân bin Ash'ath Sijistâni, Abu 'Eisa Muhammad bin 'Eisa Tirmidhi and Abu Abdur-Rahmân Ahmad bin Shu'aib Nasâ'i with the addition of Sunan of Ibn Mâjah. Added to the list are: Muwatta' of Imâm Mâlik, Sunan of Dârimi and Musnad of Imâm Ahmad.

These nine collections are therefore the major basic collections of Hadith upon which the latter scholars finally agreed.

Ibn Hajar, in his work An-Nukât, did mention the reason that made Ibn Tâhir to count Sunan Ibn Mâjah as the sixth collection as opposed to Muwatta' by Imâm Mâlik. He said, "Ibn Tâhir and others counted Sunan Ibn Mâjah as the sixth collection as opposed to Muwatta' because; Muwatta' contains fewer fully-connected additions to the Hadith of the five collections whereas Sunan Ibn Mâjah contains more and more. Therefore, the intention of the scholars in choosing Sunan Ibn Mâjah was to maximize the number of Ahâdith."

In the above statement, Ibn Hajar mentioned the clear reason for the scholars' choosing of Sunan Ibn Mâjah as opposed to Muwatta' of Imâm Mâlik though it is indisputably clear that Muwatta' is more recognized and more authentic in terms of its contents than Sunan Ibn Mâjah. However, by choosing Sunan Ibn Mâjah, the scholars were adding a great number of Ahâdith - more than one thousand five hundred additional Ahâdith - to the treasure of Sunnah.

Sunan Ibn Mâjah's Rank among Hadith Books:

Initially, only four were chosen from among the many Hadith books by Ibn Sakan and Ibn Mandah and called them the 'Four Bases' that included Sahih Bukhâri, Sahih Muslim, Sunan Abu Dâwud and Sunan An-Nasâ'i. Later on, Sunan Tirmidhi was also included in them and a new term 'the Five Bases' was coined. Towards the end of the fifth century AH, Hâfiz Abul-Fadl Muhammad bin Tâhir Al-Maqdisi added Sunan Ibn Mâjah to the Five Bases, calling it the sixth of the Six (Sâdisus-Sittah) and by writing his book Shurutul-A'immaus-Sittah (The conditions laid down by the six Imâms) included it permanently in the Six Books. Later on, Hâfiz 'Abdul-Ghani Al-Maqdisi, writing in his book Al-Kâmil, followed the same line that was laid down by Ibn Tâhir.

The Scholars' Interest in Sunan Collections:

The scholars showed great interest in Sunan collections. They transcript it, quoted it, memorized it, narrated it, commented on it and explained the situations of its narrators.

- One of these scholars is Imâm Hâfiz Muhammad bin Tâhir bin 'Ali bin Ahmad the well-traveled scholar and the author of many books. He was born in Jerusalem.

  Salafi narrated that he heard Muhammad bin Tâhir saying: "I wrote the two Sahihs of Bukhâri and Muslim and Sunan Abu Dâwud seven times for wages. And I wrote Sunan Ibn Mâjah ten times at Ray."

  Ibn Tâhir also said, "I discharged blood while urinating twice in the cause of seeking Ahâdith: Once in Baghdad and the other time in Makkah. That was due to my walking barefooted in extreme heat. I never rode any mount in the cause of seeking Ahâdith and I used to carry my books on my back. Also, I never begged anyone for anything while I was a student of Hadith. I only used to live upon whatever came to me."

  It was also reported that Ibn Tâhir would walk continuously for a day and a night; for he was endowed with the strength to do so.

  Abdullah bin Muhammad Ansâri Harawi said, "A student of Hadith should be fast at reading, writing and walking. Allâh endowed this young man - meaning Ibn Tâhir - with these qualities."

  Shujâ' Dhuhli said, "Ibn Tâhir died when he arrived for Hajj on Friday 28th or 29th of Rabi'ul-Awwal 507 AH."[1]

- Sakhâwi said, "Hâfiz Ibn Hajar read the entire Sunan Ibn Mâjah in four sittings; Sahih Muslim in four sittings, Sunan An-Nasâ'i Al-Kabir in ten sittings, and each sitting was approximately of four hours. He also read Mu'jam At-Tabarâni As-Saghir in a single sitting between Zuhr and 'Asr prayers - And this is his fastest."[2]

  The scholars had shown great interest in the books of Sunan. The lesser the number of narrators of a book and the closer its chains of narrators to the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ, the higher the status of that book, as long as long as the reports are authentic. That is why the scholars paid greater attention to some Ahâdith whose chains of narrators are shorter. For instance, they paid greater attention to Ahâdith whose Isnâd consist of one, two or three narrators.

As for Isnâd with only three narrators in the chains, Imâm Shâfi'i recorded a number of them in his Musnad. Imâm Ahmad also has a lot of them in his Musnad. Bukhâri has about twenty of them; and Abu Dâwud and Tirmidhi have one each. As for Ibn Mâjah, he has about five of them but each of his narrators is accused of lying. Tabarâni in his Mu'jam also has a few of these Isnâd.

As for Imâm Mâlik, he has reports in his Muwatta' with only two narrators in their Isnâd. Imâm Abu Hanifah also has narrations with only one narrator between him and the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ. However, these reports are rejected because; the fact is that Abu Hanifah never heard anything from any of the Prophet's Companions. It then follows that one or more narrators must have been dropped between him and the Companions he is reported to have narrated from.

The Scholars' Interest in Sunan Ibn Mâjah:

It is in the habit of the scholars to read and memorize Sunan books. One of the most prominent among such scholars is Abu Zur'ah Maqdisi. The great scholar, who was well-versed in Hadith was Tâhir bin Muhammad bin Tâhir bin 'Ali Shaibâni Al-Maqdisi Al-Râzi Al-Hamdâni. He was born in Ray.

'Umar bin 'Ali Al-Qurashi said, "I started reading Sunan Ibn Mâjah to Abu Zur'ah when he came for Hajj. He said: 'I heard the book from Abu Mansur Miqwâmi, and it was from a copy written by my father.'" Al-Qurashi then said, "We then confirmed that he had Ijâzah (i.e., certificate of approval) from Miqwâmi."

Abu 'Abdullah Dubaithi said, "Abu Zur'ah died in the year 566 AH at Hamdân."[1]

Another prominent scholar in this regard is Muhammad bin Shâfi'i bin Muhammad bin Tâhir Nishapuri who was also known as as-Sinawbari, the jurist. He visited Baghdad and lived there for sometime. While he was there, he narrated Sunan Ibn Mâjah to people.[2]

Scholars Who were Unable to Acquire Sunan Ibn Mâjah:

1. 'Ali bin Ismâ'il bin Abbâs bin Qarqin Al-Ba'li (d. 772 AH).[1]
2. Hâfiz 'Allâmah Shaikhul-Islam Abu Bakr Ahmad bin Husain bin 'Ali bin Musa Al-Khazrujardi Khorasani Al-Baihaqi. He was a great scholar. His knowledge was blessed and he has many useful works to his credit. He did not have any of Sunans of Nasâ'i, Tirmidhi or Ibn Mâjah. He died in the year (458 AH).[2]

Explanatory Commentaries on Ibn Mâjah:

Like the other Five Books, in view of the usefulness, importance and fame of Sunan Ibn Mâjah, many notable commentaries and marginal notes have been written on it. Some of them are:

1. The first known commentary on Sunan Ibn Mâjah is the one done by the Egyptian Hâfiz Abu 'Abdullah 'Alâ'uddin Mughaltâ'i bin Qalij bin 'Abdullah Bakjari Al-Misri (d. 762 AH). He named his work Al-I'lam bi Sunnatihi 'Alaihis-Salâm. The author died before he could complete it. It still remains in manuscript and unedited, and it is in four volumes.
2. Mâ Tamassu minhul-Hâjah min Sunan Ibn Mâjah: An eight-volume commentary, written by Shaikh Sirâjuddin 'Umar bin 'Ali bin Al-Mulaqqin in 801 AH, on Zawâ'id of Ibn Mâjah. The book explains the odd words and describes difficult names and surnames with accuracy.
3. Some authors mention a book called Mâ Tamass ilayh Hâjah liman Yutâlih Sunan Ibn Mâjah. This book was written by one of the Indian scholars, Muhammad Abdur-Rashid Nu'mâni. The impression the title of the book gives is that it is about Ibn Mâjah's methodology and other necessary things a readers should know about Sunan Ibn Mâjah. But, sadly, the book is mostly devoid of that. It was only written in response to an issue that affects the Hanafites only. The only important thing the book has is that it made a mention of spurious Ahâdith.
4. Ad-Dibajah fee Sharh Sunan Ibn Mâjah is a five-volume work by Kamaluddin Muhammad bin Musa Ad-Damiri, the author of the famous Hayâtul-Haiwân Al-Kubra; he died in the year 808 AH.
5. Allâmah Jalâluddin Suyuti also had a commentary on Sunan Ibn Mâjah. It was printed along with a very old edition of Sunan Ibn Mâjah in New Delhi. Suyuti's commentary is called: Misbah Az-Zujajah. However, I do not know whether or not this name is authentic.
6. Sharh Sunan Ibn Mâjah by Ibn Rajab Hanbali (d. 795 AH); we know

[1] Ad-Durar Al-Kaminah fee A'yân Al-Miah Ath-Thaminah 1/350.

[2] Siyar A'lâm An-Nubala' 18/163.

nothing about this commentary except that Sindi quoted from it in his own commentary on Sunan Ibn Mâjah.

7. Sharh Ibn Mâjah: The work of Shaikh Burhânuddin Halabi. According to Imâm Shaukâni, it is a very delicate and refined commentary.
8. Misbah Az-Zujâjah fi Zawâid Ibn Mâjah' by Busairi (d. 840 AH). The unique feature of this work is that Busairi edited those narrations that Ibn Mâjah exclusively recorded. He then classified each of these narrations in terms of its authenticity or otherwise. It should be pointed out that this Busairi is different from the one who wrote a poetry in which the Prophet ﷺ was excessively praised and which is recited all over the Muslim world. We ask Allâh for guidance.
9. Kifâyatul-Hâjah fi Sharh Ibn Mâjah: Marginal notes by Shaikh Abul-Hasan Muhammad bin 'Abdul-Hâdi Sindi, a twelfth century AH scholar (d. 1138 AH). In his marginal notes, 'Allâmah Sindi explains odd words, gives correct spellings of words and, in particular, writes on declension inflections of words. It is a bit more comprehensive than 'Allâmah Suyuti's marginal notes.
10. Raf'ul-Hâjah 'an Sunan Ibn Mâjah: A translation and commentary by Maulâna Wahiduz-Zamân.
11. Injâhul-Hâjah: Marginal notes by Shaikh 'Abdul-Ghani Al-Mujaddadi Dehlavi.
12. Ta'liq Sabt Ibnul-'Ajami: A nice commentary on Sunan Ibn Mâjah by Hâfiz Sabt Ibnul-'Ajami.
13. Injâzul-Hâjah bi Sharh Sunan Ibn Mâjah: A very useful and comprehensive commentary written in Arabic by famous Pakistani scholar, Shaikh Muhammad 'Ali Janbâz. He documented and referenced each Hadith, gave his ruling on its soundness or weakness, wrote a brief biographical note on the narrators of each Hadith, gave accurate names of narrators and places, and quoted Ahâdith similar in meaning to the respective Hadith. Moreover, while writing his commentary, he mentioned the Madhhab of each school of Islamic jurisprudence, quoting from their authentic books and, after an objective analysis of the arguments of each jurist in the light of Qur'ân and Sunnah, mentioned the preferred opinion. At the end of each volume, there is also a list of famous biographies. The foregoing qualities make this commentary very useful, excellent and comprehensive. But it is still incomplete. The commentary on about half the book running into six volumes has already been published. May Allâh help the author complete his work and reward him for his labor. Amen.

How to benefit by Sunan Ibn Mâjah

- Introduction: The Sunan of Ibn Mâjah is one of the basic reference works. It occupies a special position among the six canonical books of Ahâdith (the Sound Six), next to the Sound Traditions of Bukhâri and Muslim. It has been arranged under subject-headings. Imâm Ibn Mâjah (209 AH-273 AH) divided his work into three parts according to the subject-matter: (1) chapters (2) subchapters (3) Ahâdith. This type of division and arrangement is technically called the Fiqh classification. The Sunan of Ibn Mâjah consists of 37 books and 4341 Ahâdith in all.
- Chapters: To begin with, titles have been given according to subject-matter, following the Fiqh classification (that is, the classification method followed in the books of Islamic jurisprudence), for example, chapters of Purity and its Sunan, chapters of Funerals. Following this pattern, Sunan Ibn Mâjah make 37 chapters, a separate list of which has been given on another page.
- Subchapters: These carry titles relating to each of the Fiqh subjects. For example, the chapter of Purity and its Sunan has 139 subchapters. The same method is followed in the chapters on Prayer-call (Adhân), Mosques, etc.
- Ahâdith: The Ahâdith quoted under each chapter and each title have been arranged with respect to their contents and follow a well-ordered sequence. The Ahâdith quoted vary in numbers, more in some chapters and less in others. Readers should follow the same order in their search for a Hadith relating to a particular subject.
- Refrences: Readers will notice the word Al-Mu'jam in the beginning of each subchapter and the word At-Tuhfah at the end of it in the chapters of the Arabic part of Sunan Ibn Mâjah. The following explains the terms:
  a. Al-Mu'jam refers to Al-Mu'jam Al-Mufahras li Alfâthil-Hadith, a 7-8 volume work prepared by the (non-Muslim) Orientalists over a period of 65 years stretching from 1922 to 1987. It is an alphabetical list of words occurring in the texts of Ahâdith collected by nine traditionists in their compilations: Sahihul-Bukhâri, Sahih Muslim, Sunan Abu Dâwud, Jâmi' Tirmidhi, Sunan An-Nasa'i, Sunan Ibn Mâjah, Musnad Ahmad, Muwatta' Al-Imâm Mâlik, and Sunan Ad-Dârimi. Its purpose is to help readers find the text of any Hadith wherever it occurs among the foregoing nine Hadith compilations.

b. At-Tuhfah refers to Tuhfatul-Ashrâf bi Ma'rifatil-Atrâf, a book prepared by Jamâluddin Abul-Hajjâj Yusuf Al-Mizzi in the course of 27 years, from 696 AH to 722 AH. It contains the texts of all the Ahâdith of the Six canonical books plus As-Sunan Al-Kubra of Nasa'i and Shamâ'il of Tirmidhi along with the names, alphabetically arranged, of the Companions, their followers (Tâbi'in) and the followers of the followers (Taba' Tâbi'in), who narrated them. This arrangement is technically called Musnad. Numbers have also been given along with Al-Mu'jam and At-Tuhfah in the Arabic part of Ibn Mâjah. These numbers guide the reader to where those Ahâdith are to be found in Al-Mu'jam Al-Mufahras and Tuhfatul-Ashrâf, thereby enabling him to get to other reference works relating to Ahâdith. This arrangement has proved very helpful to research scholars in their search for a particular Hadith.

- Numbering *Ahâdith: Muhammad Fuwâd 'Abdul-Bâqi introduced about 60 to 70 years ago the system of giving number to each Hadith in the collections: Bukhâri, Muslim, and Sunan Ibn Mâjah to make it easy to find a particular Hadith. It is called in Arabic Raqamul-Hadith. Now it has become a normal practice in Hadith books. This method of numbering Ahâdith has made access to any Hadith very easy. You can find a Hadith now very quickly.
- Sanad* (chain) of *Hadith: The traditionist transmits a Hadith, beginning from his teacher (Shaikh) through each narrator up to the Companion of the Prophet ﷺ. This sequence of narrators is called chain (Sanad) of narration.
- Matn* (text) of *Hadith: The words beginning at the end of the chain is called Matn (text).
- Comments: To further explain the meaning of each Hadith and to recount all the rulings and the points of law that can possibly be deduced from a particular Hadith, a new section, Comments, has been added in the English edition. While writing this section, quotations from Qur'ân and Hadith books, along with their references, have also been given. Sometimes Hadith numbers have also been given, the purpose being to help the reader gain more information if he so desires.

Readers will note in this English edition of Ibn Mâjah that at the end of each Hadith, the quoted Hadith has been investigated and traced. It is a technical thing normally useful for learned men and Hadith scholars but a layman may also benefit by discovering whether a particular Hadith is Weak or Sound.

Technical Terms used by Hadith Scholars

Definition of Hadith: Whatever has come down to us concerning Allâh's Messenger ﷺ through narrators is called Hadith. It is also sometimes called Sunnah (practice, usage, etc), Khabar (report) and Athar (track, trace, sign, impression, tradition).

Basic Kinds of Ahâdith:

- Qauli (Verbal): It records the utterances of the Prophet ﷺ.
- Fi'li (Practical): It records the deeds of the Prophet ﷺ.
- Taqrir (Tacit): It records the Prophet's tacit approval of some action, behavior, etc.
- Shamâ'il (physical characteristics): It records the physical characteristics, appearance, habits or behavior of the Prophet ﷺ.

Note: The main text of a Hadith is called Matn, which is preceded by Sanad (chain of narrators). If the chain is complete and no name of the narrator is missing from the chain, the Hadith is called Muttasil (Connected). Else, it is called Munqati' (Interrupted).

Kinds of Ahâdith with respect to Ascription (Nisbah):

- Qudsi (Sacred): It records the very Words of Allâh narrated by the Prophet ﷺ, transmitted through narrators, and not found in the Qur'ân.
- Marfu' (Traceable): A Hadith ascribing an utterance, deed, or tacit approval to the Prophet ﷺ.
- Mauquf (Discontinued): A Hadith ascribing an utterance, deed, or tacit approval to a Companion of the Prophet ﷺ.
- Maqtu' (Intersected): A Hadith ascribing an utterance or deed to Tâbi'i[1] or Tabi' Tâbi'i.[2]

[1] See the glossary.

[2] See the glossary.

Kinds of Ahâdith according to the Number of Narrators:

— Mutawâtir (Continuous): Hadith fulfilling the four conditions of continuity:

1. narrated by a large number of narrators;
2. human reason and usage cannot possibly rule it out as false;
3. occurring much in each chronological Level (Tabaqah) of narrators, right from the era of the Prophet ﷺ to the time of the compiler;
4. relates to human senses.

Note: Tabaqah (Era-Level) is a group of narrators hearing Ahâdith from one or more than one teacher.

— Khabar Wâhid (Isolated): A Hadith which does not meet the four conditions of Mutawâtir Hadith. It is of four kinds.

— Mashhur (Well-known): A Hadith with more than two narrators at each Level (Tabaqah) but not an equal number of narrators at any Level (e.g., three, four, five).

— Mustafid (Extensive): Hadith with a uniform number of narrators but more than two at each Level or a uniform number of them at the beginning or the end of the chain of narration.

— 'Aziz (Precious): Hadith with only two narrators at any Level.

— Gharib (Unfamiliar): Hadith with only one narrator at any Era-Level. If the narrator is a Companion or a Tâbi'i, it will be called Gharib Mutlaq (Absolutely Unfamiliar). In case the narrator is some other person, it will be called Gharib Nisabi (Relatively Unfamiliar).

Note: Of the foregoing kinds, the Mutawâtir Hadith gives you certainty or positive knowledge ('Ilmul-Yaqin). The other kinds may be Mardud (Rejected) or Maqbul (Accepted).

Kinds of Ahâdith according to Acceptance or Rejection:

— Maqbul (Accepted): The one that is obligatory to act by.

— Mardud (Rejected): Hadith that is not Accepted.

Kinds and grades of Maqbul Ahâdith according to the extent they meet the conditions of acceptability:

1. Sahih li-Dhâtihi
2. Sahih li-Ghairihi
3. Hasan li-Dhâtihi
4. Hasan li-Ghairihi

- Sahih li-Dhâtihi (Sound by itself): the Hadith that fulfills the five conditions of soundness.
  a. Should have a connected chain of narration. That is, each narrator received the narration from his teacher.
  b. Each narrator should be upright ('Âdil), commits no major sin, does not insist on minor sins, is good-tempered and of good moral conduct.
  c. Perfectly accurate (Kâmilud-Dabt), transmitting his narration orally from memory or in writing perfectly and accurately.
  d. The Hadith should not be Shâdhdh, that is, it should not contradict other Ahâdith.
  e. The Hadith should not be Ma'lul (Defective).

(Detailed definition of Shâdhdh and Ma'lul will soon follow).

- Hasan li-Dhâtihi (Good by itself): A Hadith, some narrators of which are less accurate, but it fulfills all the remaining conditions.

  (Note: Hasan li-Dhâtihi ranks after Sahih li-Ghairihi. We have changed the sequence to make definitions easier.
- Sahih li-Ghairihi (Sound owing to supporting narrations): If a Hasan Hadith has more than one chain of narration, it is elevated to the grade of Sound (Sahih). It is called Sahih li-Ghairihi (Sound owing to supporting narrations) since it has become Sound by virtue of other supporting narrations.
- Hasan li-Ghairihi (Good owing to other supporting narrations): Hadith having several chains of narrations, each chain being a little weak but the weakness offset by virtue of multiplicity of chains, and, hence, reaching the grade of Hasan li-Ghairihi.

Kinds and Grades of Sound Ahâdith (as they occur in Hadith books):

- Muttafiq Alaih (Agreed upon): Hadith occurring in both Sahih Bukhâri and Sahih Muslim. Such a Hadith is sound to the highest degree.
- Afrâd Bukhâri: Hadith occurring in Sahih Bukhâri but not in Sahih Muslim.
- Afrâd Muslim: Hadith occurring in Sahih Muslim but not in Sahih Bukhâri.
- Sahih 'ala Shartihima: A Hadith not found in Sahih Bukhâri or Sahih Muslim but meeting the conditions laid down by both.
- Sahih 'ala Shartil-Bukhâri: Hadith not found in Sahih Bukhâri but meets the conditions laid down by him for a Hadith to be Sound.

- Sahih 'ala Sharti- Muslim: Hadith not found in Sahih Muslim but meets the conditions laid down by Muslim for a Hadith to to be Sound.
- Sahih 'ala Sharti-Ghairihima: A Hadith that meets the conditions laid down by Hadith scholars other than Bukhâri and Muslim.

Kinds of Mardud (Rejected) Ahâdith due to Interrupted (Munqati') chain:

- Mu'allaq (Suspended): A Hadith with the initial part of its chain of narration or the whole chain deleted (deliberately).
- Mursal (Disconnected): A Hadith narrated by a Tâbi'i from the Prophet ﷺ without an intermediary.
- Mu'dal (Double Break): Refers to a Hadith in which two or more consecutive narrators are deleted in the middle of the chain.
- Munqati' (Interrupted): This term is applied to a Hadith in which one or more than one narrator has been deleted at random from the middle of the chain of narration.
- Mudallas (Truncated): The term is applied to a Hadith in which the narrator hides the name of his teacher in a subtle way, such as calling him by an unknown or nickname, giving the impression that he did not do so. In this case, the chain is Muttasil (Connected) and the subnarrators are known to have met and heard directly from the relevant teachers but there is no proof that they heard the respective Hadith directly from them.
- Mursal Khafi (Disconnected-hidden): A Hadith in which the narrator narrates from a contemporary whom he could not have possibly heard from or seen, there being no proof of both having met each other.
- Ma'lul or Mu'allal (Defective): A technical term applied to a Hadith that looks Maqbul (Accepted) externally but contains an inherent, hidden defect making it unacceptable. Only an expert and highly skilled in the Hadith science can detect such a defect. It is impossible for others.

Kinds of Rejected Ahâdith, according to lack of integrity of narrators:

- Riwâ'yatul-Mubtadi' (narration of innovator): A Hadith from a narrator committing innovation (Bid'ah), by word or act, thereby reneging his faith. Anyhow, in case his sin of innovation does not warrant the charge of disbelief, his narration may be reliable providing he is a person of integrity ('Adl) and accurate (Dâbit). It is to be noted that innovation reneging disbelief leads, of necessity, to apostasy.
- Riwâyatul-Fâsiq (narration of dissolute): A Hadith narrated by one committing major sins, short of disbelief.

- Matruk (Abandoned): A Hadith narrated by a known liar and whose narrations have been rejected by traditionists (Muhaddithin).
- Maudu' (Fabricated): A Hadith whose narrator attributed a false report to the Prophet ﷺ on some occasion. Any narration by such a person is called Forged or Fabricated.

Kinds of Rejected Ahâdith according to inaccuracy of narrator:

- Musahhaf (misrepresented): A Hadith containing a word that looks right apparently but is actually mispronounced or misread due to misspelling or misplaced diacritical marks.
- Maqlub (Inverted): A Hadith containing words put before or after their proper place by the narrator forgetfully or containing the name of a narrator in place of another.
- Mudraj (Interpolated): A Hadith containing, in part, intentionally or unintentionally, a narrator's own word or words that look like a part of the text of the Hadith itself.
- Al-Mazid fi Muttasilil-Asânid (Additional): Narration so named when two narrators, one trustworthy and another more trustworthy, transmit a tradition, the former adding one more subnarrator to the chain.
- Shâdhdh (Contradicting): A Hadith transmitted by an accepted (trustworthy or truthful) narrator who contradicts another narrator more trustworthy than himself or several trustworthy narrators like himself. The antonym (opposite) of Shâdhdh is Mahfuz (Conforming).
- Munkar (Denounced): A Hadith whose narrator is Weak (Da'if) and contradicts one or more than one trustworthy narrators. The antonym of Munkar is Ma'ruf (Conventional).
- Riwâyah Saiyyil Hifz (Poor): A Hadith narrated by one born with a poor memory.
- Riwâyah Kathirul-Ghaflah (Lax): Term applied to Hadith narrated by one who is very lax and negligent or commits errors very often.
- Riwâyah Fâhishul-Ghalat (Monstrous): Hadith narrated by one who commits monstrous errors.
- Riwâyatul-Mukhtalit (Muddled): A Hadith narrated by one who lost memory through senility, dotage or accident or whose written narrations were lost.
- Mudtarib (Confounding): A Hadith, the chain or text of which contains conflicting things impossible to be resolved.

Kinds of Rejected Ahâdith due to narrator being Unknown:

- Riwâyah Majhulil-'Ain (Unknown): The Hadith of a narrator who is quite unknown, there being no comment about him by a Hadith scholar and no knowledge as to whether he was trustworthy or Weak and there being only one subnarrator narrating from him. Such a narrator is called Unknown.
- Riwâyah Majhulil-Hâl: The Hadith of a narrator unknown, there being no comment about him by a Hadith scholar and no knowledge as to whether he was trustworthy or Weak and there being only two subnarrators reporting from him. Such a person is called Unknown (Majhul). He is also called Mastür (Concealed).
- Mubbham (Vague): A Hadith whose chain does not clearly state the name of any narrator.

Kinds of Hadith Compilations

- Kutub Sihah* (Books of Sound Ahâdith): Any book, the compiler of which has committed himself to include only Sound (Sahih) narrations in his compilation and made the word Sahih a part of the title of his book. In the opinion of the compiler at least, the narrations of such a book are Sound. If he himself points out the defect in a Hadith he has recorded, it does not tarnish or detract from the soundness of his compilation.
- Sihah Sittah* (the Sound Six): This term is applied to the sound six compilations—Sahih Bukhâri, Sahih Muslim, Sunan Abu Dâwud, Sunan An-Nasâ'i, Jâmi' Tirmidhi, and Sunan Ibn Mâjah. They are also known as Usul Sittah (the Six Majors or Basics) or Kutub Sittah (Six Books). The first two are called Sahihain and have earned universal acclaim. They are not considered Sound only by their compilers but by the whole Muslim nation. Anyone finding fault with the Twain is, in the words of Shah Waliullah, the renowned traditionist of Delhi, an innovator disputing the consensus of the nation. The last four books are called Sunan Arba'ah. These contain some Weak (Da'if) narrations but, on the whole, most of them are Sound. Hence, learned scholars include them in the 'Sound Six'.
- Jâmi'* (Comprehensive): The term is applied to a book that contains Ahâdith on all subjects relating to Islam like doctrines ('Aqâ'id), laws, and commandments (Ahkâm), exegesis (Tafsir), the Paradise (Jannah), the Hell (Jahannam). Examples: Sahih Bukhâri, Jâmi' Tirmidhi, etc.
- Sunan: Books containing Ahâdith of a practical nature, legal and doctrinal, focusing on topics of relevance to a Muslim's daily life like Sunan Abu Dâwud.
- Musnad: A collection of Ahâdith narrated by a Companion or Companions, each collection arranged separately under the name of a Companion, like Musnad Ahmad, Musnad Humaidi.
- Mustakhraj: A genre of Hadith literature in which the compiler gathers narrations from other books and writes them with his chains of narration like Mustakhraj Ismâ'ili 'ala Sahihil-Bukhâri.
- Mustadrak: A compilation of Ahâdith not found in the book of a Hadith scholar but fulfilling the conditions laid down by him. Example: Mustadrak Hâkim.
- Mu'jam: A compilation listing the Ahâdith narrated by each of the compiler's teachers separately, arranged in a particular order.

- Arba'in: A book listing forty Ahâdith on one or more than one subject like Arba'in Nawawi, Arba'in Thunâ'i.
- Juz': A collection containing the narrations of a single narrator or on a single subject like Bukhâri's Juz' Raf'il Yadain and Juz' Al-Qirâ'ati Khalfal-Imâm and Baihaqi's Kitâbul-Qirâ'ati Khalful-Imâm.

Era-Categories (Tabaqât) of Hadith Compilations

1. The first Tabaqah covers Sahihul-Bukhâri, Sahih Muslim and Muwatta' Al-Imâm Mâlik. The latter precedes the former two with respect to the time of compilation but ranks third in the order of value and importance. Imâm Mâlik and his group of scholars believe all the Ahâdith in Al-Muwatta' to be Sound but other traditionists believe some narrations found therein to be Munqati' or Mursal although these are found in other books with Connected (Muttasil) chains. (But a Connected chain is not enough to establish the soundness of a Hadith).
2. The Four Sunans (Sunan Arba'ah) rank second. Some include Musnad Ahmad and Sunan Ad-Dârimi also in this Rank. The compilers of these books had a thorough knowledge of the Hadith sciences. They were known for their trustworthiness, integrity and accuracy. They were never negligent or lax in achieving their objectives and fulfilling the conditions they had set for themselves. In every age their books were liked and acclaimed by traditionists and learned scholars.
3. The Masanid[1] Jawâmi'[2] , and Musannafât[3] , written before, during and after the Sound Six (Sihah Sittah) fall third in order of rank. The purpose of their writers was just to collect and compile Ahâdith. This explains why their compilations contain all kinds of Ahâdith. These books are not unknown to Hadith scholars but, nonetheless, they do not find favor with them. The Muslim jurists did not make much use of the Ahâdith occurring in these compilations only but not in other books of the first two categories. Nor did Hadith scholars care much to investigate them as to their soundness or weakness, acceptance or rejection, exposition or elaboration. Under this category and rank come the works like Musannaf 'Abdur-Razzâq, Musannaf Ibn Abu Shaibah, Musnad At-Tayâlisi, and the works of Baihaqi, Tahâwi, and Tabarâni.
4. To the fourth rank belong those books that were composed much later, containing Ahâdith not found in the books of the top two ranks but rather in the compilations of little academic value. These books consist of arguments of preachers, proverbs of wise men and Israeli traditions that some weak transmitters mixed up, accidentally or purposely, with the Prophet's traditions. Or they are mere speculations or probabilities drawn from Qur'ân and Sunnah that ignorant mystics began transmitting by meanings (not by words) down the ages till the common people took them as the sayings of the Prophet ﷺ himself. Or they pruned words and lines from a number of Ahâdith, pieced them together, and coined a new Hadith altogether. Examples: Kitâbud-Du'afâ' (the Book of Weak narrations) of Ibn Hibbân, Al-Kâmil (The Complete) of Ibn 'Adi, and the books of Khatib Baghdadi, Abu Nu'aim Isfahani, Ibn 'Asâkir, Juzqâni, Ibn Najjâr, and Dailami. They all belong to this category. And so are Musnad Al-Khwârizmi and Al-Maudu'ât of Ibn Jawzi and Mulla 'Ali Qâri.

5. To this category belong the books containing the Ahâdith that were widely current among the circles of jurists, mystics, historians and experts in various fields as well as the Ahâdith fabricated by ungodly people with fluent tongues who embellished them with eloquent words and even forged chains of narration themselves.

- The books of the first and the second category or Rank are fully trusted by Hadith scholars. They have always remained deeply attached to them.
- The Ahâdith of the third Rank can only be advanced for argument by those who are experts in the Hadith sciences and have profound knowledge of narrators and the degree of their reliability, and have a sharp insight into the hidden defects of Ahâdith. In general, these Ahâdith cannot be advanced for argument or evidence except, of course, as supporting evidence for Maqbul (Accepted) Ahâdith.
- To gather and advance the Ahâdith belonging to the fourth category (Rank) as argument in support of the Ahâdith of the top two Ranks is a mere forced, affected behavior of the later scholars. That is the way of the innovators in their bid to support their particular rite of Fiqh or their denomination or religious creed. But Hadith scholars consider it wrong to advance Ahâdith from this category for evidence - (synopsis of Hujjatullâhil-Bâlighah).

Meanings of Masâdir (Sourcebooks) and Marâji' (Reference Works)

- Sources or sourcebooks: These refer to books, the compilers of which recorded Ahâdith with their own chains of narrations. In the foregoing classification of Ranks, Hadith books mean sourcebooks (Masâdir, plural of Masdar).
- Reference works: The books containing Ahâdith collected from different sourcebooks. These are of three kinds:
  a. Reference works containing only Sound Ahâdith like Al-lu'lu wal-Marjân fima Ittafaqa 'Alaihish-Shaikhân and 'Umdatul-Ahkâm.
  b. Reference works containing Ahâdith, both Sound and Weak, selected from sourcebooks like Mishkâtul-Masâbih, Riyâdus-Sâlihin, At-Targhib wat-Tarhib, and Bulughul-Marâm, etc.
  c. Reference works containing Ahâdith from both authentic and inauthentic sourcebooks without inquiry or criterion of selection like Kanzul-'Ummâl.

Note: It is not right to advance as argument a Hadith from the second and third types of reference works (b and c) without inquiry.

How to deal with Accepted (Maqbul) but Contradictory (Shâdhdh) Ahâdith

There are different ways to overcome this difficulty:

1. Reconciling between those two Ahâdith, and taking a common meaning, making it possible to act by both. In this case, preference shall be given to the meaning found in the third Hadith or the one stated by the scholars of Hadith sciences.
2. In case, this is not possible, we shall investigate which of the two has been abrogated. If it is established that one of the two has been abrogated, we shall take the abrogater and leave the abrogated.
3. In case there is no proof of abrogation, the Hadith that has a greater right to preference on technical grounds shall be taken, with no regard for the rite of Fiqh of any school (Madhhab) whatsoever, and the other Hadith abandoned. That is, the Hadith possessing the highest degree of soundness or occurring in a book of superior rank shall be given preference.

Note: In case of conflict between Maqbul and Mardud Ahâdith, the former shall prevail.

The Book Of The Sunnah

(المعجم . . .) [كِتَابُ السُّنَّةِ] (التحفة ١)

Chapter 1. Following The Sunnah Of The Messenger Of Allâh ﷺ

(المعجم ١) - بَابُ اتِّبَاعِ سُنَّةِ رَسُولِ اللهِ ﷺ (التحفة ١)

1. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said, 'Whatever I have commanded you, do it, and whatever I have forbidden you, refrain from it.'" (Sahih)

تخريج: [صحيح] أخرجه أحمد: ٢/ ٣٥٥ من حديث شريك به، وانظر الحديث الآتي.

Comments:

a. Each and every command of the Prophet ﷺ is binding on the community. Numerous Verses of the Qur'ân confirm the assertion.

b. Anything and everything the Prophet ﷺ prohibits must be avoided. Allâh the Glorified says in His Book: "... And whatever the Messenger gives you, take it; and whatever he forbids you, desist from it...." (59:7)

c. The above quoted Verse proves that a command, as a rule, is binding although in certain contexts it could simply mean preferability or recommendation.

2. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "Leave me as I have left you (Don't ask me the minor things that I have avoided to tell you). For those who came before you were doomed because of their questions and differences with their Prophets. If I command you to do something, then do as much of it as you can, and if I forbid you from doing something, then refrain from it.'" (Sahih)

٢ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو عَبْدِ اللهِ قَالَ: حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ ابْنُ الصَّبَّاحِ، قَالَ: أَنْبَأَنَا جَرِيرٌ، عَنِ الأَعْمَشِ، عَنْ أَبِي صَالِحٍ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ، قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «ذَرُونِي مَا تَرَكْتُكُمْ، فَإِنَّمَا هَلَكَ مَنْ كَانَ قَبْلَكُمْ بِسُؤَالِهِمْ وَاخْتِلَافِهِمْ عَلَى أَنْبِيَائِهِمْ، فَإِذَا أَمَرْتُكُمْ بِشَيْءٍ

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، الفضائل، باب توقيره ﷺ . . . إلخ، ح:١٣٣٧ بعد، ح:٢٣٥٧ من طريقين عن الأعمش به، وأصله عند البخاري، ح:٧٢٨٨، وله طرق أخرى.

Comments:

a. Permissibility is the rule in all worldly affairs as long as they are not prohibited by the Qur'ân and Sunnah. In the case of acts of worship, however, the rule is that only those acts are allowed that have their proof in the Qur'ân and Sunnah. It, therefore, follows that any newly-invented thing in religious matters is an innovation (Bid'ah). Not so in the case of worldly affairs.

b. Discussion on matters having no practical relevance must be avoided.

c. Disobedience to the commands of the Prophet ﷺ means inviting one's own doom and destruction.

d. In cases where a person is not able to comply with a certain commandment for a reason, accepted in the sacred law of Islam as genuine, he will not be reckoned a sinner by Allâh, as expressed in the following Verse of the Qur'ân: "Allâh burdens not a soul with more than it can bear...." (2:286)

3. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Whoever obeys me, obeys Allâh; and whoever disobeys me, disobeys Allâh.'" (Sahih)

تخريج: [صحيح] أخرجه أحمد:٢/٢٥٢، ٢٥٣ عن أبي معاوية ووكيع به، وللحديث طرق كثيرة عند البخاري، ح:٢٩٥٧، ومسلم، ح:١٨٣٥ وغيرهما.

Comments:

The rule quoted above has also been expressed in the Qur'ân in the following terms: "Whoever obeys the Messenger, thereby obeys Allâh..." (4:80)

This is so because the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ never prescribes any rule of Shari'ah out of his own likes or preferences; he only communicates what is revealed to him by Allâh, Who says in the Holy Book: "And he (the Prophet) never speaks of (his own) desire. It is only a revelation revealed." (53:3-4)

In fact the Prophet ﷺ himself obeyed the commandments of Allâh just like the rest of the community. The Prophet ﷺ, rather, presented a far greater example of righteousness and piety than the ordinary Muslims.

4. It was narrated that Abu Ja'far said: "Whenever Ibn 'Umar heard a Hadith from the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ, he would not do more than it said, and he would not do less." (Sahih)

٤ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ نُمَيْرٍ: حَدَّثَنَا زَكَرِيَّا بْنُ عَدِيٍّ، عَنِ ابْنِ الْمُبَارَكِ، عَنْ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ سُوقَةَ، عَنْ أَبِي جَعْفَرٍ، قَالَ: كَانَ ابْنُ عُمَرَ إِذَا سَمِعَ مِنْ رَسُولِ اللهِ ﷺ حَدِيثاً لَمْ يَعْدُهُ وَلَمْ يُقَصِّرْ دُونَهُ.

تخريج: [إسناده صحيح] أخرجه أحمد: ٢/ ٨٢ من حديث محمد بن سوقة به مطولاً.

Comments:

a. The Hadith under reference shows how keen the Companions were to avoid innovation and literally implement each word of the Prophet's ordainments. They left no stone unturned in their effort. Nor did they try to put one step ahead of the Prophet ﷺ. It is because the Qur'ân expressly forbids the doing of it in the following terms: "O you who believe! Do not put yourselves forward before Allâh and His Messenger." (49:1)

b. The Hadith would also explain why 'Abdullâh bin 'Umar ؓ, when he heard a Hadith from the Prophet ﷺ, neither added to it nor omitted from it anything.

5. It was narrated that Abu Dardâ' said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ came out to us when we were speaking of poverty and how we feared it. He said: 'Is it poverty that you fear? By the One in Whose Hand is my soul, (the delights and luxuries of) this world will come to you in plenty, and nothing will cause the heart of anyone of you to deviate except that. By Allâh, I am leaving you upon something like Baydâ' (white, bright, clear path) the night and day of which are the same.'"

Abu Dardâ' said: "He spoke the truth, by Allâh. The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ did indeed leave us upon something like Baydâ' (the white, bright, clear path) the days and nights of which were the same." (Hasan)

تخريج: [إسناده حسن] أخرجه ابن أبي عاصم في السنة، ح: ٤٧ عن هشام به.

Comments:

a. Poverty is a kind of trial from Allâh. It drives a lot of people to unlawful ways in search of sustenance. Similarly, too much affluence is also a trial, which induces people to indulge in evils like false pride, greed, and so on. The Hadith, however, seems to suggest that the affliction of affluence is greater than the affliction of poverty. May Allâh protect us from all trials and temptations!

b. The "days and nights of which are the same" probably means that everything in the Divine Law is bright like day. It could also mean that just as right was made completely distinct from wrong during the lifetime of the Prophet ﷺ, the light of guidance would continue to shine even after his death, thanks to the luminous rays of the Book and the Sunnah that would guide the community to discriminate between truth and falsehood.

6. Mu'âwiyah bin Qurrah narrated that his father said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'A group of my Ummah will continue to prevail and they will never be harmed by those who forsake them, until the Hour begins.'" (Sahih)

تخريج: [إسناده صحيح] أخرجه الترمذي، الفتن، باب ما جاء في أهل الشام، ح: ٢١٩٢ من حديث شعبة به، وقال «هذا حديث حسن صحيح» وصححه ابن حبان (موارد)، ح: ١٨٥١، (ابن بلبان)، ح: ٦١، ٦٨٣٤ .

Comments:

a. Allâh the Glorified has honored the community of the Prophet Muhammad ﷺ, by decreeing that it will not go astray en masse as was the case with the earlier communities: they went astray so completely that no one, except whom Allâh pleased, remained on the right track.

b. Islam, the religion of truth, is immune from distortion, since the holy book of Islam — the Qur'ân — is fully preserved, and so are the traditions of the Prophet ﷺ, thanks to the efforts of those who faithfully transmitted them, and to those who faithfully implemented them.

c. A great number of scholars hold the view that the people referred to in the Hadith are Ahl Hadith, for it is they who do not consider anyone deserving unquestioned compliance after the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ.

d. The Hadith does not imply that those treading the path of truth shall be spared all trials and tribulations in life. It rather means that those trials and tribulations shall not force them to deviate from the path of truth.

e. The phrase "until the Hour begins" means 'until the time Islam remains in the hearts of the people' since the last generation of men that shall witness the Hour will be such that no one among them will say 'Allâh, Allâh' since the Prophet ﷺ has foretold that.

٧ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو عَبْدِ اللهِ، قَالَ: حَدَّثَنَا هِشَامُ ابْنُ عَمَّارٍ، قَالَ: حَدَّثَنَا يَحْيَى بْنُ حَمْزَةَ، قَالَ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو عَلْقَمَةَ نَصْرُ بْنُ عَلْقَمَةَ، عَنْ عُمَيْرِ بْنِ الأَسْوَدِ، وَكَثِيرِ بْنِ مُرَّةَ الْحَضْرَمِيِّ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ قَالَ: «لاَ تَزَالُ طَائِفَةٌ مِنْ أُمَّتِي قَوَّامَةً عَلَى أَمْرِ اللهِ لاَ يَضُرُّهَا مَنْ خَالَفَهَا».

7. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "A group of my Ummah will continue to adhere steadfastly to the command of Allâh and those who oppose them will not be able to harm them." (Hasan)

8. Bakr bin Zur'ah said: "I heard Abu 'Inabah Al-Khawlâni, who had prayed facing both prayer directions (Qiblah) with the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ, say: 'I heard the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ say: Allâh will continue to plant new people in this religion and use them in His obedience'." (Hasan)

تخريج: [إسناده حسن] أخرجه أحمد:٤/٢٠٠ عن الهيثم بن خارجة عن الجراح به، وصححه ابن حبان (موارد)، ح:٨٨، وقال البوصيري: «هذا إسناد صحيح»

Comments:

a. Abu 'Inabah Al-Khawlâni ﷺ, a Companion of the Prophet ﷺ, is among the earliest entrants into Islam. He, like so many other Companions, prayed for sixteen or seventeen months facing Jerusalem before the revelation came for the change of direction (Qiblah) towards the Sacred House of Allâh in Makkah.

b. Spread of Islam has not been a transitory phenomenon restricted to a particular period in history. People of different religious persuasions have all along been entering and, Allâh willing, will continue to enter its fold, and the Muslim Ummah shall continue to benefit by their capabilities.

9. 'Amr bin Shu'aib narrated that his father said: "Mu'âwiyah stood up to deliver a sermon and said: 'Where are your scholars? Where are your scholars? For I heard the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ say: The Hour will not begin until a group of my Ummah will prevail over the people, and they will not care who lets them down and who supports them'." (Sahih)

تخريج: [صحيح] حجاج عنعن، ولأصل الحديث طرق كثيرة عند البخاري، ح:٣٦٤١، ومسلم، ح:١٠٣٧ بعد، ح:١٩٢٣ وغيرهما عن معاوية رضي الله عنه.

Comments:

a. "Where are your scholars?" because there were very few senior Companions at that time."
b. "...prevail over the people" means: they will continue to prevail over the deviant groups through the might of their proofs and arguments. It could also mean that those on the right path will win discernable supremacy.
c. The hallmark of scholars treading the path of truth is that they popularize the truth, and expose falsehood in belief and action, regardless of whether the number of people supporting them is large or small, or what position of authority their adversaries are holding.

10. It was narrated from Thawbân that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "A group among my Ummah will continue to follow the truth and prevail, and those who oppose them will not be able to harm them, until the command of Allâh comes to pass." (Sahih)

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، الإمارة، باب قوله ﷺ لا تزال طائفة ... إلخ، ح:١٩٢٠ من حديث أيوب عن أبي قلابة به.

11. Jâbir bin 'Abdullâh said: "We were with the Prophet ﷺ, and he drew a line (in the sand), then he drew two lines to its right and two to its left. Then he put his hand on the middle line and said: 'This is the path of Allâh.' Then he recited the Verse: And verily, this (i.e. Allâh's Commandments) is My straight path, so follow it, and follow not (other) paths, for they will separate you away from His path..."[1] (Da'if)

Comments:

a. There is only one straight path leading to Allâh; those leading to error are many.

b. In order to exemplify the nature of error, the Prophet ﷺ drew lines on either side of the straight line. By doing so he seemed to suggest that error sometimes arises through exceeding the limits in religion, and at other times through unlawful remission or default. Exceeding the limits leads to innovations and heresies in belief and action.

Chapter 2. Venerating The Hadith Of The Messenger Of Allâh ﷺ And Dealing Harshly With Those Who Go Against It

Comments:

a. "Reclining on his pillow" indicating the splendor enjoyed by the newly-wedded brides in their decorated beds in the Arabian societies of bygone days. This suggests that the denial of Hadith is the vocation of the over-fed, luxury-loving individuals, given to sitting and leaning against the backs of their sofas.

b. Nowadays we find such people who say that Qur'ân is enough for the rulings of Islam, while Ahâdith have been manipulated by some persons with evil intentions in the early times, so these cannot be trusted to be true. Such rejecters of the Ahâdith are called, by some; Munkir Hadith.

١٣ - حَدَّثَنَا نَصْرُ بْنُ عَلِيٍّ الْجَهْضَمِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا سُفْيَانُ بْنُ عُيَيْنَةَ، فِي بَيْتِهِ، أَنَا سَأَلْتُهُ، عَنْ سَالِمٍ أَبِي النَّضْرِ، ثُمَّ مَرَّ فِي الْحَدِيثِ قَالَ: أَوْ زَيْدِ بْنِ أَسْلَمَ، عَنْ عُبَيْدِ اللهِ بْنِ أَبِي رَافِعٍ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ قَالَ: «لاَ أُلْفِيَنَّ أَحَدَكُمْ مُتَّكِئاً عَلَى أَرِيكَتِهِ، يَأْتِيهِ الأَمْرُ مِمَّا أَمَرْتُ بِهِ أَوْ نَهَيْتُ عَنْهُ، فَيَقُولُ: لاَ أَدْرِي، مَا وَجَدْنَا فِي كِتَابِ اللهِ اتَّبَعْنَاهُ».

13. It was narrated from 'Ubaidullâh bin Abu Râfi' from his father, that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "I do not want to find anyone of you reclining on his pillow, and when news comes to him of something that I have commanded or forbidden, he says, 'I do not know, whatever we find in the Book of Allâh, we will follow.'" (Sahih)

Comments:

a. Just as compliance with the commandments of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ was mandatory on people who took them direct from his mouth, it is equally binding on all those who receive them from others provided the source of transmission is dependable and trustworthy. It is, therefore, the rule that any Hadith that is adjudged as 'authentic or Sahih (Sound) or Hasan (Good) in the light of the criteria set by the scholars of Hadith is binding on the believers.

b. To hear a Prophetic Hadith and then respond to it by saying, "I do not know," is indicative of one's false pride, willful denial and disrespect to the words of the Prophet ﷺ, which is a grave sin, for Allâh says: "... So, let those who go against his (Messenger's) command beware, lest a trial befall them or a painful torment overtake them." (24:63)

c. Denial of Hadith means the denial of the Qur'ân. The reason being that the Qur'ân has again and again commanded the believers to obey and follow the precepts of the Prophet ﷺ, and declared it as the very purpose of the Prophet's duty to explain and exemplify the teachings of the Noble Qur'ân through his word and action. The first people in the Islamic history to deny the Hadith of the Prophet ﷺ were the Khârijites (the Seceders).

14. It was narrated from 'Âishah that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "Whoever innovates something in this matter of ours (i.e., Islâm) that is not part of it, will have it rejected." (Sahih)

١٤ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو مَرْوَانَ مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عُثْمَانَ الْعُثْمَانِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا إِبْرَاهِيمُ بْنُ سَعْدِ بْنِ إِبْرَاهِيمَ ابْنِ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمٰنِ بْنِ عَوْفٍ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنِ الْقَاسِمِ بْنِ مُحَمَّدٍ، عَنْ عَائِشَةَ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ قَالَ: «مَنْ أَحْدَثَ فِي أَمْرِنَا هٰذَا مَا لَيْسَ مِنْهُ، فَهُوَ رَدٌّ».

Comments:

a. "In this matter of ours" may either mean matters pertaining to religion or to the sacred law of Islam. It may also mean the commandments of Allâh and His Messenger ﷺ. Every new thing added to or deleted from the acts of devotion through one's own whim or desire is Bid'ah (innovation). The Prophet ﷺ has also said: "Each innovation is an error." (Muslim, Book of Friday — Shortness of Prayer & Sermon.) Worldly affairs, such as clothes of various types, local methods of cooking, or the use of modern appliances in cultivation — these things are outside the purview of innovation. Nevertheless, matters violating the general rules of Shari'ah, such as dresses that do not fulfill the basic purpose of covering the concealable parts of the body, or those particular to non-Muslims shall be prohibited.

b. Any action that the Prophet of Allâh ﷺ has abstained from doing due to some consideration or expedient reason, although he wished to do it is, in principle, permissible. Therefore, the doing of it after the consideration no longer exists is perfectly in order without the fear of its being branded as innovation. Cases in point are (i) the Prophet's abstaining from leading the Tarâwih prayer (Ramadân optional night prayer) through the entire month of Ramadân, lest it should assume the status of an obligatory duty, and (ii) the Companion's decision not to compile the whole of the Qur'ân as a codex during the lifetime of the Prophet ﷺ, since the revelation had not stopped, and there was always the possibility of a Verse being revealed or another being abrogated by Allâh. There remaining no such possibility after the death of the Prophet ﷺ, when the Companions lost no time in compiling an authentic copy of the Noble Book, and 'Umar ﷺ reintroduced the congregational form of the Tarâwih prayer.

15. It was narrated from 'Urwah bin Zubair that 'Abdullâh bin Zubair told him that a man from the Ansâr had a dispute with Zubair in the presence of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ concerning a stream in the Harrah[1] which they used to irrigate the date-palm trees. The Ansâri said: "Let the water flow," but (Zubair) refused. So they referred the dispute to the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ, who said: "Irrigate (your land), O Zubair, then let the water flow to your neighbor." The Ansâri became angry and said: "O Messenger of Allâh, is it because he is your cousin?" The face of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ changed color (because of anger) and he said: "O Zubair, irrigate (your land) then block the water until it flows back to the walls around the date-palm trees." Zubair said: "By Allâh, I think that this Verse was revealed concerning this matter: 'But no, by your Lord, they can have no Faith, until they make you (O Muhammad) judge in all disputes

Comments:

a. People with their farms nearest to a river or a rivulet and the first recipients of its water for their farms, have more right over the water. Only after they have done with it, comes the right of others in line.

b. It is the moral duty of a believer to be mindful of the needs of his neighbors.

c. While dispensing justice, the judge must see to it that the judgment takes care of the interest of both the parties. The Qur'ân says: "...And reconciliation is better...." (4:128)

d. To deliver full rights to the deserving party, and no benefits to the opposing party, is perfectly in order. The Prophet ﷺ, in his first ruling, had kept the interest of both the parties in mind. Later on he ruled for full right in favor of Zubair ؓ.

e. The Arabic word Jadr refers to a low, wall-like boundary used to retain water inside the cultivation area. Scholars have defined the encircling wall to be as high as the ankles of men working in the field.

f. Feeling pain in the heart or the appearance of the signs of displeasure on the face is a part of human nature. Our decisions, however, should not be colored by our anger. The Prophet ﷺ has expressly instructed as follows:

"The judge must not give his verdict between two parties in a state of anger." (Bukhâri: 7158 & Muslim: 1717).

The Prophet ﷺ enjoyed a special gift of infallibility from Allâh, and as such he spoke nothing but truth even when angry. No one after him is immune from error.

g. Mistrust of others is a bad human trait born of satanic whispering. It was this trait that led the person mentioned in the Hadith to impute kinship bias against the Prophet ﷺ.

16. It was narrated from Ibn 'Umar that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "Do not prevent the female slaves of Allâh from praying in the mosque." A son of his[2] said: "We will indeed

Comments:

a. The women are allowed to go and join the congregational prayer in the mosque. Nevertheless it is preferable for them that they pray at home.

b. The Companions' displeasure with each other was not prompted by personal reasons. They did not, however, keep quiet when things improper were said or done before their eyes. We would, however, be well-advised to choose the right moment, and proper method, to admonish people against doing things wrong or unfair.

c. If a show of sternness is likely to be more effective, it is all right to adopt this course of action.

d. It was not the intention of Bilâl, the son of 'Abdullâh bin 'Umar ؓ to oppose the commandment of the Prophet ﷺ. He only meant to say that ladies of his time no longer took full care of the code of decency required of them outside their homes; hence they should not be permitted to go out to the mosques for prayers. But since the words used by Bilâl were apparently improper, Ibn 'Umar ؓ showed great anger. Musnad Ahmad (2/36) reports that ever since that day until his last breath Ibn 'Umar ؓ never spoke to that son.

17. It was narrated from Sa'eed bin Jubair that 'Abdullâh bin Mughaffal was sitting beside a nephew of his; the nephew hurled a pebble and he told him not to do that, and he said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ had forbidden that. He (the Prophet) said: 'It cannot be used for hunting and it cannot harm an enemy, but it may break a tooth or put an eye out.'" Comments:

a. The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ has prohibited every unseemly or harmful act even though it would seem petty to the naked eye. The reason being that oftentimes a thing may appear petty at the moment, but may have extraordinary consequences in the end.

b. If an evil act, which is a major sin before Allâh, becomes rampant in the society, people begin to take it lightly. We must be on our guard and avoid even those seemingly minor sins.

c. All matters having no spiritual merit or worldly benefit, but fraught with harmful possibilities, must be avoided.

d. It is perfectly in order to severe relations with persons given to committing acts of sin, as part of admonition to them, or an expression of our disgust at their conduct. Such an attitude from us might prompt them to repent and reform their conduct.

e. All acts likely to harm the interests of Muslims must be avoided.

18. It was narrated from Ishâq bin Qabisah from his father that 'Ubâdah bin Sâmit Al-Ansâri, head of the army unit, the Companion of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ, went on a military campaign with Mu'âwiyah in the land of the Byzantines. He saw people trading pieces of gold for Dinâr and pieces of silver for Dirham. He said: "O people, you are consuming Ribâ (usury)! For I heard the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ say: 'Do not sell gold for gold unless it is like for like; there should be no increase and no delay (between the two transactions).'" Mu'âwiyah said to him: "O Abu Walid, I do not think there is any Ribâ involved in this, except in cases where there is a delay." 'Ubâdah said to him: "I tell you a Hadith from the

So he told him the story, and what he had said about not living in the same land as Mu'âwiyah. 'Umar said: "Go back to your land, O Abu Walid, for what a bad land is the land from where you and people like you are absent." Comments:

a. Selling gold for gold or silver for silver is only allowed if it is like for like, and the parties to the deal hand over their commodities on the spot. If the deal is silver for gold, they do not have to be equal in quantity. The deal must, however, be finalized in the same sitting. By the same analogy, exchange of old currency notes with new ones shall also be governed by the same rule. Thus, exchanging new 100 denomination currency notes for the old 110 denomination notes is not permissible in Islam.

b. No one's word, even that of a Companion, carries any weight if it is in conflict with the words of the Prophet ﷺ. It may, however, be the case that one Companion interpreted the Hadith in a certain way while the other Companion thought that the Hadith did not support the first Companion's deduction, or else he gave more weight to another Hadith related to the subject. In a situation like this, the right course for us is to analyse the Hadith to see which interpretation has more weight. Any well-meaning error in making the right choice through Ijtihâd (independent reasoning or excercise of judgment) is condonable.

c. The Companions attached so much importance and value to the Hadith that, when an opinion sounding different from the meaning of the Hadith was presented, the Companion was so enraged that he decided to leave the land he was staying in. 'Umar ﷺ appreciated the position taken by him so much that he declared to Mu'âwiyah ﷺ that 'Ubâdah ﷺ would not be under his authority.

d. If two Companions have divergent views on a matter, the view more in line with teachings of the Qur'ân and Sunnah should be adopted. 'Umar ﷺ did just that. He ascertained the views of the two, and preferred the one that was in line with the teachings of the Prophet ﷺ and enforced it.

19. 'Abdullâh bin Mas'ud said: "When I tell you of a Hadith from the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ, then think of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ as being the best, the utmost rightly guided and the one with the utmost Taqwa (piety, righteousness)." (Da'if)

a. The Hadith means that if we come across an authentic Hadith that seems to contain an impropriety, we should interpret it in such a way that the impropriety is removed. It is because a Hadith can sometimes admit of more than one interpretation. In that situation we must adopt the interpretation that is supported by the Qur'ân and other traditions of the Prophet ﷺ.

b. Just as some of the Verses of the Qur'ân contain concepts that are beyond the realm of human intellect (not against it), a Hadith may also contain such concepts. The right course to adopt, in such a case, is that we keep faith in the text of the Hadith, and leave the ultimate meaning to Allâh. Traditions referring to the attributes of Allâh and details about life in Barzakh

c. The suggested course is the best course, it being nearest to true guidance and piety.

21. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Prophet ﷺ said: "I do not want to hear of anyone of you who, upon hearing a Hadith narrated from me, says while reclining on his pillow: 'Recite Qur'ân (to verify this Hadith).' (Here the Prophet ﷺ said:) Any excellent word that is said, it is I who have said it." [How then can you reject what I have said?] (Da'if)

Comments :

a. It is an extremely Weak Hadith. The last sentence of the "Hadith" is in obvious conflict with the more dependable Mutawâtir (Continuous) Ahâdith narrated by the 'Ten Companions' (who were given in advance the glad tiding of admittance to Paradise in the life after death.) The Hadith referred to above quotes the Prophet ﷺ as saying: "Whoever intentionally forges a lie against me, let him take his place in Hell-fire." (Bukhâri H.110)

b. A Da'if (Weak) "Hadith" is one that does not fulfill the conditions of a Sahih (Sound) or Hasan (Good) Hadith. Scholars have three different opinions about acting on weak Hadith as follows: (i) A vast majority of traditionists, researchers and scrupulous scholars do not regard the contents of a Weak Hadith as conclusive proof or binding, regardless whether it relates to the rules (of permission and prohibition) in Islam, or to the merits of performing certain acts of virtue or devotion, (ii) Some Traditionists and scholars accept them in matters related to acts of devotion or virtue, as well as for awakening the desire for Divine reward, or creating a fright from the impending doom in the Hereafter, (iii) There is also a third group of scholars that accepts a weak Hadith if (a) it is not extremely weak, (b) the Hadith belongs to some everyday matter and (c) while acting on it, one should not assume that he is doing a bidding of the Prophet ﷺ and it is none of his commands. Observing all these conditions is, however, a difficult proposition. As such one would be well-advised not to accept a Weak Hadith at all. And Allâh knows best of all.

22. It was narrated from Abu Salamah that Abu Hurairah said

٢٢ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عَبَّادِ بْنِ آدَمَ: حَدَّثَنَا

Chapter 3. Caution In Narrating Ahâdith From The Messenger Of Allâh ﷺ

Then one evening, he said: 'The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said,' then he let his head hang down." Comments:

a. 'Amr bin Maimun used to visit 'Abdullâh bin Mas'ud ﷺ every Thursday since he ('Abdullâh bin Mas'ud ﷺ) used to hold a weekly session of his scholarly discourse in his house on that day. It is narrated (in Bukhâri, 70) that he was requested to hold those sessions of admonition and knowledge often times once a week, but he said in reply: "The Prophet ﷺ also used to preach only on appropriate times and occasions, lest the audiences should start feeling bored. It follows from this that it is most advisable that we fix a particular time for purposes of preaching or imparting knowledge, so that the people can really benefit by the discourses.

b. The Arabic word 'Ashiyyah used in the Hadith may mean any time from the decline of the sun until sunset. So, the time of the discourse may have been either after Zuhr or 'Asr prayer. And Allâh knows best.

c. 'Abdullâh bin Mas'ud ﷺ avoided giving a verbatim narration of the Hadith, lest a word that the Prophet ﷺ had not spoken should be attributed to him. There were many other Companions who made a verbatim narration of the traditions. Both methods of narration are correct. Direct narration is considered better although the indirect narration is a safer option.

d. It is also a part of the etiquette of Hadith narration that if the narrator does not remember the exact words of the Hadith, he should finish his narration by saying: "Or as the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said." We shall read about it in the next Hadith that narrates the practice of Anas bin Mâlik ﷺ in this regard.

24. Muhammad bin Sirin said: "Whenever Anas bin Mâlik finished narrating a Hadith from the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ, he would say, 'Or as the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said.'" (Sahih)

a. It clearly shows that the Companions considered a Hadith something quite great and momentous. They, therefore, only narrated what they remembered well.

b. From this, some Hadith scholars have deduced the rule, that from the moment a scholar begins to make mistakes in narrating the Ahâdith, he should stop narrating them.

c. Our scholars must, therefore, make it a rule to quote only those Ahâdith in their writings and speeches that they know for sure belong to the category of Sahih or Hasan Ahâdith, and avoid narrating weak Ahâdith.

26. It was narrated that 'Abdullâh bin Abu Safar said: "I heard Ash-Sha'bi saying: 'I sat with Ibn 'Umar for a year and I did not hear him narrate anything from the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ.'" (Sahih)

Comments:

a. 'Abdullâh bin 'Umar also avoided narrating Ahâdith in the name of the Prophet ﷺ, for reasons that made other Companions cautious, namely that they were afraid of attributing to the Prophet ﷺ words that he had not spoken.

b. Not that the Companions did not engage in the teachings of Islam but their method was different. They clearly told the people the things that were obligatory, or permissible, or unlawful, as well as the things they would do well to avoid. All these things they told them in the light of the Ahâdith they had heard from the Prophet ﷺ, but they did not narrate those traditions in his name.

27. It was narrated from Ibn Tâwus that his father said: "I heard Ibn 'Abbâs saying: 'We used to memorize Ahâdith, and Ahâdith were memorized from the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ. But if you go to the extremes of either exaggeration or negligence (in narrating Ahâdith), there is no way we can trust your Ahâdith.'" (Sahih)

Comments:

a. Prophetic Ahâdith are conclusive proofs in the Islamic law. That is why the Companions listened to them attentively and memorized them studiously. Ibn 'Abbâs ؓ, as we know, was passing through the childhood phase during the lifetime of the Prophet ﷺ. As such he could hear only a limited number of Ahâdith from him. He nevertheless memorized a large number of Ahâdith from the senior Companions, so much so, that he came to be regarded as one of the major narrators among the Prophet's Companions.

b. Real Islam is the word of the Prophet ﷺ. Rulings given by others cannot take the place of Prophetic traditions. It is therefore, imperative that we seek the proof straightaway from the Qur'ân and Sunnah in all matters.

c. Recourse to the words of Companions and the Followers can only be taken where we have no word of the Prophet ﷺ. The Followers sometimes even used to write the words of the Companions. Ibn 'Abbâs ؓ did not like the idea of writing the words of others beside those of the Prophet ﷺ. That is why he counseled the people to memorize the Ahâdith, not the sayings and rulings of others.

d. The Arabic expression (As-sa'ba wadh-dhalul) literally means 'to tread the hard and soft ground'. In this Hadith it figuratively means: "You cannot distinguish between an acceptable and unacceptable tradition." It could also be understood as in; 'riding both the arrogant and the docile animal but one would be well-advised to avoid the arrogant animal.' The total meaning of the phrase is thus the same, namely: "You must not accept the word of each and every narrator, but only of those narrators that are dependable and trustworthy, lest anything that the Prophet ﷺ has not said be unknowingly attributed to him."

28. It was narrated that Qarazah bin Ka'b said: "Umar bin Al-Khattâb sent us to Kufah, and he accompanied us as far as a place called Sirâr. He said: 'Do you know why I walked with you?' We said: 'Because of the rights of the Companions of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ and because of the rights of the Ansâr.' He said: 'No, rather it is because of words that I wanted to say to you. I wanted you to memorize it due to my walking with you. You are going to people in whose hearts the Qur'ân bubbles like water in a copper cauldron. When they see you, they will look up at you, saying: "The Companions of Muhammad!" But do not recite many reports from the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ, then I will be your partner." (Da'if)

a. To be moved by the reading of the Qur'ân and the melting of the heart by it, is the characteristic of a true believer, and the sign of the tenderness of the heart.

b. Along with the Qur'ân, it is also essential that we acquire the knowledge of the Hadith since 'Umar ؓ did not forbid to narrate the Hadith. He only forbade overdoing it.

c. While teaching, consideration should be given to the level of the students, and they should only be given at a time as much as they can easily take and digest.

Comments :

a. 'Deliberately telling lies' means fabricating something, then attributing it to the Prophet ﷺ and presenting it as a Prophetic Hadith. It is an act of great sin.

b. It is on the basis of this that the Hadith scholars have drawn the maxim that if, on a certain occasion, one feels the need to narrate a Weak Hadith of the Prophet ﷺ, it must be clarified to the listeners that it is a Weak Hadith. The reason being that a Weak Hadith does not create the conviction as to whether the Prophet ﷺ did really speak those words, or the narrator has mistakenly narrated it as such.

c. 'Taking one's place in Hell' means the person is doomed to be consigned to Hell, and he must be sure that, due to his act of sin, his seat has been booked in Hell. However, it is hoped that, if the person repents and admits before the people that such and such traditions narrated by him in the name of the Prophet ﷺ were coined by him, his sin may be forgiven by Allâh, although the Hadith scholars would not even then accept his narrations.

31. It was narrated that 'Ali said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Do not tell lies about me, for telling lies about me leads to Hell (Fire).'" (Sahih)

Comments: 31 & 32

a. The narrator (probably Anas bin Mâlik رضي الله عنه) doubts whether or not the Prophet ﷺ also spoke the word 'Muhammad'. There is no such doubt about the rest of the words of Hadith.

b. It is the proof of the narrator's integrity that he clearly pointed out his doubt about the authenticity of a word in the Hadith.

c. Other narrations of the Hadith confirm that the word 'Muhammad' was part of the Hadith. It is, therefore, not right to doubt its authenticity by the transmitter of the report.

a Scholars have enumerated several reasons for the evil practice of fabricating the Ahâdith. A look at the reasons for fabrication would by itself indicate why the narrating of such Ahâdith, or considering them worth following in matters relating to the supposed merit of doing certain acts or circulating them among the people, is an abominable practice. Some of the reasons are: a desire to buttress the position of one's school of thought and disparage the opposing school, seeking proximity to the rulers, wanting to revile the faith of Islam or using them as a ploy to earn sustenance or gain fame, and so on.

b. Fabricated Ahâdith create doubts about the infallibility of the Prophets, degrade the position of the scholars, and defile the fair face of Islam. Circulation of such Ahâdith is, moreover, a major factor in the prevalence of innovations in the community. Therefore, the danger of citing fabricated Ahâdith is clear.

Chapter 5. He Who Narrated (A Hadith) From The Messenger Of Allâh ﷺ Thinking It To Be False

(المعجم ٥) - بَابُ مَنْ حَدَّثَ عَنْ رَسُولِ اللهِ ﷺ [حَدِيثًا] وَهُوَ يَرَى أَنَّهُ كَذِبٌ (التحفة ٥)

38. It was narrated from 'Ali that the Prophet ﷺ said: "Whoever narrates a Hadith from me thinking it to be false, then he is one of the two liars." (Either the one who invents the lie or the one who repeats it; both are liars). (Sahih)

Comments:

a. Just as the fabrication of Ahâdith is unlawful, it is also a grave crime and sin to circulate them in the name of the Prophet ﷺ. And since the carrier of such a Hadith is an equal partner in crime with the one who minted it, he must also share the same punishment of burning in Hell-fire, as was forewarned for the fabricator of the Hadith.

b. Quoting such a Hadith in front of the people with the purpose of dissuading them from being duped is permissible, since the purpose is not to deceive the audiences but to undeceive them.

The Ahâdith tell us about the punishment awaiting those who tell lies about the Prophet ﷺ. There is no doubt in the fact that a lie against the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ is among the worst of all lies in the world.

Comments:

a. It is the Sunnah of the Prophet ﷺ for a departing man to give good advice to those he is leaving behind.

b. Importance of Taqwa (piety; righteousness): Taqwa as a special term means obeying the commands of Allâh, and avoiding evil acts that would displease Him, so as to escape the punishment of Hell-fire.

c. Obedience to a legally recognized ruler is mandatory as long as he does not give an order that openly conflicts with the dictates of Shari'ah.

d. The Prophet ﷺ had already forewarned the people of impending conflicts in the community after him. The prediction came literally true. There cropped up many conflicts on religious and political grounds among the community. The Prophet's giving advance information about them is proof of the veracity of his prophethood.

e. The best adjudicators in the event of conflicts are the Qur'ân and Hadith.

f. Life stories of the Rightly-Guided Caliphs are the shining examples of adherence to the dictates of the Qur'ân and Sunnah. They had taken them direct from the Prophet ﷺ. We can, therefore, rightly depend on their understanding of Islam, especially because the Prophet ﷺ himself had declared them as the rightly-guided ones.

43. It was narrated from 'Abdur-Rahmân bin 'Amr As-Sulami that he heard Al-'Irbâd bin Sâriyah say: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ delivered a moving speech to us which made our eyes flow with tears and made our hearts melt. We said: 'O Messenger of Allâh, this is a speech of farewell. What do you enjoin upon us?' He said: 'I am leaving you upon a (path of) brightness whose night is like its day. No one will deviate from it after I am gone but one who is doomed. Whoever among you lives will see great conflict. I urge you to adhere to what you know of my Sunnah and the path of the Rightly-Guided Caliphs, and cling

Comments:

a. Deviating from the teachings of the Shari'ah is tantamount to inviting one's own destruction and doom.

b. A true believer faithfully submits to the rules of Shari'ah even though it might seem difficult to do so. The reason why a believer is compared to a camel is because it (the camel) obeys the command of the master, even though the going might be tough for it.

c. History is witness that, even as the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ had foretold, wide-ranging conflicts raised their head in the community after the expiry of the first three centuries. New sects and deviant groups took their birth. Each one adopted its own leader or locus of following, although the Prophet ﷺ had instructed that should there arise any conflict, the community was to adhere to his Sunnah and the Sunnah of the Rightly-Guided Caliphs.

44. It was narrated that 'Irbâd bin Sâriyah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ led us in Fajr (morning) prayer, then he turned to us and delivered an eloquent speech." And he mentioned something similar (as no. 43). (Sahih) ٤٤ - حَدَّثَنَا يَحْيَى بْنُ حَكِيمٍ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الْمَلِكِ بْنُ الصَّبَّاحِ الْمِسْمَعِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا ثَوْرُ بْنُ يَزِيدَ، عَنْ خَالِدِ بْنِ مَعْدَانَ، عَنْ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمٰنِ ابْنِ عَمْرٍو، عَنِ الْعِرْبَاضِ بْنِ سَارِيَةَ، قَالَ: صَلَّى بِنَا رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ صَلاَةَ الصُّبْحِ ثُمَّ أَقْبَلَ عَلَيْنَا بِوَجْهِهِ فَوَعَظَنَا مَوْعِظَةً بَلِيغَةً. فَذَكَرَ نَحْوَهُ.

Comments:

a. It is a part of the Sunnah of the Prophet ﷺ that the Imâm, having finished the prayer, should turn his face towards the worshippers.

b. The best time to give religious instruction to the people is immediately after the conclusion of the obligatory prayer, since the worshippers are all collected in the mosque and are attentive to the Imâm. The speech should not, however, be so long as to create boredom among the listeners.

Chapter 7. Avoiding Bid'ah (Innovation) And Dispute

(المعجم ٧) - بَابُ اجْتِنَابِ الْبِدَعِ وَالْجَدَلِ (التحفة ٧)

45. It was narrated that Jâbir bin 'Abdullâh said: "When the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ delivered a sermon, his eyes would turn red, he would raise his voice and he would speak with intensity, as if he were warning of an (enemy) army, saying, 'They will surely attack you in the morning, or they will surely attack you in the evening!' He would say: 'I and the Hour have been sent like these two,' and he would hold up his index and middle finger. Then he would say: 'The best of matters is the Book of Allâh and the best of guidance is the guidance of Muhammad. The most evil matters are those that are newly-invented, and every innovation (Bid'ah) is a going astray.' And he used to say: 'Whoever dies and leaves behind some wealth, it is for his family, and whoever leaves behind a debt or dependent children, then they are both my responsibility.'" (Sahih)

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، الجمعة، باب تخفيف الصلاة والخطبة، ح:٨٦٧ من حديث عبدالوهاب به.

Comments:

a. The main purpose of the sermon is to caution people against falling into error and the consequences of falling into error. It is therefore imperative that the sermon be used to pinpoint to the people the mistakes prevalent in the present times, and guide them to the right path.

b. It is also perfectly all right to give the sermon an emotional touch in accord with the nature of the subject.

c. The sum total of the true path is in following the Book of Allâh and the Sunnah of His Prophet ﷺ.
d. Pointing with the finger of the hand during the sermon is the Sunnah of the Prophet ﷺ and the use of appropriate gestures to drive home a point is an acceptable practice.
e. Reference to proximity of the Hour represents the clear indication that Muhammad ﷺ is the last of the Prophets. And just as no finger is there to intervene between the index and middle fingers, there is also no Prophet to come after the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ until the Last Hour. The descent from heaven of Prophet 'Eisa ﷺ does not negate the finality of the prophethood of Muhammad ﷺ for the simple reason that he had already been invested with prophethood, and in his second coming he will follow the Shari'ah of Muhammad ﷺ.
f. Reference to proximity of the Hour contains the message for the community that they must not be so engrossed in the affairs of the world as to lose sight of the approach of the Hour. They should instead prepare themselves more intently for the Hour.
g. It is not proper to classify the Bid'ah into 'good' and 'bad'. In fact Bid'ah in all its forms and manifestations must be avoided.
h. Inheritance of the deceased person must be distributed among the rightful heirs as per the rules given in the Qur'ân and Hadith. Rulers have no right to interfere in them. It is rather their duty to ensure that each inheritor gets his rightful share.
i. Taking care of the needs of the survivors and other persons in distress is the responsibility of the state. Similarly, if the deceased person has left some unpaid debts, and the property left by him is insufficient to pay off those debts, it is the responsibility of the Islamic state to pay off the debts from the state treasury and look after other genuine financial needs of the surviving members of the family.

46. It was narrated from 'Abdullâh bin Mas'ud that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "Verily, there are two things – words and guidance. The best words are the Words of Allâh, and the best guidance is the guidance of Muhammad. Beware of newly-invented matters, for every newly-invented matter is an innovation (Bid'ah) and every innovation is a going-astray. Do not let the desire for a long life cause your hearts to grow hard. That which is bound to happen is close to you, and the only thing that is far away is that which is not going to happen. The one who is doomed to Hell is doomed from his mother's womb, and the one who is destined for Paradise is the one who learns from the lessons of others. Killing a believer constitutes disbelief (Kufr) and verbally abusing him is immorality (Fusuq). It is not permissible for a Muslim to forsake his brother for more than three days. Beware of lying, for lying is never good, whether it is done seriously or in jest. A man should not make a promise to a child that he will not keep. Lying leads to immorality and immorality leads to Hell. Truthfulness leads to righteousness and righteousness leads to Paradise. It will be said of the truthful person: 'He spoke the truth and was righteous,' and it will be said of the liar, 'He told lies and was immoral.' For a person continues to tell lies until he is recorded with Allâh as a liar." (Da'if)

As regards the chain of narrators the Hadith is Weak. However, most of the sentences contained in it also appear in the authentic Ahâdith. They are, therefore, correct. We will offer our comments on them as and when they occur.

Comments:

Some Verses of the Qur'ân deal with ordainments that are either 'clear' in themselves or the Ahâdith provide their clarification. As such they can be implemented without any difficulty. All such Verses belong to the category of 'clear' Verses. Some other verses deal with the articles of faith, such as the Oneness of Allâh, the prophethood, the resurrection, and so on. All the details and the proofs concerning them have been mentioned in the Qur'ân and Ahâdith. These are also 'clear'. On the contrary there are Verses whose exact meaning cannot be determined such as Muqatta'ât, the initial 'abbreviated letters' prefixed to certain Surah of the Qur'ân. The right course regarding them is to have the belief that they are also part of the Noble Qur'ân, and he who recites them gets the same reward as he gets for reciting other Verses of the Qur'ân. There is no need to involve oneself in further investigation. Similarly, there are matters belonging to the domain of the unseen. Regarding them as well, we just need to believe that they do exist, and the events that have been foretold are certain to pass, and whatever details the Qur'ân and Ahâdith provide regarding them are sufficient for us, and there is no need to further investigate them. For example, it is enough to know that angels are the obedient creatures of Allâh operating in areas and engaged in tasks assigned to them. Moreover, we just have to believe that our actions shall be weighed on the Day of Judgment, and so on. Avoiding unnecessary debate on Mutashâbihât (matters not entirely clear) is the method of the true scholars.

Comments:

a. The Arabic word Jadal (translated as dispute), in this context, means arguing with falsehood and lies against the truth.

Allâh has sent down the Prophets to separate the truth from falsehood. As a result of their preaching, some people have believed in them while others have stuck to falsehood, even though the truth had been made manifest to them. Even among the believers there are some who are of firm faith while others are weak in their faith, thus creating the apprehension that they might go off the track once again. That is why it behooves all of us to continue to pray to Allâh for fortitude, so that we remain steadfast in our faith until the last breath.

b. The natural course, which is the only right course to adopt for putting an end to the disputes, is to sincerely discuss them with the intention to arrive at the truth. Once the truth of the matter is proved, it must be accepted at all costs.

Comments: 50 & 51

a. Effort must be made to end all disputes, be they of mundane nature or of religious type. Allâh says in the Qur'ân: "And reconciliation is better." (4:128)

b. As soon as a person realizes his mistake, he should recite this Verse so that the dispute is put to an end. The doing of it is of so much greatness, that the person doing it is promised a palace in Paradise as reward.

c. In worldly affairs, it is always possible that a person forgoes his due right and ends the dispute. This kind of sacrifice made for the sake of togetherness and unity is rated very highly by Allâh. As a reward for this, the person shall get a palatial abode in the middle of Paradise.

d. Muslims must excel in morals so that the daily affairs of life continue to run smoothly. They must cultivate the virtues of good demeanor, friendly disposition and tolerance, and thus avert all chances of dispute. The greater the number of such people in a society, the better will be the chances of peace and amity in it. Hence it is that the person doing it shall be ranked higher than the other two mentioned in the Hadith and shall, therefore, be awarded a higher place in Paradise.

52. It was narrated from 'Abdullâh bin 'Amr bin 'Âs that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Allâh will not take away knowledge by removing it from people (from their hearts). Rather He will take away knowledge by taking away the scholars, then when there are no scholars left, the people will take the ignorant as their leaders. They will be asked questions and they will issue verdicts without knowledge, thus they will go astray and lead others astray.'" (Sahih)

a. Muslims will not lose knowledge of religion in one go. What in fact will happen is that the true scholars will gradually be taken away from the community. That will herald the end of the religious sciences as well. In order to forestall such a dangerous situation, the Muslim community must exert its utmost effort to produce scholars specializing in the Islamic sciences and law.

b. It is the duty of a religious scholar to give his verdict in the light of the Qur'ân and Ahâdith, instead of giving it on the basis of his own personal opinion or analogy.

53. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Whoever is given a Fatwa (verdict) that has no basis, then his sin will be upon the one who issued that Fatwa.'" (Hasan)

تخريج: [إسناده حسن] أخرجه أبو داود، العلم، باب التوقي في الفتيا، ح: ٣٦٥٧ من حديث عبدالله بن يزيد به، وصححه الحاكم، والذهبي.

Comments:

a. It is the duty of a common man to seek religious opinions from scholars who, in turn, must answer them with proofs from the Qur'ân and Ahâdith.

b. Issuing religious edicts and opinions simply on the basis of subjective opinions is an act of sin. The reason being that the questioner puts his faith in the scholar and, if the scholar gives a wrong opinion, the entire responsibility of the action of the questioner will be on the scholar.

54. It was narrated that 'Abdullâh bin 'Amr said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Knowledge is based on three things, and anything beyond that is superfluous: a clear Verse, an established Sunnah, or the rulings by which the inheritance is divided fairly.'" (Da'if)

Comments:

a. As to the chain of transmitters, the tradition is Weak. Nevertheless, the importance of the knowledge of Qur'ân and Sunnah is established from many other proofs. Similarly, the importance of the law of inheritance can also hardly be overemphasized.

b. The expression 'Muhkam' (translated as clear) means a Verse that has not been abrogated, nor is it allegorical or ambiguous. The Qur'ânic Science of Abrogation is an equally important branch of knowledge. To give a ruling in any matter in ignorance of this science can lead one into error. 'Established Sunnah' also means the prophetic tradition that has not been abrogated.

55. Mu'âdh bin Jabal said: "When the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ sent me to Yemen, he said: 'Do not pass any judgement or make any decision except on the basis of what you know. If you are uncertain about a matter, wait until you understand it fully, or write to me concerning it.'" (Maudu')

Chapter 9. Regarding Faith

(المعجم ٩) - بَابٌ: فِي الإِيمَانِ
(التحفة ٩)

57. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Faith has sixty-some or seventy parts, the least of which is to remove a harmful thing from the road and the greatest of which is to say Lâ ilâha illallâh (none has the right to be worshipped but Allâh). And modesty is a branch of faith.'" (Sahih)

a. The likeness of Imân (faith) is as the likeness of a tree. Faith in Oneness of Allâh and the institution of prophethood is the root, virtuous deeds the branches, and the benefits of this world and of the Hereafter are its fruits. So, if you pull out the root, the tree is gone. As regards the branches, even if you cut them, the tree still remains although in a depleted form. Similarly, sins do harm our faith while good deeds lead to its perfection and growth.

b. All good deeds are but the branches of faith, but the most important of them all is the affirmation by word of mouth of the Oneness of Allâh, namely Lâ ilâha illallâh (none has the right to be worshipped but Allâh) since it is this by which accrue other benefits of faith.

c. Modesty is an important branch of faith, since it protects man from numerous acts of sin. It does not, however, imply that misplaced sense of shame, which prevents man from asking about religious matters, or forbids him from the acquisition of knowledge, or doing a good deed.

d. Faith includes deeds of the tongue, of the heart and of other parts of the body. Affirmation of the formula "Lâ ilâha illallâh" is thus the deed of the tongue. To believe in it is the deed of the heart, and removing a harmful thing from the road is the deed of other parts of the body. All these deeds are thus the parts and branches of faith.

٥٨ - حَدَّثَنَا سَهْلُ بْنُ أَبِي سَهْلٍ، وَمُحَمَّدُ ابْنُ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ يَزِيدَ قَالاَ: حَدَّثَنَا سُفْيَانُ، عَنِ الزُّهْرِيِّ، عَنْ سَالِمٍ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، قَالَ: سَمِعَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ رَجُلاً يَعِظُ أَخَاهُ فِي الْحَيَاءِ فَقَالَ: «إِنَّ الْحَيَاءَ شُعْبَةٌ مِنَ الإِيمَانِ».

58. It was narrated from Sâlim that his father said: "The Prophet ﷺ heard a man urging his brother to be modest. He said: 'Indeed, modesty is a branch of faith.'" (Sahih)

a. Modesty (Haya) means that state of morality in man which makes him avoid things improper and unseemly, but does not fall short in giving the rightful person his due.

b. Modesty is a special characteristic of a man. It is, therefore, necessary for man to avoid all actions and things that propel him to acts of immodesty.

c. The Hadith affirms once again that faith has many branches which may increase or decrease. So does Imân, i.e., it also increases and decreases.

d. While speaking on the subject of modesty, the man referred to in the Hadith was trying to suggest to his brother that excessive use of modesty was not good, but the Prophet ﷺ corrected him.

٥٩ - حَدَّثَنَا سُوَيْدُ بْنُ سَعِيدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا عَلِيُّ ابْنُ مُسْهِرٍ، عَنِ الأَعْمَشِ؛ ح: وَحَدَّثَنَا عَلِيُّ ابْنُ مَيْمُونٍ الرَّقِّيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا سَعِيدُ بْنُ مَسْلَمَةَ، عَنِ الأَعْمَشِ، عَنْ إِبْرَاهِيمَ، عَنْ عَلْقَمَةَ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «لاَ يَدْخُلُ الْجَنَّةَ مَنْ كَانَ فِي قَلْبِهِ مِثْقَالُ ذَرَّةٍ مِنْ خَرْدَلٍ مِنْ كِبْرٍ، وَلاَ يَدْخُلُ النَّارَ مَنْ كَانَ فِي قَلْبِهِ مِثْقَالُ حَبَّةٍ مِنْ خَرْدَلٍ مِنْ إِيمَانٍ».

59. It was narrated that 'Abdullâh said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'No one will enter Paradise who has even a mustard-seed's weight of arrogance in his heart, and no one will enter Hell who has even a mustard-seed's weight of faith in his heart.'"

Comments:

a. Arrogance is an extremely detestable trait. The saying of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ that "arrogance means rejecting the truth and looking down upon the people" reflects the true meaning of the word.

b. If belief in the commands of Allâh and His Messenger is rejected out of arrogance, abiding permanently in Hell is the punishment because arrogance is totally antithetical to faith. Even if arrogance is of another type, and the man belittles others on account of his supposed superiority in wealth, or his presumed good looks and social status, or refuses to accept the truth out of obstinacy, even this is extremely detestable to Allâh.

60. It was narrated that Abu Sa'eed Khudri said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'When Allâh has saved the believers from Hell and they are safe, none of you will dispute with his companion more vehemently for some right of his in this world than the believers will dispute with their Lord on behalf of their brothers in faith who will have entered Hell. They will say: "Our Lord! They are our brothers, they used to pray with us, fast with us and perform Hajj with us, and you have admitted them to Hell." He will say: "Go and bring forth those whom you recognize among them." So they will come to them, and they will recognize them by their faces. The Fire will not consume their faces, although there will be some whom the Fire will seize halfway up their shins, and others whom it will seize up to their ankles. They will bring them forth, and will say, "Our Lord, we have brought forth those whom You commanded us to bring forth." Then He will say: "Bring forth those who have a Dinâr's weight of faith in their hearts, then those who have half a Dinâr's

Comments:

a. Great Intercession on the Day of Judgment shall only be the exclusive privilege of Prophet Muhammad ﷺ, but other Prophets and believers shall, in their turn, also be allowed to intercede on behalf of the sinners.

b. No Prophets or 'holy men' will have the power to extricate anyone from Hell on their own. They will simply pray to Allâh and intercede on behalf of their sinning brethren. Allâh will, then, accept the intercession for whoever He wills, and grant deliverance from Hell to whoever He wishes.

c. Sinners among the believers will be recognizable in Hell-fire through their unburnt faces. A Hadith of the Prophet ﷺ says that the angels shall recognize the sinners from the prostration marks on their foreheads. The Hadith also underlines the singularly important place prayer occupies among all the acts of worship.

d. The sinners shall be subjected to severe or light punishment according to the degree of the gravity of their sins.

e. All believers are not equal in faith since faith increases and decreases.

f. Allâh's mercy is so pervasive that even those at the lowest level of faith shall get deliverance, not so the polytheists.

61. It was narrated that Jundub bin 'Abdullâh said: "We were with the Prophet ﷺ, and we were strong youths, so we learned faith before we learned the Qur'ân. Then we learned the Qur'ân and our faith increased thereby." (Sahih)

a. Knowledge of the Oneness of Allâh and other basic beliefs gets priority over acts of worship and the code of daily dealings. That is why the main focus in Makkan Surah (chapters) of the Qur'ân is on basic beliefs while the Madinite Surah mostly deal with daily dealings and transactions.

b. Increase in knowledge leads to increase in faith.

c. The last sentence in the Hadith is a proof of the phenomenon of increase and decrease in faith.

Comments::

a. The Hadith is known as the Hadith of Jibril. It encompasses important matters of our religion. It deals with acts of worship; with deeds of the heart and of other parts of the body; with acts that are categorized as compulsory or Sunnah, as well as the acts that are classified as desirable, undesirable or forbidden.

b. The term Islâm here denotes the apparent acts, whose doing or not doing determines whether the person in question is or is not a Muslim. Imân, however, is the testimony or affirmation of the heart on which depends deliverance in the Hereafter. Ihsân is the highest form of Imân, which bestows beauty to one's acts of devotion.

c. One must worship Allâh as though one is before Allâh, which means that the focusing of one's heart towards Allâh and the extent of one's turning in submissiveness, in fear and in repentance towards Him, must be at their peak. As far as the question of being able to see Allâh within the span of this life on earth, it is an absolute impossibility, for no creature can find itself equal to it. In Paradise, however, the faithful will be able to see Him. The Qur'ân and Hadith bear testimony to this. Al-Bukhâri (H. 7437) and Muslim (H. 1820) expressly mention it.

d. The exact time of the coming of the Hour nobody knows, not even the Prophets and angels. It is Allâh's special preserve, for He alone is the Knower of the unseen.

e. Constructing large, stately buildings just for worldly benefit and comfort or for ostentation and pride is not right.

f. Beliefs and dealings are all part of religion, and as such right belief and right action are both necessary for deliverance in the Hereafter.

g. 'Divine Decree' means the fact that whatever will happen, forever, Allâh knows it all from before. Whatever happens now is absolutely in keeping with what Allâh knows, and what He has already written down. The goodness or badness of the Decree means the things that are good for us, such as good health, economic prosperity, abundance and increase in productivity, or the things that we consider bad for us, such as famine and pain and misery. All this is happening according to Allâh's wise scheme and will. So, the good or bad is only in relation to us, the creatures. Otherwise, all the actions of Allâh are the reflection of His superior prudence and wisdom, and are, therefore, absolutely good.

h. The coming down of Jibril ﷺ with Qur'ânic revelations is a proven fact. His coming down for the clarification of the teachings and tenets of Islam is also proved from this Hadith.

i. There are different methodologies for learning religious and Islamic teachings. One of these is to hold question-answer sessions. Lessons are very well driven home through this method.

j. Etiquette demands that the one who is asking should sit respectfully with folded legs before the one being asked, and the manner of his asking should be polite and reverential.

k. The faithful angel Jibril ﷺ was dressed in white. The Prophet ﷺ also emphasized his preference for white clothes and even chose white raiment for himself. Even for the dead he chose the white shroud. (Tirmidhi: 2810).

64. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "One day the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ appeared among the people. A man came to him and said: 'O Messenger of Allâh, what is Imân (faith)?' He said: 'To believe in Allâh, His Angels, His Books, His Messengers and the meeting with Him, and to believe in the Final Resurrection.' He said: 'O Messenger of Allâh, what is Islam?' He said: 'To worship Allâh (alone) and not to associate anything with Him; to establish the prescribed prayers; to pay the obligatory Zakât; and to fast Ramadân.' He said: 'O Messenger of Allâh, what is Ihsân?' He said: 'To worship Allâh as if you see Him, for even though you do not see Him, He sees you.' He said: 'O Messenger of Allâh, when will the Hour be?' He said: 'The one who is being asked does not know more than the one who is asking, but I will tell you about its signs. When the slave-woman gives birth to her mistress, that is one of its signs. When the shepherds compete in constructing tall buildings, that is one of its signs. And there are five things which no one knows except Allâh.' Then the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ recited the Verse: "Verily, Allâh, with Him (Alone) is the knowledge of the Hour, He sends down the rain, and knows that which is in the wombs. No person knows what he will earn tomorrow, and no person knows in what land he will die. Verily, Allâh is All-Knower, All-Aware (of things)."[1] (Sahih)

Comments:

a. Precise knowledge of the future is the exclusive preserve of Allâh. All matters mentioned in the Qur'ânic Verse belong to the realm of the future. Not to speak of the exact timing of the impending Hour. Even the precise timing of the appearance of its signs, mentioned in the Hadith, are known to no one but Allâh. Similar is the case of the other matters for which man can only conjecture, which may or may not come true. A case in point is the clouds, a sight of which awakens the hope, but holds no guarantee, that it will bring down rain. We can plan for the future but have no means of knowing beforehand what unexpected impediments or circumstances might be in store for us. Likewise, no one except Allâh knows for sure about anyone's life or death. Man can only conjecture about the future, but cannot guarantee that his conjecture will come true.

b. If a scholar does not know the answer of a question, let him plainly say that he does not know it without considering it an offense to his dignity.

c. A learned man should never get angry but answer the queries of the questioner with tenderness and love.

a. We should do to the Muslim brother as we would be done by. For example, if a person does not like to be deceived by the people, let him also not deceive others. And just as a man likes others to help him in his hour of need, he should also help others in their hour of need or difficulty.

b. Man is generally very touchy about his rights, but oblivious of his obligations, although his obligations are the rights of others. Thus, if each one of us respects the rights of others, the rights of all will be safeguarded and peace and amity will prevail in the society.

Comments:

a. Love of the Prophet ﷺ is the very foundation of faith. The stronger the love for him, the greater the faith. Increase or decrease in love for him is an indication of increase or decrease in one's faith.

b. The proof of love is not in lip service but in obedience. Allâh the Glorified says: "Say (O Muhammad to mankind): 'If you (really) love Allâh, then follow me.'" (3:31)

c. The real test of a person's having more love for Allâh and His Messenger ﷺ than others, comes when the love of one's children, parents, a religious leader or friend, demands that one do a thing that Allâh and His Messenger ﷺ have prohibited, but he will not bother about the displeasure of others and obey and follow the example of the Prophet of Allâh in disregard of his love for others. If, on the other hand, the love of others is greater, then he will go against the dictates of Shari'ah in order to please those others, and thus fall short of achieving the required level of faith. The same criterion holds true in respect of one's love for the traditions of the Prophet ﷺ and customs prevalent in one's tribe or community.

68. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'By the One in Whose Hand is my soul! You will not enter Paradise until you believe, and you will not (truly) believe until you love one another. Shall I not tell you of something which, if you do it, you will love one another? Spread the greetings of Salâm amongst yourselves.'" (Sahih)

a. Imân is an essential requirement for entry into Paradise.

b. Mutual love is a means of gaining complete faith. We must, therefore, do all those things that promote mutual love and avoid things that would generate mutual hatred.

Greeting each other with Salâm is a good way of establishing and maintaining good relations with each other. Other Ahâdith speak of the other things as well, such as shaking hands, hugging and exchanging presents with each other. (See Muwatta Imâm Mâlik: 1731 & Adabul-Mufrad: 594)

Comments:

a. Since maintaining cordial relations between the Muslims is desirable in Islam, our sacred law forbids doing things that might spoil relations. One of those undesirable things is verbally abusing each other—an act wholly unbecoming a good Muslim. That is the reason why it has been branded as an act of disobedience, immorality and sin.

b. Fighting a Muslim is Kufr. The word Kufr as used here does not mean the Kufr that drives man out of the pale of Islam. It only means an act which is unfit for a Muslim. It is technically called a minor Kufr. The Qur'ân says: "And if two parties of believers fight, make peace between them". (49:9)
The Verse is categorical on the point that believers, even when they fight each other, continue to remain believers; they do not turn disbelievers.

70. It was narrated that Anas bin Mâlik said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Whoever departs this world with sincerity towards Allâh, worshipping Him alone with no partner, establishing regular prayer and paying Zakât, has died while Allâh is pleased with him.'"

٧٠ - حَدَّثَنَا نَصْرُ بْنُ عَلِيٍّ الْجَهْضَمِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو أَحْمَدَ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو جَعْفَرٍ الرَّازِيُّ، عَنِ الرَّبِيعِ بْنِ أَنَسٍ، عَنْ أَنَسِ بْنِ مَالِكٍ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «مَنْ فَارَقَ الدُّنْيَا عَلَى الإِخْلاَصِ لِلَّهِ وَحْدَهُ، وَعِبَادَتِهِ لاَ شَرِيكَ لَهُ، وَإِقَامِ الصَّلاَةِ، وَإِيتَاءِ الزَّكَاةِ، مَاتَ وَاللهُ عَنْهُ رَاضٍ».

Anas said: "This is the religion of Allâh which was brought by the Messengers, and which they conveyed from their Lord before there arose the confusion of people's chattering and conflicting desires.

This is confirmed in the Book of Allâh, in one of the last Verses to be revealed, where Allâh says: "But if they repent."[1] renounce their idols, and worshipping them; "And establish Salât and give Zakât."[2] And Allâh says in another Verse: "But if they repent, perform Salât and give Zakât, then they are your brethren in religion."[3] (Da'if)

a. Translation of the meaning of the first quoted Verse (complete text) shall read: "Then when the Sacred Months have passed, kill the polytheists wherever you find them, and capture them and besiege them, and lie in wait for them in every place of ambush. But if they repent and perform prayer, and pay Zakât, then let them go their way. Verily, Allâh is Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful". (9:5).

   Anas ﷺ comments that repentance here means relinquishing disbelief.

b. The Verses are clear in their meaning, which is that a community will only be recognized as Muslim when, along with affirmation of the Oneness of Allâh and due testimony, they also perform the practical duties such as Salât and Zakât etc. In case of refusal, it would be declared disbeliever and deserving of being engaged in Jihâd, just like Abu Bakr ﷺ, in interpretation of the above quoted Verse, had conducted a Jihâd against those who refused to pay Zakât or accept it as an obligatory duty in Islam.

Comments:

a. Fighting in the way of Allâh is the collective duty of Muslims with the objective of turning people away from the worship of others to the worship of Allâh.

b. Three things are reckoned as proof of a person's entry into the fold of Islam: (i) his affirmation of the Oneness of Allâh and the prophethood of Muhammad ﷺ, (ii) to performing regularly the ritual prayers, and (iii) paying Zakât, which is a prescribed financial obligation in Islam.

c. The tradition does not mention the other two pillars of Islam, namely fasting and Hajj. The reason being that fasting is a hidden act in the sense, that it is always possible for a non-fasting person to make others believe that he is fasting. As for Hajj, it is not in the first place obligatory for each Muslim. Secondly, even for the obligated person, it is compulsory just once in the entire lifetime. Additionally, even if the people against whom war is an Islamic duty affirm their commitment to fasting and Hajj, the practical demonstration of these acts will have to wait for the particular months of the year. It would, therefore, be against better judgment to link the decision about waging war against them to such matters. And Allâh knows best.

72. It was narrated that Mu'âdh bin Jabal said: The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'I have been commanded to fight the people until they testify to Lâ ilâha ill-allâh (none has the right to be worshipped but Allâh) and that I am the Messenger of Allâh, and they establish regular prayer and pay Zakât." are Mash-hur (Well-Known) Ahâdith and have all along been consecutively reported from the pious predecessors. As such the concept of increase and decrease in Imân is an established fact among the followers of Sunnah. Imâm Bukhâri ﷺ in his Sahih (Book of Faith, Ch. 1) has cited several Verses of the Qur'ân as evidence, and has followed them up with a number of Ahâdith in the next several chapters, to prove that virtuous deeds are but the parts of faith. It needs to be understood in this connection that anything that has parts shall remain imperfect or defective if one part or more thereof is missing. For further detail, it will be useful to study the relevant chapters of Fathul-Bâri, the well-known commentary of Sahih Al-Bukhari.

(المعجم ١٠) - بَابٌ: فِي الْقَدْرِ

(التحفة ١٠)

76. 'Abdullâh bin Mas'ud said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ, the true and truly inspired one, told us that: 'The creation of one of you is put together in his mother's womb for forty days, then it becomes a clot for a similar length of time, then it becomes a chewed lump of flesh for a similar length of time. Then Allâh sends the angel to him and commands him to write down four things. He says: "Write down his deeds, his life span, his provision, and whether he is doomed (destined for Hell) or blessed (destined for Paradise)." By the One in Whose Hand is my soul! One of you may do the deeds of the people of Paradise until there is no more than a forearm's length between him and it, then the decree overtakes him and he does the deeds of the people of Hell until he enters therein. And one of you may do the deeds of the people of Hell until there is no more than a forearm's length between him and it, then the decree overtakes him and he does the deeds of the people

Comments:

a. Man's good and bad deeds, his life span, his provision, and his going either to Paradise or to Hell—all these things—even the angels only come to know when told by Allâh at an appropriate time. The angels then write those things which had been decreed and recorded in the Preserved Tablet since eternity.

b. Everyone has a predetermined life span, and will not die before that. No one should, therefore, abdicate his faith out of his fear for life, but be prepared to lay down his life in defence of his faith.

c. Everyone's quota of provision is predetermined, which he is sure to get anyhow. Man's test lies in what means he adopts to get it. He shall get his allotted provision even through lawful means, and what is not destined for him, he will not get it even through unlawful means. We must, therefore, put our trust in Allâh and try to earn our livelihood only through lawful means.

d. We must not decide, of our own, about someone's being of Paradise or of Hell, for Allâh alone knows who is designated for Paradise or destined to be the fuel of Hell-fire. We must, however, have faith in Allâh's mercy, and keep the hope that a person whom we believe to be virtuous shall, by the grace of Allâh, be admitted to Paradise. Nevertheless, we must have the belief that the people whom Allâh or His Messenger ﷺ expressly named as going to Paradise or Hell shall surely go there. Cases in point are the inevitability of Abu Lahab's (and his wife's) being consigned to Hell-fire — as mentioned in the Qur'ânic Surah of that name — and the certainty of a place in Paradise for each of the Ten Companion who have already been given the glad tiding of admittance to that blessed abode.

77. It was narrated that Ibn Dailami said: "I was confused about this Divine Decree (Qadar), and I was afraid lest that adversely affect my religion and my affairs. So I went to Ubayy bin Ka'b and said: 'O Abu Mundhir! I am confused about this Divine Decree, and I fear for my religion and my affairs, so tell me something about that through

Comments:

a. The calamity destined to happen is bound to happen, even if the person concerned — out of the fear of it — leaves the path of virtue and takes to the path of evil. And the bounties and comforts destined for a person are sure to come to him, albeit preceded by a difficult and turbulent phase. We must, therefore, put our trust in Allâh, remain hopeful of His mercy, and never fall prey to despair, for Allâh cites, with approval, the following words of Ya'qub ﷺ: "Certainly no one despairs of Allâh's mercy except the people who disbelieve." (12:87)

b. The Companions were gifted with the kind of knowledge which was as profound as it was strong, which is why their faith was also firm and strong. Even on issues as delicate as the Divine Decree, their self-assurance and awareness of the truth made them brimful of contentment of the heart, with no iota of doubt to disturb their minds.

c. It is perfectly in order to consult more than one scholar on any matter for the satisfaction of one's heart.

d. Religious opinions (Fatwâ) given by the Companions are all drawn from the Qur'ân and Ahâdith. Not only this, they oftentimes quote the very words of the Hadith without mentioning the Prophet's name.

e. The issue of the Divine Decree is among Islam's fundamentals of faith. No one's belief is, therefore, of any consequence unless he also has faith in the Divine Decree. Denying the truth of the Divine Decree means inviting one's own punishment by Hell-fire.

78. It was narrated that 'Ali said: "We were sitting with the Prophet

He was asked: 'O Messenger of Allâh, should we not then rely upon that?' He said: 'No, strive and do not rely upon that, for it will be made easy for each person to do that for which he was created.' Then he recited: "As for him who gives (in charity) and keeps his duty to Allâh and fears Him, And believes in Al-Husnâ.[1] We will make smooth for him the path of ease (goodness). But he who is a greedy miser and thinks himself self-sufficient. And denies Al-Husnâ. We will make smooth for him the path for evil."[2] (Sahih)

Comments:

a. The Hadith affirms the reality of Divine Decree.
b. Divine Decree is another name for Allâh's attribute of knowledge. It does not mean predetermination in the sense that man has no power over his actions.
c. Admittance of man to Paradise or Hell is linked to his actions. Nobody knows what the future holds for him. It is, therefore, necessary that we keep trying to do righteous deeds and avoid sinful acts.
d. Faith in the Divine Decree does not mean that man give up trying and doing hard work. He should rather make it a point not to be afraid of impending dangers nor despair of Allâh's mercy for, if success is to come

[1] Al-Husna: The Best (i.e. either Lâ ilâha illallâh: none has the right to be worshipped but Allâh) or a reward from Allâh (i.e. Allâh will compensate him for what he will spend in Allâh's way or bless him with Paradise).

by Allâh's permission, it is bound to happen in spite of all odds and difficulties. If not, the person shall at least get reward for his good intentions and hard work. Allâh does not let the good done by anybody go to waste.

79. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'The strong believer is better and more beloved to Allâh than the weak believer, although both are good. Strive for that which will benefit you, seek the help of Allâh, and do not feel helpless. If anything befalls you, do not say, "If only I had done such and such." Rather say, "Qaddara Allâhu wa mâ shâ'a fa'ala (Allâh has decreed and whatever He wills, He does)." For (saying) 'If' opens (the door) to the deeds of Satan.'" (Sahih)

Comments:

a. Physical, mental and financial strength is a gift of Allâh which must be utilized in the doing of good deeds.

b. A man short of others in any kind of strength is not altogether without good in him. Maybe, the one who is weak in one area is strong in another. It, therefore, behooves us all to be grateful to Allâh for whatever capacity He has given to each one of us, and utilize it for the avoidance of evil and the acquisition and accumulation of as much good as possible.

c. Striving for worldly good is not against the doctrine of trust in Allâh. It is not, However, allowed to use unfair means to achieve one's goals, nor is it proper to engross oneself in the pursuit of worldly gains so absolutely that all attention is focused on that alone.

d. It is not desirable in the Islamic Shari'ah that a person, instead of working to earn his bread and be of benefit to others, himself becomes a burden on others. It is wrong to give such an attitude the name of 'trust in Allâh'. If, however, for some reason, a person is not capable of earning his bread for himself he is exempt from it, and it is the duty of the Islamic community to take care of his needs.

e. If the outcome of an endeavour ends up in an unexpected result that cannot be remedied, there is no reason for the person concerned to give himself up to negative thinking since, far from being beneficial, such an attitude would only be harmful to him, and then it would be no use regretting at the aftermath and say, "Would that I had done this work that way and not this way." It is nevertheless all right to critically evaluate one's work so that the mistake done now should be avoided in the future.

80. It was narrated that 'Amr bin Dinâr heard Tawus say: "I heard Abu Hurairah narrating that the Prophet ﷺ said: 'Âdam and Musa debated, and Musa said to him: "O Âdam, you are our father but have deprived us and caused us to be expelled from Paradise because of your sin." Âdam said to him: "O Musa, Allâh chose you to speak with and He wrote the Tawrâh for you with His own Hand. Are you blaming me for something which Allâh decreed for me forty years before He created me?" Thus Âdam won the argument with Musa, thus Âdam won the argument with Musa, thus Âdam won the argument with Musa.'" (Sahih)

Comments:

a. Musa ﷺ did not mean to put Âdam ﷺ on the dock as to why he committed the mistake, because Allâh had already condoned it. The Qur'ân accordingly says: "Then his Lord chose him, and turned to him with forgiveness, and gave him guidance. (20:122)

He only meant to say that because of him, the human race had to suffer all those worldly trials and tribulations. Âdam ﷺ replied by saying that those trials had already been divinely decreed a long long time ago.

b. The Prophet ﷺ thrice repeated the words: "Thus Âdam won the argument with Musa." The repetition was meant to drive home the idea that what Âdam ﷺ did was nothing but the implementation of Allâh's decree and will.

81. It was narrated that 'Ali said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said:

The Hadith contains the fundamentals of Imân (faith) which also include belief in the Divine Decree.

82. It was narrated that 'Âishah the Mother of the Believers said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ was called to the funeral of a child from among the Ansâr. I said: 'O Messenger of Allâh, glad tidings for him! He is one of the little birds of Paradise, who never did evil or reached the age of doing evil (i.e., the age of accountability).' He said: 'It may not be so, O 'Âishah! For Allâh has created people for Paradise, He created them for it when they were still in their fathers' loins. And He has created people for Hell, He created them for it when they were still in their fathers' loins.'" (Sahih)

Comments:

a. The tone of certainty with which 'Âishah ﵂ spoke about the boy's being of the people of Paradise did not find favour with the Prophet ﷺ, and he said that knowledge of it rested with Allâh alone. Imâm Nawawi has claimed consensus of religious scholars on the fact that all the children of the believers shall be in Paradise. Several Ahâdith of the Prophet ﷺ support the assertion. The Prophet ﷺ probably spoke the above quoted words while still the knowledge of it had not been conveyed to him by Allâh. Maybe, Allâh gave him the knowledge thereof at a later date.

b. The Ahâdith affirms the reality of Divine Decree.

83. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "The idolators of Quraish came and disputed with the Prophet ﷺ concerning the Divine Decree. Then the following Verse was revealed: 'The Day they will be dragged on their faces into the Fire (it will be said to them): "Taste you the touch of Hell!" Verily, We have created all things with Qadar. (Divine Decree)' "[1] (Sahih)

a. The Qur'ânic Verse and the Hadith both reaffirm the certainty of the Divine Decree.

b. Idolaters are surely destined for Hell.

c. Allâh does not approve of argumentation on matters that are certain and clear.

84. 'Abdullâh bin Abi Mulaikah narrated that his father entered upon 'Âishah and said something to her about the Divine Decree. He said: 'Have you been commanded to do this, or were you created for this purpose? You are using one part of the Qur'ân against another part, and this is what led to the doom of the nations who came before you.'" a. Divine Decree is one of the closely-guarded secrets of Allâh. It will suffice us to have a general belief in it. Similarly, in other matters relating to the unseen world, it is enough that we believe in what has been told, without making an effort to discover the details of things deliberately left unexplained.

b. The main purpose of the study of the Qur'ân and Hadith is to reform one's morals and deeds. If there is a person who opens the paradox of delicate issues just to demonstrate his gift of the gab, or impress the people by his excessive knowledge and skills, it is an act of distraction from the main objective, and amounts to inviting the wrath of Allâh.

c. During the course of admonition, it is perfectly in order for the speaker to take recourse to a show of anger if the situation so demands, especially if the speaker is a person of eminence and a show of anger is not likely to have a negative effect on the audiences.

d. The Companion in question felt happy at having been absent from the assembly because in it, the Prophet ﷺ had expressed his displeasure to the listeners. This means that a person's expression of happiness on being able to do a good deed or avoid an act of sin, is not to be considered an act of self-pride or hypocrisy. It is rather a sign of his love of good and hatred of evil, which is a part of Imân (faith).

86. It was narrated that Ibn 'Umar said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'There is no 'Adwa (contagion),[1] no Tiyarah (evil omen) and no Hâmah.'[2] A Bedouin man stood up and said: 'O Messenger of Allâh, what do you think about a camel that suffers from mange and then all the other camels get mange?' He said: 'That is because of the Divine Decree. How else did the first one get mange?'" (Sahih)

a. The chain of narrators mentioned by Imâm Ibn Mâjah is Weak. Nevertheless, because of other reliable chains of narrators it must be considered a Sound Hadith. The remark: "That is because of the Divine Decree" is, however, missing in other reports.

b. It is a common perception that if a healthy person comes into contact with a person suffering from certain diseases or shares the meals on the same table with him, or uses his clothing, the former would contract the disease of the latter. These categories of diseases are known as 'contagious diseases'. The fact of the matter, however, is that diseases do not travel like that. It could, however, be the case that the very fact that had caused the first man to get the disease might be present in the other fellow as well, which would make him also sick. The 'germ theory', as we know, is very popular in modern-day medicine, but the germs only act by Allâh's permission.

[1] Meaning one will not automatically be infected by another's ailment, rather only if Allâh has decreed it.

[2] Scholars mention different meanings for this pre-Islamic belief: It is a worm that comes out of the murdered person's head seeking vengeance; it refers to the owl which was considered a bad omen if seen in certain circumstances; or it was a bird that came from the bones of a dead person which would fly away. See Fathul-Bâri and An-Nihâyah.

c. Arabs took their omen by the movement of the birds and beasts. For instance, if a person desired to start some work, he would throw a stone at a sitting bird or deer etc. to make it fly or run. If it went to the right they would presume that the outcome of their work would be favorable. If, on the other hand, it went left, they thought that their effort would not succeed. Such things just indicate one's superstitious nature; they have no basis in the world of reality. Even today people have several similar superstitions. For example, if they meet a lame or one-eyed person on their way, or if a black cat crosses their path, they take it as a bad omen. Similar is the case of those who consider certain numbers (13 for example) or days (e.g. Tuesday) or a certain month (Safar or Shawwâl) inauspicious for them. To the same category belong acts like drawing 'magical' charts or figures by the people, and divining their future through blindly putting their fingers in them, or drawing lots for similar purposes, and so on. All these acts are indicative of a lack of faith.

d. Arab idolaters also had a misplaced notion that if the murder of a person was not avenged, his spirit would assume the form of an owl and haunt around shrieking for revenge. It was primarily because of this misplaced notion that a never-ending chain of killing and plundering continued for generations after generations among them. All these things are baseless. Similarly, it is baseless to consider the owl a symbol of bad omen. The owl is just another creature of Allâh which has nothing to do with the destinies of men.

a. The dislodged feather of a bird is so weightless that even a light wind can easily turn its head into tail and tail into head. If it is in an open field, the air shall have more effect on it, since there would be nothing to impede its flight, and it (the feather) would travel to and fro or up and down quickly. Similar is the case with the human heart. Numerous feelings and emotions play upon it in quick succession, which drive him to virtue at one moment, and to sin at the next.

b. Since the condition of the heart could change any moment, man can never rest assured about his ultimate end. It is, therefore, necessary that man pray to Allâh for the safety of his faith at the dying moments of his life.

a. There is no doubt that the Divine Decree shall overtake man's planning, but this should not deter man from taking the necessary steps. He should do his bit and leave the result to Allâh.

b. 'Azl (coitus interruptus) means the process by which man, having an intercourse with his wife or slave girl, withdraws from her the moment he feels like ejaculating, so that he discharges himself outside, in the hope that no pregnancy would take place. This was their method of family planning in those days.

c. Recourse to 'Azl is permitted with the slave girl for the simple reason that her pregnancy might impede her serviceability for the master and interfere with the domestic work, which is the main purpose of her presence in the house. As for the free woman (the wife), there is difference of opinion among the scholars as to the permissibility or otherwise of it.

90. It was narrated that Thawbân said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Nothing extends one's life span but righteousness, nothing averts the Divine Decree but supplication, and nothing deprives a man of provision but the sin that he commits.'" (Da'if)

a. The promise of extension in one's life has been variously interpreted as (i) Life span gets Allâh's blessing in the sense that it is spent in the doing of good deeds, and is saved from going waste; (ii) Man is enabled to engage in righteous deeds, whose reward continue to flow to him even after death, as the Qur'ân says: "But the righteous deeds that last are better with your Lord for rewards and better in respect of hope". (18:46) or (iii) The life span made known to the angels, particularly to the Angel of Death, is extended. This extension is only from the angel's point of view; otherwise Allâh had all along the knowledge that the man would do such and such righteous deed, or deeds that would be rewarded by an appropriate extension in the span of his life.

b. 'Averting the Divine Decree' means that, because of man's supplications, the misfortune that the man dreaded would be blocked, and the calamity that had set in would be warded off.

91. It was narrated that Surâqah bin Ju'shum said: "I said: 'O Messenger of Allâh, is one's deed in that which has already dried of the Pen and what has passed of the Divine Decree, or is it in the future?' Comments:

Those who deny the Divine Decree, claim that Allâh is only the creator of virtue, while it is man who is the creator of vice. In this way, they invest every man with the attribute of creation. The Magians believe in two deities, one (Ahuramazda) the creator of good and the other (Angra Mainyu or Ahriman) the creator of evil. Thus both, the deniers of Divine Decree and the Magians, ascribe the attribute of the creation of evil to someone other than Allâh. Ahlus-Sunnah (People of the Prophet's Path), however, believe that Allâh alone is the creator of all things — be they good and virtuous, or bad and evil — while man is the doer of those deeds. Allâh in His infinite wisdom has granted His slaves the ability to do the deeds accordingly.

(المعجم ١١) - بَابٌ: فِي فَضَائِلِ أَصْحَابِ رَسُولِ اللهِ ﷺ (التحفة ١١)

The term Sahâbi (Companion) literally means a person who assumes the company and association with another person, although for a short period of time. Scholars, however, hold that a Sahâbi is anyone from amongst the Muslims who has transmitted a report from the Prophet ﷺ or has had the good fortune of seeing him. A comprehensive definition of a Sahâbi, therefore, would be: "A Sahâbi is one who, as a believer, saw the Prophet ﷺ during his lifetime and died a believer."

(١١/١) فَضْلُ أَبِي بَكْرٍ الصِّدِّيقِ [رَضِيَ اللهُ عَنْهُ]

His real name is 'Abdullâh, born in the sacred city of Makkah, two and a half years after the birth of the Prophet ﷺ. Here is his genealogy: 'Abdullâh bin 'Uthmân bin 'Âmir bin 'Amr bin Ka'b bin Sa'd bin Taim bin Murrah bin Ka'b bin Lu'ai bin Qurashi At-Tamimi, known as Abu Bakr bin Abu Qahâfah, the successor of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ as the first caliph. He joins the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ in lineage at his sixth ancestor. He is nicknamed Abu Bakr.

93. It was narrated that 'Abdullâh said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'I have no need of the friendship of any Khalil (close friend) but if I were to have taken anyone as a close friend, I would have taken Abu Bakr as a close friend, but your companion is the close friend of Allâh.'" (One of the narrators) Waki' said: (by the phrase 'your companion'), he was referring to himself. (Sahih)

Comments:

a. The Prophet ﷺ has said: "Verily, Allâh has taken me as His Khalil just as He had taken Ibrâhim His Khalil. (Muslim: H. 532)

b. The Hadith affirms the superior position of Abu Bakr ﷺ since the Prophet ﷺ declared him as deserving the highest level of his love.

94. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'The wealth of none of you has benefited me as much as the wealth of Abu Bakr.'" Abu Bakr wept and said: 'O Messenger of Allâh, I and my wealth are only for you, O Messenger of Allâh.'" (Da'if)

Comments:

a. Proximity to Allâh is achieved through righteous deeds. The more the righteous deeds the higher shall one's position be near Allâh and His Prophet ﷺ.

b. The Hadith shows the extent of Abu Bakr's sincerity and love for the Prophet ﷺ, as a result of which he not only did not exult on his deeds, but also declared his wealth as the Prophet's.

c. An Imâm (or leader) must appreciate and acknowledge the services of his companions, so that others also develop a love for the service of the faith, and give due respect to them, and try to follow their footsteps.

d. It is all right, as part of some expediency, to give appreciation, and praise to a person to his face, if we are sure that such an act would not create a sense of vanity or pride in his heart, although we should generally avoid praising a person in his presence.

e. The Hadith under discussion deals with just one aspect of Abu Bakr's personality, namely his openhandedness in spending for the pleasure of Allâh, although we find numerous other points of his excellence mentioned in the Ahâdith.

95. It was narrated that 'Ali said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Abu Bakr and 'Umar are the leaders of the mature people of Paradise, the first and the last, except for the Prophets and Messengers, but do not tell them about that, O 'Ali, as long as they are still alive.'" (Da'if)

Comments:

a. The expression 'mature people of Paradise' means people who died in that age, otherwise there will be no age difference for the people in Paradise, and all those lodged there shall enjoy the bliss of youth in it.

b. The Hadith is also explicit on the point that a non-Prophet, however exalted in rank he might be, can never equal or surpass a Prophet.

c. It also affirms the fact that Abu Bakr and 'Umar ؓ rank the highest after the Prophets, in the sense that they are superior to all other believers, whether of Prophet Muhammad's community or of the community of previous Prophets.

96. It was narrated that Abu Sa'eed Al-Khudri said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'The people of the highest degrees of Paradise will be seen by those beneath them as a rising star is seen on the horizon. Abu Bakr and 'Umar will be among them, and how blessed they are!'" (Da'if)

Comments:

a. The difference between two levels of Paradise is not a minor one. It is, therefore, necessary that a believer exert his maximum effort to attain to as high a level as possible.

b. The tradition affirms higher degrees for Abu Bakr and 'Umar ﷺ as well as contains glad tidings of Paradise for them tboth.

97. It was narrated that Hudhaifah bin Yamân said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'I do not know how long I will stay among you, so follow the example of these two after I am gone,' and he pointed to Abu Bakr and 'Umar." (Hasan)

Comments:

a. The Hadith contains a broad hint about the caliphate of the two venerable Companions.

b. The leader must train and cultivate individuals that would manage the affairs after him efficiently and well.

c. The rulings and judgments of these two venerable Companions are not only more weighty and valuable, but also more worthy of being followed than the opinions of other Companions and religious leaders.

98. It was narrated that Ibn Abi Mulaikah said: "I heard Ibn 'Abbâs say: 'When 'Umar was placed on his bed (i.e., his bier), the people gathered around him, praying and invoking blessings upon him,' or he said, 'praising him and invoking blessings upon him before (the bier) was lifted up, and I was among them. He prayed for mercy for 'Umar, then he said: "You have not left behind anyone who it is more beloved to me to meet Allâh with the like of his deeds than yourself. By Allâh, I think that Allâh will most certainly unite you with your two companions, and that is because I often heard the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ saying: 'Abu Bakr, 'Umar and I went; Abu Bakr, 'Umar and I came in; Abu Bakr, 'Umar and I went out.' So I think that Allâh will most certainly join you to your two companions." (Sahih)

Comments:

a. This shows that 'Ali ﷺ held a very high opinion of 'Umar ﷺ, because the Prophet ﷺ kept the two Companions 'Umar and Abu Bakr ﷺ with him in all important matters.

b. 'Ali ﷺ considered both the venerable Companions superior to himself. That is why he wished that he would also be enabled by Allâh to do acts like them.

c. It is desirable to try to follow those who are better than us in the doing of good deeds. It would, however, be wrong to envy the lot of those who are ahead of us in worldly riches, or are engaged in the doing of evil deeds.

Comments:

A Nabi (Prophet) is one who receives the revelation while the Rasul (Messenger) is a special category of the Prophets. Some scholars hold that a Rasul, as distinct from Nabi, is the one given a separate Book and Law, and sent down towards a particular nation or people. As for the Nabi, he keeps him company and engages in preaching among the people the message delivered to the Rasul. The revelation (Wahy) is, however, sent down to both.

101. It was narrated that Anas said: "It was said: 'O Messenger of Allâh, which of the people is most beloved to you?' He said: "Âishah.' It was asked, 'And among men?' He said: 'Her father.'" (Sahih)

Comments:

a. The Hadith clearly affirms the superior position not only of Abu Bakr ﷺ but also of 'Âishah ﷺ.

b. Abu Bakr and 'Âishah ﷺ were the best beloved of all to the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ. Therefore, anyone who loves them would be loved by the Prophet ﷺ, and he who harbors hostility or enmity towards them would attract the displeasure of the Prophet ﷺ.

(2/11) The Virtues Of 'Umar  (٢/ ١١) فَضْلُ عُمَرَ رَضِيَ الله عَنْهُ

His full name is 'Umar bin Khattab bin Nufail bin 'Abdul 'Uzza bin Riyâh bin 'Abdullâh bin Qurat bin Razâh bin 'Adi bin Ka'b bin Lu'ai bin Ghâlib Al-Qurashi Al-'Adawi; nicknamed Abu Hafs, known by the title Amirul-Mu'minin (Commander of the Faithful) and Fâruq. His mother's name was Hantamah bint Hâshim. He was born thirty years before the Mission of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ. He met his martyrdom in 23 AH.

102. It was narrated that 'Abdullâh bin Shaqiq said: "I said to 'Âishah: 'Which of the (Prophet's) Companions was most beloved to him?' She said: 'Abu Bakr.' I said: 'Then which of them?' She said: "Umar.' I said: 'Then which of them?' She said: 'Abu 'Ubaidah.'" (Sahih)

Comments :

The Hadith affirms the superiority of the three venerable Companions mentioned in it, for the Prophet ﷺ had extreme love for all the three of them. By the same token they were also loved by Allâh.

Comments:

a. The Hadith is Weak through this chain of reporters, but is Sound from other sources. The event of 'Umar's accepting Islam took place in the 6th year of the Messenger of Allâh's Mission, i. e., seven years before the Prophet's emigration to Madinah. (See The Sealed Nectar, Safi-ur-Rahman Mubârakpuri, p. 112).

b. The fact that the Prophet ﷺ prayed to Allâh to bring 'Umar to the fold of Islam is a clear proof of his superior standing in the sight of the Prophet ﷺ.

١٠٦ - حَدَّثَنَا عَلِيُّ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا وَكِيعٌ: حَدَّثَنَا شُعْبَةُ، عَنْ عَمْرِو بْنِ مُرَّةَ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ سَلِمَةَ، قَالَ: سَمِعْتُ عَلِيًّا يَقُولُ: خَيْرُ النَّاسِ بَعْدَ رَسُولِ اللهِ ﷺ، أَبُو بَكْرٍ، وَخَيْرُ النَّاسِ بَعْدَ أَبِي بَكْرٍ عُمَرُ.

Comments:

This shows that 'Ali ﷺ also believed in the superiority of Abu Bakr and 'Umar ﷺ. As such, any statement to the contrary imputed to 'Ali ﷺ is pure fabrication.

١٠٧ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ الْحَارِثِ الْمِصْرِيُّ: أَنْبَأَنَا اللَّيْثُ بْنُ سَعْدٍ: حَدَّثَنِي عُقَيْلٌ، عَنِ ابْنِ شِهَابٍ: أَخْبَرَنِي سَعِيدُ بْنُ الْمُسَيَّبِ أَنَّ أَبَا هُرَيْرَةَ، قَالَ: كُنَّا جُلُوساً عِنْدَ النَّبِيِّ ﷺ قَالَ: «بَيْنَا أَنَا نَائِمٌ رَأَيْتُنِي فِي الْجَنَّةِ، فَإِذَا أَنَا بِامْرَأَةٍ تَتَوَضَّأُ إِلَى جَنْبِ قَصْرٍ، فَقُلْتُ: لِمَنْ هٰذَا الْقَصْرُ؟ فَقَالَتْ: لِعُمَرَ، فَذَكَرْتُ غَيْرَتَهُ، فَوَلَّيْتُ مُدْبِراً». قَالَ: أَبُو هُرَيْرَةَ: فَبَكَىٰ عُمَرُ، فَقَالَ: أَعَلَيْكَ، بِأَبِي وَأُمِّي، يَا رَسُولَ اللهِ! أَغَارُ؟.

107. Abu Hurairah said: "We were sitting with the Prophet ﷺ and he said: 'While I was sleeping I saw myself in Paradise (in a dream), and I saw a woman performing ablution beside a palace. I asked: "Whose palace is this?" She said: "Umar's." I remembered his protective jealousy, so I turned away and left.'" Abu Hurairah said: "Umar wept and said: 'May my father and mother be sacrificed for you, O Messenger of Allâh! Would I feel any protective jealousy against you?'" (Sahih)

Comments:

a. The dreams seen by the Prophets are part of the Divine Revelation. As such this dream of the Prophet ﷺ is a conclusive proof that 'Umar ﷺ is of the people of Paradise.
b. The leader must respect the sensibilities of his associates; he should particularly consider their honor and dignity as his own.
c. This shows the great sense of reverence and love the Companion, especially the senior ones among them, had towards the Prophet ﷺ. And since love for the Prophet is part of faith, intensity in it is indicative of the strength of one's Imân.
d. There shall absolutely be no impurity or filth in Paradise. Therefore the ablution performed by the woman must be for purposes of added cleanliness and purity.

Comments:

There were several instances in the life of 'Umar ﷺ where he said something out of his own judicious opinion or judgment, and Allâh's ordainment came in accord with that judgment. Cases in point are: the commandment regarding Hijâb (women's veil); the question of the prisoners of the Battle of Badr; taking the "Station of Ibrâhim ﷺ" as a place of prayer; and the decision concerning the funeral prayer of the chief of Hypocrites 'Abdullah by Ubayy. (See Sunan Al-Kubra, Baihaqi, p. 7/88). This attribute of forming correct opinions was certainly a special gift or favor granted to 'Umar ﷺ by Allâh.

(٣/ ١١) فَضْلُ عُثْمَانَ رَضِيَ اللهُ عَنْهُ

His full name is 'Uthmân bin 'Affân bin Abul-'Âs bin Umayyah bin 'Abd Shams bin 'Abd Manâf Qurashi Umawi. He joins the lineage of the Prophet ﷺ at the 5th forefather. He is nicknamed Abu 'Abdullah and Abu 'Amr. The titles given to him are Dhun-Nurain and Amirul-Mu'minin (Commander of the Faithful). His mother Arwa bint Kuraiz was the daughter of the Prophet's paternal aunt Baidâ'. He was born six years after the Year of the Elephant. Was 36 at the time of the Messenger of Allâh's Call. He was the fourth person to accept Islam at the preaching of Abu Bakr ﷺ. He met his martyrdom in 35 AH at the age of 82.

Comments:

It is a Weak Hadith. Nonetheless 'Uthmân's being of the people of Paradise is above all doubt since it is proved from a number of other authentic Ahâdith.

110. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Prophet ﷺ met 'Uthmân at the door of the mosque and said: "O 'Uthmân! Jibril has told me that Allâh married you to Umm Kulthum for a dowry like that of Ruqayyah, provided that you treat her as you treated Ruqayyah." (Da'if)

Comments:

a. It is also a Weak Hadith. It is, however, historically proved that the Prophet ﷺ gave his daughter Ruqayyah ؓ in marriage to him. After her death he gave his second daughter to him in marriage.

b. The Messenger of Allâh's giving away his second daughter to 'Uthmân ؓ is a clear proof that he ﷺ was extremely pleased with 'Uthmân, and appreciated his exemplary conduct.

111. It was narrated that Ka'b bin 'Ujrah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ mentioned a Fitnah (tribulation) that had drawn nigh. Then a man passed by with his head covered. The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'On that day, this man will be following right guidance.' I leapt up and took hold of 'Uthmân's arms, then I turned to face the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ and said: 'This man?' He said: 'This man.'" (Sahih)

Comments:

a. The Prophet ﷺ foretold many things about the future at Allâh's bidding, and they came to pass exactly as he had foretold. This is a proof of the veracity of his prophethood. There are many things that are yet to happen, and it is our belief that they shall all happen at their appropriate time exactly in the manner foretold by the Prophet ﷺ. We must, however, make it a point that, before we attribute to the Prophet ﷺ, any news about the future events, we must make sure that the related report has been transmitted through reliable chain of narrators.

b. Forewarning about trials and turbulences destined to take place in the future, is meant to urge upon the believers to stick to the right path and avoid going astray. When what was foretold does happen, it serves to increases the faith in the heart of the believers.

c. The Hadith also proves that the accusations labeled against 'Uthmân ﷺ by the mischief-mongers were totally unfounded and baseless, and his conduct was absolutely above reproach.

d. The Arabic word Fitnah (literally trial or affliction) here refers to the systematic campaign of false accusations carried out by the miscreants against 'Uthmân ﷺ, which culminated in his wrongful assassination.

112. It was narrated that 'Âishah said: The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "O 'Uthmân, if Allâh places you in authority over this matter (as the caliph) some day and the hypocrites want to rid you of the garment with which Allâh has clothed you (i.e., the position of caliph), do not take it off." He said that three times. (One of the narrators) Nu'mân said: "I said to 'Âishah: 'What kept you from telling the people that?' She said: 'I was made to forget it.'" (Sahih) ١١٢ - حَدَّثَنَا عَلِيُّ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو مُعَاوِيَةَ، حَدَّثَنَا الْفَرَجُ بْنُ فَضَالَةَ، عَنْ رَبِيعَةَ ابْنِ يَزِيدَ الدِّمَشْقِيِّ، عَنِ النُّعْمَانِ بْنِ بَشِيرٍ، عَنْ عَائِشَةَ، قَالَتْ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «يَا عُثْمَانُ إِنْ وَلَّاكَ اللهُ هٰذَا الأَمْرَ يَوْماً، فَأَرَادَكَ الْمُنَافِقُونَ أَنْ تَخْلَعَ قَمِيصَكَ الَّذِي قَمَّصَكَ اللهُ، فَلَا تَخْلَعْهُ» يَقُولُ ذٰلِكَ ثَلَاثَ مَرَّاتٍ. قَالَ النُّعْمَانُ: فَقُلْتُ لِعَائِشَةَ: مَا مَنَعَكِ أَنْ تُعْلِمِي النَّاسَ بِهٰذَا؟ قَالَتْ: أُنْسِيتُهُ.

Comments:

a. The Hadith foretells an impending trial or affliction for 'Uthmân ﷺ that happened exactly as was foretold by the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ. This is a proof of the veracity of his prophethood.

b. It also shows that 'Uthmân ﷺ was the rightful ruler (caliph) of the believers.

c. When the ruler of a country is running his administration, it is unlawful to unleash a campaign of distrust and strife, on flimsy grounds, against him unless he is really found guilty of promoting infidelity and unbelief and weakening the foundations of Islam.

d. The tradition is explicit on the point that the adversaries of 'Uthmân ﷺ were all hypocrites.

113. It was narrated that 'Âishah said: "When he was ill, the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'I would like to have some of my Companions with me.' We said: 'O Messenger of Allâh! Shall we call Abu Bakr for you?' But he remained silent. We said: 'Shall we call 'Umar for you?' But he remained silent. We said: 'Shall we call 'Uthmân for you?' He said: 'Yes.' So 'Uthmân came and he spoke to him in private. The Prophet ﷺ started to speak to him and 'Uthmân's expression changed." Qais said: "Abu Sahlah, the freed slave of 'Uthmân, narrated to me that on the Day of the House,[1] 'Uthmân bin 'Affân said: 'The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ told me what would come to pass and now I am coming to that day.'"

In his narration of the Hadith, 'Ali (one of the narrators) said (that he said): "And I am going to bear it with patience."

Qais said: "They used to think

Comments:

a. This shows that 'Uthmân ﷺ was a close confidant of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ.

b. The promise here refers to the instruction of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ to 'Uthmân ﷺ, not to give in to the unjust demands of the miscreants, but remain patient and resolute.

c. So absolute was 'Uthmân's devotedness and obedience to the Prophet ﷺ that he preferred to lay down his life over bowing down before falsehood. At the same time, he revered the Prophet ﷺ so much that he abstained from taking military action against the rebels in order to avoid bloodshed in the city of the Prophet ﷺ.

d. Foretelling the future events so exactly, is a proof of the prophethood of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ.

(١١/٤) فَضْلُ عَلِيِّ بْنِ أَبِي طَالِبٍ رَضِيَ اللهُ عَنْهُ

His full name is 'Ali bin Abu Tâlib bin 'Abd Al-Muttalib bin Hâshim bin 'Abd Manâf bin Qusai bin Kilâb bin Murrah bin Ka'b bin Lu'ai Qurashi Hâshimi. Mother's name was Fâtimah bint Asad bin Hâshim. He is nicknamed Abul-Hasan and Abu Sibtain. He was born ten years before the Prophet's Call, and received his breeding under the careful patronage of the Prophet ﷺ and his venerable wife Khadijah ﷺ. He was the first among children to accept Islam. The Companions pledged their allegiance to him after the martyrdom of 'Uthmân ﷺ. He was martyred in 40 AH at the age of 60.

114. It was narrated that 'Ali said: "The Unlettered Prophet ﷺ informed me (saying) that none but a believer would love me and none but a hypocrite would hate me." (Sahih) ١١٤ - حَدَّثَنَا عَلِيُّ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا وَكِيعٌ، وَأَبُو مُعَاوِيَةَ، وَعَبْدُ اللهِ بْنُ نُمَيْرٍ، عَنِ الأَعْمَشِ، عَنْ عَدِيِّ بْنِ ثَابِتٍ، عَنْ زِرِّ بْنِ حُبَيْشٍ، عَنْ عَلِيٍّ، قَالَ: عَهِدَ إِلَيَّ النَّبِيُّ الأُمِّيُّ ﷺ أَنَّهُ لاَ يُحِبُّنِي إِلَّا مُؤْمِنٌ، وَلاَ يُبْغِضُنِي إِلَّا مُنَافِقٌ.

Comments:

a. Unmatched are the feats performed in the service and defence of Islam by the senior Companions. That is why anyone who loves Islam loves and respects them, while their very presence was a thorn in the side of the enemies of Islam. 'Ali ﷺ is also one among such great Companions. Therefore, love for him is the sign of love for Islam, and enmity towards him is the sign of hypocrisy.

b. Love for 'Ali ﷺ does not mean going beyond all limits, which a trait is found in some of the innovators. Some of these innovators, for example, regard him sinless like Prophets. Others hold him superior to Abu Bakr and 'Umar ﷺ. Still others invest him with Divine attributes, while others go still farther and deify him.

c. Differences among the Companions were their acts of judgment although, thanks to the machinations of the hypocrites, these differences of opinion sometimes even resulted in wars. It would, therefore, be unfair on the basis of these disputes to brand anyone of them a hypocrite. To believe like this is the hallmark of innovators. Ahlus-Sunnah (People of the Prophet's Path) consider it advisable to hold their tongues and avoid blaming any of them in such matters.

115. Sa'd bin Abu Waqqâs narrated from his father that the Prophet ﷺ said to 'Ali: "Would it not please you to be to me as Hârun was to Musa?" (Sahih)

١١٥ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ بَشَّارٍ: حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ ابْنُ جَعْفَرٍ: حَدَّثَنَا شُعْبَةُ، عَنْ سَعْدِ بْنِ إِبْرَاهِيمَ قَالَ: سَمِعْتُ إِبْرَاهِيمَ بْنَ سَعْدِ بْنِ أَبِي وَقَّاصٍ، يُحَدِّثُ عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنِ النَّبِيِّ ﷺ أَنَّهُ قَالَ لِعَلِيٍّ: «أَلاَ تَرْضَى أَنْ تَكُونَ مِنِّي بِمَنْزِلَةِ هَارُونَ مِنْ مُوسَى؟».

Comments:

a. The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ spoke these words to 'Ali ﷺ when the Prophet ﷺ set out for the battle of Tabuk, and charged 'Ali ﷺ to look after the affairs of Al-Madinah in his absence. 'Ali ﷺ grieved at being left out from Jihâd (fighting in the cause of Allâh) and said: "Do you want to leave me with children and women?" It was in response to this that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ spoke the words quoted above. (Bukhari: 4416).

b. Some people have tried to deduce from this Hadith proof of 'Ali's being the immediate successor of the Prophet ﷺ. Hârun ﷺ, they argue, was the successor of the Prophet Musa ﷺ, therefore 'Ali ﷺ must also be considered the rightful successor of the Prophet Muhammad ﷺ as caliph of the community. It is because of this assumption that they question the validity of the appointment of the first three caliphs and hold them guilty of usurping the right of 'Ali ﷺ. This is a clear case of misconception as the commission of Hârun ﷺ as his brother's deputy was just a temporary arrangement meant to last only as long as Musa ﷺ lived. Similarly, 'Ali's commission to work as the Prophet's deputy during the Prophet's military campaign of Tabuk was for a certain period of time during the lifetime of the Prophet ﷺ. Moreover, Hârun ﷺ never succeeded Musa ﷺ, as he had already died during the lifetime of his brother. It was in fact Yusha' bin Nun ﷺ who assumed the mantle of Musa ﷺ after his death. Thus, even if the Hadith is interpreted as containing a promise of 'Ali's caliphate, there is no basis to believe that he would be the first caliph after the Prophet's demise, without anyone intervening in between.

116. It was narrated that Barâ' bin 'Azib said: "We returned with the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ from his Hajj that he had performed, and we stopped at some point on the road. He commanded that prayer should be performed in congregation, then he took the hand of 'Ali and said: 'Am I not dearer to the believers than their own selves?' They said: 'Yes indeed.' He said: 'Am I not dearer to every believer than his own self?' They said: 'Yes indeed.' He said: 'This man is the friend of those whose master I am.' O Allâh, take as friends those who take him as a friend, and take as enemies those who take him as an enemy.'" (Da'if)

١١٦ - حَدَّثَنَا عَلِيُّ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو الْحُسَيْنِ: أَخْبَرَنِي حَمَّادُ بْنُ سَلَمَةَ، عَنْ عَلِيِّ ابْنِ زَيْدِ بْنِ جُدْعَانَ، عَنْ عَدِيِّ بْنِ ثَابِتٍ، عَنِ الْبَرَاءِ بْنِ عَازِبٍ، قَالَ: أَقْبَلْنَا مَعَ رَسُولِ اللهِ ﷺ فِي حَجَّتِهِ الَّتِي حَجَّ، فَنَزَلَ فِي بَعْضِ الطَّرِيقِ، فَأَمَرَ الصَّلَاةَ جَامِعَةً، فَأَخَذَ بِيَدِ عَلِيٍّ، فَقَالَ: «أَلَسْتُ أَوْلَىٰ بِالْمُؤْمِنِينَ مِنْ أَنْفُسِهِمْ؟» قَالُوا: بَلَى. قَالَ: «أَلَسْتُ أَوْلَىٰ بِكُلِّ مُؤْمِنٍ مِنْ نَفْسِهِ؟» قَالُوا: بَلَى. قَالَ: «فَهٰذَا وَلِيُّ مَنْ أَنَا مَوْلَاهُ، اللَّهُمَّ وَالِ مَنْ وَالَاهُ، اللَّهُمَّ عَادِ مَنْ عَادَاهُ».

Comments:

a. The Prophet ﷺ spoke these words in praise of 'Ali ﷺ when he reached the place known as Ghadir Khum (Lake of Khum) on his way back from the Farewell Pilgrimage. An expression of proximity and close relationship with 'Ali ﷺ was considered necessary by the Prophet ﷺ because some people had come up with complaints against him who had just returned from Yemen.

b. Some people have used even these remarks to establish 'Ali's title to being Prophet's immediate successor as caliph, although proximity of relationship or friendship has nothing to do with title for caliphate.
c. The tradition also contains condemnation of the Khârijites who denied the merits of 'Ali ﷺ, as well as of those extremists among Shi'ahs who had deified 'Ali ﷺ, as a consequence of which he had punished them with death. (Bukhâri: 6922) As regards our attitude towards 'Ali ﷺ, the Hadith simply means that we must have a feeling of love and not of hatred or ill-will towards him.

117. It was narrated that 'Abdur-Rahmân bin Abu Laila said: "Abu Laila used to travel with 'Ali, and he used to wear summer clothes in winter and winter clothes in summer. We said: 'Why don't you ask him (about that)?' He said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ sent for me and my eyes were sore, on the Day of Khaibar. I said: 'O Messenger of Allâh, my eyes are sore.' He put some spittle into my eyes, then he said: 'O Allâh, take heat and cold away from him.' I never felt hot or cold again after that day. He [the Prophet ﷺ] said: 'I will send a man who loves Allâh and His Messenger, and whom Allâh and His Messenger love, and he is not one who flees from the battlefield.' The people craned their necks to see, and he sent for 'Ali and gave it (the banner) to him." (Da'if)

١١٧ - حَدَّثَنَا عُثْمَانُ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا وَكِيعٌ: حَدَّثَنَا ابْنُ أَبِي لَيْلَىٰ: حَدَّثَنَا الْحَكَمُ، عَنْ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمٰنِ بْنِ أَبِي لَيْلَى قَالَ: كَانَ أَبُو لَيْلَى يَسِيرُ مَعَ عَلِيٍّ، فَكَانَ يَلْبَسُ ثِيَابَ الصَّيْفِ فِي الشِّتَاءِ، وَثِيَابَ الشِّتَاءِ فِي الصَّيْفِ. فَقُلْنَا: لَوْ سَأَلْتَهُ. فَقَالَ: إِنَّ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ بَعَثَ إِلَيَّ وَأَنَا أَرْمَدُ الْعَيْنِ، يَوْمَ خَيْبَرَ. قُلْتُ: يَا رَسُولَ اللهِ إِنِّي أَرْمَدُ الْعَيْنِ، فَتَفَلَ فِي عَيْنِي، ثُمَّ قَالَ: «اللَّهُمَّ أَذْهِبْ عَنْهُ الْحَرَّ وَالْبَرْدَ» قَالَ: فَمَا وَجَدْتُ حَرًّا وَلاَ بَرْداً بَعْدَ يَوْمَئِذٍ. وَقَالَ: «لأَبْعَثَنَّ رَجُلاً يُحِبُّ اللهَ وَرَسُولَهُ، وَيُحِبُّهُ اللهُ وَرَسُولُهُ، لَيْسَ بِفَرَّارٍ» فَتَشَرَّفَ لَهُ النَّاسُ، فَبَعَثَ إِلَى عَلِيٍّ، فَأَعْطَاهَا إِيَّاهُ.

Comments:

a. The battle of Khaibar took place in 7 AH. When Allâh granted the Muslims victory over the Jews, the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ concluded with them a share-cropping agreement for 50% produce of the dates. It may be mentioned here that Khaibar is on the road to Syria from Al-Madinah, and is known as the land of forts and date palms.

b. Successors of the Companions revered the Companions so much, that they dared not ask them questions not directly related to education or knowledge. That is why, when they wished to know why 'Ali ﷺ did not put on clothes appropriate for various seasons, they asked the question through one of their associates who was relatively free with him.
c. 'Ali's being specially summoned to lead the army of the believers is a proof of his special status.
d. The eyes of 'Ali ﷺ getting cured from the spittle of the Prophet ﷺ is a miraculous phenomenon that is another proof of his prophethood.
e. The Hadith also makes it clear that the word Maula used in the previous Hadith means 'friend'.

a. 'Ali is a part of me', is an expression denoting his extreme proximity and closeness to the Prophet ﷺ.
b. 'Representing someone' means delivering and proclaiming the message on

c. It could also mean fulfilling financial obligations, i..e, he had been authorized to carry out sale-purchase transactions on behalf of the Prophet ﷺ during his lifetime

120. It was narrated that 'Abbâd bin 'Abdullâh said: " Ali said: 'I am the slave of Allâh and the brother of His Messenger ﷺ. I am the greatest teller of the truth (Siddiq Akbar), and no one will say this after me but a liar. I prayed seven years before the people." (Da'if)

Comments:

It is a Weak Hadith. Nâsiruddin Albani has declared it a fabrication. A scrutiny of the text will also reveal that it is highly improbable that 'Ali ﷺ would claim that he alone prayed with the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ for seven years which was quite a long period, since after the declaration of the Prophet's mission. We know that, even during the first three years, a number of people in Makkah had accepted Islam through secret preaching. Moreover, how could a virtuous and modest servant of Allâh like 'Ali ﷺ utter words of boasting like "I am Siddiq Akbar," (the greatest of the truthful)? It is, thus, undoubtedly an extremely weak and false Hadith.

121. It was narrated that Sa'd bin Abu Waqqâs said: "Mu'âwiyah came on one of his pilgrimages and Sa'd entered upon him. They mentioned 'Ali, and Mu'âwiyah criticized him. Sa'd became angry and said: 'Are you saying this of a man of whom I heard the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ say: "If I am a person's close friend, 'Ali is also his close friend." And I heard him say: "You are to me like Hârun was to Musa, except that there will be no Prophet after me." And I heard him say: "I will give the banner today to a man who loves

Comments:

a. It was a difference based purely on judgment. It is, therefore, not allowed that in such matters we take to reviling a Companion of the Prophet ﷺ.
b. If a person is being criticised in absentia, those present on the occasion are required to speak for him and mention his good points.
c. The Hadith refers to a number of the virtues of 'Ali رضي الله عنه, some of which have already been mentioned in the previously quoted Ahâdith.

(5/11) The Virtues Of Zubair رضي الله عنه

(٥/ ١١) فَضْلُ الزُّبَيْرِ رَضِيَ اللهُ عَنْهُ

His full name is Zubair bin 'Awwâm bin Khuwailid bin Asad bin 'Abdul-'Uzza bin Qusai bin Kilâb bin Murrah bin Ka'b bin Lu'ai Qurashi Asadi. His mother Safiyyah, was the paternal aunt of the Prophet ﷺ, his grandfather was the father of Khadijah the Mother of the Believers. He accepted Islam at the age of 15, and met his martyrdom on 10th Jumâdah Al-'Ula, 36 AH during prayer, at the hands of Ibn Jarmuz, approximately at the age of 64. Zubair رضي الله عنه had a charming and handsome figure. He was tall, fairly built, and of brown complexion. He had a sparse beard, and long hair, and enjoyed perfect health at the time of martyrdom.

122. It was narrated that Jâbir said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said on the Day of Quraizah: 'Who will bring us news of the people?' Zubair said: 'I will.' The Prophet ﷺ said: 'Who will bring us news of the people?' Zubair said: 'I will,' three times. The Prophet ﷺ said: 'Every Prophet has a Hawâri (sincere supporter or disciple), and my Hawâri is Zubair.'" (Sahih) ١٢٢ - حَدَّثَنَا عَلِيُّ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا وَكِيعٌ: حَدَّثَنَا سُفْيَانُ، عَنْ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ الْمُنْكَدِرِ، عَنْ جَابِرٍ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ، يَوْمَ قُرَيْظَةَ: «مَنْ يَأْتِينَا بِخَبَرِ الْقَوْمِ؟» فَقَالَ الزُّبَيْرُ: أَنَا، فَقَالَ: «مَنْ يَأْتِينَا بِخَبَرِ الْقَوْمِ؟» قَالَ الزُّبَيْرُ: أَنَا، ثَلَاثًا، فَقَالَ: النَّبِيُّ ﷺ: «لِكُلِّ نَبِيٍّ حَوَارِيٌّ، وَإِنَّ حَوَارِيَّ الزُّبَيْرُ».

Comments:

a. The military campaign against Banu Quraizah started just after the Battle of the Trenches. Thus, for all intent and purpose, the two battles were one battle. The term "The Day of Quraizah" here refers to the event of a particular day.

123. It was narrated that Zubair said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ named his parents together for me on the Day of Uhud."[1] (Sahih)

١٢٣ - حَدَّثَنَا عَلِيُّ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو مُعَاوِيَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا هِشَامُ بْنُ عُرْوَةَ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ الزُّبَيْرِ، عَنِ الزُّبَيْرِ قَالَ: لَقَدْ جَمَعَ لِي رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ أَبَوَيْهِ يَوْمَ أُحُدٍ.

تخريج: أخرجه البخاري، فضائل أصحاب النبي ﷺ، باب مناقب الزبير بن العوام رضي الله عنه، ح:٣٧٢٠، ومسلم، فضائل الصحابة، باب من فضائل طلحة والزبير رضي الله عنهما، ح:٢٤١٦ من حديث هشام به.

Comments:

a. It was also during the Battle of Uhud that the Prophet ﷺ had named the his parents together for Sa'd bin Abu Waqqas ﷺ, and said: "Shoot the arrows, may my father and mother be sacrificed for you!" (Bukhâri: 6184)

b. Both Zubair and Sa'd bin Abu Waqqas ﷺ are of those ten persons who were given the good news of Paradise in their life.

124. It was narrated from Hishâm bin 'Urwah that his father said: "Aishah said to me: 'O 'Urwah, your two fathers were of those who answered (the Call of) Allâh and the Messenger (Muhammad) after being wounded,"[2] (they were) Abu Bakr and Zubair." (Sahih)

تخريج: [إسناده صحيح] أخرجه الحميدي عن سفيان به، وصححه الحاكم على شرط الشيخين، ووافقه الذهبي.

Comments:

a. The tradition refers to the events that had taken place after the Battle of Uhud. The Prophet ﷺ pursued the enemy until Hamrâ' Al-Asad, at a distance of eight miles. When the idolaters got the news of the pursuit, they were frightened and went back without invading Al-Madinah. (See The Sealed Nectar, p. 291).

b. 'Urwah bin Zubair is a nephew of 'Âishah ﷺ. His mother is Asmâ' bint Abu Bakr ﷺ. Abu Bakr ﷺ is, thus, his maternal grand father and Zubair bin 'Awwâm is his father.

[1] Meaning, he said: "May my father and mother be sacrificed for you."

[2] Âl 'Imrân 3:172.

(٦/ ١١) فَضْلُ طَلْحَةَ بْنِ عُبَيْدِ اللهِ رَضِيَ اللهُ عَنْهُ

His full name is Talhah bin 'Ubaidullâh bin 'Uthmân bin 'Amr bin Ka'b bin Sa'd bin Taim bin Murrah bin Ka'b bin Lu'ai bin Ghâlib Quraishi Taimi, nicknamed Abu Muhammad. He enjoyed many distinctions in Islam: He was one of the Ten given the good tiding of Paradise. He was the eighth entrant into Islam and fifth among those who accepted Islam by the preaching of Abu Bakr ﷺ. He was a member of the Consultative Committee of 'Umar ﷺ, and was killed on Thursday, 10th of Jamadaul-Ukhra, 36 AH, in the Battle of the Camel, by an arrow shot at the behest of Marwân bin Hakam.

125. It was narrated from Jâbir that Talhah passed by the Prophet ﷺ and he said: "A martyr walking upon the face of the earth." (Da'if)

تخريج: [ضعيف] أخرجه الترمذي، المناقب، باب مناقب أبي محمد طلحة بن عبيدالله رضي الله عنه، ح:٣٧٣٩ من حديث الصلت بن دينار به، وقال: «غريب» * الصلت متروك كما قال أحمد وغيره (تهذيب)، وللحديث شواهد ضعيفة، ولم أجد له طريقًا صحيحًا ولا حسنًا، والحديث الآتي شاهد له معنوي.

Comments:

a. The authenticity of this Hadith is under dispute. Shaikh Albâni considers it sound. (Silsilatul-Ahâdithus-Sahihah: 126) The Hadith foretells that he will die a martyr which is a matter of great honour.

b. He met his martyrdom during the Battle of the Camel, which means that the believers killed in battles between the Companions are not sinners before Allâh, or else the news of his death would not have been given as a glad tiding.

126. It was narrated that Mu'âwiyah bin Abu Sufyân said: "The Prophet ﷺ looked at Talhah and said: 'This is one of those who fulfilled their covenant.'"[1] (Hasan)

١٢٦ - حَدَّثَنَا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ الأَزْهَرِ: حَدَّثَنَا عَمْرُو بْنُ عُثْمَانَ: حَدَّثَنَا زُهَيْرُ بْنُ مُعَاوِيَةَ: حَدَّثَنِي إِسْحَاقُ بْنُ يَحْيَى بْنِ طَلْحَةَ، عَنْ مُوسَى بْنِ طَلْحَةَ، عَنْ مُعَاوِيَةَ بْنِ أَبِي سُفْيَانَ قَالَ: نَظَرَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ إِلَى طَلْحَةَ، فَقَالَ: «هٰذَا

[1] Referring to Al-Ahzab 33:23.

مِمَّنْ قَضَى نَحْبَهُ».

تخريج: [حسن] أخرجه الترمذي، تفسير القرآن، باب ومن سورة الأحزاب، ح:٣٢٠٢ من حديث إسحاق به، وقال: «غريب»، وصححه الحاكم، فتعقبه الذهبي * إسحاق بن يحيى ضعيف (تقريب)، وله طريق حسن عند الترمذي، ح:٣٢٠٣، وقال: «حسن غريب».

Comments:

The Hadith accords great honor to Talhah ﷺ by describing his death as a covenant fulfilled by him. In other words, the deeds done by him were considered so meritorious that he was ranked as a martyr even before his death.

127. It was narrated that Musa bin Talhah said: We were with Mu'âwiyah and he said: "I heard the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ say: 'Talhah is one of those who fulfilled their covenant.'" (Hasan) ١٢٧ - حَدَّثَنَا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ سِنَانٍ: حَدَّثَنَا يَزِيدُ ابْنُ هَارُونَ: أَنْبَأَنَا إِسْحَاقُ، عَنْ مُوسَى بْنِ طَلْحَةَ قَالَ: كُنَّا عِنْدَ مُعَاوِيَةَ، فَقَالَ: أَشْهَدُ لَسَمِعْتُ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ يَقُولُ: «طَلْحَةُ مِمَّنْ قَضَى نَحْبَهُ».

128. It was narrated that Qais said: "I saw the paralyzed hand of Talhah, with which he had defended the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ on the Day of Uhud." (Sahih)

١٢٨ - حَدَّثَنَا عَلِيُّ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا وَكِيعٌ، عَنْ إِسْمَاعِيلَ، عَنْ قَيْسٍ، قَالَ: رَأَيْتُ يَدَ طَلْحَةَ شَلَّاءَ، وَقَى بِهَا رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ، يَوْمَ أُحُدٍ.

تخريج: [صحيح] أخرجه البخاري، المغازي، باب إذ همت طائفتان منكم أن تفشلا والله وليهما، ح:٤٠٦٣ من حديث وكيع به.

Comments: 127 & 128

'Defending by the hand' here refers to the fact that he put his hand in front to block the arrows being directed by the enemy at the Prophet ﷺ, so as to keep him from harm. This had the effect of permanently paralyzing his hand. Probably there was no shield at hand at that moment.

(7/11) The Virtues Of Sa'd Bin Abu Waqqâs ﷺ

(٧/١١) فَضْلُ سَعْدِ بْنِ أَبِي وَقَّاصٍ رَضِيَ اللهُ عَنْهُ

His full name is Sa'd bin Mâlik bin Uhaib bin 'Abd Manâf bin Zahra bin Kilâb Qurashi Zahri, nicknamed Abu Ishâq, born approximately thirty years before emigration. He was one of the Ten given the good tidings of Paradise, a famous Arab horseman, an important member of the Consultative Committee of 'Umar ﷺ, and was the first archer in Jihâd (war waged for the cause of Allâh). He was the maternal uncle of the Prophet ﷺ, and the third entrant into Islam. He founded the city of Kufah at the behest of 'Umar ﷺ. He died in a valley of Al-Madinah known as Aqiq at the age of fifty.

129. It was narrated that 'Ali said: "I never saw the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ mention his parents together[1] for anyone except Sa'd bin Mâlik. He said to him on the Day of Uhud: 'Shoot, Sa'd! May my father and mother be sacrificed for you!'" (Sahih) ١٢٩ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ بَشَّارٍ: حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ ابْنُ جَعْفَرٍ: حَدَّثَنَا شُعْبَةُ، عَنْ سَعْدِ بْنِ إِبْرَاهِيمَ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ شَدَّادٍ، عَنْ عَلِيٍّ قَالَ: مَا رَأَيْتُ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ جَمَعَ أَبَوَيْهِ لِأَحَدٍ غَيْرِ سَعْدِ بْنِ مَالِكٍ، فَإِنَّهُ قَالَ لَهُ، يَوْمَ أُحُدٍ: «ارْمِ سَعْدُ! فِدَاكَ أَبِي وَأُمِّي».

Comments:

Zubair ﷺ also enjoys this distinction, as reported under Hadith 123. It may be that either 'Ali ﷺ had no knowledge of it, or else he did not hear those words in relation to Zubair ﷺ directly from the Prophet ﷺ, while the comments about Sa'd ﷺ were made in his presence.

130. It was narrated that Sa'eed bin Musayyab said: "I heard Sa'd bin Abu Waqqâs say: 'The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ mentioned his parents together for me on the Day of Uhud. He said: 'Shoot, Sa'd! May my father and mother be sacrified for you!'" (Sahih)

It is certainly a matter of honor for anyone to be the first in any work related to Jihâd, and there is no harm describing such a feat as part of Allâh's bounty, and the individual's thanks and gratitude to Him for the same.

132. It was narrated that Hâshim bin Hâshim said: "I heard Sa'eed bin Musayyab say: 'Sa'd bin Abu Waqqâs said: 'No one else became Muslim on the same day as I did; for seven days I was one-third of Islam.' " (Sahih)

تخريج: [صحيح] أخرجه البخاري، فضائل الصحابة، باب مناقب سعد بن أبي قاص الزهري، ح:٣٧٢٧ من حديث ابن أبي زائده به.

Comments:

By all accounts Abu Bakr ﷺ was the first among the free persons to accept Islam, and there was just one more entrant to Islam between him and Sa'd ﷺ. Thus, Sa'd ﷺ rightly earns the title and honor of being included in the list of those early Companions who are foremost in good deeds.

(٨/ ١١) فَضَائِلُ الْعَشَرَةِ رَضِيَ اللهُ عَنْهُمْ

133. It was narrated that Sa'eed bin Zaid bin 'Amr bin Nufail said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ was one of the Ten (given glad tidings of Paradise). He ﷺ said: 'Abu

١٣٣ - حَدَّثَنَا هِشَامُ بْنُ عَمَّارٍ: حَدَّثَنَا عِيسَى ابْنُ يُونُسَ: حَدَّثَنَا صَدَقَةُ بْنُ الْمُثَنَّى، أَبُو الْمُثَنَّى النَّخَعِيُّ، عَنْ جَدِّهِ رِيَاحِ بْنِ الْحَارِثِ،

Bakr will be in Paradise; 'Umar will be in Paradise; 'Uthmân will be in Paradise; 'Ali will be in Paradise; Talhah will be in Paradise; Zubair will be in Paradise; Sa'd will be in Paradise; 'Abdur-Rahmân will be in Paradise." He was asked: 'Who will be the ninth?' He said: 'I will.'" (Sahih)

تخريج: [إسناده صحيح] أخرجه أبو داود، السنة، باب في الخلفاء، ح:٤٦٥٠ من حديث صدقة به.

Comments:

The Hadith names nine people given glad timings of Paradise. Together with them the tenth is Abu 'Ubaidah bin Jarrâh. These are known as "The Ten given glad tidings of Paradise." These ten rank higher than all other Companions of the Prophet ﷺ.

134. It was narrated that Sa'eed bin Zaid said: "I bear witness that I heard the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ say: 'Stand firm, O (mountain of) Hirâ', for there is no one upon you but a Prophet, a Siddiq or a martyr.'" Then he listed them as follows: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ, Abu Bakr, 'Umar, 'Uthmân, 'Ali, Talhah, Zubair, Sa'd, Ibn 'Awf and Sa'eed bin Zaid." (Sahih)

تخريج: [حسن] أخرجه أبو داود، السنة، باب في الخلفاء، ح:٤٦٤٨ من حديث حصين به، وصححه الترمذي، ح:٣٧٥٧، وابن حبان.

Comments:

a. The Hadith is explicit on the superiority of these Companions, because they accompanied the Prophet ﷺ on so many occasions.

b. The Prophet ﷺ spoke these words when the mountain of Hirâ' started shaking. The mountain stabilized the moment he spoke the words: "Stand firm." It is certainly a miracle performed by the Prophet ﷺ.

(٩/ ١١) فَضْلُ أَبِي عُبَيْدَةَ بْنِ الْجَرَّاحِ [رَضِيَ اللهُ عَنْهُ]

His full name is 'Âmir bin 'Abdullâh bin Jarrâh bin Hilâl bin 'Uhaib bin Dabba bin Hârith bin Fihr Qurashi. He became known by the nickname Abu 'Ubaidah, the last part Jarrâh being the name of his grandfather instead of the father. He joins the genealogy of the Prophet ﷺ at his forefather, Fihr. His father never accepted Islam and was killed at the hand of this son of his. He accepted Islam, at the invitation of Abu Bakr ﷺ at the age of 29. He is the ninth entrant into Islam. He died during the plague epidemic of 'Amwâs in 8 AH, approximately at the age of 58.

135. It was narrated from Hudhaifah that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said to the people of Najrân: "I will send a trustworthy man with you, who is indeed trustworthy." The people craned their necks to see, and he sent Abu 'Ubaidah bin Jarrâh. (Sahih) ١٣٥ - حَدَّثَنَا عَلِيُّ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا وَكِيعٌ، عَنْ سُفْيَانَ؛ ح: وَحَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ بَشَّارٍ: حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ جَعْفَرٍ: حَدَّثَنَا شُعْبَةُ. جَمِيعاً عَنْ أَبِي إِسْحَاقَ، عَنْ صِلَةَ بْنِ زُفَرَ، عَنْ حُذَيْفَةَ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ قَالَ، لِأَهْلِ نَجْرَانَ: «سَأَبْعَثُ مَعَكُمْ رَجُلاً أَمِيناً، حَقَّ أَمِينٍ». قَالَ: فَتَشَرَّفَ لَهُ النَّاسُ، فَبَعَثَ أَبَا عُبَيْدَةَ بْنَ الْجَرَّاحِ.

Comments:

a. The Prophet ﷺ deputed Abu 'Ubaidah bin Jarrâh ﷺ to collect the wealth agreed upon in the peace treaty. It was on this occasion that he spoke these words. Soon after, those people accepted Islam. (The Sealed Nectar, p. 452)
b. For offices involving financial responsibilities we should only appoint people who are trustworthy. Alongside other qualities, trustworthiness is the most important attribute for appointment to such offices.

136. It was narrated from 'Abdullâh that the Messenger of Allâh said to Abu 'Ubaidah bin Jarrâh: "This is the trustworthy man of this Ummah." (Sahih)

١٣٦ - حَدَّثَنَا عَلِيُّ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا يَحْيَى ابْنُ آدَمَ: حَدَّثَنَا إِسْرَائِيلُ، عَنْ أَبِي إِسْحَاقَ، عَنْ صِلَةَ بْنِ زُفَرَ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللهِ

ﷺ قَالَ لأَبِي عُبَيْدَةَ بْنِ الْجَرَّاحِ: «هٰذَا أَمِينُ هٰذِهِ الأُمَّةِ».

Comments:

That is the reason why he is known as the "trustworthy man of this Ummah (community of the believers)."

(10/11) The Virtues Of 'Abdullâh Bin Mas'ud ﷺ

(١٠/ ١١) فَضْلُ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ مَسْعُودٍ رَضِيَ اللهُ عَنْهُ

His full name is Abdullâh bin Mas'ud bin Ghâfil bin Habib bin Shamkh bin Fâr bin Makhzum Al-Hadhali, nicknamed Abu 'Abdul-Rahmân. His mother's name was Umm 'Abd Wadd. He embraced Islam in its early phase, and says that he was the sixth entrant into Islam. He died in 32 AH in Al-Madinah at the age of 63. In keeping with his will he was buried at night.

137. It was narrated that 'Ali said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'If I were to appoint anyone as my successor without consulting anyone, I would have appointed Ibn Umm 'Abd.'" (Da'if)

تخريج: [إسناده ضعيف] أخرجه الترمذي، المناقب، باب مناقب عبدالله بن مسعود رضي الله عنه، ح:٣٨٠٨ من حديث أبي إسحاق به، وقال: «غريب إنما نعرفه من حديث الحارث عن علي» [انظر، ح:٩٥].

Comments:

There is no need to try to rationalize the purported comments because the Hadith itself is weak.

138. It was narrated from 'Abdullâh bin Mas'ud that Abu Bakr and 'Umar gave him the glad tidings that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ had said: "Whoever would like to recite the Qur'ân as fresh as when it was revealed, let him recite it like Ibn 'Umm 'Abd.'" (Sahih)

تخريج: [حسن] أخرجه أحمد ١/ ٤٤٥، ٤٥٤ من حديث عاصم به، أبو بكر بن عياش تابعه زائدة وغيره، وباقي السند حسن.

Comments:

a. The Hadith praises Abdullâh bin Mas'ud ﷺ for his manner of reciting the Qur'ân. The expression 'as fresh as when it was revealed' means that Abdullâh bin Mas'ud ﷺ has a precise technique of producing the various sounds and words of the Qur'ân without the slightest deviation from the established norm.

b. Just as it is important to read the Qur'ân with understanding and follow its teachings, it is also essential and praiseworthy to recite it to the best of our ability. This shows the importance of learning the science of reciting the Qur'ân with the accuracy of pronunciation and intonation.

139. It was narrated that 'Abdullâh said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said to me: 'The sign that you have been permitted to come in is that you raise the curtain and that you hear me speaking quietly, until I forbid you.' (i.e. unless I forbid you)." (Sahih)

تخريج: [صحيح] أخرجه مسلم، السلام، باب جواز جعل الإذن رفع حجاب، أو غيره من العلامات، ح: ٢١٦٩ من حديث عبدالله بن إدريس وغيره به.

Comments:

'Abdullâh bin Mas'ud ﷺ would most of the time keep himself in attendance with the Prophet ﷺ, and was often called for various errands. That is why the rules of entry had been relaxed for him. Even slaves and slave girls have been exempted in the Noble Qur'ân from seeking permission before entry, except on three occasions in the day and night. (24:58)

(11/11) The Virtues Of 'Abbâs bin 'Abdul-Muttalib ﷺ

(١١/١١) فَضْلُ الْعَبَّاسِ بْنِ عَبْدِ الْمُطَّلِبِ رَضِيَ اللهُ عَنْهُ

His full name is 'Abbâs bin 'Abdul-Muttalib bin Hâshim bin 'Abd Manâf bin Qusai bin Kilâb bin Murrah; nicknamed Abul-Fadl. He is Prophet's uncle. His mother Natilah, bint Janâb bin Kulaib was the first woman to clothe the Sacred House in silk. Abbâs ﷺ was two years older than the Prophet ﷺ, and was the chief of the tribe of Quraish in the pre-Islamic era, and performed the voluntary duty of providing water to the pilgrims. He lost his eyesight in old age. He died in Al-Madinah on Friday the 12th of Ramadân, at the age of 88, two years before the martyrdom of 'Uthmân ﷺ.

140. It was narrated that 'Abbâs bin 'Abdul-Muttalib said: "We used to come across groups of Quraish who would be talking, but they would stop talking (when we approached). We mentioned that to the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ and he said: 'What is the matter with people who talk, then when they see a man from my family they stop talking? By Allâh, faith will not enter a person's heart until he loves them for the sake of Allâh and because of their closeness to me.'" (Da'if)

141. It was narrated that 'Abdullâh bin 'Amr said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Allâh has taken me as a close friend (Khalil) as He took Ibrâhim as a close friend. So my house and the house of Ibrâhim will be opposite to one another on the Day of Resurrection, and 'Abbâs will be in between us, a believer between two close friends." (Maudu')

Comments: 140 & 141

Both the Ahâdith quoted here are unauthentic. He is nevertheless a highly respected uncle and Companion of the Prophet ﷺ. This by itself is no insignificant matter of prestige and honor.

(١١/١٢) فَضْلُ الْحَسَنِ وَالْحُسَيْنِ ابْنَيْ عَلِيِّ بْنِ أَبِي طَالِبٍ رَضِيَ اللهُ عَنْهُمْ

Comments:

The Hadith affirms the excellence of Hasan ﷺ in that love for him is the means of getting the love of Allâh.

Comments:

a. Hasan and Husain were the beloved grand children of the Prophet of Allâh ﷺ). Love for the Prophet ﷺ, therefore, demands that we love all those whom the Prophet ﷺ loved.
b. Love for the Prophet's family and the Companions is not a matter of mere lip service. The essence of love for them in fact lies in following their life examples.

144. It was narrated from Sa'eed bin Abu Râshid that Ya'la bin Murrah told them that they had gone out with the Prophet ﷺ to a meal to which they had been invited, and Husain was there playing in the street. The Prophet ﷺ came in front of the people and stretched out his hands, and the child started to run here and there. The Prophet ﷺ made him laugh until he caught him, then he put one hand under his chin and the other on his head and kissed him, and said, "Husain is part of me and I am part of him. May Allâh love those who love Husain. Husain is a tribe among tribes." (Hasan)

(١٣/١١) فَضْلُ عَمَّارِ بْنِ يَاسِرٍ

His full name is 'Ammâr bin Yâsir bin 'Âmir bin Mâlik bin Kynânah bin Qais bin Husain bin 'Ans, nicknamed Yaqzân. His mother's name is Sumayyah. He embraced Islam with his parents in its early stage, and withstood tortures at the hands of the idolaters. He participated in the battle of Siffin on the side of 'Ali ﷺ and met his martyrdom at the age of 93, in the year 37 AH, at the hands of the Syrian army.

146. It was narrated that 'Ali bin Abu Tâlib said: "I was sitting with the Prophet ﷺ, and 'Ammâr bin Yâsir asked permission to enter. The Prophet ﷺ said: 'Let him in, welcome to the good and the purified.'" (Hasan)

Comments:

a. "Purified" here means the one whom Allâh has blessed with sincerity, and has exempt from traits and manners unbecoming of a person possessed of complete faith.

a. The Hadith is an affirmation of Ammâr's being a sincere believer.
b. It is allowed to praise a person in his face if we are certain that it will not give him false vanity or pride.

Comments:

This and other similar Ahâdith have been taken to mean that, in the dispute between 'Ali ؓ and Mu'âwiyah ؓ, 'Ali's position was nearer the truth because, in that battle, Ammâr ؓ had sided with 'Ali ؓ.

(١٤/ ١١) فَضْلُ سَلْمَانَ وَأَبِي ذَرٍّ وَالْمِقْدَادِ

Salman: When asked about his genealogy, he replied: "I'm Salmân the son of Islam." His family tree before Islam is as follows: Mâbah (or Rouzbeh) bin Budakhshân bin Moursalân bin Bahbudhân bin Firouz bin Sahrak. He is nicknamed 'Abdullâh, but was famous by his title Salmân Al-Khair He was born in a Zoroastrian family, then spent considerable time in getting Christian education and training, but was finally blessed with the creed of Islam.

Abu Dharr: His full name: Jundub bin Junâdah bin Sufyân bin 'Ubaid bin Harâm bin Ghifâr Al-Ghifâri, was popularly known by his nickname Abu Dharr. He was the fourth or fifth among Muslims when he embraced Islam in Makkah. He died in Rabadhah in 23 AH. 'Abdullâh led his funeral prayer. He occupied a very high place in the attribute of piety and abstinence from worldly pleasures. He was completely averse to accepting official gifts and positions of authority. He was absolutely focused on aversion to this world and fondness for life in the next world.

Miqdad: His full name is Miqdâd bin 'Amr bin Tha'labah bin Mâlik bin Rabi'ah bin Thumâmah bin Matrud bin 'Amr bin Sa'd (according to Al-Isti'âb). He was an ally of Aswad bin 'Abd Yaghuth in the pre-Islamic era. Aswad had adopted him as his son. That is the reason why he became known as Miqdâd bin Aswad in Makkah and elsewhere. He was the first to openly declare his Islam in Makkah. In the battle of Badr he only possessed a horse. He thus enjoys the honour of being the first horseman to take part in Jihâd for the sake of Allâh. He died during the caliphate of 'Uthmân ﷺ at the age of seventy. His funeral prayer was led by 'Uthmân ﷺ.

149. Ibn Buraidah narrated that his father said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Allâh has commanded me to love four people, and He told me that He also loves them.' 150. It was narrated that 'Abdullâh bin Mas'ud said: "The first people to declare their Islam publicly were seven: The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ, Abu Bakr, 'Ammâr and his mother Sumayyah, Suhaib, Bilâl and Miqdâd. With regard to the Messenger of Allâh, Allâh protected him through his paternal uncle Abu Tâlib. With regard to Abu Bakr, Allâh protected him through his people. As for the rest, the idolaters seized them and made them wear coats of chain-mail and exposed them to the intense heat of the sun. There was none of them who did not do what they wanted them to do, except for Bilâl. He did not care what happened to him for the sake of Allâh, and his people did not care what happened to him. Then they gave him to the children, who took him around in the streets of Makkah while he was saying, 'Ahad, Ahad (One, One).'" (Hasan)

Comments:

a. Whatever the Companions ﷺ said with their tongues, in conformity with the wishes of the idolaters, does not adversely affect their rank or status, since the Qur'ân itself gives us the permission to articulate the words of disbelief to protect our lives, if persecution and torture reach beyond the limits of human endurance (see 16:106).

b. This shows the steadfastness and greatness of Bilâl ﷺ, that he chose the path of determination and resolution instead of licence and permission.

151. It was narrated that Anas bin Mâlik said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'I have been tortured for the sake of Allâh as no one else has, and I have suffered fear for the sake of Allâh as no one else has. I have spent three days when Bilâl and I had no food that any living being

Comments:

The Prophet ﷺ endured the cruelties of the idolaters much before his Companions. This shows that anyone who invites the people to the path of truth, must demonstrate more fortitude and determination so that he becomes an exemplar for others.

(١٥/ ١١) فَضَائِلُ بِلاَلٍ

His full name is Bilâl bin Rabâh the Abyssinian, nicknamed Abu 'Abdul-Karim or Abu 'Abdullâh. His mother's name is Hamâmah. He was the Prophet's Mu'adhdhin and treasurer. He was a slave of Banu Jumah of Makkah. He embraced Islam at an early stage and endured great suffering at the hands of the idolaters. He ﷺ died after reaching the age of sixty in the year 20 AH, in the territory of Syria.

152. It was narrated from Sâlim that a poet praised Bilâl bin 'Abdullâh and said: "Bilâl bin 'Abdullâh is better than any other Bilâl." Ibn 'Umar said: 'You are lying. The Bilâl of the Messenger of Allâh is better than any other Bilâl.'" (Da'if)

(١٦/ ١١) فَضَائِلُ خَبَّابٍ

His full name is Khabbâb bin Aratt bin Jandalah bin Sa'd bin Khuzaimah Al-Tamim, nicknamed Abu 'Abdullâh or Abu Ahmad or Abu Yahya. He was enslaved in the days of pre-Islamic Ignorance (Jâhiliyyah) during the plundering of a certain tribe, and was sold in Makkah. Umm Anmâr bint Sibâ' purchased him. He is the sixth among those who loudly proclaimed their Islam. The idolaters tortured him by making him lie over burning-hot stones that burned the flesh of his back. All these cruelties failed to break his determination. He died after a protracted illness at the age of seventy-three in 37 AH. 'Ali ﷺ led his funeral prayer. He was the first Companion to be buried in Kufah.

153. It was narrated that Abu Laila Al-Kindi said: "Khabbâb came to 'Umar and said: 'Come close, for no one deserves this meeting more than you, except 'Ammâr.' Then Khabbâb started to show him the marks on his back where the idolaters had tortured him." (Da'if) ١٥٣ - حَدَّثَنَا عَلِيُّ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ، وَعَمْرُو بْنُ عَبْدِ اللهِ، قَالاَ: حَدَّثَنَا وَكِيعٌ: حَدَّثَنَا سُفْيَانُ، عَنْ أَبِي إِسْحَاقَ، عَنْ أَبِي لَيْلَى الْكِنْدِيِّ قَالَ: جَاءَ خَبَّابٌ إِلَى عُمَرَ، فَقَالَ: ادْنُ، فَمَا أَحَدٌ أَحَقَّ بِهٰذَا الْمَجْلِسِ مِنْكَ، إِلَّا عَمَّارٌ، فَجَعَلَ خَبَّابٌ يُرِيهِ آثَاراً بِظَهْرِهِ مِمَّا عَذَّبَهُ الْمُشْرِكُونَ.

Comments:

a. 'Umar ﷺ seated Khabbâb ﷺ close to himself. This shows both his honour and esteem as well as 'Umar's ﷺ love for him.

b. Muslim rulers must give due honor and respect to those who strive for the glory of the faith and endure torture and persecution for its sake.

154. It was narrated from Anas bin Mâlik that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "The most merciful of my Ummah towards my Ummah is Abu Bakr; the one who adheres most sternly to the religion of Allâh is 'Umar; the most sincere of them in shyness and modesty is 'Uthmân; the best judge is 'Ali bin Abu Tâlib; the best in reciting the Book of Allâh is Ubayy bin Ka'b; the most knowledgeable of what is lawful and unlawful is Mu'âdh bin Jabal; and the most knowledgeable of the rules of inheritance (Farâ'id) is Zaid bin Thâbit. And every nation has a trustworthy guardian, and the trustworthy guardian of this Ummah is Abu 'Ubaidah bin Jarrâh." (Sahih)

a. The Hadith points out the special characteristics of certain Companions. Mention has been made here of the distinctive feature that characterizes each Companion, although the Companions were, in general terms, endowed with all such qualities.

b. A leader must be aware of the qualities of his associates and companions, so that he is able to entrust each one with the responsibility that he is best capable of performing.

(١١/١٧) فَضْلُ أَبِي ذَرٍّ

156. It was narrated that 'Abdullâh bin 'Amr said: "I heard the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ say: 'There is no one on earth, or under the sky, who speaks more truthfully than Abu Dharr.'" (Hasan)

Comments:

The Hadith does not mean that Abu Dharr ﷺ has outdone Abu Bakr ﷺ in superiority, since Abu Bakr ﷺ had many other virtues as well in which he was superior to Abu Dharr ﷺ.

(١٨/ ١١) فَضْلُ سَعْدِ بْنِ مُعَاذٍ

His full name is Sa'd bin Mu'âdh bin Nu'mân bin Imra'ul-Qais bin Zaid bin 'Abdul Ashhal Al-Ansari, nicknamed Abu 'Amr. His mother's name was Kabshah bint Râfi'. He entered the fold of Islam by the preaching of Mus'ab ﷺ appointed by the Prophet ﷺ to invite people to Islam in Al-Madinah. He met his martyrdom as a result of excessive bleeding from a wound received in the battle of Banu Quraizah. The Prophet ﷺ himself led the funeral prayer for him. And when the Prophet ﷺ returned from his burial, tears were seen trickling down to his beard. Sa'd ﷺ died at the age of 37 in the month of Shawwâl 5 AH.

157. It was narrated that Barâ' bin 'Âzib said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ was given a gift of a length of silk fabric. The people started passing it around to one another. The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Are you admiring this?' They said: 'Yes, O Messenger of Allâh.' He said: 'By the One in Whose Hand is my soul! The handkerchief of Sa'd bin Mu'âdh in Paradise is better than this.'" (Sahih)

تخريج: أخرجه البخاري، الأيمان والنذور، باب كيف كانت يمين النبي ﷺ، ح:٦٦٤٠ من حديث أبي الأحوص به.

Comments:

a. The Hadith affirms that Sa'd bin Mu'âdh ﷺ will not only be housed in Paradise, but will also receive superior blessings there.

b. Even the most extravagant article of this world cannot match the ordinary item of Paradise

158. It was narrated that Jâbir said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'The Throne of the Most Merciful trembled upon the death of Sa'd bin Mu'âdh.'" (Sahih)

Comments:

a. Even the Throne of the Most High swayed in delight when the blessed soul of Sa'd bin Mu'âdh ﷺ reached the heavens above.

b. The apparently lifeless and irrational objects in Allâh's creation are not really so. In fact even these objects have consciousness and feelings of their own that are beyond our perception.

(١١/١٩) فَضْلُ جَرِيرِ بْنِ عَبْدِ اللهِ الْبَجَلِيِّ

His full name is Jarir bin 'Abdullâh bin Jâbir bin Mâlik bin Nadr Al-Bajali, nicknamed Abu 'Amr or Abu 'Abdullâh. His mother's name was Bajilah bint Sa'd. He takes his family name Al-Bajali from her. He came to the Prophet ﷺ in the year 10 AH in Ramadân, and embraced Islam at his hands. He died in 51 or 54 AH.

159. It was narrated that Jarir bin 'Abdullâh Al-Bajali said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ never refused to see me from the time I became Muslim, and whenever he saw me he would smile at me. I complained to him that I could not sit firmly on a horse, so he struck me on the chest with his hand and said: 'O Allâh, make him firm and cause him to guide others and be rightly-guided.'" (Sahih)

١٥٩ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ نُمَيْرٍ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللهِ بْنُ إِدْرِيسَ، عَنْ إِسْمَاعِيلَ بْنِ أَبِي خَالِدٍ، عَنْ قَيْسِ بْنِ أَبِي حَازِمٍ، عَنْ جَرِيرِ بْنِ عَبْدِ اللهِ الْبَجَلِيِّ قَالَ: مَا حَجَبَنِي رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ مُنْذُ أَسْلَمْتُ، وَلاَ رَآنِي إِلَّا تَبَسَّمَ فِي وَجْهِي، وَلَقَدْ شَكَوْتُ إِلَيْهِ أَنِّي لاَ أَثْبُتُ عَلَى الْخَيْلِ، فَضَرَبَ بِيَدِهِ فِي صَدْرِي، فَقَالَ: «اللَّهُمَّ ثَبِّتْهُ وَاجْعَلْهُ هَادِياً مَهْدِيًّا».

Comments:

a. Jarir bin 'Abdullâh ﷺ was very handsome and tall. 'Umar ﷺ used to call him 'Yousuf of this Ummah.'

b. Jarir bin 'Abdullâh ﷺ enjoyed much closeness to the Prophet ﷺ.

c. Meeting someone with a smiling face is an indication of joy born of love for the person concerned. It is because a person feels happy when he meets his loved one. This also shows the happy and affable disposition of the Prophet ﷺ.

d. Horsemanship is an art which is essential for a fighter for the cause of Allâh.

160. Râfi' bin Khadij said: "Jibril or an angel came to the Prophet ﷺ and said: 'How do you regard those among you who were present at Badr?' He said: 'They are the best among us.' He said: 'We think the same (of the angels who were present at Badr), they are the best of the angels.'" (Sahih)

تخريج: [صحيح] أخرجه أحمد: ٣/ ٤٦٥ عن وكيع به * سفيان عنعن، وله طريق آخر محفوظ، عند البخاري في صحيحه فتح: ٧/ ٣٩٥، ح: ٣٩٩٢.

Comments:

a. The Hadith is explicit on the superiority of those Companions who participated in the battle of Badr. According to a well-known Hadith the number of Companions who participated in the battle of Badr was 313 while other reports say it was 314 or 317 (see Fathul-Bâri, 364/7, H. 3956).

b. The angels have come down on occasions other than Badr as well. However, those who witnessed Badr are superior to others in rank.

c. Jihâd is a matter of great virtue. Hence, it is a thing of honor, not only for human beings, but also for the angels.

161. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Do not revile my Companions, for by the One in Whose Hand is my soul! If any one of you were to spend the equivalent of Mount Uhud in gold, it would not equal a Mudd[1] spent by anyone of them, nor even half a Mudd.'" (Sahih)

Comments:

a. The Hadith is addressed to all those Muslims who come after the Companions. Even a vastly meritorious act of the late day Muslims would not, before Allâh, equal a seemingly petty act done by the Companions.

b. The reason why the deeds done by the Companions rank so high, is simply this that they made their sacrifices at a time when Islam was just laying its foundations.

162. It was narrated that Nusair bin Dhu'luq said: "Ibn 'Umar used to say: 'Do not revile the Companions of Muhammad ﷺ, for the stay of anyone of them for a brief period (with the Prophet ﷺ) is better than all the good deeds that anyone of you does in his lifetime.'" (Da'if)

(٢١/ ١١) [فَضْلُ الْأَنْصَارِ]

The Arabic word Ansâr is the plural of Nâsir which means a helper. When the Prophet ﷺ came from Makkah to Al-Madinah after emigration, the tribes of Aws and Khazraj believed in him and made an agreement of help and cooperation with him. It was in recognition of their meritorious act that the Prophet ﷺ gave them the title Ansâr. (Bukhâri: 3776).

163. It was narrated that Barâ' bin 'Âzib said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Whoever loves the Ansâr, Allâh will love him, and whoever hates the Ansâr, Allâh will hate him.'" (One of the narrators) Shu'bah said: "I said to 'Adi: 'Did you hear that from Barâ' bin 'Âzib?' He said: 'It was to me that he narrated it.'" (Sahih) ١٦٣ - حَدَّثَنَا عَلِيُّ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ، وَعَمْرُو بْنُ عَبْدِ اللهِ، قَالَا: حَدَّثَنَا وَكِيعٌ، عَنْ شُعْبَةَ، عَنْ عَدِيِّ بْنِ ثَابِتٍ، عَنِ الْبَرَاءِ بْنِ عَازِبٍ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «مَنْ أَحَبَّ الْأَنْصَارَ أَحَبَّهُ اللهُ. وَمَنْ أَبْغَضَ الْأَنْصَارَ أَبْغَضَهُ اللهُ». قَالَ: شُعْبَةُ: قُلْتُ لِعَدِيٍّ: أَسَمِعْتَهُ مِنَ الْبَرَاءِ بْنِ عَازِبٍ؟ قَالَ: إِيَّايَ حَدَّثَ.

Comments:

Hatred towards those devotees of Islam is indicative of hatred towards Islam, as well as towards the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ. It, therefore, follows that hatred towards the Helpers (Ansâr) can only lodge in the heart of a hypocrite.

164. It was narrated from 'Abdul-Muhaimin bin 'Abbâs bin Sahl bin Sa'd, from his father, from his grandfather, that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "The Ansâr are an inner garment and the people are an outer garment. If the people were to head towards one valley or a narrow mountain pass and the Ansâr towards another, I would travel to the valley of the Ansâr, and were it not for the Hijrah, I would have been a man from among the Ansâr." (Sahih)

١٦٤ - حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الرَّحْمٰنِ بْنُ إِبْرَاهِيمَ: حَدَّثَنَا ابْنُ أَبِي فُدَيْكٍ، عَنْ عَبْدِ الْمُهَيْمِنِ بْنِ عَبَّاسِ بْنِ سَهْلِ بْنِ سَعْدٍ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ جَدِّهِ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ قَالَ: «الأَنْصَارُ شِعَارٌ وَالنَّاسُ دِثَارٌ، وَلَوْ أَنَّ النَّاسَ اسْتَقْبَلُوا وَادِياً أَوْ شِعْباً، واسْتَقْبَلَتِ الأَنْصَارُ وَادِياً، لَسَلَكْتُ وَادِيَ الأَنْصَارِ، وَلَوْلاَ الْهِجْرَةُ لَكُنْتُ امْرَءاً مِنَ الأَنْصَارِ».

Comments:

a. Words of the Prophet ﷺ quoted above confirm not only the excellence of the Ansâr, but also the fact that they occupied a very prominent status in the sight of the Prophet ﷺ

b. The Hadith points out that just as Hijrah (emigration of the believers for the sake of Allâh) is a laudable act, extending help and assistance to the emigrants (Muhâjir) is also an extremely meritorious act.

c. The Ansâr are the best community second only to the Muhâjir in Islam.

165. Kathir bin 'Abdullâh bin 'Amr bin 'Awf narrated from his father, that his grandfather said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'May Allâh have mercy on the Ansâr, and the children of the Ansâr, and the grandchildren of the Ansâr.'" (Da'if)

١٦٥ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا خَالِدُ بْنُ مَخْلَدٍ: حَدَّثَنِي كَثِيرُ بْنُ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ عَمْرِو بْنِ عَوْفٍ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ جَدِّهِ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «رَحِمَ اللهُ الأَنْصَارَ، وَأَبْنَاءَ الأَنْصَارِ، وَأَبْنَاءَ أَبْنَاءِ الأَنْصَارِ».

(22/11) The Virtues Of Ibn 'Abbâs ﷺ (٢٢/ ١١) فَضْلُ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ

His full name is Abdullâh bin 'Abbâs bin 'Abdul-Muttalib bin Hâshim bin 'Abd Manâf Qurashi Hâshimi. He was the paternal cousin of the Prophet ﷺ and the maternal cousin of Khâlid bin Walid ﷺ. Due to his amazingly vast knowledge, he was popularly known as the 'Sea of Knowledge' and the 'Learned Man of the Community'. He was born during the Prophet's period of confinement in a narrow tract known as the Valley of Abu Tâlib, and died in the year 68 AH at the age of 71 in the city of Tâif.

166. It was narrated that Ibn 'Abbâs said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ embraced me and said: 'O Allâh, teach him wisdom and the (correct) interpretation of the Book.'" (Sahih)

تخريج: أخرجه البخاري، فضائل أصحاب النبي ﷺ، باب ذكر ابن عباس رضي الله عنهما، ح: ٣٧٥٦ من حديث خالد به.

Comments:

a. The word 'wisdom' used in the context of this Hadith means the knowledge of Hadith.

b. Allâh, the Glorified, accepted the prayer of His Messenger ﷺ, and bestowed upon Ibn 'Abbâs ﷺ that high position in the exegesis (interpretation) of the Noble Qur'ân, such that he has come to be known as the Prince of the Exegetes.

c. Prayer for the bestowal of useful knowledge is the best prayer, because it is a treasure that brings honor in this world and earns higher ranks in the Hereafter.

Chapter 12. The Khawârij (المعجم ١٢) - بَابٌ: فِي ذِكْرِ الْخَوَارِجِ (التحفة ١٢)

Khawârij (literally those who go out or secede) are known by several names, such as (i) Hukmiyyah: So named because they had rejected the verdict of the arbitrators appointed by 'Ali and Mu'âwiya ﷺ under the plea that judgment rests only with Allâh; (ii) Haruriyyah: Nicknamed as such because they were stationed at the place known as Harurâ'; (iii) Shurât (Purchasers): So called because they thought that they had sold their lives for the pleasure of Allâh; and (iv) Mâriqah (Passers through): So named because they had strayed away from true faith.

167. 'Ubaidah narrated from 'Ali

bin Abu Tâlib, that he mentioned the Khawârij, and said: "Among them there will be a man with a defective hand, or a short hand, or small hand. If you were to exercise restraint (i.e. not become overjoyed), I would tell you of what Allâh has promised upon the lips of Muhammad ﷺ for those who kill them." I ('Ubaidah) said: "Did you hear that from Muhammad ﷺ?" He said: "Yes, by the Lord of the Ka'bah!' — three times." (Sahih) إِسْمَاعِيلُ ابْنُ عُلَيَّةَ، عَنْ أَيُّوبَ، عَنْ مُحَمَّدِ ابْنِ سِيرِينَ، عَنْ عَبِيدَةَ، عَنْ عَلِيِّ بْنِ أَبِي طَالِبٍ قَالَ، وَذَكَرَ الْخَوَارِجَ، فَقَالَ: فِيهِمْ رَجُلٌ مُخْدَجُ الْيَدِ، أَوْ مُودَنُ الْيَدِ، أَوْ مَثْدُونُ الْيَدِ، وَلَوْلاَ أَنْ تَبْطَرُوا لَحَدَّثْتُكُمْ بِمَا وَعَدَ اللهُ الَّذِينَ يَقْتُلُونَهُمْ، عَلَى لِسَانِ مُحَمَّدٍ ﷺ، قُلْتُ: أَنْتَ سَمِعْتَهُ مِنْ مُحَمَّدٍ ﷺ؟ قَالَ: إِي، وَرَبِّ الْكَعْبَةِ. ثَلاَثَ مَرَّاتٍ.

Comments:

a. The Prophet ﷺ has spoken about the Khawârij at some length, and the events happened exactly as he had described them. It is a proof of his prophethood.

b. The Hadith affirms the virtue of 'Ali ﷺ and his associates that waged a war against the Khawârij.

c. It is allowed to swear by Allâh for purposes of emphasis.

168. It was narrated that 'Abdullâh bin Mas'ud said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'At the end of time there will appear a people with new teeth (i. e., young in age), with foolish minds. They will speak the best words ever uttered by mankind and they will recite the Qur'ân, but it will not go any deeper than their collarbones. They will pass through Islam like an arrow passes through its target. Whoever meets them, let him kill them, for killing them will bring a reward from Allâh for those who kill them." (Sahih)

أبي بكر بن عياش به، وقال: «حسن صحيح» ولحديثه شواهد كثيرة عند البخاري ومسلم وغيرهما.

Comments:

a. Innovation in religion, be it in belief or action, is a sign of lack of understanding or stupidity. In other words, only a person who either has no understanding of religion, or considers it imperfect and incomplete, indulges in acts of innovation.

b. The Qur'ân 'not going any deeper than the people's collarbones' would either mean that they would repeat the Qur'ân by the tongues, but it would not create any effect upon them, or that they would be denied the true understanding of it.

c. An innovator considers his self-invented words and actions as true Islam. That is why he is deprived from the real face of Islam.

d. We must first try to instruct them into true Islam and make manifest their error. In case they refuse to see reason and become a source of misguidance for others, the Islamic government should treat them as traitors and crush their mischief by force.

١٦٩ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا يَزِيدُ بْنُ هَارُونَ: أَنْبَأَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عَمْرٍو، عَنْ أَبِي سَلَمَةَ قَالَ: قُلْتُ لأَبِي سَعِيدٍ الْخُدْرِيِّ: هَلْ سَمِعْتَ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ يَذْكُرُ فِي الْحَرُورِيَّةِ شَيْئاً؟ فَقَالَ: سَمِعْتُهُ يَذْكُرُ قَوْماً يَتَعَبَّدُونَ «يَحْقِرُ أَحَدُكُمْ صَلاَتَهُ مَعَ صَلاَتِهِمْ وَصَوْمَهُ مَعَ صَوْمِهِمْ، يَمْرُقُونَ مِنَ الدِّينِ كَمَا يَمْرُقُ السَّهْمُ مِنَ الرَّمِيَّةِ، أَخَذَ سَهْمَهُ فَنَظَرَ فِي نَصْلِهِ فَلَمْ يَرَ شَيْئاً، فَنَظَرَ فِي رِصَافِهِ فَلَمْ يَرَ شَيْئاً، فَنَظَرَ فِي قِدْحِهِ فَلَمْ يَرَ شَيْئاً. فَنَظَرَ فِي الْقُذَذِ فَتَمَارَى هَلْ يَرَى شَيْئاً أَمْ لاَ».

169. It was narrated that Abu Salamah said: "I said to Abu Sa'eed Khudri: 'Did you hear the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ mention anything about the Haruriyyah (a sect of Khawârij)?' He said: 'I heard him mention a people who would appear to be devoted worshippers: "Such that any one of you would regard his own prayer and fasting as insignificant when compared to theirs. But they will pass through Islâm like an arrow passing through its target, then he (the archer) picks up his arrow and looks at its Iron head but does not see anything, then he looks at the shaft and does not see anything then he looks at the band: that which is wrapped around the Iron head where it is connected to the shaft, then he looks at the feather and is not sure whether he sees anything or not." (Sahih) (البخاري، ح:٥٠٥٨، ومسلم، ح:١٠٦٤).

Comments:

a. The Khawârij exerted great effort in the doing of devotional acts like prayers and fasting, so much so that even the Companions were amazed at their zeal and zest. But no amount of effort in the doing of acts of worship will be of any benefit if there are flaws in one's faith.

b. The Khawârij are certainly the people gone astray from the right path and lost touch with true Islam. The majority of the scholars, however, consider them just a misguided and rebellious lot.

170. It was narrated that Abu Dharr said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'There will be people among my Ummah (nation) after me who will recite the Qur'ân, but it will not go any deeper than their throats. They will pass through Islâm like an arrow passing through its target, then they will never return to it. They are the most evil of mankind and of all creation.'" 'Abdullâh bin Sâmit said: "I mentioned that to Râfi' bin 'Amr, the brother of Hakam bin 'Amr Ghifâri and he said: 'I also heard that from the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ.'" (Sahih) ١٧٠ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو أُسَامَةَ، عَنْ سُلَيْمَانَ بْنِ الْمُغِيرَةِ، عَنْ حُمَيْدِ بْنِ هِلاَلٍ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ الصَّامِتِ، عَنْ أَبِي ذَرٍّ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «إِنَّ بَعْدِي مِنْ أُمَّتِي، أَوْ سَيَكُونُ بَعْدِي مِنْ أُمَّتِي، قَوْماً يَقْرَءُونَ الْقُرْآنَ، لاَ يُجَاوِزُ حُلُوقَهُمْ، يَمْرُقُونَ مِنَ الدِّينِ كَمَا يَمْرُقُ السَّهْمُ مِنَ الرَّمِيَّةِ، ثُمَّ لاَ يَعُودُونَ فِيهِ، هُمْ شِرَارُ الْخَلْقِ وَالْخَلِيقَةِ». قَالَ عَبْدُ اللهِ بْنُ الصَّامِتِ: فَذَكَرْتُ ذٰلِكَ لِرَافِعِ بْنِ عَمْرٍو، أَخِي الْحَكَمِ ابْنِ عَمْرٍو الْغِفَارِيِّ فَقَالَ: وَأَنَا أَيْضاً قَدْ سَمِعْتُهُ مِنْ رَسُولِ اللهِ ﷺ.

Comments:

a. Innovators are worse than animals.

b. The Hadith has been taken to mean that the group of innovators are part of the Ummah, which means that in worldly affairs they shall be treated like other Muslims. They are nevertheless a deviant and sinning lot.

171. It was narrated that Ibn 'Abbâs said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Some people among my Ummah will recite the Qur'ân, but they will pass through Islâm like an arrow passing through its target.'" (Sahih) ١٧٢ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ الصَّبَّاحِ: أَنْبَأَنَا سُفْيَانُ بْنُ عُيَيْنَةَ، عَنْ أَبِي الزُّبَيْرِ، عَنْ جَابِرِ ابْنِ عَبْدِ اللهِ قَالَ: كَانَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ بِالْجِعِرَّانَةِ وَهُوَ يَقْسِمُ التِّبْرَ وَالْغَنَائِمَ، وَهُوَ فِي حِجْرِ بِلَالٍ، فَقَالَ رَجُلٌ: اعْدِلْ يَا مُحَمَّدُ! فَإِنَّكَ لَمْ تَعْدِلْ. فَقَالَ: «وَيْلَكَ! وَمَنْ يَعْدِلُ بَعْدِي إِذَا لَمْ أَعْدِلْ؟» فَقَالَ عُمَرُ: دَعْنِي يَا رَسُولَ اللهِ! حَتَّى أَضْرِبَ عُنُقَ هٰذَا الْمُنَافِقِ، فَقَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «إِنَّ هٰذَا فِي أَصْحَابٍ، أَوْ أُصَيْحَابٍ لَهُ، يَقْرَءُونَ الْقُرْآنَ لَا يُجَاوِزُ تَرَاقِيَهُمْ، يَمْرُقُونَ مِنَ الدِّينِ كَمَا يَمْرُقُ السَّهْمُ مِنَ الرَّمِيَّةِ».

Comments:

a. To raise objections to an action or word of the Prophet ﷺ, or to find fault with it, or consider it impracticable — all these are the characteristics of the hypocrites. A true believer will never do any such thing.

b. The incident stands out as a shining example of the Prophet's attribute of tolerance, clemency and patience for which reason he chose not to punish the man for his insolence.

173. It was narrated that Ibn Abu Awfa said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'The Khawârij are the dogs of Hell.'" (Sahih)

174. It was narrated from Ibn 'Umar that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "There will emerge people who will recite the Qur'ân but it will not go any deeper than their collarbones. Whenever a group of them appears, they should be cut off (i.e. killed)." Ibn 'Umar said: "I heard the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ say: 'Whenever a group of them appears, they should be killed'—(he said it) more than twenty times — 'until Dajjâl emerges among them.'" (Hasan) تخريج: [إسناده حسن] وصححه البوصيري، وله شواهد عند أحمد والحاكم وغيرهما.

Comments:

a. The Hadith contains the indication that only a small number of people shall be influenced by the erroneous ideas of the Khawârij. The majority of the people shall not only stick to the right path with regard to this misguided group, but also fight them and liquidate them.
b. It seems that the Dajjâl (False Christ) will also try to misrepresent falsehood as truth in order to misguide the people. The Prophet 'Eisa ﷺ shall kill him and his associates.

175. It was narrated that Anas bin Mâlik said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'At the end of time or among this nation (Ummah) there will appear people who will recite Qur'ân but it will not go any deeper than their collarbones or their throats. Their distinguishing feature will be their shaved heads. If you see them, or meet them, then kill them.'" (Sahih)

Comments:

Some scholars consider it a Sound Hadith. Shaving the heads as the distinguishing feature of the Khawârij does not mean that anyone that shaves his head is necessarily a Khâriji. It only means that they did it as a habit. Among the noted Companions, 'Ali ﷺ also used to regularly shave his head.

176. Abu Ghâlib narrated that Abu Umâmah said: "(The Khawârij) are the worst of the slain who are killed under heaven, and the best of the slain are those who were killed by them. Those (Khawârij) are the dogs of Hell. Those people were Muslims but they became disbelievers." I said: "O Abu Umâmah, is that your opinion?" He said: "Rather I heard it from the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ." (Hasan)

تخريج: [إسناده حسن] أخرجه الترمذي، التفسير، باب ومن سورة آل عمران، ح:٣٠٠٠ من حديث حماد بن سلمة وغيره عن أبي غالب به، وقال: «حديث حسن».

Comments:

a. The Hadith contains a strong condemnation of the Khawârij, and is categorical on the point that they are disbelievers and are of the people of Hell.

b. The Hadith confirms the heretical nature of their beliefs for which reason they have been declared as having gone out of the fold of Islam and entered the realm of disbelief.

c. Muslims fighting the Khawârij shall earn for themselves a higher rank and a distinctive position before Allâh.

(المعجم ١٣) - بَابٌ: فِيمَا أَنْكَرَتِ الْجَهْمِيَّةُ (التحفة ١٣)

177. It was narrated that Jarir bin 'Abdullâh said: "We were sitting with the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ. He looked at the moon, which was full, and said, 'Indeed, you will see your Lord as you see this moon. You will not feel the slightest inconvenience and overcrowding in seeing Him. If you have the power not to be overcome and to say this prayer before the sun rises and before it sets, then do that.' Then he recited: "And glorify the praises of your Lord, before the rising of the sun and before (its) setting."[1] (Sahih)

Comments:

a. The Jahmiyyah sect takes its name from its progenitor Jahm bin Safwân. This heretical sect differs from the mainstream school of the People of the Sunnah in several conceptual matters.

b. The Hadith affirms that the believers' seeing their Lord on the Day of Resurrection and thereafter in Paradise is an undeniable fact. This is, however, not possible in this world for the simple reason that we, with our present body and its potential, are not capable to endure seeing Allâh with our mortal eyes.

c. It does not mean that the other three obligatory prayers have no significance. It only means that anyone who can regularly perform the Fajr and 'Asr prayers is in a better position to perform other prayers as well. It is because Fajr is performed at a time when a person tends to be sleepy and lazy. As for the 'Asr, it is the peak time for man's occupation with his business and other worldly activities. That is why it needs much greater effort on the part of the man to perform them on time and in congregation. Anyone who does them well can also take care of other prayers with comparative ease.

d. Striking the similitude of the moon is also meant to convey the idea of Allâh's being above and aloof from His entire creation.

[1] Qâf 50:39.

178. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Do you crowd one another in order to see the moon on the night when it is full?' They said: 'No.' He said: 'And you will not crowd one another in order to see your Lord on the Day of Resurrection.'" (Sahih)

١٧٨ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ نُمَيْرٍ: حَدَّثَنَا يَحْيَى بْنُ عِيسَى الرَّمْلِيُّ، عَنِ الأَعْمَشِ، عَنْ أَبِي صَالِحٍ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «تَضَامُّونَ فِي رُؤْيَةِ الْقَمَرِ لَيْلَةَ الْبَدْرِ؟» قَالُوا: لاَ. قَالَ: «لاَ تَضَامُّونَ فِي رُؤْيَةِ رَبِّكُمْ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ».

Comments:

The believers shall be able to see Allâh with as much ease as they can see the moon when it is full.

179. It was narrated that Abu Sa'eed said: "We said: 'O Messenger of Allâh! Will we see our Lord?' He said: 'Do you crowd one another to see the sun at mid-day when there are no clouds?' We said: 'No.' He said: 'Do you crowd one another to see the moon on the night when it is full and there are no clouds?' We said: 'No.' He said: 'You will not crowd one another to see Him, just as you do not crowd to see these two things.'" (Sahih) ١٧٩ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ الْعَلاَءِ الْهَمْدَانِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللهِ بْنُ إِدْرِيسَ، عَنِ الأَعْمَشِ، عَنْ أَبِي صَالِحٍ السَّمَّانِ، عَنْ أَبِي سَعِيدٍ قَالَ: قُلْنَا: يَا رَسُولَ اللهِ! أَنَرَى رَبَّنَا؟ قَالَ: «تَضَامُّونَ فِي رُؤْيَةِ الشَّمْسِ فِي الظَّهِيرَةِ فِي غَيْرِ سَحَابٍ؟» قُلْنَا: لاَ. قَالَ: «فَتَضَارُّونَ فِي رُؤْيَةِ الْقَمَرِ لَيْلَةَ الْبَدْرِ فِي غَيْرِ سَحَابٍ؟» قَالُوا: لاَ. قَالَ: «إِنَّكُمْ لاَ تَضَارُّونَ فِي رُؤْيَتِهِ إِلَّا كَمَا تَضَارُّونَ فِي رُؤْيَتِهِمَا».

Comments:

The phrase 'each one seeing (the moon) individually' is used to convey the idea that, notwithstanding the fact that those seeing Him shall be in multitudes, no one shall have any difficulty in seeing Him.

181. Waki' bin Hudus narrated that his paternal uncle Abu Razin said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Allâh laughs at the despair of His slaves although He soon changes it.'[1] I said: 'O Messenger of Allâh, does the Lord laugh?' He said: 'Yes.' I said: 'We shall never be deprived of good by a Lord Who laughs.'"(Hasan)

Comments:

The word 'Amâ' occurring in the Arabic sentence Kâna fi 'amâ' could stand for the cloud. It could also mean 'something beyond human comprehension'. In other words, the answer to the question asked would be beyond the understanding of man. Anyhow, there was probably the need to rationalize the answer or justify the text if the Hadith were Sound, it is not. It is in fact a Weak "Hadith", (according to Shaikh Albâni) which needs no rationalizing.

183. It was narrated that Safwân bin Muhriz Al-Mâzini said: "We were with 'Abdullâh bin 'Umar when he was circumambulating the House; a man came up to him and said: 'O Ibn 'Umar, what did you hear the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ say about the Najwa?'[1] He said: 'I heard the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ say: 'On the Day of Resurrection, the believer will be brought close to his Lord until He will cover him with His screen, then He will make him confess his sins. He will ask him: "Do you confess?" He will say: "O Lord, I confess." This will continue as long as Allâh wills, then He will say: "I concealed them for you in the world, and I forgive you for them today." Then he will be given the scroll of his good deeds, or his record, in his right hand. But as for the disbeliever or the hypocrite, (his sins) will be announced before the witnesses.''' Comments:

a. The Hadith contains the affirmation of Allâh's attribute of speech. The People of the Sunnah hold the belief that Allâh speaks whatever He wills, whenever He wills and, to whoever He wills; and the addressee hears Him speak.

b. It speaks of a great bounty from Allâh which encourages the believers to hope for His mercy. It also mentions the disgrace of the sinners, regarding which the believers are to remain in constant fear of Allâh, since both hope and fear are the necessary ingredients of Imân.

184. It was narrated that Jâbir bin 'Abdullâh said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'While the people of Paradise are enjoying their blessings, a light will shine upon them, and they will raise their heads, and they will see their Lord looking down upon them from above. He will say: "Peace be upon you, O people of Paradise." This is what Allâh says in the Verse: "Salâm (peace be on you) — a Word from the Lord (Allâh), Most Merciful."[3] He will look at them and they will look at Him, and they will not pay any attention to the delights (of Paradise) so long as they look at Him, until He will screen Himself from them. But His light

Comments:

a. The Hadith also contains the confirmation of Allâh's attribute of speech.
b. Each person shall render his account by himself. No one in this world should, therefore, put his trust in some religious or divine person for intercession.
c. Virtuous deeds are a prerequisite for deliverance from Hell-fire.
d. Charity is also one of the means of securing deliverance from Allâh's punishment.

Comments:

a. The Hadith confirms the certainty of seeing Allâh.

b. The people of Paradise, once inside their abodes, shall be able to see their Lord — the only impediment being the Veil of His Pride. But when Allâh decides to shower His benevolence and mercy upon His servants, the screen will go and seeing will be made possible.

c. Countless and unmatched are the bounties of Allâh in Paradise. What we find mentioned in the Qur'ân and Hadith is only that which man can comprehend. Even the gold and silver in Paradise will be unlike the gold and silver of this world. They are superior beyond imagination.

187. It was narrated that Suhaib said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ recited this Verse: 'For those who have done good is the best reward and even more.'[1] Then he said: 'When the people of Paradise enter Paradise, and the people of the Fire enter the Fire, a caller will cry out: "O people of Paradise! Comments:

a. Looking upon Allâh is the greatest and most pleasing bounty to be showered over the believers lodged in Paradise, and they will relish it more than anything else.

b. Admittance to the Paradise, in itself a blessing, will also be the means of having the pleasure of seeing their Lord.

188. It was narrated that 'Âishah said: "Praise is to Allâh Whose hearing encompasses all voices. The woman who disputed concerning her husband (Al-Mujâdilah) came to the Prophet ﷺ when I was (sitting) in a corner of the house, and she complained about her husband, but I did not hear what she said. Then Allâh revealed: 'Indeed Allâh has heard the statement of her that disputes with you concerning her husband.'"[1] (Sahih)

a. Inclusion of this Hadith in this chapter is intended to confirm Allâh's attribute of hearing. It may, however, be pointed out that Allâh's attributes are totally unlike human attributes. Even the slightest sound anywhere in the universe is not outside His hearing because, like other attributes, His attribute of hearing is also limitless.

b. The Prophet ﷺ only followed the ordainments of Allâh. He never permitted or prohibited anything except by Allâh's command and permission. Therefore, he only gave the answer after he received the revelation from Allâh.

Comments:

The Hadith confirms Allâh's attributes of mercy and anger. It also mentions the Hand of Allâh. It is necessary to believe in all of these, even as they are mentioned without coining similitude or imputing resemblance to anything else. It is also not right to claim or suggest that Allâh's Hand in reality symbolizes His attribute of power.

190. Talhah bin Khirâsh said: "I heard Jâbir bin 'Abdullâh say: 'When 'Abdullâh bin 'Amr bin (Harâm) was killed on the Day of Uhud, the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ met me, and said: "O Jâbir, shall I not tell you what Allâh has said to your father?" Yahya said in his Hadith: "And he said: 'O Jâbir, why do I see you broken-hearted?' I (Jâbir) said: 'O Messenger of Allâh, my father has been martyred and he has left behind dependents and debts.' He said: 'Shall I not give you the glad tidings of that with which Allâh met your father?' I said: 'Yes, O Messenger of Allâh.' He said: 'Allâh never spoke to anyone except from behind a screen, but He spoke to your father a. One should not say to a bereaved person anything that might increases his sorrow and give him pain.

b. The Hadith confirms Allâh's attribute of Speech.
c. After a man dies he enters the next world where it will be possible that Allâh will bless him with special attributes.
d. The Hadith confirms the reality of a higher rank for the martyrs.
e. It is a proof of the high status of 'Abdullah bin Harâm, that Allâh Himself asked him to decide and say what he wanted.
f. All links of men with this world are severed after death, and they can never go back to the world they have left behind. This categorical statement cuts at the root of the people's belief in the transmigration of souls.

191. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Allâh will laugh at two persons — one of them kills the other, and both of them enter Paradise, for the first one fought in the cause of Allâh and was martyred, then his killer repented

a. Allâh's laughter is an expression of His pleasure. Therefore, pleasure is also an attribute of Allâh.

b. Only Allâh knows what the end of a man would be like. Even the most hardened criminal can be expected to receive Allâh's guidance at some point in life. As such it is not proper to claim, as long as a person lives, that he will not accept guidance, and as such it is not right to stop inviting him to the right path until the last breath of his life.

192. Sa'eed bin Musayyab narrated that Abu Hurairah used to say: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: Allâh will seize the earth on the Day of Resurrection, and He will roll up the heavens in His Right Hand, then He will say, "I am the Sovereign. Where are the kings of the earth?''' (Sahih)

a. This confirms the reality of Allâh's Hand. However, it is not allowed for anyone to invent a mental picture for such attributes of Allâh. It is, instead, necessary that we believe in however much we have been told about His attributes, and not commit the mistake of likening the Divine attributes to those of the created things.

Comments:

a. Allâh's speech consists of both sound and words, which the angels are able to hear.

b. Angels possess the consciousness and knowledge of Allâh's greatness and pride. That is why they affirm their lowliness and humility on hearing the Words of Allâh. In fact, it behooves man to show greater humility than the angels because he has been given greater status.

c. Soothsayers and astrologers have their links with the evil spirits (satans). Soothsaying and astrology etc. are, therefore, rightly branded as satanic sciences. Muslims must not believe in them. They should even avoid studying them.

The deed done during the day is taken up to Him before the deed done during the night, and the deed done during the night before the deed done during the day. Comments:

a. Sleep and rest are the needs of the creatures since they remedy the fatigue and weakness caused by work. Allâh, by contrast, is Ever Living and Sustainer of the entire creation. He is, therefore, exempt from both weariness and sleep.

b. One of the interpretations of lowering the Scales and raising them is that He, in His infinite wisdom, decreases in this life the provision for some and increases it for others.

c. Nothing in this mortal world can stand the glory of Allâh. That is why when Allâh manifested the splendor of His glory on the Mount of Sinai (i.e. the Tur), it could not stand it and was reduced to dust.

196. It was narrated that Abu Musa said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Allâh does not sleep, and it is not befitting that He should sleep. He lowers the Scales and raises them. Comments :

a. It was not a worldly fire but, as mentioned in Sahih Muslim, the Light of Allâh. The Arabic expression Hijâbuhu nur or Hijâbuhu nâr means His Veil is Light or Fire.

b. 'And whosoever is roundabout the fire' means the Prophet Musa ﷺ and the Angel Jibril ﷺ (Tabari's Commentary, 11/165).

197. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Prophet ﷺ said: "The Right Hand of Allâh is full and that is never affected by the continuous spending, night and day. In His other Hand is the Scale, which He raises and lowers. Have you seen what Allâh has spent since He created the heavens and the earth? Comments:

a. The Hadith contains the mention of "Hand" as well as "Hands" for Allâh. This is also one of those phenomena (attributes) that needs unquestioning literal faith without searching for resemblance in this world. The Qur'ân speaks of the two Hands of Allâh at several places (e.g. Sâd. 38:75).

b. This Hadith describes Allâh's Hand as 'right'. The Arabic text, in fact, contains the word Yamin that contains the sense of Barakah (blessing). A Hadith in Sahih Muslim (H. 1827) says that both His Hands are Yamin. Therefore, to describe one of Allâh's Hands as right or blessed does not mean that the other Hand is not so. The truth is that both His Hands are blessed.

Comments:

a. The Hadith gives us an idea of Allâh's attribute of greatness and pride inasmuch as this universe, however vast it might be, is no more than a particle of dust before Him.

b. It is allowed to make an occasional show of anger in religious sermons and admonitions.

199. Nawwâs bin Sam'ân Al-Kilâbi said: "I heard the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ say: 'There is no heart that is not between two of the Fingers of the Most Merciful. If He wills, He guides it and if He wills, He sends it astray.' The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ used to say: 'O You Who makes hearts steadfast, make our hearts steadfast in adhering to Your religion.' And he said: 'The Scale is in the Hand of the Most Merciful; He will cause some peoples to rise and others to fall until the Day of Resurrection.'" (Sahih)

Comments:

a. The author has included this Hadith to prove the attribute of the Fingers for Allâh. With regard to all such Ahâdith the unanimous view of the pious predecessors is that we must have faith in them without imputing any kind of resemblance in them to anything in the world.

b. Giving guidance is the prerogative of Allâh alone. We must, therefore, keep asking Him for guidance and steadfastness in our adhering to faith.

c. Making someone high or low or enduing someone with honor and the other with disgrace, is sometimes decreed by Allâh in consequence of man's acts of commission or omission. At other times it is a test and trial from Allâh, and it is on the basis of his conduct in these tests and trials that man earns his high or low grades with Allâh.

200. It was narrated that Abu Sa'eed Al-Khudri said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Allâh smiles at three things: a row in the prayer, a man who prays in the depths of the night, and a man who fights' I think he said, 'behind the battalion.'" (Da'if)

'Appearing before the people' (i.e. his meeting the people) was in the hope of finding a person or tribe from amongst the people coming from all parts of the Arab world at the time of Hajj that could help him in his preachings, and thwart the designs of his opponents, so that the people could comprehend the truth and accept it.

Comments:

a. The Hadith confirms Allâh's attribute of action manifested at all times without break.

b. Forgiving sins is also one such matter in which there is absolutely no intermediary between man and God. Some misguided souls think that, even in this, an intermediary is an imperative necessity. Christians believe that forgiving the sins is within the domain of their popes and priests. Hindus consider it impossible to approach God without the mediation of the Brahmins, and it is only through them that they can have their sins forgiven. The Qur'ân, on the other hand, asks in the form of a rhetorical question: "And who can forgive sins except Allâh?" (3:135), i.e., no one has the power to do it.

Comments:

a. 'Introducing a good practice' means that a need was being felt for an act of virtue but no one was practising it, or else introducing a good practice would mean reviving the implementation of a Sunnah that had since been abandoned, and when someone revived it, others also took to following it. It would also apply to the situation where one devises a new methodology for the promotion of a proven act of virtue. Declaring an action as good and giving it currency in the society on the basis of one's own subjective opinion is a form of innovation (Bid'ah) which will attract retribution or punishment instead of recompense or reward from Allâh.

b. 'Introducing an evil practice' means a situation where a man did an evil act which was non-existent in the society. Then, taking the cue from him, others also started doing the same. The Prophet ﷺ has warned against it.

c. People engaged in the work of Da'wah (calling people to the right path) must be on their guard lest they themselves start doing an act or inviting others to do something, on the basis of some weak or spurious Hadith, not proved from the sound sources. If they do so, not only will their entire labor go to waste but they shall also have to carry on their shoulders the burden of the sins of others who followed them in that act.

d. Crediting the reward or punishment for deeds done by a person to his account is an automatic operation, by the will of Allâh, in which the person concerned has no say either way. It is, therefore, meaningless to argue in support of the concept of the transference of the reward of one man's actions to another. If such a philosophy of transference were accepted, then, by the same token, the transference of a person's sins to others will also have to be accepted.

204. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "A man came to the Prophet ﷺ, who encouraged the people to give charity to him. A man said: 'I have such and such,' and there was no one left in that gathering who did not give him something in charity, to a greater or lesser extent. The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Whoever initiates a good practice that is followed, he will receive a perfect reward for that, and a reward equivalent to that of those who follow it, without that detracting from their reward in the slightest. And whoever introduces a bad practice that is followed, he will receive the complete burden of sin for that, and a burden of sin equivalent to that of those who follow it, without that detracting from their burden in the slightest.'" The term 'misguidance' as used here includes things like idolatry, innovation, sinful acts and all those actions that are forbidden in Islam. As such, anyone who invites the people, or persuades them, or cooperates with them in the doing of such acts, will receive the burden of sins equivalent to that of those who follow it. 'Guidance', on the other hand, includes things like believing in the Oneness of Allâh, following the Prophet's Sunnah, doing the obligatory duties, and avoiding all things that are sinful or evil. Therefore, anyone who invites others to the doing of such virtuous acts will receive a reward equivalent to the reward of all those who followed him in those matters.

It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "Whoever calls people to true guidance, will have a reward equal to that of those who follow him, without that detracting from their reward in the slightest. Comments:

a. The term 'dying Sunnah' means an action or deed perfectly in order in the sight of Islam—be it an enjoined duty or a compulsory or desirable act—that was neglected by the people out of their indolence or ignorance. And 'reviving' it means promoting it in the society once again.

b. The Hadith holds out a stern warning to those who try to promote innovations in the society and also invite others to indulge in them.

a. The test of a person's excellence, in consideration with Allâh, lies in his good deeds, although the general criterion in the world is to measure up the value and worth of a person by the yardstick of his wealth, his good looks and his status in the society, which is an incorrect criterion.

b. Learning and teaching the Qur'ân means learning and teaching the reading of the Qur'ân along with its rules of recitation, articulation and intonation, as well as its meaning and interpretation. And since Hadith is but the explication of the Qur'ân, anyone who learns the science of Hadith and teaches it, is also included in that roll of honors.

c. A person not following the teachings of the Qur'ân has no share in that honor, as proved from other Ahâdith.

a. 'Âsim whose name appears in the chain of the narrators of this Hadith is the well known Imâm (authority) in the science of the Qur'ân recitation.

b. The man gifted with the capacity to do some noble work should be advised and encouraged to occupy himself in it for the benefit of the Muslim Ummah, as well for the sake of his own prosperity in this world and the next.

214. It was narrated from Abu Musa Al-Ash'ari that the Prophet ﷺ said: "The likeness of the believer who recites the Qur'ân is that of a citron, the taste and smell of which are good. The likeness of a believer who does not read the Qur'ân is that of a date, the taste of which is good but it has no smell. The likeness of a hypocrite who reads the Qur'ân is that of sweet basil, the smell of which is good but its taste is bitter. And the likeness of a hypocrite who does not read the Qur'ân is that of a colocynth (bitter apple), the taste of which is bitter and it has no smell.'" (Sahih)

a. Both reciting the Noble Qur'ân and implementing its teachings are acts of great virtue, and are both required of all of us. Recitation being an outward quality has been likened to the sweet smell of the fruit. Implementation, on the other hand, is an internal phenomenon, since it includes qualities like deep-rooted faith, sincerity of purpose, love and fear of Allâh, as well as righteousness of conduct and piety. As such it has been likened to the taste of the fruit.

b. Both faith and conduct of a hypocrite are sour, but his recitation of the Qur'ân could be of benefit to others. That is the reason why he is likened to a flower whose sweet smell is sensed from afar, but its bad taste makes it unfit to eat.

215. It was narrated that Anas bin Mâlik said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Allâh has His own people among mankind.' They said: 'O Messenger of Allâh, who are they?' He said: 'The people of the Qur'ân, the people of Allâh and those who are closest to Him.'" (Hasan)

The term 'people of the Qur'ân' means the reciters, the memorizers and the learners of the meaning of the Qur'ân, in the light of the Ahâdith of the Prophet ﷺ, as well as those who apply the teachings of the Qur'ân in their daily lives, and also those who carry its message to others.

216. It was narrated that 'Ali bin Abu Tâlib said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Whoever reads the Qur'ân and memorizes it, Allâh will admit him to Paradise and allow him to intercede for ten of his family members who all deserved to enter Hell.'" (Da'if)

The Hadith only mentions the Book of Allâh. It, however, goes without saying, that in order to qualify for the title of a scholar of the Book, one also has to be well versed in the science of Hadith, since Hadith is both the theoretical interpretation and the practical application of the Qur'ân.

Comments:

a. Only a person well versed in the rules of Shari'ah concerning all important matters of life can achieve the blessings of this world and the next. This underlines the importance and need of acquiring the knowledge of religion.

b. It also highlights the lofty position of teachers of religion. However, the only people capable of delivering this knowledge to the people after the passing away of the Prophet ﷺ are the scholars of religion. The Messenger of Allâh was himself a teacher, as the Qur'ân says: "And he (the Prophet) will instruct them in the Book and wisdom" (2:129).

The term Hikmah (translated as wisdom), used in the Qur'ân, stands for the understanding of the religion, namely the laws and rules of the Islamic jurisprudence.

221. It was narrated that Yunus bin Maisarah bin Halbas said: "I heard Mu'âwiyah bin Abu Sufyân narrating that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Goodness is a (natural) habit while evil is a stubbornness (constant prodding from Satan). When Allâh wills good for a person, He causes him to understand the religion.'" (Hasan)

Comments:

a. The expression "Goodness is a (natural) habit" means that the knowledge of the straight path is already ingrained in human nature. Thus, a person possessed of upright nature has no difficulty treading the straight path.

b. "Evil is a stubbornness" means that a person treading the path of sin is all the time contending with himself. The inciting soul pulls him to the ways of sin and tries to keep him from repentance, while his conscience tries to keep him from the ways of sin.

222. It was narrated that Ibn 'Abbâs said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'One Faqih (knowledgeable man) is more formidable against the Shaitân than one thousand devoted worshippers.'" (Da'if)

Comments:

a. Scholars of religion must either sit in the mosques in order to impart knowledge to the people, or hold sessions at conveniently located places where everyone—rich or poor, high or low—can reach them and profit by their teaching.

b. It is a praiseworthy act if a man travels from one city or town to another, in order to gain knowledge from a learned man.

c. All the creatures of Allâh love and pray for the prosperity of the man who undertakes a journey in pursuit of knowledge.

d. It is a matter of great honor for the scholars of religion to be termed as the spiritual heirs of the Prophets. The honor, however, puts on their shoulders a heavy burden of responsibility to (i) make plain the essence of truth, (ii) invite the people to accept it, (iii) try to wean them away from falsehood and, (iv) never allow greed or fear to distract them from the doing of their duty. They should, in short, try to emulate the example of the Prophets of Allâh who were the embodiments of fortitude, sincerity of purpose, and commitment to their mission of preaching the message of Islam among the people.

224. It was narrated that Anas bin Mâlik said: "Seeking knowledge is a duty upon every Muslim, and he who imparts knowledge to those who do not deserve it, is like one who puts a necklace of jewels, pearls and gold around the neck of swines." (Da'if)

Comments:

The expression 'Every Muslim' means both men and women, since following the laws of Shari'ah is the bounden duty of both sexes. It is, therefore, essential for both men and women to know the permissible from the prohibited in Islam. The Prophet ﷺ also taught the tenets of our faith and its demands to both the sexes alike.

225. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Whoever relieves a Muslim of some worldly distress, Allâh will relieve him of some of the distress of the Day of Resurrection, and whoever conceals (the faults of) a Muslim, Allâh will conceal him (his faults) in this world and on the Day of Resurrection. And whoever relieves the burden from a destitute person, Allâh will relieve him in this world and the next. Allâh will help His slave so long as His slave helps his brother. Whoever follows a path in pursuit of knowledge, Allâh will make easy for him a path to Paradise. No people gather in one of the

Comments:

a. The Hadith confirms the fact that each and every action done by man shall have its appropriate reward or recompense from Allâh.

b. Not all the retribution or recompense for the deeds of man is necessarily postponed by Allâh till the next world, since some of the punishment or reward is also given in this world.

c. The Hadith holds out the inducement for such virtuous deeds as helping the believers in their hour of distress, concealing their faults and failures and doing one's bit to create ease for his brethren-in-faith. All of this is meant to build relationships between the Muslims on the foundation of mutual love and well-wishing.

d. Educational gatherings are like receptacles for the special mercies from Allâh. It is, therefore, important that one punctually attends and not miss his lessons in the Qur'ân and Hadith study circles, or in the religious institutions.

e. It is a matter of great honor for the seekers of knowledge, that Allâh approvingly mentions them to the angels with Him. It means that the pursuit of knowledge is an important means of gaining nearness to Allâh.

226. It was narrated that Zirr bin Hubaish said: "I went to Safwân bin 'Assâl Al-Murâdi and he said: 'What brought you here?' I said: 'I am seeking knowledge.' He said: 'I heard the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ say: "There is no one who goes out of his house in order to seek knowledge, but the angels lower their wings in approval of his action."' (Hasan)

Comments:

a. The purpose of building a mosque is not only to use it as a place for worshipping the One and Only God, but also to use it as a center for the propagation of Islam, and as a school for imparting and receiving knowledge and education.

b. Engaging in the teaching of religious sciences is also a form of Jihâd, since the real purpose of fighting in the cause of Allâh is to extricate the people from the misguided darkness of disbelief into the radiant light of Islam. So, if there were no centers for teaching and learning, it would be a difficult task to educate the new converts to Islam, which would nullify the very purpose of Jihâd.

228. It was narrated that Abu Umâmah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'You must acquire this knowledge before it is taken away, and its taking away means that it will be lifted up.' He joined his middle finger and the one that is next to the thumb like this, and said: 'The scholar and the seeker of knowledge will share the reward, and there is no good in

Chapter 18. He Who Conveys Knowledge

(المعجم ١٨) - بَابُ من بَلَّغَ عِلْمًا

230. It was narrated from Zaid bin Thâbit that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "May Allâh cause his face to shine, the man who hears what I say and conveys it (to others). There are those who have knowledge but no understanding, and there may be those who convey knowledge to those who have more understanding of it than they do.'"

(One of the narrators) 'Ali bin Muhammad added to it: "There are three things because of which hatred does not enter the heart of a Muslim: Sincerity in doing an action for the sake of Allâh; being sincere towards the rulers of the Muslims; and adhering to the Jamâ'ah (main body) of the Muslims." (Hasan)

مِنْهُ» زَادَ فِيهِ عَلِيُّ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ: «ثَلَاثٌ لَا يُغَلُّ عَلَيْهِنَّ قَلْبُ امْرِىءٍ مُسْلِمٍ: إِخْلَاصُ الْعَمَلِ لِلَّهِ، وَالنُّصْحُ لِأَئِمَّةِ الْمُسْلِمِينَ، وَلُزُومُ جَمَاعَتِهِمْ».

Comments:

a. The Hadith speaks of the honor and esteem of those who engage themselves in acquiring the knowledge of Hadith and conveying it to others. It says that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ himself has praised those that are engaged in this laudable task.

b. The Hadith mentions one of the benefits of learning the Ahâdith, which is contained in the fact that at times it happens that a man knows the Hadith, but is incapable of exercising his independent judgment, or deducing the rules of Shari'ah that could be derived from it. But the same Hadith lights up with another man when it reaches him, and he is either able to draw various rules of Shari'ah from it, or draw more rules from it than were done by the first conveyor of the Hadith.

c. 'Adhering to the Jamâ'ah' means not to create dissensions in the community, and avoid doing things that could do harm to the Muslims and good to their opponents.

231. Muhammad bin Jubair bin Mut'im narrated that his father said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ stood up at Khaif in Mina and said: 'May Allâh cause his face to shine, the man who hears what I say and conveys it (to others). There are those who have knowledge but no understanding, and there may be those who convey knowledge to those who have more understanding of it than they do.'" (Hasan)

a. The Hadith contains the glad tiding that each age, even after the age of the Companions, shall have its preservers (memorizers) of Ahâdith, regardless of whether their number is more or less.

The expression 'Those who are absent' also includes those who, being present somewhere else at that time, were not able to hear the Prophet's word first hand. It also includes those that were to come after that period, but had the benefit of hearing the words of the Prophet ﷺ from the lips of the Companions ﷺ.

Comments:

Arabic phrases, literally translated here as 'keys of good' and 'locks of evil', are in fact expressions meaning 'the people who open the door of good and close the door of evil', and so on. Thus, in plain language the person possessing the keys of good is the one whom Allâh grants the ability to attract more and more people to the path of good, and block the path of evil and, thus, keep the people from falling into error. On the other hand, the person who chooses to be an associate of the Devil, would be the one who opens the door of evil through which multitudes of people go astray, and take the path of Hell. Such a man can be said to have closed the door of good on the people and kept them from taking the path of guidance.

Chapter 20. The Reward Of One Who Teaches The People

(المعجم ٢٠) - بَابُ ثَوَابِ مُعَلِّمِ النَّاسِ الْخَيْرَ (التحفة ٢٠)

239. It was narrated that Abu Dharr said: "I heard the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ say: 'Everyone in the universe, in the heavens and on earth, prays for forgiveness for the scholar, even the fish in the sea." (Da'if)

٢٣٩ - حَدَّثَنَا هِشَامُ بْنُ عَمَّارٍ: حَدَّثَنَا حَفْصُ ابْنُ عُمَرَ، عَنْ عُثْمَانَ بْنِ عَطَاءٍ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ أَبِي الدَّرْدَاءِ قَالَ: سَمِعْتُ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ يَقُولُ: «إِنَّهُ لَيَسْتَغْفِرُ لِلْعَالِمِ مَنْ فِي السَّمٰوَاتِ وَمَنْ فِي الأَرْضِ، حَتَّى الْحِيتَانِ فِي الْبَحْرِ».

Comments:

a. 'Everyone in the heavens' means the angels, and 'on earth' means Allâh's creation on earth, namely animals, minerals, insects, birds and sea creatures, etc. The presence of a virtuous man on earth is a blessing for all the creatures.

b. The Hadith confirms the high place of honor and status of teachers and preachers before Allâh. Conveyance of Allâh's Message and propagating it could be done either through word of mouth, or writing, or formal teaching, provided that the promised honor will only go to a person if he is also acting upon the knowledge he is delivering to others.

240. Sahl bin Mu'âdh bin Anas narrated from his father that the Prophet ﷺ said: "Whoever teaches some knowledge will have the reward of the one who acts upon it, without that detracting from his reward in the slightest." (Hasan) ٢٤٠ - حَدَّثَنَا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ عِيسى الْمِصْرِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللهِ بْنُ وَهْبٍ، عَنْ يَحْيَى بْنِ أَيُّوبَ، عَنْ سَهْلِ بْنِ مُعَاذِ بْنِ أَنَسٍ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ، قَالَ: «مَنْ عَلَّمَ عِلْماً، فَلَهُ أَجْرُ مَنْ عَمِلَ بِهِ. لاَ يَنْقُصُ مِنْ أَجْرِ الْعَامِلِ».

Comments:

It is because giving knowledge to others is also a form of preaching. The reward of one who engages in inviting others to the path of virtue has already been mentioned under Ahâdith 205 and 206.

241. 'Abdullâh bin Abi Qatâdah narrated that his father said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'The best things that a man can leave behind are three: A righteous son who will pray for him, ongoing charity whose reward will reach him, and knowledge which is acted upon after his death.'" Comments:

a. Children, both sons and daughters, are the priceless gifts of God. The best way to pay one's thanks to Allâh for these gifts is to give the children good education and breeding, so that they grow into good Muslims and useful members of the society.

b. 'Ongoing charity' means doing things whose benefit endures for a long period of time. For instance, it is an act of ongoing charity to make provision of water to the people in a place of scarcity. Another example would be the teaching of the skills of a trade or profession to an unemployed person, so that he is able to earn his livelihood through lawful means.

c. Teaching a branch of knowledge to someone or doing some useful scholarly work, is also an act of virtue whose reward shall endure. Works compiled by the scholars of Ahâdith and other scholars also fall in that category; their reward shall also continue to flow to the compilers as long as the people keep benefiting by them.

242. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'The rewards of the good deeds that will reach a believer after his death are: Knowledge which he taught and spread; a righteous son whom he leaves behind; a copy of the Qur'ân that he leaves as a legacy; a mosque that he built; a house that he built for wayfarers; a canal that he dug; or charity that he gave during his lifetime when he was in good health. These deeds will reach him after his death.'" (Da'if)

Comments:

The Hadith only mentions a few acts of virtue that would attract Allâh's mercy and form a basis for the forgiving of a person's sins and the raising of his status after his death, as though the occurrence of his good deeds were still continuing.

It may be noted that all the acts of virtue mentioned in the Hadith are those that the dying person had himself performed during his lifetime. Acts like the reading of the Qur'ân or performing the prayers on the dead person's behalf do not figure in the list.

Comments:

a. It is a sign of vanity or pride on the part of a man that he walks in front and makes others walk behind him. It means that the person concerned thinks himself superior to others and cannot bear others to walk alongside himself.

b. Some people follow the custom that if a 'holy' man or an elderly person is sitting on a couch, they will not share the couch with him but sit on the ground. This is again a bad custom, since there is more humiliation in it than in walking behind someone.

245. It was narrated that Abu Umâmah said: "The Prophet ﷺ walked on a very hot day towards Baqi' Al-Gharqad (graveyard of Al-Madinah), and the people were walking behind him. When he heard the sound of their shoes, it affected his soul so he sat down until he made them go ahead of him, lest that make him feel too proud." (Da'if)

Comments:

a. What we learn from this Hadith is that it is all right, that of the people, some walk in front of the revered person and others behind him. What is forbidden is that all of them walk behind him.

b. It is no offense to the dignity of the revered person that people walk in front of him.

Chapter 22. Taking Care Of The Seekers Of Knowledge

(المعجم ٢٢) - بَابُ الْوُصَاةِ بِطَلَبَةِ الْعِلْمِ (التحفة ٢٢)

Comments:

a. Blessed are the seekers of the knowledge as given by the Prophet ﷺ, because these are the people who have been declared as deserving of a warm welcome by the Prophet ﷺ himself. It is true that other arts and sciences do not fall in that category, yet the learning of them is also the need of the society.

b. It is the duty of the scholars of religion to treat their students with kindness and love, and make them aware of the place of honor occupied by the religious sciences, so that the students feel inspired to learn them with zeal and passion, and bear with patience the hardships, if any, faced by them in their acquisition of that knowledge.

Shaikh Albâni has described it as a fabricated 'Hadith'. Obviously, Al-Hasan Basri is a successor of the Companions. His only teachers were the Companions and their venerable successors. It is, therefore, hard to believe that they treated their disciples inappropriately.

(المعجم ٢٣) - [بَابُ] الانْتِفَاعِ بِالْعِلْمِ وَالْعَمَلِ بِهِ (التحفة ٢٣)

250. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "One of the supplications that the Prophet ﷺ used to say was: 'Allâhumma, inni a'udhu bika min 'ilmin lâ yanfa'u, wa min du'â'in lâ yusma'u, wa min qalbin lâ yakhsha'u, wa min nafsin lâ tashba'u [O Allâh, I seek refuge with You from knowledge that is of no benefit, from a supplication that is not heard, from a heart that does not fear (You) and from a soul that is not satisfied].'" Comments:

a. Beneficial knowledge for which the supplication has been made in the Hadith, is that knowledge which is also acted upon, since it is the virtuous deeds that are of benefit to a person not only in this world but also in the next.

b. 'A supplication that is not heard' means a prayer that is not answered. 'Seeking refuge from it' means praying to Allâh to answer all of one's supplications, and enable him to articulate his supplications with all its precedent conditions, so that they are met with approval. 'A soul that is not satisfied' means a soul craving for worldly riches and fame, and position of authority. Yearning for more and more knowledge and not resting satisfied with the present, is the happy trait of a man's character. That is why we have been commanded to pray to Allâh thus: "O my Lord! Increase me in knowledge." (20:114)

251. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ used to say: 'Allâhumma, anfa'ni bima 'allamtani, wa 'allimni mâ yanfa'uni, wa zidni 'ilman. Wa'l-hamdu Lillâhi 'ala kulli hâl. [O Allâh, benefit me by that which You have taught me, and teach me that which will benefit me, Alongside the prayer for grant of useful knowledge, the supplication also includes prayer to the effect that Allâh make beneficial the knowledge already granted by Him to the supplicating servant.

252. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Whoever acquires knowledge by which the pleasure of Allâh is sought, but he only acquires it for the purpose of worldly gain, will not smell the fragrance of Paradise on the Day of Resurrection.'" (Hasan)

Comments:

a. 'Not to be able to smell the fragrance of Paradise' means that the person under reference shall be far away from Paradise and, not to speak of the sight of Paradise, he shall not even get a scent of it. It so happens in the world that the scent reaches where even the sound cannot. Being so far away from Paradise obviously means that he shall straightaway go to Hell. May Allâh protect us all from this!

b. Learning the religious sciences for purposes of material gains has been condemned, because a person with this characteristic would certainly misrepresent the laws of the Shari'ah for worldly gains, since his sole intention would be to deceive the people and get them to serve his selfish designs. Thus, instead of guidance, he will make himself a carrier of misguidance.

c. Acquiring the knowledge of worldly sciences with the purpose of being able to earn one's livelihood through lawful means is not included in this condemnation.

253. It was narrated from Ibn 'Umar that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "Whoever seeks knowledge in order to argue with the foolish, or to show off before the scholars, or to attract people's attention, will be in Hell." (Da'if)

٢٥٣ - حَدَّثَنَا هِشَامُ بْنُ عَمَّارٍ: حَدَّثَنَا حَمَّادُ ابْنُ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمٰنِ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو كَرِبٍ الأَزْدِيُّ، عَنْ نَافِعٍ، عَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ ﷺ، قَالَ: «مَنْ طَلَبَ الْعِلْمَ لِيُمَارِيَ بِهِ السُّفَهَاءَ، أَوْ لِيُبَاهِيَ بِهِ الْعُلَمَاءَ، أَوْ لِيَصْرِفَ وُجُوهَ النَّاسِ إِلَيْهِ، فَهُوَ فِي النَّارِ».

Comments:

a. Anyone who acquires knowledge without sincerity of intention is generally prompted by such motives as have been mentioned in the Hadith. His evil intention, therefore, will drive him to Hell.

b. There are people who either want to be more and more famous among the population, and also wish that many titles are added to their names both in speech and writing. Or else their aim is to secure a high position in a religious or political organization. With these aims in view, they use various tactics for the glorification of self, and the degradation of other scholars. The main reason behind all this is their lack of sincerity.

254. It was narrated from Jâbir bin 'Abdullâh that the Prophet ﷺ said: "Do not seek knowledge in order to show off in front of the scholars, or to argue with the foolish, and do not choose the best seat in a gathering, due to it (i.e. the knowledge which you have learned) for whoever does that, the Fire, the Fire (awaits him)." It was narrated from Ibn 'Abbâs that the Prophet ﷺ said: "There will be some people among my Ummah (nation) who will gain knowledge of the religion, and they will recite Qur'ân, and will say: 'We come to the rulers so that we may have some share of their worldly wealth, and we will make sure that our religious commitment is not affected,' but that will not be the case. Comments:

a. The Hadith tells us that a man must keep an eye on the gains and losses of the Hereafter, even in matters mundane and temporal. A true believer thus sacrifices his worldly benefits for his gains in the Hereafter. Consequently, he relishes, rather than grieve over his worldly losses and sacrifices, and thus becomes secure from all worldly concerns.

b. Neglecting the Hereafter has its evil consequences, even in this world, to the extent that anyone who does it, is always plagued by worries and concerns. He falls into grief at anything that he loses, while a true believer maintains his patience and fortitude for the simple reason that he hopes of a better reward in the Hereafter.

a. Imâm Khattâbi is reported as saying: The knowledge under reference is the knowledge that is essential for each Muslim to have, for example the formula of ritual prayer, etc. The warning does not apply to the sciences of secondary importance, such as the knowledge of grammar, logic, philosophy and so on.

b. Reply to a questioner may be avoided if there is reason to believe that the questioner will put that knowledge to unlawful uses.

c. If questions are put to a person in order to test his knowledge, he must be given adequate opportunity to answer according to his knowledge, and no one else should try to help him in that, otherwise the very purpose of the examination will be failed.

262. It was narrated that 'Abdur-Rahmân bin Hurmuz Al-A'raj heard Abu Hurairah say: "By Allâh, were it not for two Verses in the Book of Allâh, I would never have narrated anything from him, meaning from the Prophet ﷺ, were it not for the Words of Allâh: Verily, those who conceal what Allâh has sent down of the Book, and purchase a small gain therewith (of worldly things), they eat into their bellies nothing but fire. Allâh will not speak to them on the Day of Resurrection, nor purify them, and theirs will be a painful torment. Those are they who have purchased error at the price of guidance, and torment at the price of forgiveness. So how bold they are (for evil deeds which will push them) to the Fire.'"[1] (Sahih)

Comments:

Ahâdith reported in the Books of Hadith from Abu Hurairah ﷺ are more numerous than those reported by any other Companion. Reasons for this are as follows:

1. Emigrant Companions devoted part of their time to trade activities etc, in order to earn sustenance for themselves and their families through legitimate means. Moreover, most of the Helpers were cultivators, a profession which naturally took up a lot of their time. Abu Hurairah, however, belonged to the group known as Ahlus-Suffah (People of the Platform). He was not concerned about earning his bread. Instead, he devoted all his time to the acquisition of knowledge, by which reason oftentimes he even had to go hungry.
2. Abu Hurairah ﷺ did not seek knowledge from the Prophet ﷺ alone. He even turned to other Companions for the knowledge of Ahâdith etc. in times when the Prophet ﷺ was either inside his house or busy with other things.
3. Abu Hurairah ﷺ enjoyed another point of distinction. The Prophet ﷺ had made a special supplication to Allâh to grant him good retentive memory. (Bukhâri 118 & Muslim: 6085). The Verses mentioned in the body of the Hadith speak of the sin of concealing knowledge, and the dire punishment awaiting those guilty of it, especially when it is necessary to reveal it.

263. It was narrated that Jâbir said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'When the last people of this Ummah curse the first, (at that time) whoever conceals a Hadith will be concealing what Allâh has revealed.'" (Maudu')

Comments:

a. The term 'concealing' as used here applies to a situation where a person knew the law of the Shari'ah but abstained from narrating it, for the benefit of others, without any reasonable excuse.

b. This confirms the handing down of dire punishment for those who conceal their knowledge.

265. It was narrated that Abu Sa'eed Khudri said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Whoever conceals knowledge which Allâh has made beneficial for mankind's affairs of religion, Allâh will bridle him with reins of fire on the Day of Resurrection." (Da'if)

تخريج: [إسناده ضعيف جدًا] قال البوصيري: «هذا إسناد ضعيف، فيه محمد بن دأب، كذبه أبو زرعة وغيره ونسب إلى وضع الحديث».

266. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Whoever is asked about knowledge that he has and he conceals it, will be bridled on the Day of Resurrection with reins of fire.'" (Hasan)

Comments: 265 & 266

It is also an act of sin to give out a law of Shari'ah without knowledge, simply on the basis of one's personal opinion. It is, however, a different matter if one gives an opinion based on one's independent judgment after he has done his best, but failed to find the answer either in the Qur'ân or in the Sunnah.

(1) The Chapters Of Purification And Its Sunnah

(المعجم ١) أَبْوَابُ الطَّهَارَةِ وَسُنَنِهَا (التحفة ٢)

Comments:

a. The Arabic word Tahârah literally means:
   (i) to be cleansed of all filth, and
   (ii) to be blameless in word and deed.

b. In the context of the Islamic law, Tahârah means:
   (i) to remove the impurity of Hadath Asghar (minor impurity caused by passing wind or urine, or relieving oneself) by making Wudu' (ablution), and
   (ii) to remove the impurity of Hadath Akbar (major impurity caused by sexual discharge) by making Ghusl (full bath).

   The first practical lesson that we learn in Islam is the lesson of Tahârah (cleanliness). In fact, it is a prerequisite ordained by the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ for the validity of the ritual prayer (Salât) offered by a believer.

   When comparing this elevated system of purification and cleanliness in Islam with the practices of other religionists, it is no wonder that these people feel amazed at the decent system of purity advocated and practised in Islam. According to a famous report, a Jew once said tauntingly to the Companion Salmân Fârisi: "It is said that your Prophet even teaches you how to secure purity after relieving oneself?" The Companion answered in a tone of perfect self-assurance and ease, "Yes, our Prophet teaches us everything, even the rules of purification after relieving oneself.

Chapter 1. The Quantity Of Water Required For Ablution And Bath In A State Of Sexual Impurity

(المعجم ١) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي مِقْدَارِ الْمَاءِ لِلْوُضُوءِ وَالْغُسْلِ مِنَ الْجَنَابَةِ (التحفة ١)

267. It was narrated that Safinah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ used to perform ablution with a Mudd (of water) and bath with a Sâ'."[1] (Sahih)

تخريج: [صحيح] ※ الربيع بن بدر متروك (تقريب)، وله شواهد كثيرة جدًا منها الحديث السابق: ٢٦٧.

270. 'Abdullâh bin Muhammad bin 'Aqil bin Abu Tâlib narrated from his father that his grandfather said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'A Mudd is sufficient for the ablution and a Sâ' is sufficient for the bath.' A man said: 'It is not sufficient for us.'" He (the narrator) said: "It was sufficient for one who is better than you and had more hair" meaning the Prophet ﷺ. (Sahih) تخريج: [صحيح] قال البوصيري: «هذا إسناد ضعيف، لضعف حبان ويزيد» ولكن له شواهد عند البخاري وغيره.

Comments:

By answering so, 'Aqil ﷺ means to say that if excessive use of water is intended to secure purification and cleanliness, then the Prophet ﷺ presented a perfect example of it. If it means taking extra caution, then the Prophet ﷺ was more God-fearing and pious than anyone else. If you mean to say that you have more hair, then the Prophet's hair was not less than yours. Therefore, your excessive use of water was either the result of your inclination for doubting and satanic whisperings, or of your disposition to extravagance, which must be avoided.

Chapter 2. Allâh Does Not Accept Salât (Prayer) Without Purification

Comments:

The Arabic word Tahârah (cleanliness) or Tahur here means Wudu (ablution) and Ghusl (bath). It is a prerequisite for the ritual prayer that the worshipper be free of both the minor and major impurities in addition to any other apparent filth. And just as one is required to be mindful of the lawful and the unlawful mode of expenditure, he must also be cautious about the lawful and unlawful ways of earning his wealth.

Chapter 3. The Key To Prayer Is Purification

٢٧٥ - حَدَّثَنَا عَلِيُّ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا وَكِيعٌ، عَنْ سُفْيَانَ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ عَقِيلٍ، عَنْ مُحَمَّدِ ابْنِ الْحَنَفِيَّةِ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «مِفْتَاحُ الصَّلاَةِ الطُّهُورُ، وَتَحْرِيمُهَا التَّكْبِيرُ، وَتَحْلِيلُهَا التَّسْلِيمُ».

275. It was narrated from Muhammad bin Al-Hanafiyyah that his father said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'The key to prayer is purification, its opening is to say 'Allâhu Akbar' and its closing is to say As-salâmu 'alaikum.'" (Hasan) تخريج: [حسن] أخرجه أبو داود، الطهارة، باب فرض الوضوء، ح:٦١ من حديث وكيع به، وحسنه البغوي، والنووي.

Comments:

a. Just as no lock is opened without a key, there is also no entering into prayer without freedom from minor and major impurities. This shows that cleanliness is a prerequisite for prayer.

b. Pronouncing the formula of Allâh's greatness (Allâhu Akbar) signals the banning of all things incompatible with prayer. This is why the formula pronounced at the start of the prayer is called Takbir At-Tahrim (formula of prohibition).

c. All restrictions imposed by the utterance of the Takbir At-Tahrim are waived when the worshipper, at the close of his prayer utters the words As-salâmu 'alaikum. That is why this action is known as Tahlil (legalizing or loosening), which means that all those things that were specifically prohibited during the prayer are now permissible again.

276. It was narrated from Abu Sa'eed Al-Khudri that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "The key to prayer is purification, its opening is to say Allâhu Akbar and its closing is to say As-salâmu 'alaikum." (Hasan)

Chapter 4. Maintaining One's Ablution

(المعجم ٤) - بَابُ الْمُحَافَظَةِ عَلَى الْوُضُوءِ (التحفة ٤)

277. It was narrated that Thawbân said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Adhere to righteousness even though you will not be able to do all acts of virtue. Know that the best of your deeds is Salât (prayer) and that no one maintains his ablution except a believer.'" (Hasan)

تخريج: [حسن] * سالم لم يسمع من ثوبان رضي الله عنه، وللحديث شاهدان حسنان عند أحمد: ٥/ ٢٨٠، ٢٨٢ وغيره، وصححه ابن عبدالبر وغيره.

Comments:

a. 'Adherence to the righteousness' means adherence to the path of Islam.

b. 'You will not be able to do all acts of virtue' means none of you would be able to stick to the path of virtue in a manner that all deviations and shortcomings are banished from your life. Nor is it possible for you to offer your obeisance and remembrance to Allâh as would be commensurate with His supernal glory and majesty.

c. Maintenance of ablution or the nullification of it, is a state of being which no one else but the person concerned would generally know, and it could easily be kept hidden from others. It could only be taken due care of by the firm belief that, no matter whether others know it or not, Allâh surely knows it.

d. Imân is a matter of the heart. It finds expression in actions and deeds. And we have been told that the most important of all virtuous deeds is the prayer. Obligatory prayer (Salât) is of so much importance that it has been described as a dividing line between belief and disbelief. No wonder then, that prayer has been described as the highest attribute of the pious and the foremost condition for prosperity in the Hereafter.

278. It was narrated that 'Abdullâh bin 'Amr said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Adhere to righteousness even though you will not be able to do all acts of virtue. Know that among the best of your deeds is prayer and that no one maintains his ablution except a believer.'" (Hasan) ٢٧٨ - حَدَّثَنَا إِسْحَاقُ بْنُ إِبْرَاهِيمَ بْنِ حَبِيبٍ: حَدَّثَنَا الْمُعْتَمِرُ بْنُ سُلَيْمَانَ، عَنْ لَيْثٍ، عَنْ مُجَاهِدٍ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ عَمْرٍو قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «اسْتَقِيمُوا وَلَنْ تُحْصُوا. وَاعْلَمُوا أَنَّ مِنْ أَفْضَلِ أَعْمَالِكُمُ الصَّلَاةَ، وَلَا يُحَافِظُ عَلَى الْوُضُوءِ إِلَّا مُؤْمِنٌ».

Chapter 5. Ablution Is Half Of Faith

(المعجم ٥) - بَابُ الوُضُوءُ شَطْرُ الإِيمَانِ (التحفة ٥)

280. It was narrated from Abu Mâlik Ash'ari that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "Performing ablution properly'[1] is half of faith, saying Al-Hamdu Lillâh fills the Scale (of good deeds), saying Subhân-Allâh and Allâhu Akbar fills the heavens and the earth, prayer is light, Zakât is proof, patience is brightness and the Qur'ân is proof for you or against you. Every person goes out in the morning to sell his soul, so he either frees it or destroys it.'" (Sahih)

تخريج: [إسناده صحيح] أخرجه النسائي: ٥/ ٨٥، ح: ٢٤٣٧ من حديث محمد بن شعيب به (أخوه زيد)، وأخرجه مسلم، ح: ٢٢٣ عن زيد أبي سلام عن أبي مالك الأشعري به.

Comments:

a. The term Scale here means the side of the Scale that weighs the good deeds done by a man. The formula Al-Hamdu Lillâh (praise is to Allâh) is not only an expression of praise for Allâh, but also an affirmation of the fact that He is the possessor of all those sublime attributes that are commensurate with His glory and majesty. Not only this, all the praiseworthy qualities found anywhere in the creatures are also created and invested in the creatures by Him. This is another aspect of His magnificence, deserving all praise.

b. Subhân-Allâh Glorified is Allâh means that Allâh is exempt from all those matters, actions and attributes that are unbecoming His majesty and glory.

c. Prayer has been dubbed as light because it keeps the worshippers from indulging in acts of sin.

d. Giving Zakât (obligatory sharing of wealth with the poor) is a proof that the man in question is sincere in his profession of faith.

e. Patience means (i) perseverance in obeying Allâh's commands and steadfastness in the doing of good, (ii) adhering to the principle of piety in the face of worldly temptations of lust and sin, and (iii) abstaining from falling prey to evils, like bewailing and grieving over mishaps and misfortunes, as well as keeping away from other acts of sin.

f. Man's salvation in the Hereafter is linked to his deeds. This has been illustrated in the Hadith by means of a parable, which says that when man starts his day, open before him are both the options – of good and of evil. Now, it is for the man to decide whether to sell his soul to Allâh or to the Devil. Thus, anyone who chooses the path of virtue and does good deeds, he certainly secures his salvation. But the one who surrenders his reins to Satan and does his biddings, brings about his own ruin.

281. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'When anyone of you performs ablution and does it well, then he comes to the mosque for no other purpose than prayer, he does not take one step but Allâh will raise him one degree (in status) thereby, and remove one sin from him thereby, until he enters the mosque.'" (Sahih) ٢٨١ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو مُعَاوِيَةَ، عَنِ الأَعْمَشِ، عَنْ أَبِي صَالِحٍ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «إِنَّ أَحَدَكُمْ إِذَا تَوَضَّأَ فَأَحْسَنَ الْوُضُوءَ، ثُمَّ أَتَى الْمَسْجِدَ لاَ يَنْهَزُهُ إِلَّا الصَّلاَةُ، لَمْ يَخْطُ خَطْوَةً إِلَّا رَفَعَهُ اللهُ عَزَّ وَجَلَّ بِهَا دَرَجَةً، وَحَطَّ عَنْهُ بِهَا خَطِيئَةً، حَتَّى يَدْخُلَ الْمَسْجِدَ».

Comments:

a. Greater reward is promised for those who perform their ablution and do it well.

b. Sometimes when a man comes to the mosque, his intention is to meet someone or to do some other necessary work. In addition to that, he also performs his prayer in the mosque. Of course this does not decrease his reward of the prayer, but if his coming out from the house were solely for the purpose of the prayer, his reward would be much more.

c. It is much more preferable to come to the mosque having performed the ablution at one's home, or shop, or office.

282. It was narrated from 'Abdullâh As-Sunâbihi that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "Whoever performs ablution and rinses his mouth and nose, his sins will exit through his mouth and nose. When he washes his face, his sins will exit from his face, even from beneath his eyelids. When he washes his hands, his sins will exit from his hands. When he wipes his head, his sins will exit from his head, and even from his ears. When he washes his feet, his sins will exit from his feet, even from beneath his toenails. Then his prayer and his walking towards the mosque will earn extra merit for him." (Sahih)

٢٨٢ - حَدَّثَنَا سُوَيْدُ بْنُ سَعِيدٍ: حَدَّثَنِي حَفْصُ بْنُ مَيْسَرَةَ: حَدَّثَنِي زَيْدُ بْنُ أَسْلَمَ، عَنْ عَطَاءِ بْنِ يَسَارٍ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ الصُّنَابِحِيِّ، عَنْ رَسُولِ اللهِ ﷺ قَالَ: «مَنْ تَوَضَّأَ فَمَضْمَضَ وَاسْتَنْشَقَ، خَرَجَتْ خَطَايَاهُ مِنْ فِيهِ وَأَنْفِهِ، فَإِذَا غَسَلَ وَجْهَهُ خَرَجَتْ خَطَايَاهُ مِنْ وَجْهِهِ، حَتَّى يَخْرُجَ مِنْ تَحْتِ أَشْفَارِ عَيْنَيْهِ، فَإِذَا غَسَلَ يَدَيْهِ خَرَجَتْ خَطَايَاهُ مِنْ يَدَيْهِ، فَإِذَا مَسَحَ بِرَأْسِهِ خَرَجَتْ خَطَايَاهُ مِنْ رَأْسِهِ، حَتَّى تَخْرُجَ مِنْ أُذُنَيْهِ، فَإِذَا غَسَلَ رِجْلَيْهِ خَرَجَتْ خَطَايَاهُ مِنْ رِجْلَيْهِ حَتَّى تَخْرُجَ مِنْ تَحْتِ أَظْفَارِ رِجْلَيْهِ، وَكَانَتْ صَلَاتُهُ، وَمَشْيُهُ إِلَى الْمَسْجِدِ نَافِلَةً».

Comments:

a. The exiting of the sins means the forgiving of sins by Allâh.
b. Sins forgiven through ablution are generally the minor sins. Major sins are forgiven through sincere repentance, or else Allâh in His infinite mercy may pardon them. However, in case the sins had a bearing on the rights of others, their forgiveness depends upon remedying those grievances, or on being pardoned by the aggrieved party or parties.

283. It was narrated that 'Amr bin 'Abasah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'When a person performs ablution and washes his hands, his sins exit through his hands. When he washes his face, his sins exit through his face. When he washes his forearms and wipes his head, his sins exit through his forearms and head. When he washes his feet, his sins exit through his feet.'" (Hasan)

ذِرَاعَيْهِ وَمَسَحَ بِرَأْسِهِ خَرَّتْ خَطَايَاهُ مِنْ ذِرَاعَيْهِ وَرَأْسِهِ، فَإِذَا غَسَلَ رِجْلَيْهِ خَرَّتْ خَطَايَاهُ مِنْ رِجْلَيْهِ».

Comments:

Sins of the hands are the sins of acts either neglected or committed by the hands. Likewise, the sins of the face are the sins related to uttering improper words, or giving ear to things that were not fit to be heard, and so on. If it is just a mistake or slip on the part of the person concerned, then it is a minor sin that would be removed through ablution. In case it is a deliberate and preplanned act, then it is a major sin for which repentance is an essential requirement.

284. 'Abdullâh bin Mas'ud said: "It was said: 'O Messenger of Allâh, how will you recognize those whom you have not seen of your Ummah?' He said: 'From the blazes on their foreheads and feet, like horses with black and white traces (which make them distinct from others) which are the traces of ablution.'" (Hasan)

Comments:

a. This shows the excellence of the followers of the Prophet ﷺ, since their distinguishing mark would be a blazing light on their parts of the body washed in ablution.

b. The blaze of light on the parts of body would be generated by the performance of ablution. It means that the Muslims neglecting their prayer shall be deprived of this blessed glow, so they would be indistinguishable from non-Muslims. There can be no greater misfortune for a person calling himself a Muslim, that the Prophet ﷺ refuses to recognize him as such.

285. Humrân the freed slave of 'Uthmân bin 'Affân said: "I saw 'Uthmân bin 'Affân sitting in Maqâ'id.[1] He called for water and he performed ablution, then he said: 'I saw the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ sitting in this place where I am sitting, performing ablution as I have done. Then he said: "Whoever performs ablution as I have done, his previous sins will be forgiven." And the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "And do not be conceited (due to this great virtue)." (Sahih)

Comments:

'Do not be conceited or deceived' means that the promise of such a great reward for an act of virtue might make you contented, or neglectful of other virtuous deeds or, maybe, you start taking the acts of sin lightly under the illusion that the ablution would wash off all of your sins. This kind of contentment is in itself an act of sin. Nor should anyone allow the illusion to go into his head that he is the most virtuous or blameless of all his fellow human beings.

Chapter 7. Tooth Stick

Comments:

a. The mouth and the tongue are the tools of pronouncing the glory of Allâh. It is, therefore, necessary for all of us to be particular about their cleanliness and purity. That is the reason why ablution has been declared as a precondition for the performance of prayers, since it contains both the elements connected with the purity of mouth, namely rinsing and using tooth stick.

b. Sleep creates a kind of foul smell in the mouth that needs to be removed through rinsing the mouth and use of tooth stick, regardless of whether a person gets up to offer Tahajjud (optional midnight prayer) or Fajr (obligatory dawn prayer).

287. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Were it not that it would be too difficult for my Ummah (nation), I would have commanded them to use the tooth stick at every time of prayer.'" (Sahih)

تخريج: [إسناده صحيح] أخرجه النسائي في الكبرىٰ، ح:٣٠٣٤، ٣٠٣٧ عن عبيدالله بن عمر به.

Comments:

a. 'Were it not that it would be too difficult' means the Prophet ﷺ feared that it might become too difficult for his followers to comply with his orders, since there could be occasions when the tooth stick might not be available, or at least not easily available.

b. 'Would have commanded' means that he would have made the use of tooth stick compulsory, since it still enjoys the status of a recommended act. It is not, however, a prerequisite for the validity of ablution.

c. The words 'At every time of prayer' means that if the tooth stick was not used before ablution it would have been ordered to use it just before entering the prayer.

288. It was narrated that Ibn 'Abbâs said: "The Messenger of Allâh used to pray in the night (Qiyâmul-Lail) two Rak'ah by two, then when he finished he would use the tooth stick." (Da'if)

٢٨٨ - حَدَّثَنَا سُفْيَانُ بْنُ وَكِيعٍ: حَدَّثَنَا عَثَّامُ ابْنُ عَلِيٍّ، عَنِ الْأَعْمَشِ، عَنْ حَبِيبِ بْنِ أَبِي ثَابِتٍ، عَنْ سَعِيدِ بْنِ جُبَيْرٍ، عَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَ: كَانَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ يُصَلِّي بِاللَّيْلِ رَكْعَتَيْنِ رَكْعَتَيْنِ، ثُمَّ يَنْصَرِفُ فَيَسْتَاكُ.

Comments:

a. As regards the prayer of Tahajjud, the Prophet ﷺ was most often used to perform two Rak'ah units by two, until he made a total of eleven Rak'ahs including the Witr prayer.

b. As has already been mentioned, the Prophet ﷺ often used a tooth stick even while preparing for the prayer of Tahajjud (see H. 286). Here it is mentioned that he used to do it even after each two Rak'ah.

289. It was narrated from Abu Umâmah that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "Use the tooth stick, for the tooth stick purifies the mouth and is pleasing to the Lord. Jibril never came to me but he advised me to use the tooth stick, until I feared that it would be made obligatory for me and my Ummah. Were it not that I fear that it would be too difficult for my Ummah, I would have enjoined it upon them. And I use the tooth stick until I fear that I may make the front of my mouth sore.' (i.e. my gums) (or cause my teeth to fall out due to brushing them so often)." (Da'if)

290. It was narrated from Miqdâm bin Shuraih bin Hâni' that his father said: "I said to 'Aishah: 'Tell me, what was the first thing that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ did when he entered upon you?' She said: 'The first thing he would do would be to use the tooth stick.'" (Sahih)

٢٩٠ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا شَرِيكٌ، عَنِ الْمِقْدَامِ بْنِ شُرَيْحِ بْنِ هَانِئٍ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَ، قُلْتُ: أَخْبِرِينِي، بِأَيِّ شَيْءٍ كَانَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ يَبْدَأُ إِذَا دَخَلَ عَلَيْكِ؟ قَالَتْ: كَانَ إِذَا دَخَلَ يَبْدَأُ بِالسِّوَاكِ.

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، الطهارة، باب السواك، ح: ٢٥٣ من حديث المقدام به.

Comments:

a. This shows that even outside the prayer timings the Prophet ﷺ used the tooth stick quite frequently.

b. Some of the scholars of Fiqh (jurisprudence) have added certain conditions with regard to the use of the tooth stick. They say, for example, that the tooth stick must be of the length of one span, or that one must not do it without drenching it in water, and so on. Nothing of these assertions is supported by any evidence or proof.

291. It was narrated that 'Ali bin Abu Tâlib said: "Your mouths are the paths of the Qur'ân, so perfume them with the tooth stick." (Da'if)

٢٩١ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عَبْدِ الْعَزِيزِ: حَدَّثَنَا مُسْلِمُ بْنُ إِبْرَاهِيمَ: حَدَّثَنَا بَحْرُ بْنُ [كَنِيزٍ]، عَنْ عُثْمَانَ بْنِ سَاجٍ، عَنْ سَعِيدِ بْنِ جُبَيْرٍ، عَنْ عَلِيِّ بْنِ أَبِي طَالِبٍ قَالَ: إِنَّ أَفْوَاهَكُمْ طُرُقٌ لِلْقُرْآنِ، فَطَيِّبُوهَا بِالسِّوَاكِ.

Comments:

a. It is a Mawquf (Discontinued) Hadith since it is the saying of a Companion, not of the Prophet ﷺ. Nevertheless, the merits of the tooth stick are proved even from Marfu' (Traceable) Ahâdith, i.e. from Ahâdith traceable back to the Prophet ﷺ in ascending order.

b. 'Mouths are the paths of the Qur'ân' means that, mouths are the media in reciting the noble words of the Qur'ân. It is, therefore, necessary that the mouths be in a state of purity at the time of the recitation of the Noble Book.

Chapter 8. The Fitrah (Natural Inclination Of Man)

(المعجم ٨) - بَابُ الفِطْرَةِ (التحفة ٨)

292. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'The deeds connected to the Fitrah are five (or five things are connected to the Fitrah): circumcision, shaving the pubic hairs, clipping the nails, plucking the armpit hairs and trimming the mustache.'" (Sahih)

تخريج: أخرجه البخاري، اللباس، باب قص الشارب، ح:٥٨٨٩، ومسلم، الطهارة، باب خصال الفطرة، ح:٢٥٧ من حديث سفيان بن عيينة به، وهو في جزءه (١١).

Comments :

a. Fitrah means the things that are part of a religion which are in perfect harmony with the demands of nature and, therefore, part of the Sunnah and Shari'ah of all the Prophets of Allâh that have gone before.

b. Circumcision means to remove the prepuce (the foreskin or the fold of skin that covers the head of the male organ) so that the head of the organ is bared. The process has great medical advantage because the filth collected inside the foreskin, if not removed, might breed various diseases.

c. Plucking the hair of the armpit is a Sunnah of the Prophet ﷺ. The act of plucking keeps the hair from growing again for a considerable period of time although shaving it also serves the purpose of achieving purity.

d. Nails, if left to grow, also tend to collect filth. It is, therefore, in the interest of cleanliness that they be clipped.

e. Growing the mustache was a custom of the non-Arab polytheists. Arabs also contracted this evil habit from them. The Prophet ﷺ enjoined that it be closely trimmed, but the Hadith only speaks of trimming, and not of shaving it.

293. It was narrated that 'Âishah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Ten things are connected to the Fitrah: trimming the mustache, letting the beard grow, using the tooth stick, rinsing out the nostrils with water, clipping the nails, washing the joints, plucking the armpit hairs, shaving the pubic hairs, washing the private parts with water.'" (Sahih)

وَنَتْفُ الْإِبِطِ، وَحَلْقُ الْعَانَةِ، وَانْتِقَاصُ الْمَاءِ» يَعْنِي: الاِسْتِنْجَاءَ.

قَالَ زَكَرِيَّا: قَالَ مُصْعَبٌ: وَنَسِيتُ الْعَاشِرَةَ. إِلَّا أَنْ تَكُونَ الْمَضْمَضَةَ.

(One of the narrators) Zakariyyâ said: "Mus'ab said: 'I have forgotten the tenth thing, but it may have been rinsing out the mouth.'" (Sahih) تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، الطهارة، باب خصال الفطرة، ح:٢٦١ عن ابن أبي شيبة وغيره به.

Comments:

a. 'Letting the beard grow' means that, unlike the mustache, it should not be trimmed or shaved. Shaving the beard is unlawful and the person doing it is a transgressor, since he violates the dictates of those Ahâdith that make the growing of beard mandatory

b. Finger joints also collect filth. One, therefore, needs to be particular about cleaning them well during ablution. Similarly, the other parts of body that are more likely to collect filth need special attention during a bath. It is necessary because, if no special care is taken, bath water at times fails to reach those spots, and the bath remains incomplete.

Comments:

The Arabic word Intidâh used in the Hadith means the sprinkling of water on the lower garment. But the narrator also used the word Istinja' to clarify that it means 'washing the private parts'. The rationale of the action lies in the fact that, if perchance a drop of urine trickles down the body unintentionally, the person concerned should not feel unduly bothered about it, but persuade himself that the dampness is from the water sprinkled on the lower garment. Anyhow, it is Allâh who knows best.

Comments:

The acts must be performed as and when considered necessary. But even if delayed, the delay must not be for more than forty days, otherwise it shall be counted as sin. It should not, however, be construed that it is forbidden to do these acts in less than forty days.

a. 'Male and female devils' means the devils among the Jinn, that take pleasure in teasing humans just for fun.

b. The devils, of impure disposition as they are, only like unclean places. That is why they frequent the toilets.

c. The supplication quoted above must be recited before entering the washroom or lavatory. (See Bukhâri: 142.) It is against the rules of decency to articulate supplications inside the lavatory with the tongue. In case a person is going to relieve himself in an open field, let him pronounce the supplication before undressing himself.

Comments:

a. Asking forgiveness from Allâh after relieving oneself is recommended, because clearly the person concerned was unable to recite words of the remembrance of Allâh during that period of time. Imputing this failure by the person to himself, although for reasons involuntary, is a part of etiquette and respect for the Creator. Hence the appeal for forgiveness. Another likely explanation is that freeing the body of impurity is a great favor from Allâh which must be acknowledged and thanked for. And since we cannot thank our Benevolent Lord as much as we should, we ask Him for forgiveness.

b. The supplication under reference is to be offered after exiting the toilet. In case the person had used an open field for the purpose, the prayer should be offered by the person after he has properly dressed up himself.

301. It was narrated that Anas bin Mâlik said: "When aver the Prophet ﷺ exited the toilet, he would say: 'Al-hamdu lillâhilladhi adhhaba 'annial-adha wa 'âfâni (Praise is to Allâh Who has relieved me of impurity and given me good health).'" (Da'if)

(المعجم ١١) - بَابُ ذِكْرِ اللهِ عَزَّ وَجَلَّ عَلَى الْخَلَاءِ وَالْخَاتَمِ فِي الْخَلَاءِ

(التحفة ١١)

302. 'Urwah narrated from 'Âishah that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ used to remember Allâh in all circumstances. (Sahih)

٣٠٢ - حَدَّثَنَا سُوَيْدُ بْنُ سَعِيدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا يَحْيَى ابْنُ زَكَرِيَّا بْنِ أَبِي زَائِدَةَ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ خَالِدِ ابْنِ سَلَمَةَ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ الْبَهِيِّ، عَنْ عُرْوَةَ، عَنْ عَائِشَةَ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ كَانَ يَذْكُرُ اللهَ عَلَى كُلِّ أَحْيَانِهِ.

Comments:

a. 'Remembering Allâh in all circumstances' means that the Prophet ﷺ used to remember Allâh at all times regardless of whether he was in a state of ablution or not. What we infer from the Hadith is that, in order to remember Allâh with the tongue, we do not have to follow all those rules of purity that are a prerequisite for the ritual prayer.

b. 'In all circumstances and times' could also mean that, unlike the prayer that is undesirable (Makruh) to perform at certain hours, there is no such restriction on engaging in the remembrance of Allâh.

303. It was narrated from Anas bin Mâlik that when the Prophet ﷺ entered the toilet, he would take off his ring. (Da'if)

تخريج: [إسناده ضعيف] أخرجه أبو داود، الطهارة، باب الخاتم يكون فيه ذكر الله تعالى يدخل به الخلاء، ح:١٩ عن نصر به، وقال: «هذا حديث منكر»، وصححه الترمذي، ح:١٧٤٦، وضعفه النسائي (تحفة الأشراف:١/ ٣٨٥) * ابن جريج مشهور بالتدليس ولم أجد تصريح سماعه.

Comments:

The Hadith is not only weak but Munkar (Denounced) as well. An authentic Hadith has only this; that the Prophet ﷺ had a silver ring made for himself, but later on he took it off. (See Sunan Abu Dâ'wud, 19). We cannot, therefore, say for sure as to whether or not the Prophet ﷺ used to take off his ring while entering the toilet. Anyhow, etiquette demands that a ring or a book with Allâh's Name inscribed or written in it must not be taken inside the lavatory.

Chapter 12. It is Undesirable (Makruh) To Urinate In The Place For Washing

(المعجم ١٢) - بَابُ كَرَاهَةِ الْبَوْلِ فِي الْمُغْتَسَلِ (التحفة ١٢)

304. It was narrated that 'Abdullâh bin Mughaffal said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'None of you should urinate in his wash area for most of the insinuating thoughts[1] come from that." (Da'if)

Abu 'Abdullâh bin Mâjah said: ("Abul-Hasan said: 'I heard Muhammad bin Yazid[2] saying:) "Ali bin Muhammad At-Tanâfisi said: 'This (prohibition) applies to cases where the ground (in the place used for washing) was soft. Comments :

a. The best way to urinate is to do it in a sitting position. It was a part of the Prophet's normal practice to urinate while sitting.

b. On this occasion the Prophet ﷺ is reported to have urinated in the standing position. Maybe, his intention was to show to the Ummah that this was also permissible, so that a hard pressed man, obliged to do so, does not suffer from guilt-consciousness. There is also the possibility that the Prophet ﷺ himself was faced with a situation where he feared to defile his clothes if he did it in a sitting position, or maybe he found it too difficult to sit down at that hour. However, Allâh knows best of all. It is nevertheless essential that all of us take due precaution lest a splash of urine should defile our clothing.

306. Shu'bah narrated from 'Âsim, from Abu Wâ'il, from Mughirah bin Shu'bah that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ came to the garbage dump of some people and urinated standing up. (Hasan) Shu'bah said: "That day, 'Âsim said: 'Amash reported this from Abu Wâ'il, from Hudhaifah,[1] but he did not remember it (correctly). So I asked Mansur about it, and he narrated it to me from Abu Wâ'il, from Hudhaifah, that the Prophet ﷺ came to a

Comments:

Denial by 'Âishah ؓ is based on her personal knowledge and observation, because inside the house, the Prophet ﷺ always urinated in the sitting position and inside the toilet. In the preceding Hadith, however, Hudhaifah ؓ described what he had seen at the outside, of which the Mother of the Believers was not aware. Both of them are, therefore, right in their respective descriptions.

308. It was narrated that 'Umar said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ saw me urinating while standing, and he said: 'O 'Umar, do not urinate standing up.' So I never urinated whilst standing after that." (Da'if)

Ahmad bin 'Abdur-Rahmân said: 'It was the custom of the Arabs to urinate standing up. Comments: 308 & 309

Both the above Ahâdith are Weak. As such no cognizance can be taken of them, and no interdiction on urinating in the standing position can be proved from them. There is, however, no doubt that the Prophet's normal practice was to urinate in the sitting position. As such the believers should follow this practice. The main issue in this context is to avoid defiling one's clothes from the splash of urine. Failure to take care of that is not pardonable, since there are strict warnings against it in the Ahâdith of the Prophet ﷺ.

Comments:

It is one of the features of the Islamic culture that purity and cleanliness occupy such a prominent place in it. The culture even teaches us as to how we are to cleanse ourselves after satisfying relieving ourselves. This Hadith, in particular, gives us the useful direction that we are not to use the right hand for cleaning the secret parts of our body, or even for touching those parts.

Comments:

a. It is not allowed for a person going out to urinate or relieve himself, either to sit facing the Qiblah, or turning his back towards it. Scholars consider the ruling applicable to the open areas and fields, since sitting inside the lavatory with the back turned towards the Qiblah is proved from the Sunnah of the Prophet ﷺ himself. (Bukhâri: 148 & Muslim: 266)

b. Prophet's order to use three pebbles for cleansing is meant to ensure greater degree of purity. In case one is using water for purification, then there is no need to use the pebbles or lumps of clay. Interdiction on the use of dung and bones for purification stems from the fact that Allâh has willed that they be the food of the jinns.

314. It was narrated from 'Abdullâh bin Mas'ud: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ went to the toilet and said: 'Bring me three stones.' So I brought him two stones and a piece of dung. He took the two stones and threw the dung away, saying: 'It is

Comments:

We can deduce from the Hadith that in case only two stones or lumps of clay are available, they are enough for the purpose, although it is preferable to use three lumps or stones for purification.

Comments:

The term Raji' used in the Hadith includes both the dung and the excrement. Here it has been translated as dung. And since even the dung is ruled out for the purpose of cleaning, interdiction on the use of human excrement can very well be understood or surmised.

316. Salmân said that one of the idolaters said to him, while they were making fun of him: "I see that your companion (the Prophet ﷺ) is teaching you everything, even how to relieve yourselves?" He said: "Yes indeed. He has ordered us not to face the Qiblah (prayer direction) nor to clean

Comments:

a. The religion of Islam is in perfect harmony with nature. Hence it is that it has not neglected any aspect of human life. Even on matters often considered as taboo there is enough guidance for us in Islam.

b. The four things that form part of the lavatory etiquette mentioned by Salmân Al-Fârisi conclusively prove the superiority of the Islamic culture over others. The concept of reverence for respective Qiblah is there in other faiths as well, but the detailed instructions in the matter that exist in Islam are missing in them. Avoiding to face, while defecating, the Qiblah that is used as direction for the prayers, clearly demonstrates the reverence that Muslims attach to it. No such concept of reverence for the Qiblah is in evidence either among the Jews or the Christians. Particularizing the left and right hands for different purposes is also the specialty of the Islamic culture.

Chapter 17. The Prohibition Of Facing The Qiblah When Defecating Or Urinating

(المعجم ١٧) - بَابُ النَّهْيِ عَنِ اسْتِقْبَالِ الْقِبْلَةِ بِالْغَائِطِ وَالْبَوْلِ (التحفة ١٧)

Comments: 317 & 318:

As will be evident from the Ahâdith of the next chapter, the interdiction only applies to open places. In cases where the toilets are constructed facing that direction, it is allowed to sit in them. However, it is preferable not to make them facing towards the Qiblah initially.

Comments:

The expression 'He bears witness' means that he bears the testimony that the Prophet ﷺ did forbid facing the Qiblah while urinating or defecating. The tone of the speech used by the narrator has been adopted to make the narration more forceful. It is also meant to convey the idea that the narrator has heard it firsthand from the Prophet ﷺ, without the intervention of any other Companion.

Comments:

The Hadith forbids the people from drinking water in the standing position. Some of the scholars take this prohibition as not punishable, which means that drinking water while standing up, although permissible, is by no means the best option.

Comments:

a. This was the apartment of the Mother of the Believers Hafsah ﷺ the sister of the narrator of the Hadith 'Abdullâh bin 'Umar ﷺ. (see Bukhâri: 148) The narrator described the house as his own because it was his sister's house.

b. The words 'I saw the Messenger of Allâh' does not mean that Ibn 'Umar saw the Prophet ﷺ without a screen covering him. The fact of the matter is that the toilet wall being not very high he was able to see the Prophet's head, which indicated that the Prophet ﷺ was sitting with his back towards the House of Allâh and face towards the Baitul-Maqdis (Jerusalem). As for the mud bricks, Ibn 'Umar already knew that they were there. (See Fathul-Bâri (Eng.) p. 28/1).

قَالَ عِيسَىٰ: فَقُلْتُ ذٰلِكَ لِلشَّعْبِيِّ، فَقَالَ: صَدَقَ ابْنُ عُمَرَ وَصَدَقَ أَبُو هُرَيْرَةَ، أَمَّا قَوْلُ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ فَقَالَ: فِي الصَّحْرَاءِ لاَ يَسْتَقْبِلِ الْقِبْلَةَ وَلاَ يَسْتَدْبِرْهَا، وَأَمَّا قَوْلُ ابْنِ عُمَرَ، فَإِنَّ الْكَنِيفَ لَيْسَ فِيهِ قِبْلَةٌ، اسْتَقْبِلْ فِيهِ حَيْثُ شِئْتَ.

[قَالَ أَبُو الْحَسَنِ بْنُ سَلَمَةَ: وَحَدَّثَنَا أَبُو حَاتِمٍ: حَدَّثَنَا عُبَيْدُ اللهِ بْنُ مُوسَىٰ، فَذَكَرَ

323. It was narrated that Ibn 'Umar said: "I saw the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ in his (constructed) toilet, facing towards the Qiblah." (Da'if)

(One of the narrators) 'Eisa said: "I told that to Sha'bi, and he said: 'Ibn 'Umar spoke the truth and Abu Hurairah spoke the truth. As for the words of Abu Hurairah, he said: "In the desert do not face the Qiblah nor turning one's back towards it." As for the words of Ibn 'Umar, he said: "In the (constructed) toilet there is no Qiblah so turn in whatever direction you want."

Comments: 324 & 325

Jâbir's narration seems to suggest that the prohibition on facing the Qiblah was subsequently abrogated. But if the prohibition may be taken as applying only to the open fields, or it be construed that facing the Qiblah is permissible although avoiding it is preferable, then the question of abrogation will not arise.

[1] i.e., when relieving themselves.

(المعجم ٢٠) - بَابُ مَنْ بَالَ وَلَمْ يَمَسَّ مَاءً (التحفة ٢٠)

327. It was narrated that 'Âishah said: "The Prophet ﷺ went out to urinate, and 'Umar followed him with water. He said: 'What is this, O 'Umar?' He said, 'Water.' He said: 'I have not been commanded to perform ablution every time I urinate. If I did that it would have become a Sunnah.'" (Da'if)

(المعجم ٢١) - بَابُ النَّهْيِ عَنِ الْخَلَاءِ عَلى قَارِعَةِ الطَّرِيقِ (التحفة ٢١)

328. Abu Sa'eed Al-Himyari narrated that Mu'âdh bin Jabal used to narrate something that the Companions of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ had not heard, and he used to keep quiet about what they had heard. News of this report reached 'Abdullâh bin 'Amr, and he said: "By Allâh, I never heard the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ say this, and Mu'âdh will put you into difficulty with regard to relieving yourself." News of that reached Mu'âdh, so he met with him ('Abdullâh). Mu'âdh said: "O 'Abdullâh! Denying a Hadith from the Messenger of Allâh is hypocrisy, and its sin is upon the one who said it (if it is not true). I did indeed hear the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ say: 'Beware of the three things which provoke curses: Relieving oneself in watering places, in places of shade and in the middle of the street.'" (Da'if)

Comments:

a. The term 'watering places' means banks of ponds or rivers etc., frequented by the people for their needs of water or other purposes.

b. The Prophet's command to avoid relieving oneself in 'the middle of the street' is meant to spare the passers by possible inconvenience.

329. It was narrated that Jâbir bin 'Abdullâh said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Beware of stopping to rest and praying in the middle of the road, for it is the refuge of snakes and carnivorous animals, and beware of relieving yourselves in the middle of the road, for this is an act that provokes curses.'" Comments:

At night time when traffic comes to a halt on the streets, insects and carnivorous animals come out of their hiding and pass through the streets. So, if someone chooses to sleep there he runs the risk of being stung or bitten by scorpions and snakes etc.

330. Sâlim narrated from his father that the Prophet ﷺ forbade praying in the middle of the road, or defecating there, or urinating. (Da'if)

(المعجم ٢٢) - بَابُ التَّبَاعُدِ لِلْبَرَازِ فِي الْفَضَاءِ (التحفة ٢٢)

331. It was narrated that Mughirah bin Shu'bah said: "Whenever the Prophet ﷺ went to relieve himself, he would go far away." (Hasan)

Comments:

Hiding the private parts from the view of others is mandatory at all times. Therefore, it would be best to take shelter behind a tree or wall provided that there is no forbidding factor there, namely the tree is not used as a resting place by the people.

332. It was narrated that Anas said: "I was with the Prophet ﷺ on a journey. He went away to relieve himself, then he came and called for water and performed ablution." (Da'if)

Comments:

a. This Hadith is again about going away from the view of others for purposes of relieving oneself.

b. Defecation and urination are the nullifiers of ablution. Therefore, if one feels the need for doing ablution for certain acts, let him do it. Otherwise, performing ablution is not necessary.

Chapter 23. Looking For A Place To Defecate Or Urinate

(المعجم ٢٣) - بَابُ الارْتِيَادِ لِلْغَائِطِ وَالْبَوْلِ (التحفة ٢٣)

337. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Prophet ﷺ said: "Whoever uses stones to clean himself, let him use an odd number of stones. Whoever does that has done well, and whoever does not, there is no harm in it. Whoever uses a toothpick should spit out (whatever he removes) and whoever removes (the particle of food) by dislodging it with his tongue should swallow it.

فَلاَ حَرَجَ، وَمَنْ أَتَى الْخَلاَءَ فَلْيَسْتَتِرْ، فَإِنْ لَمْ يَجِدْ إِلَّا كَثِيباً مِنْ رَمْلٍ فَلْيَمْدُدْهُ عَلَيْهِ، فَإِنَّ الشَّيْطَانَ يَلْعَبُ بِمَقَاعِدِ ابْنِ آدَمَ. مَنْ فَعَلَ فَقَدْ أَحْسَنَ وَمَنْ لاَ، فَلاَ حَرَجَ».

Whoever does that has done well, and whoever does not, there is no harm in it. Whoever goes to the toilet should conceal himself, and if he cannot find anything except a pile of sand (behind which to conceal himself), then he should use that, for the Shaitân plays with the backside of the son of Âdam. Whoever does that has done well, and whoever does not, there is no harm in it." (Da'if)

338. A similar report was narrated by 'Abdul-Mâlik bin As-Sabbâh with a similar chain, with the additional words: "Whoever applies kohl to his eyes, let him add it an odd number of times. 339. It was narrated from Ya'la bin Murrah that his father said: "I was with the Prophet ﷺ on a journey, and he wanted to relieve himself. He said to me: 'Go to those two small date-palm trees and tell them: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ orders you to come together."'" So they came together and he concealed himself behind them, and relieved himself. Then he said to me: 'Go to them and tell them: "Go back, each one of you, to your places.'" So I said that to them and they went back." (Hasan)

Comments:

It is one of the miracles of the Prophet ﷺ that, for his sake, Allâh moved the trees from their places, then made them go back where they were before. It is also noteworthy that the Messenger of Allâh did not address the trees himself directly, but the message was conveyed through a Companion, and the trees obeyed him. This is a supernatural happening (a sort of miracle or Karâmah) performed by a Companion.

340. It was narrated that 'Abdullâh bin Ja'far said: "The thing that the Prophet ﷺ most liked to conceal himself behind when relieving himself was a hillock or a stand of date-palm trees." (Sahih)

Comments:

It is in order to relieve oneself behind a tree, provided that it is not a fruit tree. Dates are picked at a certain time of the year from the tree. Therefore, no one has any need to go to it and pluck its fruit in other seasons. As regards the shade, the date-palm garden is good for the purpose but the individual tree is not considered worthwhile for it. Nevertheless, trees of small height, not yet attained the stage of bearing fruit are good providers of shade.

341. It was narrated that Ibn 'Abbâs said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ turned towards a mountain pass and urinated, until I took pity on him because of the

Comments:

a. There is some weakness in this chain of the Hadith. Nevertheless this very Hadith is also reported on the authority of 'Abdullâh bin 'Umar ﷺ and Jâbir

ﷺ which is considered sound. (Sahih Al-Jâmi' As-Saghir: 6013)

b. A person who has uncovered his private parts must avoid conversing with the others, it being against the principle of modesty. That is why it is tantamount to inviing the wrath of Allâh.

c. Talking together is prohibited because in order to do it the persons concerned shall have to sit close to each other which means uncovering themselves before others.

Comments:

a. 'Standing water' means still water in a pond etc., that is not flowing. If people make a habit of urinating in such waters, they shall turn dirty and unfit for other uses.

b. What we infer from the Hadith is that it is not, as a rule, impermissible to urinate in the running water of a stream or river, still it would be best to avoid it, since doing so would be against the principle of cleanliness and purity.

Chapter 26. Strict Rulings Concerning Urination

(المعجم ٢٦) - بَابُ التَّشْدِيدِ فِي الْبَوْلِ

(التحفة ٢٦)

346. It was narrated that 'Abdur-Rahmân bin Hasanah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ came out to us holding a small shield in his hand. He put it down, then he sat down and urinated towards it. Some of the people said: 'Look at him, he urinates like a woman!' The Prophet ﷺ heard that and said: 'Woe to you! Do you not know what happened to one of the Children of Israel? If any urine touched any part of their clothes, they would cut that out with scissors. He told them not to do that, so he was tormented in his grave.'" (Da'if)

Comments:

a. While urinating in an open place, a person must be particular about screening, which could be had either from a tree or a wall etc., or from any other thing available to the person concerned. A case in point is that of the shield which the Prophet ﷺ used for the purpose.

b. Inviting the people to an act of sin, or dissuading them from following some virtuous habit, or doing something good, is a deadly crime punishable even in the grave before the Day of Resurrection.

c. The Hadith confirms the reality of torment in the grave.

347. It was narrated that Ibn 'Abbâs said: "The Messenger of

Comments:

a. The Hadith again confirms the reality of torment in the grave.

b. 'Preventing urine from getting on the clothes' means taking due care to prevent any drops of urine from defiling the body or the clothes, and doing proper cleaning of the concerned part after urination with soil or water.

c. 'Not being punished for anything major' means that it was by no means a difficult task to guard against the drops of urine. What was needed was just a little bit of precaution in the matter.

d. The Arabic word Namimah translated here as 'malicious gossip' means carrying the word spoken by one person to another with the intention of creating dissension and bad blood between them. Even if the news thus carried is true, to transmit it with an evil intention is a major sin. In case the report thus carried is false, the seriousness of the crime increases manyfold.

Comments:

Greeting someone with Salâm or returning it is an act of remembering Allâh. And although the remembrance of Allâh is permitted even when one is not in a state of ablution, it is better to be in the state of ablution. The Prophet ﷺ delayed the returning of the greeting for adopting the better course.

351. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "A man passed by the Prophet ﷺ while he was urinating, and greeted him with the Salâm, but he did not return the greeting. When he finished, he struck the ground with his palms and did dry ablution (Tayammum), then he returned the greeting." (Da'if)

Comments:

This chain of narration has weakness in it. However, another authentic source also report a similar happening.

352. It was narrated from Jâbir bin 'Abdullâh that a man passed by the Prophet ﷺ while he was urinating, and greeted him with the Salâm. The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said to him: 'If you see me in this situation, do not greet me with the Salâm, for if you do that I will not respond to you.'" (Hasan)

Comments:

It is not allowed for a defecating or urinating person to return someone's greeting. It is, therefore, better that he be not greeted in such a situation. And Allâh knows best.

Comments:

a. This shows that the Prophet's normal practice was to clean himself with water, since it is the best method of securing cleanliness.

b. In the outside, he mostly cleaned himself with pebbles, but even there he sometimes carried water with him.

355. Abu Sufyân said: "Abu Ayyub Al-Ansâri, Jâbir bin 'Abdullâh, and Anas bin Mâlik told me that when this Verse: "In it (the mosque) are men who love to clean and to purify themselves. And Allâh loves those who make themselves clean and pure."[1] was revealed, the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'O Ansâr! Allâh has praised you for your cleanliness. What is the nature of your cleanliness?' They said: 'We perform ablution for prayer and we take bath to cleanse ourselves of impurity due to sexual activity, and we clean ourselves with water (after urinating). He said: 'This is what it is. So adhere to it.''" (Hasan)

Comments:

a. The Hadith confirms that using water for cleaning is better than relying only on pebbles.

b. According to some scholars, the mosque referred to in the Qur'ânic Verse is the Prophet's Mosque, while others take it to mean the mosque of Qubâ'.

356. It was narrated from 'Âishah that the Prophet ﷺ used to wash his private parts three times. Ibn 'Umar said: "We did that and we found it to be a healing and a means of purification." (Da'if)

Comments:

It is reported in Sahih Muslim from Abu Sa'eed Al-Khudri ﷺ that when he enquired the Prophet ﷺ about the mosque referred to in the Qur'ânic Verse, he answered that it was the one known as the Prophet's Mosque (Muslim: 3221). Nevertheless even the Qubâ' Mosque was founded by the Prophet ﷺ himself. As such this one can also be described as the 'mosque founded on piety'.

Comments:

Rubbing the earth on one's hand while washing ensures better purity. The use of soap etc, for the purpose being done these days is also in order. It is not, however, mandatory. Mere washing the hand with water is enough.

359. Ibrâhim bin Jarir narrated from his father that the Prophet of Allâh ﷺ entered a thicket and relieved himself, then Jarir brought him a small water skin from which he cleaned himself, then he wiped his hand in the dirt. (Hasan)

Comments:

All containers of water or food must be duly covered in order to prevent dust or insects sneaking into them, mainly because some of the insects could be dangerous. Particularly at night time the insects etc., come out of their hiding and possibly enter food and drink items. Hence the order to especially keep the vessels covered at night. (Bukhâri: 5623)

361. It was narrated that 'Âishah said: "I used to cover three vessels for the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ at night: A vessel (of water) for his ablution, a vessel for his tooth stick and a vessel for his drink." (Da'if)

Do you claim that I would tell a lie against the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ so that it may be more convenient for you and a sin upon me?' Comments:

a. If a dog licks a vessel, it must be washed seven times.
b. In addition, along with washing, it is also necessary to rub the vessel in question with dust.
c. The dog saliva contains rabies that cannot be cleaned by just one wash. As for dust, it contains germ-killing properties. That is why the sacred law of Islam has, of all the animals, particularised this method of cleaning only for the licking of dogs.

Comments:

a. What is left by the cat after drinking, is not impure.
b. Islam is a religion of facility and ease. Since we cannot take as much precaution from the cats as we can from the dogs, rules of purity from them are more lenient than from dogs

Comments:

We know from the Hadith that it is allowed for a man to perform ablution from the water left over by a woman in a vessel after taking her bath. It is, therefore, all the more acceptable for a man to perform ablution from the water left over by the woman after performing her ablution.

Imâm Ibn Mâjah has expressed the view that the truth is on the side of the first while the second is an illusion. Exact translation of the report is as follows: Abu 'Abdullah Ibn Mâjah said, "The first (narration) is correct, and the second (narration) is Wahm (an error)." It could also be construed from this that the ruling described in the previous chapter allowing both the husband and wife to have a bath from the water left over by each other, while the prohibition to do so as mentioned in the following chapter is not correct.

'Taking a bath from a single vessel' means that each one of the couple is taking water from the same vessel and having the bath individually. This is perfectly in order.

Comments:

It was discussed in the previous chapter that both husband and wife can take water from a single vessel and have a bath together. By the same analogy they can also perform ablution together. Ahâdith of this chapter have further established the permissibility of it.

Men and women performing the ablution together could also mean their being mutually Mahram (near relations forbidden to marry each other).

Comments:

a. The Prophet ﷺ has clarified that seawater is both pure and a purifier. It can, therefore, be used for ablution and other purposes.

b. 'The dead meat of the sea'' means the meat of the sea animal. And just as it is a lawful food if caught alive, it is also lawful if it dies inside the sea or outside it after capture. It is, however, best to avoid eating the animals that can live on both land and sea. And Allâh knows best.

387. It was narrated that Ibn Firâsi said: "I was fishing and I had a vessel with me in which I kept water, and I used seawater for ablution. I mentioned that to the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ and he said: 'Its water is a means of purification, and its dead meat is permissible.' " (Da'if)

He washed his hands and his face, then he went to wash his forearms but his garment was too tight, so he brought his arms out from underneath his garment and washed them, then he wiped over his leather socks, then he led us in prayer." a. Accepting service from those younger than oneself is quite in order even if the service belongs to an area connected with the rituals of worship.
b. The Hadith proves the permissibility of Mash (wiping) on socks.
c. The rest of the parts must be washed even though one might find it somewhat difficult, as was done by the Prophet ﷺ when he washed his forearms, although he had difficulty removing his garment.

Comments:

a. Rubai' ﷺ is among the younger female Companions of the Prophet ﷺ, which is to say she was a minor during the lifetime of the Prophet ﷺ. She belonge to the Helpers' tribe of Banu Najjâr. Her father Mu'awwidh bin 'Afrâ' had participated in the battle of Badr.

b. It is part of Sunnah to wipe the entire head. This is what we mean by the expression 'wiped his head, front and back'. There is no proof that the Prophet ﷺ wiped half or one fourth of his head. It is, however, proved that the Prophet ﷺ first wiped part of the head, then completed the remainder part of it on his turban.

c. The original order in respect of the feet is washing them. Wiping them is only allowed if one is wearing socks while the feet had been washed for ablution before putting them on.

Chapter 40. When A Man Wakes Up From Sleep, Should He Put His Hand In The Vessel Before Washing It?

(المعجم ٤٠) - بَابُ الرَّجُلِ يَسْتَيقِظُ مِنْ مَنَامِهِ هَلْ يُدْخِلُ يَدَهُ فِي الْإِنَاءِ قَبْلَ أَن يَغْسِلَهَا (التحفة ٤٠)

393. Sa'eed bin Musayyab and Abu Salamah bin 'Abdur-Rahmân narrated that Abu Hurairah used to say: "The Messenger of Allâh said: 'When anyone of you wakes up from sleep, he should not put his hand into the vessel until he has poured water on it two or three times, for none of you knows where his hand spent the night.'" (Sahih)

تخريج: [صحيح] أخرجه الترمذي، الطهارة، باب ما جاء إذا استيقظ أحدكم من منامه . . . إلخ، ح:٢٤ من حديث الوليد به، وقال: «هذا حديث حسن صحيح»، وأصله عند مسلم، ح:٢٧٨ وغيره.

Comments:

a. The commandment covers both night and day. The Hadith mentions the word 'night' because people mostly sleep at night.

b. 'Pouring water on the hand two or three times' is meant to ensure purity of the hand beyond any shred of doubt. However, if washing once serves the purpose, it would suffice.

394. It was narrated from Sâlim from his father that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "When anyone of you wakes up from sleep, he should not put his hand into the vessel until he has washed it." (Sahih)

٣٩٤ - حَدَّثَنَا حَرْمَلَةُ بْنُ يَحْيَىٰ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللهِ بْنُ وَهْبٍ: أَخْبَرَنِي ابْنُ لَهِيعَةَ، وَجَابِرُ ابْنُ إِسْمَاعِيلَ، عَنْ عُقَيْلٍ، عَنِ ابْنِ شِهَابٍ، عَنْ سَالِمٍ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «إِذَا اسْتَيْقَظَ أَحَدُكُمْ مِنْ نَوْمِهِ فَلاَ يُدْخِلْ يَدَهُ

فِي الْإِنَاءِ حَتَّى يَغْسِلَهَا».

تخريج: [صحيح] أخرجه الدارقطني:١/٤٩، ح: ١٢٦، وصححه البوصيري على شرط مسلم، إسناده فيه نظر، والحديث السابق شاهد له.

395. It was narrated that Jâbir said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'When anyone of you gets up from sleep and wants to perform ablution, he should not put his hand into the vessel he used for ablution until he has washed it, because he does not know where his hand spent the night or where he put it.'" [(One of the narrators) Abu Ishâq said: "What is correct is that it is narrated from Jâbir, from Abu Hurairah."] (Hasan) ٣٩٥ - حَدَّثَنَا إِسْمَاعِيلُ بْنُ تَوْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا زِيَادُ ابْنُ عَبْدِ اللهِ الْبَكَّائِيُّ، عَنْ عَبْدِ الْمَلِكِ بْنِ أَبِي سُلَيْمَانَ، عَنْ أَبِي الزُّبَيْرِ، عَنْ جَابِرٍ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «إِذَا قَامَ أَحَدُكُمْ مِنَ النَّوْمِ فَأَرَادَ أَنْ يَتَوَضَّأَ، فَلَا يُدْخِلْ يَدَهُ فِي وَضُوئِهِ حَتَّى يَغْسِلَهَا، فَإِنَّهُ لَا يَدْرِي أَيْنَ بَاتَتْ يَدُهُ، وَلَا عَلَى مَا وَضَعَهَا». [قَالَ أَبُو إِسحاقَ: الصَّحِيحُ جَابِرٌ عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ].

Comments:

Although Hadith 393 mentions the washing of hands 'two or three times' the scholars hold the order to wash more than once to be recommended rather than mandatory.

396. It was narrated that Hârith said: " Ali called for water, and he washed his hands before putting them in the vessel, then he said: 'This is what I saw the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ doing.'" (Hasan) ٣٩٦ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ عَيَّاشٍ، عَنْ أَبِي إِسْحَاقَ، عَنِ الْحارِثِ، قَالَ: دَعَا عَلِيٌّ بِمَاءٍ، فَغَسَلَ يَدَيْهِ قَبْلَ أَنْ يُدْخِلَهُمَا الْإِنَاءَ، ثُمَّ قَالَ: هٰكَذَا رَأَيْتُ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ صَنَعَ.

Comments:

Basing their opinion on the words of the Hadith, some of the scholars consider it obligatory to say Bismillâh before starting the ablution, while others regard it as a Sunnah.

398. It was narrated that Abu Sa'eed bin Zaid said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'There is no prayer for one who does not have ablution, and there is no ablution for one who does not mention the Name of Allâh (before it).'" (Hasan)

(المعجم ٤٢) - بَابُ التَّيَمُّنِ فِي الْوُضُوءِ (التحفة ٤٢)

Comments:

'Starting on the right hand' is the golden principle for the deeds done with one hand, e.g., shaking hands, taking and giving things, and writing etc. Some of the scholars have, in the light of this Hadith, even stated that we should wear our watches on the right hands.

تخريج: أخرجه البخاري، الوضوء، باب غسل الوجه باليدين من غرفة واحدة، ح:١٤٠ من

حديث زيد به مطولاً.

Comments:

a. The Hadith means; let one hold water in his hand, then put part of it into the mouth to rinse it, and enter the rest in the nose to clean it, without the need to take separate water for the nose. The process may be repeated three times.

b. It is also allowed that a person first rinse the mouth three times, then sniff water up into the nostrils three times.

٤٠٤ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا شَرِيكٌ، عَنْ خَالِدِ بْنِ عَلْقَمَةَ، عَنْ عَبْدِ خَيْرٍ، عَنْ عَلِيٍّ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ تَوَضَّأَ فَمَضْمَضَ ثَلَاثًا، وَاسْتَنْشَقَ ثَلَاثًا، مِنْ كَفٍّ وَاحِدٍ.

405. It was narrated that 'Abdullâh bin Zaid Al-Ansâri said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ came to us and asked us for water for ablution. I brought water to him and he rinsed his mouth and sniffed water up into his nostrils from one handful." (Sahih) قَيْسٍ قَالَ: قَالَ لِي رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «إِذَا تَوَضَّأْتَ فَانْثُرْ، وَإِذَا اسْتَجْمَرْتَ فَأَوْتِرْ».

تخريج: [إسناده صحيح] أخرجه الترمذي، الطهارة، باب ما جاء في المضمضة والاستنشاق، ح:٢٧ من حديث منصور به، وقال: حسن صحيح.

Comments:

a. The Hadith is clear on the point that mere passing water into the nose is not enough. If necessary, the nose should be thoroughly cleaned.

b. It is better to use three pebbles for cleaning after defecation.

407. It was narrated from 'Âsim bin Laqit bin Sabrah that his father said: "I said: 'O Messenger of Allâh! Tell me about ablution.' He said: 'Perform ablution properly[1] and sniff water up into your nostrils thoroughly, unless you are fasting.'" (Sahih)

Comments:

The Arabic expression Asbighil-Wudu' means doing the ablution so attentively and thoroughly that no part of the body meant to be washed remains dry. Thus, rubbing and washing each part thrice is also part of the completion of ablution.

408. It was narrated that Ibn 'Abbâs said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Sniff up water into the nostrils thoroughly, two or three times.'" (Hasan)

Comments:

Some of the scholars regard the Hadith as weak, but the rule drawn from it is correct, since all the three methods of ablution are proved from the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ. (Bukhâri: 159, 160, 161).

Comments:

The chain of transmission in the Hadith is weak on account of the presence of Zaid Al-'Ammi and 'Abdur-Rahim in it. However, its contents are proved from other Ahâdith.

420. It was narrated from Ubayy bin Ka'b that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ called for water and performed ablution washing each part once. He said: "This is the minimum requirement of ablution' or he said: 'The ablution of one who, if he does not perform this ablution, Allâh will not accept his prayer." Then he performed ablution washing each part twice, and he said: 'This is the ablution of one who, if he performs it, Allâh will give him two shares of reward." Then he performed ablution washing each part three times, and said: 'This is my ablution and the ablution of the Messengers who were sent before me." (Da'if)

Comments:

a. Children must be made to join voluntary acts of worship in order to habituate them.

a. Virtuous deeds wash off the sins of man, provided that the deeds are done with sincerity and are in conformity with the Sunnah of the Prophet ﷺ.

b. "Increasing the number of steps towards the mosque' means going to the mosque to join the congregational prayers even if the mosque is at some distance from home.

c. 'Waiting for the next prayer after prayer' means (i) not to get so much bogged down in worldly affairs as to be forgetful of the obligation of prayer or (ii) fail to do it in proper time.

428. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Prophet ﷺ said: "Sins are expiated by well-performed ablution despite difficulties, increasing the number of steps one takes towards the mosque, (and waiting for the next prayer after prayer)." (Hasan)

Comments:

The words 'Increasing the number of steps one takes towards the mosque' seem to suggest that it is more meritorious and rewarding if one walks his way to the mosque than to ride a conveyance. And Allâh knows best.

Comments:

Imâm Ibn Qayyim has said that the Prophet ﷺ ran his fingers through his beard only occasionally, not regularly. (Zâdul-Ma'âd; p. 68/1) However, there is no proof to support the view that he did it 'only occasionally'. On the contrary, some of the Ahâdith explicitly enjoin the doing of it, which means that doing it 'consistently' is preferable. And Allâh knows best.

430. It was narrated from 'Uthmân that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ performed ablution and ran his fingers through his beard. (Hasan) تخريج: [إسناده حسن] أخرجه الترمذي، الطهارة، باب ما جاء في تخليل اللحية، ح:٣١ من حديث عبدالرزاق به، وقال: «هذا حديث حسن صحيح».

Comments:

The Hadith indicates that running the fingers through the beard is a part of Sunnah.

Chapter 51. What Was Narrated Concerning Wiping The Head

(المعجم ٥١) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي مَسْحِ الرَّأْسِ (التحفة ٥١)

434. 'Amr bin Yahya narrated that his father said to 'Abdullâh bin Zaid who was the grandfather of 'Amr bin Yahya: "Can you show me how the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ used to perform ablution?' 'Abdullâh bin Zaid said: "Yes." So he called for water, poured it over his hands and washed his hands twice. Then he rinsed his mouth and sniffed water up into his nostrils three times. Then he washed his face three times and his arms up to the elbows twice. Then he wiped his head with his hands, from front to back. He started at the front of his head, then went with them to the nape of his neck, then he brought them back, returning them to the place he started, then he washed his feet." (Sahih)

تخريج: أخرجه البخاري، الوضوء، باب مسح الرأس كله، ح:١٨٥، ومسلم، الطهارة، باب آخر في صفة الوضوء، ح:٢٣٥ .

Comments:

a. It is in order to wash some of the parts twice and others thrice during ablution. However, the head is to be wiped only once.
b. Wiping the ears is also a part of wiping the head.
c. 'He went with his hands to the nape of his neck, then he brought them back' means that the Prophet ﷺ did the passing of hands from the front of the head to the nape of the neck and back to the place he had started, as one continued action, not two separate actions.

435. It was narrated that 'Uthmân bin 'Affân said: "I saw the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ performing ablution and he wiped his head once." (Sahih) ٤٣٥ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبَّادُ بْنُ الْعَوَّامِ، عَنْ حَجَّاجٍ، عَنْ عَطَاءٍ، عَنْ عُثْمَانَ بْنِ عَفَّانَ قَالَ: رَأَيْتُ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ تَوَضَّأَ فَمَسَحَ رَأْسَهُ مَرَّةً.

Comments:

'Wiped his head twice' means that once Prophet ﷺ took his hands from the front to the back, and then from the back to the front.

a. The Hadith means that just like we wipe the head, we must also wipe the ears. The ears are not to be washed like the face. Therefore, while washing the face the ears must not be washed.
b. The water taken for wiping the head should also be used for the wiping of the ears. No additional water needs to be taken for wiping the ears.

Chapter 55. Washing The (Heels and) Achilles' Tendon

(المعجم ٥٥) – بَابُ غَسْلِ الْعَرَاقِيبِ (التحفة ٥٥)

450. It was narrated that

٤٥٠ – حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ، وَعَلِيُّ

'Abdullâh bin 'Amr said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ saw some people performing ablution, and their heels were dry. He said: 'Woe to the heels because of Hell-fire, perform ablution properly!'" (Sahih)

ابْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ، قَالاَ: حَدَّثَنَا وَكِيعٌ، عَنْ سُفْيَانَ، عَنْ مَنْصُورٍ، عَنْ هِلاَلِ بْنِ يَسَافٍ، عَنْ أَبِي يَحْيَىٰ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ عَمْرٍو قَالَ: رَأَى رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ قَوْماً يَتَوَضَّؤُونَ، وَأَعْقَابُهُمْ تَلُوحُ، فَقَالَ: «وَيْلٌ لِلأَعْقَابِ مِنَ النَّارِ، أَسْبِغُوا الْوُضُوءَ».

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، الطهارة، باب وجوب غسل الرجلين بكمالهما، ح:٢٤١ عن ابن أبي شيبة وغيره به.

Comments:

a. The Hadith confirms that the feet must be washed for ablution. Wiping them would not do. Wiping the feet is permitted if (i) one has put on the socks after performing the ablution or (ii) there is some injury on the foot and water is likely to aggravate or harm it.

b. Particular care must be taken for washing those parts where water does not get easy access, lest they remain dry.

c. A believer can also be consigned to Hell-fire due to an act of sin committed by him but the punishment shall not be interminable, whereas punishment for disbelievers and polytheists shall be without end. The Arabic word 'Wail' means ruin, destruction, perdition.

451. It was narrated that 'Âishah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Woe to the heels because of Hell-fire.'" (Sahih)

تخريج: [صحيح] وأخرجه الدارقطني:١/ ٩٤، الطهارة، باب وجوب غسل القدمين والعقبين، ح:٣١٢ عن عروبة به.

452. It was narrated that Abu Salamah said: "Âishah saw 'Abdur-Rahmân performing ablution, and she said: Perform ablution properly, for I heard the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ say: "Woe to the Achilles' tendon because of Hell-fire.'" (Hasan)

أَبِي سَلَمَةَ قَالَ: رَأَتْ عَائِشَةُ عَبْدَ الرَّحْمٰنِ وَهُوَ يَتَوَضَّأُ، فَقَالَتْ: أَسْبِغِ الْوُضُوءَ. فَإِنِّي سَمِعْتُ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ يَقُولُ: «وَيْلٌ لِلْعَرَاقِيبِ مِنَ النَّارِ».

تخريج: [حسن] أخرجه أحمد(٦/ ٤٠، ح:٢٤٦٢٤) من حديث ابن عجلان به، وصرح بالسماع، وله شواهد عند مسلم، ح:٤٤١ وغيره.

Comments:

The Hadith contains the word 'Arâqib, which is the plural of 'Urqub meaning the back part of the ankle joint which is above the heel. It is thus clear that the feet must be washed along with the ankle joints and their back.

453. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Prophet ﷺ said: "Woe to the heels because of Hell-fire." (Sahih)

٤٥٣ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عَبْدِ الْمَلِكِ بْنِ أَبِي الشَّوَارِبِ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الْعَزِيزِ بْنُ الْمُخْتَارِ: حَدَّثَنَا سُهَيْلٌ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ، عَنِ النَّبِيِّ ﷺ قَالَ: «وَيْلٌ لِلأَعْقَابِ مِنَ النَّارِ».

455. It was narrated from Khâlid bin Walid, Yazid bin Abu Sufyân, Shurahbil bin Hasanah and 'Amr bin 'Âs that they all heard the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ say: "Complete the ablution. Woe to the heels because of Hell-fire." (Sahih)

Chapter 56. Washing The Feet

(المعجم ٥٦) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي غَسْلِ الْقَدَمَيْنِ (التحفة ٥٦)

456. It was narrated that Abu Haiyah said: "I saw 'Ali performing ablution and he washed his feet up to the ankles, then he said: 'I wanted to show you how your Prophet ﷺ purified himself.'" (Sahih)

٤٥٦ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو الأَحْوَصِ، عَنْ أَبِي إِسْحَاقَ، عَنْ أَبِي حَيَّةَ قَالَ رَأَيْتُ عَلِيًّا تَوَضَّأَ فَغَسَلَ قَدَمَيْهِ إِلَى الْكَعْبَيْنِ ثُمَّ قَالَ: أَرَدْتُ أَنْ أُرِيَكُمْ طُهُورَ نَبِيِّكُمْ ﷺ.

تخريج: [صحيح] أخرجه أبو داود، الطهارة، باب صفة وضوء النبي ﷺ، ح:١٦٦، وصححه الترمذي، وانظر، ح:٤٦ لعلته.

Comments:

The fact of washing the feet is proved from the reports of many Companions. It is rather the case that anyone of the Companions who has described the Prophet's way of performing the ablution has also mentioned the fact of his washing the feet. And since the Shiite scholars deny it, the Compiler of the book has quoted a Hadith to prove that 'Ali ؓ himself used to wash his feet during ablution.

457. It was narrated from Miqdâm bin Ma'dikarib that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ performed ablution; so he washed his feet three times. (Sahih)

تخريج: [صحيح] أخرجه الطبراني في الكبير: ٢٧٧/٢٠ من حديث الوليد به، وتابعه أبو المغيرة عند أبي داود، ح: ١٢١ وغيره، وحسنه الحافظ، والبوصيري.

458. It was narrated that Rubai' said: "Ibn 'Abbâs came to me and asked me about this Hadith" meaning the Hadith, that she had narrated, saying that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ performed ablution and washed his feet. "Ibn 'Abbâs said: 'The people are insisting on washing their feet, but I do not find anything in the Qur'ân except (the injunction to) wipe them.'" (Da'if)

٤٥٨ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا ابْنُ عُلَيَّةَ، عَنْ رَوْحِ بْنِ الْقَاسِمِ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ ابْنِ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ عَقِيلٍ، عَنِ الرُّبَيِّعِ قَالَتْ: أَتَانِي ابْنُ عَبَّاسٍ فَسَأَلَنِي عَنْ هٰذَا الْحَدِيثِ - تَعْنِي: حَدِيثَهَا الَّذِي ذَكَرَتْ - أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ تَوَضَّأَ وَغَسَلَ رِجْلَيْهِ، فَقَالَ ابْنُ عَبَّاسٍ: إِنَّ النَّاسَ أَبَوْا إِلَّا الْغَسْلَ، وَلاَ أَجِدُ فِي كِتَابِ اللهِ إِلَّا الْمَسْحَ.

تخريج: [إسناده ضعيف] وحسنه البوصيري، ولأثر ابن عباس طرق عنه (راجع تفسير ابن كثير: ٢/ ٢٥ وغيره) ولعله رجع إلى قول الجمهور لما قال: رجعت إلى الغسل (أيضًا، ص: ٢٤) ※ ابن عقيل ضعيف تقدم، ح: ٣٩٠.

Comments:

Ibn 'Abbâs ﷺ said it on the basis of an irregular reading of the Noble Qur'ân. The fact of the matter is that the regular reading of the Qur'ân only mentions 'washing', not wiping the feet.

Chapter 57. Ablution In Accordance With The Commands Of Allâh The Most High

(المعجم ٥٧) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي الْوُضُوءِ عَلَى مَا أَمَرَ اللهُ تَعَالَى (التحفة ٥٧)

459. It was narrated that Jâmi' bin Shaddâd — Abu Sakhrah — said: "I heard Humrân telling Abu Burdah in the mosque that he had heard 'Uthmân bin 'Affân narrating that the Prophet ﷺ had said: 'Whoever performs ablution perfectly as Allâh has enjoined, then his prescribed prayer will serve as expiation for what is between them.'"[1] (Sahih)

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، الطهارة، باب فضل الوضوء والصلاة عقبه، ح: ٢٣١ عن ابن بشار وغيره به.

[1] Meaning the minor sins committed.

Comments:

Ahâdith of this nature must not delude one into thinking that any amount of sins a worshipper commits, no harm shall come to him after that, since failure to observe the proper etiquettes of the prayer and lack of submissiveness and humility on his part would drastically lessen the chances of his sins being forgiven.

460. 'Ali bin Yahya bin Khallâd narrated, from his father, from his paternal uncle Rifâ'ah bin Râfi' that he was sitting with the Prophet ﷺ who said: 'No person's prayer is complete until he performs ablution properly as Allâh has commanded him, washing his face, his arms up to the elbows, wiping his head and his feet up to the ankles.'" (Sahih)

تخريج: [إسناده صحيح] أخرجه أبو داود، الصلاة، باب صلاة من لا يقيم صلبه في الركوع والسجود، ح:٨٥٨ من حديث حجاج به، وصححه الحاكم، والذهبي.

Comments:

a. Deficiency in the performance of ablution has its consequence on the prayer, which does not warrant its complete reward.
b. The complete formula of ablution is the same as discussed at some length in the preceding Ahâdith.

Chapter 58. Sprinkling Water After Ablution

(المعجم ٥٨) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي النَّضْحِ بَعْدَ الْوُضُوءِ (التحفة ٥٨)

461. It was narrated from Hakam bin Sufyân Ath-Thaqafi that he saw the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ perform ablution then take a handful of water and sprinkle it over his private area to remove any doubts about urine drippings. (Hasan) ٤٦١ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ بِشْرٍ: حَدَّثَنَا زَكَرِيَّا بْنُ أَبِي زَائِدَةَ قَالَ: قَالَ مَنْصُورٌ: حَدَّثَنَا مُجَاهِدٌ، عَنِ الْحَكَمِ ابْنِ سُفْيَانَ الثَّقَفِيِّ أَنَّهُ رَأَى رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ تَوَضَّأَ ثُمَّ أَخَذَ كَفًّا مِنْ مَاءٍ فَنَضَحَ بِهِ فَرْجَهُ.

تخريج: [حسن] أخرجه أبو داود، الطهارة، باب في الانتضاح، ح:١٦٨ من حديث منصور

به، وصححه الحاكم، والذهبي.

Comments:

a. The action (sprinkling water over the private parts) is not a part of ablution. It is, however, a part of the Prophet's Sunnah.

b. The rationale behind the action, as stated by the scholars of religion, is that the doing of it deters any apprehension in the mind of the person that some urine droppings might have trickled into his clothes.

462. Usâmah bin Zaid narrated that his father Zaid bin Hârithah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Jibril taught me (how to perform) the ablution, and he ordered me to sprinkle water underneath my garment, lest a drop of urine leak out after the ablution.'" (Da'if)

Comments:

It is a Weak Hadith. It is, however, proved from other Ahâdith as well that the Angel Jibril ﷺ had taught the Prophet ﷺ the correct method of performing ablution.

463. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'When you perform ablution, sprinkle water.'" (Da'if)

Chapter 59. Drying Oneself With A Cloth After Ablution Or The Bath

(المعجم ٥٩) - بَابُ الْمِنْدِيلِ بَعْدَ الْوُضُوءِ وَبَعْدَ الْغُسْلِ (التحفة ٥٩)

465. Umm Hâni' bint Abu Tâlib narrated that when it was the year of the Conquest (of Makkah), the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ got up to perform a bath and Fâtimah screened him. Then he took his garment and wrapped himself in it (such that it became like the towel used to dry oneself). (Sahih)

٤٦٥ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ رُمْحٍ: أَنْبَأَنَا اللَّيْثُ ابْنُ سَعْدٍ، عَنْ يَزِيدَ بْنِ أَبِي حَبِيبٍ، عَنْ سَعِيدِ ابْنِ أَبِي هِنْدٍ أَنَّ أَبَا مُرَّةَ، مَوْلَى عَقِيلٍ: حَدَّثَهُ أَنَّ أُمَّ هَانِيءٍ بِنْتَ أَبِي طَالِبٍ حَدَّثَتْهُ: أَنَّهُ لَمَّا كَانَ عَامُ الْفَتْحِ، قَامَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ إِلَى غُسْلِهِ. فَسَتَرَتْ عَلَيْهِ فَاطِمَةُ، ثُمَّ أَخَذَ ثَوْبَهُ فَالْتَحَفَ بِهِ.

Comments:

Even while there is a small cloth on the body, it is preferable to have further screen or cloth on the body in the bathroom during the bath. Nevertheless, it is quite in order to have a bath without any cloth on the body in the bathroom.

466. It was narrated that Qais bin Sa'd said: "The Prophet ﷺ came to us and we gave him water to perform a bath." Then we brought him a Warsiyyah[1] cloth, and he wrapped himself in it. It is as if I can see the marks of the

Comments:

The Prophet ﷺ returned the cloth, which was not needed by him, (i) to exclude the impression that using something like it was obligatory, as also (ii) to spare the believers any embarrassment in the event of the nonavailability of any such cloth.

Comments:

a. It was a characteristic of the Prophet ﷺ since all his senses remained intact even during sleep. He himself says: "My eyes sleep but my heart does not sleep." Bukhâri: 770.

b. Among the various explanations in the matter is the one hinted at by Waki' ﷺ who said that the said happening took place during a prayer. Based on this explanation, some of the scholars have formulated the opinion that sleep during the various actions connected with a prayer such as Ruku' (bowing down), Qiyâm (standing position) or Sujud (prostrations) does not invalidate the prayer. On close analysis, however, even this view is not much different from the previous one, since no manner of sleep during prayer is like sleeping in the stretched (lying down) position which alone, of all man's physical positions, invalidates the ablution. And Allâh knows best.

475. It was narrated from 'Abdullâh that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ slept until he was breathing deeply, then he got up and prayed. (Hasan)

Comments:

Wikâ' in Arabic is the string, thread or strap used to tie the mouth of a purse (or bag) full of gold coins etc. The obvious advantage is that, as long as the Wikâ' is in place, nothing can be taken out of the purse. In other words, it is a guardian over the contents of the purse. Similarly, as long as a person is awake he knows whether his ablution is intact or has been invalidated by the wind passing from his body. The moment one's eyes are closed for sleep he loses control over his body, as though a knot had been loosened and as such, he cannot tell whether or not he has released the wind. It is because of this that sleep has been dubbed as the invalidator of ablution'.

478. It was narrated that Safwân bin 'Assâl said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ used to command us

٤٧٨ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا سُفْيَانُ بْنُ عُيَيْنَةَ، عَنْ عَاصِمٍ، عَنْ زِرٍّ، عَنْ

Comments:

a. Washing the feet is an integral part of ablution. But if a person is wearing (leather) socks, he is allowed to do Mash (passing wet hands) on them, provided that he had performed ablution and washed his feet before putting on the socks. (Sahih Muslim: 520)

b. It may be pointed out that the three-day validity of wiping the socks is for a person on journey. A resident is, however, allowed to do it just for a day and night.

Comments:

a. It shows that touching the urine outlets nullifies the ablution.

b. Some of the scholars have raised their doubt on the Hadith saying that, for one thing it is a regular occurance and, secondly it is a male-specific problem but the narrator is a lone woman. The objection is, however, not tenable, since Imâm Tirmidhi ﷬, after narrating the Hadith, has commented that the Hadith has been transmitted by eight other Companions as well — five of them men and three women. Some of those Ahâdith transmitted by the Companions, alluded to by Imâm Tirmidhi ﷬, are to follow next in this chapter. Moreover, the ruling in question does not concern the men alone. Even women, if they touch their particular parts, are liable to refresh their ablution.

Chapter 64. Concession Concerning That

(المعجم ٦٤) - بَابُ الرُّخْصَةِ فِي ذَلِكَ

(التحفة ٦٤)

483. Qais bin Talq Al-Hanafi narrated that his father said: "I heard the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ being asked about touching the penis. He said: 'That does not require ablution, because it is a part of you (your body).'" (Sahih)

٤٨٣ - حَدَّثَنَا عَلِيُّ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا وَكِيعٌ: حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ جَابِرٍ قَالَ: سَمِعْتُ قَيْسَ بْنَ طَلْقٍ الْحَنَفِيَّ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ قَالَ: سَمِعْتُ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ، سُئِلَ عَنْ مَسِّ الذَّكَرِ، فَقَالَ: «لَيْسَ فِيهِ وُضُوءٌ، إِنَّمَا هُوَ مِنْكَ».

Comments:

a. 'It is a part of you' means that just as touching any other part of your body does not invalidate the ablution, touching this organ also does not invalidate it.

b. The Hadith narrated by Talq ﷺ is undoubtedly a sound one, but the ruling was subsequently abrogated. Some of the scholars have justified both the Ahâdith by saying that the one that rules out the invalidation of ablution speaks of touching the part if it is covered by a cloth, while the other speaks of invalidation if it is touched while uncovered.

484. It was narrated that Abu Umâmah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ was asked about touching the penis and he said: 'Rather it is a part of you (your body).'" (Da'if)

Comments:

a. 'That has been changed by fire' means anything that has been prepared by cooking or frying on fire.

b. Ahâdith included in the next chapter would clarify that the command is not mandatory, which is to say that performing ablution after eating recipes cooked on fire is recommendatory, not mandatory.

486. It was narrated that 'Âishah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Perform ablution after (eating) that which has been changed by fire.'" (Sahih)

٤٨٦ - حَدَّثَنَا حَرْمَلَةُ بْنُ يَحْيَى: حَدَّثَنَا ابْنُ وَهْبٍ: أَنْبَأَنَا يُونُسُ بْنُ يَزِيدَ، عَنِ ابْنِ شِهَابٍ، عَنْ عُرْوَةَ، عَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «تَوَضَّأُوا مِمَّا مَسَّتِ النَّارُ».

487. It was narrated that Anas bin Mâlik would place his hands over his ears and say: "May my ears be made deaf, if I did not hear the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ saying: 'Perform ablution after (eating) that which has been changed by fire.'" (Da'if)

(المعجم ٦٦) - بَابُ الرُّخْصَةِ فِي ذَلِكَ (التحفة ٦٦)

488. It was narrated that Ibn 'Abbâs said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ ate a shoulder,[1] then he wiped his hands on a Mish[2] that was underneath him, then he got up for prayer, and performed the prayer. (Da'if)

٤٨٨ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو الأَحْوَصِ، عَنْ سِمَاكِ بْنِ حَرْبٍ، عَنْ عِكْرِمَةَ، عَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَ: أَكَلَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ كَتِفاً، ثُمَّ مَسَحَ يَدَيْهِ بِمِسْحٍ كَانَ تَحْتَهُ، ثُمَّ قَامَ إِلَى الصَّلاَةِ، فَصَلَّى.

Comments:

This clearly shows that the command contained in the previous chapter is recommendatory, not mandatory. Or else, as stated by Imâm Shâfi'i, the order to perform ablution was subsequently abrogated. Shaikh Ahmed Shâkir also holds this theory of abrogation as preferable and weighty. Another possible explanation is that the Ahâdith of the previous chapter simply mean washing the hands and mouth, not performing the formal ablution which is not mandatory.

489. It was narrated that Jâbir bin 'Abdullâh said: "The Prophet ﷺ, Abu Bakr and 'Umar ate some bread and meat, and they did not perform ablution (after that)." (Sahih) ٤٨٩ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ الصَّبَّاحِ: أَخْبَرَنَا سُفْيَانُ [بْنُ عُيَيْنَةَ،] عَنْ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ الْمُنْكَدِرِ، وَعَمْرِو بْنِ دِينَارٍ، وَعَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ عَقِيلٍ، عَنْ جَابِرِ بْنِ عَبْدِ اللهِ قَالَ: أَكَلَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ وَأَبُو بَكْرٍ وَعُمَرُ خُبْزاً وَلَحْماً، وَلَمْ يَتَوَضَّؤُوا.

وَقَالَ عَلِيُّ بْنُ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ عَبَّاسٍ: وَأَنَا أَشْهَدُ عَلَى أَبِي بِمِثْلِ ذٰلِكَ.

Comments:

'I bear witness' means: 'I say it with full assurance and certainty'. The purpose is to strenghten the statement made by him.

491. It was narrated that Umm Salamah said: "Some meat from the shoulder of a sheep was brought to the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ and he ate some of it, then he performed prayer without touching water (for ablution)." (Sahih)

٤٩١ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ الصَّبَّاحِ: حَدَّثَنَا حَاتِمُ بْنُ إِسْمَاعِيلَ، عَنْ جَعْفَرِ بْنِ مُحَمَّدٍ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ عَلِيِّ بْنِ الْحُسَيْنِ، عَنْ زَيْنَبَ بِنْتِ أُمِّ سَلَمَةَ، عَنْ أُمِّ سَلَمَةَ قَالَتْ: أُتِيَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ بِكَتِفِ شَاةٍ، فَأَكَلَ مِنْهُ، وَصَلَّى وَلَمْ يَمَسَّ مَاءً.

Comments:

Sawiq is a kind of mush made of roasted barley. This also shows that performing ablution after eating items prepared on fire is not mandatory.

Comments: 494 & 495

The previous chapter was about not performing ablution after eating meat. But all the descrptions there pertained to eating mutton. In this chapter, however, all the narrations are about performing ablution after eating camel meat. The second Hadith even brings out the different rulings for mutton and camel meat.

496. It was narrated that Usaid bin Hudair said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Do not perform ablution after (drinking) sheep's milk, but perform ablution after (drinking) camel's milk.'" (Da'if) ٤٩٦ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو إِسْحَاقَ الْهَرَوِيُّ، إِبْرَاهِيمُ ابْنُ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ حَاتِمٍ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبَّادُ بْنُ الْعَوَّامِ، عَنْ حَجَّاجٍ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ عَبْدِ اللهِ، مَوْلَى بَنِي هَاشِمٍ - وَكَانَ ثِقَةً، وَكَانَ الْحَكَمُ يَأْخُذُ عَنْهُ - حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الرَّحْمٰنِ بْنُ أَبِي لَيْلَى، عَنْ أُسَيْدِ بْنِ حُضَيْرٍ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «لَا تَوَضَّأُوا مِنْ أَلْبَانِ الْغَنَمِ وَتَوَضَّأُوا مِنْ أَلْبَانِ الْإِبِلِ».

Comments:

Islam lays great emphasis on cleanliness. Hence it is, that rinsing the mouth and using the tooth stick have been made part of ablution. Traces of greasiness left by our eating and drinking are injurious for health. One must, therefore, be extremely particular about cleansing his mouth after drinking milk or eating greasy food.

٤٩٩ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا خَالِدُ بْنُ مَخْلَدٍ، عَنْ مُوسَى بْنِ يَعْقُوبَ: حَدَّثَنِي أَبُو عُبَيْدَةَ بْنُ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ زَمْعَةَ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ أُمِّ سَلَمَةَ، زَوْجِ النَّبِيِّ ﷺ قَالَتْ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «إِذَا شَرِبْتُمُ اللَّبَنَ

Chapter 69. Ablution After Kissing

(المعجم ٦٩) - بَابُ الْوُضُوءِ مِنَ الْقُبْلَةِ (التحفة ٦٩)

502. 'Urwah bin Az-Zubair narrated from 'Âishah, that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ kissed one of his women (i.e., wives), then he went out to perform the prayer, and he did not perform ablution. I ('Urwah bin Zubair) said: "That was not anyone but you,' and she smiled." (Hasan)

Comments:

a. 'Urwah ﷺ was the son of 'Âishah's sister.

b. Kissing one's wife does not nullify one's ablution provided that no prostatic fluid is secreted.

503. It was narrated from 'Âishah: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ would perform ablution, then he would kiss, then he would perform prayer without performing ablution again. And sometimes he did that with me." (Da'if)

Comments:

a. Prostatic fluid is a sticky fluid that appears on the male organ during sexual foreplay with one's wife. Its appearance does not diminish sexual desire. Semen, on the other hand, is a thick whitish fluid produced in the male productive organs and discharged at the completion of the sexual act.

b. Prostatic fluid does not necessitate the bath; mere ablution is enough.

Ablution has the benefit of diverting a person's attention and putting an end to sexual excitation.

505. It was narrated from Miqdâd bin Aswad that he asked the Prophet ﷺ about a man who approached his wife, but did not ejaculate. He said: "If anyone of you finds that,[1] he should sprinkle water over his private part (meaning he must wash it) and perform ablution." (Sahih)

Comments:

'Approaching the wife' means kissing and lovemaking but not intercourse, since intercourse necessitates a bath even though no ejaculation takes place.

506. It was narrated that Sahl bin Hunaif said: "I used to suffer from a great deal of prostatic fluid, and I took many baths because of that. I asked the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ about that, and he said: 'Ablution is sufficient for you in this case.' I said: 'O Messenger of Allâh! What about the prostatic fluid that gets onto my clothes?' He said: 'It is sufficient for you to pour a handful of water on the part of your clothes wherever you see it has reached.'" (Hasan) ٥٠٦ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو كُرَيْبٍ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللهِ بْنُ الْمُبَارَكِ، وَعَبْدَةُ بْنُ سُلَيْمَانَ، عَنْ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ إِسْحَاقَ: حَدَّثَنَا سَعِيدُ بْنُ عُبَيْدِ بْنِ السَّبَّاقِ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ سَهْلِ بْنِ حُنَيْفٍ قَالَ: كُنْتُ أَلْقَى مِنَ الْمَذْيِ شِدَّةً، فَأُكْثِرُ مِنْهُ الاِغْتِسَالَ. فَسَأَلْتُ رَسُولَ اللهِ! ﷺ فَقَالَ: «إِنَّمَا يُجْزِيكَ، مِنْ ذٰلِكَ، الْوُضُوءُ» قُلْتُ: يَا رَسُولَ اللهِ كَيْفَ بِمَا يُصِيبُ ثَوْبِي؟ قَالَ: «إِنَّمَا يَكْفِيكَ كَفٌّ مِنْ مَاءٍ تَنْضِحُ بِهِ مِنْ ثَوْبِكَ حَيْثُ تَرَى أَنَّهُ أَصَابَ».

507. It was narrated from Ibn 'Abbâs that he came to Ubayy bin

٥٠٧ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا

[1] That is, prostatic fluid.

مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ بِشْرٍ: حَدَّثَنَا مِسْعَرٌ، عَنْ مُصْعَبِ ابْنِ شَيْبَةَ، عَنْ أَبِي حَبِيبِ بْنِ يَعْلَى بْنِ مُنْيَةَ، عَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ: أَنَّهُ أَتَىٰ أُبَيَّ بْنَ كَعْبٍ وَمَعَهُ عُمَرُ، فَخَرَجَ عَلَيْهِمَا، فَقَالَ: إِنِّي وَجَدْتُ مَذْياً، فَغَسَلْتُ ذَكَرِي وَتَوَضَّأْتُ، فَقَالَ عُمَرُ: أَوَ يُجْزِىءُ ذٰلِكَ؟ قَالَ: نَعَمْ، قَالَ: أَسَمِعْتَهُ مِنْ رَسُولِ اللهِ ﷺ؟ قَالَ: نَعَمْ.

Ka'b, accompanied by 'Umar. Ubayy came out to them and said: "I noticed some prostatic fluid, so I washed my penis and performed ablution. 'Umar said: "Is that sufficient?" He said: "Yes." He ('Umar) asked: "Did you hear that from the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ?" He said: "Yes." (Da'if)

Comments:

The chain of transmission in respect of this Hadith makes it Weak. It is nevertheless a proven fact that prostatic fluid does not necessitate a bath.

Chapter 71. Ablution After Sleeping

(المعجم ٧١) - بَابُ وُضُوءِ النَّوْمِ

(التحفة ٧١)

508. It was narrated from Ibn 'Abbâs that the Prophet ﷺ got up during the night and went to the toilet and relieved himself, then he washed his face and hands, and went back to sleep. (Sahih)

٥٠٨ - حَدَّثَنَا عَلِيُّ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا وَكِيعٌ: سَمِعْتُ سُفْيَانَ يَقُولُ لِزَائِدَةَ بْنِ قُدَامَةَ: يَا أَبَا الصَّلْتِ! هَلْ سَمِعْتَ فِي هٰذَا شَيْئاً؟ فَقَالَ: حَدَّثَنَا سَلَمَةُ بْنُ كُهَيْلٍ، عَنْ كُرَيْبٍ، عَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ قَامَ مِنَ اللَّيْلِ، فَدَخَلَ الْخَلَاءَ، فَقَضَى حَاجَتَهُ، ثُمَّ غَسَلَ وَجْهَهُ وَكَفَّيْهِ، ثُمَّ نَامَ.

Comments:

Doing ablution while going to sleep is a virtuous act meriting reward in the next world. (Bukhâri: 247, & Muslim: 2710) However, sleeping in a state of ablution is not mandatory. Mere washing hands and mouth would suffice. Not only this, there is no harm in sleeping without ablution, even when in a state of major impurity necessitating a bath. See Ahâdith 581-583.

Chapter 72. Performing Ablution For Each Prayer And Offering All Prayers With One Ablution

(المعجم ٧٢) - بَابُ الْوُضُوءِ لِكُلِّ صَلَاةٍ. وَالصَّلَوَاتِ كُلِّهَا بِوُضُوءٍ وَاحِدٍ
(التحفة ٧٢)

509. It was narrated that Anas bin Mâlik said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ used to perform ablution for every prayer, and we used to perform all of the prayers with one ablution." (Sahih) ٥٠٩ - حَدَّثَنَا سُوَيْدُ بْنُ سَعِيدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا شَرِيكٌ، عَنْ عَمْرِو بْنِ عَامِرٍ، عَنْ أَنَسِ بْنِ مَالِكٍ قَالَ: كَانَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ يَتَوَضَّأُ لِكُلِّ صَلَاةٍ، وَكُنَّا نَحْنُ نُصَلِّي الصَّلَوَاتِ كُلَّهَا بِوُضُوءٍ وَاحِدٍ.

Comments:

a. Ablution performed for one prayer if intact, is valid for any number of obligatory and voluntary prayers.

b. An ablution performed for one prayer even though intact, can be refreshed before another prayer. This action, i.e., making a fresh ablution during the validity of the previous one, is also proved from the Sunnah of the Prophet ﷺ.

510. Sulaimân bin Buraidah narrated from his father that the Prophet ﷺ used to perform ablution for every prayer, but on the day of the conquest of Makkah, he performed all of the prayers with one ablution. (Sahih)

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، الطهارة، باب جواز الصلٰوات كلها بوضوء واحد، ح:٢٧٧ من حديث سفيان الثوري به مختصرًا.

Comments:

This was an act of the category of desirable (Mustahab) deeds, but the Prophet ﷺ did away with it in this case, lest it should become one of the obligatories for the Ummah, just as he had stopped leading the cogregational form of the Tarâwih prayer. (See Fathul-Bâri, 412/1).

511. Fadl bin Mubashshir said: "I saw Jâbir bin 'Abdullâh performing every prayer with one ablution, and I said: 'What is this?' He said: 'I saw the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ doing this, and I am doing as the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ did.'" (Da'if)

٥١١ - حَدَّثَنَا إِسْمَاعِيلُ بْنُ تَوْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا زِيَادُ ابْنُ عَبْدِ اللهِ: حَدَّثَنَا الْفَضْلُ بْنُ مُبَشِّرٍ، قَالَ: رَأَيْتُ جَابِرَ بْنَ عَبْدِ اللهِ يُصَلِّي الصَّلَوَاتِ بِوُضُوءٍ وَاحِدٍ، فَقُلْتُ: مَا هٰذَا؟ فَقَالَ: رَأَيْتُ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ يَصْنَعُ هٰذَا، فَأَنَا أَصْنَعُ كَمَا صَنَعَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ.

Chapter 73. Ablution When In A State Of Purity

(المعجم ٧٣) - بَابُ الْوُضُوءِ عَلَى طَهَارَةٍ (التحفة ٧٣)

512. It was narrated that Abu Ghutaif Al-Hudhali said: "I was listening to 'Abdullâh bin 'Umar bin Khattâb in the mosque, and when the time for prayer came, he got up, performed ablution, and offered prayer, then he went back to where he had been sitting. When the time for 'Asr (Afternoon prayer) came, he got up, performed ablution, and offered prayer, then he went back to where he had been sitting. When the time for Maghrib (Sunset prayer) came, he got up, performed ablution, and offered prayer, then he went back to where he had been sitting. I said:

لِصَلاَةِ الصُّبْحِ لَصَلَّيْتُ بِهِ الصَّلَوَاتِ كُلَّهَا، مَا لَمْ أُحْدِثْ، وَلٰكِنِّي سَمِعْتُ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ يَقُولُ: «مَنْ تَوَضَّأَ عَلَى كُلِّ طُهْرٍ فَلَهُ عَشْرُ حَسَنَاتٍ» وَإِنَّمَا رَغِبْتُ فِي الْحَسَنَاتِ.

'May Allâh improve you (i.e., your condition) Is it obligatory or Sunnah to perform ablution for every prayer?' He said: 'Did you notice that?' I said: 'Yes.' He said: 'No (it is not obligatory). If I perform ablution for Morning prayer I can perform all of the prayers with this ablution, so long as I do not get impure. But I heard the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ say: "Whoever performs ablution while he is pure, he will have ten merits," so I wanted to earn the merits.'" (Da'if)

Chapter 74. No Ablution Except For Impurity

٥١٣ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ الصَّبَّاحِ، قَالَ: أَنْبَأَنَا سُفْيَانُ بْنُ عُيَيْنَةَ، عَنِ الزُّهْرِيِّ، عَنْ سَعِيدٍ؛ وَعَبَّادُ بْنُ تَمِيمٍ، عَنْ عَمِّهِ قَالَ: شُكِيَ إِلَى النَّبِيِّ ﷺ الرَّجُلُ يَجِدُ الشَّيْءَ فِي الصَّلاَةِ فَقَالَ: «لا، حَتَّى يَجِدَ رِيحاً، أَوْ يَسْمَعَ صَوْتاً».

513. 'Abbâd bin Tamim narrated that his paternal uncle said: "A complaint was made to the Prophet ﷺ about a man who sensed something (some doubt about his ablution) during prayer. He said: 'No (he does not have to perform ablution) unless he notices a smell or hears a sound.'" (Sahih)

Comments:

a. The passing of the wind nullifies the ablution even though no sound is heard.

b. Mere doubt (in the absence of certainty) does not invalidate the ablution.

514. It was narrated that Abu Sa'eed Al-Khudri said: "The Prophet ﷺ was asked about doubts (concerning ablution) during prayer. He said: 'He should not leave until he hears a sound or detects an odor.'" (Sahih)

(المعجم ٧٥) - بَابُ مِقْدَارِ الْمَاءِ الَّذِي لَا يَنْجُسُ (التحفة ٧٥)

517. It was narrated from

٥١٧ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ خَلَّادٍ الْبَاهِلِيُّ:

حَدَّثَنَا يَزِيدُ بْنُ هَارُونَ: أَنْبَأَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ إِسْحَاقَ، عَنْ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ جَعْفَرِ بْنِ الزُّبَيْرِ، عَنْ عُبَيْدِ اللهِ بْنِ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ عُمَرَ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ قَالَ: سَمِعْتُ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ سُئِلَ عَنِ الْمَاءِ يَكُونُ بِالْفَلَاةِ مِنَ الأَرْضِ، وَمَا يَنُوبُهُ مِنَ الدَّوَابِّ وَالسِّبَاعِ؟ فَقَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «إِذَا بَلَغَ الْمَاءُ قُلَّتَيْنِ لَمْ يُنَجِّسْهُ شَيْءٌ».

Comments:

The Arabic Qullah is a large earthen jar or container. Qullah made at the place known as Hajr were very popular in the Arab world. The container was big enough, i.e. of the size of two-and-a-half water skins. Scholars have described the quantity of two Qullah as equivalent to 500 Ratl. One Ratl weighs half a seer, i.e., forty tolas. Thus, the total quantity of five water skins of water measures approximately 240 kilograms or, according to some scholars, about 227 kilograms. So much quantity of water would qualify for the definition of 'abundant' water. As such a little amount of impurity would not change the basic characteristic of the purity of water.

٥١٨ - حَدَّثَنَا عَلِيُّ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا وَكِيعٌ: حَدَّثَنَا حَمَّادُ بْنُ سَلَمَةَ، عَنْ عَاصِمِ بْنِ الْمُنْذِرِ، عَنْ عُبَيْدِ اللهِ بْنِ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ عُمَرَ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «إِذَا كَانَ

[1] A Qullah is a large water container whose size the scholars differ over, from five to fifty waterskins. Tirmidhi said (no. 67): "And they say, it is approximately fifty Qirbah (water skins)." Khattâbi said (Ma'alamus-Sunan: 1:35): "The scholars have stated the size of two Qullah is five Qirbah." See Ahmad Shâkir's comments on Jâmi' At-Tirmidhi.

Comments:

Other Ahâdith confirm that the original limit is two Qullah. If the size of water is less than this, then anything impure falling into it shall turn the water impure, regardless of whether its smell, taste or color remains unchanged. But water in a greater quantity than this shall only be considered impure if the impurity has either changed its color, or smell, or taste.

٥١٩ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو مُصْعَبٍ الْمَدَنِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الرَّحْمٰنِ بْنُ زَيْدِ بْنِ أَسْلَمَ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ عَطَاءِ بْنِ يَسَارٍ، عَنْ أَبِي سَعِيدٍ الْخُدْرِيِّ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ سُئِلَ عَنِ الْحِيَاضِ الَّتِي بَيْنَ مَكَّةَ وَالْمَدِينَةِ، تَرِدُهَا السِّبَاعُ وَالْكِلَابُ وَالْحُمُرُ، وَعَنِ الطَّهَارَةِ مِنْهَا؟ فَقَالَ: «لَهَا مَا حَمَلَتْ فِي بُطُونِهَا، وَلَنَا مَا غَبَرَ، طَهُورٌ».

519. It was narrated from Abu Sa'eed Al-Khudri that the Prophet ﷺ was asked about the water basins located between Makkah and Al-Madinah, which were visited by wild animals, dogs and donkeys, and about using them for means of purification. He said, "Whatever they (the animals) have carried in their bellies is for them, and whatever is left over is for us, and is pure."(Da'if)

٥٢٠ - حَدَّثَنَا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ سِنَانٍ: حَدَّثَنَا يَزِيدُ ابْنُ هَارُونَ: حَدَّثَنَا شَرِيكٌ، عَنْ طَرِيفِ بْنِ شِهَابٍ قَالَ: سَمِعْتُ أَبَا نَضْرَةَ، يُحَدِّثُ عَنْ جَابِرِ بْنِ عَبْدِ اللهِ قَالَ: انْتَهَيْنَا إِلَى غَدِيرٍ، فَإِذَا فِيهِ جِيفَةُ حِمَارٍ، قَالَ: فَكَفَفْنَا عَنْهُ، حَتَّى

520. It was narrated that Jâbir bin 'Abdullâh said: "We came to a pond in which there was the carcass of a donkey, so we refrained from using the water until the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ came to us and said: 'Water is not made impure by anything.' Then we drank from it and gave it to our animals to drink, and we carried some with us." (Da'if)

تخريج: [إسناده ضعيف جدًا] قال البوصيري: هذا إسناد فيه طريف بن شهاب، وقد أجمعوا على ضعفه.

Comments:

The addition of the words 'the carcass of a donkey' in the Hadith being unsubstantiated by other sound authorities is Denounced (Munkar). The remaining part of the Hadith, being Traceable (Marfu'), is authentic.

521. It was narrated that Abu Umâmah Al-Bâhili said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Water is not made impure by anything except that which changes its smell, taste and color.'" (Da'if)

تخريج: [إسناده ضعيف] وقال البوصيري: هذا إسناد فيه رشدين، وهو ضعيف، واختلف عليه مع ضعفه، ويغني عنه الإجماع، انظر الإجماع لابن المنذر، ص: ٣٣ نص: ١١، ١٢ وغيره.

Comments:

Although, as to the chain of transmission, the Hadith is 'Weak', yet there is consensus among the scholars on the point that water whose basic characteristic has been changed because of some impurity is no longer good as a means of purification.

Comments:

a. If a suckling infant boy (who has not been weaned) urinates over the garment, it is not necessary to wash it. A cloth urinated over by a baby girl must, however, be washed.

b. We do not know for sure the wisdom behind this difference, but we are obligated to obey all the commands of Allâh and His Prophet ﷺ.

523. It was narrated that 'Âishah said: "A baby boy was brought to the Prophet ﷺ who then urinated on him. He sprinkled over it with water and did not wash it." (Sahih)

٥٢٣ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ، وَعَلِيُّ ابْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ قَالاَ: حَدَّثَنَا وَكِيعٌ: حَدَّثَنَا هِشَامُ ابْنُ عُرْوَةَ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ عَائِشَةَ، قَالَتْ: أُتِيَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ بِصَبِيٍّ، فَبَالَ عَلَيْهِ، فَأَتْبَعَهُ الْمَاءَ، وَلَمْ يَغْسِلْهُ.

Abul-Hasan bin Salamah said: "Ahmad bin Musa bin Ma'qil narrated to us that Abul-Yamân Al-Misri said: 'I asked Shâfi'i about the Hadith of the Prophet ﷺ, "Water should be sprinkled over the urine of a boy, and the urine of a girl should be washed," when the two types of water (urine) are the same. He said, "That is because the urine of the boy is of water and clay, but the urine of the girl is of flesh and blood." Then he said to me: "Did you understand?" I said: "No." He said: "When Allâh the Most High created Âdam, He created Eve (Hawwa') from his short rib, so the boy's urine is from water and clay, and the girl's urine is from flesh and blood." Then he said to me: "Did you understand?" I said: "Yes." He said: "May Allâh cause you benefit from this." (Hasan)

Comments:

All these Ahâdith are explicit on the point that clothing urinated over on by a suckling girl is to be washed, while the baby boy's urine is to be sprinkled over with water.

Chapter 78. Ground That Is Soiled With Urine And How It Should Be Washed

(المعجم ٧٨) - بَابُ الأَرْضِ يُصِيبُهَا الْبَوْلُ كَيْفَ تُغْسَلُ(التحفة ٧٨)

528. It was narrated from Anas that a Bedouin urinated in the mosque, and some of the people rushed at him. The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "Do not interrupt him." Then he called for a bucket of water and poured it over (the urine). (Sahih)

أَبِي سَلَمَةَ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ: دَخَلَ أَعْرَابِيٌّ الْمَسْجِدَ، وَرَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ جَالِسٌ، فَقَالَ: اللَّهُمَّ! اغْفِرْ لِي وَلِمُحَمَّدٍ، وَلاَ تَغْفِرْ لِأَحَدٍ مَعَنَا، فَضَحِكَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ وَقَالَ: «لَقَدِ احْتَظَرْتَ وَاسِعاً» ثُمَّ وَلَّى، حَتَّى إِذَا كَانَ فِي نَاحِيَةِ الْمَسْجِدِ فَشَجَ يَبُولُ، فَقَالَ الأَعْرَابِيُّ، بَعْدَ أَنْ فَقِهَ فَقَامَ إِلَيَّ، بِأَبِي وَأُمِّي، فَلَمْ يُؤَنِّبْ وَلَمْ يَسُبَّ، فَقَالَ: «إِنَّ هٰذَا الْمَسْجِدَ لاَ يُبَالُ فِيهِ، وَإِنَّمَا بُنِيَ لِذِكْرِ اللهِ وَلِلصَّلاَةِ». ثُمَّ أَمَرَ بِسَجْلٍ مِنْ مَاءٍ، فَأُفْرِغَ عَلَى بَوْلِهِ.

Messenger of Allâh ﷺ was sitting there, and (the man) said: 'O Allâh, forgive me and Muhammad, and do not forgive anyone else with us.' The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ smiled and said: 'You have placed restrictions on something that is vast.' Then the Bedouin turned away, went to a corner of the mosque, spread his legs and began to urinate. After he had a better understanding, the Bedouin said: 'He got up and came to me, and may my father and mother be ransomed for him, he did not rebuke me nor revile me. He said: "This mosque is not for urinating in. Rather it is built for the remembrance of Allâh and prayer.'" Then he called for a large vessel of water and poured it over the place where he had urinated." (Hasan) تخريج: [إسناده حسن] أخرجه أحمد: ٢/٥٠٣ من حديث محمد بن عمرو به، وأصله عند البخاري(٦٠١٠).

Comments:

a. Even a big mistake by a person ignorant of the laws of Shari'ah should be tolerated and he should be politely told that what he had done was not proper.

b. The Prophet ﷺ allowed the Bedouin to complete his urination in the mosque because he had already started doing it. Had the man been stopped in the middle, it would have caused harm to his body system, or else he would start running away in panic, and the drops of urine would have defiled not only a considerable part of the mosque but also his own body and clothes.

c. The Prophet ﷺ drew the attention of the Bedouin to the mistake he had committed in his supplication to Allâh, although the mistake was the result of his excessive love and reverence for the Prophet ﷺ.

d. The mosque must be kept free from all kinds of trash and impurities.

e. In order to remedy the defilement of an unmettled piece of earth caused by somebody's urine, it is enough to pour a bucket of water over the place. Thus, once the earth absorbs the water and the remains of the urine, it shall regain its purity.

530. It was narrated that Wâthilah bin Asqa' said: "A Bedouin came to the Prophet ﷺ and said: 'O Allâh, have mercy on me and Muhammad, and do not allow anyone else to share in Your mercy.' The Prophet ﷺ said: 'You have placed restrictions on something that is vast, woe to you!' Then (the Bedouin) spread his legs and urinated, and the Companions of the Prophet ﷺ told him to stop, but the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Let him be,' then he called for a vessel of water and poured it over (the urine)." (Hasan)

Chapter 79. Some Parts Of The Earth Purify Others

(المعجم ٧٩) - بَابُ الأَرْضِ يُطَهِّرُ بَعْضُهَا بَعْضًا (التحفة ٧٩)

531. It was narrated that Umm Salamah, the wife of the Prophet ﷺ, said: "I am a woman whose hem is lengthy, and I may walk through a dirty place. The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'That which comes after it purifies it.'" (Hasan)

Comments:

If a person's garment or shoe has no visible impurity over it, then it should be presumed that walking further on clean ground has purified it. In case some impurity can still be seen over either of them, then it is a definite uncleanness, which must be washed off.

532. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: It was said: "O Messenger of Allâh, we want to come to the mosque, but the path that we walk upon is impure." The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "Some parts of the earth purify others." (Da'if)

533. It was narrated that a woman from (the tribe of) Banu 'Abdul-Ashhal said: "I said to the Prophet ﷺ: 'Between the mosque and I there is a filthy path.' He said: 'After that is there a cleaner path?' I said: 'Yes.' He said: 'This is (a remedy) for that.'" (Sahih) ٥٣٣ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا شَرِيكٌ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ عِيسَى، عَنْ مُوسَى بْنِ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ يَزِيدَ، عَنِ امْرَأَةٍ مِنْ [بَنِي] عَبْدِ الأَشْهَلِ، قَالَتْ: سَأَلْتُ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ، فَقُلْتُ: إِنَّ بَيْنِي وَبَيْنَ الْمَسْجِدِ طَرِيقاً قَذِرَةً، قَالَ: «فَبَعْدَهَا طَرِيقٌ أَنْظَفُ مِنْهَا؟» قُلْتُ: نَعَمْ. قَالَ: «فَهٰذِهِ بِهٰذِهِ».

Comments:

a. Feet defiled by any kind of indiscernable impurity while walking on the earth shall become pure by walking further on clean ground, and there is no need to wash them. The view is confirmed by the first Hadith of this chapter that speaks of a part of garment dragged over a dirty place.

b. Islam is not about unnecessarily stiff rules and restrictions. It is one of its characteristics that it is a religion of facility and ease.

Chapter 80. Shaking Hands With One Who Is In A State Of Sexual Impurity Râfi' that Abu Hurairah was met by the Prophet ﷺ in one of the streets of Al-Madinah when he was in a state of sexual impurity, so he slipped away. The Prophet ﷺ missed him, so when he came (later on), he said: 'Where were you O Abu Hurairah?' He said: 'O Messenger of Allâh, you met me when I was in a state of sexual impurity, and I did not want to sit with you until I had a bath. The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'The believer does not become impure.'" (Sahih)

إِسْمَاعِيلُ ابْنُ عُلَيَّةَ، عَنْ حُمَيْدٍ، عَنْ بَكْرِ بْنِ عَبْدِ اللهِ، عَنْ أَبِي رَافِعٍ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ أَنَّهُ لَقِيَهُ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ فِي طَرِيقٍ مِنْ طُرُقِ الْمَدِينَةِ وَهُوَ جُنُبٌ، فَانْسَلَّ، فَفَقَدَهُ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ، فَلَمَّا جَاءَ، قَالَ: «أَيْنَ كُنْتَ يَا أَبَا هُرَيْرَةَ؟» قَالَ: يَا رَسُولَ اللهِ! لَقِيتَنِي وَأَنَا جُنُبٌ، فَكَرِهْتُ أَنْ أُجَالِسَكَ حَتَّى أَغْتَسِلَ، فَقَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «الْمُؤْمِنُ لاَ يَنْجَسُ».

Comments:

The body of a believer, whether dead or alive, is pure. It is, therefore, perfectly in order to shake hands with him and sit and eat together. It is, however, preferable that a sexually impure person performs ablution before starting to eat and drink. Even before going to sleep such a person should perform ablution in order that, at least, he attains to a partial state of purity (Bukhâri: 287).

٥٣٥ - حَدَّثَنَا عَلِيُّ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا وَكِيعٌ؛ ح: وَحَدَّثَنَا إِسْحَاقُ بْنُ مَنْصُورٍ: أَنْبَأَنَا يَحْيَى ابْنُ سَعِيدٍ، جَمِيعاً، عَنْ مِسْعَرٍ، عَنْ وَاصِلٍ الأَحْدَبِ، عَنْ أَبِي وَائِلٍ، عَنْ حُذَيْفَةَ قَالَ: خَرَجَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ، فَلَقِيَنِي وَأَنَا جُنُبٌ، فَحِدْتُ عَنْهُ، فَاغْتَسَلْتُ ثُمَّ جِئْتُ، فَقَالَ: «مَا لَكَ؟» قُلْتُ: كُنْتُ جُنُباً، قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «إِنَّ الْمُسْلِمَ لاَ يَنْجُسُ».

535. It was narrated that Hudhaifah said: "The Prophet ﷺ came out and met me when I was sexually impure, so I kept away from him. Then I had a bath and came to him. He said: 'What is the matter with you?' I said: 'I was sexually impure.' The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'The Muslim does not become impure.'" (Sahih)

Chapter 81. Semen That Soils Clothes

(المعجم ٨١) - بَابُ الْمَنِيِّ يُصِيبُ الثَّوْبَ (التحفة ٨١)

536. It was narrated that 'Amr bin Maimun said: "I asked Sulaimân bin Yasâr about a garment which gets semen on it 'Should I wash it off or wash the entire garment?' Sulaimân said: 'Âishah said: "Semen used to get on the garment of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ and he would wash it off his garment, then he would go out to pray wearing that garment, and I could see the marks left on it by washing." (Sahih)

٥٣٦ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدَةُ بْنُ سُلَيْمَانَ، عَنْ عَمْرِو بْنِ مَيْمُونٍ قَالَ: سَأَلْتُ سُلَيْمَانَ بْنَ يَسَارٍ عَنِ الثَّوْبِ يُصِيبُهُ الْمَنِيُّ، أَنَغْسِلُهُ أَوْ نَغْسِلُ الثَّوْبَ كُلَّهُ؟ قَالَ سُلَيْمَانُ، قَالَتْ عَائِشَةُ: كَانَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ يُصِيبُ ثَوْبَهُ، فَنَغْسِلُهُ مِنْ ثَوْبِهِ، ثُمَّ يَخْرُجُ فِي ثَوْبِهِ إِلَى الصَّلَاةِ، وَأَنَا أَرَى أَثَرَ الْغُسْلِ فِيهِ.

Chapter 82. Scraping Semen From Clothing

(المعجم ٨٢) - بَابٌ: فِي فَرْكِ الْمَنِيِّ مِنَ الثَّوْبِ (التحفة ٨٢)

537. It was narrated that 'Âishah said: "I often scraped it (semen) from the garment of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ with my hand." (Sahih)

٥٣٧ - حَدَّثَنَا عَلِيُّ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو مُعَاوِيَةَ؛ ح: وَحَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ طَرِيفٍ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدَةُ بْنُ سُلَيْمَانَ، جَمِيعاً عَنِ الْأَعْمَشِ، عَنْ إِبْرَاهِيمَ، عَنْ هَمَّامِ بْنِ الْحَارِثِ، عَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ: رُبَّمَا فَرَكْتُهُ مِنْ ثَوْبِ رَسُولِ اللهِ ﷺ بِيَدِي.

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، الطهارة، باب حكم المني، ح:٢٨٨ من حديث الأعمش به باختلاف يسير.

Comments:

It shows that it is enough to to scratch it off with a finger nail. There is an obvious possibility of certain particles of it still remaining in the garment. Yet the clothing shall be considered as pure even without washing.

538. Hammâm bin Hârith narrated: "A guest came and stayed with 'Aishah, and she ordered that he be given a yellow blanket of hers. He had a nocturnal emission in it, and he felt too shy to send it back to her when it had the traces of that emission on it, so he dipped it in water and then sent it to her. 'Âishah said: 'Why did he spoil our garment? It would have been sufficient for him to scrape it off with his finger. I often scraped it (semen) from the garment of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ with my finger.'" (Sahih)

تخريج: [صحيح] أخرجه الترمذي، الطهارة، باب ما جاء في المني يصيب الثوب، ح:١١٦ من حديث أبي معاوية به، وقال: هذا حديث حسن صحيح ، وانظر الحديث السابق فإنه شاهد له.

539. It was narrated that 'Âishah said: "I remember when I found it (semen) on the garment of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ and I scratched it off." (Sahih) ٥٣٩ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا هُشَيْمٌ، عَنْ مُغِيرَةَ، عَنْ إِبْرَاهِيمَ، عَنِ الأَسْوَدِ، عَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ: لَقَدْ رَأَيْتُنِي أَجِدُهُ فِي ثَوْبِ رَسُولِ اللهِ ﷺ فَأَحُتُّهُ عَنْهُ.

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، الطهارة، باب حكم المني، ح:٢٨٨ عن ابن أبي شيبة به مختصرًا.

Comments:

The ruling relates to a situation where the substance is thick enough to be scratched off. If it is thin, it penetrates into the texture of the clothing and leaves its mark. It would not, therefore, disappear by mere rubbing it or scratching it. In that case, it would be better to wash off the relevant portion of the garment in order to ensure its purity.

Chapter 83. Offering Prayer In A Garment In Which One Has Had Intercourse

(المعجم ٨٣) - بَابُ الصَّلَاةِ فِي الثَّوْبِ الَّذِي يُجَامِعُ فِيهِ (التحفة ٨٣)

Comments:

a. It shows that we do not have to have separate clothing because of sexual activity.

b. The garment on one's body does not become impure because of ritual impurity.

541. It was narrated that Abu Dardâ' said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ came out to us with water dripping from his head, and he led us in prayer wearing a single garment, placing its one end on the right shoulder, and the other end on the other shoulder. When he finished praying, 'Umar bin Khattâb said to him: 'O Messenger of Allâh, did you lead us in prayer wearing a single garment? He said: 'Yes, I perform prayer in it, and in it I (i.e. I had sexual intercourse in it)." (Da'if)

Comments:

a. Be it the Imâm of the prayer or his follower, it is not binding for him to cover the head during prayer, although it is not desirable to make it a practice to remain without a head cover.

b. This rule is man-specific. As for the woman, she must always have a head cover. This means that the prayer of a woman shall be in order if she puts on two pieces of clothing — a long shirt that covers her body including the feet and a cover for her head.

542. It was narrated that Jâbir bin Samurah said: "A man asked the

543. It was narrated that Hammâm bin Hârith said: "Jarir bin 'Abdullâh urinated, then he performed ablution and wiped over his leather socks. Someone asked him: 'Do you do this?' He said: 'Why shouldn't I? I saw the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ doing this.'" Comments:

The Prophet ﷺ, while intending to ease himself, used to go a long distance to be out of the view of the people (Ibn Mâjah: 331-336). Any Companion volunteering to take the water with him used to stop at a distance from the Prophet ﷺ, after which he alone carried the water, and either went far to make himself out of sight, or screened himself behind something.

546. It was narrated from Ibn 'Umar that he saw Sa'd bin Mâlik wiping over his leather socks and said: "Is it you doing this?" They both went to 'Umar and Sa'd said to 'Umar: "Give my brother's son a verdict regarding wiping over leather socks." 'Umar said: "We

Comments:

a. Scholars have a duty to to satisfy the questions or points of doubt with proofs, just as 'Umar ﷺ provided the evidence by saying that he and others had been doing it in the presence of the Prophet ﷺ, and he never objected to it. Hence it was perfectly in order.
b. An act being done in the presence of the Prophet ﷺ and his refraining from objecting to it is called a Hadith Taqriri (a Hadith proved from the Prophet's silent approval).

Chapter 86. What Was Narrated Concerning The Period Of Wiping For Residents And Travelers

(المعجم ٨٦) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي التَّوْقِيتِ فِي الْمَسْحِ لِلْمُقِيمِ وَالْمُسَافِرِ (التحفة ٨٦)

552. It was narrated that Shuraih bin Hâni' said: "I asked 'Âishah about wiping over the leather socks and she said: 'Go to 'Ali and ask him, for he knows more about that than I do.' So I went to 'Ali and asked him about wiping. He said: 'The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ used to tell us that the resident could wipe for one day and one night, and the traveler could do so for three days.'" (Sahih)

Comments:

a. If a person on a journey does not take off his socks, he can do away with washing and continue to to wipe over them. In case he takes off the socks, it becomes compulsory for him to wash the feet.

b. A non-traveler, if he puts on the socks after performing his ablution, can only wipe his socks for a day and night.

553. It was narrated that Khuzaimah bin Thâbit said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ set a time limit for the traveler of three days, and if the questioner had persisted in asking, he would have made it five (days)." (Sahih)

556. It was narrated from 'Abdur-Rahmân bin Abu Bakrah, from his father, that the Prophet ﷺ granted a concession to travelers: "If a traveler performed ablution and put on leather socks, then he performed a fresh ablution, he could wipe over the leather socks for three days and nights; the resident could do so

Chapter 87. Concerning Wiping Over The Leather Socks With No Time Limit

(المعجم ٨٧) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي الْمَسْحِ بِغَيْرِ تَوْقِيتٍ (التحفة ٨٧)

557. It was narrated from Ubayy bin 'Imârah, in whose house the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ performed prayer facing both prayer direction, that he said to the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ: "Can I wipe over my leather socks?" He said: "Yes." He said: "For one day?" He said: "For two days." He said: "For three?" And so on, until the number reached seven. He (the Prophet ﷺ) said: "For as long as you see fit." (Da'if)

558. It was narrated from 'Uqbah bin 'Âmir Al-Juhani that he came to 'Umar bin Khattâb from Egypt. 'Umar said: "How long has it been since you have taken off your leather socks?" He said: "From one Friday till the next." He said: "You have acted in accordance with the Sunnah." (Hasan)

Comments:

On the face of it, the Ahâdith of this chapter seem to be in conflict with the Ahâdith of the previous chapter. The scholars have, however, removed this apparent anomaly by suggesting that the Ahâdith prescribing a time limit on wiping the socks would be applicable if the person on a journey has no difficulty in taking off the socks after three days and three nights. However, in case the journey is long and the person cannot afford lagging behind the caravan, or else he finds it difficult or painful to take off the socks, he could wipe over the socks for an indefinite period of time, as was the case with 'Uqbah bin 'Âmir ﷺ. It was on this basis that 'Umar ﷺ expressed his approval of the action by commenting: 'You have acted in accordance with the Sunnah.'

Comments:

a. Arabs had open sandals, i.e., that they had only one or two small leather straps over the soles of their shoes. It was, therefore, not necessary to take off the shoes for wiping over the socks. The Hadith can be acted upon even today in the case of plastic slippers etc.

b. The report also speaks of wiping over the socks and the shoes separately, which means that he did both in turns, i.e., either wiping only over the socks or wiping over the strapped shoes alone.

560. It was narrated from Abu Musa Al-Ash'ari that the

Comments:

Wiping over the head can take several forms, namely (i) wiping over the head or (ii) wiping over the head cover or turban. Another method, the third, could be starting with the head and finishing off with wiping over the turban. There is, however, no clear-cut proof of wiping just over one-fourth of the head.

The Chapters On Dry Ablution

[أَبْوَابُ التَّيَمُّمِ]

Chapter 90. What Was Narrated Concerning Dry Ablution

(المعجم ٩٠) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي التَّيَمُّمِ

(التحفة ٩٠)

565. It was narrated that 'Ammâr bin Yâsir said: " Âishah dropped a necklace and she stayed behind to look for it. Abu Bakr went to 'Âishah and got angry with her for keeping the people waiting. Then Allâh revealed the concession allowing dry ablution, so we wiped our arms up to the shoulders.[1] Abu Bakr went to 'Aishah and said: 'I did not know that you are blessed.'" (Sahih)

٥٦٥ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ رُمْحٍ: حَدَّثَنَا اللَّيْثُ ابْنُ سَعْدٍ، عَنِ ابْنِ شِهَابٍ، عَنْ عُبَيْدِ اللهِ بْنِ عَبْدِ اللهِ، عَنْ عَمَّارِ بْنِ يَاسِرٍ أَنَّهُ قَالَ: سَقَطَ عِقْدُ عَائِشَةَ، فَتَخَلَّفَتْ لِالْتِمَاسِهِ، فَانْطَلَقَ أَبُو بَكْرٍ إِلَى عَائِشَةَ فَتَغَيَّظَ عَلَيْهَا فِي حَبْسِهَا النَّاسَ، فَأَنْزَلَ اللهُ، عَزَّ وَجَلَّ، الرُّخْصَةَ فِي التَّيَمُّمِ، قَالَ فَمَسَحْنَا يَوْمَئِذٍ إِلَى الْمَنَاكِبِ، قَالَ فَانْطَلَقَ أَبُو بَكْرٍ إِلَى عَائِشَةَ فَقَالَ: مَا عَلِمْتُ إِنَّكِ لَمُبَارَكَةٌ.

تخريج: [صحيح] أخرجه أبوداود، الطهارة، باب التيمم، ح:٣١٨ من حديث الزهري به، إسناده منقطع ولكن له طرق صحيحة، انظر سنن أبي داود، ح:٣٢٠ وغيره.

Comments:

a. The Hadith clearly establishes the excellence of 'Âishah, the Mother of the Believers ﷺ, that, because of a momentary inconvenience, a great facility in the form of dry ablution was granted to the entire community of believers.
b. Ordainment to wipe the head up to the shoulders was later abrogated. Dry ablution, as clearly indicated in other Ahâdith, is only necessary now over the face and the palms of the two hands.

[1] Sindi said: "Either because that was legislated, then abrogated, or due to their Ijtihâd (judgment) without asking, in which case it was a mistake. It also contains proof that the Prophet ﷺ ordered them with it, and this is supported from one angle, except that it is said: 'The meaning is that he ordered them to perform dry ablution, not the how of it.'"

566. It was narrated that 'Ammâr [bin Yâsir] said: "We did dry ablution with the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ, (wiping our arms) up to our shoulders." (Sahih)

تخريج: [صحيح] أخرجه النسائي: ١/١٦٨، الطهارة، باب التيمم في السفر، ح: ٣١٥ من حديث صالح عن الزهري به.

567. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "The earth has been made for me a place of worship and a means of purification." (Sahih)

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، المساجد، باب المساجد ومواضع الصلوٰة، ح: ٥٢٣ من حديث إسماعيل بن جعفر به مطولاً.

Comments:

a. The earth being a place of worship means that a mosque is not a precondition for the performance of prayer, it can be offered even outside it.

b. The earth has been made 'a means of purification' means that, in the event of a valid excuse, purity through dry ablution is a permissible alternative to ablution and a bath.

568. It was narrated from 'Âishah that she borrowed a necklace from Asmâ', and she lost it. The Prophet ﷺ sent some people to look for it, and the time for prayer came so they prayed without ablution. When they came to the Prophet ﷺ they complained to him about that, then the Verse of dry ablution was revealed. Usaid bin Hudair said: "May Allâh reward you with good, for by Allâh, nothing ever happens to

Chapter 91. Concerning Striking The Ground Once In Dry Ablution

(المعجم ٩١) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي التَّيَمُّمِ ضَرْبَةٌ وَاحِدَةٌ (التحفة ٩١)

569. It was narrated from Sa'eed bin 'Abdur-Rahmân bin Abza from his father, that a man came to 'Umar bin Khattâb and said: "I became impure following sexual emission and cannot find any water." 'Umar said to him: "Do not pray." But 'Ammâr bin Yâsir said, "Do you not remember, O Commander of the Believers, when you and I were on a military expedition and we became sexually impure and could not find water? As for you, you did not pray, but I rolled in the dust and then prayed. When I came to the Prophet ﷺ and told him what had happened, he said: 'It would have been enough for you (to do this).' (Then demonstrating) the Prophet ﷺ struck the ground with his hands, then blew on them, and wiped his face and palms with them." (Sahih)

٥٦٩ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ بَشَّارٍ: حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ ابْنُ جَعْفَرٍ: حَدَّثَنَا شُعْبَةُ، عَنِ الْحَكَمِ، عَنْ ذَرٍّ، عَنْ سَعِيدِ بْنِ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمٰنِ بْنِ أَبْزَى، عَنْ أَبِيهِ أَنَّ رَجُلاً أَتَىٰ عُمَرَ بْنَ الْخَطَّابِ، فَقَالَ: إِنِّي أَجْنَبْتُ فَلَمْ أَجِدِ الْمَاءَ، فَقَالَ عُمَرُ: لاَ تُصَلِّ، فَقَالَ عَمَّارُ بْنُ يَاسِرٍ: أَمَا تَذْكُرُ، يَا أَمِيرَ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ! إِذْ أَنَا وَأَنْتَ فِي سَرِيَّةٍ، فَأَجْنَبْنَا فَلَمْ نَجِدِ الْمَاءَ، فَأَمَّا أَنْتَ فَلَمْ تُصَلِّ، وَأَمَّا أَنَا فَتَمَعَّكْتُ فِي التُّرَابِ فَصَلَّيْتُ فَلَمَّا أَتَيْتُ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ، فَذَكَرْتُ ذٰلِكَ [لَهُ،] فَقَالَ: «إِنَّمَا كَانَ يَكْفِيكَ» وَضَرَبَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ بِيَدَيْهِ إِلَى الأَرْضِ، ثُمَّ نَفَخَ فِيهِمَا، وَمَسَحَ بِهِمَا وَجْهَهُ وَكَفَّيْهِ.

Comments:

a. This shows the correct way to perform the dry ablution. It is like this: Strike your hands on a piece of pure ground, then blow the dust off. After that, pass the hands over the face and, finally, wipe one hand with the other. This completes the dry ablution. You do not have to wipe your arms and feet. Neither do you have to wipe your head and ears.

b. Dry ablution thus done is as good a substitute for a bath as it is for ablution. There is no need to soil your entire body with earth to secure purity from sexual impurity.

c. The rationale behind blowing off the hands after striking the ground with them is to shake off the extra dust. The idea is simply to comply with an order, not to cover the body with dust.

570. It was narrated from Hakam and Salamah bin Kuhail that they asked 'Abdullâh bin Abi Awfa about dry ablution. He said: "The Prophet ﷺ commanded 'Ammâr to do like this;" and he struck the ground with his palms, shook the dust off and wiped his face. (Da'if)

Hakam said, "and his hands." Salamah said, "and his elbows."

٥٧٠ - حَدَّثَنَا عُثْمَانُ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا حُمَيْدُ بْنُ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمٰنِ، عَنِ ابْنِ أَبِي لَيْلَىٰ، عَنِ الْحَكَمِ، وَسَلَمَةَ بْنِ كُهَيْلٍ أَنَّهُمَا سَأَلاَ عَبْدَ اللهِ بْنَ أَبِي أَوْفَىٰ عَنِ التَّيَمُّمِ، فَقَالَ: أَمَرَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ عَمَّاراً أَنْ يَفْعَلَ هٰكَذَا، وَضَرَبَ بِيَدَيْهِ إِلَى الأَرْضِ ثُمَّ نَفَضَهُمَا، وَمَسَحَ عَلَى وَجْهِهِ.

قَالَ الْحَكَمُ: وَيَدَيْهِ، وَقَالَ سَلَمَةُ: وَمِرْفَقَيْهِ.

تخريج: [إسناده ضعيف] انظر، ح: ٨٥٤ لعلته.

Comments:

The upshot of the matter is that one of the narrators (Hakam) reports that, having wiped the face, the Prophet ﷺ rubbed his one hand on the other (which is correct). The second narrator (Salamah) said that he ﷺ, afterwards, wiped his elbows with the hands. This version is not acceptable since it contradicts the other dependable narrations. Moreover, the Hadith itself is Weak.

Chapter 92. Striking The Ground Twice In Dry Ablution

(المعجم ٩٢) - بَابٌ: فِي التَّيَمُّمِ ضَرْبَتَيْنِ (التحفة ٩٢)

any dust. Then they wiped their faces once, then they struck the dust with their palms once again and wiped their hands. (Sahih)

Comments:

Most of the narrations reported from 'Ammâr bin Yâsir ﷺ speak of striking the dust once. His own Fatwa (formal legal opinion), as pointed out by Imâm Tirmidhi, speaks of doing the dry ablution by a single strike of the hands. Imâm Shawkâni says: "All reports speaking of double strike of the hands on the dust are open to question. Had the reports been sound they would have been implemented, especially because they contain one additional element which would have to be accepted." The right thing to do is, thus, to accept the Hadith contained in the two most authentic books (Sahih Bukhâri & Sahih Muslim) which is about making a single srike of the hands on the dust, unless the report telling about double strike of the hands were proven to be authentic. (Nainul-Awtâr 264/1)

Chapter 93. An Injured Man Who Becomes Sexually Impure And Fears For His Life If He Takes A Bath

قَالَ عَطَاءٌ: وَبَلَغَنَا أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ

572. It was narrated that 'Atâ' bin Abu Rabâh said: "I heard Ibn 'Abbâs saying that a man was injured in the head at the time of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ, then he had a wet dream. He was told to have a bath, so he took the bath, became rigid and stiff, and died. News of that reached the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ and he said: 'They have killed him, may Allâh kill them! Is not the cure for a lack of knowledge to ask questions?' "

'Atâ' said: "We heard that the

Comments:

a. If the water is too cold and there is no way to heat it, and if taking a cold bath is fraught with risk of death or sickness, it is perfectly in order to do dry ablution of prayer. At the expiry of the risk the person concerned shall have to take a bath.

b. The injury factor mentioned in the report leads one to presume that this was also a contributing factor to his ailment. Thus, although the immediate cause of death was extreme cold, it is also true that the cold water poured on the wound also aggravated the sickness that eventually resulted in his death.

c. Issuance of Fatwa demands extreme caution. While issuing a ruling, it is one of the imperatives to give due consideration to the situation of the questioner.

d. If the question asked has no easy answer, it is best to avoid giving the answer, and advise the questioner to refer the matter to a higher authority on Islamic jurisprudence.

e. If the mistake is grave, it is permissible to use harsh words of reprimand provided that there is no fear of a negative reaction to it. It may be noted that anything that invalidates ablution also invalidates dry ablution. Dry ablution shall also be nullified as soon as a person regains the ability to use water or, alternately, the water that was non-existant, or out of reach, becomes available to the user. And Allâh knows best.

Comments:

a. Before putting the hands into the water, the hands must be washed.
b. Rubbing the hands on the ground after cleaning one's private parts ensures better purification. Using soap for the purpose is also in order.
c. Feet should not be washed while performing ablution during the bath. They should be washed after the bath is completed.

574. Jumai' bin 'Umair At-Taimi said: "I went out with my paternal aunt and maternal aunt and we entered upon 'Âishah. We asked her: 'What did the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ do when he had the bath to cleanse himself from sexual impurity?' She said: 'He used to pour water on his hands three times, then he would put them in the vessel and wash his face three times, then he would pour water over his body, then he would get up and perform prayer. As for us, we would wash our heads five times because of our braided hair.'" (Da'if)

575. It was narrated that Jubair bin Mut'im said: "(The Companions) disputed in the presence of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ about having a bath to cleanse oneself from sexual impurity. The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'As for me, I pour three handfuls of water on my head.'" (Sahih)

Comments:

a. 'Disputed' here means started talking about the subject and everybody narrated how he had a bath after sexual impurity.

b. The Hadith discusses only one of the issues connected with the bath after being sexually impure. Maybe, the Prophet ﷺ had discussed the entire procedure, but the narrator chose to mention only the most important one. It is also possible that the Prophet ﷺ did not mention other points because the Companions had rightly stated them, and he just mentioned what was missing in their narrations. And Allâh knows best.

576. It was narrated from Abu Sa'eed that a man asked him about having a bath to cleanse oneself from sexual impurity. He said to pour water three times. The man said: "But I have a lot of hair." He said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ had more hair than you and he was cleaner." (Da'if)

Comments:

'Atyab' could also mean that the Prophet ﷺ was cleaner and more particular about cleanliness than you (the questioner). Still three handfuls of water was enough for him. Therefore, it should be enough for you as well.

577. It was narrated that Jâbir said: "I said: 'O Messenger of Allâh! I live in a cold land, so how should I have a bath to cleanse myself from sexual impurity?' He said: 'As for me, I pour three handfuls of water over my head.'" (Sahih) تخريج: [إسناده ضعيف] أخرجه الترمذي، الطهارة، باب ماجاء في الرجل يستدفيء بالمرأة بعد الغسل، ح:١٢٣ من حديث وكيع عن حريث بن أبي مطر به * وحريث ضعيف كما في التقريب وغيره، ومع ذلك قال الترمذي: ليس بإسناده بأس .

Comments:

It has already been stated (Ahâdith 534 & 535) that the body of a sexually impure person is not impure. Unlike the palpable and observable uncleanness caused by urine, impurity caused by sexual activity is an impalpable and unobservable matter. As such there is no harm if a person who has taken a bath shares the bed with his sexually impure wife. Nevertheless, the narration is Weak. As such we should avoid quoting it as a Hadith of the Prophet ﷺ.

Chapter 98. The Sexually Impure Person Sleeping As He Is Without Touching Water

(المعجم ٩٨) - بَابٌ: فِي الْجُنُبِ يَنَامُ كَهَيْئَتِهِ لَا يَمَسُّ مَاءً (التحفة ٩٨)

581. It was narrated that 'Âishah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ would become sexually impure and then sleep without touching water until he got up later on and taken a bath." (Da'if)

تخريج: [إسناده ضعيف] أخرجه الترمذي، الطهارة، باب ماجاء في الجنب ينام قبل أن يغتسل، ح:١١٨ من حديث أبي بكر بن عياش به، وصححه البيهقي، وابن حزم * أبوإسحاق عنعن وصرح بالسماع عند البيهقي(١/ ٢٠١، ٢٠٢) ولكن السند إليه ضعيف.

Comments:

a. Sleeping 'without touching water' means that he went to sleep without performing either ablution or having a bath. It does not mean that he did not even cleanse the impurity from his body.
b. The better course would be to sleep after performing ablution as we will see in the next chapter.

582. It was narrated that 'Âishah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ, if he needed any of his wives, would satisfy his need, then he would sleep as he was, without touching water." (Da'if)

٥٨٢ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو الأَحْوَصِ، عَنْ أَبِي إِسْحَاقَ، عَنِ الأَسْوَدِ، عَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ: إِنَّ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ، إِنْ كَانَتْ لَهُ إِلَى أَهْلِهِ حَاجَةٌ قَضَاهَا. ثُمَّ يَنَامُ كَهَيْئَتِهِ لاَ يَمَسُّ مَاءً.

تخريج: [ضعيف] انظر الحديث السابق.

583. It was narrated from 'Âishah that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ would become sexually impure then sleep as he was, without touching water. (Da'if)

٥٨٣ - حَدَّثَنَا عَلِيُّ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا وَكِيعٌ: حَدَّثَنَا سُفْيَانُ، عَنْ أَبِي إِسْحَاقَ، عَنِ الأَسْوَدِ، عَنْ عَائِشَةَ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ كَانَ يُجْنِبُ ثُمَّ يَنَامُ كَهَيْئَتِهِ لاَ يَمَسُّ مَاءً.

Sufyân said: "I mentioned this Hadith one day, and Ismâ'il said to me: 'O young man, you should support this Hadith with something else.'"

قَالَ سُفْيَانُ: فَذَكَرْتُ الْحَدِيثَ يَوْماً، فَقَالَ لِي إِسْمَاعِيلُ: يَا فَتَى! يُشَدُّ هٰذَا الْحَدِيثُ

بِشَيْءٍ.

تخريج: [ضعيف] انظر، ح:٥٨١ والذي بعده.

Comments:

Ismâ'il means to say that this is only reported on the authority of Abu Ishâq who reports it 'from Aswad, from 'Âishah ﵂'. As such, in order to support Abu Ishâq's version, there must be another chain of narration as well. However, on the basis of other chains of narration the Hadith can be dubbed as Sahih (Sound) or Hasan (Good). For detailed discussion see Egyptian scholar Ahmad Shâkir's commentary on Tirmidhi, 202/1.

Chapter 99. Concerning Those Who Say That The Sexually Impure Person Should Not Sleep Until He Performs Ablution As For Prayer

(المعجم ٩٩) - بَابُ مَنْ قَالَ لَا يَنَامُ الْجُنُبَ حَتَّى يَتَوَضَّأَ وُضُوءَهُ لِلصَّلَاةِ (التحفة ٩٩)

584. It was narrated that 'Âishah said: "When the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ wanted to sleep and he was sexually impure, he would perform ablution as for prayer." (Sahih)

٥٨٤ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ رُمْحٍ الْمِصْرِيُّ: أَنْبَأَنَا اللَّيْثُ بْنُ سَعْدٍ، عَنِ الزُّهْرِيِّ، عَنْ أَبِي سَلَمَةَ، عَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ: كَانَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ إِذَا أَرَادَ أَنْ يَنَامَ، وَهُوَ جُنُبٌ، تَوَضَّأَ وُضُوءَهُ لِلصَّلَاةِ.

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، الحيض، باب جواز نوم الجنب واستحباب الوضوء له ... الخ، ح:٣٠٥ عن محمد بن رمح وغيره به.

Comments:

This Hadith has a greater degree of soundness than the ones quoted in the previous chapter. Nevertheless, the earlier Ahâdith are also without any blemish. Reconciliation between both versions could be achieved by interpreting the action of performing the ablution as Desirable (Mustahab) and that of sleeping without performing the ablution as simply Permissible (Mubâh).

585. It was narrated from Ibn 'Umar that 'Umar bin Khattâb said to the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ: "Can anyone of us sleep if he is sexually impure?" He said: "Yes, if he performs ablution." (Sahih)

٥٨٥ - حَدَّثَنَا نَصْرُ بْنُ عَلِيٍّ الْجَهْضَمِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الْأَعْلَى: حَدَّثَنَا عُبَيْدُ اللهِ بْنُ عُمَرَ، عَنْ نَافِعٍ، عَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ أَنَّ عُمَرَ بْنَ الْخَطَّابِ قَالَ لِرَسُولِ اللهِ ﷺ: أَيَرْقُدُ أَحَدُنَا وَهُوَ جُنُبٌ؟ قَالَ، «نَعَمْ. إِذَا تَوَضَّأَ».

586. It was narrated from Abu Sa'eed Khudri that he used to become sexually impure at night, then he would want to sleep. The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ told him to perform ablution and then go to sleep. (Sahih)

٥٨٦ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو مَرْوَانَ الْعُثْمَانِيُّ، مُحَمَّدُ ابْنُ عُثْمَانَ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الْعَزِيزِ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ، عَنْ يَزِيدَ بْنِ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ الْهَادِ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ ابْنِ خَبَّابٍ، عَنْ أَبِي سَعِيدٍ الْخُدْرِيِّ أَنَّهُ كَانَ تُصِيبُهُ الْجَنَابَةُ بِاللَّيْلِ، فَيُرِيدُ أَنْ يَنَامَ، فَأَمَرَهُ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ أَنْ يَتَوَضَّأَ ثُمَّ يَنَامَ.

Chapter 100. When A Person Who Is Sexually Impure Wants To Have Intercourse Again, He Should Perform Ablution

(المعجم ١٠٠) - بَابٌ: فِي الْجُنُبِ إِذَا أَرَادَ الْعَوْدَ تَوَضَّأَ (التحفة ١٠٠)

587. It was narrated that Abu Sa'eed said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'If anyone of you has intercourse with his wife, then he wants to do it again, let him perform ablution.'" (Sahih)

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، الحيض، باب جواز نوم الجنب واستحباب الوضوء له . . . الخ، ح:٣٠٨ من حديث عاصم به.

Comments:

This ablution is not obligatory but Desirable (Mustahab), since the Prophet ﷺ has himself said that the benefit accruing from the act is that it provides further stimulus or energy. (Sahih Ibn Khuzaimah: 221)

Chapter 101. One Who Has One Bath After Being Intimate With All His Wives

(المعجم ١٠١) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِيمَنْ يَغْتَسِلُ مِنْ جَمِيعِ نِسَائِهِ غُسْلًا وَاحِدًا (التحفة ١٠١)

588. It was narrated from Anas that Prophet ﷺ used to go round to all his wives with one bath. (Sahih)

سُفْيَانَ، عَنْ مَعْمَرٍ، عَنْ قَتَادَةَ، عَنْ أَنَسٍ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ كَانَ يَطُوفُ عَلَى نِسَائِهِ فِي غُسْلٍ وَاحِدٍ.

Comments:

If a person has sex with more wives than one in the same night, it is not necessary to have a bath after each act. One bath at the end will be enough.

589. It was narrated that Anas said: "I put out water for the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ for a bath, and he hade a bath after going to all of his wives in one night." (Da'if)

٥٨٩ - حَدَّثَنَا عَلِيُّ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا وَكِيعٌ، عَنْ صَالِحِ بْنِ أَبِي الأَخْضَرِ، عَنِ الزُّهْرِيِّ، عَنْ أَنَسٍ قَالَ: وَضَعْتُ لِرَسُولِ اللهِ ﷺ غُسْلاً، فَاغْتَسَلَ مِنْ جَمِيعِ نِسَائِهِ فِي لَيْلَةٍ.

Chapter 102. Concerning One Who Has A Bath After Intimacy With Each Of His Wives

(المعجم ١٠٢) - بَابٌ: فِيمَنْ يَغْتَسِلُ عِنْدَ كُلِّ وَاحِدَةٍ غُسْلًا (التحفة ١٠٢)

590. It was narrated from Abu Râfi' that the Prophet ﷺ went around to all of his wives in one night, and he had a bath after each one of them. It was said to him: "O Messenger of Allâh, why not make it one bath?" He said: "This is purer, better and cleaner." (Hasan)

Comments:

The Hadith proves that the Prophet ﷺ was extremely particular about cleanliness and purity. This also explains why he so much loved perfume and why he had profound abhorrence for things of foul odour or smell.

Chapter 103. Concerning Eating And Drinking Of One Who Is Sexually Impure

(المعجم ١٠٣) - بَابٌ: فِي الْجُنُبِ يَأْكُلُ وَيَشْرَبُ (التحفة ١٠٣)

591. It was narrated that 'Âishah said: "If the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ wanted to eat when he was sexually impure, he would perform ablution." (Sahih)

٥٩١ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا ابْنُ عُلَيَّةَ، وَغُنْدَرٌ، وَوَكِيعٌ، عَنْ شُعْبَةَ، عَنِ الْحَكَمِ، عَنْ إِبْرَاهِيمَ، عَنِ الأَسْوَدِ، عَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ: كَانَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ إِذَا أَرَادَ أَنْ يَأْكُلَ، وَهُوَ جُنُبٌ، تَوَضَّأَ.

Comments:

The term ablution as used here, may either mean the formal ablution performed for the prayer (as shall be mentioned under Hadith 592) or just washing the hands and mouth, which is the lexical meaning of the term.

592. It was narrated that Jâbir bin 'Abdullâh said: "The Prophet ﷺ was asked about whether a person who is sexually impure can sleep, or eat, or drink. He said: 'Yes, if he does ablution as for the prayer.'" (Da'if)

٥٩٢ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عُمَرَ بْنِ هَيَّاجٍ: حَدَّثَنَا إِسْمَاعِيلُ بْنُ صَبِيحٍ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو أُوَيْسٍ، عَنْ شُرَحْبِيلَ بْنِ سَعْدٍ، عَنْ جَابِرِ بْنِ عَبْدِ اللهِ قَالَ: سُئِلَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ عَنِ الْجُنُبِ، هَلْ يَنَامُ أَوْ يَأْكُلُ أَوْ يَشْرَبُ؟ قَالَ: «نَعَمْ، إِذَا تَوَضَّأَ وُضُوءَهُ لِلصَّلَاةِ».

Chapter 104. Concerning One Who Says That Washing The Hands Is Sufficient

(المعجم ١٠٤) - بَابُ مَنْ قَالَ يُجْزِئُهُ غَسْلُ يَدَيْهِ (التحفة ١٠٤)

593. It was narrated from 'Âishah that if the Prophet ﷺ wanted to eat when he was sexually impure, he would wash his hands. (Sahih)

٥٩٣ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللهِ بْنُ الْمُبَارَكِ، عَنْ يُونُسَ، عَنِ الزُّهْرِيِّ، عَنْ أَبِي سَلَمَةَ، عَنْ عَائِشَةَ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ كَانَ إِذَا أَرَادَ أَنْ يَأْكُلَ، وَهُوَ

جُنُبٌ، غَسَلَ يَدَيْهِ.

تخريج: [صحيح] تقدم، ح: ٥٨٤، وله شواهد عند مسلم.

Comments:

It is desirable to wash hands before eating the meals even though one is not sexually impure. But washing the hands is a must, and performing ablution a desirable act for a sexually impure person.

Chapter 105. What Was Narrated Concerning Reciting Qur'ân When One Is Not In A State Of Purity

(المعجم ١٠٥) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي قِرَاءَةِ الْقُرْآنِ عَلَى غَيْرِ طَهَارَةٍ (التحفة ١٠٥)

594. It was narrated that 'Abdullâh bin Salamah said: "I entered upon 'Ali bin Abu Tâlib and he said: 'The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ used to go to the lavatory and relieve himself, then come out, and he would eat bread and meat with us and recite Qur'ân, nothing stopped him' or perhaps he said: 'prevented him from doing so except sexual impurity.'" (Hasan)

Comments:

a. On the basis of proofs, it can be asserted that it is better to abstain from reciting the Qur'ân when one is in a state of impurity, although there is no question about its permissibility.

b. In our present times the problem frequently raises its head, especially in girls' schools, where the situation is this; at times it is the lady teacher, and at other times it is the girls that are faced with this problem. Considering all aspects of the matter it seems expedient to say that reciting the Qur'ân in a state of impurity is undesirable although permissible in pressing circumstances. And Allâh knows best.

Comments:

a. Taking a bath to remove sexual impurity has been likened to 'fulfilling a trust'. Which means that just as fulfilling a trust is mandatory for the person concerned, taking a bath to remove sexual impurity is also an obligatory duty which must be accomplished, since this impurity cannot be removed without taking a bath.

b. Sins promised to be expiated through a bath are those that belong to the category of minor sins. As for the major sins, they are not expiated through man's actions or deeds, but only through sincere repentance or a special grace from Alláh.

599. It was narrated from 'Ali bin Abu Tâlib that the Prophet ﷺ said: "Whoever leaves an area the size of a hair on his body and does not cleanse it from sexual impurity, such and such will be done to him in the Fire." 'Ali said: "Because of that I am hostile towards my hair," and he used to shave his head. (Hasan) ٥٩٩ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا الأَسْوَدُ بْنُ عَامِرٍ: حَدَّثَنَا حَمَّادُ بْنُ سَلَمَةَ، عَنْ عَطَاءِ بْنِ السَّائِبِ، عَنْ زَاذَانَ، عَنْ عَلِيِّ ابْنِ أَبِي طَالِبٍ، عَنِ النَّبِيِّ ﷺ قَالَ: «مَنْ تَرَكَ [مَوْضِعَ] شَعَرَةٍ مِنْ جَسَدِهِ، مِنْ جَنَابَةٍ، لَمْ يَغْسِلْهَا، فُعِلَ بِهِ كَذَا وَكَذَا، مِنَ النَّارِ». قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: فَمِنْ ثَمَّ عَادَيْتُ شَعَرِي، وَكَانَ يَجُزُّهُ.

Comments:

Keeping hair on the head is doubtless a desirable act, provided that the hair is full-grown and straight — as proved from the Sunnah of the Prophet ﷺ — and not of the European style. Nevertheless, shaving it off is also perfectly in order.

Chapter 107. A Woman Who Sees In Her Dream Something Like Men See

(المعجم ١٠٧) - بَابٌ: فِي الْمَرْأَةِ تَرَى فِي مَنَامِهَا مَا يَرَى الرَّجُلُ (التحفة ١٠٧)

600. It was narrated from Zainab, the daughter of Umm Salamah, that her mother Umm Salamah said: "Umm Sulaim came to the Prophet ﷺ and asked him about a woman who sees in her dream something like a man sees. He said: 'Yes, if she sees water (discharge), let her take a bath.' I said: 'You have embarrassed the women. Do women experience wet dreams?' The Prophet ﷺ said: 'May your hands be rubbed with dust, how else does her child resemble her?'" (Sahih)

٦٠٠ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ، وَعَلِيُّ ابْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ، قَالاَ: حَدَّثَنَا وَكِيعٌ، عَنْ هِشَامِ ابْنِ عُرْوَةَ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ زَيْنَبَ بِنْتِ أُمِّ سَلَمَةَ، عَنْ أُمِّهَا أُمِّ سَلَمَةَ قَالَتْ: جَاءَتْ أُمُّ سُلَيْمٍ إِلَى النَّبِيِّ ﷺ فَسَأَلَتْهُ عَنِ الْمَرْأَةِ تَرَى فِي مَنَامِهَا مَا يَرَى الرَّجُلُ؟ قَالَ: «نَعَمْ، إِذَا رَأَتِ الْمَاءَ فَلْتَغْتَسِلْ» فَقُلْتُ: فَضَحْتِ النِّسَاءَ، وَهَلْ تَحْتَلِمُ الْمَرْأَةُ؟ قَالَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ: «تَرِبَتْ يَمِينُكِ، فَبِمَ يُشْبِهُهَا وَلَدُهَا إِذًا؟».

Comments:

a. The Mother of the Believers expressed her surprise because she had never experienced anything like it. The reason being that an occurrence like this is a rarity among women, while it is a normal occurance among men.

b. Merely having a vision of something like intercourse in dreams, does not necessitate a bath; only a wet dream, i.e., the discharge of the male or female water makes it compulsory. Therefore, if traces of semen become visible on the body or clothes, a bath becomes mandatory regardless of whether, on awakening, the person concerned remembers or does not remember the dream experienced by him.

c. The Prophet ﷺ means to say that since the woman has the fluid inside her that procreates the child, it could as well be emitted in her dream, and there is no reason to feel surprised about it.

601. It was narrated from Anas that Umm Sulaim asked the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ about a woman who sees in her dream something like that which a man

٦٠١ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ الْمُثَنَّى: حَدَّثَنَا ابْنُ أَبِي عَدِيٍّ، وَعَبْدُ الأَعْلَى، عَنْ سَعِيدِ بْنِ أَبِي عَرُوبَةَ، عَنْ قَتَادَةَ، عَنْ أَنَسٍ أَنَّ أُمَّ سُلَيْمٍ

He said: "Yes, the water of a man is thick and white and the water of a woman is thin and yellow. Whichever of them comes first or predominates, the child will resemble (that parent)." (Sahih)

سَأَلَتْ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ عَنِ الْمَرْأَةِ تَرَى فِي مَنَامِهَا مَا يَرَى الرَّجُلُ؟ فَقَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «إِذَا رَأَتْ ذٰلِكَ، فَأَنْزَلَتْ، فَعَلَيْهَا الْغُسْلُ» فَقَالَتْ أُمُّ سَلَمَةَ: يَا رَسُولَ اللهِ أَيَكُونُ هٰذَا؟ قَالَ: «نَعَمْ، مَاءُ الرَّجُلِ غَلِيظٌ أَبْيَضُ، وَمَاءُ الْمَرْأَةِ رَقِيقٌ أَصْفَرُ، فَأَيُّهُمَا سَبَقَ أَوْ عَلاَ، أَشْبَهَهُ الْوَلَدُ».

602. It was narrated from Khawlah bint Hakim that she asked the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ about a woman who sees in her dream that which a man sees. He said: "She does not have to take a bath unless she has an orgasm, just as man does not have to take a bath unless he has an orgasm." (Da'if)

Chapter 108. Concerning Women Taking A Bath To Cleanse Themselves From Sexual Impurity

(المعجم ١٠٨) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي غُسْلِ النِّسَاءِ مِنَ الْجَنَابَةِ (التحفة ١٠٨)

603. It was narrated that Umm Salamah said: "I said, O Messenger of Allâh! I am a woman with tight braids. Should I undo them when I take a bath to cleanse myself from the state of sexual impurity?" He said: "Rather it is sufficient for you to pour three handfuls of water over them, then pour water over yourself, and you will be purified," or he said: "In that case you would have become purified." (Sahih) تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، الحيض، باب حكم ضفائر المغتسلة، ح:٣٣٠ عن ابن أبي شيبة وغيره.

ابْنِ رَافِعٍ، عَنْ أُمِّ سَلَمَةَ قَالَتْ: قُلْتُ يَا رَسُولَ اللهِ! إِنِّي امْرَأَةٌ أَشُدُّ ضَفْرَ رَأْسِي، أَفَأَنْقُضُهُ لِغُسْلِ الْجَنَابَةِ؟ فَقَالَ: «إِنَّمَا يَكْفِيكِ أَنْ تَحْثِي عَلَيْهِ ثَلَاثَ حَثَيَاتٍ مِنْ مَاءٍ، ثُمَّ تُفِيضِي عَلَيْكِ مِنَ الْمَاءِ فَتَطْهُرِينَ». أَوْ قَالَ: «فَإِذَا أَنْتِ قَدْ طَهُرْتِ».

Comments:

Much like men, women are also required to wet the skins of their head along with their bodies while taking a bath from sexual impurity. However, she can have the ritual shower without undoing the braids of her hair if they are bound tightly. In case the hair is loose or loosely tied, she must wash them well.

٦٠٤ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا إِسْمَاعِيلُ ابْنُ عُلَيَّةَ، عَنْ أَيُّوبَ، عَنْ أَبِي الزُّبَيْرِ، عَنْ عُبَيْدِ بْنِ عُمَيْرٍ قَالَ: بَلَغَ عَائِشَةَ أَنَّ عَبْدَ اللهِ بْنَ عَمْرٍو يَأْمُرُ نِسَاءَهُ، [إِذَا اغْتَسَلْنَ،] أَنْ يَنْقُضْنَ رُؤُوسَهُنَّ، فَقَالَتْ: يَا عَجَباً لِابْنِ عَمْرٍو هٰذَا، أَفَلَا يَأْمُرُهُنَّ أَنْ يَحْلِقْنَ رُؤُوسَهُنَّ، لَقَدْ كُنْتُ أَنَا وَرَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ نَغْتَسِلُ مِنْ إِنَاءٍ وَاحِدٍ، فَلَا أَزِيدُ عَلَى أَنْ أُفْرِغَ عَلَى رَأْسِي ثَلَاثَ إِفْرَاغَاتٍ.

604. It was narrated that 'Ubaid bin 'Umair said: "Âishah heard that 'Abdullâh bin 'Amr was telling his wives to undo their braids (when they bathed). She said: 'How odd that Ibn 'Amr would do that! Why does he not tell them to shave their heads? The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ and I used to bathe from a single vessel, and I never did more than pour three handfuls of water over my head.'" (Sahih)

(المعجم ١٠٩) - بَابُ الْجُنُبِ يَنْغَمِسُ فِي الْمَاءِ الدَّائِمِ أَيُجْزِئُهُ (التحفة ١٠٩)

Chapter 109. Is It Sufficient For One Who Is Sexually Impure To Immerse Himself In Standing Water?

٦٠٥ - حَدَّثَنَا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ عِيسَى، وَ حَرْمَلَةُ ابْنُ يَحْيَى الْمِصْرِيَّانِ، قَالَا: حَدَّثَنَا ابْنُ

605. It was narrated from Bukair bin 'Abdullâh bin Ashajj that Abu Sâ'ib, the freed slave of Hishâm bin Zuhrah, told him that he heard Abu Hurairah say: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'No one of you should bathe in standing water when he is sexually impure.'" He (Abu Sâ'ib) said: "What should he do, O Abu Hurairah?" He said: "Let him take some out (and pour it over himself)." (Sahih) تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، الطهارة، باب النهي عن الاغتسال في الماء الراكد، ح:٢٨٣ عن أحمد بن عيسى وغيره به.

Comments:

The rationale behind forbidding one to immerse themself in standing water for purposes of a bath is that, if person after person starts doing it, the water shall soon become unusable. Taking the water out of it for the purpose, on the other hand, will ensure that the water remains clean and useful for all.

Chapter 110. Water Is For Water

(المعجم ١١٠) - بَابُ الْمَاءِ مِنَ الْمَاءِ

(التحفة ١١٠)

٦٠٦ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ، و مُحَمَّدُ ابْنُ بَشَّارٍ، قَالاَ: حَدَّثَنَا غُنْدَرٌ، مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ جَعْفَرٍ، عَنْ شُعْبَةَ، عَنِ الْحَكَمِ، عَنْ ذَكْوَانَ، عَنْ أَبِي سَعِيدٍ الْخُدْرِيِّ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ مَرَّ عَلَى رَجُلٍ مِنَ الأَنْصَارِ، فَأَرْسَلَ إِلَيْهِ، فَخَرَجَ وَرَأْسُهُ يَقْطُرُ، فَقَالَ: «لَعَلَّنَا أَعْجَلْنَاكَ؟» قَالَ: نَعَمْ. يَا رَسُولَ اللهِ! قَالَ: «إِذَا أُعْجِلْتَ أَوْ أُقْحِطْتَ، فَلاَ غُسْلَ عَلَيْكَ، وَعَلَيْكَ الْوُضُوءُ».

606. It was narrated from Abu Sa'eed Al-Khudri that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ passed by (the house of) one of the Ansâr and sent word for him to come out. He came out with his head dripping and (the Prophet ﷺ) said: "Perhaps we made you hurry?" He said: "Yes, O Messenger of Allâh." He said, "If you are hurried (by someone) or obstructed (from orgasm) and do not ejaculate, then you do not have to take a bath, but you should perform ablution." (Sahih) تخريج: أخرجه البخاري، الوضوء، باب من لم ير الوضوء إلا من المخرجين من القبل والدبر، ح:١٨٠، ومسلم، الحيض، باب بيان أن الجماع كان في أول الإسلام ... الخ، ح:٣٤٥ من حديث شعبة به.

607. It was narrated that Abu Ayyub said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Water (of bath) is for water (of seminal discharge).'" (Sahih)

٦٠٧ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ الصَّبَّاحِ: حَدَّثَنَا سُفْيَانُ بْنُ عُيَيْنَةَ، عَنْ عَمْرِو بْنِ دِينَارٍ، عَنِ ابْنِ السَّائِبِ، عَنْ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمٰنِ بْنِ سُعَادٍ، عَنْ أَبِي أَيُّوبَ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «الْمَاءُ مِنَ الْمَاءِ».

تخريج: [صحيح] أخرجه النسائي: ١/ ١١٥، الطهارة، باب الذي يحتلم ولا يرى الماء، ح: ١٩٩ من حديث سفيان به، وله شواهد عند مسلم، ح: ٣٤٣ وغيره.

Comments:

The Ahâdîth imply that no bath is obligatory for a man who was in the process of intercourse with his wife but had to leave it midway before ejaculation for some reason. However, the concession belongs to the early days of Islam which was later abolished. Now the ruling is that, ejaculation or no ejaculation, bath becomes obligatory by the mere consummation of the intercourse.

Chapter 111. What Was Narrated About The Obligation Of Bath When The Two Circumcised Parts Meet

(المعجم ١١١) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي وُجُوبِ الْغُسْلِ إِذَا الْتَقَى الْخِتَانَانِ

(التحفة ١١١)

608. It was narrated that 'Âishah the wife of the Prophet ﷺ said: "When the two circumcised parts meet, then bath is obligatory. The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ and I did that, and we bathed." (Sahih)

تخريج: [إسناده صحيح] أخرجه الترمذي، الطهارة، باب ماجاء: إذا التقى الختانان وجب الغسل، ح: ١٠٨، وقال: حسن صحيح، وصححه ابن حبان، وابن القطان.

Comments:

The expression 'When the two circumcised parts meet' means the happening of intercourse. In other words, it means that, ejaculation or no ejaculation, bath becomes an obligation the moment the pair is engaged in the sexual act.

609. Ubayy bin Ka'b said: "That was a concession that was granted in the early days of Islam, then we were commanded to have a bathe after that."[1] (Sahih)

٦٠٩ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ بَشَّارٍ: حَدَّثَنَا عُثْمَانُ ابْنُ عُمَرَ: أَنْبَأَنَا يُونُسُ، عَنِ الزُّهْرِيِّ قَالَ: قَالَ سَهْلُ بْنُ سَعْدٍ السَّاعِدِيُّ: أَنْبَأَنَا أُبَيُّ ابْنُ كَعْبٍ، قَالَ: إِنَّمَا كَانَتْ رُخْصَةً فِي أَوَّلِ الْإِسْلَامِ، ثُمَّ أُمِرْنَا بِالْغُسْلِ، بَعْدُ.

تخريج: [صحيح] أخرجه الترمذي، الطهارة، باب ماجاء: أن الماء من الماء، ح:١١٠ من حديث يونس بن يزيد به، وقال: حسن صحيح * الزهري تابعه أبوحازم عند أبي داود، ح:٢١٥ وغيره، وصححه ابن خزيمة، وابن حبان، والدارقطني، والبيهقي.

610. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "When a man sits between the four parts (arms and legs of his wife) and has intercourse with her, then bath is obligatory." (Sahih)

تخريج: أخرجه البخاري، الغسل، باب إذا التقى الختانان، ح:٢٩١، ومسلم، الحيض، باب نسخ: الماء من الماء ووجوب الغسل بالتقاء الختانين، ح:٣٤٨ من حديث هشام به، وللحديث شواهد كثيرة.

Comments:

The expression 'sits between the four parts (of the wife)' means approaching the woman for the sexual act. The Arabic expression Jahadaha in the context means going into the woman, which necessitates the bath whether or not ejaculation takes place.

611. It was narrated from 'Amr bin Shu'aib, from his father, that his grandfather said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'When the two circumcised parts meet, and (the tip of the penis) disappears, then bath is obligatory.'" (Da'if)

٦١١ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو مُعَاوِيَةَ، عَنْ حَجَّاجٍ، عَنْ عَمْرِو بْنِ شُعَيْبٍ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ جَدِّهِ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «إِذَا الْتَقَى الْخِتَانَانِ، وَتَوَارَتِ [الْحَشَفَةُ]، فَقَدْ وَجَبَ الْغُسْلُ».

تخريج: [إسناده ضعيف] قال البوصيري: هذا إسناد ضعيف لضعف حجاج وهو ابن أرطاة،

[1] He was referring to: 'Water is for water' as is clear from other versions of it.

وتدليسه، وقد رواه بالعنعنة ، وللحديث شواهد ضعيفة، والحديث السابق(٦٠٨) يغني عنه.

Comments:

The expression "When the two circumcised parts meet" means the same thing as the disappearance of the tip of the male organ into the female organ.

Chapter 112. One Who Has An Erotic Dream But Does Not Feel Any Wetness

(المعجم ١١٢) - بَابُ مَنِ احْتَلَمَ وَلَمَ يَرَ بَلَلاً (التحفة ١١٢)

612. It was narrated from 'Âishah that the Prophet ﷺ said: "If anyone of you wakes up and sees some wetness, but he does not think that he had an erotic dream, let him have a bath. But if he thinks that he had an erotic dream but he does not see any wetness, then he does not have to take a bath." (Da'if)

تخريج: [إسناده ضعيف] أخرجه أبوداود، الطهارة، باب في الرجل يجد البلة في منامه، ح:٢٣٦، والترمذي، ح:١١٣ من حديث حماد بن خالد به، وقال الترمذي: عبدالله (العمري) ضعفه يحيى بن سعيد القطان من قبل حفظه في الحديث .

Chapter 113. About Concealing Oneself When Taking A Bath

(المعجم ١١٣) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي الاسْتِتَارِ عِنْدَ الْغُسْلِ(التحفة ١١٣)

613. Abu Samh said: "I used to serve the Prophet ﷺ, and when he wanted to take a bath he would say: 'Turn your back to me.' So I would turn my back and hung up a cloth, and concealed him with it." (Sahih) ٦١٣ - حَدَّثَنَا الْعَبَّاسُ بْنُ عَبْدِ الْعَظِيمِ الْعَنْبَرِيُّ، وَأَبُو حَفْصٍ، عَمْرُو بْنُ عَلِيٍّ الْفَلَّاسُ، وَمُجَاهِدُ بْنُ مُوسٰى قَالُوا: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الرَّحْمٰنِ بْنُ مَهْدِيٍّ: حَدَّثَنَا يَحْيَى بْنُ الْوَلِيدِ: أَخْبَرَنِي مُحِلُّ بْنُ خَلِيفَةَ: حَدَّثَنِي أَبُو السَّمْحِ قَالَ: كُنْتُ أَخْدُمُ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ، فَكَانَ إِذَا أَرَادَ أَنْ يَغْتَسِلَ، قَالَ: «وَلِّنِي» فَأُوَلِّيهِ قَفَايَ، وَأَنْشُرُ الثَّوْبَ فَأَسْتُرُهُ بِهِ.

تخريج: [إسناده صحيح] أخرجه أبوداود، الطهارة، باب بول الصبي يصيب الثوب،

ح: ٣٧٦ عن العباس وغيره، وصححه ابن خزيمة، والحاكم، والذهبي.

Comments:

It is not permissible to undress oneself in anybody else's view or presence. One can, however, undress oneself, when necessary, in loneliness or seclusion.

٦١٤ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ رُمْحٍ الْمِصْرِيُّ: أَنْبَأَنَا اللَّيْثُ بْنُ سَعْدٍ، عَنِ ابْنِ شِهَابٍ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ الْحَارِثِ بْنِ نَوْفَلٍ أَنَّهُ قَالَ: سَأَلْتُ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ سَبَّحَ فِي سَفَرٍ، فَلَمْ أَجِدْ أَحَداً يُخْبِرُنِي، حَتَّى أَخْبَرَتْنِي أُمُّ هَانِيءٍ بِنْتُ أَبِي طَالِبٍ: أَنَّهُ قَدِمَ عَامَ الْفَتْحِ، فَأَمَرَ بِسِتْرٍ فَسُتِرَ عَلَيْهِ، فَاغْتَسَلَ، ثُمَّ سَبَّحَ ثَمَانِيَ رَكَعَاتٍ.

614. It was narrated that 'Abdullâh bin 'Hârith bin Nawfal said: "I asked whether the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ prayed voluntary prayer when travelling, but I could not find anyone to tell me until Umm Hâni' bint Abu Tâlib told me that he had come during the year of the Conquest (of Makkah). He ordered that a screen be held up, and that was done, and he took a bath; then he prayed eight Rak'ah (units) of voluntary prayer." (Sahih) تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، صلوة المسافرين، باب استحباب صلوة الضحى ... الخ، ح: ٣٣٦ب، من حديث الزهري به بإختلاف يسير.

Comments:

The Prophet ﷺ stayed in Makkah on the occasion of its conquest in the capacity of a 'person on a journey'. In spite of it, he performed the forenoon (Dhuha) voluntary prayer. He, however, did not perform the Sunnah prayer (regular supererogatory prayer performed before and after the obligatory prayers).

٦١٥ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عُبَيْدِ بْنِ ثَعْلَبَةَ الْحِمَّانِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الْحَمِيدِ أَبُو يَحْيَى الْحِمَّانِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا الْحَسَنُ بْنُ عِمَارَةَ، عَنِ الْمِنْهَالِ بْنِ عَمْرٍو، عَنْ أَبِي عُبَيْدَةَ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ مَسْعُودٍ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «لاَ يَغْتَسِلَنَّ أَحَدُكُمْ بِأَرْضِ فَلاَةٍ، وَلاَ فَوْقَ سَطْحٍ لاَ يُوَارِيهِ، فَإِنْ لَمْ يَكُنْ يَرَى، فَإِنَّهُ يُرَى».

615. It was narrated that 'Abdullâh bin Mas'ud said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'No one of you should bathe in open land or on a roof where he is not concealed; even if he does not see anyone, he can still be seen.'" (Da'if)

Chapter 114. Concerning The Prohibition Of Suppressing Urine Or Feces During Prayer

(المعجم ١١٤) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي النَّهْيِ لِلْحَاقِنِ أَنْ يُصَلِّيَ (التحفة ١١٤)

616. It was narrated that 'Abdullâh bin Arqam said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'If anyone of you needs to defecate and the immediate call to prayer (Iqâmah) is given, let him start with it (relieving himself).'" (Sahih) ٦١٦ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ الصَّبَّاحِ: أَنْبَأَنَا سُفْيَانُ بْنُ عُيَيْنَةَ، عَنْ هِشَامِ بْنِ عُرْوَةَ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ أَرْقَمَ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «إِذَا أَرَادَ أَحَدُكُمُ الْغَائِطَ، وَأُقِيمَتِ الصَّلَاةُ، فَلْيَبْدَأْ بِهِ».

Comments:

The rationale behind the ruling is that if someone starts his prayer by suppressing the urge to relieve himself, he will neither feel at ease nor be able to pay due attention to the prayer which is the most important act of worship.

617. It was narrated from Abu Umâmah that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ forbade a man to perform prayer when he was suppressing (the urge to urinate or defecate). (Sahih)

٦١٧ - حَدَّثَنَا بِشْرُ بْنُ آدَمَ: حَدَّثَنَا زَيْدُ بْنُ الْحُبَابِ: حَدَّثَنَا مُعَاوِيَةُ بْنُ صَالِحٍ، عَنِ السَّفْرِ بْنِ نُسَيْرٍ، عَنْ يَزِيدَ بْنِ شُرَيْحٍ، عَنْ أَبِي أُمَامَةَ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ نَهَى أَنْ يُصَلِّيَ الرَّجُلُ وَهُوَ حَاقِنٌ.

618. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said, 'No one of you should stand to pray when he feels some discomfort (because of needing to urinate or defecate).'" (Sahih)

٦١٨ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو أُسَامَةَ، عَنْ إِدْرِيسَ الْأَوْدِيِّ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «لَا يَقُومُ أَحَدُكُمْ إِلَى الصَّلَاةِ وَبِهِ أَذًى».

تخريج: [صحيح] أخرجه ابن أبي شيبة:٢/٤٢٢ به، وقال البوصيري: رجاله ثقات ، وله شواهد.

619. It was narrated from Thawbân that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "No one among the Muslims should stand to pray when he is suppressing (the need to urinate or defecate), until he has relieved himself." (Hasan) ٦١٩ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ الْمُصَفَّى الْحِمْصِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا بَقِيَّةُ، عَنْ حَبِيبِ بْنِ صَالِحٍ، [عَنْ يَزِيدَ ابْنِ شُرَيْحٍ] عَنْ أَبِي حَيٍّ الْمُؤَذِّنِ، عَنْ ثَوْبَانَ، عَنْ رَسُولِ اللهِ ﷺ أَنَّهُ قَالَ: «لاَ يَقُومُ أَحَدٌ مِنَ الْمُسْلِمِينَ وَهُوَ حَاقِنٌ حَتَّى يَتَخَفَّفَ».

Chapter 115. What Was Narrated Concerning The Bleeding Woman Who Has Counted The Days Of Her Period Before Her Flow Of Blood Became Continuous

(المعجم ١١٥) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي الْمُسْتَحَاضَةِ الَّتِي قَدْ عَدَّتْ أَيَّامَ أَقْرَائِهَا قَبْلَ أَنْ يَسْتَمِرَّ بِهَا الدَّمُ (التحفة ١١٥)

620. It was narrated from 'Urwah bin Zubair that Fâtimah bint Abi Hubaish narrated to him that she went to the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ and complained to him about bleeding. The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "Rather that is a vein, so look and see when your period comes, then do not perform the prayer. When the period is over, then purify yourself and perform the prayer between one period to the next." (Da'if)

٦٢٠ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ رُمْحٍ: أَنْبَأَنَا اللَّيْثُ ابْنُ سَعْدٍ، عَنْ يَزِيدَ بْنِ أَبِي حَبِيبٍ، عَنْ بُكَيْرِ ابْنِ عَبْدِ اللهِ، عَنِ الْمُنْذِرِ بْنِ الْمُغِيرَةِ، عَنْ عُرْوَةَ بْنِ الزُّبَيْرِ أَنَّ فَاطِمَةَ بِنْتَ أَبِي حُبَيْشٍ حَدَّثَتْهُ أَنَّهَا أَتَتْ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ فَشَكَتْ إِلَيْهِ الدَّمَ، فَقَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «إِنَّمَا ذٰلِكَ عِرْقٌ، فَانْظُرِي إِذَا أَتَى قَرْؤُكِ فَلاَ تُصَلِّي، فَإِذَا مَرَّ الْقَرْءُ فَتَطَهَّرِي، ثُمَّ صَلِّي مَا بَيْنَ الْقَرْءِ إِلَى الْقَرْءِ».

Comments:

a. 'That is a vein' means it is a ailment, not the regular menstrual blood. As such the rules governing the routine period do not apply to it.

b. A woman suffering from bleeding out of her ordinary periods must also take a bath at the end of the menstruation period, like a normal woman and thereafter start praying like a normal woman. She can also go to the mosque, read the Qur'ân and let the husband have intercourse with her, and do all things that are forbidden during the monthly period for a woman.

621. It was narrated that 'Âishah said: "Fâtimah bint Abi Hubaish came to the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ and said: 'O Messenger of Allâh ﷺ! I am a woman who bleeds continuously and never becomes pure, should I give up the prayer?' He said: 'No, rather that is a vein and it is not menstruation. When the time of your period comes, leave off the prayer, and when it is over, take a bath and wash the blood from yourself and perform the prayer." This is the Hadith of Waki'. (Sahih)

622. It was narrated that Umm Habibah bint Jahsh said: "I used to bleed continuously and heavily. I went to the Prophet ﷺ asking him for advice and telling him (about my situation). I found him with my sister Zainab and said: 'O Messenger of Allâh! I need to ask you something.' He said: 'What is it?' I said: 'I bleed continuously and heavily, and that is keeping me from prayer and fasting. What do you command me to do about it?' He said: 'I advise you to use a piece of cotton, for that will take away the blood.' I said: 'It is more than that.'" And he mentioned something like the Hadith of Sharik (below). (Da'if)

Comments:

'Use a piece of cotton' means: I advise you to put some cotton on the blood spot, and tie it with a piece of cloth so that the blood gets absorbed in the cotton, and does not intermittently spoil your clothes, and you are able to perform prayer etc., with perfect ease.

623. It was narrated that Umm Salamah said: "A woman asked the Prophet ﷺ: 'I bleed continuously and do not become pure. Should I give up the prayer?' He said: 'No, but leave off praying for the number of days and nights that you used to menstruate.''' (One of the narrators) Abu Bakr (Ibn Abu Shaibah) said in his Hadith: "Estimate the number of days in the month, then take a bath and cover your private part with a cloth and perform prayer." (Da'if)

Comments:

Just like the woman's bleeding out of periods, if a person is suffering from some other condition that invalidates his ablution', such as frequent passing of wind, or involuntary dripping of urine, then the person concerned is to be regarded as exempt from normal rules of Shari'ah. In such cases he is not to shun his prayers but to perform fresh ablution for each prayer, and complete the entire cycle of his prayer including his Sunnah (supererogatory) and Nafl (voluntary) prayers.

624. It was narrated that 'Âishah said: "Fâtimah bint Abi Hubaish came to the Prophet ﷺ and said: 'O Messenger of Allâh! I am a woman who bleeds continuously and never becomes pure. Should I give up prayer?' He said: 'No, that is just a vein and is not menstruation. Do not perform prayer during the days of your period, then take a bath, and perform ablution for each prayer, even if drops of blood fall on the mat.'" (Da'if)

Comments:

It is preferable for a woman undergoing the phase of bleeding out of periods, to perform two prayers at a time with one bath. Alternately, it is enough that she just makes the ablution for each prayers.

625. It was narrated from 'Adiyy bin Thâbit, from his father, from his grandfather, that the Prophet ﷺ said: "The woman who experiences irregular non-menstrual bleeding should leave prayer during the days of her period, then she should take a bath, and perform ablution for each prayer, and she should fast and perform the prayer." (Da'if) ٦٢٥ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ، وَإِسْمَاعِيلُ بْنُ مُوسٰى، قَالاَ: حَدَّثَنَا شَرِيكٌ، عَنْ أَبِي الْيَقْظَانِ، عَنْ عَدِيِّ بْنِ ثَابِتٍ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ جَدِّهِ، عَنِ النَّبِيِّ ﷺ قَالَ: «الْمُسْتَحَاضَةُ تَدَعُ الصَّلاَةَ أَيَّامَ أَقْرَائِهَا، ثُمَّ تَغْتَسِلُ وَتَتَوَضَّأُ لِكُلِّ صَلاَةٍ، وَتَصُومُ وَتُصَلِّي».

Chapter 116. Concerning The Woman Who Is Confused About Her Bleeding And Does Not Know The Days Of Her Cycle

(المعجم ١١٦) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي الْمُسْتَحَاضَةِ إِذَا اخْتَلَطَ عَلَيْهَا الدَّمُ فَلَمْ تَقِفْ عَلَى أَيَّامِ حَيْضِهَا (التحفة ١١٦)

626. It was narrated from 'Urwah bin Zubair and 'Amrah bint 'Abdur-Rahmân that 'Âishah the wife of the Prophet ﷺ said: "Umm Habibah bint Jahsh experienced prolonged non-menstrual bleeding for seven years when she was married to 'Abdur-Rahmân bin 'Awf. She complained about that to the Prophet ﷺ and the Prophet ﷺ said: 'That is not menstruation, rather it is a vein, so when the time of your period comes, leave the prayer, and when it is over, take a bath and perform prayer.'" 'Âishah said: "She used to bathe for every prayer and then perform the prayer. She used to sit in a washtub belonging to her sister Zainab bint Jahsh and the blood would turn the water red." (Sahih)

٦٢٦ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ يَحْيَى: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو الْمُغِيرَةِ: حَدَّثَنَا الأَوْزَاعِيُّ، عَنِ الزُّهْرِيِّ، عَنْ عُرْوَةَ بْنِ الزُّبَيْرِ، وَعَمْرَةَ بِنْتِ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمٰنِ، أَنَّ عَائِشَةَ زَوْجَ النَّبِيِّ ﷺ قَالَتْ: اسْتُحِيضَتْ أُمُّ حَبِيبَةَ بِنْتُ جَحْشٍ، وَهِيَ تَحْتَ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمٰنِ بْنِ عَوْفٍ، سَبْعَ سِنِينَ، فَشَكَتْ ذٰلِكَ لِلنَّبِيِّ ﷺ، فَقَالَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ: «إِنَّ هٰذِهِ لَيْسَتْ بِالْحَيْضَةِ، وَإِنَّمَا هُوَ عِرْقٌ، فَإِذَا أَقْبَلَتِ الْحَيْضَةُ فَدَعِي الصَّلَاةَ، وَإِذَا أَدْبَرَتْ فَاغْتَسِلِي وَصَلِّي».

قَالَتْ عَائِشَةُ: فَكَانَتْ تَغْتَسِلُ لِكُلِّ صَلَاةٍ، ثُمَّ تُصَلِّي، وَكَانَتْ تَقْعُدُ فِي مِرْكَنٍ لِأُخْتِهَا زَيْنَبَ بِنْتِ جَحْشٍ، حَتَّى إِنَّ حُمْرَةَ الدَّمِ لَتَعْلُو الْمَاءَ.

Comments:

a. 'When the time of your period comes' means when there come the days of your menstruation before you developed the present condition.
b. Taking a bath separately for each prayer was Umm Habibah bint Jahsh's independent judgment. The Ahâdith of the Prophet ﷺ speak of only one obligatory bath to be done by women at the end of their period of menstruation.

Chapter 117. Concerning A Virgin Who Starts To Experience Prolonged Non-Menstrual Bleeding, Or If She Has A Regular Period But Forgets It

(المعجم ١١٧) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي الْبِكْرِ إِذَا ابْتَدَأَتْ مُسْتَحَاضَةً أَوْ كَانَ لَهَا أَيَّامُ حَيْضٍ فَنَسِيَتْهَا (التحفة ١١٧)

627. It was narrated from Hamnah bint Jahsh that she experienced prolonged non-menstrual bleeding during the time of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ. She came to the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ and said: "I am suffering prolonged and painful bleeding." He said: "Fill it with a pad of cloth." She said: "It is worse than that, it is flowing copiously." He said: "Then bind yourself with a cloth and observe your menses for six or seven days, in the knowledge of Allâh, then have a bath and perform prayer and fast for twenty-three or twenty-four days. Delay Zuhr and bring 'Asr forward, and take (one) bath for both, and delay Maghrib and bring 'Ishâ' forward, and have (one) bath for both. This is what I prefer of the two matters.'" (Da'if)

٦٢٧ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا يَزِيدُ بْنُ هَارُونَ: أَنْبَأَنَا شَرِيكٌ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ عَقِيلٍ، عَنْ إِبْرَاهِيمَ بْنِ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ طَلْحَةَ، عَنْ عَمِّهِ عِمْرَانَ بْنِ طَلْحَةَ، عَنْ أُمِّهِ حَمْنَةَ بِنْتِ جَحْشٍ أَنَّهَا اسْتُحِيضَتْ عَلَى عَهْدِ رَسُولِ اللهِ ﷺ، فَأَتَتْ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ فَقَالَتْ: إِنِّي اسْتُحِضْتُ حَيْضَةً مُنْكَرَةً شَدِيدَةً، قَالَ لَهَا: «احْتَشِي كُرْسُفاً» قَالَتْ لَهُ: إِنَّهُ أَشَدُّ مِنْ ذٰلِكَ، إِنِّي أَثُجُّ ثَجًّا. قَالَ: «تَلَجَّمِي وَتَحَيَّضِي فِي كُلِّ شَهْرٍ فِي عِلْمِ اللهِ سِتَّةَ أَيَّامٍ أَوْ سَبْعَةَ أَيَّامٍ، ثُمَّ اغْتَسِلِي غُسْلاً، فَصَلِّي وَصُومِي ثَلاَثَةً وَعِشْرِينَ، أَوْ أَرْبَعَةً وَعِشْرِينَ، وَأَخِّرِي الظُّهْرَ وَقَدِّمِي الْعَصْرَ، وَاغْتَسِلِي لَهُمَا غُسْلاً، وَأَخِّرِي الْمَغْرِبَ وَعَجِّلِي الْعِشَاءَ، وَاغْتَسِلِي لَهُمَا غُسْلاً، وَهٰذَا أَحَبُّ الأَمْرَيْنِ إِلَيَّ.

Comments:

a. The Arabic expression Fi 'ilm-i-llâh (literally, in Allâh's knowledge) used by the Prophet ﷺ in his reply means: Reckon the days of your impurity according to your best judgment, and put your trust in Allâh who knows perfectly well your limitations in keeping count of your days. He will surely forgive any genuine mistake made by you in reckoning the days of your purity and impurity.

b. The expression "This is what I prefer of the two matters' conveys the idea that three bathes in a day is not a binding necessity. The Prophet ﷺ, however, preferred it because it ensures greater cleanliness and purity.

Chapter 118. What Was Narrated About Menstrual Blood That Gets On Clothing

(المعجم ١١٨) - بَابٌ: فِي مَا جَاءَ فِي دَمِ الْحَيْضِ يُصِيبُ الثَّوبَ (التحفة ١١٨)

628. It was narrated that Umm Qais bint Mihsan said: "I asked the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ about menstrual blood that gets on clothing. He said, 'Wash it with water and lote leaves, and rub it, even with a piece of stick.'" (Sahih)

تخريج: [إسناده صحيح] أخرجه أبوداود، الطهارة، باب المرأة تغسل ثوبها الذي تلبسه في حيضها، ح:٣٦٣ من حديث يحيٰ به، وصححه ابن خزيمة، وابن حبان.

Comments:

a. This shows that menstrual blood is impure and must be washed off.

b. At times, mere washing with plain water does not remove the blood spot. The clothing should, therefore, be rubbed to clean it. Any faint impression still lurking on the garment after one's best effort is condonable. The Arabic word Dila'i (literally a rib) used by the Prophet ﷺ as a rubbing agent here means any thin and semi-long twig or piece of wood.

629. It was narrated that Asmâ' bint Abi Bakr Siddiq said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ was asked about menstrual blood that gets on clothing. He said: 'Rub it off, wash it and perform prayer in (the garment).'" (Sahih) ٦٢٩ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو خَالِدٍ الأَحْمَرُ، عَنْ هِشَامِ بْنِ عُرْوَةَ، عَنْ فَاطِمَةَ بِنْتِ الْمُنْذِرِ، عَنْ أَسْمَاءَ بِنْتِ أَبِي بَكْرٍ الصِّدِّيقِ، قَالَتْ: سُئِلَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ عَنْ دَمِ الْحَيْضِ يَكُونُ فِي الثَّوْبِ. قَالَ: «اقْرُصِيهِ وَاغْسِلِيهِ وَصَلِّي فِيهِ».

630. It was narrated that 'Âishah the wife of the Prophet ﷺ said:

٦٣٠ - حَدَّثَنَا حَرْمَلَةُ بْنُ يَحْيَىٰ: حَدَّثَنَا ابْنُ

"One of us used to menstruate, then rub the blood off her garment when she became pure again, and wash it, and sprinkle water over the rest of the garment, then perform prayer in it." (Sahih)

وَهْبٍ: أَخْبَرَنِي عَمْرُو بْنُ الْحَارِثِ، عَنْ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمٰنِ بْنِ الْقَاسِمِ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ عَائِشَةَ، زَوْجِ النَّبِيِّ ﷺ أَنَّهَا قَالَتْ: إِنْ كَانَتْ إِحْدَانَا لَتَحِيضُ ثُمَّ تَقْرُصُ الدَّمَ مِنْ ثَوْبِهَا عِنْدَ طُهْرِهَا فَتَغْسِلُهُ وَتَنْضِحُ عَلَى سَائِرِهِ، ثُمَّ تُصَلِّي فِيهِ.

تخريج: أخرجه البخاري، الحيض، باب غسل دم المحيض، ح:٣٠٨ من حديث ابن وهب به.

Comments:

The clothing on the woman's body during the period, if free from any trace of blood, is perfectly pure. If smeared with blood, washing will turn it clean. As such there should be no hitch in performing prayer with such clothes on. It is also perfectly in order if separate clothes are used during those particular days by the ladies. (Bukhâri: 323)

Chapter 119. The Menstruating Woman Does Not Have To Make Up For The Prayer She Missed

(المعجم ١١٩) - بَابُ الْحَائِضِ لَا تَقْضِي الصَّلَاةَ (التحفة ١١٩)

631. It was narrated from 'Âishah that a woman asked her: "Does a woman who menstruates have to make up for the prayers she misses?" 'Âishah said to her: "Are you a Haruriyyah?[1] We used to menstruate with the Prophet ﷺ then become pure, and he did not tell us to make up for the prayers we missed." (Sahih)

٦٣١ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا عَلِيُّ بْنُ مُسْهِرٍ، عَنْ سَعِيدِ بْنِ أَبِي عَرُوبَةَ، عَنْ قَتَادَةَ، عَنْ مُعَاذَةَ الْعَدَوِيَّةِ، عَنْ عَائِشَةَ أَنَّ امْرَأَةً سَأَلَتْهَا: أَتَقْضِي الْحَائِضُ الصَّلَاةَ؟ قَالَتْ لَهَا عَائِشَةُ: أَحَرُورِيَّةٌ أَنْتِ؟ قَدْ كُنَّا نَحِيضُ عِنْدَ النَّبِيِّ ﷺ ثُمَّ نَطْهُرُ، وَلَمْ يَأْمُرْنَا بِقَضَاءِ الصَّلَاةِ.

Comments:

a. Women are not allowed to perform prayer during their monthly course period (Bukhâri: 304). All Muslims, with the exception of Khârijites are agreed on this point. This is the reason why 'Âishah ﵂ asked the woman questioner in surprise if she was a Khârijite because it is only they who ask such questions.

b. It is a special favor of Allâh on women that He did not command them to make up for the missed prayers, for it would surely be quite a difficult task for them to make good their missed eight to ten days of ritual prayers each month. Fasts, on the other hand, come only once in a year, and it is not such a great task to fast for the missed eight to ten days during the course of the coming eleven months.

Chapter 120. A Menstruating Woman Taking Something From The Mosque

(المعجم ١٢٠) - بَابُ الْحَائِضِ تَتَنَاوَلُ الشَّيْءَ مِنَ الْمَسْجِدِ (التحفة ١٢٠)

632. It was narrated that 'Âishah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said to me: 'Get me a mat from the mosque.' I said: 'I am menstruating.' He said: 'Your menstruation is not in your hand.'" (Sahih)

تخريج: [صحيح] أخرجه أحمد:٦/١٠٦ بإسناد صحيح عن عبدالله البهي قال: حدثتني عائشة أن رسول الله ﷺ كان في المسجد فقال للجارية: ناوليني الخمرة .

Comments:

a. Women in the state of menstruation or Nifâs (postnatal bleeding) are prohibited from entering the mosque.

b. It is a different matter if a woman, standing outside the precincts of the mosque takes something of necessity from, or put it inside the mosque, since this action, not falling under the definition of 'entering the mosque,' is perfectly in order.

633. It was narrated that 'Âishah said: "The Prophet ﷺ used to bring his head close to me when I was menstruating and he was in I'tikâf (seclusion in a mosque for the purpose of worship), and I would wash it and comb his hair." (Sahih)

٦٣٣ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ، وَعَلِيُّ ابْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ، قَالاَ: حَدَّثَنَا وَكِيعٌ، عَنْ هِشَامِ ابْنِ عُرْوَةَ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ: كَانَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ يُدْنِي رَأْسَهُ إِلَيَّ وَأَنَا حَائِضٌ، وَهُوَ مُجَاوِرٌ، - تَعْنِي: مُعْتَكِفاً، - فَأَغْسِلُهُ وَأُرَجِّلُهُ.

تخريج: أخرجه البخاري، الحيض، باب غسل الحائض رأس زوجها وترجيله، ح:٢٩٥ من حديث هشام به، وسيأتي:١٧٧٨، وعن ابن جريج، ح:٢٩٦، ومسلم، الحيض، باب جواز غسل الحائض . . . الخ، ح:٢٩٩ عن زهير بن معاوية، كلاهما عن هشام به.

Comments:

a. A man in a state of I'tikâf (seclusion in a mosque for worship) is not allowed to come out of the mosque without a genuine excuse or pressing necessity.

b. Peeping the head out of the mosque does not fall under the definition of coming out of the mosque.

634. It was narrated that 'Âishah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ used to put his head in my lap when I was menstruating and recite Qur'ân." (Sahih)

٦٣٤ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ يَحْيَىٰ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الرَّزَّاقِ: أَنْبَأَنَا سُفْيَانُ، عَنْ مَنْصُورِ بْنِ صَفِيَّةَ، عَنْ أُمِّهِ، [عَنْ] عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ: لَقَدْ كَانَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ يَضَعُ رَأْسَهُ فِي حِجْرِي وَأَنَا حَائِضٌ، وَيَقْرَأُ الْقُرْآنَ.

Comments:

a. It also confirms the fact that the entire body of a menstruating woman is pure, the only exception being the part connected with the 'blood'.

b. Rules for reciting the Qur'ân from memory are different from those relating to the touching of the Noble Book for that purpose.

Chapter 121. What A Man May Do With His Wife When She Is Menstruating

(المعجم ١٢١) - بَابُ مَا لِلرَّجُلِ مِنِ امْرَأَتِهِ إِذَا كَانَتْ حَائِضًا (التحفة ١٢١)

635. It was narrated that 'Âishah said: "If one of us was menstruating, the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ would tell her to tie her waist-wrapper around herself if the bleeding was heavy, then he would embrace her. And who among you can control his desire as the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ used to control his desire?" (Sahih)

Comments:

a. Having sex with a menstruating woman is prohibited in Islam.

b. Short of the intercourse, all other things like embracing her or kissing her etc., are perfectly in order.

c. Mubâsharah in Arabic means either (i) having sex or (ii) simply embracing and caressing the wife. Here it is used in the latter sense.

636. It was narrated that 'Âishah said: "If one of us was menstruating, the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ would tell her to tie her waist-wrapper around herself, then he would embrace her." (Sahih)

٦٣٦ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا جَرِيرٌ، عَنْ مَنْصُورٍ، عَنْ إِبْرَاهِيمَ، عَنِ الأَسْوَدِ، عَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ: كَانَتْ إِحْدَانَا، إِذَا حَاضَتْ، أَمَرَهَا النَّبِيُّ ﷺ أَنْ تَأْتَزِرَ بِإِزَارٍ، ثُمَّ يُبَاشِرُهَا.

637. It was narrated that Umm Salamah said: "I was with the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ under his blanket, then I felt that I was menstruating as women do, so I slipped out from under the cover. The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Are you menstruating?' I said: 'I feel that I am menstruating as women do.' He said: 'That is what Allâh has decreed for the daughters of Âdam.' So I slipped out and sorted myself out, then I came back, and the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said to me: 'Come under the cover with me,' so I went in with him.'" (Hasan)

Comments:

'Sorted myself out' means took due precaution against defiling my clothes from impurity.

638. It was narrated from Mu'âwiyah bin Abu Sufyân that he asked Umm Habibah, the wife of the Prophet ﷺ: "What did you used to do with the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ when you were menstruating?" She said: "If it was at the beginning of the period when the bleeding is heavy, we would tie the waist-wrapper tightly around our thighs, then lie down with the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ." (Sahih)

Chapter 122. Prohibition Of Sexual Intercourse With A Menstruating Woman

(المعجم ١٢٢) - بَابُ النَّهْيِ عَنْ إِتْيَانِ الْحَائِضِ (التحفة ١٢٢)

639. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Whoever has intercourse with a menstruating woman, or with a woman in her rear, or who goes to a fortuneteller and believes what he says, he has disbelieved in that which was revealed to Muhammad.'" (Hasan) ٦٣٩ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ، وَ عَلِيُّ ابْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ، قَالاَ: حَدَّثَنَا وَكِيعٌ: حَدَّثَنَا حَمَّادُ ابْنُ سَلَمَةَ عَنْ حَكِيمٍ الأَثْرَمِ، عَنْ أَبِي تَمِيمَةَ الْهُجَيْمِيِّ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «مَنْ أَتَى حَائِضاً، أَوِ امْرَأَةً فِي دُبُرِهَا، أَوْ كَاهِناً، فَصَدَّقَهُ بِمَا يَقُولُ، فَقَدْ كَفَرَ بِمَا أُنْزِلَ عَلَى مُحَمَّدٍ».

Comments:

a. Allâh has appointed a natural channel for satisfying men's sexual urge with women. It is a channel that would breed offsprings. The anus is not the place for the purpose. It is unnatural to use it the way the inhabitants of Sodom did among whom the Prophet Lut ﷺ was sent as a warner.

b. A Kâhin (fortuneteller) is one who claims to know the future of the people. In our part of the world people practising Nujum (astrology), Ramal (foretelling by figures) and Jafar (art of prediction) all belong to the same category which the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ has denounced and warned against.

Chapter 123. The Expiation For One Who Has Sexual Intercourse With A Menstruating Woman

(المعجم ١٢٣) - بَابٌ: فِي كَفَّارَةِ مَنْ أَتَى حَائِضًا (التحفة ١٢٣)

640. It was narrated from Ibn 'Abbâs that the Prophet ﷺ said concerning one who has intercourse with a woman when she is menstruating: "Let him give a Dinâr or half a Dinâr in charity." (Sahih)

تخريج: [إسناده صحيح] أخرجه أبوداود، الطهارة، باب في إتيان الحائض، ح: ٢٦٤ من حديث يحيى به، وصححه أحمد، والحاكم، والذهبي وغيرهم.

Comments:

a. Dinâr was a gold coin used in the days of the Prophet ﷺ in Arabia. It measured about 4.4 grams. It is is, therefore, incumbent, in the light of the Hadíth, on any one committing this act to give in charity a price equivalent to 4.4 grams of gold to a person who is deserving, poor and hard-pressed.

b. Some scholars from among the pious predecessors have reconciled the apparent difference between the figures of one Dinâr and half a Dinâr, by suggesting that one Dinâr of charity is expiation for committing the act in the early stages of menstruation when blood is reddish in colour, while half a Dinâr is for doing it in the later stages when the blood colour is yellowish. Some other scholars have suggested that it depends on your capacity. If well-to-do, give a full Dinâr, if hard-pressed, give just half a Dinâr.

Chapter 124. How A Menstruating Woman Should Bathe

(المعجم ١٢٤) - بَابٌ: فِي الْحَائِضِ كَيْفَ تَغْتَسِلُ (التحفة ١٢٤)

641. It was narrated from 'Âishah that the Prophet ﷺ said to her,

٦٤١ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ، وَ عَلِيُّ ابْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ، قَالاَ: حَدَّثَنَا وَكِيعٌ، عَنْ هِشَامِ

when she was menstruating: "Undo your braids and bathe." (Sahih)

(A narrator) 'Ali said in his narration: "Undo your head."

ابْنِ عُرْوَةَ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ عَائِشَةَ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ قَالَ لَهَا، وَكَانَتْ حَائِضاً: «انْقُضِي شَعْرَكِ وَاغْتَسِلِي».

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ فِي حَدِيثِهِ: «انْقُضِي رَأْسَكِ».

تخريج: [إسناده صحيح] أخرجه ابن أبي شيبة: ١/ ٧٩ به، وصححه المجد ابن تيمية وغيره، وأصله في الصحيحين.

Comments:

'Undo your head' means: Undo the braids of your hair or plaits and wash your head. The ruling does not apply to a bath from sexual impurity. (Compare previous Ahâdith 603 & 604).

642. It was narrated from 'Âishah that Asmâ' asked the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ about bathing after one's period. He said: "One of you should take her water and lote leaves, and purify herself, and purify herself well, or thoroughly. Then she should pour water over her head and rub it vigorously so that the water reaches the roots of her hair. Then she should take a piece of cotton perfumed with musk and purify herself with it." Asmâ' said: "How should I purify myself with it?" He said: "Subhân Allâh! purify yourself with it!" 'Âishah said, as if whispering to her: "Wipe away the traces of blood with it." Then she (Asmâ') asked him about bathing to cleanse oneself from sexual impurity. He said: "One of you should take her water, and purify herself, and purify herself well, or thoroughly. She should pour water over her head and rub it so that water reaches the roots of her hair, then she should pour water over her body." 'Âishah

a. A bath from the impurity of menses needs more elaborate cleaning than a bath from the impurity of intercourse because the frequency of the former is less than that of the latter.

Chapter 125. What Was narrated Concerning Eating With A Menstruating Woman

(المعجم ١٢٥) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي مُؤَاكَلَةِ الْحَائِضِ وَسُؤْرِهَا (التحفة ١٢٥)

643. It was narrated that 'Âishah said: "I used to eat the meat from a bone when I was menstruating, then the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ would take it and put his mouth where my mouth had been. And I would drink from a vessel, and the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ would take it and put his mouth where my mouth had been, and I was menstruating." (Sahih)

Comments:

a. It shows that the body of a menstruating woman is pure, and the impurity in essence is 'legal' except for the blood whose impurity is perceivable.
b. The mouth and saliva of a menstruating woman is also pure. It is perfectly in order to eat and drink from the food and water left over by her.

Comments:

a. Islam attaches the highest importance to cleanliness and purity. It is, nevertheless, free from the strict laws of the Jews. Hence it is that, except sexual intercourse (which is prohibited during the monthly course and days of impurity after childbirth), all other activities — sitting together, eating and drinking together, kissing each other, and sharing the bed together — are all permissible in Islam.

b. Should a person feel that, while embracing his wife, he might not be able to keep a check on his passion and might feel tempted to commit the prohibited, he would be well advised not to avail the juridical licence but try to avoid being too intimate with his wife during that period.

Comments:

Scholars have divergent views on this Hadith. Muhammad bin Yahya said: "What was meant by 'after she becomes pure' is after having a bath (following the end of her period)."

Comments:

The narrator means to say that they (the women in those days) did not consider it a part of menstruation. The previous Hadith has already indicated that the ruling belongs to the time following the bath at the end of the period. However, if the yellowish or brownish discharge is once again followed by the red fluid, then it shall be considered a part of menstruation.

Chapter 128. How Long Should Women In Postnatal Bleeding Wait (Before Praying, etc.)?

(المعجم ١٢٨) - بَابُ النُّفَسَاءِ كَمْ تَجْلِسُ (التحفة ١٢٨)

Comments:

a. Nifâs is the blood secreted from inside a woman after childbirth. Scholars have divergent views about its maximum duration. A majority of them are inclined towards considering it for forty days. In case the flow of blood persists beyond that period, then technically it is not postnatal bleeding but vaginal secretion other than postnatal bleeding. In this condition the woman must bathe and start performing devotional acts like prayers and fasting. If bleeding stops earlier than forty days, then abstinence from the aforementioned rituals is not needed, and normal devotional activities can be restarted after taking the bath.

b. Wars, as explained under Hadith 466, is a yellowish plant from Yemen used (especially by women) as a liniment and for dye.

649. It was narrated that Anas said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ set the time for postnatal bleeding at forty days, except for one who becomes pure before that." (Da'if)

Comments:

The use of a cloth or garment as a covering for the body by a menstruating woman does not make the entire clothing unclean. Her blood, however, if it soils the cloth, shall only make the affected part unclean. Once the spot is washed, the entire cloth or garment becomes fit for all uses, even for prayer etc.

Comments:

a. Covering the head for prayer is compulsory for a woman, even if she is secluded from the sight of others. This command for covering is not related to rulings concerning veil, which is not needed before non-marriageable near relations.

b. Singling out 'woman' for the ruling clearly indicates that it is a female-specific ruling, and a man can perform prayer without a cover on his head. However, even for men it is not desirable to make it a habit to perform prayer with a bare head.

Comments:

a. Whatever the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ touched with hand or body became blessed. Hence it is that the Companions preserved his hair and other personal belongings. However, the Companions and their Successors never ever kept anything associated with other Companions or Successors as a holy relic.

b. The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ, on this occasion took some water in his mouth and blew it over the face of Mahmud for fun. This shows that it is all right to make merry with small children.

Comments:

a. There is consensus among the scholars that, among the things prohibited for man to look at, are the private parts (anus and penis of another man). There are, however, divergent views about the permissibility or otherwise of seeing the thighs of another man. Imâm Bukhâri does not include them among the concealable parts. Still he thinks it prudent to conceal them. Generally for men, this is from the navel to the knee, and for women it is all of her body except the hands, feet and face.

b. Women should also avoid seeing the private parts of other women. Even in case of childbirth, etc., only the women whose services are indispensable for the job may see them. All others must avoid seeing them.

c. Women must not lay bare even their breasts before other women.

662. It was narrated from a freed slave of 'Âishah that 'Âishah said: "I never looked at (or I never saw) the private part of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ." (Da'if)

(2) The Book Of The Prayer

(المعجم٢) كِتَابُ الصَّلَاةِ (التحفة ٣)

Comments:

a. According to the lexicographers and jurists the word Salât means prayer or supplication. Some of the scholars hold that the essence of Salât is reverence. The ritual prayer is so called because it signifies reverence for Allâh.

b. Prayer is a devotional act consisting of a series of utterances and actions that start with pronouncing the the greatness of Allâh symbolized by the words Allâhu Akbar and end with turning one's face right and left, articulating Taslim (greeting), symbolized by the the words: As-Salâmu-'Alaikum Wa Rahmatullâh (Peace and Allâh's mercy be upon you).

c. Prayer is an important pillar (among the Five Pillars) of Islam. It is the surest means of securing nearness to Allâh, the coolness of our beloved Prophet's eye, a healing for the believer's pains and miseries, a bulwark against the believer's misfortunes, and the key to the doors of Paradise for the chosen ones of Allâh, even as the Qur'ân says: "And seek help in patience and prayer." (2:153)

   Important as the prayer is, the manner of its performance is also equally important. A prayer performed by one's devised method will not be acceptable to Allâh. Its acceptability is linked to doing it exactly according to the Sunnah of the Prophet ﷺ, since he himself has said: Pray as you have seen me pray. (Bukhâri: 631). It is, therefore, essential that we perform the prayer complete with all the Sunnah, obligatory duties and desirable acts specified by the Prophet ﷺ. It will be a punitive act on the part of anyone who belittles and neglects anyone of the blessed Sunnah on the basis of one's own deviant interpretations and arguments. The degree of reward promised for performing prayer in conformity with the precepts of the Prophet ﷺ can be estimated by the following saying of our beloved Prophet ﷺ: Abu Hurairah ؓ reported: I heard the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ say, "Say, if there were a river at the door of one of you in which he takes a bath five times a day, would any soiling remain on him?" They replied, "No soiling would be left on him." He ﷺ said, "That is the five (obligatory) prayers. Allâh wipes out all sins as a result of performing them." (Bukhâri: 528 & Muslim: 666)

1. The Chapters On The Times Of Prayer

(المعجم ١) - أَبْوَابُ مَوَاقِيتِ الصَّلَاةِ

(التحفة ١)

667. It was narrated from Sulaimân bin Buraidah that his father said: "A man came to the Prophet ﷺ and asked him about the times of prayer. He said: 'Pray with us for two days.' When the sun passed its zenith he commanded Bilâl to call the Adhân, then he commanded him to give the Iqâmah for Zuhr; then he commanded him to give the Iqâmah for 'Asr when the sun was high and clearly white. Then he commanded him to give the Iqâmah for Maghrib when the sun had set; then he commanded him to give the Iqâmah for 'Ishâ' when the red afterglow had disappeared; then he commanded him to give the Iqâmah for Fajr when dawn came. On the following day he commanded him to give the Adhân for Zuhr when the extreme heat had passed and it had cooled down; then he prayed 'Asr when the sun was still high, but he delayed it more than he had done the day before; then he prayed Maghrib before the red afterglow disappeared; he prayed 'Ishâ' when one-third of the night had passed; and he prayed Fajr at the time when it was already light. Then he said: 'Where is the one who was asking about the times of Prayer?' The man said: 'Here I am, O Messenger of Allâh.' He said: 'The times of your prayer

Comments:

a. With regard to any prayer, it is best to perform it at the earliest after the onset of the permissible time for it, although it is also permissible to delay it as long as it does not cross the prescribed limit of time for that particular prayer.

b. It is permissible to sometimes leave the optimum for something other than optimum, but only for purposes prudent or educative. It is not, however, proper to make a habit of it.

c. Cooling down of the day for Zuhr (early afternoon prayer) means waiting for reduction in the intensity of the heat. It is, as we all know, extremely hot at noon in the summer season. The Zuhr prayer can, therefore, wait a little after the sun has passed its zenith. There is, however, no justification for such delays in colder weathers.

d. It may be noted that the time for Asr (afternoon prayer), for both the days mentioned in the Hadith, has been expressed in similar terms, namely: (i) "When the sun was high and clearly white,' and (ii) 'When the sun was still high.' We will read more discussion about the sun's height in coming Ahâdith.

e. The time for Maghrib (early evening prayer) starts with the sinking of the sundisk on the horizon, and ends with the disappearance of the red afterglow appearing on the west.

f. The time for 'Ishâ' (night prayer) starts with the disappearance of the red afterglow. As inferred from the Hadith, its end seems to be the passing of one-third of the night. Some other Ahâdith suggest it to be until the passing of half of the night.

668. It was narrated from Ibn Shihâb that he was sitting on the cushions of 'Umar bin 'Abdul-'Aziz when he was the leader over Al-Madinah, and with him was 'Urwah bin Zubair. 'Umar delayed 'Asr somewhat, and 'Urwah said to him: "Jibril came down and led the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ in prayer." 'Umar said to him: "Know what you are saying, O 'Urwah!" He said: "I heard Bashir bin Abu Mas'ud

Comments:

a. The coming down of Jibril (the Archangel) for the determination of prayer times highlights the importance of prayer in general, and of congregational prayer in particular. It also highlights the importance of performing the prayers on time.
b. No one in an Islamic society is above criticism. But even while dissenting with someone, it is essential that we do not neglect the norms of decency and respect towards others.
c. If the point at issue is not clear, it is no offence to the dignity of the speaker to seek further clarification from him.
d. Any Hadith narrated before the people will carry more conviction if it is supported by reference to the source of the Hadith or its chain of narrators.
e. The practice of narrating Ahâdith along with their chain of narrators had started as early as the age of the Successors, which made it easy for the people to distinguish between an authentic Hadith and a fabricated one.

Comments:

a. Women also used to join the prayers along with their male counterparts. The reason for this was that, when the Prophet ﷺ delivered his discourses or the people asked him questions, even the women would listen to it and gain knowledge about their religion.

b. Being able to listen to longer recitations of the Qur'ân and still finish it early means that the congregation assembled quite early, and the prayer was performed in its earliest prescribed hour.

c. The women did not stay back after the prayer for purposes of doing other devotional recitals, but left the mosque immediately after the prayer. As for men they, as becomes clear from other Ahâdith, waited until all the women had left the mosque.

670. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ recited: And recite the Qur'ân during the Fajr. Verily, the recitation of the Qur'ân during Fajr is ever witnessed."[1] He said: "It is witnessed by the angels of the night and the day." (Sahih) ٦٧٠ - حَدَّثَنَا عُبَيْدُ بْنُ أَسْبَاطَ بْنِ مُحَمَّدٍ الْقُرَشِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبِي، عَنِ الْأَعْمَشِ، عَنْ إِبْرَاهِيمَ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ، وَالْأَعْمَشُ عَنْ أَبِي صَالِحٍ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ، عَنْ رَسُولِ اللهِ ﷺ: ﴿وَقُرْءَانَ ٱلْفَجْرِ إِنَّ قُرْءَانَ ٱلْفَجْرِ كَانَ مَشْهُودًا﴾. [الإسراء: ٧٨] قَالَ: «تَشْهَدُهُ مَلَائِكَةُ اللَّيْلِ وَالنَّهَارِ».

Comments:

a. This shows the importance and merit of the of Fajr prayer. The 'Asr prayer also partners it in merit.

b. Angels witnessing the congregation is indicative of the pride of place in the Divine scheme occupied by the believers.

671. Mughith bin Sumayi said: "I prayed the Subh with 'Abdullâh

Comments:

a. The best time of Fajr prayer as proved from the precept of the Prophet ﷺ in this regard is to offer it at its earliest hour. This was the practice followed during the times of Abu Bakr and 'Umar ﷺ.

b. 'Uthmân's ﷺ decision to delay the prayer until there was light, was only dictated by the particular circumstances of the time, and was not meant to be permanent. That is why 'Abdullah bin Zubair did not feel the need to delay the prayer, and performed it at its earliest prescribed time in accord with the Sunnah of the Prophet ﷺ.

672. It was narrated from Râfi' bin Khadij that the Prophet ﷺ said: "Pray the Subh early, for indeed its reward is greater" or "your reward." (Sahih)

Comments:

a. The words Asbihu bis-Subh spoken by the Prophet ﷺ, correctly translated here as 'Pray the Subh early', is sometimes translated as 'Delay it until there is morning light." It is on this basis that the adherents of the Hanafi School of Jurisprudence delay the Fajr prayer until there is clear light. Such an interpretation is clearly against the teaching and practice of the Prophet ﷺ who always performed the Fajr prayer at the earliest hour, in darkness. As such, even if the second translation is taken as correct, it would either mean: (i) 'Avoid performing the Fajr prayer at Subh Kâdhib (at the appearance of reddish blackness) but do it when you are sure of the onset of Subh Sâdiq (daybreak; true dawn), or it would mean: (ii) 'Prolong the recitation of the Qur'ân so that when you finish your prayer, it is already bright morning'. It is so because the preceding Ahâdith unmistakably highlight the merit of performing each prayer at its earliest prescribed hour.

Chapter 3. The Time Of The Zuhr Prayer

(المعجم ٣) - بَابُ وَقْتِ صَلَاةِ الظُّهْرِ (التحفة ٣)

673. It was narrated from Jâbir bin Samurah that the Prophet ﷺ used to pray Zuhr when the sun had passed its zenith. (Sahih)

٦٧٣ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ بَشَّارٍ: حَدَّثَنَا يَحْيَى ابْنُ سَعِيدٍ، عَنْ شُعْبَةَ، عَنْ سِمَاكِ بْنِ حَرْبٍ، عَنْ جَابِرِ بْنِ سَمُرَةَ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ كَانَ يُصَلِّي الظُّهْرَ إِذَا دَحَضَتِ الشَّمْسُ.

Comments:

a. The time for Az-Zuhr prayer starts just after the sun has passed its zenith.

b. The Prophet's way is to perform the prayer at its earliest hour.

674. It was narrated that Abu Barzah Al-Aslami said: "The Prophet ﷺ used to pray the Hajir prayer, which you call 'Zuhr,' when the sun had passed its zenith." (Sahih)

Comments:

a. The Companions' plea was to the effect that the sun turns the sand burning hot, and prostration for the Zuhr prayer over it becomes difficult during summer, would it not, therefore, be better to delay the prayer until the sand cools down a little? The Prophet ﷺ did not concede to the implied request, but continued to lead the prayer early even in the hot season.

b. Some other Ahâdith do speak of delaying the Zuhr prayer during the hot season (as we shall see under Ahâdith in Chapter 4) but it only means a slight delay, not so much that it should push the worshippers towards the end of the prayer time.

676. It was narrated that 'Abdullâh bin Mas'ud said: "We complained to the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ about the heat of the sunbaked ground, but he did not respond to our complaint." (Sahih)

Chapter 4. Waiting For It To Cool Down Before the Zuhr Prayer When The Heat Is Intense

(المعجم ٤) - بَابُ الإِبْرَادِ بِالظُّهْرِ فِي شِدَّةِ الْحَرِّ (التحفة ٤)

677. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'When it is very hot, then wait for it to cool down before you pray, for intense heat is from the flaring up of the Hell-fire.'" (Sahih)

٦٧٧ - حَدَّثَنَا هِشَامُ بْنُ عَمَّارٍ: حَدَّثَنَا مَالِكُ ابْنُ أَنَسٍ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو الزِّنَادِ، عَنِ الأَعْرَجِ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «إِذَا اشْتَدَّ الْحَرُّ فَأَبْرِدُوا بِالصَّلَاةِ، فَإِنَّ شِدَّةَ الْحَرِّ مِنْ فَيْحِ جَهَنَّمَ».

تخريج: [إسناده صحيح] أخرجه مالك في الموطأ: ١٦/١ به.

Comments:

The wisdom behind waiting for the prayer until it cools down a little, is the fact that intense heat dampens the spirit of devotional submissiveness and fervor, while under cooler conditions the prayers are likely to be more focused. The wait should, however, not be excessive.

678. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "When it is very hot, then wait for it to cool down before you pray, for intense heat is from the flaring up of the Hell-Fire." (Sahih)

Chapter 5. The Time Of The 'Asr Prayer

(المعجم ٥) - بَابُ وَقْتِ صَلَاةِ الْعَصْرِ (التحفة ٥)

682. It was narrated from Anas bin Mâlik that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ used to pray 'Asr when the sun was still hot and high, and if a person were to go to the suburbs (of Al-Madinah) he would be able to reach it while the sun was still hot and high. (Sahih)

٦٨٢ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ رُمْحٍ: أَنْبَأَنَا اللَّيْثُ ابْنُ سَعْدٍ، عَنِ ابْنِ شِهَابٍ، عَنْ أَنَسِ بْنِ مَالِكٍ أَنَّهُ أَخْبَرَهُ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ كَانَ يُصَلِّي الْعَصْرَ وَالشَّمْسُ مُرْتَفِعَةٌ حَيَّةٌ، فَيَذْهَبُ الذَّاهِبُ إِلَى الْعَوَالِي، وَالشَّمْسُ مُرْتَفِعَةٌ.

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، المساجد، باب استحباب التبكير بالعصر، ح:٦٢١ عن محمد بن رمح به.

a. The sun being 'hot and high' is the condition when it is still white and has not become pale. The term 'delay' in this context would mean the condition when the sun either turns pale or red.

b. It is reported from Jâbir ؓ that a man asked the Prophet ﷺ about the times of prayer. He said: 'Attend the prayers with me.' Then the Prophet ﷺ performed the Zuhr prayer when the sun passed its zenith, and the 'Asr prayer when the shadow of everything became twice the size of the original. Then the next day he ﷺ performed Zuhr prayer when each person had a matching shadow, and the 'Asr prayer when the shadow of each person became twice the original. (Sunan An-Nasâ'i: 505)

683. It was narrated that 'Âishah said: "The Prophet ﷺ prayed the 'Asr when the sun was shining into my room and there were no shadows yet." (Sahih)

٦٨٣ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا سُفْيَانُ بْنُ عُيَيْنَةَ، عَنِ الزُّهْرِيِّ، عَنْ عُرْوَةَ، عَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ: صَلَّى النَّبِيُّ ﷺ الْعَصْرَ، وَالشَّمْسُ فِي حُجْرَتِي، لَمْ يُظْهِرْهَا الْفَيْءُ بَعْدُ.

تخريج: أخرجه البخاري، مواقيت الصلوة، باب وقت العصر، ح: ٥٤٦، ومسلم، المساجد، باب أوقات الصلوات الخمس، ح: ٦١١ من حديث سفيان به.

Comments:

This shows that the Prophet ﷺ performed the 'Asr prayer early, since if the prayer had been delayed, the shadow would have covered the entire courtyard and started mounting the walls.

Chapter 6. Maintaining The 'Asr Prayer

(المعجم ٦) - بَابُ الْمُحَافَظَةِ عَلَى صَلَاةِ الْعَصْرِ (التحفة ٦)

684. It was narrated from 'Ali bin Abu Tâlib that, on the Day of Khandaq, the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "May Allâh fill their houses and graves with fire, just as they distracted us from the middle prayer." (Hasan)

٦٨٤ - حَدَّثَنَا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ عَبْدَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا حَمَّادُ ابْنُ زَيْدٍ، عَنْ عَاصِمِ بْنِ بَهْدَلَةَ، عَنْ زِرِّ بْنِ حُبَيْشٍ، عَنْ عَلِيِّ بْنِ أَبِي طَالِبٍ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ قَالَ يَوْمَ الْخَنْدَقِ: «مَلَأَ اللهُ بُيُوتَهُمْ وَقُبُورَهُمْ نَاراً، كَمَا شَغَلُونَا عَنِ الصَّلَاةِ الْوُسْطَى».

تخريج: [إسناده حسن] أخرجه البزار في البحر الزخار: ٢/ ١٨٠، ١٨١، ح: ٥٥٧ عن أحمد ابن عبدة به.

Comments:

a. Loss in religious matters is greater than loss in worldly affairs.

b. The 'Asr prayer has greater importance than other prayers.

c. The very tongue that had remained silent at the trials of Tâif, was forced to invoke Allâh's wrath upon the invading idolaters when the events of the battle of the Confederates (also known as the battle of Trench) distracted the believers from offering the 'Asr prayer on time. He ﷺ was so angry at this failure, that he besought Allâh to fill the infidels' houses and graves with fire. In it perhaps, is sufficient food for thought for those who miss their prayers just out of laziness, or because of their indulgence in sports or business activities. How reprehensible will this act of theirs be to Allâh and His Messenger ﷺ! May Allâh protect us all from His wrath!

685. It was narrated from Ibn 'Umar that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "The one who misses the 'Asr prayer, it is as if he has been cheated out of his family and his wealth." (Sahih)

تخريج: [صحيح] أخرجه مسلم، المساجد، باب التغليظ في تفويت صلوة العصر، ح: ٦٢٦ب من حديث سفيان بن عيينة به.

Comments:

For a man of the world there can be no greater loss than that his family, his relations and his herd of animals all meet their sudden death, all his buildings collapse in an instant, all his money is taken away by thieves, and he is reduced to the state of an absolute beggar. But, in the sight of the Messenger of Allâh, all this loss cannot match the loss of failing to observe one prayer on time. We can thus say that anyone who misses just one prayer from the bidding of the inciting soul or the temptation of Satan, his loss is as irreparable as the loss sustained by the miserable man cited above.

686. It was narrated that 'Abdullâh said: "The idolaters kept the Prophet ﷺ from the 'Asr prayer until the sun had set. He said: 'They kept us from performing the middle prayer; may Allâh fill their graves and their houses with fire.'" (Sahih)

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، المساجد، باب الدليل لمن قال: الصلوة الوسطى هي صلوة العصر، ح: ٦٢٨ من حديث محمد بن طلحة به.

Comments:

a. The Hadith confirms that the middle prayer is another name for the 'Asr prayer, whose importance has been underlined by the Qur'ân in the following terms: "Guard strictly the prayers, especially the middle prayer" (2:238).

b. Prayer in Islam is more important than even Jihâd (fighting in the cause of Allâh).

Comments:

One reason for completing the Maghrib prayer so early was that they used to perform it just at the setting of the sun. The second is that the prayer was relatively brief, in the sense that, unlike other prayers, there was no prolonged recitation of the Qur'ân in it.

688. It was narrated from Salamah bin Akwa' that he used to pray the Maghrib with the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ when the sun set. (Sahih) ٦٨٨ - حَدَّثَنَا يَعْقُوبُ بْنُ حُمَيْدِ بْنِ كَاسِبٍ: حَدَّثَنَا الْمُغِيرَةُ بْنُ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمٰنِ، عَنْ يَزِيدَ بْنِ أَبِي عُبَيْدٍ، عَنْ سَلَمَةَ بْنِ الأَكْوَعِ: أَنَّهُ كَانَ يُصَلِّي مَعَ النَّبِيِّ ﷺ الْمَغْرِبَ إِذَا تَوَارَتْ بِالْحِجَابِ.

689. It was narrated that 'Abbâs bin 'Abdul-Muttalib said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'My Ummah will continue to adhere to the Fitrah[1] so long as they do not delay the Maghrib until the stars have all come out." (Hasan)

Abu 'Abdullâh bin Mâjah said: I heard Muhammad bin Yahya saying: 'The people in Baghdâd were confused in narrating this Hadith. Abu Bakr Al-A'yan and I went to 'Awwâm bin 'Abbâd bin 'Awwâm and he brought out to us the book of his father, and this Hadith was in it.'"

Comments:

a. It is better to perform the prayer in its earliest prescribed time. One should especially avoid delaying the Maghrib prayer, since the time limit for it is less than for others.

b. Delaying the prayers is deviation from the faith of Islam.

Chapter 8. The Time Of The 'Ishâ' Prayer

(المعجم ٨) - بَابُ وَقْتِ صَلَاةِ الْعِشَاءِ (التحفة ٨)

690. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "Were it not that it would be too difficult for my Ummah, I would have commanded them to delay the 'Ishâ'." (Sahih)

٦٩٠ - حَدَّثَنَا هِشَامُ بْنُ عَمَّارٍ: حَدَّثَنَا سُفْيَانُ ابْنُ عُيَيْنَةَ، عَنْ أَبِي الزِّنَادِ، عَنِ الأَعْرَجِ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ قَالَ: «لَوْلَا أَنْ أَشُقَّ عَلَى أُمَّتِي لَأَمَرْتُهُمْ بِتَأْخِيرِ الْعِشَاءِ».

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، الطهارة، باب السواك، ح:٢٥٢ من حديث سفيان به.

Comments:

a. Unlike other prayers, it is preferable to delay the 'Ishâ' prayer.

b. The delay should only be to the extent that the worshippers in general do not feel inconvenienced.

691. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Were it not that it would be too difficult for my Ummah, I would have delayed the 'Ishâ' prayer until one third or one half of the night had passed.'" (Sahih)

تخريج: [إسناده صحيح] أخرجه الترمذي، الصلوة، باب ماجاء في تاخير صلوة العشاء الآخرة، ح:١٦٧ من حديث عبيدالله بن عمر به، وقال: حسن صحيح ، وللحديث طرق أخرى.

Comments:

We may infer from this, that the 'Ishâ' prayer must be performed before half of the night has passed, since the Prophet ﷺ had only wished to delay it until the half of the night. Nevertheless, the congregational prayer should be held at a suitable time, taking into view the convenience of the worshipers.

692. Humaid said: "Anas bin Mâlik was asked: 'Did the Prophet ﷺ wear a ring?' He said: 'Yes.' One night he delayed the 'Ishâ' prayer until almost the middle of the night. When he had prayed he turned to face us and said: 'The people have prayed and gone to sleep, but you will still be in a state of prayer so long as you are waiting for the (next) prayer.'" (Sahih)

Anas said: "It is as if I can see the sparkle from his ring.'"

٦٩٢ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ الْمُثَنَّى: حَدَّثَنَا خَالِدُ بْنُ الْحارِثِ: حَدَّثَنَا حُمَيْدٌ قَالَ: سُئِلَ أَنَسُ بْنُ مَالِكٍ، هَلِ اتَّخَذَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ خَاتَماً؟ قَالَ: نَعَمْ. أَخَّرَ لَيْلَةً صَلاَةَ الْعِشَاءِ إِلَى قَرِيبٍ مِنْ شَطْرِ اللَّيْلِ. فَلَمَّا صَلَّى أَقْبَلَ عَلَيْنَا بِوَجْهِهِ، فَقَالَ: «إِنَّ النَّاسَ قَدْ صَلَّوْا وَنَامُوا. وَإِنَّكُمْ لَنْ تَزَالُوا فِي صَلاَةٍ مَا انْتَظَرْتُمُ الصَّلاَةَ».

قَالَ أَنَسٌ: كَأَنِّي أَنْظُرُ إِلَى وَبِيصِ خَاتَمِهِ.

Comments:

a. The Prophet ﷺ mostly performed the 'Ishâ' prayer early, which means not delaying it unduly. However, at times he departed from the normal practice in order to highlight the merit of delaying it.
b. Religious speech can be delivered after the congregational prayer.
c. Sitting in wait for the prayers is a meritorious act.
d. It is permissible to wear a ring. Men can, however, wear only silver. Use of gold is prohibited for men (Sunan Ibn Mâjah: 3595).

693. It was narrated that Abu Sa'eed said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ led us for the Maghrib prayer. Then he did not come out until half the night had passed. Then he came out and led them in prayer, then he said: 'The people have prayed and gone to sleep, but you are still in a state of prayer so long as you are waiting for the (next) prayer. Chapter 9. Times Of Prayer When It Is Cloudy

(المعجم ٩) - بَابُ مِيقَاتِ الصَّلَاةِ فِي الْغَيْمِ (التحفة ٩)

694. It was narrated that Buraidah Al-Aslami said: "We were with the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ on a campaign, and he said: 'Hasten to perform prayer on a cloudy day, for whoever misses the 'Asr prayer, all his good deeds will be in vain.'" (Sahih)

Comments:

Sinful acts eat up the good deeds. Missing the 'Asr prayer is a grave sin, which might eat up the deeds of the whole day.

Chapter 10. Whoever Sleeps Through Prayer Or Forgets It

(المعجم ١٠) - بَابُ مَنْ نَامَ عَنِ الصَّلَاةِ أَوْ نَسِيَهَا (التحفة ١٠)

695. It was narrated that Anas bin Mâlik said: 'The Prophet ﷺ was asked about a man who forgets prayer or sleeps and misses it. He said: 'He performs it when he remembers it.'" (Sahih)

٦٩٥ - حَدَّثَنَا نَصْرُ بْنُ عَلِيٍّ الْجَهْضَمِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا يَزِيدُ بْنُ زُرَيْعٍ: حَدَّثَنَا حَجَّاجٌ: حَدَّثَنَا قَتَادَةُ، عَنْ أَنَسِ بْنِ مَالِكٍ قَالَ: سُئِلَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ عَنِ الرَّجُلِ يَغْفُلُ عَنِ الصَّلَاةِ أَوْ يَرْقُدُ عَنْهَا، قَالَ: «يُصَلِّيهَا إِذَا ذَكَرَهَا».

Comments:

a. Forgetfulness and sleep are valid excuses. No sin devolves on account of them, provided that the event is not the result of one's carelessness.

b. A prayer missed out of forgetfulness must be performed as soon as one is reminded of it. Delaying it without a valid reason is not right.

c. Do not deliberately pray at sunrise or sunset. Anyone who remembers his prayer or wakes up at the undesirable time must wait for his prayer till the undesirable time has passed.

696. It was narrated that Anas bin Mâlik said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Whoever forgets a prayer, let him perform it when he remembers it.'" (Sahih) ٦٩٦ - حَدَّثَنَا جُبَارَةُ بْنُ الْمُغَلِّسِ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو عَوَانَةَ، عَنْ قَتَادَةَ، عَنْ أَنَسِ بْنِ مَالِكٍ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «مَنْ نَسِيَ صَلَاةً فَلْيُصَلِّهَا إِذَا ذَكَرَهَا».

697. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that when the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ was coming back from the battle of Khaibar, night came and he felt sleepy, so he made camp and said to Bilâl: "Keep watch for us tonight." Bilâl prayed as much as Allâh decreed for him, and the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ and his Companions went to sleep. When dawn was approaching, Bilâl went to his mount, facing towards the east, watching for the dawn. Then Bilâl's eyes grew heavy while he was leaning on his mount (and he slept). Neither Bilâl nor any of his Companions woke until they felt the heat of the sun. The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ was the first one to wake up. The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ was startled and said: "O Bilâl!" Bilâl said: "The same thing happened

So they brought their mounts forward a little (away from that place). Then the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ performed ablution and told Bilâl to call the Iqâmah for prayer, and he led them in the prayer. When the Prophet ﷺ finished praying, he said: "Whoever forgets a Salâh, let him pray it when he remembers, for Allâh says: And perform the prayer for My remembrance."[1] He (one of the narrators) said: "Ibn Shihâb used to recite this Verse as meaning, 'when you remember.'"

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، المساجد، باب قضاء الصلوة الفائتة . . . الخ، ح: ٦٨٠ عن حرملة به.

Comments:

a. How much importance the Prophet ﷺ attached to the prayer may be gauged from the fact that even when extremely exhausted from journey, he was keen that the prayer be not delayed. That is why he ﷺ charged Bilâl ﷺ to see to it that the prayer is performed on time.
b. If there is reason to believe that any default in work is not the result of deliberate negligence, the person concerned may not be chided or rebuked but pardoned and excused.
c. Getting the party to bring their mounts forward a little was meant to help them shake off their sleepiness, so that no trace of laziness is left while they perform their prayers.
d. A missed prayer can also be performed as a congregational prayer.

698. 'Abdullâh bin Rabâh narrated that Abu Qatâdah said: "They mentioned negligence because of sleeping too much, and he said: 'They slept until the sun

'Abdullâh bin Rabâh said: "Imrân bin Husain heard me when I was narrating this Hadith and said: 'O young man, look at how you are narrating the Hadith. I was present at the time of this Hadith with the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ.' And he did not deny anything of the Hadith."

Comments:

a. It is perfectly in order if youngsters narrate prophetic Ahâdith before the elders, since in this way their mistakes in the narration, if any, would be rectified.

b. Narration of Ahâdith demands great caution lest the listeners should construe anything (mistakenly mentioned by the narrator from outside the original) as being part of the Hadith, and start acting upon it.

(المعجم ١١) - بَابُ وَقْتِ الصَّلَاةِ فِي الْعُذْرِ وَالضَّرُورَةِ (التحفة ١١)

699. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "Whoever catches one Ra'kah of the 'Asr before the sun sets, then he has caught it, and whoever catches one Ra'kah of the Subh before the sun rises, then he has caught it." (Sahih)

Comments:

a. Another Hadith reports the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ as saying: "The time for 'Asr is as long as the sun has not become pale." (Sahih Muslim: 612). So much so, that even if one is able to perform just one Rak'ah before sunset, the prayer is considered to have been performed on time. However, it is forbidden to delay the 'Asr prayer, without any valid reason — just out of laziess. Such a prayer has been characterized by the Prophet ﷺ as the 'hypocrite's prayer'. (Sahih Muslim: 622)

b. The same ruling holds good for the Fajr prayer as well, i.e., if a person is able to perform even one Rak'ah before sunrise, his prayer will be considered to have been performed on time.

700. It was narrated from 'Âishah that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "Whoever catches one Ra'kah of the Subh before the sun rises, then he has caught it, and whoever catches one Ra'kah of the 'Asr before the sun sets, then he has caught it." (Sahih)

Comments:

a. Anyone sleeping before the 'Ishâ' prayer runs the risk of not waking in time to perform the 'Ishâ' prayer or, even if he awakes, laziness might get the better of him and not allow him to perform the prayer with due submissiveness and devotion. It is, therefore, necessary that we go to sleep only after performing the 'Ishâ' prayer.
b. Staying up and talking after the 'Ishâ' is also not proper, because it could result in one's sleeping past the Fajr prayer.

702. It was narrated that 'Âishah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ did not sleep before the 'Ishâ' nor stay up (talking) after it." (Hasan)

'Âishah, the Mother of Believers ؓ, has spoken of the general habit of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ otherwise, on occasions, his having discussions with the Companions and delivering admonitions is proven from authentic Ahâdith.

The prohibition was in respect to the long sittings of poetic recitations and tale-telling that the Arabs were wont to have in those days. It does not apply to engaging in useful and purposeful speeches and discussions.

Chapter 13. Prohibition Of Saying The "'Atamah Prayer" (Prayer Of Darkness)

(المعجم ١٣) - بَابُ النَّهْيِ أَنْ يُقَالَ صَلَاةَ الْعَتَمَةِ (التحفة ١٣)

704. It was narrated that Ibn 'Umar said: "I heard the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ say: 'Do not let the Bedouin make you change the name of your prayer. It is the Ishâ', and they bring their camels in and milk them at nightfall.'" (Sahih)

Comments:

'Atamah in Arabic means darkness. Since the Bedouin used to bring their camels in for milking after darkness, they started calling the 'Ishâ' prayer the 'Atamah prayer.' However, we find the term 'Atamah also appearing in some of the Ahâdith. As such, the Prophet's command to this effect is to be taken as recommendatory rather than obligatory, i.e., it is preferable that we avoid calling it the 'Atamah prayer. And Allâh knows best.

705. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Prophet ﷺ said: "Do not let the Bedouins make you change the name of your prayer." Ibn Harmalah added: "Rather it is the 'Ishâ', but they

(3) The Chapters On The Adhân And The Sunnah Regarding It

(المعجم ٣) أَبْوَابُ الأَذَانِ وَالسُّنَّةِ فِيهَا (التحفة ...)

Comments:

a. Adhân literally means to inform somebody of something. Adhân as a special Islamic term, means a series of specific phrases repeated to proclaim the time of the prayer to the people. (Naylul-Awtâr : 1/31)

b Raising the Adhân for the five daily prayers as well as for the Friday prayer is a 'Compulsory (Wâjib) obligation.

c. Since the Adhân is but an announcement of time for the obligatory prayer, it is not the Prophet's precept to proclaim the Adhân for non-obligatory prayers such as 'Eid prayers, Duha (Forenoon Prayer), Eclipse prayers and so on.

d. It is not in order to call the Adhân before the prescribed time of the prayer.

e. It is better to call the Adhân while standing on a raised part of the ground, although the purpose of the voice reaching far is achieved through the loud speaker these days.

Chapter 1. How The Adhân Began

(المعجم ١) - بَابُ بَدْءِ الأَذَانِ (التحفة ١٤)

706. It was narrated from Muhammad bin 'Abdullâh bin Zaid that his father said that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ was thinking of a horn, and he commanded that a bell be made and it was done. Then 'Abdullâh bin Zaid had a dream. He said: "I saw a man wearing two green garments, carrying a bell. I said to him, 'O slave of Allâh, will you sell the bell?' He said; 'What will you do with it?' I said, 'I will call (the people) to prayer.' He said, 'Shall I not tell you of something better than that?' I said, 'What is it?' He said, 'Say: Allâhu Akbar

٧٠٦ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو عُبَيْدٍ، مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عُبَيْدِ بْنِ مَيْمُونٍ [الْمَدَنِيُّ]: حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ سَلَمَةَ الْحَرَّانِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ إِسْحَاقَ: حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ إِبْرَاهِيمَ التَّيْمِيُّ، عَنْ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ زَيْدٍ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ قَالَ: كَانَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ قَدْ هَمَّ بِالْبُوقِ، وَأَمَرَ بِالنَّاقُوسِ فَنُحِتَ، فَأُرِيَ عَبْدُ اللهِ بْنُ زَيْدٍ فِي الْمَنَامِ، قَالَ: رَأَيْتُ رَجُلاً عَلَيْهِ ثَوْبَانِ أَخْضَرَانِ، يَحْمِلُ نَاقُوساً، فَقُلْتُ لَهُ: يَا عَبْدَ اللهِ! تَبِيعُ النَّاقُوسَ؟ قَالَ: وَمَا تَصْنَعُ بِهِ؟ قُلْتُ: أُنَادِي بِهِ إِلَى الصَّلاَةِ، قَالَ: أَفَلاَ أَدُلُّكَ عَلَى خَيْرٍ

'Abdullâh bin Zaid went out and came to the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ, and told him what he had seen. He said, 'O Messenger of Allâh, I saw a man wearing two green garments carrying a bell,'' and he told him the story. The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said, "Your companion has had a dream. Go out with Bilâl to the mosque and teach it to him, for he has a louder voice than you." I ('Abdullâh) went out with Bilâl to the mosque, and I started teaching him the words and he was calling them out. 'Umar bin Al-Khattâb heard Abu 'Ubaid said: "Abu Bakr Al-Hakami told me that 'Abdullâh bin Zaid Al-Ansâri said concerning that:

'I praise Allâh, the Possessor of majesty and honor,

A great deal of praise for the Adhân.

Since the news of it came to me from Allâh,

So due to it, I was honored by the information.

During the three nights.

Each of which increased me in honor.'"

قَالَ أَبُو عُبَيْدٍ: فَأَخْبَرَنِي أَبُو بَكْرٍ الْحَكَمِيُّ أَنَّ عَبْدَ اللهِ بْنَ زَيْدٍ الأَنْصَارِيَّ قَالَ فِي ذٰلِكَ:

Comments:

a. Allâh sometimes even sends His guidance to a virtuous believer through dreams. That is why the Prophet ﷺ has said: "The dream of a believer is one forty-sixth part of Prophecy." (Sahih Muslim).

b. A mere dream cannot be the basis for deducing any religious principle. The vision seen by 'Abdullâh bin Zaid became a tenet of Shari'ah only with the approval of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ.

c. Administrative affairs, even in matters of religion, must be decided through mutual consultation among the believers. Matters proven from an express text of the Book or Sunnah are exempt from this requirement. They must be implemented right away.

d. The incident affirms the virtues of 'Abdullâh bin Zaid and 'Umar ﷺ.

e. The Mu'adh-dhin (caller to prayer) chosen to call the Adhân, should be a person with a louder voice.

707. It was narrated from Sâlim, from his father, that the Prophet ﷺ consulted the people as to how he could call them to the prayer. They suggested a horn, but he disliked that because of the Jews

٧٠٧ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ خَالِدِ بْنِ عَبْدِ اللهِ الْوَاسِطِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبِي، عَنْ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمٰنِ بْنِ إِسْحَاقَ، عَنِ الزُّهْرِيِّ، عَنْ سَالِمٍ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ اسْتَشَارَ النَّاسَ لِمَا يُهِمُّهُمْ إِلَى

(because the Jews used a horn). Then they suggested a bell but he disliked that because of the Christians (because the Christians used a bell). Then that night the call to the prayer was shown in a dream to a man from among the Ansâr whose name was 'Abdullâh bin Zaid, and to 'Umar bin Khattâb. The Ansâri man came to the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ at night, and the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ commanded Bilâl to give the call to the prayer. (Da'if)

Zuhri said: "Bilâl added the phrase "As-salâtu khairum minan-nawm (the prayer is better than sleep)" to the call for the morning prayer, and the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ approved of that." 'Umar said: "O Messenger of Allâh, I saw the same as he did, but he beat me to it."

الصَّلاَةِ، فَذَكَرُوا الْبُوقَ، فَكَرِهَهُ مِنْ أَجْلِ الْيَهُودِ، ثُمَّ ذَكَرُوا النَّاقُوسَ، فَكَرِهَهُ مِنْ أَجْلِ النَّصَارَى، فَأُرِيَ النِّدَاءَ تِلْكَ اللَّيْلَةَ رَجُلٌ مِنَ الأَنْصَارِ يُقَالُ لَهُ عَبْدُ اللهِ بْنُ زَيْدٍ، وَعُمَرُ بْنُ الْخَطَّابِ، فَطَرَقَ الأَنْصَارِيُّ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ لَيْلاً، فَأَمَرَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ بِلاَلاً بِهِ، فَأَذَّنَ.

قَالَ عُمَرُ: يَا رَسُولَ اللهِ! قَدْ رَأَيْتُ مِثْلَ الَّذِي رَأَى، وَلٰكِنَّهُ سَبَقَنِي.

Comments:

a. It was an accepted principle with the Companions that copying the Jews and Christians was not a desirable act.

b. The addition of the sentence meaning: "The prayer is better than sleep" to the Fajr prayer was also made with the approval of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ. As such it is also a part of his Sunnah.

Mahdhurah bin Mi'yar that when he was preparing him to travel to Shâm, he said: 'O my uncle, I am going out to Shâm, and I will be asked about how you started the Adhân.' So he informed me that. Abu Mahdhurah said: 'I went out with a group of people, and we were somewhere on the road, when the Mu'adh-dhin of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ gave the call to prayer in the presence of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ. We heard the voice of the Mu'adh-dhin, and we were shunning it (the Adhân), so we started yelling, imitating it and mocking it. The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ heard us, so he sent some people who brought us to sit in front of him. He said: 'Who is the one whose voice I heard so loud?' The people all pointed to me, and they were telling the truth. He sent them all away, but kept me there and said to me: 'Stand up and give the call to prayer.' I stood up and there was nothing more hateful to me than the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ and what he was telling me to do. I stood up in front of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ and the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ himself taught me the call. He said: "Say: 'Allâhu Akbar Allâhu Akbar, Allâhu Akbar Allâhu Akbar; Ash-hadu an lâ ilâha illallâh, Ashhadu an lâ ilâha illallâh; Ash-hadu anna Muhammadan Rasulullâh, Ash-hadu anna Muhammadan Rasulullâh (Allâh is the Most Great, Allâh is the Most Great, Allâh is the Most

Then he called me when I had finished saying the Adhân, and gave me a small bag in which there was some silver.' Then he put his hand on the forelock of Abu Mahdhurah, then passed it over his face, then over his chest, and over his heart, until the hand of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ reached his navel. Then the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'May Allâh bless you and send blessings upon you.' I said: 'O Messenger of Allâh, do you command me to give the call to prayer in Makkah? He said: 'Yes, I command you (to do so).' Then all the hatred I had felt towards the Messenger of Allâh disappeared, and was replaced with love for the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ. I came to 'Attâb bin Asid, the governor of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ in Makkah, and gave the call to prayer with him by command of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ." (Sahih)

He ('Abdul-'Aziz) said: "Someone who met Abu Mahdhurah told me the same as 'Abdullâh bin Muhairiz told me."

Comments:

a. On hearing the loud voice of Abu Mahdhurah, the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ decided to make him a Mu'adh-dhin (caller to prayer). Thus, everyone must be assigned the task in keeping with his ability, so that he is able to do it well.

b. It is also a useful proposition to give awards to children for their encouragement. The award could either be in the form of cash or of something of utility, or just a few words of praise or blessing.

c. If a capable person makes a request for an office or job, it could be assigned to him, although it is not desirable to crave an office or position.

d. The act of repeating the twice uttered words of testimony called Tarji' (repetition of recitation) is a Sunnah of the Prophet ﷺ. In everyday use it is called 'Dual Adhân'. The Mu'adh-dhin is at liberty whether to say the Adhân with or without Tarji'. Both methods are permissible.

709. It was narrated that Abu Mahdhurah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ taught me the Adhân with nineteen phrases and the

Comments:

Some people say that making Tarji' in Adhân is the result of Abu Mahdhurah's misunderstanding. Had Abu Mahdhurah got it wrong in Adhân in the days of the Prophet ﷺ, Allâh would have informed the Prophet ﷺ through Wahy (revelation), and he would have communicated the command to Abu Mahdhurah.

As to the chain of narration, the tradition is Weak, but the content is correct.

711. It was narrated from 'Awn bin Abu Juhaifah that his father said: "I came to the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ in Abtah, when he was in a red tent. Bilâl came out and gave the call to prayer, turning around and putting his fingers in his ears."(Hasan)

Comments:

a. Even while on journey, it is necessary to call Adhân for the congregational prayer.
b. 'Turning around in his Adhân' means turning his face right and left while saying Hayya 'alas-salâh and Hayya 'alal-falâh respectively.
c. It confirms the practice of putting the fingers in one's ears during Adhân.

712. It was narrated that Ibn 'Umar said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: There are two characteristics in which the Muslims are dependent upon their Mu'adh-dhins: their prayer and their fasting." (Da'if)

٧١٢ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ الْمُصَفَّى الْحِمْصِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا بَقِيَّةُ، عَنْ مَرْوَانَ بْنِ سَالِمٍ، عَنْ عَبْدِ الْعَزِيزِ بْنِ أَبِي رَوَّادٍ، عَنْ نَافِعٍ، عَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «خَصْلَتَانِ مُعَلَّقَتَانِ فِي أَعْنَاقِ الْمُؤَذِّنِينَ لِلْمُسْلِمِينَ: صَلَاتُهُمْ

Comments:

If the Imâm takes a little time before he comes to lead the prayer, the worshipers should patiently wait for him, and not put forward another man in haste in his place. It is, however, another matter if we know for certain that the regular Imâm is not available to lead the congregation at that time. In that case someone else may be asked to lead the prayer.

714. It was narrated that 'Uthmân bin Abul-Âs said: "The last instruction that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ gave to me was that I should not appoint a Mu'adh-dhin who took payment for the Adhân." (Sahih)

a. It is for the Imâm to appoint the Mu'adh-dhin.

Comments:

The word Tathwib used in the context means saying As-salâtu khairum minan-nawm (the prayer is better than sleep). The Hadith confirms that the words As-salâtu khairum minan-nawm were included in the Adhân for Fajr at the bidding of the Prophet ﷺ himself.

716. It was narrated that Bilâl came to the Prophet ﷺ to call him for the Fajr prayer, and was told: "He is sleeping." He said: "As-salâtu khairum minan-nawm, As-salâtu khairum min an-nawm (The prayer is better than sleep, the prayer is better than sleep). These words were approved of in the Adhân for the Fajr, and that is how it remained. (Da'if)

Comments:

When the Mu'adh-dhin calls the Adhân we should say as the Mu'adh-dhin says. But when the Mu'adh-dhin says: "Hayya 'alas-salâh (Come for the prayer)" and "Hayya 'alal-falâh (Come to prosperity)" we are to say: "Lâ hawla wa la quwwata illa billâh" (There is no change of conditions nor power except by Allâh)." (Muslim: 385).

719. Umm Habibah narrated that when the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ was with her on her day and night, and he heard the Mu'adh-dhin calling the Adhân, she heard him saying what he said. (Hasan)

Comments:

What it all means is that when the Mu'adh-dhin says Allâhu Akbar, the listener should also say Allâhu Akbar. Thus he should repeat after each phrase. It does not mean that the listener listens silently and repeats the entire Adhân after the Mu'adh-dhin has finished it (Muslim: 385).

721. It was narrated from Sa'd bin Abu Waqqâs that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "Whoever says, when he hears the Mu'adh-dhin, 'Wa ana Ash-hadu an lâ ilâha illallâh wahdahu lâ sharika lahu, wa ash-hadu anna Muhammadan 'abduhu wa rasuluhu, radaytu Billâhi rabban wa bil-Islâmi dinan wa bi Muhammadin nabiyyan (And I bear witness that none has the right to be worshiped but Allâh alone, with no partner, and I bear witness that Muhammad is His slave and Messenger, and I am content with Allâh as my Lord, Islam as my religion and Muhammad as my Prophet),' his sins will be forgiven to him." Comments:

a. Affirmation of the Oneness of Allâh (monotheism) and the institution of prophethood is the very foundation of Islam and a prerequisite for salvation.

b. To be content with Allâh as one's Lord (Rabb) means to believe in His Lordship as it suits His majesty. The feeling that He alone is the Dispenser of all favours and Provider of all the necessities of life to us, creates a sense of gratitude and love in our hearts.

722. It was narrated that Jâbir bin 'Abdullâh said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Whoever says when he hears the call to the prayer: "Allâhumma Rabba hâdhihid-da'watit-tâmmah was-salâtil-qâ'imah, âti Muhammadanil-wasilata wal-fadilah, wab'athhu maqâman mahmudanilladhi wa'adtah (O Allâh, Lord of this perfect call and the prayer to be offered, grant Muhammad the privilege (of intercession) and also the eminence, and resurrect him to the praised position that You have promised)," my intercession for him will be permitted on the Day of Resurrection.'" Comments:

a. There will be intercession on the Day of Resurrection. First of all, the Prophets will be granted this privilege (of intercession). Thereafter, the believers, one by one according to their ranks, will be allowed to intercede.

b. Al-Wasilah is the name of the highest station in Paradise reserved for the most exalted and loved one of Allâh in the entire humankind, i.e., the Prophet Muhammad ﷺ. (Sahih Muslim: 384)

c. Maqâm Mahmud (the praised position) means the privilege of grand intercession on behalf of the the sinners promised by Allâh to be granted only to the Last of the Prophets Muhammad ﷺ.

d. These are the only authentic words of supplication after Adhân taught by the Prophet ﷺ.

Chapter 5. The Virtue Of The Adhân And The Reward Of The Mu'adh-dhin

(المعجم ٥) - بَابُ فَضْلِ الأَذَانِ وَثَوَابِ الْمُؤَذِّنِينَ (التحفة ١٨)

723. It was narrated from 'Abdullâh bin 'Abdur-Rahmân bin Abu Sa'sa'ah that his father, who was under the care of Abu Sa'eed, said: "Abu Sa'eed said to me: 'If you are in the desert, raise your voice when you say the Adhân, for I heard the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ say: 'No jinn, human, tree or rock will hear it, but it will bear witness for you.'" (Sahih) ٧٢٣ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ الصَّبَّاحِ: حَدَّثَنَا سُفْيَانُ بْنُ عُيَيْنَةَ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمٰنِ بْنِ أَبِي صَعْصَعَةَ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، وَكَانَ أَبُوهُ فِي حِجْرِ أَبِي سَعِيدٍ، قَالَ: قَالَ لِي أَبُو سَعِيدٍ: إِذَا كُنْتَ فِي الْبَوَادِي، فَارْفَعْ صَوْتَكَ بِالأَذَانِ، فَإِنِّي سَمِعْتُ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ يَقُولُ: «لاَ يَسْمَعُهُ جِنٌّ وَلاَ إِنْسٌ وَلاَ شَجَرٌ وَلاَ حَجَرٌ، إِلَّا شَهِدَ لَهُ».

Comments:

a. If a man who is in a lonely place and calls the Adhân for his prayer in obedience to the commands of Allâh and His Prophet ﷺ, even for him the Prophet's instruction is to call the Adhân in a loud voice.

b. Even inanimate objects have some kind of consciousness which we are not aware of.

c. Conditions in the Hereafter and on the Day of Resurrections will be totally different from the Divine laws operating in this world. Even inanimate objects shall be witnesses for or against human beings.

d. Mu'adh-dhin occupy a place of great eminence near Allâh. The reason being that the Adhân is the doorway to the congregational prayer.

Comments:

'Sins being forgiven as far as the Mu'adh-dhin's voice reaches' means his sins will be forgiven even if they are so numerous as to occupy such a vast expanse of the earth.

725. It was narrated that 'Esa bin Talhah said: "I heard Mu'âwiyah bin Abu Sufyân say that Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "The Mu'adh-dhins will have the longest necks of all people on the Day of Resurrection." (Sahih)

Comments:

'Mu'adh-dhin having the longest necks' could either be an expression for their lofty and elevated position, or simply a statement of fact.

726. It was narrated that Ibn 'Abbâs said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Let the best of you give the call to prayer (Adhân), and let those who are most versed in the Qur'ân lead you in prayer.'" (Da'if)

(4) The Chapters On The Mosques And The Congregations

(المعجم ٤) أَبْوَابُ الْمَسَاجِدِ وَالْجَمَاعَاتِ (التحفة ...)

Comments:

a. The mosque is, without doubt, the most important of all structures in an Islamic state and an Islamic society.

b. In the early days of Islam all devotional acts and non-obligatory prayers were only carried out in the Sacred House at Makkah. But when an organized Islamic authority came into being, after emigration, in Al-Madinah, the first thing the Prophet ﷺ did, was to lay with his own blessed hands, the foundation of a mosque at Qubâ'. He then followed it up with the construction of what came to be called the Prophet's Mosque. Side by side with the Prophet ﷺ the Emigrants (Muhâjir) and Helpers (Ansâr), with great zeal and fervor, participated in the construction of the mosque.

c. Receiving wages for providing various facilities such as arrangement for lighting and the performance of ablution etc., in the mosque, is permissible in Islam, but it is a highly commendable act if some one donates, free of charge, a piece of land or building materials etc., just for the sake of Allâh.

d. Although the entire face of the earth has been proclaimed as mosque for the Believers, it is not in order to perform prayer in places like garbage dumping spots, animal slaughterhouses, graveyards, baths at public places, camels' enclosures, and the top of the Sacred House.

e. Mosques play an extremely significant and fundamental role in the building of the Islamic society. The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ used the mosque for a myriad of purposes — as the capital of the Islamic state, as a command center for military expeditions, as a consultation chamber for state affairs, as a public treasury, as an Islamic court, as the first Islamic university, as a Civil secretariat, as a state guest house, and for many other constructive purposes. The Noble Qur'ân, however, particularized the mosque only for purposes of prayer and remembrance of Allâh, and as a place most suited for bowing and prostrating before Allâh, for delivering sermons and for the communication of the Divine message, as well as for the recitation of the Noble Qur'ân and the learning and teaching of the tenets of faith.

f. Management of the mosque and their upkeep is the primary duty of the Believers. But the way the mosques are being increasingly used for purposes contrary to the precepts of the Prophet ﷺ is a matter of great concern, and needs critical examination. For more information about the institution of the mosques and the necessary etiquettes in respect of them, one would do well to study the forthcoming Ahâdîth.

Chapter 1. One Who Builds A Mosque For The Sake Of Allâh

(المعجم ١) - بَابُ مَنْ بَنَى لِلّهِ مَسْجِداً (التحفة ٢١)

735. It was narrated that 'Umar bin Khattâb said: "I heard the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ say: 'Whoever builds a mosque in which the Name of Allâh is mentioned, Allâh will build a house for him in Paradise.'" (Sahih)

٧٣٥ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا يُونُسُ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا لَيْثُ بْنُ سَعْدٍ ح: وَحَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا دَاوُدُ بْنُ عَبْدِ اللهِ الْجَعْفَرِيُّ، عَنْ عَبْدِ الْعَزِيزِ بْنِ مُحَمَّدٍ جَمِيعاً عَنْ يَزِيدَ بْنِ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ أُسَامَةَ بْنِ الْهَادِ، عَنِ الْوَلِيدِ بْنِ أَبِي الْوَلِيدِ، عَنْ عُثْمانَ ابْنِ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ سُرَاقَةَ الْعَدَوِيِّ، عَنْ عُمَرَ بْنِ الْخَطَّابِ قَالَ: سَمِعْتُ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ يَقُولُ: «مَنْ بَنَى مَسْجِداً يُذْكَرُ فِيهِ اسْمُ اللهِ، بَنَى اللهُ لَهُ بَيْتاً فِي الْجَنَّةِ».

تخريج: [صحيح] أخرجه أحمد: ١/٢٠ بسنده عن ليث به * عثمان بن عبدالله عن عمر مرسل (تهذيب الكمال وغيره)، وللحديث شواهد صحيحة.

Comments:

a. 'Mentioning the Name of Allâh' means not only the performance of prayer, but also other devotional acts, such as the recitation of prophetic supplications and other texts containing the remembrance of Allâh, and the glorification of His majesty. It also includes giving admonitions, delivering the message of Islam, as well as the learning and teaching of the tenets of Islam.

b. It is great tiding for anyone who participates in the building of a mosque that, as a reward for it, Allâh will build a house for him in Paradise. This amounts to a Divine promise that such a person shall certainly be admitted to Paradise.

736. It was narrated that 'Uthmân bin 'Affân said: "I heard the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ say: 'Whoever builds a mosque for the sake of Allâh, Allâh will build something similar for him in Paradise.'" (Sahih)

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، المساجد، باب فضل بناء المساجد والحث عليها، ح:٥٣٣ من حديث عبدالحميد به.

Comments:

a. Building a mosque "for the sake of Allâh' means doing the deed with full sincerity. No action done without sincerity is acceptable to Allâh.

b. 'Building something similar in Paradise' means that just as a mosque is superior to all the other structures raised by man, the person concerned shall be given a house in Paradise that will be superior to all others.

737. It was narrated that 'Ali bin Abu Tâlib said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Whoever builds a mosque for the sake of Allâh (from his own wealth), Allâh will build a house for him in Paradise.'" (Da'if) ٧٣٧ - حَدَّثَنَا الْعَبَّاسُ بْنُ عُثْمَانَ الدِّمَشْقِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا الْوَلِيدُ بْنُ مُسْلِمٍ، عَنِ ابْنِ لَهِيعَةَ: حَدَّثَنِي أَبُو الأَسْوَدِ، عَنْ عُرْوَةَ، عَنْ عَلِيِّ بْنِ أَبِي طَالِبٍ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «مَنْ بَنَى مَسْجِدًا لِلَّهِ [مِنْ مَالِهِ]، بَنَى اللهُ لَهُ بَيْتاً فِي الْجَنَّةِ».

تخريج: [إسناده ضعيف] وقال البوصيري: هذا إسناد ضعيف، الوليد مدلس، وابن لهيعة ضعيف، والحديث السابق شاهد له.

738. It was narrated from Jâbir bin 'Abdullâh that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "Whoever builds a mosque for the sake of Allâh, like a sparrow's nest or even smaller, Allâh will build for him a house in Paradise." (Sahih) ٧٣٨ - حَدَّثَنَا يُونُسُ بْنُ عَبْدِ الأَعْلَىٰ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللهِ بْنُ وَهْبٍ، عَنْ إِبْرَاهِيمَ بْنِ نَشِيطٍ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمٰنِ بْنِ أَبِي حُسَيْنٍ النَّوْفَلِيِّ، عَنْ عَطَاءِ بْنِ أَبِي رَبَاحٍ، عَنْ جَابِرِ ابْنِ عَبْدِ اللهِ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ قَالَ: «مَنْ بَنَى مَسْجِداً لِلَّهِ كَمَفْحَصِ قَطَاةٍ، أَوْ أَصْغَرَ، بَنَى اللهُ لَهُ بَيْتاً فِي الْجَنَّةِ».

تخريج: [إسناده صحيح] وقال البوصيري: هذا إسناد صحيح.

Comments:

Rather than the apparent volume of the deed or deeds done by a person, it is the amount of effort and the sincerity behind the righteous deed that shall count with Allâh in the Hereafter.

Chapter 2. Construction Of Lofty Mosque

(المعجم ٢) - بَابُ تَشْيِيدِ الْمَسَاجِدِ (التحفة ٢٢)

739. It was narrated that Anas

٧٣٩ - حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللهِ بْنُ مُعَاوِيَةَ الْجُمَحِيُّ:

bin Mâlik said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'The Hour will not begin until the people compete in (building) mosques.'" (Sahih)

حَدَّثَنَا حَمَّادُ بْنُ سَلَمَةَ، عَنْ أَيُّوبَ، عَنْ أَبِي قِلَابَةَ، عَنْ أَنَسِ بْنِ مَالِكٍ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «لَا تَقُومُ السَّاعَةُ حَتَّى يَتَبَاهَى النَّاسُ فِي الْمَسَاجِدِ».

تخريج: [إسناده صحيح] أخرجه أبوداود، الصلوة، باب في بناء المساجد، ح:٤٤٩ من حديث حماد به، وصححه ابن خزيمة: ٢/ ٢٨٢.

Comments:

'Competing in mosque' has been interpreted in two ways: (i) People will boast of their wealth and prosperity in the mosques. (ii) They will vie with each other in the building of mosques.

740. It was narrated that Ibn 'Abbâs said: The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "I see you building your mosque high after I am gone, just as the Jews built their synagogues high and the Christians built their churches high." (Da'if)

تخريج: [إسناده ضعيف جدًا] وقال البوصيري: هذا إسناد ضعيف، فيه ليث وهو ابن أبي سليم ضعيف، وجبارة بن المغلس وهو كذاب ، والبجلي مستور.

741. It was narrated that 'Umar bin Khattâb said: The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "No people's deeds ever became evil deeds but they started to adorn their places of worship." (Da'if) ٧٤١ - حَدَّثَنَا جُبَارَةُ بْنُ الْمُغَلِّسِ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الْكَرِيمِ بْنُ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمٰنِ، عَنْ أَبِي إِسْحَاقَ، عَنْ عَمْرِو بْنِ مَيْمُونٍ، عَنْ عُمَرَ بْنِ الْخَطَّابِ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «مَا سَاءَ عَمَلُ قَوْمٍ قَطُّ إِلَّا زَخْرَفُوا مَسَاجِدَهُمْ».

تخريج: [إسناده ضعيف جدًا] انظر الحديث السابق لعلته وح:٤٦.

Chapter 3. Where It Is Permissible To Build Mosque

(المعجم ٣) - بَابُ أَيْنَ يَجُوزُ بِنَاءُ الْمَسَاجِدِ (التحفة ٢٣)

742. It was narrated that Anas

٧٤٢ - حَدَّثَنَا عَلِيُّ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا وَكِيعٌ، bin Mâlik said: "The location where the Prophet's Mosque was built belonged to Banu Najjâr. In it there were date-palm trees and graves of the idolaters. The Prophet ﷺ said to them: 'Name its price.' They said: 'We will never take any money for it.' The Prophet ﷺ built it and they were assisting him, and the Prophet ﷺ was saying: 'The real life is the life of the Hereafter so forgive the Ansâr and the Muhâjirah.' Before the mosque was built, the Prophet ﷺ would perform prayer wherever he was when the time for prayer came." (Sahih) عَنْ حَمَّادِ بْنِ سَلَمَةَ، عَنْ أَبِي التَّيَّاحِ الضُّبَعِيِّ، عَنْ أَنَسِ بْنِ مَالِكٍ قَالَ: كَانَ مَوْضِعُ مَسْجِدِ النَّبِيِّ ﷺ لِبَنِي النَّجَّارِ، وَكَانَ فِيهِ نَخْلٌ وَمَقَابِرُ لِلْمُشْرِكِينَ، فَقَالَ لَهُمُ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ: «ثَامِنُونِي بِهِ». قَالُوا: لاَ نَأْخُذُ لَهُ ثَمَناً أَبَداً، قَالَ: فَكَانَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ يَبْنِيهِ وَهُمْ يُنَاوِلُونَهُ، وَالنَّبِيُّ ﷺ يَقُولُ: «أَلاَ إِنَّ الْعَيْشَ عَيْشُ الآخِرَةِ، فَاغْفِرْ لِلأَنْصَارِ وَالْمُهَاجِرَةِ» قَالَ: وَكَانَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ يُصَلِّي قَبْلَ أَنْ يَبْنِيَ الْمَسْجِدَ حَيْثُ أَدْرَكَتْهُ الصَّلاَةُ.

Comments:

a. It is perfectly in order to 'purchase' land for the construction of a mosque, and the landowner is allowed in Islam to charge price for the land sold to the mosque management. Similarly, there is no bar to receiving wages for services rendered for the construction, repairs and the putting in place of electric and water supply systems for the mosque.

b. Gifting land for the building of a mosque, rendering free various services for it and donating things of necessity to it, are acts of great virtue that may earn reward from Allâh.

c. It is prohibited to perform prayer in the graveyard. However, if all traces of the former graves of the past have been erased, the site shall be considered as good as any other piece of land, and there will be no bar to the construction of a mosque there.

d. There is no bar either on reciting or on listening to the verses of poetry whose contents are not aganist the teaching of Sharî'ah. Use of musical instruments as accompaniment thereto is, however, prohibited in Islam.

e. In places where there is no mosque in the neighborhood, prayer can be performed on any appropriate piece of land.

744. It was narrated that Ibn 'Umar was asked about gardens in which excrement was thrown. He said: "If it has been watered several times, then perform prayer there," and he attributed that to the Prophet ﷺ. (Da'if)

تخريج: [إسناده ضعيف] وقال البوصيري: هذا إسناد ضعيف لتدليس ابن إسحاق * وعمرو بن عثمان بن سيار الرقي ضعيف كما في التقريب.

Comments:

Repeated watering in the gardens turns the excrements etc., used in them (as manure) into soil and almost completely changes its character. The earth, therefore, should be considered as clean. The Hadith proves that any unclean piece of land, when cleansed, becomes fit for erecting a mosque into it and for performing prayers in it.

Chapter 4. Places Where It Is Disliked To Perform Prayer

(المعجم ٤) - بَابُ الْمَوَاضِعِ الَّتِي تُكْرَهُ فِيهَا الصَّلَاةُ (التحفة ٢٤)

745. It was narrated that Abu Sa'eed Khudri said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'All the earth is a mosque, except for graveyards and Hammâm.'" (Sahih)[2]

٧٤٥ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ يَحْيَىٰ: حَدَّثَنَا يَزِيدُ ابْنُ هَارُونَ: حَدَّثَنَا سُفْيَانُ، عَنْ عَمْرِو بْنِ يَحْيَىٰ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ. وَحَمَّادُ بْنُ سَلَمَةَ، عَنْ عَمْرِو بْنِ يَحْيَىٰ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ أَبِي سَعِيدٍ الْخُدْرِيِّ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «الأَرْضُ

[1] 'Where they used to worship others besides Allâh, from the idols and other than that.' (Explanation by Sindi).

[2] Hammâm: It is the place (it is not restricted to a room) where washing is performed with hot water, and they also say it includes any kind of water. See Tuhfatul-Ahwadhi.

تخريج: [إسناده صحيح] أخرجه أبوداود، الصلوة، باب في المواضع التي لا تجوز فيها الصلوة، ح:٤٩٢، وعلقه الترمذي من حديث حماد به، وصححه ابن خزيمة، وابن حبان، والحاكم، والذهبي.

Comments:

a. Prohibition on performing prayers in the graveyard is meant to avoid any resemblance of prostrating before the graves.

b. Some people build their mosque close to the grave of a 'holy man' or Prophet under the assumption that praying by the side of the deceased holy man is a virtuous act. All of this is prohibited in Islam.

746. It was narrated that Ibn 'Umar said: "Allâh's Messenger ﷺ prohibited prayer from being performed in seven places: The garbage dump, the slaughtering area, the graveyard, the commonly used road, the bathroom, in the area that camels rest at,[1] and above the Ka'bah." (Da'if)

٧٤٦ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ إِبْرَاهِيمَ الدِّمَشْقِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللهِ بْنُ يَزِيدَ، عَنْ يَحْيَى بْنِ أَيُّوبَ، عَنْ زَيْدِ بْنِ جَبِيرَةَ، عَنْ دَاوُدَ بْنِ الْحُصَيْنِ، عَنْ نَافِعٍ، عَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ: نَهَى رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ أَنْ يُصَلَّى فِي سَبْعِ مَوَاطِنَ: فِي الْمَزْبَلَةِ، وَالْمَجْزَرَةِ، وَالْمَقْبَرَةِ، وقَارِعَةِ الطَّرِيقِ، وَالْحَمَّامِ، ومَعَاطِنِ الْإِبِلِ، وَفَوْقَ الْكَعْبَةِ.

تخريج: [إسناده ضعيف] أخرجه الترمذي، الصلوة، باب ماجاء في كراهية ما يصلى إليه وفيه، ح:٣٤٦ من حديث عبدالله بن يزيد المقرىء به، وقال: إسناده ليس بذاك القوي، وقد تكلم في زيد بن جبيرة من قبل حفظه ، وهو متروك كما في التقريب وغيره، وقال الساجي: حدث عن داود بن الحصين بحديث منكر جدًا (التهذيب)، والحديث الآتي يغني عنه.

Comments:

a. The Hadith is 'Weak', yet the rule to the effect that we must avoid praying in unclean places is correct, since the Prophet ﷺ has directed that the mosque must be kept clean and smelling good. (See Sunan Ibn Mâjah: H.758).

b. Slaughterhouses also fall in that category. Therefore, no prayer should be performed there. The Hadith concerning prohibition of prayer in wash areas (public baths) and graveyards is correct. (See no. 745).

[1] In no. 746, it is possible that it means 'watering holes' that camels rest at. See Tuhfatul-Ahwadhi, and this is the meaning that Sindi preferred, he said: "It is where they kneel around water, because it is feared that the camels will flee and stampede through it, and perhaps that will lead to ruining the prayer." And this is the understanding that most commentaries endorse.

747. It was narrated from 'Umar bin Khattâb that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "There are seven places where it is not permissible to perform the prayer: The top of the House of Allâh; graveyards; garbage dumps; slaughterhouses; bathrooms; the area that camels rest, and the main road." (Da'if) ٧٤٧ - حَدَّثَنَا عَلِيُّ بْنُ دَاوُدَ، وَ مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ أَبِي الْحُسَيْنِ، قَالاَ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو صَالِحٍ: حَدَّثَنِي اللَّيْثُ، حَدَّثَنِي نَافِعٌ، عَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ، عَنْ عُمَرَ بْنِ الْخَطَّابِ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ قَالَ: «سَبْعُ مَوَاطِنَ لاَ تَجُوزُ فِيهَا الصَّلاَةُ: ظَاهِرُ بَيْتِ اللهِ، وَالْمَقْبَرَةُ، وَالْمَزْبَلَةُ، وَالْمَجْزَرَةُ، وَالْحَمَّامُ، وَعَطَنُ الْإِبِلِ، وَمَحَجَّةُ الطَّرِيقِ».

Chapter 5. What Is Disliked In The Mosques

(المعجم ٥) - بَابُ مَا يُكْرَهُ فِي الْمَسَاجِدِ (التحفة ٢٥)

748. It was narrated from Ibn 'Umar that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "There are things which are not befitting for the mosque: it should not be taken as a thoroughfare; weapons should not be unsheathed in it; bows should not be drawn nor arrows shot in it; no one should pass through it carrying raw meat; no prescribed punishment or retaliatory punishment should be carried out in it; and it should not be used as a marketplace." (Da'if)

٧٤٨ - حَدَّثَنَا يَحْيَى بْنُ عُثْمَانَ بْنِ سَعِيدِ ابْنِ كَثِيرِ بْنِ دِينَارٍ الْحِمْصِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ ابْنُ حِمْيَرَ: حَدَّثَنَا زَيْدُ بْنُ جَبِيرَةَ الأَنْصَارِيُّ، عَنْ دَاوُدَ بْنِ الْحُصَيْنِ، عَنْ نَافِعٍ، عَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ، عَنْ رَسُولِ اللهِ ﷺ قَالَ: «خِصَالٌ لاَ تَنْبَغِي فِي الْمَسْجِدِ: لاَ يُتَّخَذُ طَرِيقاً، وَلاَ يُشْهَرُ فِيهِ سِلاَحٌ، وَلاَ يُقْبَضُ فِيهِ بِقَوْسٍ وَلاَ يُنْشَرُ فِيهِ نَبْلٌ، وَلاَ يُمَرُّ فِيهِ بِلَحْمٍ نَيِءٍ، وَلاَ يُضْرَبُ فِيهِ حَدٌّ وَلاَ يُقْتَصُّ فِيهِ مِنْ أَحَدٍ، وَلاَ يُتَّخَذُ سُوقاً».

تخريج: [إسناده ضعيف جدًا] أخرجه ابن عدي انظر، ح:٧٤٦ لعلته، وضعفه البوصيري.

Comments:

'Not taking the mosque as a thoroughfare' refers to a situation where, for example, a person is standing at one end outside the mosque and wants to go to the other side and, instead of going around the mosque, he decides to pass through the mosque. This is not proper.

749. It was narrated from 'Amr bin Shu'aib, from his father, that his grandfather said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ forbade buying and selling in the mosque, and reciting poetry in the mosque." (Hasan)

٧٤٩ - حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللهِ بْنُ سَعِيدٍ الْكِنْدِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو خَالِدٍ الأَحْمَرُ، عَنِ ابْنِ عَجْلَانَ، عَنْ عَمْرِو بْنِ شُعَيْبٍ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ جَدِّهِ قَالَ: نَهَى رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ عَنِ الْبَيْعِ وَالابْتِيَاعِ وَعَنْ تَنَاشُدِ الأَشْعَارِ فِي الْمَسَاجِدِ.

تخريج: [إسناده حسن] أخرجه أبوداود، الصلوة، باب التحلق يوم الجمعة قبل الصلوة، ح:١٠٧٩ من حديث ابن عجلان به، وحسنه الترمذي، ح:٣٢٢ * ابن عجلان صرح بالسماع عند أحمد.

Comments:

a. The Hadith further confirms the point made in no.748, namely the prohibition of using the mosque as a marketplace. It is because buying and selling often degenerates into wrangling, giving rise to unseemly noises that are antithetical to the dignity of the mosque.

b. Lines of poetry that promote monotheism and good moral conduct or degrade idolatry and idolaters, are allowed to be recited inside the mosques.

750. It was narrated from Wâthilah bin Asqa' that the Prophet ﷺ said: "Keep your infants, your insane and your evil ones away from your mosques. Avoid engaging in transactions and disputes, raising your voices, carrying out your prescribed punishments and unsheathing your swords therein. Make places for purification at their gates, and perfume them with incense on Fridays." (Maudu')

٧٥٠ - حَدَّثَنَا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ يُوسُفَ السُّلَمِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا مُسْلِمُ بْنُ إِبْرَاهِيمَ: حَدَّثَنَا الْحَارِثُ بْنُ نَبْهَانَ: حَدَّثَنَا عُتْبَةُ بْنُ يَقْظَانَ، عَنْ أَبِي سَعِيدٍ، عَنْ مَكْحُولٍ، عَنْ وَاثِلَةَ بْنِ الأَسْقَعِ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ قَالَ: «جَنِّبُوا مَسَاجِدَكُمْ صِبْيَانَكُمْ وَمَجَانِينَكُمْ وَشِرَارَكُمْ وَبَيْعَكُمْ وَخُصُومَاتِكُمْ وَرَفْعَ أَصْوَاتِكُمْ وَإِقَامَةَ حُدُودِكُمْ وَسَلَّ سُيُوفِكُمْ، وَاتَّخِذُوا عَلَى أَبْوَابِهَا الْمَطَاهِرَ، وَجَمِّرُوهَا فِي الْجُمَعِ».

Chapter 6. Sleeping In The Mosque

(المعجم ٦) - بَابُ النَّوْمِ فِي الْمَسْجِدِ
(التحفة ٢٦)

751. It was narrated that Ibn 'Umar said: "We used to sleep in the mosque at the time of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ." (Sahih)

٧٥١ - حَدَّثَنَا إِسْحَاقُ بْنُ مَنْصُورٍ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللهِ بْنُ نُمَيْرٍ: أَنْبَأَنَا عُبَيْدُ اللهِ بْنِ عُمَرَ، عَنْ نَافِعٍ، عَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ: كُنَّا نَنَامُ فِي الْمَسْجِدِ عَلَى عَهْدِ رَسُولِ اللهِ ﷺ.

تخريج: [إسناده صحيح] أخرجه أحمد: ٢/ ١٢ من حديث عبيدالله به.

Comments:

It is all right if a traveler or any other hard-pressed person sleeps in the mosque. We should not, however, make a habit of it. However, it is not a matter of reproach or censure if a person waiting for the congregational prayer falls asleep in the mosque.

752. Ya'ish bin Qais bin Tikhfah narrated that his father, who was one of the people of Suffah, said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said to us: 'Come with me.' So we went to the house of 'Âishah, where we ate and drank. Then the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said to us: 'If you want, you can sleep here, or if you want you can go out to the mosque.' We said: 'We will go out to the mosque.'" (Sahih) ٧٥٢ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا الْحَسَنُ بْنُ مُوسَى: حَدَّثَنَا شَيْبَانُ بْنُ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمٰنِ، عَنْ يَحْيَى بْنِ أَبِي كَثِيرٍ، عَنْ أَبِي سَلَمَةَ بْنِ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمٰنِ أَنَّ يَعِيشَ بْنَ قَيْسِ بْنِ طِخْفَةَ حَدَّثَهُ عَنْ أَبِيهِ، وَكَانَ مِنْ أَصْحَابِ الصُّفَّةِ، قَالَ: قَالَ لَنَا رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «انْطَلِقُوا» فَانْطَلَقْنَا إِلَى بَيْتِ عَائِشَةَ وَأَكَلْنَا وَشَرِبْنَا، فَقَالَ لَنَا رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «إِنْ شِئْتُمْ نِمْتُمْ هٰهُنَا، وَإِنْ شِئْتُمْ انْطَلَقْتُمْ إِلَى الْمَسْجِدِ» قَالَ: فَقُلْنَا: بَلْ نَنْطَلِقُ إِلَى الْمَسْجِدِ.

Chapter 7. Which Mosque Was Built First?

(المعجم ٧) - بَابُ: أَيُّ مَسْجِدٍ وُضِعَ أَوَّلُ
(التحفة ٢٧)

753. It was narrated that Abu Dharr Al-Ghifâri said: "I said: 'O Messenger of Allâh! Which

٧٥٣ - حَدَّثَنَا عَلِيُّ بْنُ مَيْمُونٍ الرَّقِّيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عُبَيْدٍ؛ ح: وَحَدَّثَنَا عَلِيُّ بْنُ

mosque was built first?' He said: 'Al-Masjid Al-Harâm (in Makkah).' I said: 'Then which?' He said: 'Then Al-Masjid Al-Aqsa (in Jerusalem).' I said: 'How many years between them?' He said: 'Forty years, but the whole earth is a mosque for you, so pray wherever you are when the time for prayer comes.'" (Sahih) مُحَمَّدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو مُعَاوِيَةَ، عَنِ الأَعْمَشِ، عَنْ إِبْرَاهِيمَ التَّيْمِيِّ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ أَبِي ذَرٍّ الْغِفَارِيِّ قَالَ، قُلْتُ: يَا رَسُولَ اللهِ! أَيُّ مَسْجِدٍ وُضِعَ أَوَّلُ؟ قَالَ: «الْمَسْجِدُ الْحَرَامُ» قَالَ: قُلْتُ: ثُمَّ أَيٌّ؟ قَالَ: «ثُمَّ الْمَسْجِدُ الأَقْصَى» قُلْتُ: كَمْ بَيْنَهُمَا؟ قَالَ: «أَرْبَعُونَ عَاماً، ثُمَّ الأَرْضُ لَكَ مُصَلًّى، فَصَلِّ حَيْثُ مَا أَدْرَكَتْكَ الصَّلاَةُ».

Comments:

a. The reference here is to the building of the first mosque ever built in history, which was accomplished at the hands of Âdam ﷺ. As for the Prophets Ibrâhim ﷺ and Ismâ'il ﷺ, they rebuilt Al-Masjid Al-Harâm after old marks had been erased. Similarly, Sulaimân ﷺ was also not the first to build Al-Masjid Al-Aqsa.

b. This confirms the superiority of these two mosque. Apart from these two mosque the only other mosque on earth for which we are allowed to undertake an exclusive journey is the Prophet's Mosque at Al-Madínah.

c. Since even setting out on a journey exclusively to visit any mosque (except the three mentioned above) is prohibited, the situation of those who undertake journeys to visit the graves of 'holy men' etc, can very well be judged.

d. Visits to the graves are permitted, but only to draw lessons about the impending death and the life in the Hereafter.

e. 'Pray wherever you are' means that except for the three mosques mentioned above, all other mosques are equal in rank, and we can pray anywhere we like.

Chapter 8. Mosque In Houses

(المعجم ٨) - بَابُ الْمَسَاجِدِ فِي الدُّورِ

(التحفة ٢٨)

754. Mahmud bin Rabi' Al-Ansâri, who remembered that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ spat a mouthful of water from a bucket into a well that belonged to them,

٧٥٤ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو مَرْوَانَ، مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عُثْمَانَ: حَدَّثَنَا إِبْرَاهِيمُ بْنُ سَعْدٍ، عَنِ ابْنِ شِهَابٍ، عَنْ مَحْمُودِ بْنِ الرَّبِيعِ الأَنْصَارِيِّ، وَكَانَ قَدْ

عَقَلَ مَجَّةً مَجَّهَا رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ مِنْ دَلْوٍ فِي بِئْرٍ لَهُمْ، عَنْ عِتْبَانَ بْنِ مَالِكٍ السَّالِمِيِّ، وَكَانَ إِمَامَ قَوْمِهِ بَنِي سَالِمٍ، وَكَانَ شَهِدَ بَدْراً مَعَ رَسُولِ اللهِ ﷺ، قَالَ: جِئْتُ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ فَقُلْتُ: يَا رَسُولَ اللهِ! ﷺ إِنِّي قَدْ أَنْكَرْتُ مِنْ بَصَرِي، وَإِنَّ السَّيْلَ يَأْتِي فَيَحُولُ بَيْنِي وَبَيْنَ مَسْجِدِ قَوْمِي، وَيَشُقُّ عَلَيَّ اجْتِيَازُهُ، فَإِنْ رَأَيْتَ أَنْ تَأْتِيَنِي فَتُصَلِّيَ فِي بَيْتِي مَكَاناً أَتَّخِذُهُ مُصَلًّى، فَافْعَلْ. قَالَ: «أَفْعَلُ». فَغَدَا رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ وَأَبُو بَكْرٍ، بَعْدَمَا اشْتَدَّ النَّهَارُ، وَاسْتَأْذَنَ، فَأَذِنْتُ لَهُ، وَلَمْ يَجْلِسْ حَتَّى قَالَ: «أَيْنَ تُحِبُّ أَنْ أُصَلِّيَ لَكَ مِنْ بَيْتِكَ؟» فَأَشَرْتُ لَهُ إِلَى الْمَكَانِ الَّذِي أُحِبُّ أَنْ أُصَلِّيَ فِيهِ، فَقَامَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ، وَصَفَفْنَا خَلْفَهُ، فَصَلَّى بِنَا رَكْعَتَيْنِ، ثُمَّ احْتَبَسْتُهُ عَلَى خَزِيرَةٍ تُصْنَعُ لَهُمْ.

narrated that 'Itbân bin Mâlik As-Sâlimi who was the chief of his people Banu Sâlim and had participated in (the battle of) Badr with the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "I came to the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ and said: 'O Messenger of Allâh, my sight is failing and the flood comes and prevents me from reaching the mosque of my people, and it is too hard for me to cross the water. Do you think you could come and perform prayer in my house in a place which I can then take as a place for prayer?' He said: 'I will do that.' The following day, the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ and Abu Bakr came, when the heat of the day had grown intense. He asked permission to enter, and I gave him permission. He did not sit down until he said: 'Where would you like me to perform prayer for you in your house?' I showed him the place where I wanted him to pray, so the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ stood and we lined up behind him, and he led us in praying two Rak'ah (units). Then I asked him to stay and eat some Khazirah[1] that had been prepared for them.'" (Sahih)

Comments:

a. The Prophet's spitting a mouthful of water into the well was intended to bring Barakah (blessing) to the water. His spittle (and saliva), as confirmed by both his biographers and compilers of Ahâdith, had on several occasions worked wonders and brought Barakah to the people. (See Bukhâri: 4151)

[1] A dish made with ground meat and flour.

b. On this occasion the Prophet ﷺ had even sprinkled some water from his mouth on the face of the child Mahmud. (See Bukhâri:77) The idea was to have fun with the child. Thus, any playful activity that provides amusement to the children but causes no discomfort to them is permissible — being it an expression of the elders' love and affection for the little ones.

c. There was a depression in the path between the house of 'Itbân ؓ and the mosque that used to be flooded by rain, making his access to the mosque difficult. In situations like this it is allowed to perform prayers inside one's house.

d. An invitee for the meals can also bring someone else with him, provided that he is sure that it will not be an inconvenience to the host and may be a source of pleasure to him.

e. It is permissible to designate a place for prayers in the house.

f. It is all right to invite or ask a pious person, or a revered personality, to inaugurate a noble program or venture.

g. It is permissible to offer voluntary prayer as a congregational prayer.

٧٥٥ - حَدَّثَنَا يَحْيَى بْنُ الْفَضْلِ [الخِرَقِيُّ]: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو عَامِرٍ: حَدَّثَنَا حَمَّادُ بْنُ سَلَمَةَ، عَنْ عَاصِمٍ، عَنْ أَبِي صَالِحٍ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ أَنَّ رَجُلاً مِنَ الأَنْصَارِ أَرْسَلَ إِلَى رَسُولِ اللهِ ﷺ أَنْ: تَعَالَ فَخُطَّ لِي مَسْجِداً فِي دَارِي أُصَلِّي فِيهِ، وَذٰلِكَ بَعْدَمَا عَمِيَ، فَجَاءَ فَفَعَلَ.

755. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that a man among the Ansâr sent word to the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ saying: "Come and designate a place in my house where I can perform prayer,' that was after he had become blind. So he went and did that. (Hasan)

The Companion under reference, as specified in the previous Hadíth, was 'Itbân ؓ.

756. It was narrated that Anas bin Mâlik said: "One of my paternal uncles made some food for the Prophet ﷺ and said to the Prophet ﷺ: 'I would like you to eat and perform prayer in my house.' So he went to him, and in his house there was one of these Fahl. He ordered that a corner be swept and water sprinkled in it, then he performed prayer and we prayed with him.'" (Sahih)

Abu 'Abdullâh bin Mâjah said: A Fahl is a mat that has become black (through use).

Chapter 10. Repugnance Of Spitting In The Mosque

(المعجم ١٠) - بَابُ كَرَاهِيَةِ النُّخَامَةِ فِي الْمَسْجِدِ (التحفة ٣٠)

761. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah and Abu Sa'eed Al-Khudri that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ saw some sputum on the wall of the mosque. He picked up a stone and scraped it off, then he said, "If anyone of you needs to spit, he should not spit in front of him or to his right; let him spit to his left or under his left foot." Comments:

a. Keeping the mosque clean is an absolute necessity.

b. It is essential to avoid activities that spoil the purity of mosque.

c. If the floor of the mosque is unmetaled or muddy and without matting, it is allowed to spit under the foot since once rubbed under the foot the spittle will be absorbed by the soil.

d. Spitting to one's left is only allowed if there is no worshipper on that side.

e. It is not allowed to spit on a solid constructed floor or a rug or carpet—it being against the principle of cleanliness.

f. The Prophet's act of cleaning the wall himself is indicative of his exemplary manners and humility.

762. It was narrated from Anas that the Prophet ﷺ saw some sputum in the prayer direction of the mosque and he became so angry that his face turned red. Then a woman from among the Ansâr came and scraped it off, and put some Khaluq[1] on that spot. The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "How good this is." (Dai'f)

Comments:

a. It is permissible to express anger on seeing someone doing something abominable.

b. Sometimes, mere facial expressions may serve the purpose of admonition.

c. It is permissible to give words of praise or appreciation to someone who has done something good.

d. Both praise and punishment, whether in the form of a few words or through some other opportune method, are the recognized tools of education.

763. It was narrated that 'Abdullâh bin 'Umar said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ saw some sputum in the prayer direction of the mosque, when he was praying in front of the people. He scratched it off, then when the prayer was over, he said: 'When anyone of you is performing prayer, Allâh is before him, so none of you should spit toward the front while praying.'" (Sahih)

Comments:

a. Prayer, is an occasion where Allâh's slave offers his homage and servitude to his Lord. It is, therefore, contrary to the spirit of that occasion to indulge in acts like spitting towards the front.

b. 'Allâh's being before the worshiper' is an expression, which in plain language means Allâh's beneficence and mercy being directed towards him.

c. Some people have put forward the claim on the basis of these words that Allâh is physically present everywhere. But the argument is not tenable, since if it were the case that Allâh was present everywhere, then spitting on one's left and behind should also have been prohibited because, as they put it, Allâh is physically present everywhere.

764. It was narrated from 'Âishah that the Prophet ﷺ scratched some spittle from the prayer direction of the mosque. (Sahih) ٧٦٤ - حَدَّثَنَا عَلِيُّ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا وَكِيعٌ، عَنْ هِشَامِ بْنِ عُرْوَةَ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ عَائِشَةَ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ حَكَّ بُزَاقًا فِي قِبْلَةِ الْمَسْجِدِ.

Allâh ﷺ performed prayer, then a man said: 'Who was looking for the red camel?' The Prophet ﷺ said: 'May you not find it! The mosques were built for that for which they were built.'" (Sahih) ابْنِ مَرْثَدٍ، عَنْ سُلَيْمَانَ بْنِ بُرَيْدَةَ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ قَالَ: صَلَّى رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ، فَقَالَ رَجُلٌ: مَنْ دَعَا إِلَى الْجَمَلِ الأَحْمَرِ؟ فَقَالَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ: «لاَ وَجَدْتَهُ، إِنَّمَا بُنِيَتِ الْمَسَاجِدُ لِمَا بُنِيَتْ لَهُ».

Comments:

a. The purpose behind the harsh words is to show his disapproval of the announcement. This, in fact, is a form of admonition.

b. Mosques are built for conducting prayers, delivering admonitions, imparting wise counsels and engaging in learning and teaching, not for making searches for things lost outside.

766. It was narrated from 'Amr bin Shu'aib, from his father, from his grandfather, that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ forbade making lost-and-found announcements in the mosque. (Hasan)

767. It was narrated from Abu 'Abdullâh, the freed slave of Shaddâd bin Hâd that he heard Abu Hurairah say: "I heard the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ say: 'Whoever hears a man making a lost-and-found announcement in the mosque, let him say: "May Allâh not return it to you!" Chapter 12. Prayer In Camels' Resting-Places[1] And Sheep's Resting-Places

(المعجم ١٢) - بَابُ الصَّلَاةِ فِي أَعْطَانِ الإِبِلِ وَمُرَاحِ الْغَنَمِ (التحفة ٣٢)

768. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "If you cannot find any where (for prayer) except sheep's resting-places and camels' resting-places, then perform prayer in the sheep's resting-places and do not perform prayer in the camels' resting-places." (Hasan)

Comments:

The reason behind it is that, if a sheep tries to gore you with its horn, it is not life-threatening, and you can very well defend yourself against it. But if you see a camel bent on mischief, you will be hard put to handle it. Especially, its sudden attack could be fatal. As for a camel sitting at rest, the Prophet ﷺ is known to have performed his prayer facing it. (See Sahih Al-Bukhâri: 507).

769. It was narrated that 'Abdullâh bin Mughaffal Al-Muzani said: "The Prophet ﷺ said: 'Perform prayer in the sheep's resting-places and do not perform prayer in the camels' resting-places, for they were created from the devils." (Hasan)

٧٦٩ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا [هُشَيْمٌ،] عَنْ يُونُسَ، عَنِ الْحَسَنِ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ مُغَفَّلٍ الْمُزَنِيِّ قَالَ: قَالَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ: «صَلُّوا فِي مَرَابِضِ الْغَنَمِ، وَلَا تُصَلُّوا فِي أَعْطَانِ الإِبِلِ، فَإِنَّهَا خُلِقَتْ مِنَ الشَّيَاطِينِ».

Comments:

'Camels being created from the devils' means they are mischievous by nature.

(المعجم ١٣) - بَابُ الدُّعَاءِ عِنْدَ دُخُولِ الْمَسْجِدِ (التحفة ٣٣)

771. It was narrated that Fâtimah the daughter of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "Whenever the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ entered the mosque he would say: 'Bismillâh, was-salâmu 'alâ Rasulillâh, Allâhummagh-firli dhunubi waftah li abwâba rahmatika. (In the Name of Allâh, and peace be upon the Messenger of Allâh. O Allâh, forgive me my sins and open to me the gates of Your mercy).' When he left he would say: 'Bismillâh, was-salâmu 'alâ Rasulillâh, Allâhummagh-firli dhunubi waftah li abwâba fadlika. (In the Name of Allâh, and peace be upon the Messenger of Allâh. Comments:

The purpose of going to the mosque is worship, which would hopefully be the harbinger of Allâh's mercy. Hence it is that, while entering the mosque we pray for Allâh's mercy. Once out of the mosque, however, man becomes engrossed in worldly affairs, e.g., the earning of his bread-and-butter. It is, therefore, the time for him to ask for Allâh's bounty in order to get lawful and blissful sustenance.

773. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "When anyone of you enters the mosque, let him send peace upon the Prophet, then let him say: 'Allâhumma aftahli abwâba rahmatik (O Allâh, open to me the gates of Your mercy).' And when he leaves, let him send peace upon the Prophet and say: 'Allâhumma-'simni minash-shaitânir-rajim (O Allâh, protect me from the accursed Shaitân).'" (Sahih) تخريج: [صحيح] أخرجه النسائي في الكبرى (عمل اليوم والليلة، ح: ٩٠) عن ابن بشار به، وسنده حسن، وقال البوصيري: هذا إسناد صحيح، رجاله ثقات، وصححه ابن حبان(موارد)، ح: ٣٢١، وابن خزيمة، ح: ٤٥٢، والحاكم: ١/٢٠٧، والذهبي، وذكر النسائي له علةً غير قادحة.

Comments:

The reason behind asking protection from Satan is that, as long as a person is in the mosque, he is busy in the worship and remembrance of Allâh. Satan, therefore, has no sway over him. But as soon as he comes out of the mosque, Satan sees his opportunity to mislead him in his business affairs. That is the time when the person needs to come under Allâh's special protection so as to be secure from the evil machinations of Satan.

Chapter 14. Walking To Prayer

(المعجم ١٤) - بَابُ الْمَشْيِ إِلَى الصَّلَاةِ

(التحفة ٣٤)

774. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'When one of you performs ablution and does it well, then he comes to the mosque with no other motive but prayer and not seeking anything other than the prayer, he does not take one step but Allâh raises him in status one degree thereby, and takes away one of his sins, until he enters the mosque. When he enters the mosque he is in a state of prayer so long as he is waiting for the prayer.'" (Sahih) ٧٧٤ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو مُعَاوِيَةَ، عَنِ الأَعْمَشِ، عَنْ أَبِي صَالِحٍ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «إِذَا تَوَضَّأَ أَحَدُكُمْ فَأَحْسَنَ الْوُضُوءَ، ثُمَّ أَتَى الْمَسْجِدَ لاَ يَنْهَزُهُ إِلَّا الصَّلَاةُ، لاَ يُرِيدُ إِلَّا الصَّلَاةَ، لَمْ يَخْطُ خَطْوَةً إِلَّا رَفَعَهُ اللهُ بِهَا دَرَجَةً، وَحَطَّ عَنْهُ بِهَا خَطِيئَةً، حَتَّى يَدْخُلَ الْمَسْجِدَ، فَإِذَا دَخَلَ الْمَسْجِدَ كَانَ فِي صَلَاةٍ، مَا كَانَتِ الصَّلَاةُ تَحْبِسُهُ».

تخريج: [صحيح] تقدم، ح: ٢٨١.

Comments:

a. The Hadith confirms the superiority of congregational prayer since it is an established fact, that it is better to perform the voluntary prayers at home.
b. There is much reward for one who performs ablution and does it well.
c. When the reward for just walking towards the mosque is so great that at each step Allâh takes away one of the worshipper's sins and raises his status one degree, the amount of reward to be awarded to him for the performance of prayer can very well be imagined.
d. There is great reward promised even for those who just wait for the congregational prayer in the mosque. We must, therefore, try to reach the mosque after the call to prayer as soon as possible.

775. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "When the Iqâmah is called for the prayer, do not come running. Come walking, with tranquility. Whatever you catch up with, pray, and whatever you miss, complete it." (Sahih)

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، المساجد، باب استحباب إتيان الصلوٰة بوقار وسكينة ... الخ، ح:٦٠٢ من حديث إبراهيم به.

Comments:

a. It is not permitted to come running to the mosque in order to catch up with the prayer.

b. 'Walking with tranquility' does not mean to move at a snail's pace as if prayer had no value for him.

c. A person joining the prayer at a stage where the Imâm has already completed one Rak'ah or two, must not follow the Imâm in saying the concluding salutation (Salâm), but say it after completing the missed part of his prayer. In his book Subulus-Salâm, which is a commentary on the well known Hadith book Bulughul-Marâm, Imâm Amir San'âni says: There is divergence of opinion among the scholars as to whether the part of Salâh the late comer performs with the Imâm should be reckoned as his initial Rak'ah or the final ones. The truth, however, is that these are to be reckoned as his initial Rak'ah. And Allâh knows best.

776. It was narrated from Abu Sa'eed Al-Khudri that he heard the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ say: 'Shall I not tell you of something by means of which Allâh expiates for sins and increases good deeds?' They said: 'Yes, O Messenger of Allâh.' He said: 'Performing ablution properly[1] despite difficulties, increasing the number of steps one takes towards the mosque and waiting

777. It was narrated that 'Abdullâh said: "Whoever would like to meet Allâh tomorrow (i.e. on the Day of Judgment) as a Muslim, let him preserve these five (daily) prayer when the call for them is given, for they are part of the ways of guidance, and Allâh prescribed the ways of guidance to your Prophet ﷺ. By Allâh, if each of you prays in his house, you will have abandoned the Sunnah of your Prophet ﷺ, and if you abandon the Sunnah of your Prophet you will go astray. I remember when no one stayed behind from the prayer except a hypocrite who was known for his hypocrisy. I have seen a man coming supported by two others, until he joined the row (of worshippers). There is no man who purifies himself and does it well, and comes to the mosque and prays there, but for every step that he takes, Allâh raises him in status one degree thereby, and takes away one of his sins." (Hasan) تخريج: [حسن] أخرجه أحمد: ١/ ٣٨٢ من حديث إبراهيم به * وإبراهيم بن مسلم الهجري ضعيف الحديث كما في التهذيب وغيره، ولكن تابعه علي بن الأقمر عند أحمد: ١/ ٤١٤، ٤١٥ .

Comments:

a. In 'Abdullâh bin Mas'ud's estimation, a true Muslim is one that regularly attends congregational prayers. It means that a defaulter, when he is called before Allâh on the Day of Resurrection after death, will not come as one of the Muslims.

b. If the Sunnah of congregational prayers is abandoned, there will be nothing left to distinguish between the communities of believers and non-believers.

c. The keenness exhibited by the Companions to attend the congregational prayers shows that they did not think it permissible to miss the congregational prayers without a valid reason. That is why even a sick man, unable to walk by himself, would come supported by others to the mosque but would not pray at home.

778. It was narrated that Abu Sa'eed Al-Khudri said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Whoever leaves his house for the prayer and says: 'Allâhumma inni asa'luka bi-haqqis-sâ'ilina 'alaika, wa as'aluka bi-haqqi mamshâya hâdhâ, fa inni lam akhruj asharan wa lâ batran, wa lâ riyâ'an, wa lâ sum'atan, wa kharajtu-ttiqâ'a sukhtika wabtighâ'a mardâtika, fa's'aluka an tu'idhani minan-nâri wa an taghfira li dhunubi, Innahu lâ yaghfirudh-dhunuba illâ Anta. (O Allâh, I ask You by the right that those who ask of You have over You, and I ask You by virtue of this walking of mine, for I am not going out because of pride or vanity, or to show off or make a reputation, rather I am going out because I fear Your wrath and seek Your pleasure. So I ask You to protect me from the Fire and to forgive me my sins, for no one can forgive sins except You),' Allâh will turn His Face towards him and seventy thousand angels will pray for his forgiveness." (Dai'f)

Comments:

At one of the stages on the Day of Resurrection pitched darkness shall envelop all men. In that situation the believers shall be aided in their walk ahead by the light of their good deeds. The disbelievers shall be shorn of this light. The hypocrites shall get some light initially only to be deprived of it after a few steps. Among the deeds that would help bring this light to the believers would be the fact that they had not allowed the darkness of the night to make them stay away from congregational prayers.

Chapter 15. The Greater The Distance From The Mosque, The Greater The Reward

(المعجم ١٥) - بَابٌ: الأَبْعَدُ فَالأَبْعَدُ مِنَ الْمَسْجِدِ أَعْظَمُ أَجْرًا (التحفة ٣٥)

Comments:

a. In it is motivation for those who live at a distance from mosque, to attend the congregational prayers.

b. Subjecting oneself to unnecessary hardship is not the demand of Shari'ah. But the ease that the Shari'ah gives us does not mean open licence for laziness and inaction. What we must do is remain clear of all extremes and tread the middle path.

783. It was narrated that Ubayy bin Ka'b said: "There was a man among the Ansâr whose house was the furthest house in Al-Madinah, yet he never missed prayer with the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ. I felt sorry for him and said: 'O so-and-so, why do you not buy a donkey to spare yourself the heat of the scorching sand, to carry you over the stony ground, and keep you away from the vermin on the ground?' He said: 'By Allâh! I do not want to live so close to Muhammad ﷺ.' This troubled me until I came to the house of the Prophet ﷺ and

فَدَعَاهُ فَسَأَلَهُ، فَذَكَرَ لَهُ مِثْلَ ذٰلِكَ، وَذَكَرَ أَنَّهُ يَرْجُو فِي أَثَرِهِ، فَقَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «إِنَّ لَكَ مَا احْتَسَبْتَ».

mentioned that to him. He called (the man) and asked him, and he said something similar, and said that he was hoping for the reward for his steps. The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said, 'You will have that (reward) that you sought.'" (Sahih)

Comments:

a. How keen the Companions were to do the deeds of piety and virtue! This incident is but a small example of how the Companions used to bear all the hardship of the path, and walked a long distance to reach the mosque in order to get more reward from Allâh.

b. Sincerity towards brethren-in-faith demands that we give them good advice, even though we are not asked to.

c. If a complaint is brought forward against a person, no adverse opinion should be formed without investigation against him. The best thing to do is to ask the person concerned himself what he meant by the 'improper words' purportedly spoken by him.

d. A good intention by a believer merits reward from Allâh.

٧٨٤ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو مُوسَى، مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ الْمُثَنَّى: حَدَّثَنَا خَالِدُ بْنُ الْحَارِثِ: حَدَّثَنَا حُمَيْدٌ، عَنْ أَنَسِ بْنِ مَالِكٍ قَالَ: أَرَادَتْ بَنُو سَلِمَةَ أَنْ يَتَحَوَّلُوا مِنْ دِيَارِهِمْ إِلَى قُرْبِ الْمَسْجِدِ، فَكَرِهَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ أَنْ يُعْرُوا الْمَدِينَةَ، فَقَالَ: «يَا بَنِي سَلِمَةَ! أَلاَ تَحْتَسِبُونَ آثَارَكُمْ؟» فَأَقَامُوا.

784. It was narrated that Anas said: "Banu Salimah wanted to move from their homes to somewhere near the mosque, but the Prophet ﷺ did not want the outskirts of Al-Madinah to be left vacant, so he said: 'O Banu Salimah, do you not hope for the reward of your footsteps?' So they stayed (where they were)." (Sahih)

Comments:

a. The Prophet ﷺ forbade them to move to a residence near the mosque in order that the outskirts of the city remain well protected from sudden attacks by the enemy.

b. Attending the congregational prayers is a must even for those who live at a distance from the mosque, or else the Prophet ﷺ would have allowed them to pray at home.

785. It was narrated that Ibn 'Abbâs said: "The houses of the Ansâr were far from the mosque and they wanted to move closer. Then the following Verse was revealed: 'We record that which they send before (them), and their traces.'''[1] He said: So they remained (where they were)." (Hasan) ٧٨٥ - حَدَّثَنَا عَلِيُّ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا وَكِيعٌ: حَدَّثَنَا إِسْرَائِيلُ، عَنْ سِمَاكٍ، عَنْ عِكْرِمَةَ، عَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَ: كَانَتِ الأَنْصَارُ بَعِيدَةً مَنَازِلُهُمْ مِنَ الْمَسْجِدِ. فَأَرَادُوا أَنْ يَقْتَرِبُوا فَنَزَلَتْ: ﴿وَنَكْتُبُ مَا قَدَّمُوا وَءَاثَارَهُمْ﴾ قَالَ، فَثَبَتُوا.

Comments:

For people endowed with firm determination it is better to live at a distance from the mosque. But for the people who do not take the mosque so devoutly, it is better to live close to the mosque, so that they are not tempted to miss their enjoined duty.

Chapter 16. The Virtue Of Prayer In Congregation

(المعجم ١٦) - بَابُ فَضْلِ الصَّلَاةِ فِي جَمَاعَةٍ (التحفة ٣٦)

[1] Yâ-Sîn 36:12.

مطولاً ومختصرًا.

Comments:

a. The timespan allowed to us to act in this world is very limited. It is Allâh's special favor that He bestows great reward over some of our good deeds. We must take advantage of this act of mercy and try to be regular in attending the congregational prayers, in order to win greater reward from Allâh.

b. The Arabic expression Bid' (over 'Ishrin, i.e., twenty) used in the Hadith means any number between three to nine. Its precise definition appears in the ensuing Ahâdith that contain the words 'twenty-five times' and 'twenty-seven times'.

c. The numbers mentioned in the Ahâdith mean the upper limit of reward for the specified acts. Thus, if the level of submissiveness, devotion, and tranquility on the part of the devotee is less, the reward will also be less.

٧٨٧ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو مَرْوَانَ، مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عُثْمَانَ الْعُثْمَانِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا إِبْرَاهِيمُ بْنُ سَعْدٍ، عَنِ ابْنِ شِهَابٍ، عَنْ سَعِيدِ بْنِ الْمُسَيَّبِ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ قَالَ: «فَضْلُ الْجَمَاعَةِ عَلَى صَلاَةِ أَحَدِكُمْ وَحْدَهُ خَمْسٌ وَعِشْرُونَ جُزْءاً».

Comments:

We have Ahâdith that speak of twenty-five times the reward and Ahâdith that speak of twenty-seven times the reward for performing prayers in congregation. Scholars have opined that the difference relates to an increase or decrease in the level of adherence to the norms and rules, as well as the degree of submissiveness in prayers exhibited by the worshipper.

790. It was narrated that Ubayy bin Ka'b said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'The prayer of a man in congregation is higher than his prayer on his own by twenty-four or twenty-five levels." (Hasan)

(المعجم ١٧) - بَابُ التَّغْلِيظِ فِي التَّخَلُّفِ عَنِ الْجَمَاعَةِ (التحفة ٣٧)

791. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'I was thinking of commanding that the call to prayer be given, then I would tell a man to lead the people in

Comments:

a. It shows that attending the prayer in congregation is an enjoined duty for men; no such warning or threat of punishment has been mentioned for missing the voluntary prayers.
b. It is allowed to raid the the houses of culprits and force them out of their homes without prior warning or notice.

792. It was narrated that Ibn Umm Maktum said: "I said to the Prophet ﷺ: 'I am an old man and blind; my house is far away, and I have no one to lead me. Is there any concession (for me not to have to attend the prayer in the mosque)?' He said: 'Can you hear the call?' I said: 'Yes.' He said: 'Then I do not find any concession for you.'" (Da'if)

تخريج: [إسناده ضعيف] أخرجه أبوداود، الصلوة، الباب السابق، ح:٥٥٢ من حديث عاصم بن بهدلة به * أبورزين عن ابن أم مكتوم مرسل، وحديث مسلم(٦٥٣) وأبي داود(٣/ ٤٢٣) يغني عنه.

Comments:

a. The Hadith underlines the importance of the prayer in congregation, so much so, that the Prophet ﷺ did not grant any sort of concession, even to Ibn Umm Maktum ؓ although he was handicapped in several ways.
b. The Prophet ﷺ did not accept Ibn Umm Maktum's request to allow him to stay away from the prayer in congregation, because he ﷺ wanted him to earn more and more reward in the Hereafter. His wish was to create an inducement in him for the congregational prayer although, as we know, a blind man who finds it difficult to attend the prayer in the mosque is allowed to perform it at home as it happened in the case of 'Itbân bin Mâlik ؓ (Sunan Ibn Mâjah: 754).

793. It was narrated from Ibn 'Abbâs that the Prophet ﷺ said: "Whoever hears the call and does not come, his prayer is not valid, except for those who have an excuse." (Sahih)

٧٩٣ - حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الْحَمِيدِ بْنِ بَيَانٍ الْوَاسِطِيُّ: أَنْبَأَنَا هُشَيْمٌ، عَنْ شُعْبَةَ، عَنْ عَدِيِّ ابْنِ ثَابِتٍ، عَنْ سَعِيدِ بْنِ جُبَيْرٍ، عَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ، عَنِ النَّبِيِّ ﷺ قَالَ: «مَنْ سَمِعَ النِّدَاءَ فَلَمْ يَأْتِهِ، فَلاَ صَلاَةَ لَهُ، إِلَّا مِنْ عُذْرٍ».

تخريج: [صحيح] أخرجه ابن حبان، ح:٤٢٦ من حديث عبدالحميد بن بيان به * وهشيم صرح بالسماع عند الحاكم، وصححه الحاكم، والذهبي، وله طريق آخر عند أبي داود، ح:٥٥١، وإسناده ضعيف.

Comments:

The prayer being invalid either means that the prayer shall lose its full reward or that the blessing of Allâh promised for a prayer in congregation shall be denied to it.

794. Ibn 'Abbâs and Ibn 'Umar narrated that they heard the Prophet ﷺ say on his pulpit: "People should desist from failing to attend the congregations, otherwise Allâh will seal their hearts, and then they will be among the negligent." (Sahih)

٧٩٤ - حَدَّثَنَا عَلِيُّ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو أُسَامَةَ، عَنْ هِشَامٍ الدَّسْتَوَائِيِّ، عَنْ يَحْيَى بْنِ أَبِي كَثِيرٍ، عَنِ الْحَكَمِ بْنِ مِينَاءَ: أَخْبَرَنِي ابْنُ عَبَّاسٍ، وَ ابْنُ عُمَرَ أَنَّهُمَا سَمِعَا النَّبِيَّ ﷺ يَقُولُ، عَلَى أَعْوَادِهِ: «لَيَنْتَهِيَنَّ أَقْوَامٌ عَنْ وَدْعِهِمُ الْجَمَاعَاتِ، أَوْ لَيَخْتِمَنَّ اللهُ عَلَى قُلُوبِهِمْ، ثُمَّ لَيَكُونُنَّ مِنَ الْغَافِلِينَ».

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، الجمعة، باب التغليظ في ترك الجمعة، ح:٨٦٥ من حديث الحكم به.

Comments:

a. Pointing out the mistake of a few before the assembly was intended to admonish others, and dissuade them from falling into that error.
b. Pointing out the mistake of someone without naming him is designed to make him concerned, and realize his mistake without humiliating him.
c. Some of the sins could be the cause of the hearts being sealed that would slam the door on reform in the future.
d. Avoiding prayers in congregation is a huge sin, punishable by the sealing of the heart even in this world.

795. It was narrated that Usâmah bin Zaid said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Let men desist

٧٩٥ - حَدَّثَنَا عُثْمَانُ بْنُ إِسْمَاعِيلَ الْهُذَلِيُّ الدِّمَشْقِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا الْوَلِيدُ بْنُ مُسْلِمٍ، عَنِ ابْنِ

from failing to attend the congregation, otherwise I will burn their houses down.'" (Sahih)

أَبِي ذِئْبٍ، عَنِ الزِّبْرِقَانِ بْنِ عَمْرٍو الضَّمْرِيِّ، عَنْ أُسَامَةَ بْنِ زَيْدٍ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «لَيَنْتَهِيَنَّ رِجَالٌ عَنْ تَرْكِ الْجَمَاعَةِ، أَوْ لأُحَرِّقَنَّ بُيُوتَهُمْ».

تخريج: [صحيح] إسناده ضعيف لعلل، والحديث السابق شاهد له.

Chapter 18. Performing The 'Ishâ' And Fajr Prayers In Congregation

(المعجم ١٨) - بَابُ صَلَاةِ الْعِشَاءِ وَالْفَجْرِ فِي جَمَاعَةٍ (التحفة ٣٨)

796. 'Âishah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'If the people knew what (reward) there is in the 'Ishâ' prayer and Fajr prayer, they would come even if they had to crawl.'" (Sahih)

٧٩٦ - حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الرَّحْمٰنِ بْنُ إِبْرَاهِيمَ الدِّمَشْقِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا الْوَلِيدُ بْنُ مُسْلِمٍ: حَدَّثَنَا الأَوْزَاعِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا يَحْيَى بْنُ أَبِي كَثِيرٍ: حَدَّثَنِي مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ إِبْرَاهِيمَ التَّيْمِيُّ: حَدَّثَنِي عِيسَى بْنُ طَلْحَةَ: حَدَّثَتْنِي عَائِشَةُ، قَالَتْ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «لَوْ يَعْلَمُ النَّاسُ مَا فِي صَلَاةِ الْعِشَاءِ وَصَلَاةِ الْفَجْرِ، لأَتَوْهُمَا وَلَوْ حَبْواً».

تخريج: [إسناده صحيح] أخرجه النسائي في الكبرٰى، ح:٣٨٧ من حديث يحيى بن أبي كثير به.

Comments:

a. 'If the people knew what there is' is the literal translation of the Arabic words of Hadith. The 'what' here means the reward and the blessings promised by Allâh for the worshippers.
b. Reward and blessings in question have only been promised for prayers performed in congregation.

797. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'The most burdensome prayers for the hypocrites are the 'Ishâ' prayer and the Fajr prayer. If only they knew what (reward) there is in them, they would come to them even if they had to crawl.'" (Sahih)

٧٩٧ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: أَنْبَأَنَا أَبُو مُعَاوِيَةَ، عَنِ الأَعْمَشِ، عَنْ أَبِي صَالِحٍ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «إِنَّ أَثْقَلَ الصَّلَاةِ عَلَى الْمُنَافِقِينَ صَلَاةُ الْعِشَاءِ وَصَلَاةُ الْفَجْرِ، وَلَوْ يَعْلَمُونَ مَا فِيهِمَا لأَتَوْهُمَا وَلَوْ حَبْواً».

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، المساجد، باب فضل صلوة الجماعة وبيان التشديد ... الخ، ح: ٦٥١ من حديث أبي معاوية به.

Comments:

a. 'Ishâ' and Fajr prayers are most burdensome for the hypocrites, because they are quite demanding physically and, in order to perform them in congregation, one has to strive against oneself.

b. Anyone who performs these prayers with fondness and punctuality, practically proves that he is free from hypocrisy.

c. The more burdensome an act of devotion, the more reward would it fetch from Allâh provided that it does not go against the Sunnah of the Prophet ﷺ.

798. It was narrated from 'Umar bin Khattâb that the Prophet ﷺ used to say: "Whoever performs prayer in congregation at the mosque for forty nights, never missing the first Ra'kah of the 'Ishâ' prayer, Allâh will thereby decree for him salvation from the Fire." (Da'if)

تخريج: [إسناده ضعيف] وقال البوصيري: عمارة لم يدرك أنسًا ولم يلقه، وانظر، ح: ٧٥ لعلة أخرى.

Comments:

a. 'Forty nights' means (prayers performed for) a continuous period of forty days and nights.

b. Performing the prayers in congregation for forty days on end by a person, will have the effect of making him used to it, and enables him to continue with it on a regular basis which, in turn, would earn him Allâh's pleasure and salvation from Fire.

Chapter 19. Staying In The Mosques And Awaiting The Prayer

(المعجم ١٩) - بَابُ لُزُومِ الْمَسَاجِدِ وَانْتِظَارِ الصَّلاَةِ (التحفة ٣٩)

799. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'When one of you enters the mosque, he is in a state of prayer, so long as the prayer keeps him there, and the angels

صَلاَةٍ، مَا كَانَتِ الصَّلاَةُ تَحْبِسُهُ، وَالْمَلاَئِكَةُ يُصَلُّونَ عَلَى أَحَدِكُمْ مَا دَامَ فِي مَجْلِسِهِ الَّذِي صَلَّى فِيهِ. يَقُولُونَ: اللَّهُمَّ اغْفِرْ لَهُ، اللَّهُمَّ ارْحَمْهُ، اللَّهُمَّ تُبْ عَلَيْهِ، مَا لَمْ يُحْدِثْ فِيهِ، مَا لَمْ يُؤْذِ فِيهِ».

will send prayer upon anyone of you so long as he remains in the place where he prayed, saying: "O Allâh, forgive him; O Allâh, have mercy on him; O Allâh, accept his repentance," so long as he does not commit Hadath nor disturb anyone.'" (Sahih) تخريج: أخرجه البخاري، الصلوة، باب الصلوة في مسجد السوق، ح:٤٧٧ من حديث أبي معاوية به مطولاً.

Comments:

a. We must reach the mosque well before the prayer begins so that we are able to perform the Sunnah and voluntary prayers, or earn reward from Allâh by His remembrance or the recitation of the Noble Qur'ân.

b. Waiting for the start of the obligatory prayer in the mosque fetches as much reward as for the performance of it. Recitation of Allâh's Names and praises, and the performing of voluntary prayers in the mean time can bring us additional reward.

c. It is extremely rewarding to continue to sit reciting the Names and praises of Allâh at the same place after the completion of the obligatory prayer.

d. (i) 'So long as he does not disturb anyone' has also been taken to mean that, as long as he does not affront any worshipper by uttering improper words.
(ii) 'Committing Hadath' could mean the passing of the wind which, if done in the mosque, could cause discomfort to the worshippers. And Allâh knows best.

٨٠٠ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا شَبَابَةُ: حَدَّثَنَا ابْنُ أَبِي ذِئْبٍ، عَنِ الْمَقْبُرِيِّ، عَنْ سَعِيدِ بْنِ يَسَارٍ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ، عَنِ النَّبِيِّ ﷺ قَالَ: «مَا تَوَطَّنَ رَجُلٌ مُسْلِمٌ الْمَسَاجِدَ لِلصَّلاَةِ وَالذِّكْرِ، إِلَّا تَبَشْبَشَ اللهُ لَهُ كَمَا يَتَبَشْبَشُ أَهْلُ الْغَائِبِ بِغَائِبِهِمْ، إِذَا قَدِمَ عَلَيْهِمْ».

800. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Prophet ﷺ said: "A Muslim does not regularly attend the mosques to perform prayer and remember Allâh, but Allâh feels happy with him just as the family of one who is absent feels happy when he comes back to them." (Sahih) تخريج: [إسناده صحيح] أخرجه الطيالسي، ح:٢٣٣٤ عن ابن أبي ذئب به، وصححه ابن خزيمة، ح:١٥٠٣، وابن حبان (الإحسان)، ح:١٦٠٧، والحاكم:١/١٣، والذهبي.

Comments:

Allâh's feeling happy or unhappy is one of the attributes of Allâh. The unanimous view of the pious predecessors regarding the attributes of Allâh is that we believe in them as they are mentioned in the Qur'ân and Ahâdith without either denying them or twisting their meaning, or giving them resemblance to any of the created things.

801. It was narrated that 'Abdullâh bin 'Amr said: "We performed the Maghrib (prayer) with the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ, then those who went back went back, and those who stayed, stayed. Then the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ came back in a hurry, out of breath, with his garment pulled up to his knees, and said: 'Be of good cheer, for your Lord has opened one of the gates of heaven and is boasting of you before the angels, saying: "Look at My slaves; they have fulfilled one obligatory duty and are awaiting another." (Sahih)

تخريج: [إسناده صحيح] أخرجه أحمد: ٢/ ١٨٦، ١٨٧ من حديث حماد بن سلمة به، وصححه البوصيري، وله علة غير قادحة، وله شاهد عند أحمد: ٢/ ٢٠٨، وإسناده ضعيف.

Comments:

a. Staying back in the mosque awaiting the prayer is an act of great virtue.
b. Man's knee is not the part of body which it is unlawful to expose before others.
c. Allâh the Glorified, communicates such things to the angels because it was they who had remarked that man will make mischief and shed blood on the earth.

802. It was narrated from Abu Sa'eed that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "If you see a man frequenting the mosques, then bear witness to his faith. Allâh says: 'The mosques of Allâh shall be maintained only by those who believe in Allâh and the Last Day.'"[1] (Da'if)

٨٠٢ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو كُرَيْبٍ: حَدَّثَنَا رِشْدِينُ بْنُ سَعْدٍ، عَنْ عَمْرِو بْنِ الْحَارِثِ، عَنْ دَرَّاجٍ، عَنْ أَبِي الْهَيْثَمِ، عَنْ أَبِي سَعِيدٍ، عَنْ رَسُولِ اللهِ ﷺ قَالَ: «إِذَا رَأَيْتُمُ الرَّجُلَ يَعْتَادُ الْمَسَاجِدَ، فَاشْهَدُوا لَهُ بِالْإِيمَانِ، قَالَ اللهُ تَعَالَى: ﴿إِنَّمَا يَعْمُرُ مَسَاجِدَ اللَّهِ مَنْ ءَامَنَ بِاللَّهِ﴾ الْآيَةَ». Chapter 1. The Opening Of The Prayer

(المعجم ١) - بَابُ افْتِتَاحِ الصَّلَاةِ

(التحفة ٤٠)

803. Muhammad bin 'Amr bin 'Atâ' said: "I heard Abu Humaid As-Sâ'idi say: 'When the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ stood up for prayer, he would face the prayer direction, raise his hands, and say: "Allâhu Akbar (Allâh is Most Great)." (Sahih)

٨٠٣ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنِ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ وَعَلِيُّ ابْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ الطَّنَافِسِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو أُسَامَةَ: حَدَّثَنِي عَبْدُ الْحَمِيدِ بْنُ جَعْفَرٍ: حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ ابْنُ عَمْرِو بْنِ عَطَاءٍ قَالَ: سَمِعْتُ أَبَا حُمَيْدٍ السَّاعِدِيَّ يَقُولُ: كَانَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ إِذَا قَامَ إِلَى الصَّلَاةِ اسْتَقْبَلَ الْقِبْلَةَ، وَرَفَعَ يَدَيْهِ وَقَالَ: «اللهُ أَكْبَرُ».

تخريج:[صحيح] أخرجه البيهقي:٢/١١٦ من حديث أبي أسامة به، وصححه ابن حبان، ح:٤٤٢.

Comments:

a. Facing the Qiblah (direction of Ka'bah) during the prayer is mandatory.
b. There is no harm if the face of a person praying on a moving mount, turns to a direction other than that of the Qiblah.
c. Raising the hands (Raf' yadain) while (i) starting the prayer, (ii) bowing (going for Ruku') and (iii) rising from Ruku' is the Sunnah (precept) of the Prophet ﷺ, as will be seen under the coming Ahâdith (858 & 859).
d. Both ways of raising the hands, namely (i) up to the ears, or (ii) up to the shoulders, are in order. (ibid.)

804. It was narrated that Abu Sa'eed Al-Khudri said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ used to start his prayer by saying: 'Subhânaka Allâhumma wa bi hamdika, wa tabârakas-muka, wa

٨٠٤ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا زَيْدُ بْنُ الْحُبَابِ: حَدَّثَنِي جَعْفَرُ بْنُ سُلَيْمَانَ الضُّبَعِيُّ: حَدَّثَنِي عَلِيُّ بْنُ عَلِيٍّ الرِّفَاعِيُّ، عَنْ أَبِي الْمُتَوَكِّلِ، عَنْ أَبِي سَعِيدٍ الْخُدْرِيِّ قَالَ:

ta'âla jadduka, wa lâ ilâha ghairuka (Glory and praise be to You, O Allâh, blessed be Your Name and exalted be Your majesty, none has the right to be worshipped but you)." (Hasan) كَانَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ يَسْتَفْتِحُ صَلاَتَهُ يَقُولُ: «سُبْحَانَكَ اللَّهُمَّ وَبِحَمْدِكَ، وَتَبَارَكَ اسْمُكَ، وَتَعَالَى جَدُّكَ، وَلاَ إِلَهَ غَيْرُكَ».

تخريج: [إسناده حسن] أخرجه أبوداود، الصلٰوة، باب من رأى الاستفتاح بسبحانك اللهم وبحمدك، ح:٧٧٥ من حديث جعفر به، وصححه ابن خزيمة.

Comments:

Several variations of supplication are reported to have been recited from time to time by the Prophet ﷺ, after saying the introductory Takbir (Allâhu Akbar) for the prayer. We are free to recite any of these. It is, however, preferable to vary our supplications off and on.

805. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "When the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said the Takbir (Allâh Akbar), he would remain silent between the Takbir and the recitation. I said: 'May my father and mother be ransomed for you! I noticed that you are silent between the Takbir and the recitation; please tell me what you say then.' He said: 'I say: 'Allâhumma bâ'id baini wa baina khatâyâya kamâ bâ'adta bainal-mashriqi wal-maghrib; Allâhumma naqqini min khatâyâya kath-thawbil abyad minad-danas; Allâhummagh-silni min khatâyâya bil-mâ'i wath-thalji wal-barad (O Allâh, distance me from my sins as You have distanced the east from the west; O Allâh purify me of my sins as a white garment is purified of dirt; O Allâh, cleanse me of my sins with water and snow and hail)." (Sahih) ٨٠٥ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ، وَ عَلِيُّ ابْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ قَالاَ: حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ فُضَيْلٍ، عَنْ عُمَارَةَ بْنِ الْقَعْقَاعِ، عَنْ أَبِي زُرْعَةَ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ: كَانَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ إِذَا كَبَّرَ سَكَتَ بَيْنَ التَّكْبِيرِ وَالْقِرَاءَةِ، قَالَ فَقُلْتُ: بِأَبِي أَنْتَ وَأُمِّي، أَرَأَيْتَ سُكُوتَكَ بَيْنَ التَّكْبِيرِ وَالْقِرَاءَةِ، فَأَخْبِرْنِي مَا تَقُولُ. قَالَ: «أَقُولُ: اللَّهُمَّ بَاعِدْ بَيْنِي وَبَيْنَ خَطَايَايَ كَمَا بَاعَدْتَ بَيْنَ الْمَشْرِقِ وَالْمَغْرِبِ، اللَّهُمَّ نَقِّنِي مِنْ خَطَايَايَ كَالثَّوْبِ الأَبْيَضِ مِنَ الدَّنَسِ، اللَّهُمَّ اغْسِلْنِي مِنْ خَطَايَايَ بِالْمَاءِ وَالثَّلْجِ وَالْبَرَدِ».

تخريج: أخرجه البخاري، الأذان، باب ما يقول بعد التكبير، ح:٧٤٤، ومسلم، المساجد، باب ما يقال بين تكبيرة الإحرام والقراءة، ح:٥٩٨ من حديث عمارة به.

Comments:

a. '(O Allâh!) Distance me from my sins' means: Protect me (or us) through Your mercy from all sins and, not to speak of committing the sins, enable us to avoid even going close to the sins.

b. Sins are likened to filth and dirt. That is why extreme purity has been likened to white garments.

c. Sins push one to the Hell-fire. They give discomfort to the soul, just as the physical body feels discomfort from the heat. That is why, in order to cleanse the sins and give quietude to the soul, things prayed for by the Prophet (ﷺ) are also cool by their very nature.

806. It was narrated from 'Âishah that when the Prophet ﷺ started Salât he would say: "Subhânaka Allâhumma wa bi hamdika, wa tabârakas-muka wa ta'âla jadduka, wa lâ ilâha ghayruk (Glory and praise is to You, O Allâh, blessed is Your Name and exalted is Your majesty, none has the right to be worshiped but You)." (Hasan)

Chapter 2. Seeking Refuge During The Prayer

(المعجم ٢) - بَابُ الاسْتِعَاذَةِ فِي الصَّلاَةِ (التحفة ٤١)

807. It was narrated from Ibn Jubair bin Mut'im that his father said: "I saw the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ when he started the prayer. He said: 'Allâhu Akbaru kabiran, Allâhu Akbaru kabiran (Allâh is the Most Great indeed),' three times; 'Al-hamdu Lillâhi kathiran, al-hamdu Lillâhi kathiran (Much praise is to Allâh),' three times; 'Subhân Allâhi bukratan wa asilan (Glory is to Allâh morning and evening),' three times; 'Allâhumma inni a'udhu bika

Comments:

a. Hamz in Arabic means to put somebody to discomfort by piercing one's fingers into his body.

b. Nafth literally means to emit a puff or breath from the mouth. Here, it applies to obscene songs or erotic and vulgar lines of poetry inspired by Satan.

c. Nafkh means to blow from the mouth or breathe into something in order to inflate it. In the context of the Hadith it means the feeling of vanity and pride.

Comments:

a. It shows that the Sunnah in prayer is putting one hand on the other, not leave them hanging.
b. It means putting the right hand on the left, as we shall see under Hadith 811.
c. During Qiyâm (standing position) one hand must be upon the other, on the chest, as shall follow in the coming several Ahâdith.

810. It was narrated that Wâ'il bin Hujr said: "I saw the Prophet ﷺ performing prayer, and he took hold of his left hand with his right." (Sahih)

٨١٠ - حَدَّثَنَا عَلِيُّ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللهِ بْنُ إِدْرِيسَ ح: وحَدَّثَنَا بِشْرُ بْنُ مُعَاذٍ الضَّرِيرُ: حَدَّثَنَا بِشْرُ بْنُ الْمُفَضَّلِ، قَالاَ: حَدَّثَنَا عَاصِمُ بْنُ كُلَيْبٍ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ وَائِلِ بْنِ حُجْرٍ قَالَ: رَأَيْتُ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ يُصَلِّي، فَأَخَذَ شِمَالَهُ بِيَمِينِهِ.

811. It was narrated that 'Abdullâh bin Mas'ud said: "The Prophet ﷺ passed by me, and I was putting my left hand on my right. He took hold of my right hand and put it on my left." (Hasan) ٨١١ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو إِسْحَاقَ الْهَرَوِيُّ، إِبْرَاهِيمُ ابْنُ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ حَاتِمٍ: أَنْبَأَنَا هُشَيْمٌ: أَنْبَأَنَا الْحَجَّاجُ بْنُ أَبِي زَيْنَبَ السُّلَمِيُّ، عَنْ أَبِي عُثْمَانَ النَّهْدِيِّ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ مَسْعُودٍ قَالَ: مَرَّ بِي النَّبِيُّ ﷺ وَأَنَا وَاضِعٌ يَدِي الْيُسْرَى عَلَى الْيُمْنَى، فَأَخَذَ بِيَدِي الْيُمْنَى فَوَضَعَهَا عَلَى الْيُسْرَى.

(المعجم ٤) - بَابُ افْتِتَاحِ الْقِرَاءَةِ

(التحفة ٤٣)

812. It was narrated that 'Âishah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ, Abu Bakr, 'Umar and 'Uthmân used to start their recitation with "All the praises and thanks are to Allâh, the Lord of all that exists. (Al-hamdu Lillâhi Rabbil-'Âlamin)."[1] (Sahih)

He heard me reciting: 'In the Name of Allâh, the Most Gracious, the Most Merciful' Bismillâhir-Rahmânir-Rahim[2] and he said: 'O my son, beware of innovation, for I prayed with the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ, and with Abu Bakr, and with 'Umar, and with 'Uthmân, and I never heard any of them saying this. Chapter 5. Recitation In The Fajr Prayer

(المعجم ٥) - بَابُ الْقِرَاءَةِ فِي صَلَاةِ الْفَجْرِ (التحفة ٤٤)

816. It was narrated from Qutbah bin Mâlik that he heard the Prophet ﷺ recite: "And tall date palms, with ranged clusters"[1] in the Subh (Sahih).

٨١٦ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا شَرِيكٌ وَ عبد الرحمٰنُ بْنُ عُيَيْنَةَ، عَنْ زِيَادِ ابْنِ عِلَاقَةَ، عَنْ قُطْبَةَ بْنِ مَالِكٍ، سَمِعَ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ يَقْرَأُ فِي الصُّبْحِ ﴿وَالنَّخْلَ بَاسِقَاتٍ لَّهَا طَلْعٌ نَّضِيدٌ﴾. [ق: ١٠]

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، الصلٰوة، باب القراءة في الصبح، ح:٤٥٧ عن ابن أبي شيبة وغيره به.

Comments:

A worshipper can recite any part of the Qur'ân that he pleases, after Al-Fâtihah in the prayer. The Qur'ân says:

"So recite as much of the Qur'ân as may be easy (for you)" (Al-Muzzammil 73: 20).

The Hadith informs us that the Prophet ﷺ had recited (Surat Qâf: chapter 50) in the Fajr prayer.

817. It was narrated that 'Amr bin Huraith said: "I performed prayer with the Prophet ﷺ when he was reciting in the Fajr, and it is as if I can hear him reciting: 'So verily, I swear by the planets that recede. And by the planets that move swiftly and hide themselves.'"[2] (Sahih) تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، الصلوة، باب القراءة في الصبح، ح:٤٦١ من حديث أبي المنهال به.

Comments:

It was a general trend. It should not be taken to mean that we cannot increase or decrease the number of Verses. As much as one can easily recite and the worshippers can easily take is alright.

819. It was narrated that Abu Qatâdah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ used to lead us in prayer, and he would lengthen the first Rak'ah of the Zuhr and shorten the second Rak'ah, and he would do likewise in the Subh." (Sahih)

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، الصلوة، باب القراءة في الظهر والعصر، ح:٤٥١ من حديث ابن أبي عدي به، وله طرق أخرى عند البخاري، ومسلم وغيرهما به باختلاف يسير.

Comments:

The wisdom behind it is that, in the first Rak'ah, the worshippers are more energetic and receptive. Besides, there are chances for more worshippers to catch up with the first Rak'ah and therefore the entire prayer of the congregation.

820. It was narrated that 'Abdullâh bin Sâ'ib said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ recited Al-Mu'minun[1] in the Subh prayer, and when he came to the mention of 'Eisa, he was overcome with a cough, so he bowed in Ruku'." (Sahih)

٨٢٠ - حَدَّثَنَا هِشَامُ بْنُ عَمَّارٍ: حَدَّثَنَا سُفْيَانُ ابْنُ عُيَيْنَةَ، عَنِ ابْنِ جُرَيْجٍ، عَنِ ابْنِ أَبِي مُلَيْكَةَ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ السَّائِبِ قَالَ: قَرَأَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ فِي صَلَاةِ الصُّبْحِ بِالْمُؤْمِنِينَ فَلَمَّا أَتَىٰ عَلَى ذِكْرِ عِيسَى، أَصَابَتْهُ شَرْقَةٌ، فَرَكَعَ. - يَعْنِي: سَعْلَةً -.

Comments:

a. It shows that reciting the whole Surah (chapter of the Qur'ân) in prayer is not binding.
b. If the Imâm encounters a problem during the prayer that renders him unable to continue with the recitation, let him discontinue the recitation and directly go to bowing (Ruku').

Chapter 6. The Recitation In The Fajr Prayer On Fridays

(المعجم ٦) - بَابُ الْقِرَاءَةِ فِي صَلَاةِ الْفَجْرِ يَوْمَ الْجُمُعَةِ (التحفة ٤٥)

821. It was narrated that Ibn 'Abbâs said: "For the Subh prayer on Fridays, the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ used to recite 'Alif-Lâm-Mim. The revelation...'[1] and 'Has there not been over man...'"[2] (Sahih)

٨٢١ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ خَلَّادٍ الْبَاهِلِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا وَكِيعٌ، وَ عَبْدُ الرَّحْمٰنِ بْنُ مَهْدِيٍّ قَالَا: حَدَّثَنَا سُفْيَانُ، عَنْ مُخَوَّلٍ، عَنْ مُسْلِمٍ الْبَطِينِ، عَنْ سَعِيدِ بْنِ جُبَيْرٍ، عَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَ: كَانَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ يَقْرَأُ فِي صَلَاةِ الصُّبْحِ، يَوْمَ الْجُمُعَةِ: ﴿الٓمٓ تَنزِيلُ﴾، [السجدة: ١] السَّجْدَةَ. وَ﴿هَلْ أَتَىٰ عَلَى ٱلْإِنسَٰنِ﴾. [الإنسان: ١]

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، الجمعة، باب ما يقرأ في يوم الجمعة، ح:٨٧٩ من حديث وكيع وغيره به.

Comments:

The Imâm of mosque should make it a point to recite these Surahs in the prayer of Fajr on Fridays. There is no doubt that the prayer will be in order by reciting any other Surah as well, but the Sunnah of the Prophet ﷺ is to recite these Surahs.

Chapter 7. The Recitation For The Zuhr And The 'Asr

(المعجم ٧) - بَابُ الْقِرَاءَةِ فِي الظُّهْرِ وَالْعَصْرِ (التحفة ٤٦)

825. It was narrated that Qaza'ah said: "I asked Abu Sa'eed Al-Khudri about the prayer of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ. He said: 'There is nothing good in that for you.'[1] I said: 'Explain it, may Allâh have mercy on you.' He said: 'The Iqâmah would be given for the Zuhr prayer for the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ, then one of us would go out to Al-Baqi', relieve himself, then come back and perform ablution, and he would find the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ still in the first Rak'ah of the Zuhr.'" (Sahih)

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، الصلوة، باب القراءة في الظهر والعصر، ح:٤٥٤ من حديث معاوية ابن صالح به.

Comments:

a. 'There is nothing good in it for you' means that the purpose of knowledge is to act upon it but you people cannot act upon it, since you will not perform such lengthy prayers, then what would you gain by asking questions about it?

b. If a person does not find it too difficult, the prayer can be lengthened more than usual, otherwise it is allowed to make it shorter.

826. It was narrated that Abu Ma'mar said: "I said to Khabbâb: 'How did you recognize that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ was reciting in the Zuhr and the 'Asr?' He said: 'From the movement of his beard.'" (Sahih)

تخريج: أخرجه البخاري، الأذان، باب رفع البصر إلي الإمام في الصلوة، ح:٧٤٦، ٧٦٠، ٧٦١ من حديث الأعمش به.

[1] Meaning, "If you do not act upon it." See explanation by Sindi.

Comments:

a. In a prayer of inaudible recitation of the Qur'ân, the recitation should be such that the lips' movement follows the articulation of words recited. Simply reciting the words at the pre-speech level will not suffice.

b. The worshipper's gaze, if it is raised towards the Imâm, will not invalidate his prayer.

827. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "I have never seen anyone whose prayer more closely resembles that of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ than so-and-so. He used to lengthen the first two Rak'ah of the Zuhr and shorten the last two Rak'ah, and he used to shorten the 'Asr." (Sahîh) ٨٢٧ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ بَشَّارٍ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرٍ الْحَنَفِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا الضَّحَّاكُ بْنُ عُثْمَانَ: حَدَّثَنِي بُكَيْرُ بْنُ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ الأَشَجِّ، عَنْ سُلَيْمَانَ بْنِ يَسَارٍ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ: مَا رَأَيْتُ أَحَداً أَشْبَهَ صَلاَةً بِرَسُولِ اللهِ ﷺ مِنْ فُلاَنٍ. قَالَ: وَكَانَ يُطِيلُ الأُولَيَيْنِ مِنَ الظُّهْرِ، وَيُخَفِّفُ الأُخْرَيَيْنِ، وَيُخَفِّفُ الْعَصْرَ.

Comments:

Making the 'Asr prayer shorter than the Zuhr is the Sunnah of the Prophet ﷺ. Even in this, the first two Rak'ah should be longer than the last two.

828. It was narrated that Abu Sa'eed Al-Khudri said: "Thirty of the Companions of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ who had been at Badr came together and said: 'Come, let us estimate the length of the recitation of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ for the prayer in which Qur'ân is not recited out aloud.' No two men among them disagreed, and they estimated the length of his recitation in the first Rak'ah of the Zuhr to be thirty Verses and in the second Rak'ah to be half of that. They estimated his recitation in 'Asr to be half of the last two Rak'ah of Zuhr." (Da'if)

٨٢٨ - حَدَّثَنَا يَحْيَى بْنُ حَكِيمٍ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو دَاوُدَ الطَّيَالِسِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا الْمَسْعُودِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا زَيْدٌ الْعَمِّيُّ، عَنْ أَبِي نَضْرَةَ، عَنْ أَبِي سَعِيدٍ الْخُدْرِيِّ قَالَ: اجْتَمَعَ ثَلاَثُونَ بَدْرِيًّا مِنْ أَصْحَابِ رَسُولِ اللهِ ﷺ فَقَالُوا: تَعَالَوْا حَتَّى نَقِيسَ قِرَاءَةَ رَسُولِ اللهِ ﷺ فِيمَا لَمْ يَجْهَرْ فِيهِ مِنَ الصَّلاَةِ فَمَا اخْتَلَفَ مِنْهُمْ رَجُلاَنِ، فَقَاسُوا قِرَاءَتَهُ فِي الرَّكْعَةِ الأُولَى مِنَ الظُّهْرِ بِقَدْرِ ثَلاَثِينَ آيَةً، وَفِي الرَّكْعَةِ الأُخْرَى قَدْرَ النِّصْفِ مِنْ ذٰلِكَ، وَقَاسُوا ذٰلِكَ فِي الْعَصْرِ عَلَى قَدْرِ النِّصْفِ مِنَ الرَّكْعَتَيْنِ الأُخْرَيَيْنِ مِنَ

الظُّهْرِ.

Comments:

The Hadith as such is 'Weak', yet the rule mentioned in it is correct. It is reported from Abu Sa'eed Al-Khudri ﷺ that "the Prophet ﷺ used to recite about thirty Verses in every Rak'ah of the first two Rak'ah of the Zuhr prayer, and about fifteen Verses (or: half of the first Rak'ah) in the last two (Rak'ah); and about fifteen Verses in every Rak'ah of the 'Asr prayer in the first two Rak'ah, and half of the first ones in the last two Rak'ah." (Sahih Muslim:157).

Chapter 8. Occasionally Reciting A Verse Aloud For Zuhr And 'Asr Prayers

(المعجم ٨) - بَابُ الْجَهْرِ بِالآيَةِ أَحْيَانًا فِي صَلَاةِ الظُّهْرِ وَالْعَصْرِ (التحفة ٤٧)

829. It was narrated from 'Abdullâh bin Abu Qatâdah that his father said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ used to recite when leading us in the first two Rak'ah of the Zuhr prayer, and sometimes he would recite such that we could hear the Verse." (Sahih)

Comments:

a. There is no harm in reciting aloud a Verse or a word of the Qur'ân in the otherwise 'inaudible' prayer.

b. It could be that by reciting a part of the Qur'ân in this manner the Prophet (ﷺ) wanted to convey the message to the Companions that even in the prayer of inaudible recitation, any part of the Qur'ân can be recited after Al-Fâtihah. And Allâh knows best.

830. It was narrated that Barâ' bin 'Âzib said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ used to lead us for the Zuhr, and we would hear him reciting a Verse after the Verses

(المعجم ٩) - بَابُ الْقِرَاءَةِ فِي صَلَاةِ الْمَغْرِبِ (التحفة ٤٨)

831. It was narrated that Ibn 'Abbâs said, narrating from his mother (one of the narrators) Abu Bakr bin Abu Shaibah said: "(She was) Lubâbah" that she heard the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ reciting 'By the winds sent forth one after another...'[1] in the Maghrib. (Sahih)

In a different narration, Jubair said: "And when I heard him recite: 'Were they created by nothing? Comments:

a. Jubair bin Mut'im ﷺ was on the side of the idolaters in the battle of Badr and was taken prisoner along with other infidels by the Muslims. It was during this period in Al-Madinah that he heard the Prophet ﷺ recite the Qur'ân in the prayer of Maghrib.

b. "It was as if my heart were about to take flight." In simple words it means that the words of the Qur'ân made such a powerful impact on my heart that I felt an uncontrollable urge to accept Islam.

Comments:

While reciting the Qur'ân, effort should be made to recite it as melodiously as one can. However, any resemblance to singing a song, or giving it a touch of music, must be avoided.

836. It was narrated from Jâbir that Mu'âdh bin Jabal led his companions for the 'Ishâ' and he made the prayer too long for them. The Prophet ﷺ said: "Recite 'By the sun and its brightness,'[1] 'Glorify the Name of your Lord, the Most High,'[2] 'By the night as it envelops,'[3] or, 'Read! In the Name of your Lord Who has created.'"[4] (Sahih)

Comments:

a. Mu'âdh bin Jabal ؓ, having offered the 'Ishâ' prayer behind the Prophet ﷺ used to lead the prayer in the mosque of his locality. In a situation like this, when this prayer was conducted even after the prayer in the Prophet's Mosque, lengthy recitation made it burdensome for the people, so much so that some of the people brought the complaint to the Prophet ﷺ. The Prophet ﷺ, therefore, admonished Mu'âdh. (Sahih Muslim:178)

b. The Imâm must show consideration to the people who are weak or have other needs to fulfill.

c. In case of a grievance against someone, it does not fall under the category of backbiting to bring the matter to the notice of the superior authority since the objective here is to bring improvement through the correction of the mistake.

d. Recitation in the 'Ishâ' prayer should be brief. It is, therefore, the Sunnah to recite either the chapters named by the Prophet ﷺ, or similar to them.

Chapter 11. Reciting Behind The Imâm

(المعجم ١١) - بَابُ الْقِرَاءَةِ خَلْفَ الإِمَامِ (التحفة ٥٠)

837. It was narrated from 'Ubâdah bin Sâmit that the Prophet ﷺ said: "There is no prayer for the one who does not recite Fâtihatil-Kitâb in it." (Sahih)

٨٣٧ - حَدَّثَنَا هِشَامُ بْنُ عَمَّارٍ، وَ سَهْلُ بْنُ أَبِي سَهْلٍ، وَ إِسْحَاقُ بْنُ إِسْمَاعِيلَ، قَالُوا: حَدَّثَنَا سُفْيَانُ بْنُ عُيَيْنَةَ، عَنِ الزُّهْرِيِّ، عَنْ مَحْمُودِ بْنِ الرَّبِيعِ، عَنْ عُبَادَةَ بْنِ الصَّامِتِ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ قَالَ: «لاَ صَلاَةَ لِمَنْ لَمْ يَقْرَأْ فِيهَا بِفَاتِحَةِ الْكِتَابِ».

Comments:

a. This proves that the recitation of Al-Fâtihah (Opening Chapter of the Qur'ân) is a Rukn (basic article) of prayer. There can be no prayer without it.

b. 'There is no prayer for the one who does not recite Fâtihahatil-Kitâb in it' clearly means that this rule applies to all denominations of prayer — obligatory prayer, voluntary prayer, Imâm's prayer, follower's prayer or the individual's prayer. Which is to say that reciting Fâtihah is essential for one and all.

838. It was narrated from Abu Sâ'ib that he heard Abu Hurairah say: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Whoever performs a prayer in which he does not recite Ummul Qur'ân (the Mother of the Qur'ân, i.e., Al-Fâtihah), it is deficient; not complete.'" I said: 'O Abu Hurairah, sometimes I am behind the Imâm. He pressed my forearm and said: 'O Persian! Recite it to yourself.'" (Sahih) ٨٣٨ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا إِسْمَاعِيلُ ابْنُ عُلَيَّةَ، عَنِ ابْنِ جُرَيْجٍ، عَنِ الْعَلاَءِ بْنِ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمٰنِ بْنِ يَعْقُوبَ، أَنَّ أَبَا السَّائِبِ أَخْبَرَهُ أَنَّهُ سَمِعَ أَبَا هُرَيْرَةَ يَقُولُ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «مَنْ صَلَّى صَلاَةً لَمْ يَقْرَأْ فِيهَا بِأُمِّ الْقُرْآنِ فَهِيَ خِدَاجٌ، غَيْرُ تَمَامٍ». فَقُلْتُ: يَا أَبَا هُرَيْرَةَ فَإِنِّي أَكُونُ أَحْيَاناً وَرَاءَ الإِمَامِ، فَغَمَزَ ذِرَاعِي، وَقَالَ: يَا فَارِسِيُّ!

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، الصلٰوة، باب وجوب قراءة الفاتحة في كل ركعة ... الخ، ح:٣٩٥ من حديث ابن جريج به، وفي رواية الحميدي (نسخة ديوبندية:٩٧٤) قال عبدالرحمن: فقلت لأبي هريرة: فإني أسمع قراءة الإمام فغمزني بيده، فقال: يافارسي، أو قال يا ابن الفارسي! اقرأ بها في نفسك .

Comments:

a. Being 'deficient; not complete' means that a prayer done without it is not complete and we have to redo it.

b. 'Recite it to yourself' does not mean to recite it in the heart without uttering it by the tongue, because the term 'reciting' does not apply to it. It only means to recite it in a way that the person next to you does not hear it. This manner of recitation in no way violates the Qur'ânic command to 'listen with attention' and 'holding one's peace' (7:204) as the Prophet's clear command (to recite it behind the Imâm) is sometimes suggested to be.

839. It was narrated that Abu Sa'eed said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'There is no prayer for the one who does not recite in every Rak'ah: Al-Hamd (Al-Fâtihah) and a Surah whether in an obligatory prayer or another.'" (Da'if)

a. The Hadith suggests that, along with Al-Fâtihah, some other part of the Qur'ân must also be recited. But the Hadith is 'Weak'. As such the only obligatory recitation is that of Al-Fâtihah. Reciting some other text of the Qur'ân is voluntary, not obligatory. (Injâh Al-Hâjah)

a. Reciting Al-Fâtihah behind the Imâm as well, is an enjoined duty.
b. In prayers of inaudible recitation by the Imâm, some other part of the Qur'ân may also be recited after Al-Fâtihah.

Chapter 12. The Two Pauses Of The Imâm

(المعجم ١٢) - بَابٌ: فِي سَكْتَتَي الإِمَامِ (التحفة ٥١)

844. It was narrated that Samurah bin Jundab said: "There are two pauses which I memorized from the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ, but 'Imrân bin Husain denied that. We wrote to Ubayy bin Ka'b in Al-Madinah, and he wrote that Samurah had indeed memorized them." (Hasan)

(One of the narrators) Sa'eed said: "We said to Qatâdah: 'What are these two pauses?' He said: 'When he started his prayer, and when he finished reciting.'"

Then later he said: 'And when he recited: 'Not (the way) of those who earned Your Anger, nor of those who went astray.'[1] They used to like (for the Imâm) when he had finished reciting to remain silent until he had caught his breath.'"

قَالَ سَعِيدٌ: فَقُلْنَا لِقَتَادَةَ: مَا هَاتَانِ السَّكْتَتَانِ؟ قَالَ: إِذَا دَخَلَ فِي صَلَاتِهِ، وَإِذَا فَرَغَ مِنَ الْقِرَاءَةِ.

ثُمَّ قَالَ بَعْدُ: وَإِذَا قَرَأَ ﴿غَيْرِ الْمَغْضُوبِ عَلَيْهِمْ وَلَا الضَّالِّينَ﴾.

قَالَ: وَكَانَ يُعْجِبُهُمْ، إِذَا فَرَغَ مِنَ الْقِرَاءَةِ، أَنْ يَسْكُتَ حَتَّى يَتَرَادَّ إِلَيْهِ نَفَسُهُ.

Comments:

pauses of the Imâm but the view is not correct, since the Prophet ﷺ had not made those pauses for that purpose. That is why they were so short. Besides, the Companions did not keep to this practice. There is, thus, no secure basis for allowing the recitation of Al-Fâtihah only during those pauses.

845. Samurah said: "I memorized two pauses in the prayer, a pause before reciting and a pause when bowing. 'Imrân bin Husain denied that, so they wrote to Al-Madinah, to Ubayy bin Ka'b, and he said that Samurah was speaking the truth." (Hasan)

Chapter 13. When The Imâm Is Reciting, Then Listen Attentively

(المعجم ١٣) - بَابٌ: إِذَا قَرَأَ الإِمَامُ فَأَنْصِتُوا (التحفة ٥٢)

846. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'The Imâm has been appointed to be followed, so when he says Allâhu Akbar, then say Allâhu Akbar, when he recites, then listen attentively; when he says: Not (the way) of those who earned Your anger, nor of those who went astray,[1] then say Âmin; when he bows then bow; when he says Sami' Allâhu liman hamidah (Allâh hears those who praise Him), then say Allâhumma Rabbanâ wa lakal-hamd (O Allâh, our Lord, to You is the praise);" when he prostrates then prostrate;

Comments:

a. The follower is prohibited to precede the Imâm in his movements and rests. His duty is to follow the Imâm totally.

b. 'When the Imâm recites, then listen attentively' means that when the Imâm finishes reciting Fâtihah and starts reciting some other part of the Qur'ân, then the follower has to listen to him silently without reciting the Qur'ân. As for Al-Fâtihah, we have already seen in Abu Hurairah's narration that the follower has to recite it. (See H.838).

c. The rule requiring the followers to perform the prayer sitting down (even though they had no problem standing) if the Imâm leads them sitting down, was later abrogated.

847. It was narrated that Abu Musa Al-Ash'ari said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'When the Imâm recites, then listen attentively, and if he is sitting (in the prayer) then the first remembrance that anyone of you recites should be the Tashah-hud.'" (Sahih)

Comments:

a. We should listen attentively when the Imâm recites any other Chapter after Al-Fâtihah in the prayer of audible recitation.

b. In Tashah-hud, first recite the prescribed invocation (At-Tahiyyâtu Lillâhi...), then the Salutation (Salât) on the Prophet ﷺ, and then other supplications.

848. It was narrated that Ibn Ukaimah said: "I heard Abu Hurairah say: 'The Prophet ﷺ led his Companions in a prayer; we think it was the Subh. He said:

849. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ led us in prayer," and he mentioned a similar report, and added to it, and he said: "And after that they were quiet in the prayers in which the Imâm recites aloud." (Sahih) تخريج: [صحيح] انظر الحديث السابق.

Comments:

The two Ahâdith are explicit on the point that prohibition on reciting the Qur'ânic chapters other than Al-Fâtihah relates to the prayer of audible recitation.

٨٥٠ - حَدَّثَنَا عَلِيُّ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا عُبَيْدُ اللهِ بْنُ مُوسَى، عَنِ الْحَسَنِ بْنِ صَالِحٍ، عَنْ جَابِرٍ، عَنْ أَبِي الزُّبَيْرِ، عَنْ جَابِرٍ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «مَنْ كَانَ لَهُ إِمَامٌ، فَقِرَاءَةُ الْإِمَامِ لَهُ قِرَاءَةٌ».

850. It was narrated that Jâbir said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Whoever has an Imâm, the recitation of the Imâm is his recitation.'" (Da'if)

Comments:

Taking the cue from this Hadith it is sometimes argued that the follower has no need to do the recitation, since the Imâm's recitation is enough for him. However, the Hadith is extremely Weak and not fit for argumentation.

Chapter 14. Saying Âmin Aloud

(المعجم ١٤) - بَابُ الْجَهْرِ بِآمِينَ

(التحفة ٥٣)

851. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "When the reciter says Âmin, then say Âmin, for the angels say Âmin, and if a person's Âmin coincides with the Âmin of the angels, his previous sins will be forgiven." (Sahih) تخريج: أخرجه البخاري، الدعوات، باب التأمين، ح:٦٤٠٢ من حديث سفيان به.

Comments:

a. It means that the follower should say Âmin upon the Imâm's saying it, even if he was ahead or behind the Imâm in his recitation.

b. It confirms the Imâm's saying Âmin aloud, since the followers can only answer it if he hears the Imâm say it.

852. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "When the reciter says Âmin, then say Âmin, for if a person's Âmin coincides with the Âmin of the angels, his previous sins will be forgiven." (Sahih)

As to the chain of narration, the Hadith is 'Weak'. However, the rule is proved from other sound Ahâdith. (See Silsilatul-Ahâdithus-Sahihah, H. 464.) Comments:

a. Exchanging Salâm (salutations) while greeting each other, and saying Âmin, is a special characteristic of the Muslim people, noticed even by the non-Muslims.

b. Envy keeps them from adopting it, yet they wish the Muslims as well to lose this characteristic.

c. Islamic etiquette is to greet each other by saying As-Salâmu 'Alaikum and Wa 'Alaikum As-Salâm. But the sad state is that some people have given up this excellent invocation in favor of meaningless words of greeting used by the non-Muslims.

d. Âmin means: 'O Allâh, accept our invocation' or simply 'May it be so'. This abbreviated invocation is in fact the repetition of the longer invocations already articulated. Jews and Christians also use this expression (spelt as 'amen'). They have probably taken it from the Muslims, or else it is one of those things still extant from the teaching of earlier Prophets. Hence it is that they do not like the idea of seeing the Muslims using this blessed word. Muslims, therefore, must be wary of the designs of the disbelievers and never leave the blessed invocations of Âmin and Salâm.

Chapter 15. Raising The Hands When Bowing, And When Raising The Head From Bowing

(المعجم ١٥) - بَابُ رَفْعِ الْيَدَيْنِ إِذَا رَكَعَ، وَإِذَا رَفَعَ رَأْسَهُ مِنْ الرُّكُوعِ

(التحفة ٥٤)

858. It was narrated that Ibn 'Umar said: "I saw the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ raising his hands until they were parallel to his shoulders when he started the prayer, and when he bowed in Ruku', and when he raised his head from Ruku', but he did not raise them between the two prostrations." (Sahih)

٨٥٨ - حَدَّثَنَا عَلِيُّ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ، وَ هِشَامُ بْنُ عَمَّارٍ، وَ أَبُو عُمَرَ الضَّرِيرُ قَالُوا: حَدَّثَنَا سُفْيَانُ ابْنُ عُيَيْنَةَ، عَنِ الزُّهْرِيِّ، عَنْ سَالِمٍ، عَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ: رَأَيْتُ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ إِذَا افْتَتَحَ الصَّلاَةَ، رَفَعَ يَدَيْهِ حَتَّى يُحَاذِيَ بِهِمَا مَنْكِبَيْهِ، وَإِذَا رَكَعَ، وَإِذَا رَفَعَ رَأْسَهُ مِنَ الرُّكُوعِ. وَلاَ يَرْفَعُ بَيْنَ السَّجْدَتَيْنِ.

Comments:

a. It is unanimously agreed that raising the hands (Raf' Yadain) while starting the prayer is the Sunnah of the Prophet ﷺ.

b. This Hadith speaks of raising the hands up to the shoulders, while there are other Ahâdith that speak of raising the hands up close to the ears. Thus, both of these variations are proven from the Sunnah. We would do well to alternate between the two practices, namely raising up to the shoulders at times and taking them close to the ears at other times.

c. Raf' Al-Yadain (raising up the two hands) on three occasions, namely (i) while going into the bowing (Ruku'), (ii) raising the head from the Ruku', and (iii) rising for the third Rak'ah, is the Sunnah of the Prophet ﷺ.

d. Hâfiz Zainuddin Abul-Fadl Al-'Irâqi in his book (Taqribul-Asânid) has this to say: "Ahâdith concerning Raf' Yadain have been narrated by fifty Companions, including those that have been given the glad tidings of Paradise." (Tarhut-Tathrib 2/254).

859. It was narrated that Mâlik bin Huwairith said that when the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said Allâhu Akbar, he would raise his hands until they were close to his ears; when he bowed in Ruku' he did likewise, and when he raised his head from Ruku' he did likewise. (Sahih)

When he stood up for prayer, he stood up straight and raised his hands until they were parallel to his shoulders, then he said: Allâhu Akbar. When he wanted to bow in Ruku', he raised his hands until they were parallel to his shoulders. When he said Sami' Allâhu liman hamidah (Allâh hears those who praise Him), he raised his hands and stood up straight. Comments:

In addition to other occasions, the Hadith also proves the practice of raising the hands while rising up after Tashah-hud, and as many as ten Companions ﷺ bear testimony to it, with no dissension.

Comments:

It is necessary to stand up straight after the bowing. Not to stand up straight from the bowing and hurry towards the prostration is against the Sunnah. This composed method of bowing and rising from bowing is what has been conveyed through the phrase 'returning of each bone to its place'.

Comments:

a. Settling the spine in bowing and prostrating means performing these functions with tranquility. In other words, the correct method of performing Ruku' is to do the bowing perfectly and performing the prostration with full composure, which is the true Sunnah of the Prophet ﷺ.

b. No prayer devoid of tranquility and composure will be acceptable to Allâh. That is the reason why the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ had ordered a person (who had hurried through his prayer and performed it without tranquility) to pray again (Sahih Al-Bukhâri: H.793)

871. It was narrated that 'Ali bin Shaibân, who was part of a delegation (to the Prophet ﷺ) said: "We set out until we came to the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ, and we gave him our oath of allegiance and performed prayer behind him. He glanced out of the corner of his eye at a man who was not settling his spine when he bowed and prostrated. When the Prophet ﷺ finished the prayer, he said: 'O Muslims, there is no prayer for the one who does not settle his spine when bowing and prostrating.'" (Sahih) prostration) is tranquility." ('Awnul-Ma'bud) Regarding Hadith:822 with Al-Bukhâri, in which the Prophet ﷺ said: "Be balanced in the prostrations, and none of you should put his forearms on the ground like the dog." Ibn Hajar (Fathul-Bâri) quoted Ibn Daqiq Al-'Eid saying: "The perceived straightness sought in bowing is not the same here. For there it is having the neck and back level, and what is sought here is raising the lower parts above the higher parts."

Comments:

a. We must undertake journeys to gain religious knowledge and attend the company of great scholars.
b. Coming to know about the movements of a person by glancing out of the corners of one's eyes (without turning the face) does not invalidate the prayer. Turning the neck to see something during prayer is prohibited.

872. It was narrated that Râshid said: "I heard Wâbisah bin Ma'bad saying: 'I saw the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ performing prayer, and when he bowed he made his back so straight that if water were poured on it, it would have stayed there.'" (Da'if)

Chapter 17. Putting The Hands On The Knees

(المعجم ١٧) - بَابُ وَضْعِ الْيَدَيْنِ عَلَى الرُّكْبَتَيْنِ (التحفة ٥٦)

873. It was narrated that Mus'ab bin Sa'd said: "I bowed (in prayer) beside my father, and I put my hands between my knees. He struck my hand and said: 'We used to do that, then we were commanded to put them on the knees.'" (Sahih)

٨٧٣ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ نُمَيْرٍ: حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ بِشْرٍ: حَدَّثَنَا إِسْمَاعِيلُ بْنُ أَبِي خَالِدٍ، عَنِ الزُّبَيْرِ بْنِ عَدِيٍّ، عَنْ مُصْعَبِ ابْنِ سَعْدٍ قَالَ: رَكَعْتُ إِلَى جَنْبِ أَبِي، فَطَبَّقْتُ، فَضَرَبَ يَدِي وَقَالَ: قَدْ كُنَّا نَفْعَلُ هٰذَا، ثُمَّ أُمِرْنَا أَنْ نَرْفَعَ إِلَى الرُّكَبِ.

a. The Arabic word 'Tatbiq' means joining the two hands with one's fingers crossing the other's, and putting them between the thighs. This manner of bowing was later abrogated.
b. It is not allowed to act upon a ruling that has been abrogated.

٨٧٥ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو مَرْوَانَ، مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عُثْمَانَ الْعُثْمَانِيُّ، وَ يَعْقُوبُ بْنُ حُمَيْدِ بْنِ كَاسِبٍ قَالَا: حَدَّثَنَا إِبْرَاهِيمُ بْنُ سَعْدٍ، عَنِ ابْنِ شِهَابٍ، عَنْ سَعِيدِ بْنِ الْمُسَيَّبِ، وَ أَبِي سَلَمَةَ ابْنِ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمٰنِ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ كَانَ إِذَا قَالَ: «سَمِعَ اللهُ لِمَنْ حَمِدَهُ» قَالَ: «رَبَّنَا وَلَكَ الْحَمْدُ».

875. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that when the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "Sami' Allâhu liman hamidah (Allâh hears those who praise Him)," he said: "Rabbanâ wa lakal-hamd (O our Lord, to You is the praise)." (Sahih)

876. It was narrated from Anas bin Mâlik that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "When the Imâm says: 'Sami' Allâhu liman hamidah (Allâh hears those who praise Him),' say: 'Rabbanâ wa lakal-hamd (O our Lord, to You is the praise).'" (Sahih)

Comments:

'Allâh hears' means Allâh is pleased with, and accepts the supplication.

877. It was narrated from Abu Sa'eed Al-Khudri that he heard the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ say: "When the Imâm says: 'Sami' Allâhu liman hamidah (Allâh hears those who praise Him),' say: 'Allâhumma, Rabbanâ wa lakal-hamd (O Allâh! O our Lord! To You is the praise).'" (Hasan)

Comments:

The follower shall only say the second part of the Arabic invocation, meaning: "O our Lord, to You is the praise"; he will not say the first one meaning: 'Allâh hears those who praise Him'. The Imâm shall, however, say both, since it is proved from the Sunnah of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ.

878. It was narrated that Ibn Abu Awfa said: "When the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ raised his head from Ruku', he said: 'Sami' Allâhu liman hamidah, Allâhumma, Rabbanâ lakal-hamd, mil' as-samawâti wa mil' al-ard wa mil' ma shi'ta min shay'in ba'd (Allâh hears those who praise Him. O Allâh! O our Lord, to You is the praise as much as fills the heavens, as much as fills the earth and as much as You will after that).'" (Sahih) ٨٧٨ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ نُمَيْرٍ: حَدَّثَنَا وَكِيعٌ: حَدَّثَنَا الأَعْمَشُ، عَنْ عُبَيْدِ بْنِ الْحَسَنِ، عَنِ ابْنِ أَبِي أَوْفَى، قَالَ: كَانَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ إِذَا رَفَعَ رَأْسَهُ مِنَ الرُّكُوعِ قَالَ: «سَمِعَ اللهُ لِمَنْ حَمِدَهُ. اللَّهُمَّ رَبَّنَا لَكَ الْحَمْدُ مِلْءَ السَّمٰوَاتِ وَمِلْءَ الأَرْضِ، وَمِلْءَ مَا شِئْتَ مِنْ شَيْءٍ بَعْدُ».

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، الصلوة، باب ما يقول إذا رفع رأسه من الركوع، ح:٤٧٦ من حديث وكيع وغيره به.

Comments:

The main purpose of prayer is the remembrance of Allâh, who Himself has said in the Qur'ân: "Perform the prayer for My remembrance." (20:14). That is the reason why the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ has taught us many recitals of Allâh's praise and remembrance. We must memorize these texts and recite them in our prayer. We should especially try to win more and more reward, as well as closeness to Allâh and His pleasure, by reciting longer invocations in the optional night (Tahajjud) prayers.

879. It was narrated that Abu 'Umar said: "I heard Abu Juhaifah say: Good fortune was mentioned in the presence of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ while he was performing prayer. A man said: 'So-and-so's fortune is in horses.' Another man said: 'So-and-so's fortune is in camels.' another man said: 'So-and-so's fortune is in sheep.' Another man said: 'So-and-so's fortune is in slaves.' While the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ was finishing his prayer, he raised his head at the end of the last Rak'ah and said: 'Allâhumma Rabbanâ lakal-hamd mil' as-samawâti wa mil' al-ard wa mil' ma shi'ta min shai'in ba'du. Allâhumma lâ mâni' lima a'taita wa lâ mu'ti lima mana'ta, wa lâ yanfa'u dhâl-jaddi minkal-jadd (Allâh hears those who praise Him. O Allâh! O our Lord! To You is the praise as much as fills the heavens, as much as fills the earth and as much as You will after that. O Allâh, there is none who can withhold what You give, and none who can give what You withhold, and the good fortune of any fortunate person is to no avail against You).' The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ elongated the word Jadd (fortune) so that they would know that it was not as they had said." (Da'if)

Chapter 19. Prostration

(المعجم ١٩) - بَابُ السُّجُودِ (التحفة ٥٨)

880. It was narrated from Maimunah that when the Prophet ﷺ prostrated, he would hold his forearms away from his sides, such that if a lamb wanted to pass under his arms, it would be able to do so. (Sahih)

٨٨٠ - حَدَّثَنَا هِشَامُ بْنُ عَمَّارٍ: حَدَّثَنَا سُفْيَانُ ابْنُ عُيَيْنَةَ، عَنْ عُبَيْدِ اللهِ بْنِ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ الأَصَمِّ، عَنْ عَمِّهِ يَزِيدَ بْنِ الأَصَمِّ، عَنْ مَيْمُونَةَ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ كَانَ إِذَا سَجَدَ جَافَى يَدَيْهِ، فَلَوْ أَنَّ بَهْمَةً أَرَادَتْ أَنْ تَمُرَّ بَيْنَ يَدَيْهِ لَمَرَّتْ.

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، الصلوة، باب الاعتدال في السجود ووضع الكفين على الأرض . . . الخ، ح:٤٩٦ من حديث سفيان به.

Comments:

While prostrating we must keep our forearms away from our sides and the belly away from our thighs.

881. It was narrated from ('Ubaidullâh bin 'Abdullâh) bin Aqram Al-Khuzâ'i that his father said: "I was with my father on the plain in Namirah,[1] when some riders passed us and made their camels kneel down at the side of the road. My father said to me: 'Stay with your lambs until I go to those people and see what they want.' He said: Then he (my father) went out and I come, (i.e. I came near,) then there was the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ, and the time for prayer came so I prayed with them, and I was looking at the whiteness of the armpits of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ every time he prostrated." (Sahih)

Ibn Majah said: The people say 'Ubdaidullâh bin 'Abdullâh, but Abu Bakr bin Abu Shaibah said:

٨٨١ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا وَكِيعٌ، عَنْ دَاوُدَ بْنِ قَيْسٍ، عَنْ [عُبَيْدِ اللهِ بْنِ عَبْدِ اللهِ] بْنِ أَقْرَمَ الْخُزَاعِيِّ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ قَالَ: كُنْتُ مَعَ أَبِي بِالْقَاعِ مِنْ نَمِرَةَ، فَمَرَّ بِنَا رَكْبٌ وَأَنَاخُوا بِنَاحِيَةِ الطَّرِيقِ، فَقَالَ لِي أَبِي: كُنْ فِي بَهْمِكَ حَتَّى آتِيَ هٰؤُلَاءِ الْقَوْمَ فَأَسْأَلُهُمْ، قَالَ: فَخَرَجَ. وَجِئْتُ - يَعْنِي: دَنَوْتُ - فَإِذَا رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ، فَحَضَرْتُ الصَّلَاةَ فَصَلَّيْتُ مَعَهُمْ. فَكُنْتُ أَنْظُرُ إِلَى عُفْرَتَيْ إِبْطَيْ رَسُولِ اللهِ ﷺ كُلَّمَا سَجَدَ.

قَالَ ابْنُ مَاجَه: النَّاسُ يَقُولُونَ: عُبَيْدُ اللهِ ابْنُ عَبْدِ اللهِ، وَقَالَ أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: يَقُولُ النَّاسُ: عَبْدُ اللهِ بْنُ عُبَيْدِ اللهِ.

a. If a traveling party has to break its journey midway, it must avoid the main road and camp on one side of the road.
b. The Companions attached so much importance to the prayer that 'Abdullâh ﷺ left his lambs alone, and joined the prayer in congregation.
c. When the Messenger of ﷺ prostrated, he did not hold his forearms close to his sides. The Companion was, therefore, able to clearly see the armpits of the Prophet ﷺ.

882. It was narrated that Wâ'il bin Hujr said: "I saw the Prophet ﷺ when he prostrated and put his knees on the ground before his hands, and when he stood up after prostrating, he took his hands off the ground before his knees." (Da'if)

Comments:

'Seven bones' means seven parts of the body. For clarification please see the next Hadith.

884. It was narrated that Ibn 'Abbâs said: The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "I have been commanded to prostrate on seven, and not to tuck up my hair or my garment." (Sahih)

Comments:

a. 'Prostration on seven parts of the body' means letting all the seven parts mentioned in the Hadith touch the ground.

b. The reason why the forehead and nose have been counted as one in this Hadith, is the fact that in the next Hadith the two words have been replaced by the single word 'face'.

c. We need not unnecessarily worry if our hair touches the ground during prostration. The reason being that by trying to protect the the hair or garment from the meager dust of the ground, we run the risk of losing our concentration in prostration and in our recitals.

d. Prohibition to tuck up the hair also includes prohibition on uplifting the hair. Ladies should also avoid making topknots of their hair but leave them loose for the prayer.

e. Sleeves of the shirts etc., folded up for ablution should be loosened while going to the prayer.

885. It was narrated from 'Abbâs bin 'Abdul-Muttalib that he heard the Prophet ﷺ say: "When a person prostrates, seven parts of his body prostrate with him: His face, his two hands, his two

Comments:

Repeating the formulas of the Glorification of Allâh three times is the minimum essential for these occasions. Otherwise, the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ has recited them during his Tahajjud bowings and prostrations which used to be quite long. (Sahih Muslim:203).

889. It was narrated that 'Âishah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ often used to say when bowing and prostrating: 'Subhânaka Allâhumma wa bi hamdika, Allâhummaghfir li (Glory is to You, O Allâh, and praise; O Allâh forgive me),' following the command given by the Qur'ân."[1] (Sahih)

Allâh the Glorified says in the Qur'ân:

"So glorify the praises of your Lord, and ask His forgiveness. Verily, He is the One Who accepts repentance." (An-Nasr 110: 3)).

[1] Surat An-Nasr (110).

The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ complied with the command of Allâh by reciting the statement repeatedly in his bowing and prostrations.

890. It was narrated that Ibn Mas'ud said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'When anyone of you bows, let him say in his bowing: "Subhâna Rabbiyal-'Azim (Glory is to my Lord, the Most Great)" three times; if he does that his bowing will be complete. And when anyone of you prostrates, let him say in his prostration, 'Subhâna Rabbiyal-A'la (Glory is to my Lord, the Most High)" three times; if he does that, his prostration will be complete, and that is the minimum.'" Chapter 21. Being Balanced During Prostration

تخريج: [صحيح] أخرجه الترمذي، الصلوة، باب ماجاء في الاعتدال في السجود، ح:٢٧٥ من حديث الأعمش به، وقال: حسن صحيح ، وصححه ابن خزيمة، ح:٦٤٤ * الأعمش عنعن

تقدم، ح:١٧٨، ولحديثه شاهد متفق عليه، البخاري، ح:٨٢٢،٥٣٢، ومسلم، ح:٤٩٣ من حديث أنس نحوه، انظر الحديث الآتي.

Comments:

'Being balanced in prostration' means neither keeping oneself so high that some of the parts of the body fail to touch the ground, nor so low that the forearms begin to rest on the ground, or the belly starts touching the thighs. 'Being balanced' could also mean being moderate in performing the prostration, i.e., neither making it too long nor too short. Long prostration is, however, to be curtailed only if somebody else is performing the prayer behind us, whether it is an obligatory prayer or a voluntary one.

892. It was narrated from Anas bin Mâlik that the Prophet ﷺ said: "Be balanced in prostration; none of you should prostrate with his arms spread out like a dog." (Sahih) ٨٩٢ - حَدَّثَنَا نَصْرُ بْنُ عَلِيٍّ الْجَهْضَمِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الأَعْلَىٰ: حَدَّثَنَا سَعِيدٌ، عَنْ قَتَادَةَ، عَنْ أَنَسِ بْنِ مَالِكٍ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ قَالَ: «اعْتَدِلُوا فِي السُّجُودِ، وَلاَ يَسْجُدْ أَحَدُكُمْ وَهُوَ بَاسِطٌ ذِرَاعَيْهِ كَالْكَلْبِ».

Chapter 22. Sitting Between The Two Prostrations

(المعجم ٢٢) - بَابُ الْجُلُوسِ بَيْنَ السَّجْدَتَيْنِ (التحفة ٦١)

893. It was narrated that 'Âishah said: "When the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ raised his head from bowing, he would not prostrate until he had stood up straight. When he prostrated, he would raise his head and not prostrate again until he had sat up straight. And he used to spread out his left leg." (Sahih)

٨٩٣ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا يَزِيدُ بْنُ هَارُونَ، عَنْ حُسَيْنٍ الْمُعَلِّمِ، عَنْ بُدَيْلٍ، عَنْ أَبِي الْجَوْزَاءِ، عَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ: كَانَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ إِذَا رَفَعَ رَأْسَهُ مِنَ الرُّكُوعِ لَمْ يَسْجُدْ حَتَّى يَسْتَوِيَ قَائِماً، فَإِذَا سَجَدَ فَرَفَعَ رَأْسَهُ، لَمْ يَسْجُدْ حَتَّى يَسْتَوِيَ جَالِساً، وَكَانَ يَفْتَرِشُ رِجْلَهُ الْيُسْرَى.

تخريج: [صحيح] تقدم، ح:٨١٢.

Comments:

a. Raising one's head from bowing and standing up straight is called Qaumah. Some of the invocations recited on this occasion have already been mentioned under Chapter 18. Sitting between the two prostrations is called Jalsah. Memorable invocations for the occasion shall be discussed under Chapter 23.

b. Qaumah and Jalsah are parts as essential for the prayer as the bowing and prostration.

894. It was narrated that 'Ali said: The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said to me: "Do not squat between the two prostrations." (Da'if) ٨٩٤ - حَدَّثَنَا عَلِيُّ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا عُبَيْدُ اللهِ بْنُ مُوسَى، عَنْ إِسْرَائِيلَ، عَنْ أَبِي إِسْحَاقَ، عَنِ الحَارِثِ، عَنْ عَلِيٍّ قَالَ: قَالَ لِي رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «لاَ تُقْعِ بَيْنَ السَّجْدَتَيْنِ».

تخريج: [ضعيف] انظر الحديث السابق، وحديث مسلم(٤٩٨) يغني عنه.

Comments:

The Arabic word for squatting is Iq'â'. Iq'â' could take two forms, of them, one is prohibited and the other permissible. What is prohibited is to raise the two ankles up, sit on the buttock, and put the two hands on the ground. This is a doglike posture. What is permitted is to sit, between the two prostrations, by raising the two feet and sitting on the two heels so that the ankles and knees rest on the ground. This is the posture that has been described by Ibn 'Abbâs ﷺ as Sunnah. (Sahih Muslim:32)

896. It was narrated that Anas bin Mâlik said: "The Prophet ﷺ said to me: 'When you raise your head from prostration, do not squat like a dog. Put your buttocks between your feet and let the tops of your feet touch the ground.'"

Chapter 24. What Was Narrated Concerning The Tashah-hud (Sitting Posture)

(المعجم ٢٤) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي التَّشَهُّدِ (التحفة ٦٣)

Comments:

a. The Arabic word Tahiyyât translated here as 'blessed compliments' in fact stands for all the acts of devotion related to the spoken word, such as the praises, thanks, and supplications for Allâh. All these compliments are properly due to Allâh alone, and it is blasphemy to associate anyone else with Him.

b. Salawât translated as 'prayers' is the plural of Salât, which means 'invocation' and 'ritual prayer'. Here it means bodily acts of worship, such as bowing, prostration, standing after bowing and Tawâf (circling the Ka'bah) and so on.

c. Tayyibât, literally good things and good deeds, stands in this context for the monetary acts of worship, such as Zakât, (obligatory charity), Sadaqât (voluntary charities or alms), vows and religious offerings. No such offerings—whether monetary or physical—are permitted for any of Allâh's created things.

d. The term 'righteous slaves of Allâh' covers all the righteous creatures—humans, jinn, angels—whether in the skies or on the earth. As such, there is no need to mention Jibrâil and Mikâil ﷺ by name.

900. It was narrated that Ibn 'Abbâs said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ used to teach us the Tashah-hud as he used to teach us a Surah of the Qur'ân. He used to say: *'At-Tahiyyâtul-Mubârakâtus salawâtut-tayyibâtu lillâh; As-salâmu 'alayka ayyuhan-Nabiyyu wa rahmatullâhi wa barakâtuhu; as-salâmu 'alayna wa 'ala 'ibâdillâhis-sâlihin. Comments:

a. 'Teaching the Tashah-hud as he used to teach a Surah of the Qur'ân', means teaching it as seriously as he would teach the Qur'ân. From this we conclude that it is essential to recite this invocation in prayer.

b. The expression ayyuhan-Nabiyyu (O Prophet!) is not intended to make it heard by the Prophet ﷺ. We just have to recite the vocative as we would recite expressions like O Nuh, O Ibrâhim, O Muzzammil, O you who believe! etc. While reciting these vocatives no one assumes that he is addressing them face to face, nor does he believe that they are physically present before him.

901. It was narrated from Abu Musa Al-Ash'ari: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ addressed us and explained the Sunnah for us, and he taught us our prayer. He said: 'When you perform prayer, and you are sitting, let the first thing you say be: *At-Tahiyyâtut-tayyibâtus-salawâtu lillâh; as-salâmu 'alayka ayyuhan-Nabiyyu wa rahmatullâhi wa barakâtuhu; as-salâmu 'alayna wa 'ala 'ibâdillâhis-sâlihin. a. The order in which the recitals of the prayer have been taught to us must be strictly maintained unless the context tells us otherwise.

b. The Tashah-hud has been described by the Prophet ﷺ as containing seven phrases or sentences, since the expressions Tahiyyât, Salawât, and Tayyibât, although apparently a single group of three words, they in fact constitute three momentous concepts. The fourth sentence is the supplication for the Prophet ﷺ, and the fifth is the supplication for all the righteous slaves. The two testimonies peratining to Allâh's Oneness and the Prophesy of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ constitute the sixth and the seventh sentence respectively. And Allâh knows best.

902. It was narrated that Jâbir bin 'Abdullâh said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ used to teach us the Tashah-hud as he used to teach us a Surah from the Qur'ân: '*Bismillâhi wa Billâhi, at-tahiyyâtu lillâhi was-salawâtu wat-tayyibâtu lillahi; as-salâmu 'alayka ayyuhan-Nabiyyu wa rahmatullâhi wa barakâtuhu; as-salâmu 'alayna wa 'ala 'ibâdillâhis-sâlihin. Chapter 25. Sending Peace and Blessings Upon The Prophet ﷺ

(المعجم ٢٥) - بَابُ الصَّلَاةِ عَلَى النَّبِيِّ ﷺ (التحفة ٦٤)

903. It was narrated that Abu Sa'eed Al-Khudri said: "We said: 'O Messenger of Allâh! We know what it means to send greetings upon you, but what does it mean to send peace and blessings upon you?' He said: 'Say: "Allâhumma salli 'ala Muhammadin 'abdika wa Rasulika kamâ salayta 'ala Ibrâhima, wa bârik 'ala Muhammad (wa 'ala âli Muhammadin) kamâ bârakta 'ala Ibrâhima [O Allâh, send Your grace, honor and mercy upon Muhammad, Your slave and Messenger, as You sent Your (grace, honour and mercy) upon Ibrâhim, and send Your blessings upon Muhammad (and the family of Muhammad) as You sent Your blessings upon Ibrâhim]."

Comments:

a. Allâh says in the Qur'ân:
"Allâh sends His Salât (grace, honor and mercy) on the Prophet, and also His angels (ask Allâh to bless him). O you who believe! Send your Salât on (ask Allâh to bless) him, and send your greetings to him with due respect." (33:56). On the Companions' asking about the manner to do it, the Prophet ﷺ taught them the words mentioned in the Hadith.

b. On receiving the command to send their blessings and greetings, the Companions abstained from coining their own phraseology and, instead, they asked the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ himself to teach them the best way to do it.

c. The word Âl is often taken to mean the children. But, in the phraseology of the Shari'ah, the term covers all those people who love some great personality and follow his footsteps.

904. It was narrated that Hakam said: "I heard Ibn Abi Laila say: 'Ka'b bin 'Ujrah met me and said: "Shall I not give you a gift? The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ came out to us and we said: 'We know what it means to send greetings on you, but what does it mean to send peace and blessings upon you?' He said: 'Say: Allâhumma salli 'ala Muhammadin wa 'ala âli Muhammadin, kamâ sallayta 'ala Ibrâhima, innaka Hamidum Majid; Allâhumma bârik 'ala Muhammadin wa 'ala âli Muhammadin kamâ bârakta 'ala Ibrâhima, innaka Hamidum Majid (O Allâh, send Your grace, honor and mercy upon Muhammad and upon the family of Muhammad, as You sent Your grace, honor and mercy upon Ibrâhim, You are indeed Praiseworthy, Most Glorious. Comments:

'Let him seek refuge from four things'. This order of the Prophet ﷺ can be complied with by reciting the Arabic recital meaning: "O Allâh! I seek refuge with You from the torment of Hell, from the torment of the grave, from the trials of life and death, and from the tribulation of Masihud-Dajjâl (False Christ)."

910. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said to a man: 'What do you say during your Salât?' He said: 'The Tashah-hud, then I ask Allâh for Paradise, and I seek refuge with Him from Hell, but I do not understand what you and Mu'âdh murmur (during Salât). He said: 'Our murmuring revolves around the same things.'" (Sahih)

٩١٠ - حَدَّثَنَا يُوسُفُ بْنُ مُوسَى الْقَطَّانُ: حَدَّثَنَا جَرِيرٌ، عَنِ الأَعْمَشِ، عَنْ أَبِي صَالِحٍ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ لِرَجُلٍ: «مَا تَقُولُ فِي الصَّلاَةِ؟» قَالَ: التَّشَهُّدَ ثُمَّ أَسْأَلُ اللهَ الْجَنَّةَ، وَأَعُوذُ بِهِ مِنَ النَّارِ، أَمَا وَاللهِ مَا أُحْسِنُ دَنْدَنَتَكَ وَلاَ دَنْدَنَةَ مُعَاذٍ، فَقَالَ: «حَوْلَهَا نُدَنْدِنُ».

Comments:

The perception prevailing among the Sufis (Mystics) that they only do their deeds for the love of Allâh and not out of desire for Paradise, or the fear of Hell, is not right. Here is the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ, the most beloved and nearest slave of Allâh, the best informed person about the rights of Allâh on His creatures on the one hand, and about the most appropriate manners of paying homage to Allâh on the other. And yet he never tires of praying to Allâh for admittance to Paradise and salvation from Hell. Paradise, it must be remembered, is a synonym of the bounties of Allâh. It is Paradise where the believers shall have the greatest bliss of looking at their Lord. Therefore, any hint of turning away from Paradise, is turning away from nearness to Allâh, which is the very antithesis of love for Allâh. Similarly, the feeling of fearlessness from Hell is the feeling of fearlessness from the wrath of Allâh, which is not a trait befitting a true believer.

Chapter 27. Pointing In Tashah-hud

(المعجم ٢٧) - بَابُ الإِشَارَةِ فِي التَّشَهُّدِ (التحفة ٦٦)

911. It was narrated from Mâlik bin Numair Al-Khuzâ'i that his father said: "I saw the Prophet ﷺ putting his right hand on his right thigh during prayer, and pointing with his finger." (Hasan)

٩١١ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا وَكِيعٌ، عَنْ عِصَامِ بْنِ قُدَامَةَ، عَنْ مَالِكِ بْنِ نُمَيْرٍ الْخُزَاعِيِّ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، قَالَ: رَأَيْتُ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ وَاضِعاً يَدَهُ الْيُمْنَى عَلَى فَخِذِهِ الْيُمْنَى فِي الصَّلاَةِ، وَيُشِيرُ بِإِصْبَعِهِ.

Comments:

a. Pointing with the finger in Tashah-hud is a part of Sunnah.
b. Only the right hand finger should be used for pointing. (See:913)
c. The position of the hand during pointing shall be discussed in the coming Ahâdith.

912. It was narrated that Wâ'il bin Hujr said: "I saw the Prophet ﷺ making a circle with his thumb and middle finger, and raising the one next to it (the index finger), supplicating with it during the Tashah-hud." (Sahih)

٩١٢ - حَدَّثَنَا عَلِيُّ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللهِ بْنُ إِدْرِيسَ، عَنْ عَاصِمِ بْنِ كُلَيْبٍ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ وَائِلِ بْنِ حُجْرٍ قَالَ: رَأَيْتُ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ قَدْ حَلَّقَ الإِبْهَامَ وَالْوُسْطَى، وَرَفَعَ الَّتِي تَلِيهِمَا، يَدْعُو بِهَا فِي التَّشَهُّدِ.

Comments:

a. Pointing with finger is done only in Tashah-hud and not during the worshiper's sitting between the two prostrations. The words 'Sitting during prayer' in the context of this Hadith mean, as was made clear under Hadith : 912, sitting for Tashah-hud.

b. The left hand, during Tashah-hud, shall be in the same position as usual during the sitting between the two prostrations. The position for the right hand as described in this Hadith is as follows: Making a ring by joining the thumb with the middle finger and raising the forefinger (also known as the finger of attestation, which is next to the thumb) and pointing with it. The two remaining fingers are kept closed. (Sunan Abu Dâwud: 987) Another version reported in this connection is as follows: Putting the thumb on the lowest part of the forefinger and closing the remaining three fingers. This has been described in Ahâdith as forming a ring like fifty-three (figures used in Arabic)(Sahih Muslim: 115)

Chapter 28. The Taslim

(المعجم ٢٨) - بَابُ التَّسْلِيمِ (التحفة ٦٧)

914. It was narrated from 'Abdullâh that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ used to say the Salâm to his right and his left, until the whiteness of his cheek could be seen (saying): "As-salâmu 'alaikum wa rahmatullâh (Peace be upon you and the mercy of Allâh)." (Sahih)

٩١٤ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ نُمَيْرٍ: حَدَّثَنَا عُمَرُ بْنُ عُبَيْدٍ، عَنْ أَبِي إِسْحَاقَ، عَنِ أَبِي الْأَحْوَصِ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ كَانَ يُسَلِّمُ عَنْ يَمِينِهِ وَعَنْ شِمَالِهِ، حَتَّى يُرَى بَيَاضُ خَدِّهِ «السَّلَامُ عَلَيْكُمْ وَرَحْمَةُ اللهِ».

Comments:

a. As mentioned under H:275 and 276, Taslim (salutation), is the proper way to signal the end of prayer.

b. Several versions of 'salutation' or 'greetings' are proven in the Sunnah, such as (i) As-salâmu 'alaikum wa rahmatullâh – As-salâmu 'alaikum wa rahmatullâh (as we will see under H. 916), (ii) As-salâmu 'alaikum wa rahmatullâh wa barakâtuhu – As-salâmu 'alaikum wa rahmatullâh wa barakâtuhu (Bulugh Al-Marâm by Ibn Hajar: 252), (iii) As-salâmu 'alaikum wa rahmatullâh wa barakâtuhu to the right and As-salâmu 'alaikum wa rahmatullâh to the left (Sunan Abu-Dâ'wud: 987), (iv) Finishing the prayer with just one Taslim is also in order. But while saying a single Salâm, the face must be turned to the right just a little (Jâmi' At-Tirmidhi: 296).

915. It was narrated from 'Âmir bin Sa'd, from his father, that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ used to say the Salâm to his right and to his left. (Sahih) ٩١٥ - حَدَّثَنَا مَحْمُودُ بْنُ غَيْلَانَ: حَدَّثَنَا بِشْرُ ابْنُ السَّرِيِّ، عَنْ مُصْعَبِ بْنِ ثَابِتِ بْنِ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ الزُّبَيْرِ، عَنْ إِسْمَاعِيلَ بْنِ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ سَعْدِ بْنِ أَبِي وَقَّاصٍ، عَنْ عَامِرِ بْنِ سَعْدٍ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ كَانَ يُسَلِّمُ عَنْ يَمِينِهِ وَعَنْ يَسَارِهِ.

Chapter 29. The One Who Says One Salâm

(المعجم ٢٩) - بَابُ مَنْ يُسَلِّمُ تَسْلِيمَةً وَاحِدَةً (التحفة ٦٨)

918. 'Abdul-Muhaimin bin 'Abbâs bin Sahl bin Sa'd As-Sâ'idi narrated from his father, from his grandfather, that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said one Taslim to the front. (Da'if)

٩١٨ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو مُصْعَبٍ [الْمَدَنِيُّ]، أَحْمَدُ ابْنُ أَبِي بَكْرٍ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الْمُهَيْمِنِ بْنِ عَبَّاسِ ابْنِ سَهْلِ بْنِ سَعْدٍ السَّاعِدِيُّ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ جَدِّهِ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ سَلَّمَ تَسْلِيمَةً وَاحِدَةً تِلْقَاءَ وَجْهِهِ.

تخريج: [إسناده ضعيف] أخرجه الطبراني في الكبير: ٦/ ١٢٢، ح: ٥٧٠٣ من حديث عبدالمهيمن به، وانظر، ح: ١٦٤ لعلته.

Comments:

'Said one Taslim to the front' means he ﷺ did not turn his face on both sides as is the usual practice in saying Salâm, but turned his face a little to the right once, as has already been discussed in comments on H. 914.

919. It was narrated from Hishâm bin 'Uwrah, from his father, from 'Âishah, that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ used to say one Salâm, to the front. (Da'if)

920. It was narrated that Salamah bin Akwa' said: "I saw the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ performing the prayer, and he said one Salâm." (Da'if)

Chapter 30. Responding To The Imâm's Salâm

(المعجم ٣٠) - بَابُ رَدِّ السَّلَامِ عَلَى الْإِمَامِ (التحفة ٦٩)

921. It was narrated from Samurah bin Jundub that the Prophet ﷺ said: "When the Imâm says the Salâm, then respond to him." (Da'if)

Comments:

Both these Ahâdith are 'Weak'. As such the command concerning the response is not proved.

Chapter 31. The Imâm Should Not Supplicate For Himself Only

(المعجم ٣١) - بَابٌ: وَلَا يَخُصَّ الْإِمَامُ نَفْسَهُ بِالدُّعَاءِ (التحفة ٧٠)

Chapter 32. What Is To Be Said After The Salâm

(المعجم ٣٢) - بَابُ مَا يُقَالُ بَعْدَ التَّسْلِيمِ (التحفة ٧١)

٩٢٤ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو مُعَاوِيَةَ؛ ح: وَحَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عَبْدِ الْمَلِكِ بْنِ أَبِي الشَّوَارِبِ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الْوَاحِدِ ابْنُ زِيَادٍ، قَالَ: حَدَّثَنَا عَاصِمٌ الأَحْوَلُ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ الحارِثِ، عَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ: كَانَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ إِذَا سَلَّمَ لَمْ يَقْعُدْ إِلَّا مِقْدَارَ مَا يَقُولُ: «اللَّهُمَّ أَنْتَ السَّلاَمُ وَمِنْكَ السَّلاَمُ، تَبَارَكْتَ يَا ذَا الْجَلاَلِ وَالإِكْرَامِ».

924. It was narrated that 'Âishah said: "When the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said the Salâm, he would sit only for as long as it took to say: *'Allâhumma Antas-Salâm wa minkas-salâm. تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، المساجد، باب استحباب الذكر بعد الصلوة وبيان صفته، ح:٥٩٢ عن ابن أبي شيبة (وغيره) به.

Comments:

a. This invocation must be recited after each obligatory prayer.
b. The text mentioned in the Hadith is the only part of the invocation proven in the Sunnah. Other sentences, are the creation of the people's own mind.

٩٢٥ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا شَبَابَةُ: حَدَّثَنَا شُعْبَةُ، عَنْ مُوسى بْنِ أَبِي عَائِشَةَ، عَنْ مَوْلًى لِأُمِّ سَلَمَةَ، عَنْ أُمِّ سَلَمَةَ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ كَانَ يَقُولُ، إِذَا صَلَّى الصُّبْحَ حِينَ يُسَلِّمُ: «اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَسْأَلُكَ عِلْماً نَافِعاً، وَرِزْقاً طَيِّباً، وَعَمَلاً مُتَقَبَّلاً».

925. It was narrated from Umm Salamah that when the Prophet ﷺ performed the Subh, while he said the Salâm, he would say: 'Allâhumma inni as'aluka 'ilman nâfi'an, wa rizqan tayyiban, wa 'amalan mutaqabbalan (O Allâh, I ask You for beneficial knowledge, goodly provision and acceptable deeds).'" Comments:

It is an inclusive invocation. The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ often used to recite invocations that were comprehensive, but characterized by the economy of words and abundance of meaningful ideas.

926. It was narrated that 'Abdullâh bin 'Amr said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'There are two characteristics which no Muslim man acquires but he will enter Paradise. They are easy but those who do them are few. At the end of every prayer he should glorify Allâh (by saying Subhân Allâh) ten times, extol Him (by saying Allâhu Akbar) ten times, and praise Him (by saying Al-Hamdu Lillâh) ten times.' I saw the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ counting them on his hand. 'That is one hundred and fifty (after all the prayers of the day) on the tongue, and one thousand and five hundred on the Scale. And when he goes to his bed, let him glorify Allâh and praise Him and extol Him one hundred times. That will be one hundred on the tongue and one thousand on the Scale. Who among you does two thousand and five hundred evil actions in one day?' They said: 'Who would not be keen to do that?' He said: 'But the Shaitân comes to anyone of you while he is performing prayer and says: "Remember such and such, remember such and

Comments:

a. Saying Subhân-Allâh, Al-Hamdu-Lillâh, and Allâhu Akbar ten times each at the end of the obligatory prayer is acceptable, and so is saying each of them thirty-three times, as we shall see in the next Hadith.

b. Reciting brief invocations proved from Sunnah are better than repeating lenthy supplications not proved from Sunnah.

c. 'That is one hundred and fifty on the tongue' means that these thirty (phrases) when recited after the five obligatory prayers will make up a total of one hundred and fifty (phrases).

927. It was narrated that Abu Dharr said: "It was said to the Prophet ﷺ and perhaps (one of the narrators) Sufyân said: I said: O Messenger of Allâh! Those who have property and wealth have surpassed us in reward. They say the same as we do, and they spend but we do not spend.' He said to me: 'Shall I not tell you something which, if you do it, you will catch up with those who have surpassed you and you will excel over those who come after you? Praise Allâh (by saying Al-Hamdu Lillâh) after every prayer, and glorify Him (by saying Subhân-Allâh) and extol Him (by saying Allâhu Akbar), thirty-three, and thirty-three, and thirty-four times.'" Sufyân said: "I do not know which of them was to be recited thirty-four times." (Sahih)

٩٢٧ - حَدَّثَنَا الْحُسَيْنُ بْنُ الْحَسَنِ الْمَرْوَزِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا سُفْيَانُ بْنُ عُيَيْنَةَ، عَنْ بِشْرِ بْنِ عَاصِمٍ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ أَبِي ذَرٍّ قَالَ: قِيلَ لِلنَّبِيِّ ﷺ - وَرُبَّمَا قَالَ سُفْيَانُ: قُلْتُ -: يَا رَسُولَ اللهِ! ذَهَبَ أَهْلُ الأَمْوَالِ وَالدُّثُورِ بِالأَجْرِ، يَقُولُونَ كَمَا نَقُولُ وَيُنْفِقُونَ وَلاَ نُنْفِقُ. قَالَ لِي: «أَلاَ أُخْبِرُكُمْ بِأَمْرٍ إِذَا فَعَلْتُمُوهُ أَدْرَكْتُمْ مَنْ قَبْلَكُمْ وَفُتُّمْ مَنْ بَعْدَكُمْ، تَحْمَدُونَ اللهَ فِي دُبُرِ كُلِّ صَلاَةٍ وَتُسَبِّحُونَهُ، وَتُكَبِّرُونَهُ ثَلاَثاً وَثَلاَثِينَ، وَثَلاَثاً وَثَلاَثِينَ، وَأَرْبَعاً وَثَلاَثِينَ».

قَالَ سُفْيَانُ: لاَ أَدْرِي أَيَّتُهُنَّ أَرْبَعٌ.

تخريج: [إسناده صحيح] أخرجه الحميدي، من حديث سفيان به، وصححه ابن خزيمة، ح:٧٤٨، وله طرق عند أحمد:٥/١٥٨ وغيره.

Comments:

'Catch up with those who have surpassed you' means that those who have gone ahead of you in rank by doing many virtuous deeds, you can outdo them by engaging in the remembrance of Allâh. And those who do more virtuous deeds but neglect the remembrance of Allâh cannot attain ranks as high as you. The message that we get from the Hadith is that, alongside other virtuous deeds, it is also necessary that we focus on reciting the praise and remembrance of Allâh.

928. Thawbân narrated that when he finished his prayer, the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ would ask for forgiveness three times, then he would say: "Allâhumma Antas-Salâm wa minkas-salâm tabârakta yâ Dhal-jalâli wal-ikrâm" (O Allâh, You are As-Salâm and from You is all peace, Blessed are You O Possessor of majesty and honor)." (Sahih)

Chapter 33. Departing After Completing The Prayer

(المعجم ٣٣) - بَابُ الاِنْصِرَافِ مِنَ الصَّلاَةِ (التحفة ٧٢)

929. It was narrated from Qabisah bin Hulb that his father said: "The Prophet ﷺ led us (in prayer), and he used to depart from both sides. (i.e. from either side)." (Hasan)

٩٢٩ - حَدَّثَنَا عُثْمَانُ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو الأَحْوَصِ، عَنْ سِمَاكٍ، عَنْ قَبِيصَةَ بْنِ هُلْبٍ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ قَالَ: أَمَّنَا النَّبِيُّ ﷺ فَكَانَ يَنْصَرِفُ عَنْ جَانِبَيْهِ جَمِيعاً.

تخريج: [إسناده حسن] أخرجه أبو داود، الصلٰوة، باب: كيف الانصراف من الصلٰوة؟ ح:١٠٤١ من حديث شعبة عن سماك بن حرب به، وحسنه الترمذي، والنووي في المجموع، وصححه ابن عبدالبر في الإستيعاب، وانظر، ح:٨٠٩.

Comments:

'It is a part of Sunnah that, after finishing the prayer, the Imâm turns his back to the Qiblah and sits facing the people. In order to do this, it is the same whether he turns to his right or to his left after finishing the prayer.

930. It was narrated that Aswad said: "'Abdullâh (bin Mas'ud) said: 'None of you should apportion within himself a part (of his prayer) thinking that it is a right of Allâh upon him that he must only turn to his right to leave after finishing the prayer. I saw the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ and most of the time he turned to his left.'" (Sahih)

Comments:

The Companions were so careful about innovations that even with regard to seemingly insignificant things, they considered it imperative to follow the Sunnah all in all.

931. It was narrated from 'Amr bin Shu'aib, from his father, that his grandfather said: "I saw the Prophet ﷺ departing to his right and to his left when he finished the prayer." (Hasan) ٩٣١ - حَدَّثَنَا بِشْرُ بْنُ هِلاَلٍ الصَّوَّافُ: حَدَّثَنَا يَزِيدُ بْنُ زُرَيْعٍ، عَنْ حُسَيْنٍ الْمُعَلِّمِ، عَنْ عَمْرِو بْنِ شُعَيْبٍ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ جَدِّهِ قَالَ: رَأَيْتُ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ يَنْفَتِلُ عَنْ يَمِينِهِ وَعَنْ يَسَارِهِ فِي الصَّلاَةِ.

٩٣٢ – حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ عَبْدِ الْمَلِكِ بْنِ وَاقِدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا إِبْرَاهِيمُ بْنُ سَعْدٍ، عَنِ ابْنِ شِهَابٍ، عَنْ [هِنْدٍ] بِنْتِ الْحَارِثِ، عَنْ أُمِّ سَلَمَةَ قَالَتْ: كَانَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ إِذَا سَلَّمَ قَامَ النِّسَاءُ حِينَ

Comments:

The participation of ladies, alongside with men, in the prayer of congregation is a proven Sunnah. However, their praying at home is preferable. (See Sunan Abu Dâwud: 567)

Chapter 34. If The Time For Prayer Comes When Food Has Been Served

(المعجم ٣٤) - بَابٌ: إِذَا حَضَرَتِ الصَّلَاةِ وَوُضِعَ الْعَشَاءُ (التحفة ٧٣)

933. It was narrated from Anas bin Mâlik that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "If food is served and the Iqâmah for prayer is given, then start with the food." (Sahih)

٩٣٣ - حَدَّثَنَا هِشَامُ بْنُ عَمَّارٍ: حَدَّثَنَا سُفْيَانُ ابْنُ عُيَيْنَةَ، عَنِ الزُّهْرِيِّ، عَنْ أَنَسِ بْنِ مَالِكٍ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ قَالَ: «إِذَا وُضِعَ الْعَشَاءُ وَأُقِيمَتِ الصَّلَاةُ، فَابْدَأُوا بِالْعَشَاءِ».

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، المساجد، باب كراهة الصلوة بحضرة الطعام الذي يريد أكله في الحال ... الخ، ح:٥٥٧ من حديث سفيان بن عيينة به.

Comments:

If a man is hungry and food has been served, then even while praying, his hunger will continue to distract his attention away from the prayer. It is, therefore, advisable that he first eat his food so that he is in a better position to concentrate on his prayer.

934. It was narrated from Nâfi' that Ibn 'Umar said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'If food is served and the Iqâmah for prayer is given, then start with the food.''

He said: "Ibn 'Umar ate dinner one night while he could hear the Iqâmah." (Sahih) ٩٣٤ - حَدَّثَنَا أَزْهَرُ بْنُ مَرْوَانَ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الْوَارِثِ: حَدَّثَنَا أَيُّوبُ، عَنْ نَافِعٍ، عَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «إِذَا وُضِعَ الْعَشَاءُ وَأُقِيمَتِ الصَّلَاةُ، فَابْدَأُوا بِالْعَشَاءِ».

that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "If food is ready and the Iqâmah is being given, then start with the food." (Sahih) تخريج: أخرجه البخاري، الباب السابق، ح:٥٤٦٥، ومسلم، الباب السابق، ح:٥٥٨ من حديث هشام به.

Comments:

The order to eat first is for conditions of extreme hunger, otherwise it would be highly improper to avoid the prayer in congregation. And Allâh knows best.

Chapter 35. Prayer In Congregation On A Rainy Night

(المعجم ٣٥) - بَابُ الْجَمَاعَةِ فِي اللَّيْلَةِ الْمَطِيرَةِ (التحفة ٧٤)

٩٣٦ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا إِسْمَاعِيلُ بْنُ إِبْرَاهِيمَ، عَنْ خَالِدٍ الْحَذَّاءِ، عَنْ أَبِي الْمَلِيحِ قَالَ: خَرَجْتُ فِي لَيْلَةٍ مَطِيرَةٍ، فَلَمَّا رَجَعْتُ اسْتَفْتَحْتُ، فَقَالَ أَبِي: مَنْ هٰذَا؟ قَالَ: أَبُو الْمَلِيحِ، قَالَ: لَقَدْ رَأَيْتُنَا مَعَ رَسُولِ اللهِ ﷺ يَوْمَ الْحُدَيْبِيَةِ، وَأَصَابَتْنَا سَمَاءٌ لَمْ تَبُلَّ أَسَافِلَ نِعَالِنَا، فَنَادَى مُنَادِي رَسُولِ اللهِ ﷺ: «صَلُّوا فِي رِحَالِكُمْ».

936. It was narrated that Abu Malih said: "I went out on a rainy night (for congregational prayer), and when I came back I asked for the door to be opened. My father said: 'Who is this?' I said: 'Abu Malih.' He said: 'We were with the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ at Hudaybiyah and it rained a little, such that the soles of our sandals did not get wet. The announcer of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ called out: 'Perform prayer at your camps.'" (Sahih) تخريج: [إسناده صحيح] أخرجه أبو داود، الصلوة، باب الجمعة في اليوم المطير، ح:١٠٥٩ من حديث خالد به، وله طرق أخرى عند أبي داود، ح:١٠٥٧ وغيره، وصححه ابن خزيمة، وابن حبان، والحاكم، والذهبي وغيرهم.

Comments:

a. It is permitted to pray at home in rainy conditions.

b. On such occasions the Mu'adh-dhin should call out to the people to perform their prayers at their homes and camps.

٩٣٧ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ الصَّبَّاحِ: حَدَّثَنَا

937. It was narrated that Ibn 'Umar said: "On rainy nights or on cold windy nights, the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ would summon his announcer to call out: 'Perform prayer at your camps.'" (Sahih) ٩٣٨ - حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الرَّحْمٰنِ بْنُ عَبْدِ الْوَهَّابِ: حَدَّثَنَا الضَّحَّاكُ بْنُ مَخْلَدٍ، عَنْ عَبَّادِ بْنِ مَنْصُورٍ، قَالَ: سَمِعْتُ عَطَاءً يُحَدِّثُ عَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ، عَنِ النَّبِيِّ ﷺ أَنَّهُ قَالَ، فِي يَوْمِ جُمُعَةٍ، يَوْمِ مَطَرٍ: «صَلُّوا فِي رِحَالِكُمْ».

938. It was narrated from Ibn 'Abbâs that the Prophet ﷺ said, on a Friday that was rainy: "Perform prayer at your camps." (Hasan) تخريج: [حسن] أخرجه ابن خزيمة، ح:١٨٦٦ من حديث أبي عاصم الضحاك بن مخلد به * عباد صدوق رمي بالقدر، وكان يدلس، وتغير بآخره (تقريب)، وصرح بالسماع، ولحديثه شواهد، انظر الحديثين السابقين والآتي.

٩٣٩ - حَدَّثَنَا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ عَبْدَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبَّادُ ابْنُ عَبَّادٍ الْمُهَلَّبِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا عَاصِمٌ الأَحْوَلُ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ الْحَارِثِ بْنِ نَوْفَلٍ أَنَّ ابْنَ عَبَّاسٍ أَمَرَ الْمُؤَذِّنَ أَنْ يُؤَذِّنَ يَوْمَ الْجُمُعَةِ، وَذٰلِكَ يَوْمٌ مَطِيرٌ. فَقَالَ: اللهُ أَكْبَرُ، اللهُ أَكْبَرُ، أَشْهَدُ أَنْ لاَ إِلٰهَ إِلَّا اللهُ. أَشْهَدُ أَنَّ مُحَمَّدًا رَسُولُ اللهِ. ثُمَّ قَالَ: نَادِ فِي النَّاسِ فَلْيُصَلُّوا فِي بُيُوتِهِمْ. فَقَالَ لَهُ النَّاسُ: مَا هٰذَا الَّذِي صَنَعْتَ؟ قَالَ: قَدْ فَعَلَ هٰذَا مَنْ هُوَ خَيْرٌ مِنِّي، تَأْمُرُنِي أَنْ أُخْرِجَ النَّاسَ مِنْ بُيُوتِهِمْ فَيَأْتُونِي يَدُوسُونَ الطِّينَ إِلَى رُكَبِهِمْ.

939. It was narrated from 'Abdullâh bin Hârith bin Nawfal that Ibn 'Abbâs commanded the Mu'adh-dhin to call the Adhân one Friday, which was a rainy day. He said: "Allâhu Akbar, Allâhu Akbar, Ashhadu an lâ ilâha illallâh, Ashhadu anna Muhammadan Rasulullâh (Allâh is the Most Great, Allâh is Most Great, I bear witness that none has the right to be worshiped but Allâh, I bear witness that Muhammad is the Messenger of Allâh)." Then he (Ibn 'Abbâs) said: "Proclaim to the people that they should pray in their houses." The people said to him: "What is this that you have done?" He said: "One who is better than me did that. Are you telling me that I should bring the people out of their houses and make them come to me wading through mud up to their knees?" (Sahih) تخريج: أخرجه البخاري، الأذان، باب الكلام في الأذان، ح:٦١٦، ومسلم، صلوة المسافرين، باب الصلوة في الرحال في المطر، ح:٦٩٩ من حديث عاصم وغيره به.

Comments:

Permission to perform the prayer at home because of rain applies not only to the five daily prayers, but also to the Friday prayers.

Chapter 36. What Suffices As A Sutrah (Screen) For One Performing Prayer

(المعجم ٣٦) - بَابُ مَا يَسْتُرُ الْمُصَلِّي

(التحفة ٧٥)

940. It was narrated from Musa bin Talhah that his father said: "We used to perform prayer while the beasts were passing in front of us. That was mentioned to the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ and he said: 'If something like the handle of a saddle[1] is placed in front of anyone of you, it will not matter whoever passes in front of him." (Sahih)

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، الصلوة، باب سترة المصلي والندب إلى الصلوة إلى سترة ... الخ، ح:٤٩٩ من حديث ابن نمير وغيره به.

Comments:

a. How high (or what type) a Sutrah (a symbolic barrier or screen in front of the worshipper) should be, is determined by this Hadith, which is equal to the 'handle of a saddle' in height. The handle referred to is about one-and-a-quarter or one-and-a-half feet in height. A Sutrah should, therefore, be of this minimum height.

b. The Sutrah is a mark, which determines that whoever passes in front of the worshipper, should pass from beyond that mark, not from within it.

[1] It is the piece of wood on the camel saddle which is held on to. (Explanation by Sindi.)

941. It was narrated that Ibn 'Umar said: "A small spear (Harbah) would be brought out to the Prophet ﷺ when he was travelling; he would plant it (in the ground) to perform prayer while facing it." (Sahih)

٩٤١ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ الصَّبَّاحِ: أَنْبَأَنَا عَبْدُ اللهِ بْنُ [رَجَاءٍ] الْمَكِّيُّ، عَنْ عُبَيْدِ اللهِ، عَنْ نَافِعٍ، عَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ: كَانَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ تُخْرَجُ لَهُ حَرْبَةٌ فِي السَّفَرِ، فَيَنْصِبُهَا فَيُصَلِّي إِلَيْهَا.

تخريج: أخرجه البخاري، الصلوة، باب سترة الإمام سترة من خلفه، ح:٤٩٤، ومسلم، الصلوة، باب سترة المصلي والندب إلى الصلوة إلى سترة . . . الخ، ح:٥٠١ من حديث عبيدالله ابن عمر به مطولاً.

Comments:

This shows that the Prophet (ﷺ) was particular about the Sutrah even during his journeys.

942. It was narrated that 'Âishah said: "The Messenger of Allâh had a reed mat that he would spread out during the day, and make into a compartment at night, towards which he would perform prayer." (Sahih)

٩٤٢ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ بِشْرٍ، عَنْ عُبَيْدِ اللهِ بْنِ عُمَرَ: حَدَّثَنِي سَعِيدُ بْنُ أَبِي سَعِيدٍ، عَنْ أَبِي سَلَمَةَ ابْنِ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمٰنِ، عَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ: كَانَ لِرَسُولِ اللهِ ﷺ حَصِيرٌ يُبْسَطُ بِالنَّهَارِ وَيَحْتَجِرُهُ بِاللَّيْلِ، يُصَلِّي إِلَيْهِ.

Comments:

This confirms the binding nature of the Sutrah even inside one's house.

943. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Prophet ﷺ said: "When anyone of you performs prayer, let him put something in front of him. If he cannot find anything then let him put a stick. If he cannot find one, then let him draw a line. Then it will not matter if anything passes in front of him." (Da'if)

فَلْيَجْعَلْ تِلْقَاءَ وَجْهِهِ شَيْئاً، فَإِنْ لَمْ يَجِدْ فَلْيَنْصِبْ عَصاً، فَإِنْ لَمْ يَجِدْ فَلْيَخُطَّ خَطًّا، ثُمَّ لاَ يَضُرُّهُ مَا مَرَّ بَيْنَ يَدَيْهِ».

Chapter 37. Passing In Front Of Someone Who Is Performing Prayer

(المعجم ٣٧) - بَابُ الْمُرُورِ بَيْنَ يَدَيِ الْمُصَلِّي (التحفة ٧٦)

944. Busr bin Sa'eed said: "They sent me to Zaid bin Khâlid to ask him about passing in front of one who is performing prayer. He told me that the Prophet ﷺ said: 'Waiting for forty is better than passing in front of one who is performing prayer.'" (Sahih)

(One of the narrators) Sufyân said: "I do not know if he meant forty years, months, days, or hours."

٩٤٤ - حَدَّثَنَا هِشَامُ بْنُ عَمَّارٍ: حَدَّثَنَا سُفْيَانُ ابْنُ عُيَيْنَةَ، عَنْ سَالِمٍ أَبِي النَّضْرِ، عَنْ بُسْرِ ابْنِ سَعِيدٍ قَالَ: أَرْسَلُونِي إِلَى زَيْدِ بْنِ خَالِدٍ أَسْأَلُهُ عَنِ الْمُرُورِ بَيْنَ يَدَيِ الْمُصَلِّي، فَأَخْبَرَنِي عَنِ النَّبِيِّ ﷺ قَالَ: «لأَنْ يَقُومَ أَرْبَعِينَ، خَيْرٌ لَهُ مِنْ أَنْ يَمُرَّ بَيْنَ يَدَيْهِ».

قَالَ سُفْيَانُ: فَلاَ أَدْرِي أَرْبَعِينَ سَنَةً، أَوْ شَهْراً، أَوْ صَبَاحاً، أَوْ سَاعَةً.

Comments:

a. Passing in front of one who is performing prayer is a sin of such magnitude, that even waiting for long periods of time for it is worth the wait.

b. The narrators of Ahâdith were so discreet in narrating a Hadith that they made it a point to mention any point of doubt in its wording or detail.

945. It was narrated from Busr bin Sa'eed that Zaid bin Khâlid sent word to Abu Juhaim Al-Ansâri asking him: "What did you hear from the Prophet ﷺ about a man who passes in front of another man when he is performing prayer?" He said: "I heard the Prophet ﷺ saying: 'If

946. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "The Prophet ﷺ said: 'If anyone of you knew (how great is the sin involved) in passing in front of his brother while he is performing prayer, waiting for one hundred years would be better for him than one step that he takes.'" (Da'if)

[1] Regarding the things mentioned that 'sever' the prayer, As-Sindi commented on number 949: "The obvious implication of this Hadith is that a dog which passes by, or other than that, mentioned in this Hadith, invalidates the prayer. And some people said this. But the majority hold the opposite view. This is how Nawawi and others explained it; that the meaning of 'severing' is 'diminishing' it due to the distraction of the heart by these things."

It was narrated that Umm Salamah said: "The Prophet ﷺ was performing prayer in the house of Umm Salamah, and 'Abdullâh or 'Umar bin Abu Salamah passed in front of him; he gestured with his hand, and he went back. Then Zainab bint Umm Salamah passed in front of him, and he gestured with his hand, but she kept going. When the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ finished his prayer, he said: 'These (women) are more stubborn.'" Comments:

'Abdullâh, 'Umar and Zainab ﷺ are all the children of Abu Salamah ﷺ. After the death of Abu Salamah the Prophet ﷺ had married Umm Salamah, and these children were raised under the care of the Prophet ﷺ. All three are, therefore, reckoned among the young Companions, as they had the good fortune of seeing the Prophet ﷺ in their childhood.

It was narrated from 'Abdullâh bin Sâmit from Abu Dharr, that the Prophet ﷺ said: "The prayer is severed by a woman, a donkey, and a black dog, if there is not something like the handle of a saddle in front of a man." I ('Abdullâh) said: "What is wrong with a black dog and not a red one?" He (Abu Dharr) said: 'I asked the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ the same question, and he said: "The black dog is a Shaitân (satan)." Comments:

There is a divergence of opinion among the scholars as to whether or not the prayer is severed by passing of the above mentioned. A section of the scholars believes that they do sever the prayer as is evident from the words of Hadith taken at face value. The second section interprets the Arabic word yaqta'u to mean 'diminish the quality' because of distraction in concentration and devotion. There is also a third group that says that the Hadith stands abrogated by another Hadith which says: 'Lâ yaqta'us-salâta shai'un' nothing severs the prayer. This last opinion is certainly preferable. For details please see Ahmad Shâkir the Egyptian's Notes on Al-Muhalla by Ibn Hazm: Ruling 385, Vol.4,pp.13-14, Dâr Al-Jial, Beirut, Mir'âtul-Mafâtih and Injâz Al-Hâjah.

Chapter 39. Stopping (The Passing Person) As Much As Possible

(المعجم ٣٩) - بَابٌ: ادْرَأْ مَا اسْتَطَعْتَ

(التحفة ٧٨)

953. It was narrated that Hasan Al-'Urani said: "Mention was made in the presence of Ibn 'Abbâs about what severs the prayer. They mentioned a dog, a donkey and a woman. He said: 'What do you say about kids (young goats)? The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ was performing prayer one day, when a kid came and wanted to pass in front of him. The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ preceded it toward the Qiblah. (to tighten the space and prevent it from passing in front of him).'" (Da'if)

٩٥٣ - حَدَّثَنَا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ عَبْدَةَ: أَنْبَأَنَا حَمَّادُ ابْنُ زَيْدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا يَحْيَى، أَبُو الْمُعَلَّى، عَنِ الْحَسَنِ الْعُرَنِيِّ قَالَ: ذُكِرَ عِنْدَ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ، مَا يَقْطَعُ الصَّلَاةَ، فَذَكَرُوا الْكَلْبَ وَالْحِمَارَ وَالْمَرْأَةَ، فَقَالَ: مَا تَقُولُونَ فِي الْجَدْيِ؟ إِنَّ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ كَانَ يُصَلِّي يَوْماً، فَذَهَبَ جَدْيٌ يَمُرُّ بَيْنَ يَدَيْهِ، فَبَادَرَهُ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ الْقِبْلَةَ.

تخريج: [إسناده ضعيف] وقال البوصيري: هذا إسناد صحيح، رجاله ثقات، إلا إنه منقطع قال أحمد وابن معين: لم يسمع الحسن (العرني) من ابن عباس .

Comments:

a. The worshiper must not allow anything to pass in front of him.

b. The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ preceded towards the front in order to tighten the space so that the kid (or lamb) passed from behind.

c. It seems that 'Abdullâh bin Abbâs interpreted the term 'severing the prayer' by the passing of these things as disruption in concentration and devotion. He did not see in it the need to redo the prayer. That is the reason why he spoke the words: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ preceded it (the kid or lamb) toward the Qiblah" although nobody believes that their passing would sever the prayer.

954. It was narrated from 'Abdur-Rahmân bin Abu Sa'eed that his father said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'When anyone of you performs prayer, let him pray facing towards a Sutrah, and let him get close to it, and not let anyone pass in front of him. If someone comes and wants to pass in front of him, let him fight him, for he is a Shaitân (satan).'" (Sahih) ٩٥٤ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو كُرَيْبٍ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو خَالِدٍ الأَحْمَرُ، عَنِ ابْنِ عَجْلاَنَ، عَنْ زَيْدِ بْنِ أَسْلَمَ، عَنْ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمٰنِ بْنِ أَبِي سَعِيدٍ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «إِذَا صَلَّى أَحَدُكُمْ فَلْيُصَلِّ إِلَى سُتْرَةٍ. وَلْيَدْنُ مِنْهَا. وَلاَ يَدَعْ [أَحَداً] يَمُرُّ بَيْنَ يَدَيْهِ. فَإِنْ جَاءَ أَحَدٌ يَمُرُّ، فَلْيُقَاتِلْهُ. فَإِنَّهُ شَيْطَانٌ».

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، الصلٰوة، باب منع المار بين يدي المصلي، ح:٥٠٥ من حديث زيد به.

Comments:

a. We must stop anyone trying to pass between the worshiper and the Sutrah. If he refuses to stop, we must stop him by force. And if the situation demands, we should not hesitate to even push him away. This is the real purport of the Prophet's command to 'fight' him.

b. Anyone who tries to pass in front of the worshipper has been dubbed by the Prophet ﷺ as a Shaitân, because he has obviously been deluded by the Shaitân into doing it.

955. It was narrated from 'Abdullâh bin 'Umar that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "When anyone of you is performing prayer, he should not let anyone pass in front of him. If he insists then let him fight him, for he has a Qarin (devil-companion) with him." (Sahih)

(One of the narrators) Al-Munkadiri said: "He has al-'Uzza with him."[1]

٩٥٥ - حَدَّثَنَا هَارُونُ بْنُ عَبْدِ اللهِ الْحَمَّالُ، وَ الْحَسَنُ بْنُ دَاوُدَ الْمُنْكَدِرِيُّ قَالاَ: حَدَّثَنَا ابْنُ أَبِي فُدَيْكٍ، عَنِ الضَّحَّاكِ بْنِ عُثْمَانَ، عَنْ صَدَقَةَ بْنِ يَسَارٍ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ عُمَرَ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ قَالَ: «إِذَا كَانَ أَحَدُكُمْ يُصَلِّي، فَلاَ يَدَعْ أَحَداً يَمُرُّ بَيْنَ يَدَيْهِ، فَإِنْ أَبَى فَلْيُقَاتِلْهُ، فَإِنَّ مَعَهُ الْقَرِينَ».

وَقَالَ الْمُنْكَدِرِيُّ: فَإِنَّ مَعَهُ الْعُزَّى.

[1] That is Hasan bin Dâwud (and they say: 'Abdullâh) Al-Munkadiri one of the two that Ibn Mâjah narrated it from. The Hadith is also recorded by Muslim and Ahmad without this statement, so it is clear that it is from Munkadiri alone.

Chapter 40. One Who Performs Prayer With Something Between Himself And The Prayer Direction

(المعجم ٤٠) - بَابُ مَنْ صَلَّى وَبَيْنَهُ وَبَيْنَ الْقِبْلَةِ شَيْءٌ (التحفة ٧٩)

956. It was narrated from 'Âishah: "The Prophet ﷺ used to pray at night, and I was laying between him and the prayer direction, as a (body for a) funeral horizontally.'" (Sahih)

٩٥٦ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا سُفْيَانُ، عَنِ الزُّهْرِيِّ، عَنْ عُرْوَةَ، عَنْ عَائِشَةَ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ كَانَ يُصَلِّي مِنَ اللَّيْلِ، وَأَنَا مُعْتَرِضَةٌ بَيْنَهُ وَبَيْنَ الْقِبْلَةِ، كَاعْتِرَاضِ الْجَنَازَةِ.

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، الصلوٰة، باب الاعتراض بين يدي المصلي، ح:٥١٢ عن أبي بكر بن شيبة وغيره به.

Comments:

The ruling about a person lying stretched out on the ground in front is not the same as the one who passes between the worshiper and the prayer direction (i.e. Sutrah).

957. It was narrated from Zainab bint Umm Salamah that her mother said that her bed was in front of the place where the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ prostrated. (Sahih)

٩٥٧ - حَدَّثَنَا بَكْرُ بْنُ خَلَفٍ، وَ سُوَيْدُ بْنُ سَعِيدٍ قَالاَ: حَدَّثَنَا يَزِيدُ بْنُ زُرَيْعٍ: حَدَّثَنَا خَالِدٌ الْحَذَّاءُ، عَنْ أَبِي قِلاَبَةَ، عَنْ زَيْنَبَ بِنْتِ أَبِي سَلَمَةَ، عَنْ أُمِّهَا قَالَتْ: كَانَ فِرَاشُهَا بِحِيَالِ مَسْجِدِ رَسُولِ اللهِ ﷺ.

Comments:

It does not matter if the wife of a person performing prayer is lying close to him.

958. Maimunah, the wife of the Prophet ﷺ, said: "The Prophet ﷺ used to perform prayer when I was opposite him, and his garment would sometimes touch me when he prostrated." (Sahih)

٩٥٨ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبَّادُ بْنُ الْعَوَّامِ، عَنِ الشَّيْبَانِيِّ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ ابْنِ شَدَّادٍ قَالَ: حَدَّثَتْنِي مَيْمُونَةُ، زَوْجُ النَّبِيِّ ﷺ، قَالَتْ: كَانَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ يُصَلِّي وَأَنَا بِحِذَائِهِ، وَرُبَّمَا أَصَابَنِي ثَوْبُهُ إِذَا سَجَدَ.

Comments:

The Mother of the Believers means to say that she used to be in her bedding very close to where the Prophet ﷺ would be performing his prayer.

959. It was narrated that Ibn 'Abbâs said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ forbade performing prayer behind one who is engaged in conversation or one who is sleeping." (Hasan)

Comments:

In the previous Ahâdith we have seen that it is permissible for a person to perform prayer in a situation where a sleeping person is lying in front of him. This Hadith seems to contradict the ruling of the previous Ahâdith. The prohibition contained in this Hadith shall thus be assumed to be in the nature of Makruh Tanzihi (that which nearly approaches the unlawful without actually being so) which means that it is preferable to avoid praying like this if it is likely to impact the concentration of the worshiper.

Chapter 41. Prohibition Of Bowing Or Prostrating Before The Imâm

(المعجم ٤١) - بَابُ النَّهْيِ أَنْ يُسْبَقَ الإِمَامَ بِالرُّكُوعِ وَالسُّجُودِ (التحفة ٨٠)

960. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "The Prophet ﷺ used to teach us not to bow or prostrate before the Imâm; when he says the Takbir then say the Takbir, and when he prostrates, you should prostrate." (Sahih)

٩٦٠ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عُبَيْدٍ، عَنِ الأَعْمَشِ، عَنْ أَبِي صَالِحٍ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ: كَانَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ يُعَلِّمُنَا أَنْ لاَ نُبَادِرَ الإِمَامَ بِالرُّكُوعِ وَالسُّجُودِ. وَإِذَا كَبَّرَ فَكَبِّرُوا. وَإِذَا سَجَدَ فَاسْجُدُوا.

تخريج: [صحيح] أخرجه أحمد: ٢/ ٤٤٠ عن محمد بن عبيد به، وأخرجه مسلم، الصلوة، باب النهي عن مبادرة الإمام بالتكبير وغيره، ح: ٤١٥ من حديث عيسى بن يونس عن الأعمش به.

961. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Does not the one who raises his head before the Imâm fear that Allâh may turn his head into the head of a donkey?'" (Sahih)

٩٦١ - حَدَّثَنَا حُمَيْدُ بْنُ مَسْعَدَةَ، وَ سُوَيْدُ ابْنُ سَعِيدٍ قَالاَ: حَدَّثَنَا حَمَّادُ بْنُ زَيْدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ زِيَادٍ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «أَلاَ يَخْشَى الَّذِي يَرْفَعُ رَأْسَهُ قَبْلَ الْإِمَامِ أَنْ يُحَوِّلَ اللهُ رَأْسَهُ رَأْسَ حِمَارٍ؟».

تخريج: [صحيح] أخرجه مسلم، الصلوة، باب تحريم سبق الإمام بركوع أو سجود ونحوهما، ح: ٤٢٧ من حديث حماد بن زيد به.

Comments:

This strict warning clearly indicates that it is an act of great sin for the worshiper to raise his head before the Imâm in bowing and prostrating.

962. It was narrated that Abu Musa said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'I have gained weight, so when I bow, then bow, and when I stand up, then stand up, and when I prostrate, then prostrate. I should never find anyone preceding me in bowing or prostration.'" (Sahih)

٩٦٢ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ نُمَيْرٍ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَدْرٍ، شُجَاعُ بْنُ الْوَلِيدِ، عَنْ زِيَادِ ابْنِ خَيْثَمَةَ، عَنْ أَبِي إِسْحَاقَ، عَنْ دَارِمٍ، عَنْ سَعِيدِ ابْنِ أَبِي بُرْدَةَ، عَنْ أَبِي بُرْدَةَ، عَنْ أَبِي مُوسٰى قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «إِنِّي قَدْ بَدَّنْتُ، فَإِذَا رَكَعْتُ فَارْكَعُوا، وَإِذَا رَفَعْتُ فَارْفَعُوا، وَإِذَا سَجَدْتُ فَاسْجُدُوا، وَلاَ أُلْفِيَنَّ رَجُلاً يَسْبِقُنِي إِلَى الرُّكُوعِ، وَلاَ إِلَى السُّجُودِ».

تخريج: [صحيح] * أبوإسحاق تقدم، ح: ٤٦، ودارم مجهول(تقريب)، فالسند ضعيف له شواهد منها الحديث الآتي.

Comments:

The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ had gained a little bit of weight because of advancing age. Maybe, someone relatively young and agile got the notion that the Prophet ﷺ performed the prayer slowly because of his physique, but for the others who could do it with agility, there was no harm in doing it quickly. The Prophet ﷺ, however, made it plain that the followers have to follow the Imâm in all cases.

963. It was narrated that Mu'âwiyah bin Abu Sufyân said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Do not bow or prostrate before me. No matter how far ahead of you I bow, you will catch up with me when I stand up, and no matter how far ahead of you I prostrate, you will catch up with me when I raise my head. I have become bulky.'" (Sahih)

تخريج: [صحيح] أخرجه أبو داود، الصلوة، باب ما يؤمر به المأموم من اتباع الإمام، ح:٦١٩ من حديث يحيى القطان به، وصححه ابن خزيمة، وابن حبان، والبوصيري.

Comments:

If a person chooses to wait for his actions in the prayer and goes into bowing after the Imâm has done it, he will also be as much behind the Imâm in time in raising his head from the bowing. Thus, his bowing will be as long as the Imâm's. The same will be the position of his standing after the bowing, of his sitting between the two prostrations and of his prostrations.

Chapter 42. What Is Disliked In The Prayer

(المعجم ٤٢) - بَابُ مَا يُكْرَهُ فِي الصَّلَاةِ (التحفة ٨١)

964. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "It is impolite for a man to wipe his forehead a great deal before he finishes prayer." (Da'if)

تخريج: [إسناده ضعيف] وقال البوصيري: هذا إسناد ضعيف، فيه هارون بن هارون، وقد اتفقوا على تضعيفه .

Comments:

The presence of Hârun At-Tamimi in the chain of narrators makes the Hadith 'Weak'. However, the commandment to abstain from excessive movement during the prayer is proved from other sound Ahâdith. (Sahih Muslim : 47)

965. It was narrated from 'Ali that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "Do not crack your fingers during the prayer." (Da'if)

٩٦٥ - حَدَّثَنَا يَحْيَى بْنُ حَكِيمٍ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو قُتَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا يُونُسُ بْنُ أَبِي إِسْحَاقَ، وَإِسْرَائِيلُ بْنُ يُونُسَ، عَنْ أَبِي إِسْحَاقَ، عَنِ الْحَارِثِ، عَنْ عَلِيٍّ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ قَالَ: «لاَ تُفَقِّعْ أَصَابِعَكَ وَأَنْتَ فِي الصَّلاَةِ».

تخريج: [إسناده ضعيف] انظر، ح:٩٥ لعلته * وأبو إسحاق عنعن تقدم، ح:٤٦.

966. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ forbade a man to cover his mouth during the prayer." (Da'if)

٩٦٦ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو سَعِيدٍ، سُفْيَانُ بْنُ زِيَادٍ الْمُؤَدِّبُ: حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ رَاشِدٍ، عَنِ الْحَسَنِ بْنِ ذَكْوَانَ، عَنْ عَطَاءٍ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ: نَهٰى رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ أَنْ يُغَطِّيَ الرَّجُلُ فَاهُ فِي الصَّلاَةِ.

تخريج: [إسناده ضعيف] أخرجه أبو داود، الصلوة، باب السدل في الصلوة، ح:٦٤٣ من حديث الحسن بن ذكوان عن سليمان الأحول عن عطاء به * الحسن هذا كان يدلس عن عمرو بن خالد الواسطي (كذاب كما في التهذيب وغيره) وغيره، فتدليسه شر التدليس، وعنعن.

Comments:

It means it is prohibited to cover one's mouth with a piece of cloth etc., during the prayer, even though other parts of the face, such as the forehead and nose etc., be covered by it.

967. It was narrated from Ka'b bin 'Ujrah that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ saw a man who had interlocked his fingers during the prayer, so the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ separated his fingers. (Hasan)

٩٦٧ - حَدَّثَنَا عَلْقَمَةُ بْنُ عَمْرٍو الدَّارِمِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ عَيَّاشٍ، عَنْ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ عَجْلاَنَ، عَنْ سَعِيدٍ [الْمَقْبُرِيِّ]، عَنْ كَعْبِ بْنِ عُجْرَةَ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ رَأَى رَجُلاً قَدْ شَبَّكَ أَصَابِعَهُ فِي الصَّلاَةِ، فَفَرَّجَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ بَيْنَ أَصَابِعِهِ.

بالسماع في رواية الثوري عند الطبراني في الكبير: ١٩/ ١٥٣، ح: ٣٣٤ * وسعيد المقبري سمعه من رجل عن كعب به، رواه الترمذي، ح: ٣٨٦ وغيره، والرجل لعله أبو ثمامة الحناط، ومن طريقه أخرجه أبو داود، ح: ٥٦٢ وغيره، وصححه ابن خزيمة، ح: ٤٤١، وابن حبان (الإحسان)، ح: ٢٠٣٦، وإسناده حسن، ولبعض الحديث شواهد عند ابن خزيمة، والحاكم وغيرهما.

968. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "When anyone of you yawns, let him put his hand over his mouth and not make a sound, because Satan laughs at him." (Da'if) ٩٦٨ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ الصَّبَّاحِ: أَنْبَأَنَا حَفْصُ بْنُ غِيَاثٍ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ سَعِيدٍ الْمَقْبُرِيِّ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ قَالَ: «إِذَا تَثَاءَبَ أَحَدُكُمْ فَلْيَضَعْ يَدَهُ عَلَى فِيهِ، وَلاَ يَعْوِي، فَإِنَّ الشَّيْطَانَ يَضْحَكُ مِنْهُ».

تخريج: [إسناده ضعيف جدًا] انظر، ح: ٢٦٠ لعلته، وحديث البخاري(٦٢٢٣) يغني عنه.

Comments:

a. 'Lâ ya'wi' in Arabic means that he should not produce sounds similar to those of the dogs and wolves. However, the expression is not confirmed from reliable sources.

b. We must try to stop yawning in order to avoid emitting unseemly sounds.

969. It was narrated from 'Adi bin Thâbit, from his father, from his grandfather, that the Prophet ﷺ said: "Spitting, blowing one's nose, menstruating and drowsiness during the prayer are from Satan." (Da'if)

٩٦٩ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا الْفَضْلُ بْنُ دُكَيْنٍ، عَنْ شَرِيكٍ، عَنْ أَبِي الْيَقْظَانِ، عَنْ عَدِيِّ بْنِ ثَابِتٍ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ جَدِّهِ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ ﷺ قَالَ: «الْبُزَاقُ وَالْمُخَاطُ وَالْحَيْضُ وَالنُّعَاسُ فِي الصَّلاَةِ، مِنَ الشَّيْطَانِ».

Comments:

Menstruation during prayer nullifies the prayer, and the woman concerned is not able to continue it. Although it is an event beyond anybody's control, Satan sees in it cause for celebration, because it puts a believing woman in an embarrassing situation for having been rendered unable to complete her prayer.

Chapter 43. The One Who Leads People In Prayer When They Do Not Like Him (To Lead Them)

(المعجم ٤٣) - بَابُ مَنْ أَمَّ قَوْمًا وَهُمْ لَهُ كَارِهُونَ (التحفة ٨٢)

970. It was narrated that 'Abdullâh bin 'Amr said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'There are three whose prayer are not accepted: A man who leads people while they do not like him; a man who does not come to prayer until its end – meaning after its time has expired – and one who enslaves a freed person.'" (Da'if)

٩٧٠ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو كُرَيْبٍ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدَةُ بْنُ سُلَيْمَانَ، وَ جَعْفَرُ بْنُ عَوْنٍ، عَنِ الإِفْرِيقِيِّ، عَنْ عِمْرَانَ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ عَمْرٍو قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «ثَلاَثَةٌ لاَ تُقْبَلُ لَهُمْ صَلاَةٌ: الرَّجُلُ يَؤُمُّ الْقَوْمَ وَهُمْ لَهُ كَارِهُونَ، وَالرَّجُلُ لاَ يَأْتِي الصَّلاَةَ إِلَّا دِبَاراً - يَعْنِي: بَعْدَمَا يَفُوتُهُ الْوَقْتُ -. وَمَنِ اعْتَبَدَ مُحَرَّراً».

Comments:

a. This disparagement of the leader (i.e. Imâm) applies to a situation where there are lawful reasons for the people to dislike the Imâm.

b. The sin involved in performing prayer towards the end of the prescribed period, and in enslaving a freed person, is proved from other sound Ahâdith. However, as explained by Shaikh Albâni, the wording concerning the non-acceptance of prayer is unconfirmed.

c. Prayer delayed until the end of time without a valid reason has been disapproved by the Prophet ﷺ, and has been called by him; "the prayer of the hypocrites."

971. It was narrated from Ibn 'Abbâs that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "There are three whose prayer do not rise more than a hand span above their heads: A man who leads people (in prayer) when they do not like him; a woman who has spent the night with her husband angry with her; and two brothers who have severed contact with one another." (Hasan)

Comments:

a. The rising of prayer towards the skies refers to its acceptance. By the same token, its not rising upwards refers to its non-acceptance. In plain words, it means that the prayer of such people is not accepted.

b. Just as it is the duty of the woman to provide sexual satisfaction to the husband, it is also the duty of the man to take care of the needs of his wife and give sexual satisfaction to her. The Hadith only mentions the woman because it is generally the woman, not man, that expresses unwillingness or refusal in the matter

Chapter 44. Two Are A Congregation

(المعجم ٤٤) - بَابُ الاثْنَانِ جَمَاعَةٌ

(التحفة ٨٣)

972. It was narrated that Abu Musa Al-Ash'ari said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Two or more people are a congregation.'" (Da'if)

٩٧٢ - حَدَّثَنَا هِشَامُ بْنُ عَمَّارٍ: حَدَّثَنَا الرَّبِيعُ ابْنُ بَدْرٍ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ جَدِّهِ عَمْرِو بْنِ جَرَادٍ، عَنْ أَبِي مُوسَى الْأَشْعَرِيِّ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «اثْنَانِ، فَمَا فَوْقَهُمَا، جَمَاعَةٌ».

973. It was narrated that Ibn 'Abbâs said: "I stayed overnight with my maternal aunt Maimunah, and the Prophet ﷺ got up during the night to perform prayer. So I got up and stood on his left. He took me by the hand and made me stand on his right." (Sahih) ٩٧٣ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عَبْدِ الْمَلِكِ بْنِ أَبِي الشَّوَارِبِ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الْوَاحِدِ بْنُ زِيَادٍ: حَدَّثَنَا عَاصِمٌ، عَنِ الشَّعْبِيِّ، عَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَ: بِتُّ عِنْدَ خَالَتِي مَيْمُونَةَ، فَقَامَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ يُصَلِّي مِنَ اللَّيْلِ، فَقُمْتُ عَنْ يَسَارِهِ، فَأَخَذَ بِيَدِي فَأَقَامَنِي عَنْ يَمِينِهِ.

Comments:

a. If a person starts to pray alone but is later joined by another person, then it is allowed that the former makes the intention of leading the prayer as Imâm.

b. Moving a little to the back or front, or to the right or left, according to the needs of the situation does not invalidate the prayer.

974. Shurahbil said: "I heard Jâbir bin 'Abdullâh say: 'The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ was performing Maghrib, and I came and stood on his left, but he made me stand on his right.'" (Da'if) ٩٧٤ - حَدَّثَنَا بَكْرُ بْنُ خَلَفٍ، أَبُو بِشْرٍ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرٍ الْحَنَفِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا الضَّحَّاكُ بْنُ عُثْمَانَ: حَدَّثَنَا شُرَحْبِيلُ قَالَ: سَمِعْتُ جَابِرَ بْنَ عَبْدِ اللهِ يَقُولُ: كَانَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ يُصَلِّي الْمَغْرِبَ، فَجِئْتُ فَقُمْتُ عَنْ يَسَارِهِ، فَأَقَامَنِي عَنْ يَمِينِهِ.

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، المساجد، باب جواز الجماعة في النافلة والصلوة على حصير ... الخ، ح:٦٦٠ من حديث شعبة به.

Comments:

a. It is not lawful for a single man to stand behind the Imâm for prayer, but lawful for a single woman.

b. It does not matter whether a woman is a Mahram (of a close unmarriageable relationship) or non-Mahram, the rule in this regard is the same. She must not stand by the side of a man.

Chapter 45. Who Is Preferred To Stand Closest To The Imâm

(المعجم ٤٥) - بَابُ مَنْ يَسْتَحِبُّ أَنْ يَلِيَ الإِمَامَ (التحفة ٨٤)

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، الصلٰوة، باب تسوية الصفوف وإقامتها . . . الخ، ح:٤٣٢ من حديث سفيان بن عيينة وغيره به.

Comments:

a. The rows of the worshipers for prayer in congregation must be perfectly straight and they must not stand out of line with each other.

b. The Companions complied with the order of the Prophet ﷺ so religiously, that they used to stand quite close to each other, joining the shoulders with shoulders, the feet with feet, and the ankles with ankles.

c. The youths should pay due consideration to the honor and respect of the elderly people.

977. It was narrated that Anas said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ liked the Muhâjirun and Ansâr to stand closest to him, so that they could learn from him." (Sahih)

٩٧٧ - حَدَّثَنَا نَصْرُ بْنُ عَلِيٍّ الْجَهْضَمِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الْوَهَّابِ: حَدَّثَنَا حُمَيْدٌ، عَنْ أَنَسٍ قَالَ: كَانَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ يُحِبُّ أَنْ يَلِيَهُ الْمُهَاجِرُونَ وَالأَنْصَارُ، لِيَأْخُذُوا عَنْهُ.

Comments:

The reason for giving precedence to Muhâjirun (Emigrants) and Ansâr (Helpers) over others by the Prophet ﷺ, was that these Companions were ahead of others in their insight and capacity for retention. So, obviously, if such people stood closest to the Prophet ﷺ, they would be in a better position not only to learn and retain the teachings of religion, but also to pass them on or teach them to others. As for those who lived far away from the town and were not among the regular attendees in the Prophet's assembly could not match the former in their capacities and skills. They, however, had the option to put their questions to the Prophet ﷺ, as well as to the senior Companions whenever they wanted.

978. It was narrated from Abu Sa'eed that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ saw that some of his Companions tended to stand in the rear, so he said: "Come forward and follow me, and let those who are behind you follow your lead. If people continue to lag behind, Allâh will put them back." (Sahih)

عَنْ أَبِي سَعِيدٍ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ رَأَى فِي أَصْحَابِهِ تَأَخُّراً، فَقَالَ: «تَقَدَّمُوا فَأْتَمُّوا بِي، وَلْيَأْتَمَّ بِكُمْ مَنْ بَعْدَكُمْ، لاَ يَزَالُ قَوْمٌ يَتَأَخَّرُونَ حَتَّى يُؤَخِّرَهُمُ اللهُ».

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، الصلوة، باب تسوية الصفوف وإقامتها ... الخ، ح:٤٣٨ من حديث أبي الأشهب به.

Comments:

'Allâh will put them back' could either mean that they shall lag behind in the acquisition of knowledge and excellence, or else it could mean that they would be deprived of their high station in Paradise, or that they would wait longer than others for salvation from Hell.

Chapter 46. Who Is Most Deserving Of Leading The Prayer

(المعجم ٤٦) - بَابُ مَنْ أَحَقُّ بِالْإِمَامَةِ (التحفة ٨٥)

979. It was narrated that Mâlik bin Huwairith said: "I came to the Prophet ﷺ with a friend of mine, and when we wanted to leave, he said to us: 'When the time for prayer comes, say the Adhân and Iqâmah, then let the older of you lead the prayer.'" (Sahih)

تخريج: أخرجه البخاري، الأذان، باب اثنان فما فوقهما جماعة، ح:٦٥٨ من حديث يزيد ابن زريع، ومسلم، المساجد، باب من أحق بالإمامة؟، ح:٦٧٤ من حديث خالد الحذاء به، وله طرق عندها.

Comments:

a. We should be particular about prayer in congregation even during travel.
b. As a general rule, the person most deserving of leading the prayer is the one who knows the Qur'ân best. But since the two Companions had come together and were equal in their knowledge of the Qur'ân, the Prophet ﷺ gave weight to the age factor for the choice of Imâm.

980. Abu Mas'ud said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'The people should be lead by the one who is most well-Versed in recitation of the Book of Allâh. If they are equal in recitation, then they should be led by the one who emigrated first. If they are equal in emigration, then they should be led by the eldest. A man should not be led among his family or in his place of authority; no one should be sat in his place of honor in his house without permission, or without his permission.'" (Sahih) تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، المساجد، باب من أحق بالإمامة؟، ح:٦٧٣ عن محمد بن بشار وغيره به.

٩٨٠ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ بَشَّارٍ: حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ ابْنُ جَعْفَرٍ: حَدَّثَنَا شُعْبَةُ، عَنْ إِسْمَاعِيلَ بْنِ

Comments:

a. The most deserving person to lead the prayer is the one who is superior to others. Criterion for superiority in Islam is, however, neither wealth nor ancestry but the knowledge of religion.

b. A person well Versed in the knowledge of the Qur'ân, even if he is younger than others, is more deserving of leading the prayer. 'Amr bin Salamah Al-Jarami ﷺ used to lead his tribe in prayer in the lifetime of the Prophet ﷺ because he knew more Qur'ân than others, and he was just eight years of age (Sunan An-Nasâ'i: 790 & Sunan Abu-Dâwud:585).

c. The expression 'place of honor in one's house" means the place where a person sits by virtue of his rank and status, or the place where he usually sits in his house.

(المعجم ٤٧) - بَابُ مَا يَجِبُ عَلَى الْإِمَامِ (التحفة ٨٦)

Chapter 47. What Is Incumbent Upon The Imâm

٩٨١ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا سَعِيدُ بْنُ سُلَيْمَانَ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الْحَمِيدِ بْنُ سُلَيْمَانَ، أَخُو فُلَيْحٍ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو حَازِمٍ قَالَ: كَانَ سَهْلُ بْنُ سَعْدٍ السَّاعِدِيُّ يُقَدِّمُ فِتْيَانَ قَوْمِهِ، يُصَلُّونَ بِهِمْ، فَقِيلَ لَهُ: تَفْعَلُ، وَلَكَ مِنَ الْقِدَمِ مَا لَكَ؟ قَالَ: إِنِّي سَمِعْتُ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ يَقُولُ: «الْإِمَامُ ضَامِنٌ، فَإِنْ أَحْسَنَ، فَلَهُ وَلَهُمْ، وَإِنْ أَسَاءَ، يَعْنِي، فَعَلَيْهِ وَلاَ عَلَيْهِمْ».

981. Abu Hâzim said: "Sahl bin Sa'd As-Sâ'idi used to give preference to the young to lead his people in prayer. It was said to him: "Do you do that, when you have such seniority (in Islam)?" He said: "I heard the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ say: 'The Imâm is responsible. If he does well, then he will have the reward and so will they, but if he does badly, then that will be counted against him but not against them.'" (Da'if)

Comments:

a. The office of the leader of prayer is an office of great responsibility. And the leader must be aware of it.

b. Young people can be appointed leaders of prayer as part of their education and training.

c. Prayer behind a non-regular substitute is permitted in the absence of the regular Imâm.

982. It was narrated that Salâmah bint Hurr, the sister of Kharashah, said: "I heard the Prophet ﷺ say: 'A time will come when the people will stand for a long time and will not be able to find any Imâm to lead them in prayer." (Da'if)

٩٨٢ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا وَكِيعٌ، عَنْ أُمِّ غُرَابٍ، عَنِ امْرَأَةٍ يُقَالُ لَهَا عَقِيلَةُ، عَنْ سَلاَمَةَ بِنْتِ الْحُرِّ، أُخْتِ خَرَشَةَ قَالَتْ: سَمِعْتُ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ يَقُولُ: «يَأْتِي عَلَى النَّاسِ زَمَانٌ يَقُومُونَ سَاعَةً، لاَ يَجِدُونَ إِمَاماً يُصَلِّي بِهِمْ».

983. It was narrated from Abu 'Ali Al-Hamdâni that he went out in a ship in which 'Uqbah bin 'Âmir Al-Juhani was present. The time for prayer came, and we told him to lead us in prayer and said to him: "You are the most deserving of that, you were the Companion of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ." But he refused and said: "I heard the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ say: 'Whoever leads the people and gets it right, the prayer will be for him and for them, but if he falls short, then that will be counted against him but not against them." (Sahih) ٩٨٣ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحْرِزُ بْنُ سَلَمَةَ الْعَدَنِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا ابْنُ أَبِي حَازِمٍ، عَنْ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمٰنِ بْنِ حَرْمَلَةَ، عَنْ أَبِي عَلِيٍّ الْهَمْدَانِيِّ أَنَّهُ خَرَجَ فِي سَفِينَةٍ، فِيهَا عُقْبَةُ بْنُ عَامِرٍ الْجُهَنِيُّ، فَحَانَتْ صَلاَةٌ مِنَ الصَّلَوَاتِ، فَأَمَرْنَاهُ أَنْ يَؤُمَّنَا، وَقُلْنَا لَهُ: إِنَّكَ أَحَقُّنَا بِذٰلِكَ، أَنْتَ صَاحِبُ رَسُولِ اللهِ ﷺ فَأَبٰى، فَقَالَ: إِنِّي سَمِعْتُ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ يَقُولُ: «مَنْ أَمَّ النَّاسَ فَأَصَابَ، فَالصَّلاَةُ لَهُ وَلَهُمْ، وَمَنِ انْتَقَصَ مِنْ ذٰلِكَ [شَيْئاً،] فَعَلَيْهِ، وَلاَ عَلَيْهِمْ».

تخريج: [إسناده صحيح] أخرجه أبو داود، الصلوة، باب جُماع الإمامة وفضلها، ح:٥٨٠ من حديث عبدالرحمن بن حرملة به، وصححه ابن خزيمة، وابن حبان، والحاكم، والذهبي، وله طرق عند البخاري وغيره.

Comments:

This shows the Companions' characteristic of extreme caution and piety that, out of fear for any likely shortcoming, they were wary of accepting any office of religious responsibility.

Chapter 48. Whoever Leads People (In Prayer), Let Him Make It Short

(المعجم ٤٨) - بَابُ مَنْ أَمَّ قَوْمًا فَلْيُخَفِّفْ (التحفة ٨٧)

984. It was narrated that Abu Mas'ud said: "A man came to the Prophet ﷺ and said: 'O Messenger of Allâh! I stay behind and do not perform the morning prayer (in congregation) because of so-and-so, for he makes it too long for us.' I never saw the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ preaching with such anger as he did that day. He said: 'O people! There are among you those who repel others. Whoever among you leads others in prayer, let him keep it short, for among them are those who are weak and elderly, and those who have pressing needs.'" (Sahih)

٩٨٤ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ نُمَيْرٍ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبِي: حَدَّثَنَا إِسْمَاعِيلُ، عَنْ قَيْسٍ، عَنْ أَبِي مَسْعُودٍ قَالَ: أَتَى النَّبِيَّ ﷺ رَجُلٌ: فَقَالَ: يَا رَسُولَ اللهِ! إِنِّي لأَتَأَخَّرُ فِي صَلاَةِ الْغَدَاةِ مِنْ أَجْلِ فُلاَنٍ، لِمَا يُطِيلُ بِنَا فِيهَا، قَالَ، فَمَا رَأَيْتُ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ قَطُّ فِي مَوْعِظَةٍ أَشَدَّ غَضَباً مِنْهُ يَوْمَئِذٍ، فَقَالَ: «يَا أَيُّهَا النَّاسُ! إِنَّ مِنْكُمْ مُنَفِّرِينَ، فَأَيُّكُمْ مَا صَلَّى بِالنَّاسِ فَلْيَجَوَّزْ. فَإِنَّ فِيهِمُ الضَّعِيفَ وَالْكَبِيرَ وَذَا الْحَاجَةِ».

تخريج: أخرجه البخاري، العلم، باب الغضب في الموعظة والتعليم إذا رأى ما يكره، ح:٩٠، ٧٠٢، ٧٠٤، ٦١١٠، ٧١٥٩، ومسلم، الصلوة، باب أمر الأئمة بتخفيف الصلوة في تمام، ح:٤٦٦ من حديث إسماعيل بن أبي خالد به، أخرجه مسلم عن ابن نمير عن أبيه به.

Comments:

a. Bringing a complaint against an official, or a person holding an office of responsibility before a higher authority, is not 'backbiting'.

b. Shortening the prayer is good but that does not mean making it too short. We should make the recitation nearly as long or short as the Prophet ﷺ did.

985. It was narrated that Anas bin Mâlik said: "The Messenger of ٩٨٥ - حَدَّثَنَا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ عَبْدَةَ، وَ حُمَيْدُ بْنُ مَسْعَدَةَ قَالاَ: حَدَّثَنَا حَمَّادُ بْنُ زَيْدٍ: أَنْبَأَنَا

Allâh ﷺ used to make his prayer brief but perfect." (Sahih)

عَبْدُ الْعَزِيزِ بْنُ صُهَيْبٍ، عَنْ أَنَسِ بْنِ مَالِكٍ قَالَ: كَانَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ يُوجِزُ وَيُتِمُّ الصَّلاَةَ.

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، الصلوة، باب أمر الأئمة بتخفيف الصلوة في تمام، ح:٤٦٩ من حديث حماد بن زيد به.

Comments:

This explains the meaning of shortening the prayer, which is to perform all its essentials with complete devotion and tranquility, but the recitations and supplications must not be so long as to annoy the worshippers.

986. It was narrated that Jâbir said: "Mu'âdh bin Jabal Al-Ansâri led his companions in the 'Ishâ' prayer and he made it long. A man among us went away and prayed by himself. Mu'âdh was told about that and he said: 'He is a hypocrite.' When the man heard about that, he went to the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ and told him what Mu'âdh had said to him. The Prophet ﷺ said: 'Do you want to be a cause of Fitnah (trial, tribulation), O Mu'âdh? When you lead the people in prayer, recite "By the sun and its brightness,"[1] and "Glorify the Name of your Lord the Most High,"[2] and "By the night as it envelopes,"[3] and "Recite in the Name of your Lord."'"[4] (Sahih) ٩٨٦ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ رُمْحٍ: أَنْبَأَنَا اللَّيْثُ ابْنُ سَعْدٍ، عَنْ أَبِي الزُّبَيْرِ، عَنْ جَابِرٍ قَالَ: صَلَّى مُعَاذُ بْنُ جَبَلٍ الأَنْصَارِيُّ بِأَصْحَابِهِ صَلاَةَ الْعِشَاءِ فَطَوَّلَ عَلَيْهِمْ فَانْصَرَفَ رَجُلٌ مِنَّا، فَصَلَّى، فَأُخْبِرَ مُعَاذٌ عَنْهُ. فَقَالَ: إِنَّهُ مُنَافِقٌ، فَلَمَّا بَلَغَ ذٰلِكَ الرَّجُلَ، دَخَلَ عَلَى رَسُولِ اللهِ ﷺ، فَأَخْبَرَهُ مَا قَالَ لَهُ مُعَاذٌ، فَقَالَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ: «أَتُرِيدُ أَنْ تَكُونَ فَتَّاناً يَا مُعَاذُ؟ إِذَا صَلَّيْتَ بِالنَّاسِ فَاقْرَأْ بِالشَّمْسِ وَضُحَاهَا، وَسَبِّحِ اسْمَ رَبِّكَ الأَعْلَىٰ، وَاللَّيْلِ إِذَا يَغْشَى، وَاقْرَأْ بِاسْمِ رَبِّكَ».

989. It was narrated that Anas bin Mâlik said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'I start prayer and I want to make it long, but then I hear an infant crying, so I make my prayer short, because I know the distress caused to the mother by his crying.'" (Sahih)

Comments:

'Making the prayer short (or long)' means making the recitation short or long. There is also the possibility of some reduction in the supplications of other parts of prayer.

990. It was narrated that 'Uthmân bin Abul-'Âs said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'I hear an infant crying so I make the prayer short.'" (Sahih)

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، الصلٰوة، باب الأمر بالسكون في الصلٰوة ... الخ، ح:٤٣٠ من حديث وكيع وغيره عن الأعمش به مطولاً.

Comments:

a. Ways of worship for humans in the Sacred Law of Islam are modeled after the ways of the angels, which is a matter of great honor.
b. Angels stand in rows for the worship of Allâh.
c. No second row should be started until the first has been completed. The same rule applies to the second, the third, and the fourth row.

993. It was narrated that Anas bin Mâlik said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Make your rows straight, for straightening the rows is part of completing the prayer.'" (Sahih)

٩٩٣ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ بَشَّارٍ: حَدَّثَنَا يَحْيَى ابْنُ سَعِيدٍ، عَنْ شُعْبَةَ؛ ح: وَحَدَّثَنَا نَصْرُ بْنُ عَلِيٍّ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبِي، وَ بِشْرُ بْنُ عُمَرَ، قَالَا: حَدَّثَنَا شُعْبَةُ، عَنْ قَتَادَةَ، عَنْ أَنَسِ بْنِ مَالِكٍ، قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «سَوُّوا صُفُوفَكُمْ، فَإِنَّ تَسْوِيَةَ الصُّفُوفِ مِنْ تَمَامِ الصَّلَاةِ».

تخريج: أخرجه البخاري، الأذان، باب إقامة الصف من تمام الصلٰوة، ح:٧٢٣، ومسلم، الصلٰوة، باب تسوية الصفوف وإقامتها ... الخ، ح:٤٣٣ من حديث شعبة به.

Comments:

a. Straightening the rows means standing in one straight line with no one out of step.
b. Keeping the rows crooked and not standing close to each other makes the prayer defective and lessens the reward.

994. Simâk bin Harb narrated that he heard Nu'mân bin Bashir say: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ used to straighten the rows until he made them like a spear or an arrow-shaft. Once he saw a man's chest (sticking out) so the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Make your rows straight or Allâh will create division among you.'" (Sahih)

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، الصلوٰة، الباب السابق، ح:٤٣٦ من حديث سماك به بإختلاف يسير.

Comments:

There are not only apparent reasons for differences and dissensions among the community but also some spiritual reasons screened from the naked eye. One of these reasons is the lack of attention to straightening of the rows for prayer.

995. It was narrated that 'Âishah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Allâh and His angels send blessings upon those who complete the rows, and whoever fills a gap, Allâh will raise him one degree in status thereby.'" (Hasan)

٩٩٥ - حَدَّثَنَا هِشَامُ بْنُ عَمَّارٍ: حَدَّثَنَا إِسْمَاعِيلُ بْنُ عَيَّاشٍ: حَدَّثَنَا هِشَامُ بْنُ عُرْوَةَ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «إِنَّ اللهَ وَمَلاَئِكَتَهُ يُصَلُّونَ عَلَى الَّذِينَ يَصِلُونَ الصُّفُوفَ، وَمَنْ سَدَّ فُرْجَةً رَفَعَهُ اللهُ بِهَا دَرَجَةً».

Comments:

'Filling the gap in the row' applies to a situation where a man, seeing some vacant space between two people standing in the row, either comes forward and fills the gap himself or asks his brothers to come closer to each other and bridge the gap.

Chapter 51. The Virtue Of The Front Rows

(المعجم ٥١) - بَابُ فَضْلِ الصَّفِّ الْمُقَدَّمِ (التحفة ٩٠)

996. It was narrated from 'Irbâd bin Sâriyah that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ used to ask for forgiveness for the first row three times and for the second row twice. (Sahih)

٩٩٦ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا يَزِيدُ بْنُ هَارُونَ: أَنْبَأَنَا هِشَامٌ الدَّسْتَوَائِيُّ، عَنْ يَحْيَى بْنِ أَبِي كَثِيرٍ، عَنْ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ إِبْرَاهِيمَ، عَنْ خَالِدِ بْنِ مَعْدَانَ، عَنْ عِرْبَاضِ بْنِ سَارِيَةَ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ كَانَ يَسْتَغْفِرُ لِلصَّفِّ الْمُقَدَّمِ، ثَلاَثاً، وَلِلثَّانِي، مَرَّةً.

Comments:

a. This is also one of the ways to encourage good deeds.
b. The superiority of each next row over the back row is like the superiority of the first row over the second one.

Comments:

As a rule, each virtuous deed attracts Allâh's blessing. However, the ones especially mentioned as such by the Prophet ﷺ are of greater importance and are of a higher degree.

Chapter 52. The Women's Rows

(المعجم ٥٢) - بَابُ صُفُوفِ النِّسَاءِ

(التحفة ٩١)

١٠٠٠ - حَدَّثَنَا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ عَبْدَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الْعَزِيزِ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ، عَنِ الْعَلَاءِ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ. وَعَنْ سُهَيْلٍ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «خَيْرُ صُفُوفِ النِّسَاءِ آخِرُهَا، وَشَرُّهَا أَوَّلُهَا، وَخَيْرُ صُفُوفِ الرِّجَالِ أَوَّلُهَا، وَشَرُّهَا آخِرُهَا».

1000. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'The best rows for women are the back rows, and the worst are the front rows, and the best rows for men are the front rows, and the worst are the back rows.'" (Sahih) تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، الصلوة، باب تسوية الصفوف وإقامتها ... الخ، ح:٤٤٠ من حديث عبدالعزيز الدراوردي عن سهيل عن أبيه به ... وهو في جزئه(٢٥).

Comments:

The reason why the back rows of women have been regarded as the best is that these rows are away from the possibility of mingling with men. That is also the reason why women's praying at home is better than their praying at the mosque.

١٠٠١ - حَدَّثَنَا عَلِيُّ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا وَكِيعٌ، عَنْ سُفْيَانَ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ مُحَمَّدِ ابْنِ عَقِيلٍ، عَنْ جَابِرِ بْنِ عَبْدِ اللهِ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «خَيْرُ صُفُوفِ الرِّجَالِ مُقَدَّمُهَا، وَشَرُّهَا مُؤَخَّرُهَا، وَخَيْرُ صُفُوفِ النِّسَاءِ مُؤَخَّرُهَا، وَشَرُّهَا مُقَدَّمُهَا».

1001. It was narrated that Jâbir bin 'Abdullâh said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'The best rows for men are the front rows and the worst are the back rows, and the best rows for women are the back rows and the worst are the front rows.'" (Hasan)

Chapter 53. Prayer Between Two Pillars In A Row

(المعجم ٥٣) - بَابُ الصَّلَاةِ بَيْنَ السَّوَارِي فِي الصَّفِّ (التحفة ٩٢)

1002. It was narrated from Mu'âwiyah bin Qurrah that his father said: "We were forbidden to form a row between two pillars at the time of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ, and we would be repelled from them forcefully." (Hasan)

١٠٠٢ - حَدَّثَنَا زَيْدُ بْنُ أَخْزَمَ، أَبُو طَالِبٍ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو دَاوُدَ، وَ أَبُو قُتَيْبَةَ، قَالاَ: حَدَّثَنَا هَارُونُ بْنُ مُسْلِمٍ، عَنْ قَتَادَةَ، عَنْ مُعَاوِيَةَ بْنِ قُرَّةَ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ قَالَ: كُنَّا نُنْهَى أَن نَصُفَّ بَيْنَ السَّوَارِي، عَلَى عَهْدِ رَسُولِ اللهِ ﷺ، وَنُطْرَدُ عَنْهَا طَرْداً.

تخريج: [حسن] * هارون مستور (تقريب)، وقتادة تقدم، ح: ١٧٥، وأخرج أبو داود، ح: ٦٧٣ وغيره عن أنس قال: كنا نتقي هذا على عهد رسول الله ﷺ ، وفيه قصة، وحسنه الترمذي، وصححه الحاكم، والذهبي، وإسناده صحيح.

Comments:

If the pillars in a mosque intervene between the worshipers' rows in a congregational prayer, the continuity of the row gets broken. That is why forming rows for prayers between the pillars is forbidden. If the prayer is not congregational, then there is no harm in standing between the pillars, since the people praying there are not forming a row that could get broken. The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ is known to have prayed standing between two pillars in the Sacred Ka'bah (Sahih Al-Bukhâri: 468)

Chapter 54. A Man's Prayer Behind The Row On His Own

(المعجم ٥٤) - بَابُ صَلَاةِ الرَّجُلِ خَلْفَ الصَّفِّ وَحْدَهُ (التحفة ٩٣)

1003. 'Abdur-Rahmân bin 'Ali bin Shaibân narrated that his father, 'Ali bin Shaibân, who was part of the delegation, said: "We set out until we came to the Prophet ﷺ. We gave him our oath of allegiance and performed prayer behind him. Then we offered another prayer behind him. He finished the prayer and saw a man on his own, praying behind the row." He said: "The Prophet of Allâh ﷺ stood beside him and when he finished he said: 'Repeat your prayer; there is no prayer for the one who is behind the row.'" (Sahih)

١٠٠٣ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا مُلاَزِمُ بْنُ عَمْرٍو، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ بَدْرٍ: حَدَّثَنِي عَبْدُ الرَّحْمٰنِ بْنُ عَلِيِّ بْنِ شَيْبَانَ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَلِيِّ بْنِ شَيْبَانَ، وَكَانَ مِنَ الْوَفْدِ، قَالَ: خَرَجْنَا حَتَّى قَدِمْنَا عَلَى النَّبِيِّ ﷺ، فَبَايَعْنَاهُ، وَصَلَّيْنَا خَلْفَهُ، قال: ثُمَّ صَلَّيْنَا وَرَاءَهُ صَلاَةً أُخْرَى، فَقَضَى الصَّلاَةَ، فَرَأَى

رَجُلاً فَرْداً يُصلِّي خَلْفَ الصَّفِّ، قَالَ، فَوَقَفَ عَلَيْهِ نَبِيُّ اللهِ ﷺ حِينَ انْصَرَفَ قَالَ: «اسْتَقْبِلْ صَلاَتَكَ، لاَ صَلاَةَ لِلَّذِي خَلْفَ الصَّفِّ».

تخريج: [إسناده صحيح] أخرجه أحمد: ٤/ ٢٣ من حديث ملازم به، وصححه ابن خزيمة، ح: ١٥٦٩، وابن حبان (موارد)، ح: ٤٠١، ٤٠٢، وقال البوصيري: هذا إسناد صحيح، رجاله ثقات.

Comments:

Standing by oneself behind the row is forbidden, and a prayer thus performed is not acceptable. The rule will, however, only apply if there is room available in the front row and yet the man stands alone behind it. As for the case of a person who, seeing no room in the row, pulls someone behind from the row for the purpose, there is consensus among the scholars that the Hadith is 'Weak'.

1004. It was narrated that Hilâl bin Yasâf said: "Ziyâd bin Abu-Ja'd took me by the hand and made me stand near an old man at Raqqah,[1] whose name was Wâbisah bin Ma'bad. He said: 'A man performed prayer behind the row on his own, and the Prophet ﷺ commanded him to repeat the prayer.'" (Sahih)

١٠٠٤ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللهِ بْنُ إِدْرِيسَ، عَنْ حُصَيْنٍ، عَنْ هِلاَلِ بْنِ يَسَافٍ قَالَ: أَخَذَ بِيَدِي زِيَادُ بْنُ أَبِي الْجَعْدِ، فَأَوْقَفَنِي عَلَى شَيْخٍ بِالرَّقَّةِ، يُقَالُ لَهُ وَابِصَةُ بْنُ مَعْبَدٍ، فَقَالَ: صَلَّى رَجُلٌ خَلْفَ الصَّفِّ وَحْدَهُ، فَأَمَرَهُ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ أَنْ يُعِيدَ.

تخريج: [صحيح] أخرجه الحميدي، وأحمد: ٤/ ٢٢٨ وغيرهما من طرق عن حصين بن عبدالرحمن به، وقال الترمذي، ح: ٢٣٠ حسن ، وله طريق آخر عند أبي داود، ح: ٦٨٢ وغيره، وصححه ابن حبان، وأحمد، وإسحاق وغيرهم.

Comments:

It seems that the man stood and prayed behind on his own, although there was room in the front row. That is why the Prophet ﷺ commanded him to repeat the prayer.

[1] A city located in the northern part of modern Syria, on the eastern side of the Euphrates. And he mentioned Wâbisah because it was he who narrated the Hadith to Ziyâd as seen in narration no. 230 by Tirmidhi.

Chapter 55. The Virtue Of The Right Side Of The Row

(المعجم ٥٥) - بَابُ فَضْلِ مَيْمَنَةِ الصَّفِّ

(التحفة ٩٤)

1005. It was narrated that 'Âishah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Allâh and His angels send blessings upon the right side of the rows.'" (Hasan)

١٠٠٥ - حَدَّثَنَا عُثْمَانُ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا مُعَاوِيَةُ بْنُ هِشَامٍ: حَدَّثَنَا سُفْيَانُ، عَنْ أُسَامَةَ ابْنِ زَيْدٍ، عَنْ عُثْمَانَ بْنِ عُرْوَةَ، عَنْ عُرْوَةَ، عَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «إِنَّ اللهَ وَمَلَائِكَتَهُ يُصَلُّونَ عَلَى مَيَامِنِ الصُّفُوفِ».

تخريج: [حسن] أخرجه أبو داود، الصلوة، باب من يستحب أن يلي الإمام في الصف وكراهية التأخر، ح:٦٧٦ عن عثمان بن أبي شيبة به، وله لفظ صححه ابن خزيمة، وابن حبان، والحاكم، والذهبي.

Comments:

The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ loved to start from the right-hand side for all acts considered good by the inborn instinct or by the Islamic Shari'ah. (Sahih Muslim: 514 & 515), Thus, in the light of this Hadith, as far as possible, effort should be made to stand on the right-hand side of the row in the prayer. However, there is another more authentic Hadith that mentions the excellence of close-knit rows but not of standing on the right or left side of the Imâm. And Allâh knows best.

1006. It was narrated that Barâ' said: "When we performed prayer behind the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ (One of the narrators) Mis'ar said:[1] 'One of the things we liked, or one of the things I liked' 'was to stand to his right.'" (Sahih) ١٠٠٦ - حَدَّثَنَا عَلِيُّ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا وَكِيعٌ، عَنْ مِسْعَرٍ، عَنْ ثَابِتِ بْنِ عُبَيْدٍ، عَنِ ابْنِ الْبَرَاءِ بْنِ عَازِبٍ، عَنِ الْبَرَاءِ قَالَ: كُنَّا إِذَا صَلَّيْنَا خَلْفَ رَسُولِ اللهِ ﷺ. - قَالَ مِسْعَرٌ: مِمَّا نُحِبُّ أَوْ مِمَّا أُحِبُّ أَنْ نَقُومَ عَنْ يَمِينِهِ.

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، صلوة المسافرين، باب استحباب يمين الإمام، ح:٧٠٩ من حديث وكيع وغيره به.

[1] This narration is from 'Ali bin Muhammad, who said: "Waki' narrated to us, from Mis'ar," and the majority narrated it from Waki' from Mis'ar: "We liked" without confusion. Ahmad narrated it directly from Waki' from Mis'ar with: "We liked, or I liked" without mentioning that it was Mis'ar who was confused. So it appears that it was 'Ali bin Muhammad who said: "Mis'ar said" since the others who reported it from Waki' from Mis'ar without mentioning: "Mis'ar said."

Comments:

The reason for this could either be the excellence of the right-hand side, or the keenness of the people to be the first to see the radiant face of the Prophet ﷺ when he turns his face for Taslim.

1007. It was narrated that Ibn 'Umar said: "It was said to the Prophet ﷺ: 'The left side of the mosque has been abandoned. The Prophet ﷺ said: "Whoever frequents the left side of the mosque, two Kifl[1] of reward will be recorded for him." (Da'if) ١٠٠٧ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ أَبِي الْحُسَيْنِ، أَبُو جَعْفَرٍ: حَدَّثَنَا عَمْرُو بْنُ عُثْمَانَ الْكِلَابِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا عُبَيْدُ اللهِ بْنُ عَمْرٍو الرَّقِّيُّ، عَنْ لَيْثِ بْنِ أَبِي سُلَيمٍ، عَنْ نَافِعٍ، عَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ: قِيلَ لِلنَّبِيِّ ﷺ: إِنَّ مَيْسَرَةَ الْمَسْجِدِ تَعَطَّلَتْ، فَقَالَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ: «مَنْ عَمَّرَ مَيْسَرَةَ الْمَسْجِدِ، كُتِبَ لَهُ كِفْلَانِ، مِنَ الْأَجْرِ».

تخريج: [إسناده ضعيف] أخرجه الطرسوسي في مسند ابن عمر، ح: ٩٥ من حديث عمرو ابن عثمان به، وانظر، ح: ٢٠٨ لعلته، وقال البوصيري: هذا إسناد ضعيف لضعف ليث بن أبي سليم.

Comments:

It is a 'Weak' Hadith. As such it does not prove the intended excellence. Moreover, it is not acceptable to leave the first row incomplete and start the second. Since the first row is superior to the second, then even the left-hand side of the first row shall be superior to the right-hand side of the second row.

Chapter 56. The Prayer Direction

(المعجم ٥٦) - بَابُ الْقِبْلَةِ (التحفة ٩٥)

1008. It was narrated that Jâbir said: "When the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ finished Tawâf around the House (the Ka'bah), he came to Maqâm of Ibrâhim (the Station of Ibrâhim). 'Umar said: 'O Messenger of Allâh, this is the Station of our father Ibrâhim about which Allâh said: "And take you (people) the Maqâm of Ibrâhim as a place of prayer.'"[2] (Sahih)

١٠٠٨ - حَدَّثَنَا الْعَبَّاسُ بْنُ عُثْمَانَ الدِّمَشْقِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا الْوَلِيدُ بْنُ مُسْلِمٍ: حَدَّثَنَا مَالِكُ بْنُ أَنَسٍ، عَنْ جَعْفَرِ بْنِ مُحَمَّدٍ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ جَابِرٍ أَنَّهُ قَالَ: لَمَّا فَرَغَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ مِنْ طَوَافِ الْبَيْتِ، أَتَى مَقَامَ إِبْرَاهِيمَ، فَقَالَ عُمَرُ: يَا رَسُولَ اللهِ! هٰذَا مَقَامُ أَبِينَا إِبْرَاهِيمَ، الَّذِي قَالَ اللهُ: ﴿وَاتَّخِذُوا مِن مَّقَامِ إِبْرَاهِيمَ مُصَلًّى﴾. 1009. It was narrated that Anas bin Mâlik told that 'Umar said: "I said: 'O Messenger of Allâh ﷺ, why do you not take the Maqâm of Ibrâhim as a place of prayer?' Then the following was revealed: 'And take you (people) the Maqâm of Ibrâhim as a place of prayer.'"[1] (Sahih)

a. The Maqâm of Ibrâhim (the Station of Ibrâhim) is the stone used as a platform by Ibrâhim عليه السلام during the construction of the Sacred House. The stone still bears the footmarks of Ibrâhim عليه السلام

b. After finishing the Tawâf (ritual circling the Holy House), we should perform two Rak'ah near the Maqâm of Ibrâhim عليه السلام. If it is not possible to perform the prayer near the spot, we could perform prayer wherever convenient inside the Sacred Mosque.

c. It proves the superiority of 'Umar رضي الله عنه, that he longed exactly for what Allâh was to reveal shortly.

١٠١٠ - حَدَّثَنَا عَلْقَمَةُ بْنُ عَمْرٍو الدَّارِمِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ عَيَّاشٍ، عَنْ أَبِي إِسْحَاقَ، عَنِ الْبَرَاءِ قَالَ: صَلَّيْنَا مَعَ رَسُولِ اللهِ ﷺ نَحْوَ بَيْتِ الْمَقْدِسِ ثَمَانِيَةَ عَشَرَ شَهْرًا، وَصُرِفَتِ الْقِبْلَةُ إِلَى الْكَعْبَةِ بَعْدَ دُخُولِهِ إِلَى

1010. It was narrated that Barâ' said: "We prayed with the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ facing towards Baitul-Maqdis (Jerusalem) for eighteen months, then the Qiblah was changed to the Ka'bah two months after the Prophet ﷺ entered Al-Madinah.

[1] Al-Baqarah 2:125.

الْمَدِينَةِ بِشَهْرَيْنِ، وَكَانَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ، إِذَا صَلَّى إِلَى بَيْتِ الْمَقْدِسِ أَكْثَرَ تَقَلُّبَ وَجْهِهِ فِي السَّمَاءِ، وَعَلِمَ اللهُ مِنْ قَلْبِ نَبِيِّهِ ﷺ أَنَّهُ يَهْوَى الْكَعْبَةَ، فَصَعِدَ جِبْرِيلُ، فَجَعَلَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ يُتْبِعُهُ بَصَرَهُ وَهُوَ يَصْعَدُ بَيْنَ السَّمَاءِ وَالأَرْضِ، يَنْظُرُ مَا يَأْتِيهِ بِهِ، فَأَنْزَلَ اللهُ: ﴿قَدْ نَرَىٰ تَقَلُّبَ وَجْهِكَ فِي ٱلسَّمَآءِ﴾ الآية [البقرة: ١٤٤] فَأَتَانَا آتٍ، فَقَالَ: إِنَّ الْقِبْلَةَ قَدْ صُرِفَتْ إِلَى الْكَعْبَةِ، وَقَدْ صَلَّيْنَا رَكْعَتَيْنِ إِلَى بَيْتِ الْمَقْدِسِ وَنَحْنُ رُكُوعٌ فَتَحَوَّلْنَا، فَبَنَيْنَا عَلَى مَا مَضَى مِنْ صَلاَتِنَا، فَقَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «يَا جِبْرِيلُ! كَيْفَ حَالُنَا فِي صَلاَتِنَا إِلَى بَيْتِ الْمَقْدِسِ؟» فَأَنْزَلَ اللهُ عَزَّ وَجَلَّ: ﴿وَمَا كَانَ ٱللَّهُ لِيُضِيعَ إِيمَـٰنَكُمْ﴾ [البقرة: ١٤٣].

When the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ prayed towards Baitul-Maqdis, he would often lift his face towards the heavens, and Allâh knew what was in the heart of His Prophet and how he longed to face the Ka'bah (during prayer). Jibril appeared (in the sky), and the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ started watching him as he was descending between the heavens and the earth, waiting to see what he would bring. Then Allâh revealed the words: 'Verily, We have seen the turning of your face towards the heaven. Surely, We shall turn you to a Qiblah that shall please you, so turn your face in the direction of Al-Masjid Al-Harâm (at Makkah). And wherever you people are, turn your faces (during prayer) in that direction.'[1] Then someone came to us and said: 'The Qiblah has been changed to the Ka'bah.' We had performed two Rak'ah facing towards Jerusalem. And we were bowing. So we turned around, and we continued our prayer The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'O Jibril! What about our prayer facing towards Baitul-Maqdis?' Then Allâh revealed the words: "And Allâh would never make your faith to be lost."[2] (Da'if)

Comments:

a. The Hadith contains certain unacceptable additions. Even some of its words are self-contradictory. For example it first mentions eighteen months of wait (for the change of Qiblah), then two months, and so on.

[1] Al-Baqarah 2:144.

[2] Al-Baqarah 2:143.

b. Sahih Al-Bukhâri also records the incident, but there the timespan is given as sixteen or seventeen months instead of eighteen. Obviously, Bukhâri's report is more authentic.

c. In view of this (Bukhâri's) report, it becomes necessary that we only accept narrations reported by reliable persons.

d. Even today, if a person is praying towards what he believes to be the true direction, and he is informed in the midst of his prayer that the true Qiblah is on the other side, he should immediately turn himself to that side. The previous part of his prayer is, however, in order, and there is no need to repeat it.

1011. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'What is between the east and the west is the Qiblah (prayer direction).'"[1]

Comments:

Makkah is to the exact south of Al-Madinah. As such there is no difficulty for the inhabitants of Al-Madinah to fix their Qiblah. People living in other cities can pray according to their geographical locations, since the direction of the Sacred Ka'bah differs from place to place.

Comments:

a. This prayer is called Tahiyyatul-Masjid (Greetings for the mosque).

b. If a person enter the mosque, and before sitting down there, he performs some Sunnah or obligatory Salâh, then it suffices for Tahiyyatul-Masjid, and there is no need for him to perform an additional Tahiyyatul-Masjid.

Chapter 58. 'Whoever Eats Garlic, Let Him Not Come Near The Mosque'

(المعجم ٥٨) - بَابُ مَنْ أَكَلَ الثَّوْمَ فَلَا يَقْرَبَنَّ الْمَسْجِدَ (التحفة ٩٧)

1014. It was narrated from Ma'dân bin Abu Talhah Al-Ya'muri that 'Umar bin Khattâb stood up one Friday to deliver a sermon, or, he delivered a sermon one Friday. He praised Allâh, then he said: "O people, you eat two plants that I find are nothing but obnoxious; this garlic and this onion. At the time of the

Comments:

a. Use of garlic and onion is not prohibited, or else it would not be commanded that they be cooked well.
b. It is prohibited to enter the mosque after eating something emitting a foul smell.
c. Smoking should also be avoided because the odor of a cigarette or cigar is more unseemly and obnoxious even than that of garlic or onion.

1015. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Whoever eats from this plant; garlic, let him not annoy us with it in this mosque of ours.'" (Sahih)

Ibrahim said: My father used to add to it, on the authority of the Prophet ﷺ: Leek (Allium) and onion; i.e. he would add to the Hadith of Abu Hurairah concerning garlic.

١٠١٥ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو مَرْوَانَ الْعُثْمَانِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا إِبْرَاهِيمُ بْنُ سَعْدٍ، عَنِ ابْنِ شِهَابٍ، عَنْ سَعِيدِ ابْنِ الْمُسَيَّبِ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «مَنْ أَكَلَ مِنْ هٰذِهِ الشَّجَرَةِ، الثُّومِ، فَلاَ يُؤْذِينَا بِهَا فِي مَسْجِدِنَا هٰذَا».

قَالَ إِبْرَاهِيمُ: وَكَانَ أَبِي يَزِيدُ فِيهِ، الْكُرَّاثَ وَالْبَصَلَ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ ﷺ. يَعْنِي أَنَّهُ يَزِيدُ عَلَى حَدِيثِ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ فِي الثُّومِ.

Comments:

a. Ibrâhim bin Sa'd ﷺ is the grandson of Ibrâhim bin 'Awf ﷺ. The narrator Sa'd has reported the same Hadith from Abu Hurairah ﷺ. The Hadith mentions not only garlic but onion and leek as well.
b. The Hadith makes it clear that the reason why it is prohibited to enter the mosque after consuming these substances is their foul smell, which annoys the worshipers. That also explains why the Prophet ﷺ had ordered the people to wash themselves and put on clean clothes before coming to the mosque for Friday prayers.

[1] The area where the graveyard of Al-Madinah is located.

1016. It was narrated that Ibn 'Umar said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Whoever eats anything from this plant, let him not come to the mosque.'" (Sahih) ١٠١٦ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ الصَّبَّاحِ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللهِ بْنُ رَجَاءٍ الْمَكِّيُّ، عَنْ عُبَيْدِ اللهِ بْنِ عُمَرَ، عَنْ نَافِعٍ، عَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «مَنْ أَكَلَ مِنْ هٰذِهِ الشَّجَرَةِ شَيْئاً فَلَا يَأْتِيَنَّ الْمَسْجِدَ».

Comments:

It is not allowed for a believing man to stay away from prayer-in-congregation. The Hadith does not mean that the eating of bad-smelling substances could be an excuse for avoiding the prayer-in-congregation. It rather exhorts the people to avoid eating those things before the approach of the prayer time.

Chapter 59. If The Greeting Is Given To A Person Who Is Performing Prayer, How Should He Respond?

(المعجم ٥٩) - بَابُ الْمُصَلِّي يُسَلَّمُ عَلَيْهِ كَيْفَ يَرُدُّ (التحفة ٩٨)

1017. It was narrated that 'Abdullâh bin 'Umar said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ came to the mosque at Qubâ' and performed prayer there. Some men of the Ansâr came and greeted him. I asked Suhaib, who was with him: 'How did the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ respond to them?' He said: 'He gestured with his hand.'" (Sahih) ١٠١٧ - حَدَّثَنَا عَلِيُّ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ الطَّنَافِسِيُّ قَالَ: حَدَّثَنَا سُفْيَانُ بْنُ عُيَيْنَةَ، عَنْ زَيْدِ بْنِ أَسْلَمَ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ: أَتَى رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ مَسْجِدَ قُبَاءٍ يُصَلِّي فِيهِ، فَجَاءَتْ رِجَالٌ مِنَ الأَنْصَارِ يُسَلِّمُونَ عَلَيْهِ، فَسَأَلْتُ صُهَيْباً، وَكَانَ مَعَهُ: كَيْفَ كَانَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ يَرُدُّ عَلَيْهِمْ؟ قَالَ: كَانَ يُشِيرُ بِيَدِهِ.

Comments:

a. It is Sunnah to visit the mosque at Qubâ' with sincere intention, and to offer prayer there. However, while traveling from another place to Al-Madinah one should only make the intention to visit the Prophet's Mosque there.
b. Once inside Al-Madinah, we may visit the mosque at Qubâ' and any other mosque.
c. Gesturing in case of need by the worshiper does not invalidate the prayer.

1018. It was narrated that Jâbir said: "The Prophet ﷺ sent me on an errand, then I caught up with him while he was performing prayer, and I greeted him. He gestured to me, then when he finished, he called me and said: 'You greeted me before, but I was performing prayer.'" (Sahih)

١٠١٨ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ رُمْحٍ الْمِصْرِيُّ: أَنْبَأَنَا اللَّيْثُ بْنُ سَعْدٍ، عَنْ أَبِي الزُّبَيْرِ، عَنْ جَابِرٍ قَالَ: بَعَثَنِي النَّبِيُّ ﷺ لِحَاجَةٍ. ثُمَّ أَدْرَكْتُهُ وَهُوَ يُصَلِّي، فَسَلَّمْتُ عَلَيْهِ، فَأَشَارَ إِلَيَّ، فَلَمَّا فَرَغَ دَعَانِي، فَقَالَ: «إِنَّكَ سَلَّمْتَ عَلَيَّ آنِفاً وَأَنَا أُصَلِّي».

Comments:

A person performing prayer cannot greet anyone, but others can greet him with Salâm. The worshiper cannot respond by word of mouth but he can respond by a gesture.

Chapter 60. Whoever Performs Prayer Facing A Direction Other Than The Qiblah Without Realizing

(المعجم ٦٠) - بَابُ مَنْ يُصَلِّي لِغَيْرِ الْقِبْلَةِ وَهُوَ لَا يَعْلَمُ (التحفة ٩٩)

1020. It was narrated from

١٠٢٠ - حَدَّثَنَا يَحْيَى بْنُ حَكِيمٍ: حَدَّثَنَا

أَبُو دَاوُدَ: حَدَّثَنَا أَشْعَثُ بْنُ سَعِيدٍ، أَبُو الرَّبِيعِ السَّمَّانُ، عَنْ عَاصِمِ بْنِ عُبَيْدِ اللهِ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ عَامِرِ بْنِ رَبِيعَةَ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ قَالَ: كُنَّا مَعَ رَسُولِ اللهِ ﷺ فِي سَفَرٍ، فَتَغَيَّمَتِ السَّمَاءُ وَأَشْكَلَتْ عَلَيْنَا الْقِبْلَةُ، فَصَلَّيْنَا، وَأَعْلَمْنَا، فَلَمَّا طَلَعَتِ الشَّمْسُ إِذَا نَحْنُ قَدْ صَلَّيْنَا لِغَيْرِ الْقِبْلَةِ، فَذَكَرْنَا ذٰلِكَ لِلنَّبِيِّ ﷺ، فَأَنْزَلَ اللهُ: ﴿فَأَيْنَمَا تُوَلُّوا فَثَمَّ وَجْهُ اللَّهِ﴾. [البقرة: ١١٥]

'Abdullâh bin 'Âmir bin Rabi'ah that his father said: "We were with the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ on a journey, and the sky was overcast so it was difficult for us to determine the Qiblah. So we performed prayer, and we marked the location.[1] Later, when the sun reappeared, we realized that we had prayed facing a direction other than the Qiblah. We mentioned that to the Prophet ﷺ, then the Words were revealed: 'So wherever you turn there is the Face of Allâh'".[2] (Da'if)

تخريج: [إسناده ضعيف] أخرجه الترمذي، الصلوة، باب ماجاء في الرجل يصلي لغير القبلة في الغيم، ح:٣٤٥ من حديث أشعث بن سعيد السمان به، وقال: هذا حديث ليس إسناده بذاك ... * وأشعث تابعه عمرو بن قيس عند الطيالسي، ح:١١٤٥، وعاصم ضعيف كما تقدم، ح:٩٠٧، وله شاهد ضعيف عند البيهقي وغيره.

Comments:

a. If, the sky is overcast, and it is not possible to determine the direction of the Qiblah, we must try to exercise our judgment to determine the direction. If the judgment later turns out to be wrong, the mistake is pardonable.

b. There is also a hint in the Hadith, that there is no need to repeat the prayer thus performed towards a wrong direction.

Chapter 61. The One Who Spits Performing Prayer

(المعجم ٦١) - بَابُ الْمُصَلِّي يَتَنَخَّمُ (التحفة ١٠٠)

1021. It was narrated that Târiq bin 'Abdullâh Al-Muhâribi said: "The Prophet ﷺ said: 'When you perform prayer, do not spit in front of you or to your right, but spit to your left or beneath your feet.'" (Sahih)

١٠٢١ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا وَكِيعٌ، عَنْ سُفْيَانَ، عَنْ مَنْصُورٍ، عَنْ رِبْعِيِّ ابْنِ حِرَاشٍ، عَنْ طَارِقِ بْنِ عَبْدِ اللهِ الْمُحَارِبِيِّ قَالَ: قَالَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ: «إِذَا صَلَّيْتَ

[1] 'We made an indication of the direction toward which we performed the prayer so that we would know if we were correct or if we were mistaken.' Explanation by Sindi.

[2] Al-Baqarah 2:115.

فَلاَ تَبْزُقَنَّ بَيْنَ يَدَيْكَ، وَلاَ عَنْ يَمِينِكَ، وَلٰكِنِ ابْزُقْ عَنْ يَسَارِكَ، أَوْ تَحْتَ قَدَمِكَ».

تخريج: [صحيح] أخرجه أبو داود، الصلوٰة، باب في كراهية البزاق في المسجد، ح:٤٧٨ من حديث منصور به، والترمذي، ح:٥٧١، وقال: حديث حسن صحيح .

1022. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ saw some sputum in the direction of the Qiblah of the mosque. He turned to the people and said: "What is wrong with one of you that he stands facing Him (meaning his Lord) and spits in front of Him? Would anyone like to be faced by someone who spits in his face? If anyone of you needs to spit, then let him spit to his left, or let him do like this in his garment."[1] (Sahih)

Then Ismâ'il[2] showed me how he spat in his garment then rubbed it.

١٠٢٢ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا إِسْمَاعِيلُ ابْنُ عُلَيَّةَ، عَنِ الْقَاسِمِ بْنِ مِهْرَانَ، عَنْ أَبِي رَافِعٍ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ رَأَى نُخَامَةً فِي قِبْلَةِ الْمَسْجِدِ، فَأَقْبَلَ عَلَى النَّاسِ فَقَالَ: «مَا بَالُ أَحَدِكُمْ يَقُومُ مُسْتَقْبِلَهُ (يَعْنِي رَبَّه) فَيَتَنَخَّعُ أَمَامَهُ؟ أَيُحِبُّ أَحَدُكُمْ أَنْ يُسْتَقْبَلَ فَيُتَنَخَّعَ فِي وَجْهِهِ؟ إِذَا بَزَقَ أَحَدُكُمْ فَلْيَبْزُقَنَّ عَنْ شِمَالِهِ، أَوْ لِيَقُلْ هٰكَذَا فِي ثَوْبِهِ».

ثُمَّ أَرَانِي إِسْمَاعِيلُ يَبْزُقُ فِي ثَوْبِهِ ثُمَّ يَدْلُكه:

Spitting in mosque, whether to one's left or beneath one's feet, is only allowed if the ground is such as can absorb the dampness, otherwise staining the mosque with filth is not permitted. This is particularly so if a person is praying on a mat or rug. He could use his handkerchief instead as made clear in the next Hadith.

1023. It was narrated from Hudhaifah that he saw Shabath bin Rib'i spitting in front of him. He said: "O Shabath! Do not spit in front of you, for the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ used to forbid that, and he said: 'When a man stands 'Committing an evil' means any matter that violates the spirit of prayer, such as spitting, passing wind, or playing with one's garment or pebbles. For more comments please see Hadith: 763.

1040. It was narrated that Ibn 'Abbâs said: The Prophet ﷺ said: "I was commanded not to tuck up my hair or my garment."[1] * (Sahih)

١٠٤٠ - حَدَّثَنَا بِشْرُ بْنُ مُعَاذٍ الضَّرِيرُ: حَدَّثَنَا حَمَّادُ بْنُ زَيْدٍ، وَ أَبُو عَوَانَةَ، عَنْ عَمْرِو بْنِ دِينَارٍ، عَنْ طَاوُسٍ، عَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَ: قَالَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ: «أُمِرْتُ أَنْ لاَ أَكُفَّ شَعَراً وَلاَ ثَوْباً».

تخريج: [صحيح] تقدم، ح:٨٨٣.

Comments:

'Tucking up the hair' means, not collecting them into a topknot like the women. We must avoid this sort of thing. If it is already done like this, we must undo it before starting the prayer. This also applies to rolling up the pants or sleeves during prayer. See Nawawi's Sharh, Sahih Muslim.

If our feet get soiled after ablution, we do not have to repeat it, but just to wash the feet.

Lifting one's gaze to the heavens is as prohibited as looking side ways during prayer.

1044. It was narrated that Anas bin Mâlik said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ led his Companions in prayer one day. When he had finished prayer he turned to face the people and said: 'What is wrong with some people that they lift their gaze to the heavens?' He spoke severely concerning that: 'They should certainly abstain from that or Allâh will snatch away their sight.'" (Sahih)

1047. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "A man came to the Prophet ﷺ and said: 'O Messenger of Allâh! One of us performs prayer in a single garment.' The Prophet ﷺ said: 'Does everyone have two garments?'" (Sahih)

تخريج: أخرجه البخاري، باب الصلوٰة في الثوب الواحد ملتحفًا به، ح:٣٥٨، ومسلم، الصلوٰة، باب الصلوٰة في ثوب واحد وصفة لبسه، ح:٥١٥ من حديث الزهري به.

Comments:

A man (as distinct from woman) can perform prayer in a single garment. The procedure for using a single cloth on the body among the Arabs was to take a piece of cloth and stretch it on the back like a wrapper, then to bring the two ends of it forward and put the right end over the left shoulder and the left end over the right shoulder. Thus, a single sheet would serve the purpose of concealing the wearer's private parts as well as his belly and shoulders. A single garment would thus do the job of two.

[1] Al-Hijr 15:24.

1048. Abu Sa'eed Al-Khudri narrated that he entered upon the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ when he was performing prayer in a single garment, wrapping himself in it. (Sahih) ١٠٤٨ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو كُرَيْبٍ: حَدَّثَنَا عُمَرُ بْنُ عُبَيْدٍ، عَنِ الأَعْمَشِ، عَنْ أَبِي سُفْيَانَ، عَنْ جَابِرٍ: حَدَّثَنِي أَبُو سَعِيدٍ الْخُدْرِيُّ أَنَّهُ دَخَلَ عَلَى رَسُولِ اللهِ ﷺ وَهُوَ يُصَلِّي فِي ثَوْبٍ وَاحِدٍ، مُتَوَشِّحاً بِهِ.

تخريج: [صحيح] تقدم، ح:١٠٢٩ .

Comments:

One way of wrapping the cloth has already been explained in the previous Hadith. Another slightly different method would be first to cover the two back shoulders with the cloth, then bring down the right end and pass it under the left armpit, and bring down the one on the left shoulder and pass it under the right armpit, and then tie the two ends into a knot on the chest.

1049. It was narrated that 'Umar bin Abu Salamah said: "I saw the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ performing prayer in a single garment, wrapping himself in it and throwing the ends over his shoulders." (Sahih)

Chapter 70. Prostrations For Reading The Qur'ân

(المعجم ٧٠) - بَابُ سُجُودِ الْقُرْآنِ

(التحفة ١٠٩)

1052. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'When the son of Âdam recites a Sajdah[1] and prostrates, Satan withdraws weeping, saying: 'Woe is me! The son of Âdam was commanded to prostrate and he prostrated, and Paradise will be his; I was commanded to prostrate and I refused, so I am doomed to Hell.''" (Sahih)

Comments:

The Hadith indicates the legality or lawfulness of prostration for reciting the Qur'ân. Other texts, however, tell us that this prostration is not obligatory. It nevertheless is an act meriting reward from Allâh.

1053. It was narrated that Ibn 'Abbâs said: "I was with the Prophet ﷺ, and a man came to him and said: 'Last night while I was sleeping, I saw that I was praying towards the base of a tree. I recited (an Âyah of) prostration and prostrated, and

Comments:

a. The Companion referred to in the Hadith was Abu Sa'eed Al-Khudri ﷺ as mentioned in another Hadith (See Tuhfatul-Ahwadhi 160/3, H. 579).

b. It is Sunnah to recite the abovementioned invocation in prostrations for reciting the Qur'ân.

c. Matters in the Islamic Shari'ah are not proved from dreams. The invocation is a part of Sunnah not because one of the Companions saw it in a dream, but because it is proved from the practice of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ.

١٠٥٤ - حَدَّثَنَا عَلِيُّ بْنُ عَمْرٍو الأَنْصَارِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا يَحْيَى بْنُ سَعِيدٍ الأُمَوِيُّ، عَنِ ابْنِ جُرَيْجٍ، عَنْ مُوسَى بْنِ عُقْبَةَ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ الْفَضْلِ، عَنِ الأَعْرَجِ، عَنْ [عُبَيْدِ اللهِ بْنِ] أَبِي رَافِعٍ، عَنْ عَلِيٍّ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ كَانَ إِذَا سَجَدَ قَالَ: «اللَّهُمَّ لَكَ سَجَدْتُ، وَبِكَ آمَنْتُ، وَلَكَ أَسْلَمْتُ، أَنْتَ رَبِّي، سَجَدَ وَجْهِي لِلَّذِي شَقَّ سَمْعَهُ وَبَصَرَهُ، تَبَارَكَ اللهُ أَحْسَنُ الْخَالِقِينَ».

1054. It was narrated from 'Ali that whenever the Prophet ﷺ prostrated he would say: "Allâhumma laka sajadtu, wa bika âmantu, wa laka aslamtu, Anta rabbi, sajada wajhi lilladhi shaqqa sam'ahu wa basarahu, tabârak Allâh ahsanul-khâliqin (O Allâh, to You I have prostrated, and in You I have believed, and to You I have submitted. You are my Lord; my face has prostrated to the One Who gave it hearing and sight.

Blessed is Allâh the best of creators.)."[1] (Sahih)

Comments:

The invocation contained in the Hadith is the normal invocation for prostration. Invocation particular to prostration has already been mentioned under Hadith: 1053.

It is said that the Mufassal starts with Surat Al-Hujurât (49). a. The Mufassal section is the name given to the last Surahs of the Qur'ân. Out of them the following three Surahs contain prostrations for reciting the Qur'ân: Surah An-Najm (53), Surah Al-Inshiqâq (84), and Surah Al-'Alaq (96).

b. Surah Al-Hajj contains two prostrations i.e., in Verses nos. 18 & 77.

Chapter 72. Completing The Prayer

(المعجم ٧٢) - بَابُ إِتْمَامِ الصَّلَاةِ (التحفة ١١١)

1060. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that a man entered the mosque and performed prayer, and the Prophet ﷺ was in a corner of the mosque. The man came and greeted him, and he said: "And also upon you. Go back and repeat your prayer, for you have not prayed." So he went back and repeated his prayer, then he came and greeted the Prophet ﷺ. He said: "And also

He said: "When you stand up to offer the prayer, perform ablution properly, then stand to face the prayer direction and say Allâhu Akbar. Then recite whatever you can of Qur'ân, and then bow until you feel at ease bowing. Then stand up until you feel at ease standing, then prostrate until you feel at ease prostrating. Then raise your head until you are sitting up straight. Do that throughout your prayer." (Sahih) تخريج: أخرجه البخاري، الاستيذان، باب من رد فقال: عليك السلام، ح:٦٢٥١، ومسلم، الصلوة، باب وجوب قراءة الفاتحة في كل ركعة ... الخ، ح:٣٩٧ من حديث ابن نمير به، ولفظ البخاري: ثم اسجد حتى تطمئن ساجدًا، ثم ارفع حتى تطمئن جالسًا، ثم اسجد حتى تطمئن ساجدًا، ثم ارفع حتى تطمئن جالسًا، ثم افعل ذلك في صلاتك كلها .

Comments:

a. Ablution is among the prerequisites of prayer. It must, therefore, be performed with complete attention and care, leaving no dry spot in it.
b. Facing the Qiblah is another precondition for the validity of the prayer. However, in the case of optional prayer during the course of journey, whatever direction the conveyance takes, prayer must be continued.
c. 'Recite whatever you easily can of the Qur'ân' would either mean reciting Al-Fâtihah, since there is no prayer without it, or it would mean reciting some other part of the Qur'ân after Al-Fâtihah, for which no limit is prescribed. The obligation to recite Al-Fâtihah is proven from other Ahâdith.
d. Necessary instructions about bowing and prostration have been discussed in previous chapters.
e. The most important characteristic that the Hadith underlines is that all the parts of prayer must be performed with complete composure and ease. A prayer rushed through is not accepted by Allâh. The reason being that the very purpose of prayer is the remembrance of Allâh. Allâh Himself says in the Qur'ân: "And perform prayer for My remembrance" (20:14).

They said: 'Why? By Allâh, you did not follow him more than we did, and you did not accompany him for longer.' He said: 'Yes I am.' They said: 'Show us.' He said: 'When the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ stood up for prayer, he would say the Takbir, then he would raise his hands parallel to his shoulders, and every part of his body would settle in place. Then he would recite, then he would raise his hands parallel to his shoulders and bow, placing his palms on his knees and supporting his weight on them. He neither lowered his head, nor raised it up, it was evenly balanced (between either extreme). Then he would say: "Sami' Allâhu liman hamidah (Allâh hears those who praise Him); and he would raise his hands parallel with his shoulders, until every bone returned to its place. Then he would prostrate himself on the ground, keeping his arms away from his sides. Then when he stood up after two Rak'ah, he would raise his hands level with his shoulders as he did at the beginning of the prayer. Comments:

The manner of sitting for the last Tashah-hud differs from the sitting between the two prostrations. It is what they call Tawarruk that has been explained in the Hadith. In a prayer of three or four Rak'ah, sitting for the first Tashah-hud is exactly like sitting between the two prostrations. In case of a prayer of two Rak'ah, its first Tashah-hud is also the last. Therefore, we must adopt the method of Tawarruk (sitting with the left foot brought forward so that the buttocks are in direct contact with the ground).

١٠٦٢ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدَةُ بْنُ سُلَيْمَانَ، عَنْ حَارِثَةَ بْنِ أَبِي الرِّجَالِ، عَنْ عَمْرَةَ قَالَتْ: سَأَلْتُ عَائِشَةَ، كَيْفَ كَانَتْ صَلاَةُ رَسُولِ اللهِ ﷺ؟ قَالَتْ: كَانَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ إِذَا تَوَضَّأَ فَوَضَعَ يَدَهُ فِي الْإِنَاءِ

1062. It was narrated that 'Amrah said: "I asked 'Âishah: 'How did the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ perform prayer?' She said: 'When the Prophet ﷺ performed ablution, he would put his hand in the vessel and say Bismillâh, the shortening of the reward by Allâh, who will bestow the reward of four Rak'ah even for the shortened prayer of two Rak'ah.

1064. 'Umar said: "The prayer when traveling is two Rak'ah, and Friday is two Rak'ah, and Al-Fitr and Al-Adha are two Rak'ah, complete, not shortened, as told by Muhammad ﷺ." (Sahih)

Comments:

a. The shortening of the prayer is a gift from Allâh that must be accepted.
b. There is a hint in it that performing shortened prayer during travels is preferable.
c. The Qur'ânic Verse makes the permission to perform shortened prayers conditional upon a situation of fear from the enemy. The Hadith, however, makes it clear that the condition was only in the context of the situation as it existed in those days, but now shortened prayer is permitted for people on-journey even in conditions of peace and security.

1066. It was narrated from Umayyah bin 'Abdullâh bin Khâlid that he said to 'Abdullâh bin 'Umar: "We find (mention of) the prayer of the resident and the prayer in a state of fear in the Qur'ân, but we do not find any mention of the prayer of the traveler. Comments:

The Qur'ân mainly gives a framework of rules and statutes that are expanded and explained through Ahâdith. It is,therefore, essential that we believe in both and implement both.

Comments:

Regulations concerning shortened prayer become operative as soon as a person comes out of the city of his residence, and last until he returns. There is no stipulation that he will start performing the shortened prayer only after covering such and such distance.

1068. It was narrated that Ibn 'Abbâs said: "Allâh enjoined the prayer upon the tongue of your Prophet ﷺ: Four Rak'ah while a resident and two Rak'ah when traveling." (Sahih) ١٠٦٨ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عَبْدِ الْمَلِكِ بْنِ أَبِي الشَّوَارِبِ، وَ جُبَارَةُ بْنُ الْمُغَلِّسِ، قَالاَ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو عَوَانَةَ، عَنْ بُكَيْرِ بْنِ الأَخْنَسِ، عَنْ مُجَاهِدٍ، عَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَ: افْتَرَضَ اللهُ الصَّلاَةَ عَلَى لِسَانِ نَبِيِّكُمْ ﷺ فِي الْحَضَرِ أَرْبَعاً، وَفِي السَّفَرِ رَكْعَتَيْنِ.

Chapter 74. Combining Prayer While Traveling

(المعجم ٧٤) - بَابُ الْجَمْعِ بَيْنَ الصَّلاَتَيْنِ فِي السَّفَرِ (التحفة ١١٣)

1069. It was narrated from Mujâhid, Sa'eed bin Jubair, 'Atâ' bin Abi Rabâh and Tawus that Ibn 'Abbâs told them that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ used to combine the Maghrib and 'Ishâ' when traveling, although there was nothing to make him hurry and no enemy pursuing him, and he was not afraid of anything. (Da'if)

١٠٦٩ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحْرِزُ بْنُ سَلَمَةَ الْعَدَنِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الْعَزِيزِ بْنُ أَبِي حَازِمٍ، عَنْ إِبْرَاهِيمَ ابْنِ إِسْمَاعِيلَ، عَنْ عَبْدِ الْكَرِيمِ، عَنْ مُجَاهِدٍ، وَ سَعِيدِ بْنِ جُبَيْرٍ، وَ عَطَاءِ بْنِ أَبِي رَبَاحٍ، وَطَاوُسٍ: أَخْبَرُوهُ عَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ أَنَّهُ أَخْبَرَهُمْ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ كَانَ يَجْمَعُ بَيْنَ الْمَغْرِبِ وَالْعِشَاءِ فِي السَّفَرِ، مِنْ غَيْرِ أَنْ يُعْجِلَهُ شَيْءٌ، وَلاَ يَطْلُبُهُ عَدُوٌّ، وَلاَ يَخَافُ شَيْئاً.

١٠٧٠ - حَدَّثَنَا عَلِيُّ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا

Mu'âdh bin Jabal that the Prophet ﷺ combined the Zuhr and 'Asr, and the Maghrib and 'Ishâ' when traveling during the campaign of Tabuk. (Sahih)

Comments:

a. Combining two prayers at a time while traveling is as good a permission and provision as shortening the prayer during journeys in Islam.

b. Combining the two prayers while traveling could take either of the two forms: (i) delaying the first of the two prayers until it is time for the next prayer, which is to say: performing the Zuhr prayer along with 'Asr and Maghrib with 'Ishâ'. This is called Jam'u Ta'khir (combining through delaying), or (ii) forwarding the second prayer and performing it at the time prescribed for the first, i.e., performing the 'Asr prayer along with Zuhr and 'Ishâ' prayer with Maghrib. This is known as Jam'u Taqdim (combining through forwarding). (See Jâmi' At-Tirmidhi: H. 553).

Chapter 75. Voluntary Prayer While Traveling

(المعجم ٧٥) - بَابُ التَّطَوُّعِ فِي السَّفَرِ (التحفة ١١٤)

1071. It was narrated from 'Îsa bin Hafs bin 'Âsim bin 'Umar bin Khattâb that his father told him: "We were with Ibn 'Umar on a journey, and he led us in prayer. Then we finished with him and he finished turning around, and saw some people praying. He said: 'What are these people doing?' I said: 'Glorifying Allâh.'[1] He said: 'If I wanted to glorify Allâh (perform voluntary prayer) I would have completed my prayer. O son of my brother! Comments:

a. It was the practice of the Prophet ﷺ and of the Rightly Guided Caliphs ﷺ not to perform any Sunnah or voluntary prayers before or after the obligatory prayer.

b. Performing other voluntary prayer is permitted. The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ used to offer voluntary prayers during the journeys on his mount.

1072. Usâmah bin Zaid said: "I asked Tawus about performing voluntary prayer while traveling. Al-Hasan bin Muslim bin Yannâq was sitting with him and he said: 'Tawus told me that he heard Ibn 'Abbâs say: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ enjoined prayer while a resident and prayer when one is traveling. We used to pray when we were residents both before and after (the obligatory prayer), and we used to pray both before and after (the obligatory prayer) when we were traveling.'" (Hasan)

Chapter 76. For How Long May A Traveler Shorten His Prayer If He Stays In A Town?

(المعجم ٧٦) - بَابُ كَمْ يَقْصُرُ الصَّلَاةَ الْمُسَافِرِ إِذَا أَقَامَ بِبَلْدَةٍ (التحفة ١١٥)

1073. It was narrated that 'Abdur-Rahmân bin Humaid Az-Zuhri said: "I asked Sâ'ib bin Yazid: 'What have you heard about staying in Makkah?' He said: 'I heard 'Ala' bin Hadrami say: "The Prophet ﷺ said: 'Three (days) for the Muhâjir after departing (from Mina).'"[1] (Sahih)

Comments:

It has been deduced from it, that staying beyond three days at a place makes a traveling person like a resident. The Emigrants were not permitted to take their residence once again in Makkah, so that that they continue to merit the reward of Emigration. The Prophet ﷺ permitted them to stay there up to three days. It means a stay of three days does not give one the status of a resident. As such, if a traveler stays up to three days at a place, he may perform the shortened prayer. Some other scholars, however, base their opinion on the text of the next Hadith, and extend the period for shortened ﷺ to four days.

1074. 'Atâ' narrated: "Jâbir bin 'Abdullâh, who was among the people with me, told me that the Prophet ﷺ arrived in Makkah in the morning of the fourth day of Dhul-Hijjah." (Sahih)

١٠٧٤ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ يَحْيَىٰ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو عَاصِمٍ، وَقَرَأْتُهُ عَلَيْهِ: أَنْبَأَنَا ابْنُ جُرَيْجٍ: أَخْبَرَنِي عَطَاءٌ: حَدَّثَنِي جَابِرُ بْنُ عَبْدِ اللهِ، فِي أُنَاسٍ مَعِي، قَالَ: قَدِمَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ مَكَّةَ صُبْحَ رَابِعَةٍ مَضَتْ مِنْ شَهْرِ ذِي الْحِجَّةِ.

[1] The meaning of it is: being finished from the rites (of Hajj)

Comments:

The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ arrived in Makkah in the morning of the fourth day of Dhul-Hijjah, and therefrom departed for Mina on the Day of Tarwiyah (8th of Dhul-Hijjah). The report contains the hint that shortened prayer (of two Rak'ah) can be performed up to four days. The conclusion is that, as far as the fixing of the number of days for shortened prayer is concerned, this Hadith is more explicit and decisive. And Allâh knows best. However, both the positions are correct.

1075. It was narrated that Ibn 'Abbâs said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ stayed for nineteen days in which he shortened his prayer to two Rak'ah. So, whenever we stayed for nineteen days we would shorten our prayer to two Rak'ah, but if we stayed more than that we would pray four Rak'ah." (Sahih)

١٠٧٥ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عَبْدِ الْمَلِكِ بْنِ أَبِي الشَّوَارِبِ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الْوَاحِدِ بْنُ زِيَادٍ: حَدَّثَنَا عَاصِمٌ الأَحْوَلُ، عَنْ عِكْرِمَةَ، عَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَ: أَقَامَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ تِسْعَةَ عَشَرَ يَوْماً يُصَلِّي رَكْعَتَيْنِ رَكْعَتَيْنِ، فَنَحْنُ إِذَا أَقَمْنَا تِسْعَةَ عَشَرَ يَوْماً، نُصَلِّي رَكْعَتَيْنِ رَكْعَتَيْنِ، فَإِذَا أَقَمْنَا أَكْثَرَ مِنْ ذٰلِكَ، صَلَّيْنَا أَرْبَعاً.

Comments:

It was on the occasion of the conquest of Makkah. But the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ had not intended to stay at Makkah for nineteen days. He was in fact, what may be called, an uncertain traveler. An uncertain traveler is one who intends to leave the place any day, but somehow cannot. Such a person is not technically considered a 'resident' even though he might stay for a considerably long period. He can continue to offer the shortened prayer of two Rak'ah like a traveler.

1076. It was narrated from Ibn 'Abbâs that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ stayed in Makkah for fifteen nights during the year of the Conquest, (during which time) he shortened his prayer. (Sahih)

١٠٧٦ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو يُوسُفَ بْنُ الصَّيْدَلاَنِيِّ، مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ أَحْمَدَ الرَّقِّيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ سَلَمَةَ، عَنْ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ إِسْحَاقَ، عَنِ الزُّهْرِيِّ، عَنْ عُبَيْدِ اللهِ بْنِ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ عُتْبَةَ، عَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ أَقَامَ بِمَكَّةَ عَامَ الْفَتْحِ خَمْسَ عَشْرَةَ لَيْلَةً، يَقْصُرُ الصَّلاَةَ.

1077. Yahya bin Abu Ishâq narrated that Anas said: "We went out with the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ from Al-Madinah to Makkah, during which time we shortened our prayer to two Rak'ah, until we came back." I asked: "How long did he stay in Makkah?" He said: "Ten (days)." (Sahih) ١٠٧٧ - حَدَّثَنَا نَصْرُ بْنُ عَلِيٍّ الْجَهْضَمِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا يَزِيدُ بْنُ زُرَيْعٍ، وَ عَبْدُ الأَعْلَى، قَالاَ: حَدَّثَنَا يَحْيَى بْنُ أَبِي إِسْحَاقَ، عَنْ أَنَسٍ قَالَ: خَرَجْنَا مَعَ رَسُولِ اللهِ ﷺ مِنَ الْمَدِينَةِ إِلَى مَكَّةَ. نُصَلِّي رَكْعَتَيْنِ رَكْعَتَيْنِ، حَتَّى رَجَعْنَا.

Comments:

In a situation of uncertainty, the rule limiting the duration of stay is not applicable. The person concerned can perform shortened prayer as long as he stays.

Chapter 77. Concerning One Who Does Not Perform Prayer

(المعجم ٧٧) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِيمَنْ تَرَكَ الصَّلاَةَ (التحفة ١١٦)

1078. It was narrated that Jâbir bin 'Abdullâh said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Between a person and Kufr (disbelief) is abandoning the prayer.'" (Sahih)

١٠٧٨ - حَدَّثَنَا عَلِيُّ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا وَكِيعٌ: حَدَّثَنَا سُفْيَانُ، عَنْ أَبِي الزُّبَيْرِ، عَنْ جَابِرِ بْنِ عَبْدِ اللهِ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «بَيْنَ الْعَبْدِ وَبَيْنَ الْكُفْرِ تَرْكُ الصَّلاَةِ».

Comments:

a. Prayer is one of the basic pillars of Islam, and has always been an enjoined duty in the Shari'ah of all the Prophets.

b. Many scholars hold the view that a non-performer of prayer is a Kâfir (disbeliever) while some others say that a person who leaves prayer because of his insolence is not a Kâfir, but even they consider a person Kâfir if he denies the very fact of the obligation of prayer.

1079. 'Abdullâh bin Buraidah narrated that his father said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'The covenant that distinguishes between us and them is prayer; so whoever leaves it, he has committed Kufr.'" (Sahih)

تخريج: [إسناده صحيح] أخرجه الترمذي، الإيمان، باب ماجاء في ترك الصلوة، ح: ٢٦٢١ من حديث علي بن الحسين وغيره به، وقال: حسن صحيح غريب .

Comments:

What the Hadith means is this that, since a hypocrite outwardly makes his confession of faith, all the laws of Shari'ah operate on him. But if he abandons performing prayer, then he openly declares disbelief. And since he openly declares disbelief, he forfeits all the rights available to a believer. In other words, leaving prayer is identical to a declaration of disbelief. This being so, there is food for thought for the many Muslims-in-name-only, and a need to search their souls to determine to which category they truly belong.

1080. It was narrated from Anas bin Mâlik that the Prophet ﷺ said: "There is nothing standing between a person and Shirk (polytheism) except leaving the prayer, so if he leaves it he has committed Shirk." (Da'if) ١٠٨٠ - حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الرَّحْمٰنِ بْنُ إِبْرَاهِيمَ الدِّمَشْقِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا الْوَلِيدُ بْنُ مُسْلِمٍ: حَدَّثَنَا الْأَوْزَاعِيُّ، عَنْ عَمْرِو بْنِ سَعْدٍ، عَنْ يَزِيدَ الرَّقَاشِيِّ، عَنْ أَنَسِ بْنِ مَالِكٍ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ ﷺ قَالَ: «لَيْسَ بَيْنَ الْعَبْدِ وَالشِّرْكِ إِلَّا تَرْكُ الصَّلَاةِ، فَإِذَا تَرَكَهَا فَقَدْ أَشْرَكَ».

Comments:

Worshiping any thing or being other than Allâh is polytheism. So, anyone who abandons prayer in fact gives up worshiping Allâh and starts worshiping Satan. It is so because following the dictates of Satan in opposition to those of Allâh is equal to worshiping Satan.

Chapter 78. The Obligation Of Friday

(المعجم ٧٨) - بَابٌ: فِي فَرْضِ الْجُمُعَةِ (التحفة ١١٧)

1081. It was narrated that Jâbir

١٠٨١ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ نُمَيْرٍ:

حَدَّثَنَا الْوَلِيدُ بْنُ بُكَيْرٍ: حَدَّثَنِي عَبْدُ اللهِ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ الْعَدَوِيُّ، عَنْ عَلِيِّ بْنِ زَيْدٍ، عَنْ سَعِيدِ ابْنِ الْمُسَيَّبِ، عَنْ جَابِرِ بْنِ عَبْدِ اللهِ قَالَ: خَطَبَنَا رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ فَقَالَ: «يَا أَيُّهَا النَّاسُ! تُوبُوا إِلَى اللهِ قَبْلَ أَنْ تَمُوتُوا، وَبَادِرُوا بِالأَعْمَالِ الصَّالِحَةِ قَبْلَ أَنْ تُشْغَلُوا، وَصِلُوا الَّذِي بَيْنَكُمْ وَبَيْنَ رَبِّكُمْ بِكَثْرَةِ ذِكْرِكُمْ لَهُ، وَكَثْرَةِ الصَّدَقَةِ فِي السِّرِّ وَالْعَلاَنِيَةِ، تُرْزَقُوا وَتُنْصَرُوا وَتُجْبَرُوا، وَاعْلَمُوا أَنَّ اللهَ قَدِ افْتَرَضَ عَلَيْكُمُ الْجُمُعَةَ فِي مَقَامِي هٰذَا، فِي يَوْمِي هٰذَا، فِي شَهْرِي هٰذَا، مِنْ عَامِي هٰذَا إِلَى يَوْمِ الْقِيَامَةِ، فَمَنْ تَرَكَهَا فِي حَيَاتِي أَوْ بَعْدِي، وَلَهُ إِمَامٌ عَادِلٌ أَوْ جَائِرٌ، اسْتِخْفَافاً بِهَا، أَوْ جُحُوداً لَهَا، فَلاَ جَمَعَ اللهُ لَهُ شَمْلَهُ، وَلاَ بَارَكَ لَهُ فِي أَمْرِهِ، أَلاَ، وَلاَ صَلاَةَ لَهُ، وَلاَ زَكَاةَ لَهُ، وَلاَ حَجَّ لَهُ، وَلاَ صَوْمَ لَهُ، وَلاَ بِرَّ لَهُ حَتَّى يَتُوبَ، فَمَنْ تَابَ، تَابَ اللهُ عَلَيْهِ. أَلاَ، لاَ تَؤُمَّنَّ امْرَأَةٌ رَجُلاً، وَلاَ يَؤُمَّ أَعْرَابِيٌّ مُهَاجِراً، وَلاَ يَؤُمَّ فَاجِرٌ مُؤْمِناً، إِلَّا أَنْ يَقْهَرَهُ بِسُلْطَانٍ، يَخَافُ سَيْفَهُ وَسَوْطَهُ».

bin 'Abdullâh said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ delivered a sermon to us and said: 'O people! Repent to Allâh before you die. Hasten to do good deeds before you become preoccupied (because of sickness and old age). Uphold the relationship that exists between you and your Lord by remembering Him a great deal and by giving a great deal of charity in secret and openly. (Then) you will be granted provision and Divine support, and your condition will improve. Know that Allâh has enjoined Friday upon you in this place of mine, on this day, in this month, in this year, until the Day of Resurrection. Whoever abandons it, whether during my lifetime or after I am gone, whether he has a just or an unjust ruler, whether he takes it lightly or denies (that it is obligatory), may Allâh cause him to lose all sense of tranquility and contentment, and may He not bless him in his affairs. Indeed, his prayer will not be valid, his Zakât will not be valid, his Hajj will not be valid, his fasting will not be valid, and his righteous deeds will not be accepted, until he repents. Whoever repents, Allâh will accept his repentance. No woman should be appointed as Imâm over a man, no Bedouin should be appointed as Imâm over a Muhâjir, no immoral person should be appointed as Imâm over a (true) believer, unless that is forced upon him and he fears his sword or whip.'" (Da'if)

1082. It was narrated that 'Abdur-Rahmân bin Ka'b bin Mâlik said: "I used to guide my father after he lost his sight, and when I took him out for the Friday (prayer), when he heard the Adhân he would pray for forgiveness for Abu Umâmah As'ad bin Zurârah, and supplicate for him. I heard that from him for a while, then I said to myself: 'By Allâh! What is this weakness? Every time he hears the Adhân for Friday (prayer) I hear him praying for forgiveness for Abu Umâmah and supplicate for him, and I do not ask him about why he does that.' Then I took him out for Friday (prayer), as I used to take him out, and when he heard the Adhân he prayed for forgiveness as he used to do. I said to him: 'O my father! I see you supplicating for As'ad bin Zurârah every time you hear the call for Friday; why is that?' He said: 'O my son, he was the first one who led us for the Friday prayer before the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ came from Makkah, in Naqi' Al-Khadamât (a place near Al-Madinah), in the plain of Harrah Banu Bayâdah.' I asked: 'How many of you were there at that time?' He said: 'Forty men.'" (Hasan)

١٠٨٢ - حَدَّثَنَا يَحْيَى بْنُ خَلَفٍ، أَبُو سَلَمَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الأَعْلَىٰ، عَنْ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ إِسْحَاقَ، عَنْ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ أَبِي أُمَامَةَ بْنِ سَهْلِ ابْنِ حُنَيْفٍ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ أَبِي أُمَامَةَ، عَنْ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمٰنِ بْنِ كَعْبِ بْنِ مَالِكٍ قَالَ: كُنْتُ قَائِدَ أَبِي حِينَ ذَهَبَ بَصَرُهُ، فَكُنْتُ إِذَا خَرَجْتُ بِهِ إِلَى الْجُمُعَةِ فَسَمِعَ الأَذَانَ اسْتَغْفَرَ لِأَبِي أُمَامَةَ، أَسْعَدَ بْنِ زُرَارَةَ، وَدَعَا لَهُ، فَمَكَثْتُ حِيناً أَسْمَعُ ذٰلِكَ مِنْهُ، ثُمَّ قُلْتُ فِي نَفْسِي: وَاللهِ إِنَّ ذَا لَعَجْزٌ، إِنِّي أَسْمَعُهُ كُلَّمَا سَمِعَ أَذَانَ الْجُمُعَةِ يَسْتَغْفِرُ لِأَبِي أُمَامَةَ وَيُصَلِّي عَلَيْهِ، وَلاَ أَسْأَلُهُ عَنْ ذٰلِكَ لِمَ هُوَ؟ فَخَرَجْتُ بِهِ كَمَا كُنْتُ أَخْرُجُ بِهِ إِلَى الْجُمُعَةِ. فَلَمَّا سَمِعَ الأَذَانَ اسْتَغْفَرَ كَمَا كَانَ يَفْعَلُ. فَقُلْتُ لَهُ: يَا أَبَتَاهُ أَرَأَيْتَكَ صَلاَتَكَ عَلَى أَسْعَدَ بْنِ زُرَارَةَ كُلَّمَا سَمِعْتَ النِّدَاءَ بِالْجُمُعَةِ لِمَ هُوَ؟ قَالَ: أَيْ بُنَيَّ كَانَ أَوَّلَ مَنْ صَلَّى بِنَا صَلاَةَ الْجُمُعَةِ قَبْلَ مَقْدَمِ رَسُولِ اللهِ ﷺ مِنْ مَكَّةَ، فِي نَقِيعِ الْخَضَمَاتِ، فِي هَزْمٍ مِنْ حَرَّةِ بَنِي بَيَاضَةَ. قُلْتُ: كَمْ كُنْتُمْ يَوْمَئِذٍ؟ قَالَ: أَرْبَعِينَ رَجُلاً.

Comments:

The fact of forty men being present at the time should not lead one into believing that a minimum number of forty is essential for the institution of the Friday prayer. In fact, even fewer than this makes the Friday prayer compulsory. It is rather the duty of Muslims, even numbering as few as three or four, living anywhere in the world with a non-Muslim majority, and whether or not they have a duly constructed mosque, that they organize their daily prayer as well as Friday prayers in congregation, in order to maintain their collectivity.

1083. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Allâh led those who came before us astray from Friday. Saturday was for the Jews and Sunday was for the Christians. And they will lag behind us until the Day of Resurrection. We are the last of the people of this world but we will be the first to be judged among all of creation.'" (Sahih) ١٠٨٣ - حَدَّثَنَا عَلِيُّ بْنُ الْمُنْذِرِ: حَدَّثَنَا ابْنُ فُضَيْلٍ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو مَالِكٍ الأَشْجَعِيُّ، عَنْ رِبْعِيِّ بْنِ حِرَاشٍ، عَنْ حُذَيْفَةَ؛ وَعَنْ أَبِي حَازِمٍ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «أَضَلَّ اللهُ عَنِ الْجُمُعَةِ مَنْ كَانَ قَبْلَنَا. كَانَ لِلْيَهُودِ يَوْمُ السَّبْتِ. وَالأَحَدُ لِلنَّصَارَى. فَهُمْ لَنَا تَبَعٌ إِلَى يَوْمِ الْقِيَامَةِ. نَحْنُ الآخِرُونَ مِنْ أَهْلِ الدُّنْيَا، وَالأَوَّلُونَ الْمَقْضِيُّ لَهُمْ قَبْلَ الْخَلاَئِقِ».

Comments:

a. Friday is the best of all the seven days of the week.

b. The community of the Prophet Muhammad ﷺ is superior in excellence to all other peoples and communities. One of the aspects of its superiority is the fact that it will be the first to present its account to Allâh, the Glorified and Exalted, on the Day of Reckoning. Thus, the just and righteous of this community will be admitted to the Gardens of Paradise before all others.

Chapter 79. The Virtues Of Friday

(المعجم ٧٩) - بَابٌ: فِي فَضْلِ الْجُمُعَةِ (التحفة ١١٨)

1084. It was narrated that Abu Lubâbah bin 'Abdul-Mundhir

١٠٨٤ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا

يَحْيَى بْنُ أَبِي بُكَيْرٍ: حَدَّثَنَا زُهَيْرُ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ عَقِيلٍ، عَنْ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمٰنِ بْنِ يَزِيدَ الأَنْصَارِيِّ، عَنْ أَبِي لُبَابَةَ ابْنِ عَبْدِ الْمُنْذِرِ قَالَ: قَالَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ: «إِنَّ يَوْمَ الْجُمُعَةِ سَيِّدُ الأَيَّامِ، وَأَعْظَمُهَا عِنْدَ اللهِ. وَهُوَ أَعْظَمُ عِنْدَ اللهِ مِنْ يَوْمِ الأَضْحَى وَيَوْمِ الْفِطْرِ. فِيهِ خَمْسُ خِلاَلٍ. خَلَقَ اللهُ فِيهِ آدَمَ. وَأَهْبَطَ اللهُ فِيهِ آدَمَ إِلَى الأَرْضِ. وَفِيهِ تَوَفَّى اللهُ آدَمَ. وَفِيهِ سَاعَةٌ لاَ يَسْأَلُ اللهَ فِيهَا الْعَبْدُ شَيْئاً إِلَّا أَعْطَاهُ. مَا لَمْ يَسْأَلْ حَرَاماً. وَفِيهِ تَقُومُ السَّاعَةُ. مَا مِنْ مَلَكٍ مُقَرَّبٍ وَلاَ سَمَاءٍ وَلاَ أَرْضٍ وَلاَ رِيَاحٍ وَلاَ جِبَالٍ وَلاَ بَحْرٍ إِلَّا وَهُنَّ يُشْفِقْنَ مِنْ يَوْمِ الْجُمُعَةِ».

said: "The Prophet ﷺ said: 'Friday is the chief of days, the greatest day before Allâh. It is greater before Allâh than the Day of Adha and the Day of Fitr. It has five characteristics: On it Allâh created Âdam; on it Allâh sent Âdam down to this earth; on it Allâh caused Âdam to die; on it there is a time during which a person does not ask Allâh for anything but He will give it to him, so long as he does not ask for anything that is forbidden; and on it the Hour will begin. There is no angel who is close to Allâh, no heaven, no earth, no wind, no mountain and no sea that does not fear Friday.'" (Da'if) تخريج: [إسناده ضعيف] أخرجه أحمد: ٣/ ٤٣٠ من حديث زهير به، وقال البوصيري: هذا إسناد حسن * ابن عقيل ضعيف تقدم، ح: ٣٩٠.

Comments:

a. The creation of Âdam ﷺ was a great favor of Allâh, since we are all from him, and by virtue of being humans, we are superior to other creatures if we adorn ourselves with the wealth of true belief and virtuous deeds.

b. The coming down of our grandfather Âdam ﷺ was also a great favor of Allâh upon us.

c. Even death is a great boon for a true believer, since it is the doorway through which we pass over to the territory of Allâh's bounties and favors, leaving behind our earthly period of trial. Entry into Paradise as well as the joy of seeing Allâh is only possible after we are able to cross the threshold of death. Friday was a blessed day for Âdam ﷺ because it was on this day that he met his death and entered the Gardens of Paradise. This is also a day of celebration for us, because it was on this day (Friday) that Allâh showered His mercy on our great grandfather.

d. The Day of Resurrection is the day of Allâh's mercy, but it is also the day of His punishment for the wrongdoers and sinners. Many fearful happenings are foretold to occur on that day. All the creatures, therefore, fear the coming of Friday, because any Friday could be the Doomsday.

١٠٨٥ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا

1085. It was narrated that

الْحُسَيْنُ بْنُ عَلِيٍّ، عَنْ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمٰنِ بْنِ يَزِيدَ بْنِ جَابِرٍ، عَنْ أَبِي الأَشْعَثِ الصَّنْعَانِيِّ، عَنْ شَدَّادِ بْنِ أَوْسٍ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «إِنَّ مِنْ أَفْضَلِ أَيَّامِكُمْ يَوْمَ الْجُمُعَةِ. فِيهِ خُلِقَ آدَمُ. وَفِيهِ النَّفْخَةُ. وَفِيهِ الصَّعْقَةُ. فَأَكْثِرُوا عَلَيَّ مِنَ الصَّلاَةِ فِيهِ فَإِنَّ صَلاَتَكُمْ مَعْرُوضَةٌ عَلَيَّ» فَقَالَ رَجُلٌ: يَا رَسُولَ اللهِ كَيْفَ تُعْرَضُ صَلاَتُنَا عَلَيْكَ وَقَدْ أَرَمْتَ، يَعْنِي بَلِيتَ؟ فَقَالَ: «إِنَّ اللهَ قَدْ حَرَّمَ عَلَى الأَرْضِ أَنْ تَأْكُلَ أَجْسَادَ الأَنْبِيَاءِ».

Shaddâd bin Aws said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'The best of your days is Friday. On it Âdam was created, on it the Trumpet will be blown, on it all creatures will swoon. So send a great deal of peace and blessings upon me on that day, for your peace and blessings will be presented to me.' A man said: 'O Messenger of Allâh, how will our peace and blessings be shown to you when you will have disintegrated?' He said: 'Allâh has forbidden the earth to consume the bodies of the Prophets.'" (Da'if) تخريج: [إسناده ضعيف] فيه علة قادحة * عبدالرحمٰن بن يزيد الذي يروي عنه حسين الجعفي، وأبو أسامة هو ابن تميم الضعيف، غير ابن جابر الثقة كما حققه البخاري، وأبو داود، وابن أخي حسين الجعفي وغيرهم، وهو الصواب، ومن طريقه أخرجه أبو داود، ح:١٠٤٧ وغيره من مسند أوس بن أوس رضي الله عنه.

Comments:

a. When the Hour comes, a particular angel Isrâfil ﷺ shall sound the Trumpet (called Sur in the Qur'ân). This will herald the beginning of the Hour.

b. Sending peace and blessings on the Prophet ﷺ is a deed par excellence, and so is Friday. It is this affinity between the two that makes sending peace and blessings on the Prophet ﷺ all the more opportune on Friday.

c. One should not be deluded into thinking that the moment we recite our peace and blessings on the Prophet ﷺ he is informed of it instantly. In all likelihood it is communicated to him by the angels at an appropriate time, which means that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ does not directly hear any body's peace and blessings, neither from near nor from afar. It is the angels that communicate it to him. The Hadith suggesting that he directly hears our peace and blessings for him is not based on a sound chain of narration.

١٠٨٦ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحْرِزُ بْنُ سَلَمَةَ الْعَدَنِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الْعَزِيزِ بْنُ أَبِي حَازِمٍ، عَنِ الْعَلاَءِ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ قَالَ: «الْجُمُعَةُ إِلَى الْجُمُعَةِ كَفَّارَةُ مَا بَيْنَهُمَا. مَا لَمْ تُغْشَ الْكَبَائِرُ».

1086. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "From one Friday to the next is an expiation for whatever was committed in between, so long as one does not commit any major sin." (Sahih) تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، الطهارة، باب الصلوات الخمس والجمعة إلى الجمعة ... الخ، ح:٢٣٣ من حديث العلاء به مطولاً.

Comments:

a. Minor sins are washed off through virtuous deeds.
b. Major sins are pardoned on sincere repentance.
c. Some of the major sins are so grave that, because of them, even our virtuous deeds fail to blot our minor sins.

Chapter 80. What Was Narrated Concerning Bath On Friday

(المعجم ٨٠) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي الْغُسْلِ يَوْمَ الْجُمُعَةِ (التحفة ١١٩)

1087. Aws bin Aws Ath-Thaqafi said: "I heard the Prophet ﷺ say: 'Whoever takes a bath on Friday, and bathes completely, and goes early, arriving early,[1] and walks and does not ride (to the mosque), and sits close to the Imâm and listens to him, and does not engage in idle talk; for every step he takes he will have the reward of one year, the reward of a year's fasting and praying (at night)." (Sahih)

١٠٨٧ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللهِ بْنُ الْمُبَارَكِ، عَنِ الأَوْزَاعِيِّ: حَدَّثَنَا حَسَّانُ بْنُ عَطِيَّةَ: حَدَّثَنِي أَبُو الأَشْعَثِ: حَدَّثَنِي أَوْسُ بْنُ أَوْسٍ الثَّقَفِيُّ قَالَ: سَمِعْتُ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ يَقُولُ: «مَنْ غَسَّلَ يَوْمَ الْجُمُعَةِ وَاغْتَسَلَ، وَبَكَّرَ وَابْتَكَرَ، وَمَشَى وَلَمْ يَرْكَبْ، وَدَنَا مِنَ الإِمَامِ، فَاسْتَمَعَ، وَلَمْ يَلْغُ، كَانَ لَهُ بِكُلِّ خَطْوَةٍ عَمَلُ سَنَةٍ، أَجْرُ صِيَامِهَا وَقِيَامِهَا».

تخريج: [إسناده صحيح] أخرجه أبو داود، الطهارة، باب: في الغسل للجمعة، ح:٣٤٥ من حديث ابن المبارك به، وصححه ابن حبان، والحاكم على شرط الشيخين، وحسنه البغوي، وله طريق آخر عند الترمذي، وحسنه، ح:٤٩٦ .

[1] It has been translated in its most general form, and the commentaries differ over the meaning. After the narration, Tirmidhi said (no. 496): "Regarding this Hadith, Mahmud (one of the narrators) told that Waki' said: 'Whoever takes a bath' refers to him; 'and bathes completely' refers to his wife." It has been reported that ('Abdullâh) bin Al-Mubârak said about this Hadith: "Whoever bathes completely' and 'Whoever performs Ghusl' means washes his head and performs Ghusl." And Ibn Mubârak is one of the narrators in this chain of Ibn Mâjah, whereas Waki' narrated the chain with Tirmidhi. These two views reported by At-Tirmidhi are the most popular. In Tuhfatul-Ahwadhi, Mubârakpuri preferred the second view, that of Ibn Mubârak, while in his notes on Ibn Mâjah, Sindi quoted Suyuti's view, which elaborated on the first view, that of Waki'. Most of them say that 'Goes early, arriving early' means at the early time for the prayer, and is early for the sermon.

Comments:

a. The two words Ghasala and Ightasala used in the Hadith are from the same root but have a fine line of difference in meaning. Some of the scholars have taken the first (Ghasala) to mean 'he washed his head', and the second (Ightasala) to mean 'he performed complete bath'. Some other scholars hold the opinion that the first (Ghasala) means the person washing himself as man ordinarily does, while the second means that he took a complete bath after having sexual relations with his wife, so that on his way to and from the mosque for Friday prayer his attention is not diverted by the sight of women.

b. Alongside the prayer, the sermon delivered by the Imâm on Friday is also an important part of the ritual and must be listened to attentively. Engaging oneself in idle talks or in any other activity during the course of sermon is a negation of the very purpose of the sermon.

1088. It was narrated that Ibn 'Umar said: "I heard the Prophet ﷺ say from the pulpit: 'Whoever comes to Friday, let him take a bath.'" (Sahih) ١٠٨٨ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ نُمَيْرٍ: حَدَّثَنَا عُمَرُ بْنُ عُبَيْدٍ، عَنْ أَبِي إِسْحَاقَ، عَنْ نَافِعٍ، عَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ: سَمِعْتُ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ يَقُولُ، عَلَى الْمِنْبَرِ: «مَنْ أَتَى الْجُمُعَةَ فَلْيَغْتَسِلْ».

تخريج: [صحيح] أخرجه أحمد: ٢/ ٤٢ عن عمر بن عبيد الطنافسي به * أبو إسحاق صرح بالسماع عند أحمد: ٢/ ١٤٥، وله شواهد كثيرة جدًا.

1089. It was narrated from Abu Sa'eed Al-Khudri that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "Bath on Fridays is obligatory for every male who has reached the age of puberty." (Sahih)

١٠٨٩ - حَدَّثَنَا سَهْلُ بْنُ أَبِي سَهْلٍ: حَدَّثَنَا سُفْيَانُ بْنُ عُيَيْنَةَ، عَنْ صَفْوَانَ بْنِ سُلَيْمٍ، عَنْ عَطَاءِ بْنِ يَسَارٍ، عَنْ أَبِي سَعِيدٍ الْخُدْرِيِّ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ قَالَ: «غُسْلُ يَوْمِ الْجُمُعَةِ وَاجِبٌ عَلَى كُلِّ مُحْتَلِمٍ».

تخريج: أخرجه البخاري، الأذان، باب وضوء الصبيان ومتى يجب عليهم الغسل والطهور ... الخ، ح: ٨٥٨ من حديث سفيان بن عيينة، ومسلم، الجمعة، باب وجوب غسل الجمعة على كل بالغ من الرجال ... الخ، ح: ٨٤٦ من حديث صفوان به.

Comments:

a. 'Obligatory' here may be taken to mean desirable and better since other Hadith, e.g., the one in the next chapter contains concession, i.e, the permission not to have a bath.

b. Attending Friday prayer is an enjoined duty for the male adults, not for women and children.

Chapter 81. What Was Narrated Concerning The Concession For That

(المعجم ٨١) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي الرُّخْصَةِ فِي ذَلِكَ (التحفة ١٢٠)

1090. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Whoever performs ablution and performs ablution well, then comes to Friday (prayer) and sits near (the Imâm), and keeps quiet and listens, he will be forgiven for what was between that and the previous Friday (of sins), and three days more. And whoever touches the pebbles then he has engaged in Laghw (idle talk or behavior).'' (Sahih) ١٠٩٠ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو مُعَاوِيَةَ، عَنِ الأَعْمَشِ، عَنْ أَبِي صَالِحٍ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «مَنْ تَوَضَّأَ فَأَحْسَنَ الْوُضُوءَ، ثُمَّ أَتَى الْجُمُعَةَ، فَدَنَا وَأَنْصَتَ وَاسْتَمَعَ، غُفِرَ لَهُ مَا بَيْنَهُ وَبَيْنَ الْجُمُعَةِ الأُخْرَى، وَزِيَادَةُ ثَلاَثَةِ أَيَّامٍ. وَمَنْ مَسَّ الْحَصَى فَقَدْ لَغَا».

تخريج: [صحيح] تقدم، ح:١٠٢٥.

Comments:

Forgiveness for the sins of ten days is promised for those who attend the Friday prayer, duly observing all it etiquette.

1091. It was narrated from Anas bin Mâlik that the Prophet ﷺ said: "Whoever performs ablution on Friday, it is well and good for him, and he has done what is obligatory for him. But whoever takes a bath, bath is better.'' (Da'if)

تخريج: [إسناده ضعيف] انظر، ح:١٠٨٠ لعلته، وقال البوصيري: هذا إسناد ضعيف ...، وحديث أبي داود، ح:٣٥٤ يغني عنه، وهو حديث حسن، وحسنه الترمذي، والبغوي، وصححه ابن خزيمة، ولفظه عند أبي داود: من توضأ فبها ونعمت ومن اغتسل فهو أفضل .

Comments:

A bath is not a pre-condition for the Friday prayer. It is nevertheless a praiseworthy and desirable act.

Chapter 82. What Was Narrated About Setting Out Early For Friday

(المعجم ٨٢) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي التَّهْجِيرِ إِلَى الْجُمُعَةِ (التحفة ١٢١)

1092. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "When Friday comes, angels stand at every door of the mosque and record the names of the people who come, in order of arrival. When the Imâm comes out, they close their records and listen to the sermon. The first one who comes to the prayer is like one who sacrifices a camel; the one who comes after him is like one who sacrifices a cow; the one who comes after him is like one who sacrifices a ram," (and so on) until he made mention of a hen and an egg. Sahl added in his Hadith: "And whoever comes after that comes only to do his duty with regard to the prayer." (Sahih)

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، الجمعة، باب فضل التهجير يوم الجمعة، ح: ٨٥٠ من حديث سفيان به، وقال البوصيري: هذا إسناد صحيح.

Comments:

a. Those arriving before others enjoy higher ranks, therefore get greater rewards.
b. Early arrivals are those that reach the mosque before the start of sermon. Those arriving after the start of sermon do get reward for listening to sermon and performing the Friday prayer, but do not get the extra reward reserved for early arrivals.
c. The angels' action of stopping the recording of the names and listening to the sermon, contains the message that no outside activity is allowed during the currency of the sermony.

1093. It was narrated from Samurah bin Jundab that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ described the likeness of Friday, saying that those who come earliest are like the one who sacrifices a camel, then like one who sacrifices a cow, then like one who sacrifices a sheep, until he made mention of a chicken. (Hasan) ١٠٩٤ - حَدَّثَنَا كَثِيرُ بْنُ عُبَيْدٍ الْحِمْصِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الْمَجِيدِ بْنُ عَبْدِ الْعَزِيزِ، عَنْ مَعْمَرٍ، عَنِ الأَعْمَشِ، عَنْ إِبْرَاهِيمَ، عَنْ عَلْقَمَةَ قَالَ: خَرَجْتُ مَعَ عَبْدِ اللهِ إِلَى الْجُمُعَةِ، فَوَجَدَ ثَلَاثَةً، وَقَدْ سَبَقُوهُ. فَقَالَ: رَابِعُ أَرْبَعَةٍ. وَمَا رَابِعُ أَرْبَعَةٍ بِبَعِيدٍ. إِنِّي سَمِعْتُ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ يَقُولُ: «إِنَّ النَّاسَ يَجْلِسُونَ مِنَ اللهِ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ عَلَى قَدْرِ رَوَاحِهِمْ إِلَى الْجُمُعَاتِ. الأَوَّلَ وَالثَّانِيَ وَالثَّالِثَ». ثُمَّ قَالَ: رَابِعُ أَرْبَعَةٍ. وَمَا رَابِعُ أَرْبَعَةٍ بِبَعِيدٍ.

١٠٩٣ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو كُرَيْبٍ: حَدَّثَنَا وَكِيعٌ. عَنْ سَعِيدِ بْنِ بَشِيرٍ، عَنْ قَتَادَةَ، عَنِ الْحَسَنِ،

عَنْ سَمُرَةَ بْنِ جُنْدَبٍ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ ضَرَبَ مَثَلَ الْجُمُعَةِ ثُمَّ التَّبْكِيرِ، كَنَاحِرِ الْبَدَنَةِ، كَنَاحِرِ الْبَقَرَةِ، كَنَاحِرِ الشَّاةِ، حَتَّى ذَكَرَ الدَّجَاجَةَ.

1094. It was narrated that 'Alqamah said: "I went out with 'Abdullâh to Friday (prayer), and he found three men who arrived before him. He said: 'The fourth of four, and the fourth of four is not far away. I heard the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ say: "On the Day of Resurrection people will gather near Allâh according to how early they came to Friday (prayer), the first, second, and third.'" Then he said: 'The fourth of four, and the fourth of four is not far away.'" (Da'if)

Chapter 83. What Was Narrated About Adornment On Fridays

١٠٩٥ - حَدَّثَنَا حَرْمَلَةُ بْنُ يَحْيَى: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللهِ بْنُ وَهْبٍ: أَخْبَرَنِي عَمْرُو بْنُ الحارِثِ، عَنْ يَزِيدَ بْنِ أَبِي حَبِيبٍ، عَنْ مُوسى بْنِ [سَعْدٍ]، عَنْ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ يَحْيَى بْنِ

1095. It was narrated from 'Abdullâh bin Salâm that he heard the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ saying on the pulpit one Friday: "There is nothing wrong with anyone of you buying two garments for Friday (prayer), other than his daily work clothes." (Hasan)

(Another chain) from Yusuf bin 'Abdullâh bin Salâm that his father said: "The Prophet ﷺ delivered a sermon to us" and he mentioned that.

حَبَّانَ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ سَلَامٍ أَنَّهُ سَمِعَ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ يَقُولُ، عَلَى الْمِنْبَرِ فِي يَوْمِ الْجُمُعَةِ: «مَا عَلَى أَحَدِكُمْ لَوِ اشْتَرَى ثَوْبَيْنِ لِيَوْمِ الْجُمُعَةِ، سِوَى ثَوْبِ مِهْنَتِهِ».

حدّثنا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا شَيْخٌ لَنَا، عَنْ عَبْدِ الْحَمِيدِ بْنِ جَعْفَرٍ، عَنْ مُحَمَّدِ ابْنِ يَحْيَى بْنِ حَبَّانَ، عَنْ يُوسُفَ بْنِ عَبْدِ اللهِ ابْنِ سَلَامٍ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ قَالَ: خَطَبَنَا النَّبِيُّ ﷺ فَذَكَرَ ذٰلِكَ.

تخريج: [حسن] أخرجه أبو داود، الصلوٰة، باب اللبس للجمعة، ح:١٠٧٨ من حديث ابن وهب به مطولاً.

Comments:

a. We should wear nice special garments for Friday prayers.
b. The Friday sermon should also cover topics related to practical matters.
c. Cleanliness, more than usual, must be done for Friday prayers.

1096. It was narrated from 'Âishah that the Prophet ﷺ delivered a sermon to the people one Friday, and he saw them wearing woolen clothes. The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "There is nothing wrong with any one of you, if he can afford it, buying two garments for Friday, other than his daily work clothes." (Hasan)

تخريج: [حسن] صححه البوصيري، وانظر، ح:٩١٩، وقال أحمد في أحاديث عمرو بن أبي سلمة عن زهير: بواطيل (تهذيب)، له شواهد منها الحديث السابق.

Comments:

a. Wearing clean nice clothes specially made for Friday prayers shall be a proof that the person concerned attaches greater importance to this particular act of worship.
b. There is no harm done if one is not able to have separate garments for the occasion, but he must take particular care of cleanliness for the occasion.

1097. It was narrated from Abu Dharr that the Prophet ﷺ said: "Whoever takes a bath on a Friday and does it well, and purifies himself and does it well, and puts on his best clothes, and puts on whatever Allâh decrees for him of the perfume of his family, then comes to the mosque and does not engage in idle talk or separate (pushing between) two people; he will be forgiven for (his sins) between that day and the previous Friday." (Sahih)

١٠٩٧ - حَدَّثَنَا سَهْلُ بْنُ أَبِي سَهْلٍ، وَ حَوْثَرَةُ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ. قَالاَ: حَدَّثَنَا يَحْيَى بْنُ سَعِيدٍ الْقَطَّانُ، عَنِ ابْنِ عَجْلاَنَ، عَنْ سَعِيدٍ الْمَقْبُرِيِّ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ وَدِيعَةَ، عَنْ أَبِي ذَرٍّ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ ﷺ قَالَ: «مَنِ اغْتَسَلَ يَوْمَ الْجُمُعَةِ فَأَحْسَنَ غُسْلَهُ، وَتَطَهَّرَ فَأَحْسَنَ طُهُورَهُ، وَلَبِسَ مِنْ أَحْسَنِ ثِيَابِهِ، وَمَسَّ مَا كَتَبَ اللهُ لَهُ مِنْ طِيبِ أَهْلِهِ، ثُمَّ أَتَى الْجُمُعَةَ وَلَمْ يَلْغُ وَلَمْ يُفَرِّقْ بَيْنَ اثْنَيْنِ، غُفِرَ لَهُ مَا بَيْنَهُ وَبَيْنَ الْجُمُعَةِ الأُخْرَى».

Comments:

a. Performing ablution and bath, and doing them well, is recognizing the importance of Friday.
b. People should come duly perfumed for Friday prayer. If a person has no perfume for himself, he can use the perfume of his family.
c. It is not allowed for anyone to come late, and yet try to create a space for himself in the front row by putting the seated assembly to inconvenience.

1098. It was narrated that Ibn 'Abbâs said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'This day is an 'Eid (festival) which Allâh has ordained for the Muslims. Whoever comes to Friday (prayer), let him take a bath and if he has perfume then let him put some on. And upon you (I urge to use) is the tooth stick." (Hasan) ١٠٩٨ - حَدَّثَنَا عَمَّارُ بْنُ خَالِدٍ الْوَاسِطِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا عَلِيُّ بْنُ غُرَابٍ، عَنْ صَالِحِ بْنِ أَبِي الأَخْضَرِ، عَنِ الزُّهْرِيِّ، عَنْ عُبَيْدِ بْنِ السَّبَّاقِ، عَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «إِنَّ هٰذَا يَوْمُ عِيدٍ، جَعَلَهُ اللهُ لِلْمُسْلِمِينَ. فَمَنْ جَاءَ إِلَى الْجُمُعَةِ فَلْيَغْتَسِلْ. وَإِنْ كَانَ طِيبٌ فَلْيَمَسَّ مِنْهُ. وَعَلَيْكُمْ بِالسِّوَاكِ».

تخريج: [حسن] وقال البوصيري: فيه صالح بن أبي الأخضر لينه الجمهور ، ولحديثه شواهد عند مالك(١/ ٦٥)، البيهقي(٣/ ٢٤٣) وغيرهما.

Comments:

Use of the tooth stick must be a part of our preparation for each prayer in general, and for Friday in particular, since brushing the teeth is a part of our own cleanliness and purification.

Chapter 84. What Was Narrated Concerning The Time Of Friday (prayer)

(المعجم ٨٤) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي وَقْتِ الْجُمُعَةِ (التحفة ١٢٣)

1099. It was narrated that Sahl bin Sa'd said: "We did not take a Qailulah nor eat Ghadâ' until after Friday (prayer)."[1]

١٠٩٩ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ الصَّبَّاحِ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الْعَزِيزِ بْنُ أَبِي حَازِمٍ: حَدَّثَنِي أَبِي، عَنْ سَهْلِ بْنِ سَعْدٍ قَالَ: مَا كُنَّا نَقِيلُ وَلاَ نَتَغَدَّى إِلَّا بَعْدَ الْجُمُعَةِ.

تخريج: أخرجه البخاري، الجمعة، باب قول الله تعالى: ﴿فإذا قضيت الصلٰوة فانتشروا في الأرض وابتغوا من فضل الله﴾ ح:٩٣٩، ومسلم، الجمعة، باب صلٰوة الجمعة حين تزول الشمس، ح:٨٥٩ من حديث عبدالعزيز بن أبي حازم به.

Comments:

a. Qailulah (siesta; midday nap) is a midday rest. On Fridays, however, the Companions abstained from taking it at its usual time in order to be early for Friday prayer.
b. Delaying the lunch until after the Friday prayer was also a part of their preparation for it. They probably thought that going to the mosque with stuffed bellies might make them sleepy during the sermon.

1100. Iyâs bin Salamah bin Akwa' narrated that his father said: "We used to perform Friday (prayer) with the Prophet ﷺ, then we would return, and we would not see any shadow from the walls in which we could seek shade."

١١٠٠ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ بَشَّارٍ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الرَّحْمٰنِ بْنُ مَهْدِيٍّ: حَدَّثَنَا يَعْلَى بْنُ الْحَارِثِ قَالَ: سَمِعْتُ إِيَاسَ بْنَ سَلَمَةَ بْنِ الأَكْوَعِ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ قَالَ: كُنَّا نُصَلِّي مَعَ النَّبِيِّ ﷺ الْجُمُعَةَ ثُمَّ نَرْجِعُ، فَلاَ نَرَى لِلْحِيطَانِ فَيْئاً نَسْتَظِلُّ بِهِ.

تخريج: أخرجه البخاري، المغازي، باب غزوة الحديبية، ح:٤١٦٨، ومسلم، الجمعة، باب صلٰوة الجمعة حين تزول الشمس، ح:٨٦٠ من حديث يعلى المحاربي به.

Comments:

a. Much like the Zuhr, the Friday prayer is also performed soon after the sun has passed its zenith.

[1] Qailulah is a rest in the middle of the day even if one does not sleep. Ghadâ' is the meal eaten in the beginning of the day. Explanation by Sindi.

b. The sermon being brief, people used to return so early that the shadow from the walls was still quite scant.

1101. 'Abdur-Rahmân bin Sa'd bin 'Ammâr bin Sa'd, the Mu'adh-dhin of the Prophet ﷺ, said: "My father told me, narrating from his father, from his grandfather, that during the time of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ, he used to call the Adhân on Fridays when the shadow was like a sandal strap." (Da'if)

١١٠١ - حَدَّثَنَا هِشَامُ بْنُ عَمَّارٍ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الرَّحْمٰنِ بْنُ سَعْدِ بْنِ عَمَّارِ بْنِ سَعْدٍ مُؤَذِّنِ النَّبِيِّ ﷺ: حَدَّثَنِي أَبِي، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ جَدِّهِ أَنَّهُ كَانَ يُؤَذِّنُ يَوْمَ الْجُمُعَةِ عَلَى عَهْدِ رَسُولِ اللهِ ﷺ إِذَا كَانَ الْفَيْءُ مِثْلَ الشِّرَاكِ.

تخريج: [إسناده ضعيف] وقال البوصيري: هذا إسناد ضعيف، عبدالرحمٰن أجمعوا على تضعيفه، وأما أبوه فقال ابن القطان لا يعرف حاله، وحال أبيه .

1102. It was narrated that Anas said: "We used to perform the Friday (prayer), then we would return for a nap (Qailulah)."[1] (Sahih)

١١٠٢ - حَدَّثَنَا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ عَبْدَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا الْمُعْتَمِرُ بْنُ سُلَيْمَانَ: حَدَّثَنَا حُمَيْدٌ، عَنْ أَنَسٍ قَالَ: كُنَّا نُجَمِّعُ ثُمَّ نَرْجِعُ فَنَقِيلُ.

تخريج: أخرجه البخاري، الجمعة، باب: وقت الجمعة إذا زالت الشمس، ح:٩٠٥، ٩٤٠ من حديث حميد الطويل به، وقال البوصيري: هذا إسناد صحيح، رجاله ثقات .

Comments:

Qailulah, as earlier explained, is a nap or rest in the middle of the day generally done before the Zuhr prayer. On Friday, preparations for prayer kept the Companion so much occupied that they delayed the nap until after the Friday prayer.

Chapter 85. What Was Narrated Concerning The Sermon On Friday

(المعجم ٨٥) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي الْخُطْبَةِ يَوْمَ الْجُمُعَةِ (التحفة ١٢٤)

1103. It was narrated from Ibn 'Umar that the Prophet ﷺ used to deliver two sermons, and he would sit briefly between the two. (One of the narrators) Bishr added: "While he was standing." (Sahih)

١١٠٣ - حَدَّثَنَا مَحْمُودُ بْنُ غَيْلَانَ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الرَّزَّاقِ: أَنْبَأَنَا مَعْمَرٌ، عَنْ عُبَيْدِ اللهِ بْنِ عُمَرَ، عَنْ نَافِعٍ، عَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ؛ ح: وَحَدَّثَنَا يَحْيَى بْنُ خَلَفٍ، أَبُو سَلَمَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا بِشْرُ بْنُ

الْمُفَضَّلِ، عَنْ عُبَيْدِ اللهِ، عَنْ نَافِعٍ، عَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ كَانَ يَخْطُبُ خُطْبَتَيْنِ. يَجْلِسُ بَيْنَهُمَا جَلْسَةً. زَادَ بِشْرٌ: وَهُوَ قَائِمٌ.

تخريج: أخرجه البخاري، الجمعة، باب القعدة بين الخطبتين يوم الجمعة، ح:٩٢٨ من حديث بشر به، وح:٩٢٠، ومسلم، الجمعة، باب ذكر الخطبتين قبل الصلوة وما فيهما من الجلسة، ح:٨٦١ من حديث عبيدالله به.

Comments:

a. Friday prayer has two sermons.
b. The sermon must be delivered standing, unless there is a valid excuse for not doing so.
c. In order to separate the two semons from each other, there should be a small break in between.
d. The sermons should be used for purposes of admonition and instruction.

1104. It was narrated from Ja'far bin 'Amr bin Huraith that his father said: "I saw the Prophet ﷺ delivering the sermon on the pulpit, wearing a black turban." (Sahih)

١١٠٤ – حَدَّثَنَا هِشَامُ بْنُ عَمَّارٍ: حَدَّثَنَا سُفْيَانُ بْنُ عُيَيْنَةَ، عَنْ مُسَاوِرٍ الْوَرَّاقِ، عَنْ جَعْفَرِ بْنِ عَمْرِو بْنِ حُرَيْثٍ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ قَالَ: رَأَيْتُ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ يَخْطُبُ عَلَى الْمِنْبَرِ، وَعَلَيْهِ عِمَامَةٌ سَوْدَاءُ.

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، الحج، باب جواز دخول مكة بغير إحرام، ح:١٣٥٩ من حديث مساور به.

Comments:

a. It is a part of Sunnah to deliver the sermon standing on the pulpit.
b. Wearing black clothes is permissible. There is, however, a certain sect that puts on black clothes as a mark of grief and mourning. To avoid resemblance with them, it is advisable to avoid wearing black, especially during the month of Muharram.

1105. It was narrated that Simâk bin Harb said: "I heard Jâbir bin Samurah say: 'The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ used to deliver the sermon standing, but he used to sit down briefly, then stand up.'" (Sahih)

١١٠٥ – حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ بَشَّارٍ، وَ مُحَمَّدُ ابْنُ الْوَلِيدِ. قَالَا: حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ جَعْفَرٍ: حَدَّثَنَا شُعْبَةُ، عَنْ سِمَاكِ بْنِ حَرْبٍ قَالَ: سَمِعْتُ جَابِرَ بْنَ سَمُرَةَ، يَقُولُ: كَانَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ يَخْطُبُ قَائِماً، غَيْرَ أَنَّهُ كَانَ يَقْعُدُ قَعْدَةً، ثُمَّ يَقُومُ.

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، الجمعة، باب ذكر الخطبتين قبل الصلوٰة وما فيهما من الجلسة، ح:٨٦٢، والنسائي، صلوٰة العيدين، قيام الإمام في الخطبة(١٨٦/٣، ح:١٥٧٥ من حديث شعبة) من حديث سماك به بألفاظ متقاربة.

1106. It was narrated that Jâbir bin Samurah said: "The Prophet ﷺ used to deliver the sermon standing, then he would sit down, then he would stand up and recite some Verses and remember Allâh. His sermon was moderate and his prayer was moderate (i.e., neither too long nor too short)." (Sahih)

١١٠٦ - حَدَّثَنَا عَلِيُّ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا وَكِيعٌ؛ ح: وَحَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ بَشَّارٍ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الرَّحْمٰنِ بْنُ مَهْدِيٍّ قَالاَ: حَدَّثَنَا سُفْيَانُ، عَنْ سِمَاكٍ، عَنْ جَابِرِ بْنِ سَمُرَةَ قَالَ: كَانَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ يَخْطُبُ قَائِماً. ثُمَّ يَجْلِسُ. ثُمَّ يَقُومُ فَيَقْرَأُ آيَاتٍ. وَيَذْكُرُ اللهَ. وَكَانَتْ خُطْبَتُهُ قَصْداً، وَصَلاَتُهُ قَصْداً.

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم (انظر الحديث السابق)، وأبو داود، الصلوٰة، باب الرجل يخطب على قوس، (ح:١١٠١ من حديث سفيان الثوري) من حديث سماك به.

Comments:

a. The proper way to deliver a sermon is to choose some text from the Qur'ân, then explain things in the light thereof.

b. The sermon should neither be too long nor too short, but of moderate length.

c. The prayer must not be too short. Some of the A'imma, either recite the shortest among the Surah of the Qur'ân or resort to reciting just three or four Verses from a longer Surah. This is all against the Sunnah of the Prophet ﷺ.

1107. 'Abdur-Rahmân bin Sa'd bin 'Ammâr bin Sa'd narrated that his father told him, from his father, from his grandfather, that when the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ delivered a speech on the battlefield he would do so leaning on a bow, and when he delivered a sermon on Friday, he would do so leaning on his staff. (Da'if) ١١٠٧ - حَدَّثَنَا هِشَامُ بْنُ عَمَّارٍ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الرَّحْمٰنِ بْنُ سَعْدِ بْنِ عَمَّارِ بْنِ سَعْدٍ: حَدَّثَنِي أَبِي، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ جَدِّهِ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ كَانَ إِذَا خَطَبَ فِي الْحَرْبِ، خَطَبَ عَلَى قَوْسٍ. وَإِذَا خَطَبَ فِي الْجُمُعَةِ، خَطَبَ عَلَى عَصاً.

Abu 'Abdullâh (Ibn Mâjah) said: (This Hadith is) Gharib (Unfamiliar); it was not narrated by anyone except Ibn Abu Shaibah.

تخريج: [إسناده ضعيف] وقال البوصيري: هذا إسناد صحيح، رجاله ثقات * الأعمش عنعن تقدم، ح:١٧٨، ورواه ابن فضيل عنه عن إبراهيم عن علقمة به مرسلاً، وأخرجه ابن أبي شيبة في المصنف (ط دارالكتب العلمية: ١/ ٤٤٨، ٤٤٩، ح:٥١٨٣، الصلوات، باب: ٣٤٣).

Comments:

a. In his Commentary on the Qur'ân, Ibn Kathir ﷺ quotes a Hadith from Abu Dâwud's Ahâdith of the category of Mursal (Hadith going back only up to the Followers instead of the Prophet ﷺ himself) to the effect that one day while the Prophet ﷺ was delivering his sermon after the prayer, somebody announced that a trader called Dihyah bin Khalîfah had arrived with his merchandise. On hearing this, the people got up, leaving behind just a few with the Prophet ﷺ (See Marâsil of Abu Dâwud, H. 62) It was on this occasion that the Verse quoted in the Hadith was revealed. It can, therefore, be inferred from the Hadith, that listening to the sermon whether of 'Eid or Friday is compulsory, and it is an act of sin to leave the mosque without listening to the sermon. And Allâh knows best.

b. We know from this, that upon ascending the pulpit, the chronology is like this: First, the Imâm shall greet the assembly (with Salâm), then the Adhân shall be called, and then the Imâm shall deliver the sermon.

١١٠٩ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ يَحْيَىٰ: حَدَّثَنَا عَمْرُو بْنُ خَالِدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا ابْنُ لَهِيعَةَ عَنْ مُحَمَّدِ ابْنِ زَيْدِ بْنِ مُهَاجِرٍ، عَنْ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ الْمُنْكَدِرِ، عَنْ جَابِرِ بْنِ عَبْدِ اللهِ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ كَانَ إِذَا صَعِدَ الْمِنْبَرَ سَلَّمَ.

1109. It was narrated from Jâbir that whenever the Prophet ﷺ ascended the pulpit he would greet (the people with Salâm). (Da'if)

Chapter 86. What Was Narrated Concerning Listening To The Sermon And Remaining Silent

(المعجم ٨٦) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي الاِسْتِمَاعِ لِلْخُطْبَةِ وَالإِنْصَاتِ لَهَا

(التحفة ١٢٥)

1110. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Prophet ﷺ said: "If you say to your companions: 'Be quiet' on a Friday while the Imâm is delivering the sermon, you have engaged in Laghw idle talk or behavior)." (Sahih)

١١١٠ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا شَبَابَةُ بْنُ سَوَّارٍ، عَنِ ابْنِ أَبِي ذِئْبٍ، عَنِ الزُّهْرِيِّ، عَنْ سَعِيدِ بْنِ الْمُسَيَّبِ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ قَالَ: «إِذَا قُلْتَ لِصَاحِبِكَ: أَنْصِتْ، يَوْمَ الْجُمُعَةِ، وَالإِمَامُ يَخْطُبُ، فَقَدْ لَغَوْتَ».

تخريج: أخرجه البخاري، الجمعة، باب الإنصات يوم الجمعة والإمام يخطب، ح:٩٣٤، ومسلم، الجمعة، باب: في الإنصات يوم الجمعة في الخطبة، ح:٨٥١ من حديث الزهري به.

Comments:

a. It is prohibited either to initiate conversation or reply to someone else's remarks during the sermon.

b. In cases where there is something of vital import, it is allowed to speak to the Imâm during the sermon as happened in the case of a person who requested the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ to pray to Allâh for rain on one Friday, and for halting the rain on the next Friday (Sahih Al-Bukhâri: 933). Similarly, as we shall, see in the next Chapter, the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ spoke to Sulaik Ghatafâni ؓ during the course of his sermon. However, things like annoying the assembly with questions after questions in order to capture their attention, or getting them to answer aloud, or raise slogans inside the mosque, are highly improper acts if done by the Imâm.

1111. 'Atâ' bin Yasâr narrated from Ubayy bin Ka'b: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ recited Tabârak [Al-Mulk (67)] one Friday, while he was standing and reminding us of the Days of Allâh (i.e., preaching to us). Abu Dardâ' or Abu Dharr raised an eyebrow at me and said: 'When was this Surah revealed? For I have not heard it before now.' He (Ubayy) gestured to him that he should remain silent. When they finished, he said: 'I asked you when this Surah was revealed and you did not answer me." Ubayy said: 'You have gained nothing from your prayer today except the idle talk that you engaged in.' He went to the Prophet ﷺ and told him about that, and what Ubayy had said to him. The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Ubayy spoke the truth.'" (Hasan) اسْكُتْ. فَلَمَّا انْصَرَفُوا قَالَ: سَأَلْتُكَ مَتَى أُنْزِلَتْ هٰذِهِ السُّورَةُ فَلَمْ تُخْبِرْنِي؟ فَقَالَ أُبَيٌّ: لَيْسَ لَكَ مِنْ صَلَاتِكَ الْيَوْمَ إِلَّا مَا لَغَوْتَ. فَذَهَبَ إِلَى رَسُولِ اللهِ ﷺ فَذَكَرَ ذٰلِكَ لَهُ. وَأَخْبَرَهُ بِالَّذِي قَالَ أُبَيٌّ. فَقَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «صَدَقَ أُبَيٌّ».

تخريج: [إسناده حسن] أخرجه عبدالله بن أحمد في زوائد المسند: ١٤٣/٥ من حديث عبدالعزيز به، وقال البوصيري: هذا إسناد صحيح، رجاله ثقات.

Comments:

a. No response should be given to the person who tries to talk to one of you during the sermon.

b. Gesturing to someone to keep quiet is not the same as speech.

c. Talking during the sermon eats up the reward of Friday prayer.

Chapter 87. Concerning One Who Enters The Mosque While The Imâm Is Delivering The Sermon

(المعجم ٨٧) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِيمَنْ دَخَلَ الْمَسْجِدَ وَالْإِمَامُ يَخْطُبُ (التحفة ١٢٦)

1112. It was narrated that Jâbir bin 'Abdullâh said: "Sulaik Ghatafâni entered the mosque when the Prophet ﷺ was delivering the sermon. He said: 'Have you prayed?' He said, 'No.' He said: 'Then perform two Rak'ah.'" (Sahih)

As for 'Amr (one of the narrator's of the Hadith), he did not mention Sulaik.

١١١٢ - حَدَّثَنَا هِشَامُ بْنُ عَمَّارٍ: حَدَّثَنَا سُفْيَانُ بْنُ عُيَيْنَةَ، عَنْ عَمْرِو بْنِ دِينَارٍ، سَمِعَ جَابِراً. وَأَبُو الزُّبَيْرِ سَمِعَ جَابِرَ بْنَ عَبْدِ اللهِ قَالَ: دَخَلَ سُلَيْكٌ الْغَطَفَانِيُّ الْمَسْجِدَ وَالنَّبِيُّ ﷺ يَخْطُبُ، فَقَالَ: «أَصَلَّيْتَ؟» قَالَ: لَا. قَالَ: «فَصَلِّ رَكْعَتَيْنِ».

وَأَمَّا عَمْرٌو فَلَمْ يَذْكُرْ سُلَيْكاً.

تخريج: أخرجه البخاري، الجمعة، باب: إذا رأى الإمام رجلاً جاء وهو يخطب أمره أن يصلي ركعتين، ح: ٩٣٠، ٩٣١، ١١٦٦، ومسلم، الجمعة، باب التحية والإمام يخطب، ح: ٨٧٥ من حديث عمرو بن دينار به، أخرجه مسلم من حديث أبي الزبير به.

Comments:

a. We learn from the Hadith that even the person who enters the mosque during the sermon should perform two Rak'ah before he sits down.

b. These two Rak'ah serve the dual purpose of being Tahiyyatul-Masjid as well as Sunnah before Friday prayer. Performing more than two Rak'ah on this occasion is not allowed. One can, however, perform as many Rak'ah as one desires in a cycle of two each, before the start of the sermon. (Sahih Al-Bukhâri: 883).

1113. It was narrated that Abu Sa'eed said: "A man entered the mosque when the Prophet ﷺ was delivering the sermon. He said: 'Have you prayed?' He said: 'No.' He said: 'Then pray two Rak'ah.'" (Hasan) ١١١٣ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ الصَّبَّاحِ: أَنْبَأَنَا سُفْيَانُ بْنُ عُيَيْنَةَ، عَنِ ابْنِ عَجْلَانَ، عَنْ عِيَاضِ بْنِ عَبْدِ اللهِ، عَنْ أَبِي سَعِيدٍ قَالَ: جَاءَ رَجُلٌ وَالنَّبِيُّ ﷺ يَخْطُبُ فَقَالَ: «أَصَلَّيْتَ؟» قَالَ: لَا. قَالَ: «فَصَلِّ رَكْعَتَيْنِ».

تخريج: [حسن] أخرجه الترمذي، الجمعة، باب ماجاء في الركعتين إذا جاء الرجل والإمام يخطب، ح:٥١١ من حديث سفيان به، وقال: حسن صحيح ، ولفظ الحميدي في مسنده: ثنا سفيان قال ثنا محمد بن عجلان قال ثنا عياض بن عبدالله بن سعد بن أبي سرح . . . الخ .

1114. It was narrated that Jâbir said: "Sulaik Al-Ghatafâni came while the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ was delivering the sermon. The Prophet ﷺ said to him: 'Did you perform two Rak'ah before you came?' He said: 'No.' He said: 'Then perform two Rak'ah, but make them brief.'" (Da'if)

تخريج: [إسناده ضعيف] صححه ابن الملقن في تحفة المحتاج:١/٣٩٩، ح:٤٣٤ * وحفص بن غياث وصفه أحمد، والدارقطني بالتدليس (المرتبة الأولى من المدلسين عند الحافظ)، ولم أجد تصريح سماعه، والمدلس لا يحتج بعنعنته في غير الصحيحين على الراجح، وأخرجه مسلم، الجمعة، باب التحية والإمام يخطب، ح:٨٧٥ من طريق الأعمش به، ولم يذكر قوله: قبل أن تجيء .

Chapter 88. Concerning The Prohibition Of Stepping Over The People's Shoulders On Friday

(المعجم ٨٨) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي النَّهْيِ عَنْ تَخَطِّي النَّاسِ يَوْمَ الْجُمُعَةِ

(التحفة ١٢٧)

1115. It was narrated from Jâbir

١١١٥ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو كُرَيْبٍ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ

الرَّحْمٰنِ الْمُحَارِبِيُّ، عَنْ إِسْمَاعِيلَ بْنِ مُسْلِمٍ، عَنِ الْحَسَنِ، عَنْ جَابِرِ بْنِ عَبْدِ اللهِ أَنَّ رَجُلاً دَخَلَ الْمَسْجِدَ يَوْمَ الْجُمُعَةِ، وَرَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ يَخْطُبُ. فَجَعَلَ يَتَخَطَّى النَّاسَ. فَقَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «اجْلِسْ فَقَدْ آذَيْتَ وَآنَيْتَ».

bin 'Abdullâh that a man entered the mosque one Friday when the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ was delivering the sermon. He started stepping over the people's shoulders, and the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Sit down, for you have annoyed (people) and you are late.'" (Sahih)

Comments:

a. We must reach the mosque early for Friday prayer so that we are able to find a suitable place near the Imâm.
b. If we arrive late, then we must sit wherever we find it fit in the rear rows.
c. It is not proper to cause trouble to others in order to reach in front.

١١١٦ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو كُرَيْبٍ: حَدَّثَنَا رِشْدِينُ ابْنُ سَعْدٍ، عَنْ زَبَّانَ بْنِ فَائِدٍ، عَنْ سَهْلِ بْنِ مُعَاذِ بْنِ أَنَسٍ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «مَنْ تَخَطَّى رِقَابَ النَّاسِ يَوْمَ الْجُمُعَةِ اتُّخِذَ جِسْرًا إِلَى جَهَنَّمَ».

1116. It was narrated from Sahl bin Mu'âdh bin Anas that his father said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Whoever steps over the people's necks on Friday has built a bridge to Hell.'" (Da'if)

Chapter 89. Concerning Speaking After The Imâm Comes Down From The Pulpit

١١١٧ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ بَشَّارٍ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو دَاوُدَ: حَدَّثَنَا جَرِيرُ بْنُ حَازِمٍ، عَنْ ثَابِتٍ، عَنْ أَنَسِ بْنِ مَالِكٍ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ كَانَ يُكَلَّمُ فِي الْحَاجَةِ، إِذَا نَزَلَ عَنِ الْمِنْبَرِ يَوْمَ الْجُمُعَةِ.

1117. It was narrated from Anas bin Mâlik that the people used to speak to the Prophet ﷺ about their needs when he came down from the pulpit on a Friday. (Da'if)

Chapter 90. What Was Narrated Concerning The Recitation In The Prayer On Friday

(المعجم ٩٠) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي الْقِرَاءَةِ فِي الصَّلَاةِ يَوْمَ الْجُمُعَةِ (التحفة ١٢٩)

1118. It was narrated that 'Ubaidullâh bin Abu Râfi' said: "Marwân appointed Abu Hurairah in charge of Al-Madinah, and set out for Makkah. Abu Hurairah led us in prayer on Friday, and he recited Surat Al-Jumu'ah in the first Rak'ah, and in the second, 'When the hypocrites come to you.''[1] 'Ubaidullâh said: "I caught up with Abu Hurairah when he finished and said to him: 'You recited two Surah that 'Ali used to recite in Kufah.' Abu Hurairah said: 'I heard the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ reciting them.'" (Sahih) ١١١٨ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا حَاتِمُ بْنُ إِسْمَاعِيلَ الْمَدَنِيُّ، عَنْ جَعْفَرِ بْنِ مُحَمَّدٍ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ عُبَيْدِ اللهِ بْنِ أَبِي رَافِعٍ قَالَ: اسْتَخْلَفَ مَرْوَانُ أَبَا هُرَيْرَةَ عَلَى الْمَدِينَةِ. فَخَرَجَ إِلَى مَكَّةَ. فَصَلَّى بِنَا أَبُو هُرَيْرَةَ يَوْمَ الْجُمُعَةِ. فَقَرَأَ بِسُورَةِ الْجُمُعَةِ، فِي السَّجْدَةِ الْأُولَى. وَفِي الْآخِرَةِ، إِذَا جَاءَكَ الْمُنَافِقُونَ.

قَالَ عُبَيْدُ اللهِ: فَأَدْرَكْتُ أَبَا هُرَيْرَةَ حِينَ انْصَرَفَ. فَقُلْتُ لَهُ: إِنَّكَ قَرَأْتَ بِسُورَتَيْنِ كَانَ عَلِيٌّ يَقْرَأُ بِهِمَا بِالْكُوفَةِ. فَقَالَ أَبُو هُرَيْرَةَ: إِنِّي سَمِعْتُ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ يَقْرَأُ بِهِمَا.

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، الجمعة، باب ما يقرأ في صلوة الجمعة، ح:٨٧٧ عن ابن أبي شيبة، وغيره به.

Comments:

a. Reciting these two Surah is proven from Sunnah. However, as we shall see in the next Hadith, it is also allowed to recite other Surah.

b. The Companions were keen to follow and copy the actions of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ to their minutest details. Hence it is, that the action of both 'Ali and Abu Hurairah ﷺ, in this case was in perfect emulation of the practice of the Prophet ﷺ.

1119. It was narrated that 'Ubaidullâh bin 'Abdullâh said: "Dahhâk bin Qais wrote to Nu'mân bin Bashir, saying: 'Tell us what the Messenger of Allâh

١١١٩ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ الصَّبَّاحِ: أَنْبَأَنَا سُفْيَانُ: أَنْبَأَنَا ضَمْرَةُ بْنُ سَعِيدٍ، عَنْ عُبَيْدِ اللهِ ابْنِ عَبْدِ اللهِ قَالَ: كَتَبَ الضَّحَّاكُ بْنُ قَيْسٍ إِلَى النُّعْمَانِ بْنِ بَشِيرٍ: أَخْبِرْنَا، بِأَيِّ شَيْءٍ

كَانَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ يَقْرَأُ يَوْمَ الْجُمُعَةِ، مَعَ سُورَةِ الْجُمُعَةِ؟ قَالَ: كَانَ يَقْرَأُ فِيهَا ﴿هَلْ أَتَىٰكَ حَدِيثُ ٱلْغَـٰشِيَةِ﴾.

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، الجمعة، باب ما يقرأ في صلوة الجمعة، ح:٨٧٨ من حديث سفيان بن عيينة به، إلا أن فيها ... سوى سورة الجمعة؟ .

Comments:

a. This Hadith tells us that, alongside Surah Al-Jumu'ah, the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ used to recite Surah Al-Ghâshiyah in the Friday prayer, while in the previous Hadith we were told that, in addition to Surah Al-Jumu'ah, he ﷺ used to recite Surah Al-Munâfiqun. The obvious inference, therefore, is that we have a choice in the selection of texts and chapters of the Qur'ân.
b. The written word is as dependable as the heard version of a Hadith, provided that we are sure about the authenticity of the source.

1120. It was narrated from Abu 'Inabah Al-Khawlâni that the Prophet ﷺ used to recite "Glorify the Name of your Lord the Most High" and "Has there come to you the narration of the overwhelming (i.e., the Day of Resurrection)?[2] on Friday. (Sahih)

١١٢٠ - حَدَّثَنَا هِشَامُ بْنُ عَمَّارٍ: حَدَّثَنَا الْوَلِيدُ بْنُ مُسْلِمٍ، عَنْ سَعِيدِ بْنِ سِنَانٍ، عَنْ أَبِي الزَّاهِرِيَّةِ، عَنْ أَبِي عِنَبَةَ الْخَوْلَانِيِّ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ كَانَ يَقْرَأُ فِي الْجُمُعَةِ بِـ ﴿سَبِّحِ ٱسْمَ رَبِّكَ ٱلْأَعْلَى﴾ وَ﴿هَلْ أَتَىٰكَ حَدِيثُ ٱلْغَـٰشِيَةِ﴾.

Chapter 91. What Was Narrated Concerning One Who Catches One Rak'ah Of Friday Prayer

(المعجم ٩١) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِيمَنْ أَدْرَكَ مِنَ الْجُمُعَةِ رَكْعَةً (التحفة ١٣٠)

1121. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Prophet ﷺ said: "Whoever catches one Rak'ah of Friday, let him add another Rak'ah to it." (Sahih)

١١٢١ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ الصَّبَّاحِ: أَنْبَأَنَا عُمَرُ بْنُ حَبِيبٍ، عَنِ ابْنِ أَبِي ذِئْبٍ، عَنِ الزُّهْرِيِّ، عَنْ أَبِي سَلَمَةَ، وَ سَعِيدِ بْنِ

الْمُسَيَّبِ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ قَالَ:
«مَنْ أَدْرَكَ مِنَ الْجُمُعَةِ رَكْعَةً فَلْيَصِلْ إِلَيْهَا أُخْرَى».

تخريج: [صحيح] وقال البوصيري: هذا إسناد ضعيف، عمر بن حبيب متفق على تضعيفه، وللحديث شاهد عند الدارقطني: ٢/ ١٢، ح: ١٥٩٢، وإسناده حسن لذاته، وأخرج البيهقي: ٣/ ٢٠٤ وغيره بإسناد صحيح عن ابن عمر قال: من أدرك ركعةً من الجمعة فقد أدركها إلا أنه يقضي ما فاته.

Comments:

a. In the case where a person fails to arrive at the mosque in time, and is able to catch only one Rak'ah with the Imâm, he will be considered to have performed the Friday prayer in congregation. He should, therefore, perform just one more Rak'ah to complete his prayer.

b. There is a hint in it, that if the person concerned has failed to catch even one full Rak'ah, he will have missed the Friday prayer. He, therefore, shall perform four Rak'ah as for Zuhr instead of the two prescribed for the Friday prayer.

1122. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Whoever catches one Rak'ah of prayer, he has caught it.'" (Sahih) ١١٢٢ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ، وَ هِشَامُ بْنُ عَمَّارٍ. قَالاَ: حَدَّثَنَا سُفْيَانُ بْنُ عُيَيْنَةَ، عَنِ الزُّهْرِيِّ، عَنْ أَبِي سَلَمَةَ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «مَنْ أَدْرَكَ مِنَ الصَّلاَةِ رَكْعَةً فَقَدْ أَدْرَكَ».

1123. It was narrated that Ibn 'Umar said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Whoever catches one Rak'ah of Friday prayer or other than it, then he has caught the prayer.'" (Sahih)

تخريج: [صحيح] انظر، ح: ٧٠٧ لعلته، وانظر، ح: ١١٢١ لشواهده، وصححه ابن حجر في بلوغ المرام.

Comments:

One interpretation of the Hadith is that anyone who catches one Rak'ah shall not be deprived of the reward of prayer in congregation. Another interpretation, is that if he has the time to do just one Rak'ah before the end of the prescribed time, his prayer shall not be considered as missed. For instance, a man has just completed one Rak'ah for the Fajr prayer when the sun rose, or else he had performed just one Rak'ah for 'Asr before the sun went down. In such cases, he should complete his prayer. Such delays are not, however, acceptable except for a valid reason or excuse.

Chapter 92. What Was Narrated Concerning From Where You Should Come To Friday (Prayer)

(المعجم ٩٢) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ مِنْ أَيْنَ تُؤْتَى الْجُمُعَةِ (التحفة ١٣١)

1124. It was narrated that Ibn 'Umar said: "The people of Qubâ' used to pray with the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ on Fridays." (Hasan) ١١٢٤ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ يَحْيَىٰ: حَدَّثَنَا سَعِيدُ بْنُ أَبِي مَرْيَمَ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ عُمَرَ، عَنْ نَافِعٍ، عَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ، قَالَ: إِنَّ أَهْلَ قُبَاءٍ كَانُوا يُجَمِّعُونَ مَعَ رَسُولِ اللهِ ﷺ يَوْمَ الْجُمُعَةِ.

Chapter 93. Those Who Do Not Attend Friday Prayer Without An Excuse

(المعجم ٩٣) - بَابٌ: فِيمَنْ تَرَكَ الْجُمُعَةِ مِنْ غَيْرِ عُذْرٍ (التحفة ١٣٢)

1125. It was narrated that Abu Ja'd Ad-Damri who was a Companion said that the Prophet ﷺ said: "Whoever abandons Friday (prayer) three times, neglecting it, a seal will be placed over his heart." (Hasan)

تخريج: [إسناده حسن] أخرجه أبو داود، الصلوٰة، باب التشديد في ترك الجمعة، ح:١٠٥٢ من حديث محمد بن عمرو به، وحسنه الترمذي، وصححه ابن خزيمة، وابن حبان، والحاكم، والذهبي.

Comments:

Tahâwun in Arabic is from the same root as Hayyin, which means something insignificant. Man, by nature, is prone to neglect and make light of performing the things he considers unimportant. Therefore, Tahâwunan is also sometimes translated as 'lazily'.

1126. It was narrated that Jâbir bin 'Abdullâh said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Whoever abandons Friday (prayer) three times, for no necessary reason, Allâh will place a seal over his heart.'" (Hasan)

تخريج: [إسناده حسن] أخرجه النسائي في الكبرى، ح:١٦٥٧، وعلى هوامش النسخ الهندية من المجتبى، من حديث ابن وهب به، وقال البوصيري: هذا إسناد صحيح، رجاله ثقات.

1127. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "What if one of you were to take a flock of sheep and look for grass for them one or two miles away, but he cannot find any at that distance, so he goes further away? Then (the time for) Friday comes but he does not attend it, then (another) Friday comes but he does not attend it, and (another) Friday comes but he does not attend it, until Allâh places a seal on his heart." (Da'îf)

تخريج: [إسناده ضعيف] أخرجه الحاكم:١/ ٢٩٢ من حديث محمد بن بشار به، وقال: صحيح على شرط مسلم ، وصححه ابن خزيمة، ح:١٨٥٩، وقال البوصيري: هذا إسناد ضعيف لضعف معدي بن سليمان ، وله شاهد ضعيف جدًّا عند أبي يعلى، ح:٢١٩٨، وشاهد آخر عند الطبراني في الأوسط:١/ ٢٢٤،٢٢٥، ح:٣٣٨، وإسناده ضعيف راجع المجمع:٢/ ١٩٣، وله شواهد أخرى عند المنذري في الترغيب والترهيب:١/ ٥٠٩،٥١٢ .

1128. It was narrated from Samurah bin Jundab that the Prophet ﷺ said: "Whoever abandons Friday deliberately, let him give a Dinâr in charity, and if he cannot afford that, then (let him give) half a Dinâr." (Dai'f)

١١٢٨ - حَدَّثَنَا نَصْرُ بْنُ عَلِيٍّ الْجَهْضَمِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا نُوحُ بْنُ قَيْسٍ، عَنْ أَخِيهِ، عَنْ قَتَادَةَ، عَنِ الْحَسَنِ، عَنْ سَمُرَةَ بْنِ جُنْدَبٍ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ ﷺ قَالَ: «مَنْ تَرَكَ الْجُمُعَةَ مُتَعَمِّداً، فَلْيَتَصَدَّقْ بِدِينَارٍ، فَإِنْ لَمْ يَجِدْ، فَبِنِصْفِ دِينَارٍ».

تخريج: [إسناده ضعيف] أخرجه النسائي في الكبرٰى، ح:١٦٦٢، والمجتبى كما ذكره شيخنا الإمام عطاء الله الفوجياني في التعليقات السلفية:١/ ١٦١ عن نصر بن علي به * قتادة عنعن تقدم، ح:١٧٥، وله سند آخر عن قدامة بن وبرة عن سمرة به، أخرجه النسائي في المجتبى:٣/ ٨٩، ح:١٣٧٢، وأبو داود، ح:١٠٥٣ وغيرهما * وقدامة لم يسمع من سمرة كما قال البخاري.

Chapter 94. What Was Narrated Concerning Prayer Before Friday (Prayer)

(المعجم ٩٤) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي الصَّلَاةِ قَبْلَ الْجُمُعَةِ (التحفة ١٣٣)

1129. It was narrated that Ibn 'Abbâs said: "The Prophet ﷺ used to perform four Rak'ah before Friday (prayer), and he did not separate any of them." (Maudu')

١١٢٩ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ يَحْيَـى: حَدَّثَنَا يَزِيدُ بْنُ عَبْدِ رَبِّهِ: حَدَّثَنَا بَقِيَّةُ، عَنْ مُبَشِّرِ بْنِ عُبَيْدٍ، عَنْ حَجَّاجِ بْنِ أَرْطَاةَ، عَنْ عَطِيَّةَ الْعَوفِيِّ، عَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَ: كَانَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ يَرْكَعُ قَبْلَ الْجُمُعَةِ أَرْبَعاً، لاَ يَفْصِلُ فِي شَيْءٍ مِنْهُنَّ.

تخريج: [إسناده موضوع] وقال البوصيري: هذا إسناد مسلسل بالضعفاء، عطية متفق على ضعفه، وحجاج مدلس، ومبشر بن عبيد كذاب، وبقية هو ابن الوليد يدلس بتدليس التسوية .

Comments:

One can offer as many Rak'ah as he wishes before the sermon. (See notes on H. 1112). However, if he arrives at the mosque during the period of the sermon, he would only perform two Rak'ah. (See H. 1113)

Chapter 95. What Was Narrated Concerning Prayer after Friday

(المعجم ٩٥) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي الصَّلَاةِ بَعْدَ الْجُمُعَةِ (التحفة ١٣٤)

1130. It was narrated that when 'Abdullâh bin 'Umar had prayed Friday, he went and prayed two

كَانَ، إِذَا صَلَّى الْجُمُعَةَ، انْصَرَفَ، فَصَلَّى سَجْدَتَيْنِ فِي بَيْتِهِ، ثُمَّ قَالَ: كَانَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ يَصْنَعُ ذٰلِكَ.

Rak'ah in his house. Then he said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ used to do that." (Sahih) تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، الجمعة، باب الصلٰوة بعد الجمعة، ح:٨٨٢ من حديث محمد بن رمح وغيره به.

Comments:

The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ used to perform Sunnah and voluntary prayer in his house, although it is also allowed performing the Sunnah prayers in the mosque.

١١٣١ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ الصَّبَّاحِ: أَنْبَأَنَا سُفْيَانُ، عَنْ عَمْرٍو، عَنِ ابْنِ شِهَابٍ، عَنْ سَالِمٍ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ كَانَ يُصَلِّي بَعْدَ الْجُمُعَةِ رَكْعَتَيْنِ.

1131. It was narrated from Sâlim, from his father, that the Prophet ﷺ used to pray two Rak'ah after Jumu'ah. (Sahih) تخريج: أخرجه مسلم (انظر الحديث السابق) من حديث سفيان بن عيينة به.

١١٣٢ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ، وَ أَبُو السَّائِبِ سَلْمُ بْنُ جُنَادَةَ. قَالَا: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللهِ بْنُ إِدْرِيسَ، عَنْ سُهَيْلِ بْنِ أَبِي صَالِحٍ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «إِذَا صَلَّيْتُمْ بَعْدَ الْجُمُعَةِ، فَصَلُّوا أَرْبَعًا».

1132. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'If you pray after Friday , then pray four (Rak'ah).'" (Sahih) تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، الجمعة، ح:٨٨١ عن ابن أبي شيبة وغيره به.

Comments:

We know from this, that we can perform either two Rak'ah or four after the obligatory Friday prayer. Some of the scholars have reconciled this difference by suggesting that four Rak'ah are for one who performs them at the mosque (either performing them as two and two, or all the four as one continuity), and two for one who offers them in his house. (Mir'ât)

Chapter 96. What Was Narrated Concerning Sitting In Circles On Fridays Before The Prayer, And Ihtibâ'[1] When The Imâm Is Delivering The Sermon

(المعجم ٩٦) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي الحِلَقِ يَوْمَ الجُمُعَةِ قَبْلَ الصَّلَاةِ، وَالاحتِبَاءِ وَالإِمَامُ يَخْطُبُ (التحفة ١٣٥)

1133. It was narrated from 'Amr bin Shu'aib, from his father, from his grandfather, that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ forbade sitting in circles in the mosque on Fridays before the prayer. (Hasan)

١١٣٣ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو كُرَيْبٍ: حَدَّثَنَا حَاتِمُ بْنُ إِسْمَاعِيلَ؛ ح: وَحَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ رُمْحٍ: أَنْبَأَنَا ابْنُ لَهِيعَةَ، جَمِيعاً عَنِ ابْنِ عَجْلَانَ، عَنْ عَمْرِو بْنِ شُعَيْبٍ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ جَدِّهِ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ نَهَىٰ أَنْ يُحَلَّقَ فِي الْمَسْجِدِ يَوْمَ الْجُمُعَةِ قَبْلَ الصَّلَاةِ.

تخريج: [حسن] تقدم، ح:٧٤٩ .

Comments:

Arriving at the mosque before the scheduled time for Friday prayer is a meritorious act meriting reward from Allâh, but in the available time one must remain engaged in the remembrance of Allâh and His praise. Sitting in circles here and there, and engaging in idle talks, not only defeats the very purpose of coming to the mosque and violates the decorum of the place, but also becomes a source of annoyance to the worshippers.

1134. It was narrated from 'Amr bin Shu'aib, from his father, that his grandfather said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ forbade Ihtibâ' on Fridays, meaning, when the Imâm is delivering the sermon." (Hasan)

١١٣٤ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ الْمُصَفَّى الْحِمْصِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا بَقِيَّةُ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ وَاقِدٍ، عَنْ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ عَجْلَانَ، عَنْ عَمْرِو بْنِ شُعَيْبٍ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ جَدِّهِ قَالَ: نَهَىٰ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ عَنِ الاحْتِبَاءِ يَوْمَ الْجُمُعَةِ، يَعْنِي وَالإِمَامُ يَخْطُبُ.

Comments:

The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ has disapproved of Ihtibâ' (sitting with one's thighs gathered up against the stomach while wrapping one's arms or garment around them) during sermon. For one thing, it induces sleep and, secondly it defeats the very purpose of attending the sermon.

[1] Ihtibâ' and they say Habwah; to sit with one's thighs gathered up against the stomach, while wrapping one's arms or garment around them, or, sitting in the same manner when the private area becomes exposed.

Chapter 97. What Was Narrated Concerning The Adhân On Fridays

(المعجم ٩٧) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي الأَذَانِ يَوْمَ الْجُمُعَةِ (التحفة ١٣٦)

1135. It was narrated that Sâ'ib bin Yazid said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ had only one Mu'adh-dhin. When he came out he would give the Adhân and when he came down (from the pulpit) he would give the Iqâmah. Abu Bakr and 'Umar did likewise, but when 'Uthmân (became caliph) the numbers of people had increased, he added the third call from atop a house in the marketplace that was called Zawrâ'. When he came out (the Mu'adh-dhin) would call the Adhân, and when he came down from the pulpit, he would call the Iqâmah. (Sahih)

تخريج: [صحيح] أخرجه أبوداود، الصلوة، باب النداء يوم الجمعة، ح:١٠٨٨ من حديث ابن إسحاق به، وعنده زيادة منكرة، وأصل الحديث أخرجه البخاري، ح:٩١٢، ٩١٣، ٩١٥، ٩١٦ وغيره من حديث الزهري به، وأخرج الطبراني في الكبير:٧/ ١٧٤، ح:٦٦٤٦ بإسناد صحيح عن سليمان التيمي عن الزهري به، وفيه: كان النداء على عهد رسول الله ﷺ وأبي بكر وعمر رضي الله عنهما عند المنبر .

Comments:

a. 'Uthmân ﷺ introduced an additional Adhân (the first one) outside the mosque in the marketplace, with a view to attract more and more people. In our times, the Adhân called through the loudspeaker from inside the mosque can serve that purpose. As such, the Adhân from outside the mosque is no longer necessary.

b. The first Adhân is the Sunnah of the Rightly-Guided Caliphs. The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ had commanded to follow his Sunnah as well as the Sunnah of the Rightly Guided Caliphs. (Sunan Ibn Mâjah, H. 42). Thus, both methods – (i) giving a single Adhân in emulation of the Sunnah of the Prophet ﷺ, and (ii) giving two Adhân in emulation of the way of the rightly guided Caliphs – are correct. However, to call a a single Adhân in accordance with the Sunnah of the Prophet ﷺ is better. Moreover, after the widespread use of the loudspeaker and watches there is no longer any justification for the first Adhân. However, in situations where these facilities are not available, resorting to whatever is needed would be permissible.

Chapter 98. What Was Narrated Concerning Facing The Imâm When He Is Delivering The Sermon

(المعجم ٩٨) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي اسْتِقْبَالِ الإِمَامِ وَهُوَ يَخْطُبُ (التحفة ١٣٧)

1136. It was narrated from 'Adi bin Thâbit that his father said: "When the Prophet ﷺ stood on the pulpit, his Companions would turn to face him." (Da'if ١١٣٦ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ يَحْيَى: حَدَّثَنَا الْهَيْثَمُ بْنُ جَمِيلٍ: حَدَّثَنَا ابْنُ الْمُبَارَكِ، عَنْ أَبَانَ بْنِ تَغْلِبَ، عَنْ عَدِيِّ بْنِ ثَابِتٍ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ قَالَ: كَانَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ، إِذَا قَامَ عَلَى الْمِنْبَرِ، اسْتَقْبَلَهُ أَصْحَابُهُ بِوُجُوهِهِمْ.

Chapter 99. What Was Narrated Concerning The Hour That is Hoped For[1] On Friday

(المعجم ٩٩) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي السَّاعَةِ الَّتِي تُرْجَى فِي الْجُمُعَةِ (التحفة ١٣٨)

1137. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'On Friday there is a time when no Muslim man happens to stand in prayer at that time, asking Allâh for good things, but He will give that to him.'' And he gestured with his hand to indicate how short that time is. (Sahih)

تخريج: أخرجه البخاري، الدعوات، باب الدعاء في الساعة التي في يوم الجمعة، ح:٦٤٠٠، ومسلم، الجمعة، باب في الساعة التي في يوم الجمعة، ح:٨٥٢ من حديث أيوب به.

[1] Meaning, it is hoped that the supplication will be answered. (Tuhfatul-Ahwâdhi.)

Comments:

a. According to a Hadith, the hour is between the time when the Imâm sits down on the pulpit and the end of the prayer. (Sahih Muslim: 16)

b. Some other sayings in this connection are to follow in the coming Ahâdîth.

1138. Kathir bin 'Abdullâh bin 'Amr bin 'Awf Al-Muzani narrated from his father, that his grandfather said: "I heard the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ say: 'On Friday there is a time of the day during which no person asks Allâh for something but He will give him what he asks for.'" It was said: 'When is that time?' He said: 'When the Iqâmah for prayer (is called), until the prayer ends.'" (Hasan)

تخريج: [حسن] أخرجه الترمذي، الجمعة، باب ماجاء في الساعة التي ترجى في يوم الجمعة، ح: ٤٩٠ من حديث كثير به، وقال: حسن غريب، وله شواهد عند مسلم، ح: ٨٥٣ وغيره.

1139. It was narrated that 'Abdullâh bin Salâm said: "I said, when the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ was sitting: 'We find in the Book of Allâh that on Friday there is an hour when no believing slave performs prayer and asks Allâh for anything at that time, but Allâh will fulfill his need.'" 'Abdullâh said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ pointed to me, saying: 'Or some part of an hour.' I said: 'You are right, or some part of an hour.' I said: 'What time is that?' He said: 'It is the last hours of the day.' I said: 'It is not the time of the prayer?' He said: 'Yes (it is so), when a believing slave performs prayer and then sits with nothing but the prayer keeping him, he is still in a state of prayer.'" (Hasan) ١١٣٩ - حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الرَّحْمٰنِ بْنُ إِبْرَاهِيمَ الدِّمَشْقِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا ابْنُ أَبِي فُدَيْكٍ، عَنِ الضَّحَّاكِ بْنِ عُثْمَانَ عَنْ أَبِي النَّضْرِ، عَنْ أَبِي سَلَمَةَ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ سَلاَمٍ قَالَ: قُلْتُ، وَرَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ جَالِسٌ: إِنَّا لَنَجِدُ فِي كِتَابِ اللهِ: فِي يَوْمِ الْجُمُعَةِ سَاعَةً لاَ يُوَافِقُهَا عَبْدٌ مُؤْمِنٌ يُصَلِّي يَسْأَلُ اللهَ فِيهَا شَيْئاً إِلَّا قَضَى لَهُ حَاجَتَهُ.

قَالَ عَبْدُ اللهِ: فَأَشَارَ إِلَيَّ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: أَوْ بَعْضُ سَاعَةٍ. فَقُلْتُ: صَدَقْتَ، أَوْ بَعْضُ سَاعَةٍ. قُلْتُ: أَيُّ سَاعَةٍ هِيَ؟ قَالَ: «هِيَ آخِرُ سَاعَاتِ النَّهَارِ». قُلْتُ: إِنَّهَا لَيْسَتْ سَاعَةَ صَلاَةٍ قَالَ: «بَلَى. إِنَّ الْعَبْدَ الْمُؤْمِنَ إِذَا صَلَّى

ثُمَّ جَلَسَ، لاَ يَحْبِسُهُ إِلَّا الصَّلاَةُ، فَهُوَ فِي الصَّلاَةِ».

تخريج: [إسناده حسن] أخرجه أحمد: ٥/٤٥١ من حديث الضحاك به، وقال البوصيري: هذا إسناد صحيح، رجاله ثقات، على شرط الصحيح.

Comments:

a. We learn from the Hadith, that the last hours of the day is also the time when Allâh answers the prayers of His servants.

b. The word 'hour' means indeterminate period of time. The words 'or some part of the hour' indicate that the duration would be very short.

c. Sitting in mosque with no worldly concerns after the prayer is a meritorious act, provided that idle talks are avoided, and the time is spent in deeds like the remembrance of Allâh and the recitation of the Qur'ân.

Chapter 100. What Was Narrated Concerning Twelve Rak'ah From The Sunnah

(المعجم ١٠٠) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي ثِنْتَيْ عَشْرَةَ رَكْعَةً مِنَ السُّنَّةِ (التحفة ١٣٩)

1140. It was narrated that 'Âishah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Whoever persists in performing twelve Rak'ah from the Sunnah, a house will be built for him in Paradise: four before the Zuhr, two Rak'ah after Zuhr, two Rak'ah after Maghrib, two Rak'ah after the 'Ishâ' and two Rak'ah before Farj.'" (Hasan)

Comments:

a. The most important of all the prayers are the obligatory prayers. Alongside the obligatory prayers, the prayers emphatically enjoined by the Prophet ﷺ known as Sunan Mu'akkadah (compulsory) have their own importance. They must not, therefore, be neglected.

b. It is also allowed to offer two Rak'ah (instead of four) before prayer for the Zuhr (Sahih Al-Bukhâri: H. 1172 & Sahih Muslim: 104).

c. As we shall see under Hadith. 1160, it is also in order to perform four Rak'ah (Sunnah) after the obligatory prayer for the Zuhr.

1141. It was narrated from Umm Habibah bint Abi Sufyân that the Prophet ﷺ said: "Whoever performs twelve Rak'ah (of Sunnah) during the day and night, a house will be built for him in Paradise." (Hasan) ١١٤١ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا يَزِيدُ بْنُ هَارُونَ: أَنْبَأَنَا إِسْمَاعِيلُ بْنُ أَبِي خَالِدٍ، عَنِ الْمُسَيَّبِ بْنِ رَافِعٍ، عَنْ عَنْبَسَةَ بْنِ أَبِي سُفْيَانَ، عَنْ أُمِّ حَبِيبَةَ بِنْتِ أَبِي سُفْيَانَ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ ﷺ قَالَ: «مَنْ صَلَّى فِي يَوْمٍ وَلَيْلَةٍ ثِنْتَيْ عَشْرَةَ رَكْعَةً، بُنِيَ لَهُ بَيْتٌ فِي الْجَنَّةِ».

Comments:

a. Twelve Rak'ah referred to here means the same emphatically enjoined Rak'ah discussed in the previous Hadith.

b. The house being built in Paradise is the reward for those prayers. Even if a believing slave gets admittance to Paradise by virtue of other deeds, he shall still get a house as a reward for persistence in this act of worship.

1142. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Whoever performs twelve Rak'ah (of Sunnah) each day, a house will be built for him in Paradise: two Rak'ah before Fajr, two Rak'ah before the Zuhr, two Rak'ah after Zuhr, two Rak'ah, I think he said, before 'Asr, two Rak'ah after Maghrib, and I think he said two Rak'ah after the 'Ishâ'.'" Comments:

With regard to this Hadith, Shaikh Albâni ﷺ puts the record straight and says that in fact 'Abdullâh bin 'Umar narrates it from the Mother of the Believers, Hafsah ﷺ who reports it from the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ. However, this fact does not affect the authenticity of the Hadith as such.

1144. It was narrated that Ibn 'Umar said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ used to pray two Rak'ah before the morning (prayer), as if the Adhân were in his ears. (i.e., he would pray them briefly). (Sahih)

١١٤٤ - حَدَّثَنَا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ عَبْدَةَ: أَنْبَأَنَا حَمَّادُ ابْنُ زَيْدٍ، عَنْ أَنَسِ بْنِ سِيرِينَ، عَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ: كَانَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ يُصَلِّي الرَّكْعَتَيْنِ قَبْلَ الْغَدَاةِ، كَأَنَّ الأَذَانَ بِأُذُنَيْهِ.

Comments:

a. Performing the two Rak'ah briefly should not be interpreted as not performing the bowing and prostration etc., with ease. It only means reducing the number of phrases and words extolling the glory of Allâh, and the length of the recited Verses of the Qur'ân.

b. The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ was wont to recite the Qur'ânic chapters Al-Kâfirun and Al-Ikhlâs, which are among the shortest Surah, in his prayer of Sunnah before Fajr (Sahih Muslim: 98 and Sunan Ibn Mâjah: 1148-1150). Occasionally, he ﷺ even made a bit longer recitation from these. (Sahih Muslim: ibid).

1145. It was narrated from Hafsah bint 'Umar that when the call for the Subh prayer was given, the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ would pray two short Rak'ah before going to the prayer. (Sahih) ١١٤٥ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ رُمْحٍ: أَنْبَأَنَا اللَّيْثُ ابْنُ سَعْدٍ، عَنْ نَافِعٍ، عَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ، عَنْ حَفْصَةَ بِنْتِ عُمَرَ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ كَانَ إِذَا نُودِيَ لِصَلاَةِ الصُّبْحِ، رَكَعَ رَكْعَتَيْنِ خَفِيفَتَيْنِ، قَبْلَ أَنْ يَقُومَ إِلَى الصَّلاَةِ.

1146. It was narrated that 'Âishah said: "When he performed ablution the Prophet ﷺ would pray two (short) Rak'ah and then go out for the prayer." (Da'if)

Chapter 102. What Was Narrated Concerning What Is To Be Recited In The Two Rak'ah Before Fajr

(المعجم ١٠٢) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِيمَا يُقْرَأُ فِي الرَّكْعَتَيْنِ قَبْلَ الْفَجْرِ (التحفة ١٤١)

1148. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that in the two Rak'ah before the Fajr, the Prophet ﷺ used to recite: "Say: 'O you disbelievers!"[1] and: "Say: Allâh is One."[2] (Sahih)

Comments:

Reciting a little louder for all or part of a chapter of the Qur'ân, i.e., within the hearing of the man standing next to you, even in a prayer known as the 'prayer of inaudible recitation' is perfectly in order.

1150. It was narrated that 'Âishah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ used to perform two Rak'ah before Fajr, and he used to say: 'The best two Surah to recite in the two Rak'ah of Fajr are: "Say: Allâh is one"[3] and "Say: O you disbelievers."[4] (Da'if)

Comments:

a. Once the Iqâmah has been called, we have to join the prayer, since it is not allowed to perform any Sunnah or Nafl (voluntary) prayer after the Iqâmah for the obligatory prayer.

b. Even if a person is already in the middle of a Sunnah prayer, he has to leave it and join the congregation.

1152. It was narrated from 'Abdullâh bin Sarjis that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ saw a man performing the two Rak'ah before the morning prayer while he himself was performing prayer. When he had finished praying he said to him: "Which of your two prayers did you intend to be counted (i.e. accepted)?" (Sahih) تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، صلوة المسافرين، الباب السابق، ح:٧١٢ من حديث أبي معاوية وغيره به.

Comments:

The Hadith clearly indicates that, if the prayer in congregation for Fajr has been started, then no one is allowed to perform the Sunnah prayer. He is required instead to join the prayer in congregation.

1153. It was narrated that 'Abdullâh bin Mâlik bin Buhainah said: "The Prophet ﷺ passed by a man who was praying when the Iqâmah for Subh prayer had been called, and he said something to him, I do not know what he said. When he finished, we surrounded the man and asked him: 'What did the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ say to you?' He said: 'He said to me: "Soon one of you will pray Fajr with four Rak'ah.'" (Sahih)

Comments:

This was the Prophet's way of politely making him desist from what he was doing. What the Prophet (ﷺ) meant was this: "There is only the obligatory prayer after the Iqâmah. Through your action you seem to have added two Rak'ah of Sunnah as well to the two obligatory Rak'ah of Fajr, thus making them four."

Comments:

a. The person referred to in the Hadith was the Companion Qais ﷺ himself. In this narration of the Hadith he is narrating the incident without mentioning his own name. In another narration of the Hadith contained in At-Tirmidhi he says that he himself was the person concerned.

b. The Prophet's remaining silent on the Companion's explanation amounts to his approval. For, as we know, the Prophet's abstaining from disapproving anything said or done before him means his approval, which is technically known as Sunnat At-Taqrir.

1155. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Prophet ﷺ slept and missed the two Rak'ah before Fajr, so he made them up after the sun had risen. (Sahih)

Comments:

This shows that, if for some reason, a person is not able to perform the two Rak'ah before Fajr, he can offer them after the rising of the sun. These Rak'ah shall, however, be regarded as Qadâ' (a prayer offered after due time). It is, therefore, desirable to offer them before sunrise, since they being the part of Fajr, if performed within the prescribed time, shall not be classed as Qadâ'.

١١٥٦ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا

جَرِيرٌ، عَنْ قَابُوسَ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ قَالَ: أَرْسَلَ أَبِي إِلَى عَائِشَةَ: أَيُّ صَلاَةِ رَسُولِ اللهِ ﷺ كَانَ أَحَبَّ إِلَيْهِ أَنْ يُوَاظِبَ عَلَيْهَا؟ قَالَتْ: كَانَ يُصَلِّي أَرْبَعاً قَبْلَ الظُّهْرِ. يُطِيلُ فِيهِنَّ الْقِيَامَ، وَيُحْسِنُ فِيهِنَّ الرُّكُوعَ وَالسُّجُودَ.

Qâbus that his father said: "My father sent word to 'Âishah, asking which prayer the Prophet ﷺ most liked to perform regularly. She said: 'He used to perform four Rak'ah before the Zuhr, in which he would stand for a long time and bow and prostrate perfectly.'" (Da'if)

1157. It was narrated from Abu Ayyub that the Prophet ﷺ used to perform four Rak'ah before the Zuhr when the sun had passed its zenith, and he did not separate them with a Taslim. He said, "The gates of heaven are opened when the sun passes its zenith." (Da'if)

Chapter 107. One Who Misses The Two Rak'ah After The Zuhr

١١٥٩ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللهِ بْنُ إِدْرِيسَ، عَنْ يَزِيدَ بْنِ أَبِي زِيَادٍ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ الْحَارِثِ قَالَ: أَرْسَلَ مُعَاوِيَةُ إِلَى أُمِّ سَلَمَةَ، فَانْطَلَقْتُ مَعَ الرَّسُولِ فَسَأَلَ أُمَّ سَلَمَةَ. فَقَالَتْ: إِنَّ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ بَيْنَمَا هُوَ يَتَوَضَّأُ فِي بَيْتِي لِلظُّهْرِ، وَكَانَ قَدْ بَعَثَ سَاعِياً. وَكَثُرَ عِنْدَهُ الْمُهَاجِرُونَ. وَقَدْ أَهَمَّهُ شَأْنُهُمْ، إِذْ ضُرِبَ الْبَابُ، فَخَرَجَ إِلَيْهِ فَصَلَّى الظُّهْرَ، ثُمَّ جَلَسَ يَقْسِمُ مَا جَاءَ بِهِ. قَالَتْ: فَلَمْ يَزَلْ كَذٰلِكَ حَتَّى الْعَصْرِ. ثُمَّ دَخَلَ مَنْزِلِي فَصَلَّى رَكْعَتَيْنِ ثُمَّ قَالَ: «شَغَلَنِي أَمْرُ السَّاعِي أَنْ أُصَلِّيَهُمَا بَعْدَ الظُّهْرِ. فَصَلَّيْتُهُمَا بَعْدَ الْعَصْرِ».

1159. It was narrated that 'Abdullâh bin Hârith said: "Mu'âwiyah sent word to Umm Salamah, and I went with his envoy who put the question to Umm Salamah. She said: 'While the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ was performing ablution for the Zuhr in my house and he had sent a Sâ'i,[1] the Muhâjirin gathered around him in large numbers, and he was busy dealing with them. When a knock on the door came, he went out and performed the Zuhr, then he sat and distributed what had been brought to him.' She said: 'He continued doing that until the 'Asr. Then he came into my house and performed two Rak'ah. Then he said: "The matter of the Sâ'i kept me from praying them after Zuhr, so I prayed them after 'Asr." (Da'if)

Chapter 108. What Was Narrated Concerning One Who Performs Four Rak'ah Before The Zuhr And Four Rak'ah Afterwards

(المعجم ١٠٨) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِيمَنْ صَلَّى قَبْلَ الظُّهْرِ أَرْبَعًا وَبَعْدَهَا أَرْبَعًا

(التحفة ١٤٧)

1160. It was narrated from Umm Habibah that the Prophet ﷺ said: "Whoever prays four Rak'ah before the Zuhr and four afterwards, Allâh will forbid him to the Fire." (Sahih)

١١٦٠ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا يَزِيدُ بْنُ هَارُونَ: حَدَّثَنَا [مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عَبْدِ اللهِ] الشُّعَيْثِيُّ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ عَنْبَسَةَ بْنِ أَبِي سُفْيَانَ، عَنْ أُمِّ حَبِيبَةَ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ ﷺ قَالَ: «مَنْ صَلَّى قَبْلَ الظُّهْرِ أَرْبَعاً، وَبَعْدَهَا أَرْبَعاً، حَرَّمَهُ اللهُ عَلَى النَّارِ».

تخريج: [صحيح] أخرجه الترمذي، الصلوة، باب [منه] آخر، ح:٤٢٧ من حديث يزيد بن هارون به، وقال: حسن غريب وقد روى من غير هذا الوجه.

Comments:

a. It has already been mentioned that it is also in order to offer two Rak'ah before the Zuhr (see comment b. on H. 1140). Two Rak'ah can also be offered after Zuhr (H. 1140). It is nevertheless better to offer four Rak'ah each before and after Zuhr.

b. We should always hope for mercy from Allâh for anything good we do for His sake, but it would be neither permissible nor proper to be forgetful of Allâh's wrath and punishment, for nobody knows for certain which one of his deeds would be acceptable or unacceptable near Allâh. Similarly, no one but Allâh knows how much more or less the reward of any action that we do shall be.

Chapter 109. What Was Narrated About What Is Recommended Of Voluntary (Prayer) During The Daytime

(المعجم ١٠٩) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِيمَا يُسْتَحَبُّ مِنَ التَّطَوُّعِ بِالنَّهَارِ

(التحفة ١٤٨)

1161. It was narrated that 'Âsim bin Damrah As-Saluli said: "We asked 'Ali about the voluntary (prayer) of Allâh's Messenger ﷺ during the day. He said: 'You will not be able.' We said: 'Inform us of it, we will do what we can of it?' So he said: 'When he prayed ١١٦١ - حَدَّثَنَا عَلِيُّ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا وَكِيعٌ: حَدَّثَنَا سُفْيَانُ، وَ أَبِي، وَ إِسْرَائِيلُ، عَنْ أَبِي إِسْحَاقَ، عَنْ عَاصِمِ بْنِ ضَمْرَةَ السَّلُولِيِّ، قَالَ: سَأَلْنَا عَلِيًّا عَنْ تَطَوُّعِ رَسُولِ اللهِ ﷺ بِالنَّهَارِ فَقَالَ: إِنَّكُمْ لاَ تُطِيقُونَهُ. فَقُلْنَا: أَخْبِرْنَا بِهِ نَأْخُذْ مِنْهُ مَا اسْتَطَعْنَا. قَالَ:

the Fajr he would delay praying any more. When the sun appeared over there (west) — like it appears here, meaning in the direction of the east, about the amount for the 'Asr prayer from there, meaning in the direction of the west, meaning before the Maghrib — he would stand and perform two Rak'ah[1] then he would delay praying until the sun appeared over there (west), meaning in the direction of the east, about the amount of the Zuhr prayer from there, then he would stand and perform four. And, four before the Zuhr when the sun passed the zenith, and two Rak'ah after it, and, four before the 'Asr, separating between every two Rak'ah with Taslim[2] upon the angels that are close (to Allâh), the Prophets, and those who follow them among the Muslims and the believers.'"

'Ali said: "That is sixteen Rak'ah of voluntary prayer which Allâh's Messenger ﷺ performed during the day. And there are very few who offer them regularly." (Hasan)

Waki' said: "My father added: Habib bin Abu Thâbit said: 'O Abu Ishâq, this mosque filled with gold would not be dearer to me than this Hadith of yours.'"

كَانَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ إِذَا صَلَّى الْفَجْرَ يُمْهِلُ. حَتَّى إِذَا كَانَتِ الشَّمْسُ مِنْ هٰهُنَا، يَعْنِي مِنْ قِبَلِ الْمَشْرِقِ بِمِقْدَارِهَا مِنْ صَلاَةِ الْعَصْرِ مِنْ هٰهُنَا، يَعْنِي مِنْ قِبَلِ الْمَغْرِبِ، قَامَ فَصَلَّى رَكْعَتَيْنِ. ثُمَّ يُمْهِلُ حَتَّى إِذَا كَانَتِ الشَّمْسُ مِنْ هٰهُنَا، يَعْنِي مِنْ قِبَلِ الْمَشْرِقِ مِقْدَارَهَا مِنْ صَلاَةِ الظُّهْرِ مِنْ هٰهُنَا قَامَ فَصَلَّى أَرْبَعاً. وَأَرْبَعاً قَبْلَ الظُّهْرِ إِذَا زَالَتِ الشَّمْسُ. وَرَكْعَتَيْنِ بَعْدَهَا. وَأَرْبَعاً قَبْلَ الْعَصْرِ. يَفْصِلُ بَيْنَ كُلِّ رَكْعَتَيْنِ بِالتَّسْلِيمِ عَلَى الْمَلاَئِكَةِ الْمُقَرَّبِينَ وَالنَّبِيِّينَ. وَمَنْ تَبِعَهُمْ مِنَ الْمُسْلِمِينَ وَالْمُؤْمِنِينَ.

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: فَتِلْكَ سِتَّ عَشْرَةَ رَكْعَةً. تَطَوُّعُ رَسُولِ اللهِ ﷺ بِالنَّهَارِ. وَقَلَّ مَنْ يُدَاوِمُ عَلَيْهَا.

قَالَ وَكِيعٌ: زَادَ فِيهِ أَبِي: فَقَالَ حَبِيبُ بْنُ أَبِي ثَابِتٍ: يَا أَبَا إِسْحَاقَ مَا أُحِبُّ أَنَّ لِي بِحَدِيثِكَ هٰذَا مِلْءَ مَسْجِدِكَ هٰذَا ذَهَباً.

تخريج: [حسن] أخرجه الترمذي، الجمعة، باب كيف كان يتطوع النبي ﷺ بالنهار، ح:٥٩٨، ٥٩٩ من حديث شعبة عن أبي إسحاق به، وقال: هذا حديث حسن.

[1] Meaning, when the sun was low above the eastern horizon. That is the time of the Duha.

[2] Meaning the Tashah-hud as indicated in Injâh Al-Hâjah and explanation by Sindi. See no. 429 according to Tirmidhi and his discussion after it.

Comments:

a. The time of Ishrâq (literally, sunrise) begins with the rising of the sun marginally. The inference that we get from the Hadith is that the time for this prayer lasts until the shadow of everything becomes equal to it in size, i.e., until one fourth of the day has passed.
b. The time for the Duhâ prayer begins a little after the beginning of Ishrâq, i.e., after the sun gains considerable height, and lasts until before noon. Performing prayer at the exact noontime (i.e., when the sun attains to its zenith) is forbidden.
c. We also find mention of Awwâbîn prayer in the Ahâdith, whose time is stated to be when the hooves of the young ones of camels begin to be scorched with the extremity of heat. Obviously, it is a little before the decline of the sun from its zenith. Some of the scholars have defined even Duhâ in like terms. And Allâh knows best.

Chapter 110. What Was Narrated Concerning The Two Rak'ah Before The Maghrib

(المعجم ١١٠) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي الرَّكْعَتَيْنِ قَبْلَ الْمَغْرِبِ (التحفة ١٤٩)

1162. It was narrated that 'Abdullâh bin Mughaffal said: "The Prophet of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Between every two Adhâns there is a prayer.' He said it three times, and on the third time he said, 'For those who wish.'"[1] (Sahih)

١١٦٢ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو أُسَامَةَ وَ وَكِيعٌ، عَنْ كَهْمَسٍ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللهِ بْنُ بُرَيْدَةَ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ مُغَفَّلٍ قَالَ: قَالَ نَبِيُّ اللهِ ﷺ: «بَيْنَ كُلِّ أَذَانَيْنِ صَلَاةٌ» قَالَهَا ثَلَاثاً. قَالَ فِي الثَّالِثَةِ: «لِمَنْ شَاءَ».

تخريج: أخرجه البخاري، الأذان، باب: بين كل أذانين صلٰوة لمن شاء، ح:٦٢٧ من حديث كهمس به، ومسلم، صلٰوة المسافرين، باب بين كل أذانين صلٰوة، ح:٨٣٨ من حديث أبي أسامه ووكيع به.

Comments:

What clearly transpires from the Hadith is the fact that there is a prayer to be performed after each Adhân, be it for Zuhr, 'Asr, 'Ishâ' or Fajr. Similarly, there are Rak'ah between the Adhân and the obligatory prayer for Maghrib as well. And as already explained, the number of Rak'ah in this prayer is two. However, in light of the Prophet's own blessed words, these Rak'ah are not emphatically enjoined ones, since the Prophet ﷺ has made them optional by saying: 'For those who wish'.

1163. 'Ali bin Zaid bin Jud'ân said:

١١٦٣ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ بَشَّارٍ: حَدَّثَنَا

[1] Meaning Adhân and Iqâmah, see the explanation of Sindi.

مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ جَعْفَرٍ: حَدَّثَنَا شُعْبَةُ قَالَ: سَمِعْتُ عَلِيَّ بْنَ زَيْدِ بْنِ جُدْعَانَ قَالَ: سَمِعْتُ أَنَسَ ابْنَ مَالِكٍ يَقُولُ: إِنْ كَانَ الْمُؤَذِّنُ لَيُؤَذِّنُ عَلَى عَهْدِ رَسُولِ اللهِ ﷺ فَيُرَى أَنَّهَا الْإِقَامَةُ، مِنْ كَثْرَةِ مَنْ يَقُومُ فَيُصَلِّي الرَّكْعَتَيْنِ قَبْلَ الْمَغْرِبِ.

"I heard Anas bin Mâlik say: 'The Mu'adh-dhin would call the Adhân during the time of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ, and one would think that it was the Iqâmah because there were so many people who stood and performed the two Rak'ah before the Maghrib.'' (Sahih) تخريج: [صحيح] أخرجه أحمد: ٣/ ٢٨٢ عن محمد بن جعفر به * وعلي بن زيد تقدم، ح: ١١٦، ولحديثه شواهد صحيحة عند البخاري، ح: ٦٢٥ وغيره نحوه.

Comments:

a. It was the regular practice of the Companions to offer two Rak'ah before the Iqamâh for the Maghrib.

b. After the Iqamâh, all the Companions used to stand up, as they should have, to perform the prayer in congregation. Not only this, even for offering the two Rak'ah before the Maghrib, the Companions, all of them, stood in like manner.

(المعجم ١١١) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي الرَّكْعَتَيْنِ بَعْدَ الْمَغْرِبِ (التحفة ١٥٠)

١١٦٤ - حَدَّثَنَا يَعْقُوبُ بْنُ إِبْرَاهِيمَ الدَّوْرَقِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا هُشَيْمٌ، عَنْ خَالِدٍ الْحَذَّاءِ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ شَقِيقٍ، عَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ: كَانَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ يُصَلِّي الْمَغْرِبَ، ثُمَّ يَرْجِعُ إِلَى بَيْتِي فَيُصَلِّي رَكْعَتَيْنِ.

Comments:

a. The two Rak'ah after Maghrib are the emphatically enjoined ones, whose superiority and excellence we have seen emphasized in H. 1140.

b. It is preferable to offer all Sunnah and voluntary prayer in one's house, with the exception of Tahiyyatul-Masjid, which is meant to be performed only in the mosque.

١١٦٥ - حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الْوَهَّابِ بْنُ الضَّحَّاكِ:

1166. It was narrated from 'Abdullâh bin Mas'ud that for the two Rak'ah after Maghrib, the Prophet ﷺ used to recite: "Say: O you disbelievers!"[1] and "Say: He is Allâh the One."[2] (Da'if)

(التحفة ١٥٢)

1167. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Prophet ﷺ said: "Whoever prays six Rak'ah after the Maghrib and does not say anything bad in between them, will have a reward equal to the worship of twelve years." (Da'if)

١١٦٧ - حَدَّثَنَا عَلِيُّ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو الْحُسَيْنِ الْعُكْلِيُّ: أَخْبَرَنِي عُمَرُ بْنُ أَبِي خَثْعَمٍ [الْيَمَامِيُّ]: أَنْبَأَنَا يَحْيَى بْنُ أَبِي كَثِيرٍ، عَنْ أَبِي سَلَمَةَ بْنِ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمٰنِ بْنِ عَوْفٍ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ قَالَ: «مَنْ صَلَّى بَعْدَ الْمَغْرِبِ سِتَّ رَكَعَاتٍ لَمْ يَتَكَلَّمْ بَيْنَهُنَّ بِسُوءٍ، عُدِلْنَ لَهُ بِعِبَادَةِ ثِنْتَيْ عَشْرَةَ سَنَةً».

Chapter 114. What Was Narrated Concerning Witr

(المعجم ١١٤) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي الْوِتْرِ

(التحفة ١٥٣)

1168. It was narrated that Khârijah bin Hudhâfah Al-'Adawi said: "The Prophet ﷺ came out to us and said: 'Allâh has increased a prayer for you which is better for you than red camels. (It is) Witr, which Allâh has enjoined on you between the 'Ishâ' prayer and the onset of dawn.'" (Da'if)

١١٦٨ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ رُمْحٍ الْمِصْرِيُّ: أَنْبَأَنَا اللَّيْثُ بْنُ سَعْدٍ، عَنْ يَزِيدَ بْنِ أَبِي حَبِيبٍ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ رَاشِدٍ الزَّوْفِيِّ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ [أَبِي مُرَّةَ] الزَّوْفِيِّ، عَنْ خَارِجَةَ ابْنِ حُذَافَةَ الْعَدَوِيِّ قَالَ: خَرَجَ عَلَيْنَا النَّبِيُّ ﷺ فَقَالَ: «إِنَّ اللهَ قَدْ أَمَدَّكُمْ بِصَلَاةٍ، لَهِيَ خَيْرٌ لَكُمْ مِنْ حُمُرِ النَّعَمِ. الْوِتْرُ، جَعَلَهُ اللهُ لَكُمْ فِيمَا بَيْنَ صَلَاةِ الْعِشَاءِ إِلَى أَنْ يَطْلُعَ الْفَجْرُ».

Comments:

a. Witr prayer is a special bounty from Allâh.

b. Red camels were a highly prized commodity among the Arabs. The idea is that this form of prayer is better than even the most valuable commodity of the world.

1169. 'Ali bin Abu Tâlib said: "Witr is not definite (obligatory) nor is it like your prescribed prayers. But the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ prayed Witr, then he said: 'O people of the Qur'ân! Perform Witr, for Allâh is Witr[1] and He loves the odd (numbered).'" (Da'if)

تخريج: [إسناده ضعيف] أخرجه أبو داود، أبواب الوتر، باب استحباب الوتر، ح:١٤١٦ من حديث أبي إسحاق به، وحسنه الترمذي، وانظر، ح:٤٦، ولم أجد تصريح سماع أبي إسحاق، وله شواهد كلها ضعيفة، وأخرج أحمد:١/١٠٧ بإسناد صحيح عن أبي إسحاق سمعت عاصم بن ضمرة يحدث عن علي رضي الله عنه قال: ليس الوتر بحتم كالصلوة ولكن سنة فلا تدعوه، قال شعبة: ووجدته مكتوبًا عندي، وقد أوتر رسول الله ﷺ ، وإسناده حسن.

Comments:

The term Witr could either mean the entire of Tahajjud prayer or the last few Rak'ah performed at the end, to finish Tahajjud. We find both of these uses in Ahâdith. If this particular Hadith is referring to Tahajjud, then it is a voluntary prayer, although it has great excellence in it. In case it refers to the concluding Rak'ah of Tahajjud, normally called Witr, then it is Sunnah Mu'akkadah (stressed Sunnah).

1170. It was narrated from 'Abdullâh bin Mas'ud that the Prophet ﷺ said: "Allâh is Witr and He loves the odd (numbered), so perform Witr, O people of the Qur'ân." A Bedouin said: 'What is the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ saying?' He said: 'That is not for you or your companions.'" (Da'if)

١١٧٠ - حَدَّثَنَا عُثْمَانُ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو حَفْصٍ الأَبَّارُ، عَنِ الأَعْمَشِ، عَنْ عَمْرِو ابْنِ مُرَّةَ، عَنْ أَبِي عُبَيْدَةَ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ مَسْعُودٍ، عَنِ النَّبِيِّ ﷺ قَالَ: «إِنَّ اللهَ وِتْرٌ يُحِبُّ الْوِتْرَ. فَأَوْتِرُوا يَا أَهْلَ الْقُرْآنِ». فَقَالَ أَعْرَابِيٌّ: مَا يَقُولُ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ؟ قَالَ:

[1] Meaning 'one' which is the first of the odd numbers; He is unique, and there is nothing like Him, similar or equal.

«لَيْسَ لَكَ وَلاَ لِأَصْحَابِكَ».

تخريج: [إسناده ضعيف] أخرجه أبو داود، أبواب الوتر، باب استحباب الوتر، ح:١٤١٧ عن عثمان به، وانظر، ح:١٧٨ لعلته.

Comments:

If the vocative phrase 'O people of the Qur'ân' means the memorizers of the Qur'ân, then Witr means Tahajjud. The Bedouins were not memorizers of the Qur'ân in those days. Hence the remark made by the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ 'That is not for you or for your companions'.

تخريج: [صحيح] تقدم، ح: ١١٤٤.

Comments:

a. Tahajjud is performed in units of two Rak'ah each.
b. Praying one Rak'ah after Tahajjud is enough, although it is also in order to offer three or five Rak'ah with one Taslim.
c. Praying a single Rak'ah for Witr with no voluntary Rak'ah before it is not desirable, since the Prophet ﷺ and the Companions had only been offering Witr after performing the voluntary prayer of Tahajjud.

1175. Abu Mijlaz narrated that Ibn 'Umar said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Night prayers are to be offered two by two, and Witr is one Rak'ah.' I said: 'What do you think if I become drowsy and I want to sleep?' He said: 'Put "what do you think" up there with that star? (i.e., don't think about it at all).' I raised my head and saw As-Simâk.[1] He repeated that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said, 'Night prayers are to be offered two by two, and Witr is one Rak'ah, before dawn.'" (Sahih) ١١٧٥ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عَبْدِ الْمَلِكِ بْنِ أَبِي الشَّوَارِبِ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الْوَاحِدِ بْنُ زِيَادٍ: حَدَّثَنَا عَاصِمٌ، عَنْ أَبِي مِجْلَزٍ، عَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «صَلَاةُ اللَّيْلِ مَثْنَى مَثْنَى. وَالْوِتْرُ رَكْعَةٌ». قُلْتُ: أَرَأَيْتَ إِنْ غَلَبَتْنِي عَيْنِي، أَرَأَيْتَ إِنْ نِمْتُ قَالَ: اجْعَلْ أَرَأَيْتَ عِنْدَ ذٰلِكَ النَّجْمِ. فَرَفَعْتُ رَأْسِي، فَإِذَا السِّمَاكُ. ثُمَّ أَعَادَ فَقَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «صَلَاةُ اللَّيْلِ مَثْنَى مَثْنَى. وَالْوِتْرُ رَكْعَةٌ قَبْلَ الصُّبْحِ».

تخريج: أخرج مسلم، صلٰوة المسافرين، باب صلٰوة الليل مثنٰى مثنٰى، والوتر ركعة من آخر الليل، ح: ٧٥٢ من حديث أبي مجلز به مختصرًا.

Comments:

a. The Companions followed the words of the Hadith to the letter, and used to get angry at anybody's whys and wherefores with regard to them.
b. If anyone fears that he will not wake up before dawn, let him offer Tahajjud and Witr immediately after the 'Isha'. (See H. 1187).

[1] Here, As-Simâk refers to a star or stars, either Arcturus (As-Simâk Ar-Râmih) or Spica, also called Alpha Virginis (As-Simâk Al-A'zal).

1176. A man asked Ibn 'Umar: "How should I perform Witr?" He said: "Pray Witr with one Rak'ah." He said: "I am afraid that the people will say that I am cutting the prayer short." He said: "The Sunnah of Allâh and His Messenger." meaning "This is the Sunnah of Allâh and His Messenger." (Da'if)

١١٧٧ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا شَبَابَةُ، عَنِ ابْنِ أَبِي ذِئْبٍ، عَنِ الزُّهْرِيِّ، عَنْ عُرْوَةَ، عَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ: كَانَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ يُسَلِّمُ فِي كُلِّ ثِنْتَيْنِ، وَيُوتِرُ بِوَاحِدَةٍ.

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، صلوة المسافرين، باب صلوة الليل وعدد ركعات النبي ﷺ في الليل ... الخ، ح:٧٣٦ب من حديث الزهري به مطولاً، وقال البوصيري: هذا إسناد صحيح، رجاله ثقات .

Comments:

This Hadith and others like it, serve to indicate that the Prophet ﷺ used to pray even the Witr of three Rak'ah with two Taslim, which is to say that he used to say the first Taslim on completion of two Rak'ah, then moved to offer the last one Rak'ah. In view of this it would be desirable to pray three Rak'ah of Witr with two Taslim, although it is also allowed to offer them with one Tashah-hud and one Taslim.

Chapter 117. What Was Narrated Concerning The Qunut In Witr

(المعجم ١١٧) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي الْقُنُوتِ فِي الوِتْرِ (التحفة ١٥٦)

1178. It was narrated that Al-Hasan bin 'Ali said: "My grandfather, the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ, taught me some words to say in Qunut of Witr: Allâhumma 'âfini fiman 'âfait, wa tawallani fiman tawallait, wahdini

Comments:

The Hadith is silent about whether the place of Qunut is before or after Ruku' in Witr. A Hadith in Mustadrak Al-Hâkim (3/172) places it before Ruku'. However, the Hadith is 'Weak'. More authentic Ahâdith than this place the Qunut before Ruku' which is, therefore, preferable.

١١٧٩ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو عُمَرَ، حَفْصُ بْنُ [عَمْرٍو]: حَدَّثَنَا بَهْزُ بْنُ أَسَدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا حَمَّادُ بْنُ سَلَمَةَ: حَدَّثَنِي هِشَامُ بْنُ عَمْرٍو الْفَزَارِيُّ، عَنْ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمٰنِ بْنِ الْحَارِثِ بْنِ هِشَامٍ الْمَخْزُومِيِّ، عَنْ عَلِيِّ بْنِ أَبِي طَالِبٍ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ كَانَ يَقُولُ، فِي آخِرِ الْوِتْرِ: «اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَعُوذُ بِكَ بِرِضَاكَ مِنْ سَخَطِكَ. وَأَعُوذُ بِمُعَافَاتِكَ مِنْ عُقُوبَتِكَ. وَأَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنْكَ. لاَ أُحْصِي ثَنَاءً عَلَيْكَ. أَنْتَ كَمَا أَثْنَيْتَ عَلَى نَفْسِكَ».

1179. It was narrated from 'Ali bin Abi Tâlib that the Prophet ﷺ used to say at the end of Witr: "Allâhumma inni a'udhu bika biridâka min sakhatika, wa a'udhu bimu'âfâtika min 'uqubatika, wa a'udhu bika minka, lâ uhsi thanâ'an 'alaika, Anta kamâ athnaita 'ala nafsika (O Allâh, I seek refuge in Your pleasure from Your wrath, and I seek refuge in Your forgiveness from Your punishment, and I seek refuge in You from You. Comments:

It is in order to recite this Qunut as well in place of the one mentioned in the previous Hadith.

Chapter 118. One Who Does Not Raise His Hands In Qunut

(المعجم ١١٨) - بَابُ مَنْ كَانَ لَا يَرْفَعُ يَدَيْهِ فِي الْقُنُوتِ (التحفة ١٥٧)

1180. It was narrated from Anas bin Mâlik that the Prophet ﷺ did not raise his hands in any of his supplications except when praying for rain (Istisqâ'), when he raised his hands so high that the whiteness of his armpits could be seen. (Sahih)

١١٨٠ - حَدَّثَنَا نَصْرُ بْنُ عَلِيٍّ الْجَهْضَمِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا يَزِيدُ بْنُ زُرَيْعٍ: حَدَّثَنَا سَعِيدٌ، عَنْ قَتَادَةَ، عَنْ أَنَسِ بْنِ مَالِكٍ أَنَّ نَبِيَّ اللهِ ﷺ كَانَ لاَ يَرْفَعُ يَدَيْهِ فِي شَيْءٍ مِنْ دُعَائِهِ إِلَّا عِنْدَ الاسْتِسْقَاءِ. فَإِنَّهُ كَانَ يَرْفَعُ يَدَيْهِ حَتَّى يُرَى بَيَاضُ إِبْطَيْهِ.

تخريج: أخرجه البخاري، المناقب، باب صفة النبي ﷺ، ح:٣٥٦٥ من حديث يزيد بن زريع، وح:١٠٣١، ومسلم، صلوة الاستسقاء، باب رفع اليدين بالدعاء في الاستسقاء، ح:٨٩٦ من حديث سعيد بن أبي عروبة به.

Comments:

a. Imâm Ibn Mâjah quotes this Hadith in order to prove that hands are not to be raised during Qunut. However, a Hadith in Sunan Al-Kubra (2/211) by Baihaqi, narrated from Anas ﷺ mentions the fact of the raising of hands in Qunut.

b. There is no categorical account of whether or not the Prophet ﷺ raised his hands in the Qunut of Witr. However, it is proved from authentic sources that he ﷺ did raise his hands while reciting Qunut Nâzilah (supplication in the event of a calamity), recited after Ruku'. Taking this as analogy, we can safely assume that raising the hands, even in the Qunut of Witr, is in order.

١١٨١ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو كُرَيْبٍ، وَ مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ

'Abbâs said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'When you call upon Allâh, then do so with the palms of your hands (upwards). Do not do so with the back of your hands (upwards). And when you finish, then wipe your face with them.'" ((Da'if)

الصَّبَّاحِ. قَالاَ: حَدَّثَنَا عَائِذُ بْنُ حَبِيبٍ، عَنْ صَالِحِ بْنِ حَسَّانَ الأَنْصَارِيِّ، عَنْ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ كَعْبٍ الْقُرَظِيِّ، عَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «إِذَا دَعَوْتَ اللهَ بِبَاطِنِ كَفَّيْكَ. وَلاَ تَدْعُ بِظُهُورِهِمَا. فَإِذَا فَرَغْتَ فَامْسَحْ بِهِمَا وَجْهَكَ».

تخريج: [ضعيف جدًا] تقدم تحت، ح:٩٥٩، وسيأتي، ح:٣٨٦٦ وقال البوصيري: هذا إسناد ضعيف لاتفاقهم على ضعف صالح بن حسان .

Comments:

The Hadith is 'Weak'. As such it does not establish any proof in support of the wiping of face with the hands, either after this supplication, or after the Qunut of Witr.

Chapter 120. What Was Narrated Concerning Reciting Qunut Before Ruku' Or Afterwards

(المعجم ١٢٠) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي الْقُنُوتِ قَبْلَ الرُّكُوعِ وَبَعْدَهُ (التحفة ١٥٩)

1182. It was narrated from Ubayy bin Ka'b that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ used to pray Witr and he would recite Qunut before Ruku'. (Sahih)

١١٨٢ - حَدَّثَنَا عَلِيُّ بْنُ مَيْمُونٍ الرَّقِّيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا مَخْلَدُ بْنُ يَزِيدَ، عَنْ سُفْيَانَ، عَنْ زُبَيْدٍ الْيَامِيِّ، عَنْ سَعِيدِ بْنِ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمٰنِ بْنِ أَبْزَى، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ أُبَيِّ بْنِ كَعْبٍ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ كَانَ يُوتِرُ فَيَقْنُتُ قَبْلَ الرُّكُوعِ.

تخريج: [صحيح] تقدم تحت، ح:١١٧١، وأخرجه النسائي:٣/ ٢٣٥ قيام الليل، ذكر اختلاف ألفاظ الناقلين لخبر أبي بن كعب في الوتر، ح:١٧٠٠ عن علي بن ميمون به * سفيان تابعه فطر وغيره.

Comments:

The Qunut is recited in the last Rak'ah of Witr as well as on special occasions during the obligatory prayers, wherein it is called Qunut Nâzilah.

1183. It was narrated that Anas bin Mâlik said: He was asked about Qunut in the Subh prayer, and he said: "We used to recite Qunut before Ruku' and afterwards." (Hasan) ١١٨٣ - حَدَّثَنَا نَصْرُ بْنُ عَلِيٍّ الْجَهْضَمِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا سَهْلُ بْنُ يُوسُفَ: حَدَّثَنَا حُمَيْدٌ، عَنْ أَنَسِ بْنِ مَالِكٍ قَالَ: سُئِلَ عَنِ الْقُنُوتِ فِي صَلاَةِ الصُّبْحِ، فَقَالَ: كُنَّا نَقْنُتُ قَبْلَ الرُّكُوعِ وَبَعْدَهُ.

تخريج: [حسن] وقال البوصيري: إسناده صحيح، ورجاله ثقات * حميد الطويل عنعن تقدم، ح:٨٦٦، ولحديثه شواهد معنوية.

Comments:

This is obviously what some of the Companions did. As for the Prophet ﷺ, he recited Qunut Nâzilah only after the Ruku'.

1184. It was narrated that Muhammad said: "I asked Anas bin Mâlik about Qunut, and he said: 'The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ recited Qunut after Ruku'.'" (Sahih)

١١٨٤ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ بَشَّارٍ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الْوَهَّابِ: حَدَّثَنَا أَيُّوبُ، عَنْ مُحَمَّدٍ قَالَ: سَأَلْتُ أَنَسَ بْنَ مَالِكٍ عَنِ الْقُنُوتِ، فَقَالَ: قَنَتَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ بَعْدَ الرُّكُوعِ.

تخريج: أخرجه البخاري، الوتر، باب القنوت قبل الركوع وبعده، ح:١٠٠١، ومسلم، المساجد، باب استحباب القنوت في جميع الصلوات ... الخ، ح:٦٧٧ب من حديث أيوب به.

Comments:

This is only a part of the Hadith. This in fact is the part of that Hadith in which the Prophet ﷺ is reported to have recited the Qunut Nâzilah after Ruku' in all the five obligatory prayers continuously for one month.

Chapter 121. What Was Narrated Concerning Witr At The End Of The Night

(المعجم ١٢١) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي الْوِتْرِ آخِرَ اللَّيْلِ (التحفة ١٦٠)

1185. It was narrated that Masruq said: "I asked 'Âishah about the Witr of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ. She said: 'He prayed Witr at every part of the night, at the beginning, in the middle and at the end, when he died (he would perform it) just before dawn.'" (Sahih)

١١٨٥ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ عَيَّاشٍ، عَنِ أَبِي حُصَيْنٍ، عَنْ يَحْيَى بْنِ وثابٍ، عَنْ مَسْرُوقٍ قَالَ: سَأَلْتُ عَائِشَةَ عَنْ وِتْرِ رَسُولِ اللهِ ﷺ فَقَالَتْ: مِنْ كُلِّ اللَّيْلِ قَدْ أَوْتَرَ. مِنْ أَوَّلِهِ وَأَوْسَطِهِ، وَانْتَهَى وِتْرُهُ، حِينَ مَاتَ، فِي السَّحَرِ.

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، صلوة المسافرين، باب صلوة الليل وعدد ركعات النبي ﷺ ... الخ، ح:٧٤٥ب من حديث أبي حصين به.

Comments:

a. The time for Witr is after Tahajjud. Reciting Witr in every part of the night means praying Tahajjud in all parts of the night.
b. The predominant habit of the Prophet ﷺ was to be up in the second half of the night.

'Âishah ﵁ reports: "In the early part of the night the Prophet ﷺ used to sleep, and in the later part he would get up and pray, then again he returned to rest in his bed. But as soon as the Muadh-dhin called the Adhân, he would get up again. (Sahih Al-Bukhâri: 1146).

c. The practice the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ stuck to towards the end of his life, was to continue to pray until true dawn. However, after performing the Rak'ah before Fajr, he would lay down to rest a little.

1186. It was narrated that 'Ali said: "At every part of the night the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ prayed Witr, at the beginning and in the middle, and finally his Witr was just before dawn." (Hasan) ١١٨٦ - حَدَّثَنَا عَلِيُّ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا وَكِيعٌ؛ ح: وَحَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ بَشَّارٍ: حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ جَعْفَرٍ. قَالَ: حَدَّثَنَا شُعْبَةُ، عَنْ أَبِي إِسْحَاقَ، عَنْ عَاصِمِ بْنِ ضَمْرَةَ، عَنْ عَلِيٍّ قَالَ: مِنْ كُلِّ اللَّيْلِ قَدْ أَوْتَرَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ. مِنْ أَوَّلِهِ وَأَوْسَطِهِ، وَانْتَهَى وِتْرُهُ إِلَى السَّحَرِ.

تخريج: [إسناده حسن] أخرجه أحمد: ١/ ١٣٧ عن محمد بن جعفر، وص(٨٦) عن وكيع به، وقال البوصيري: هذا إسناد صحيح، رجاله ثقات .

Comments:

'Witr being just before dawn' means that he ﷺ performed Witr at the last end of the night, so much so that, by the time he finished the Witr, it was already time for the Adhân. His praying Witr almost before the 'Adhân of Fajr confirms the fact that this is the final prescribed hour for performing Witr.

1187. It was narrated from Jâbir that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "Whoever among you fears that he will not wake up at the end of the night, let him pray Witr at the beginning of the night, then go to sleep. Whoever hopes that he will wake up at the end of the night, let him pray Witr at the end of the night, for recitation (of the Qur'ân) at the end of the night is attended (by the angels), and that is better." (Sahih)

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، صلوة المسافرين، باب من خاف أن لا يقوم من آخر الليل فليوتر أوله، ح: ٧٥٥ من حديث الأعمش به.

Comments:

a. It is preferable to perform Witr in the later part of the night.

b. It is also better to perform some voluntary Rak'ah before Witr.

Chapter 122. One Who Sleeps And Misses Witr, Or Forgets It

(المعجم ١٢٢) - بَابُ مَنْ نَامَ عَنْ وِتْرٍ أَوْ نَسِيَهُ (التحفة ١٦١)

1188. It was narrated that Abu Sa'eed said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Whoever sleeps and misses Witr, or forgets it, let him pray it when morning comes, or when he remembers.'" (Sahih)

تخريج: [صحيح] أخرجه أبو داود، الوتر، باب في الدعاء بعد الوتر، ح:١٤٣١ بإسناد صحيح عن زيد بن أسلم به، وصححه الحاكم، والذهبي، والعراقي وغيرهم.

Comments:

The correct time for Witr is until before true dawn. But in case of an excuse mentioned here, we can pray either after true dawn or any other time of the day.

1189. It was narrated that Abu Sa'eed said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Pray Witr before morning comes.'" (Sahih)

Muhammad bin Yahya said: "This Hadith indicates that the narration of 'Abdur-Rahmân (no. 1188) is feeble (weak)."

١١٨٩ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ يَحْيَىٰ، وَ أَحْمَدُ ابْنُ الْأَزْهَرِ قَالَا: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الرَّزَّاقِ: أَنْبَأَنَا مَعْمَرٌ، عَنْ يَحْيَىٰ بْنِ أَبِي كَثِيرٍ، عَنْ أَبِي نَضْرَةَ، عَنْ أَبِي سَعِيدٍ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «أَوْتِرُوا قَبْلَ أَنْ تُصْبِحُوا».

قَالَ مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ يَحْيَىٰ: فِي هٰذَا الْحَدِيثَ دَلِيلٌ عَلَى أَنَّ حَدِيثَ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمٰنِ وَاهٍ.

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، صلوة المسافرين، باب صلوة الليل مثنٰى مثنٰى والوتر ركعة من آخر الليل، ح:٧٥٤ من حديث معمر به.

Chapter 123. What Was Narrated Concerning Witr With Three, Five, Seven Or Nine Rak'ah

(المعجم ١٢٣) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي الْوِتْرِ بِثَلَاثٍ وَخَمْسٍ وَسَبْعٍ وَتِسْعٍ (التحفة ١٦٢)

1190. It was narrated from Abu

١١٩٠ - حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الرَّحْمٰنِ بْنُ إِبْرَاهِيمَ

Ayyub Al-Ansâri that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "Witr is Haqq.[1] Whoever wishes let him pray Witr with five (Rak'ah), and whoever wishes let him pray Witr with three (Rak'ah), and whoever wishes let him pray Witr with one (Rak'ah)." (Sahih)

الدِّمَشْقِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا الْفِرْيَابِيُّ، عَنِ الأَوْزَاعِيِّ، عَنِ الزُّهْرِيِّ، عَنْ عَطَاءِ بْنِ يَزِيدَ اللَّيْثِيِّ، عَنْ أَبِي أَيُّوبَ الأَنْصَارِيِّ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ قَالَ: «الْوِتْرُ حَقٌّ. فَمَنْ شَاءَ فَلْيُوتِرْ بِخَمْسٍ. وَمَنْ شَاءَ فَلْيُوتِرْ بِثَلاَثٍ. وَمَنْ شَاءَ فَلْيُوتِرْ بِوَاحِدَةٍ».

تخريج: [إسناده صحيح] أخرجه أبو داود، الوتر، باب كم الوتر؟، ح:١٤٢٢ من حديث الزهري به، وصححه ابن حبان، والحاكم، والذهبي، والنووي وغيرهم، والحديث صحيح مرفوعًا وموقوفًا.

Comments:

To some scholars 'Witr is Haqq' means it is obligatory, although the same word (Haqq) has also been used in the context of having bath for Friday prayer, but nobody believes it to be obligatory. Anyhow, in the light of this Hadith, it must at least be taken as an emphasized Sunnah.

1191. It was narrated that Sa'd bin Hishâm said: "I asked 'Âishah: 'O Mother of the Believers! Tell me about the Witr of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ.' She said: 'We used to keep his tooth stick and water for ablution ready for him. Allâh would wake him as He willed to during the night, and he would use the tooth stick and perform ablution, then he would pray nine Rak'ah, during which he would not sit until the eighth Rak'ah. Then he would call upon his Lord and remember Allâh and praise Him and supplicate to Him. Then he would get up without saying the Salâm. Then he would stand up and pray

١١٩١ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ بِشْرٍ: حَدَّثَنَا سَعِيدُ بْنِ أَبِي عَرُوبَةَ، عَنْ قَتَادَةَ، عَنْ [زُرَارَةَ بْنِ أَوْفَى]، عَنْ سَعْدِ ابْنِ هِشَامٍ قَالَ: سَأَلْتُ عَائِشَةَ، قُلْتُ: يَا أُمَّ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ! أَفْتِينِي عَنْ وِتْرِ رَسُولِ اللهِ ﷺ. قَالَتْ: كُنَّا نُعِدُّ لَهُ سِوَاكَهُ وَطَهُورَهُ. فَيَبْعَثُهُ اللهُ فِيمَا شَاءَ أَنْ يَبْعَثَهُ مِنَ اللَّيْلِ. فَيَتَسَوَّكُ وَيَتَوَضَّأُ ثُمَّ يُصَلِّي تِسْعَ رَكَعَاتٍ. لاَ يَجْلِسُ فِيهَا إِلَّا عِنْدَ الثَّامِنَةِ. فَيَدْعُو رَبَّهُ. فَيَذْكُرُ اللهَ وَيَحْمَدُهُ وَيَدْعُوهُ. ثُمَّ يَنْهَضُ وَلاَ يُسَلِّمُ. ثُمَّ يَقُومُ فَيُصَلِّي التَّاسِعَةَ. ثُمَّ يَقْعُدُ فَيَذْكُرُ اللهَ، وَيَحْمَدُهُ وَيَدْعُو رَبَّهُ وَيُصَلِّي عَلَى نَبِيِّهِ. ثُمَّ

[1] They differ over whether it means 'a requirement' or 'true,' meaning that it is an established Sunnah, based upon the different views about its status. Haqq is sometimes used to mean 'a duty' like in the case of the 'right' of Allâh upon the worshipers, and, the 'right' of the Muslim upon the Muslim.

يُسَلِّمُ تَسْلِيماً يُسْمِعُنَا. ثُمَّ يُصَلِّي رَكْعَتَيْنِ بَعْدَمَا يُسَلِّمُ وَهُوَ قَاعِدٌ. فَتِلْكَ إِحْدَى عَشْرَةَ رَكْعَةً. فَلَمَّا أَسَنَّ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ، وَأَخَذَ اللَّحْمُ، أَوْتَرَ بِسَبْعٍ وَصَلَّى رَكْعَتَيْنِ، بَعْدَمَا سَلَّمَ.

the ninth Rak'ah. Then he would sit and remember Allâh and praise Him, and supplicate to his Lord and send blessing upon His Prophet. Then he would say Salâm that we could hear. Then he would pray two Rak'ah after the Salâm, while he was sitting down. That was eleven Rak'ah. When the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ grew older and had gained weight, he would pray Witr with seven Rak'ah and then pray two more Rak'ah after he had said the Salâm.'" (Sahih) تخريج: [صحيح] أخرجه النسائي، قيام الليل، كيف الوتر بتسع؟، ح:١٧٢١ من حديث سعيد به مختصرًا * سعيد وقتادة صرحا بالسماع عند البيهقي:٢/٤٩٩، وأخرجه مسلم في صحيحه، ح:٧٤٦ عن أبي بكر بن أبي شيبة به مختصرًا.

Comments:

a. Nine Rak'ah of Witr is in fact Tahajjud, along with Witr, prayed with one Taslim.

b. In a Witr of nine Rak'ah, Tashah-hud must be recited on the completion of eight Rak'ah.

c. It is allowed to pray fewer than eight Rak'ah for Tahajjud prayer.

١١٩٢ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا حُمَيْدُ بْنُ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمٰنِ، عَنْ زُهَيْرٍ، عَنْ مَنْصُورٍ، عَنِ الْحَكَمِ، عَنْ مِقْسَمٍ، عَنْ أُمِّ سَلَمَةَ قَالَتْ: كَانَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ يُوتِرُ بِسَبْعٍ أَوْ بِخَمْسٍ. لاَ يَفْصِلُ بَيْنَهُنَّ بِتَسْلِيمٍ وَلاَ كَلاَمٍ.

(المعجم ١٢٤) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي الْوِتْرِ فِي السَّفَرِ (التحفة ١٦٣)

1193. It was narrated from Sâlim that his father said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ used to pray two Rak'ah while traveling, and he did not do more than that. And he used to pray Tahajjud at night." I asked: "Did he pray Witr?" He said: "Yes." ((Da'if)

١١٩٣ - حَدَّثَنَا أَحْمَدُ بْنِ سِنَانٍ، وَ إِسْحَاقُ ابْنُ مَنْصُورٍ قَالاَ: حَدَّثَنَا يَزِيدُ بْنُ هَارُونَ: أَنْبَأَنَا شُعْبَةُ، عَنْ جَابِرٍ، عَنْ سَالِمٍ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ قَالَ: كَانَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ يُصَلِّي فِي السَّفَرِ رَكْعَتَيْنِ. لاَ يَزِيدُ عَلَيْهِمَا. وَكَانَ يَتَهَجَّدُ مِنَ اللَّيْلِ. قُلْتُ: وَكَانَ يُوتِرُ؟ قَالَ: نَعَمْ.

1196. It was narrated that Abu Salamah said: "Âishah narrated to me that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ prayed Witr with one Rak'ah, then he prayed two Rak'ah in which he recited while sitting, then when he wanted to bow, he stood up and bowed." (Sahih)

Chapter 126. What Was Narrated Concerning Lying Down After Witr And After The Two Rak'ah Of Fajr

(المعجم ١٢٦) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي الضَّجْعَةِ بَعْدَ الْوِتْرِ وَبَعْدَ رَكْعَتَيِ الْفَجْرِ (التحفة ١٦٥)

1197. It was narrated that 'Âishah said: "I never used to see the Prophet ﷺ at the end of the night, except that he was sleeping near me." (Sahih)

Waki' said: "Meaning, after Witr."

Comments:

a. The normal practice of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ is to start Tahajjud after the middle of the night, and finish it an hour or two before Fajr. That is why at the beginning of true dawn, he would be sleeping. At times, however, as we find mentioned in some of the Ahâdith, he would remain praying until the end of the night.

b. A person is free to perform Tahajjud at any time of the night and as long as he wishes, according to his own convenience.

1198. It was narrated that 'Âishah said: "When the Prophet

Comments:

It is a Sunnah to lie down after performing the two (Sunnah) Rak'ah before Fajr, but it is also proven that he ﷺ sometimes avoided doing it. It is also reported from 'Âishah that, after finishing his Rak'ah of Sunnah before Fajr, if she had been awake, he would talk to her, otherwise he would lie down until he was informed of the Iqâmah for Fajr. prayer (Sahih Al-Bukhâri:1161)

(المعجم ١٢٧) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي الْوِتْرِ عَلَى الرَّاحِلَةِ (التحفة ١٦٦)

١٢٠٠ - حَدَّثَنَا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ سِنَانٍ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الرَّحْمٰنِ بْنُ مَهْدِيٍّ، عَنْ مَالِكِ بْنِ أَنَسٍ، عَنْ أَبِي بَكْرِ بْنِ عُمَرَ بْنِ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمٰنِ بْنِ عَبْدِ اللهِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ بْنِ الْخَطَّابِ، عَنْ سَعِيدِ بْنِ يَسَارٍ قَالَ: كُنْتُ مَعَ ابْنِ عُمَرَ. فَتَخَلَّفْتُ فَأَوْتَرْتُ. فَقَالَ: مَا خَلَفَكَ؟ قُلْتُ: أَوْتَرْتُ. فَقَالَ: أَمَا لَكَ فِي رَسُولِ اللهِ ﷺ أُسْوَةٌ حَسَنَةٌ؟ قُلْتُ: بَلَىٰ. قَالَ: فَإِنَّ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ كَانَ يُوتِرُ عَلَى بَعِيرِهِ.

1200. It was narrated that Sa'eed bin Yasâr said: "I was with Ibn 'Umar and I lagged behind and prayed Witr. He said: 'What kept you?' I said: 'I was praying Witr.' He said: 'Do you not have the best of examples in the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ?' I said: 'Of course.' He said: 'The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ used to pray Witr while riding his camel.'" (Sahih)

Comments:

a. Witr can be performed without alighting from one's mount, while an obligatory prayer must be performed on the ground.

b. Witr has to be performed even during a journey.

Chapter 128. What Was Narrated Concerning Witr At The Beginning Of The Night

١٢٠٢ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو دَاوُدَ، سُلَيْمَانُ بْنُ تَوْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا يَحْيَى بْنُ أَبِي بُكَيْرٍ: حَدَّثَنَا زَائِدَةُ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ عَقِيلٍ، عَنْ جَابِرِ ابْنِ عَبْدِ اللهِ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ لِأَبِي بَكْرٍ: «أَيَّ حِينٍ تُوتِرُ؟» قَالَ: أَوَّلَ اللَّيْلِ، بَعْدَ الْعَتَمَةِ. قَالَ: «فَأَنْتَ يَا عُمَرُ؟» فَقَالَ: آخِرَ اللَّيْلِ. فَقَالَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ: «أَمَّا أَنْتَ يَا أَبَا بَكْرٍ، فَأَخَذْتَ بِالْوُثْقَى. وَأَمَّا أَنْتَ يَا عُمَرُ، فَأَخَذْتَ بِالْقُوَّةِ».

حدّثنا أَبُو دَاوُدَ، سُلَيْمَانُ بْنُ تَوْبَةَ: أَنْبَأَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عَبَّادٍ: حَدَّثَنَا يَحْيَى بْنُ سُلَيْمٍ، عَنْ عُبَيْدِ اللهِ، عَنْ نَافِعٍ، عَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ قَالَ لِأَبِي بَكْرٍ. فَذَكَرَ نَحْوَهُ.

1202. It was narrated that Jâbir bin 'Abdullâh said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said to Abu Bakr: 'When do you pray Witr?' He said: 'At the beginning of the night, after 'Ishâ'.' He said: 'And you, O 'Umar?' He said: 'At the end of the night.' The Prophet ﷺ said: 'As for you, O Abu Bakr, you have seized the trustworthy handhold (i.e., you want to be on the safe side), and as for you, O 'Umar, you have seized strength (i.e., you are confident that you have the resolve to get up and pray Witr).'" (Hasan)

Comments:

a. Witr can be performed at the beginning of the night as well as at the end of it.

b. To perform Tahajjud and Witr at the beginning of the night is to be secure against the risk of missing them (due to sleep), whilst performing them at the end of the night is to take a course of courage and determination. The latter is, therefore, preferable.

Chapter 129. Forgetfulness During Prayer

(المعجم ١٢٩) - بَابُ السَّهْوِ فِي الصَّلَاةِ (التحفة ١٦٨)

1203. It was narrated that 'Abdullâh said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ prayed, and he added or omitted something." (One of the narrators) Ibrâhim said: "The confusion stems from me (i.e., he was not sure which it was)." "It was said to him: 'O Messenger of Allâh! Has something been added to the prayer?' He said: 'I am only human, I forget just as you forget. If anyone of you forgets, let him perform two prostrations when he is sitting (at the end).' Then the Prophet ﷺ turned and prostrated twice." (Sahih) ١٢٠٣ - حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللهِ بْنُ عَامِرِ بْنِ زُرَارَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا عَلِيُّ بْنُ مُسْهِرٍ، عَنِ الأَعْمَشِ، عَنْ إِبْرَاهِيمَ، عَنْ عَلْقَمَةَ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ قَالَ: صَلَّى رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ فَزَادَ أَوْ نَقَصَ قَالَ إِبْرَاهِيمُ: وَالْوَهْمُ مِنِّي، فَقِيلَ لَهُ: يَا رَسُولَ اللهِ! أَزِيدَ فِي الصَّلَاةِ شَيْءٌ؟ قَالَ: «إِنَّمَا أَنَا بَشَرٌ. أَنْسَى كَمَا تَنْسَوْنَ. فَإِذَا نَسِيَ أَحَدُكُمْ فَلْيَسْجُدْ سَجْدَتَيْنِ وَهُوَ جَالِسٌ» ثُمَّ تَحَوَّلَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ فَسَجَدَ سَجْدَتَيْنِ.

Comments:

a. Prostration is among the highest forms of worship. Satan, therefore, sorely abhors it. A true believer's act of prostrating before Allâh is a source of humiliation for Satan since it defeats his design to make the slave of Allâh lose his reward, but by making those additional prostrations, he has been able to earn even more reward.

b. There was great Divine wisdom behind the incidence of forgetfulness on the part of the Prophet ﷺ during prayer, namely to make a part of education for the believers as to what is the ruling in the Shari'ah for such an occasion, and how to remedy it, i.e., through additional prostrations.

1204. 'Iyâd narrated that he asked Abu Sa'eed Al-Khudri: "One of us prays and he does not know how many (Rak'ah) he has prayed." He said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'When anyone of you prays and does not know how many he has prayed, let him perform two prostrations while he is sitting.'" (Hasan) ١٢٠٤ - حَدَّثَنَا عَمْرُو بْنُ رَافِعٍ: حَدَّثَنَا إِسْمَاعِيلُ ابْنُ عُلَيَّةَ، عَنْ هِشَامٍ: حَدَّثَنِي يَحْيَىٰ: حَدَّثَنِي عِيَاضٌ أَنَّهُ سَأَلَ أَبَا سَعِيدٍ الْخُدْرِيَّ، فَقَالَ: أَحَدُنَا يُصَلِّي فَلاَ يَدْرِي كَمْ صَلَّى. فَقَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «إِذَا صَلَّى أَحَدُكُمْ فَلَمْ يَدْرِ كَمْ صَلَّى، فَلْيَسْجُدْ سَجْدَتَيْنِ وَهُوَ جَالِسٌ».

Comments:

a. Performing prostrations while sitting means he does not have to stand up to perform his prayer or Rak'ah; just two remedial prostrations shall be enough for him.
b. It includes a hint that the prostration of Sahw (remedial prostration) is to be performed before saying the Salâm.

Chapter 130. Whoever Performed The Zuhr With Five Rak'ah Because He Forgot

(المعجم ١٣٠) - بَابُ مَنْ صَلَّى الظُّهْرَ خَمْسًا وَهُوَ سَاهٍ (التحفة ١٦٩)

1205. It was narrated that 'Abdullâh said: "(Once) the Prophet ﷺ prayed Zuhr with five Rak'ah, and it was said to him: 'Has something been added to the prayer?' He said: 'What is that?' They told him, and he turned back towards the Qiblah and performed two prostrations." (Sahih)

١٢٠٥ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ بَشَّارٍ، وَ أَبُو بَكْرِ ابْنُ خَلَّادٍ قَالاَ: حَدَّثَنَا يَحْيَى بْنُ سَعِيدٍ، عَنْ شُعْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنِي الْحَكَمُ، عَنْ إِبْرَاهِيمَ، عَنْ عَلْقَمَةَ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ قَالَ: صَلَّى النَّبِيُّ ﷺ الظُّهْرَ خَمْساً. فَقِيلَ لَهُ: أَزِيدَ فِي الصَّلاَةِ؟ قَالَ: «وَمَا ذَاكَ؟». فَقِيلَ لَهُ. فَثَنَى رِجْلَهُ، فَسَجَدَ سَجْدَتَيْنِ.

Comments:

a. Forgetfulness is a part of human nature that could happen even during an act of worship like prayer. Therefore, whereas negligence is censurable, forgetfulness is not.

b. There is also this wisdom behind the bestowal of the office of prophecy to the humans that, by this way, the Prophet's life-example shall be a source of guidance for all the aspects of human life.

c. Remedial prostration is in order even after one has spoken something after saying his Salâm.

(المعجم ١٣١) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِيمَنْ قَامَ مِنِ اثْنَتَيْنِ سَاهِيًا (التحفة ١٧٠)

1206. It was narrated from Ibn Buhainah: "The Prophet ﷺ offered prayer, I think it was the 'Asr, and in the second Rak'ah he stood up before he sat. Before he said the Salâm, he prostrated twice." (Sahih)

١٢٠٦ - حَدَّثَنَا عُثْمَانُ وَ أَبُو بَكْرٍ، ابْنَا أَبِي شَيْبَةَ، وَ هِشَامُ بْنُ عَمَّارٍ قَالُوا: حَدَّثَنَا سُفْيَانُ ابْنُ عُيَيْنَةَ، عَنِ الزُّهْرِيِّ، عَنِ الأَعْرَجِ، عَنِ ابْنِ بُحَيْنَةَ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ صَلَّى صَلَاةً، أَظُنُّ أَنَّهَا الْعَصْرُ. فَلَمَّا كَانَ فِي الثَّانِيَةِ قَامَ قَبْلَ أَنْ يَجْلِسَ. فَلَمَّا كَانَ قَبْلَ أَنْ يُسَلِّمَ سَجَدَ سَجْدَتَيْنِ.

Comments:

a. If one forgets to perform the medial Tashah-hud, he should make two prostrations towards the end of the prayer.

b. Remedial prostration can as well be performed before the Taslim as after it. (See H. 1213).

1207. It was narrated from 'Abdur-Rahmân Al-A'raj that Ibn Buhainah told him that the Prophet ﷺ stood up in the second Rak'ah of Zuhr and forgot to sit. When he had finished his prayer, and before he said the Salâm, he performed the two prostrations for forgetfulness (Sahw) and said

١٢٠٧ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا ابْنُ نُمَيْرٍ، وَ ابْنُ فُضَيْلٍ، وَ يَزِيدُ بْنُ هَارُونَ؛ ح: وَحَدَّثَنَا عُثْمَانُ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو خَالِدٍ الأَحْمَرُ، وَ يَزِيدُ بْنُ هَارُونَ، وَأَبُو مُعَاوِيَةَ، كُلُّهُمْ عَنْ يَحْيَى بْنِ سَعِيدٍ، عَنْ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمٰنِ الأَعْرَجِ أَنَّ ابْنَ بُحَيْنَةَ أَخْبَرَهُ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ

the Salâm. (Sahih)

تخريج: [صحيح] انظر الحديث السابق، أخرجه مسلم، ح: ٥٧٠ من حديث يحي به.

Comments:

The Hadith removes the confusion and establishes, that the incidence of forgetfulness related to the Zuhr prayer and not of 'Asr.

١٢٠٨ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ يَحْيَى: حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ يُوسُفَ: حَدَّثَنَا سُفْيَانُ، عَنْ جَابِرٍ، عَنِ الْمُغِيرَةِ بْنِ شُبَيْلٍ، عَنْ قَيْسِ بْنِ أَبِي حَازِمٍ، عَنِ الْمُغِيرَةِ بْنِ شُعْبَةَ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «إِذَا قَامَ أَحَدُكُمْ مِنَ الرَّكْعَتَيْنِ فَلَمْ يَسْتَتِمَّ قَائِماً فَلْيَجْلِسْ. فَإِذَا اسْتَتَمَّ قَائِماً فَلَا يَجْلِسْ وَيَسْجُدْ سَجْدَتَيِ السَّهْوِ».

1208. It was narrated that Mughirah bin Shu'bah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'If anyone of you stands after two Rak'ah, if he has not yet stood up fully, let him sit down again, but if he has stood up fully, then let him not sit down, and let him perform two prostrations for forgetfulness (Sahw).'" Comments:

a. This confirms the fact that an additional Rak'ah started by mistake must be completed.
b. Performing the prostrations for forgetfulness is enough remedy for having performed an extra Rak'ah as well.

1210. It was narrated that Abu Sa'eed Al-Khudri said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'If anyone of you is uncertain about his prayer, let him put aside uncertainty and act upon that which is certain. When he has made sure that his prayer is complete, then let him prostrate twice. Then if his prayer was complete, that (extra) Rak'ah will be counted as voluntary, and if his prayer was lacking, that Rak'ah will complete his prayer, and the two prostrations will rub the Satan's nose in the dust.'" (Sahih) تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، المساجد، باب السهو في الصلوة والسجود له، ح:٥٧١ من حديث زيد به.

Comments:

a. If two sides look equally possible, in case of a doubt as to which one is correct, then the right course would be to stick to what is on the lower side, as mentioned under Hadith 1209. This is because, if analyzed rationally, the element of doubt in such cases would be only in the greater number, not in the lesser one.

b. If, in spite of uncertainty in our mind as to the correctness or otherwise of our prayer, the prayer had in reality been completed, and still we had performed the prescribed 'prostration for forgetfulness', then we have certainly humiliated Satan. It is because Satan wanted to spoil our prayer and upset us, but thanks to our prostrations, Allâh blessed our prayer and accepted it, and thus defeated the designs of Satan. The Arabic idiomatic expression: 'rubbing someone's nose in the dust' means to discredit and humiliate him.

(المعجم ١٣٣) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِيمَنْ شَكَّ فِي صَلَاتِهِ فَتَحَرَّى الصَّوَابَ

1211. It was narrated that 'Abdullâh said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ offered prayer, and I am not sure whether he did something extra or omitted something. He asked, and we told him, so he turned to face the Qiblah and prostrated twice, then he said the Salâm. Then he turned to face us and said: 'If any new command had been revealed concerning the prayer, I would certainly have told you. But I am only human and I forget and you forget. If I forget, then remind me. And if anyone of you is uncertain about the prayer, let him do what is closest to what is correct, then complete the prayer, say the Salâm and prostrate twice.''

١٢١١ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ بَشَّارٍ: حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ جَعْفَرٍ: حَدَّثَنَا شُعْبَةُ، عَنْ مَنْصُورٍ قَالَ شُعْبَةُ: كَتَبَ إِلَيَّ وَقَرَأْتُهُ عَلَيْهِ. قَالَ: أَخْبَرَنِي إِبْرَاهِيمُ، عَنْ عَلْقَمَةَ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ قَالَ: صَلَّى رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ صَلَاةً لَا نَدْرِي أَزَادَ أَوْ نَقَصَ. فَسَأَلَ. فَحَدَّثْنَاهُ فَثَنَى رِجْلَهُ، وَاسْتَقْبَلَ الْقِبْلَةَ، وَسَجَدَ سَجْدَتَيْنِ. ثُمَّ سَلَّمَ. ثُمَّ أَقْبَلَ عَلَيْنَا بِوَجْهِهِ، فَقَالَ: «لَوْ حَدَثَ فِي الصَّلَاةِ شَيْءٌ لَأَنْبَأْتُكُمُوهُ. وَإِنَّمَا أَنَا بَشَرٌ أَنْسَى كَمَا تَنْسَوْنَ. فَإِذَا نَسِيتُ فَذَكِّرُونِي. وَأَيُّكُمْ مَا شَكَّ فِي الصَّلَاةِ فَلْيَتَحَرَّ أَقْرَبَ ذٰلِكَ مِنَ الصَّوَابِ، فَيُتِمَّ عَلَيْهِ وَيُسَلِّمَ وَيَسْجُدَ سَجْدَتَيْنِ».

Comments:

As already mentioned under Hadith 1205, the Prophet ﷺ had mistakenly prayed five Rak'ah for Zuhr.

1212. It was narrated that 'Abdullâh said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'If anyone of you is uncertain about his prayer, let him try to do what is correct then let him prostate twice.'" (Sahih)

Tanâfisi said: "This is the basic rule, and no one is able to reject it."

١٢١٢ - حَدَّثَنَا عَلِيُّ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا وَكِيعٌ، عَنْ [مِسْعَرٍ]، عَنْ مَنْصُورٍ، عَنْ إِبْرَاهِيمَ، عَنْ عَلْقَمَةَ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «إِذَا شَكَّ أَحَدُكُمْ فِي الصَّلَاةِ، فَلْيَتَحَرَّ الصَّوَابَ ثُمَّ يَسْجُدْ سَجْدَتَيْنِ».

قَالَ الطَّنَافِسِيُّ: هٰذَا الأَصْلُ، وَلَا يَقْدِرُ أَحَدٌ يَرُدُّهُ.

تخريج: [صحيح] انظر الحديث السابق.

Comments:

What Tanâfisi means to say, is that in case of confusion, the prostration of forgetfulness being an enjoined duty, is a settled matter with no dissenting views on it. In matters of detail, however, there could be a divergence of opinion.

Chapter 134. One Who Says The Salâm After Two Or Three Rak'ah By Mistake

(المعجم ١٣٤) - بَابٌ: فِيمَنْ سَلَّمَ مِنْ ثِنْتَيْنِ أَوْ ثَلَاثٍ سَاهِيًا (التحفة ١٧٣)

1213. It was narrated from Ibn 'Umar that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ forgot and said the Taslim after two Rak'ah. A man who was called Dhul-Yadain said to him: 'O Messenger of Allâh, has the prayer been shortened or did you forget?' He said: 'It has not been shortened and I did not forget.' He said: 'But you prayed two Rak'ah.' He said: 'Is what Dhul-Yadain says true?' They said: 'Yes.' So he went forward and performed two Rak'ah and said the Salâm, then he prostrated twice for prostrations of forgetfulness. (Sahih) ١٢١٣ - حَدَّثَنَا عَلِيُّ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ، وَ أَبُو كُرَيْبٍ، وَ أَحْمَدُ بْنُ سِنَانٍ. قَالُوا: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو أُسَامَةَ، عَنْ عُبَيْدِ اللهِ بْنِ عُمَرَ، عَنْ نَافِعٍ، عَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ سَهَا فَسَلَّمَ فِي الرَّكْعَتَيْنِ. فَقَالَ لَهُ رَجُلٌ يُقَالُ لَهُ ذُو الْيَدَيْنِ: يَا رَسُولَ اللهِ أَقَصُرَتْ أَوْ نَسِيتَ؟ قَالَ: «مَا قَصُرَتْ وَمَا نَسِيتُ» قَالَ: إِذاً، فَصَلَّيْتَ رَكْعَتَيْنِ. قَالَ: «أَكَمَا يَقُولُ ذُو الْيَدَيْنِ؟» قَالُوا: نَعَمْ. فَتَقَدَّمَ فَصَلَّى رَكْعَتَيْنِ ثُمَّ سَلَّمَ. ثُمَّ سَجَدَ سَجْدَتَي السَّهْوِ.

Comments:

a. If someone prays less than prescribed Rak'ah through forgetfulness, let him complete the missed Rak'ah and prostrate twice for forgetfulnss.

b. Prostrations of forgetfulness can also be performed after Taslim.

214. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ led us in one of the afternoon prayers, and he prayed two Rak'ah, then he said the Salâm. Then he stood up and went to a piece of wood in the mosque, and leaned against it. Those who were in a hurry left the mosque, saying that the prayer had been shortened. Among the people were Abu Bakr and 'Umar, but they dared not say anything. Among the people there was also a man with long hands who was called Dhul-Yadain. He said: 'O Messenger of Allâh, has the prayer been shortened or did you forget?' He said: 'It has not been shortened and I did not forget.' He said: 'But you prayed two Rak'ah.' He said: 'Is what Dhul-Yadain says true?' They said: 'Yes.' So he went forward and performed two Rak'ah and said the Salâm, then he prostrated twice, and then he said the Salâm again." (Sahih)

١٢١٤ - حَدَّثَنَا عَلِيُّ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو أُسَامَةَ، عَنِ ابْنِ عَوْنٍ، عَنِ ابْنِ سِيرِينَ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ: صَلَّى بِنَا رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ إِحْدَى صَلاَتَي الْعَشِيِّ رَكْعَتَيْنِ. ثُمَّ سَلَّمَ. ثُمَّ قَامَ إِلَى خَشَبَةٍ كَانَتْ فِي الْمَسْجِدِ يَسْتَنِدُ إِلَيْهَا. فَخَرَجَ سَرَعَانُ النَّاسِ يَقُولُونَ: قَصُرَتِ الصَّلاَةُ. وَفِي الْقَوْمِ أَبُو بَكْرٍ وَعُمَرُ. فَهَابَاهُ أَنْ يَقُولاَ لَهُ شَيْئاً وَفِي الْقَوْمِ رَجُلٌ طَوِيلُ الْيَدَيْنِ، يُسَمَّى ذَا الْيَدَيْنِ. فَقَالَ: يَا رَسُولَ اللهِ أَقَصُرَتِ الصَّلاَةُ أَمْ نَسِيتَ؟ فَقَالَ: «لَمْ تَقْصُرْ وَلَمْ أَنْسَ» قَالَ: فَإِنَّمَا صَلَّيْتَ رَكْعَتَيْنِ. فَقَالَ: «أَكَمَا يَقُولُ ذُو الْيَدَيْنِ؟» قَالُوا: نَعَمْ. قَالَ: فَقَامَ فَصَلَّى رَكْعَتَيْنِ. ثُمَّ سَلَّمَ. ثُمَّ سَجَدَ سَجْدَتَيْنِ. ثُمَّ سَلَّمَ.

Comments:

a. It is allowed to leave one's place after the prayer in congregation, even though the intention is to sit somewhere else inside the mosque itself. Greater reward is, however, promised for one who keeps sitting there for some time. The angels pray for blessings on the person as long as he sits there. (See Hadith 799)

b. To try to confirm the veracity of somebody's statement is not to express lack of confidence in him. It means to secure increase in the satisfaction of one's heart.

c. If the remedial prostration is done after Taslim (saying the Salâm), then we have to say Salâm once again.

1215. It was narrated that 'Imrân bin Husain said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said the Salâm after three Rak'ah for 'Asr, then he stood up and went into the apartment. Khirbâq, a man with big hands, stood up and called out: 'O Messenger of Allâh! Has the prayer been shortened?' He came out angrily, dragging his lower garment, and asked about it, and was told (what had happened). So he performed the Rak'ah that he had omitted, then he said the Salâm, then he prostrated twice and said the Salâm again." (Sahih)

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، المساجد، باب السهو في الصلوٰة والسجود له، ح: ٥٧٤ من حديث عبدالوهاب الثقفي وغيره به.

Comments:

a. As we have already seen under Hadith 1207, it was the Zuhr prayer (not 'Asr). Hadith (No. 715) in Sahih Al-Bukhâri also supports this version.

b. The Ahâdith referred to above state that, instead of four Rak'ah, the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ had prayed two Rak'ah (not three). These reports are more authentic. However, apart from this minor difference, the basic ruling holds, and it says that, in case a person prays fewer than the prescribed Rak'ah through forgetfulness, then on realizing the mistake, only the remaining part of prayer shall be completed, and prostrations of forgetfulness shall be performed thereafter. There is no need to revise the entire prayer, even though some conversation would have taken place between the Imâm and the worshipers in between.

Chapter 135. Concerning The Two Prostrations Of Forgetfulness Before The Salâm

(المعجم ١٣٥) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي سَجْدَتَيِ السَّهْوِ قَبْلَ السَّلَامِ (التحفة ١٧٤)

1216. It was narrated from Abu

١٢١٦ - حَدَّثَنَا سُفْيَانُ بْنُ وَكِيعٍ: حَدَّثَنَا

Hurairah that the Prophet ﷺ said: "The Satan comes to any one of you while he is praying and comes between him and his soul, until he does not know whether he has added something or omitted something. If that happens, then he should prostrate twice before he says the Salâm, then he should say the Salâm." (Hasan)

يُونُسُ بْنُ بُكَيرٍ: حَدَّثَنَا ابْنُ إِسْحَاقَ: حَدَّثَنِي الزُّهْرِيُّ، عَنْ أَبِي سَلَمَةَ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ قَالَ: «إِنَّ الشَّيْطَانَ يَأْتِي أَحَدَكُمْ فِي صَلَاتِهِ، فَيَدْخُلُ بَيْنَهُ وَبَيْنَ نَفْسِهِ حَتَّى لاَ يَدْرِي زَادَ أَوْ نَقَصَ. فَإِذَا كَانَ ذٰلِكَ، فَلْيَسْجُدْ سَجْدَتَيْنِ قَبْلَ أَنْ يُسَلِّمَ. ثُمَّ يُسَلِّمْ».

Comments:

a. Prayer is the most important act of devotion and a means of linking man to God. Satan will, therefore, do his best to keep man from reaping its benefits.
b. It so happens sometimes, that man's thoughts go astray during prayer and, as a result, he is not able to keep count of his Rak'ah. In a situation like this, when he finds himself completely lost, he should perform the remedial prostrations of forgetfulness.

1217. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Prophet ﷺ said: "The Satan comes between the son of Âdam and his soul, and he does not know how many Rak'ah he has prayed. If a person notices that, then let him prostrate twice before he says the Salâm." (Hasan) ١٢١٧ - حَدَّثَنَا سُفْيَانُ بْنُ وَكِيعٍ: حَدَّثَنَا يُونُسُ بْنُ بُكَيرٍ: حَدَّثَنَا ابْنُ إِسْحَاقَ: أَخْبَرَنِي سَلَمَةُ بْنُ صَفْوَانَ بْنِ سَلَمَةَ، عَنْ أَبِي سَلَمَةَ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ قَالَ: «إِنَّ الشَّيْطَانَ يَدْخُلُ بَيْنَ ابْنِ آدَمَ وَبَيْنَ نَفْسِهِ. فَلَا يَدْرِي كَمْ صَلَّى. فَإِذَا وَجَدَ ذٰلِكَ فَلْيَسْجُدْ سَجْدَتَيْنِ قَبْلَ أَنْ يُسَلِّمَ».

Chapter 136. What Was Narrated Concerning One Who Does The Prostrations After The Salâm

(المعجم ١٣٦) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِيمَنْ سَجَدَهُمَا بَعْدَ السَّلَامِ (التحفة ١٧٥)

1218. It was narrated from

١٢١٨ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ خَلَّادٍ: حَدَّثَنَا

'Alqamah that Ibn Mas'ud prostrated twice for prostrations of forgetfulness after the Salâm, and he mentioned that the Prophet ﷺ did that." (Sahih)

سُفْيَانُ بْنُ عُيَيْنَةَ، عَنْ مَنْصُورٍ، عَنْ إِبْرَاهِيمَ، عَنْ عَلْقَمَةَ أَنَّ ابْنَ مَسْعُودٍ سَجَدَ سَجْدَتَي السَّهْوِ بَعْدَ السَّلاَمِ. وَذَكَرَ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ فَعَلَ ذٰلِكَ.

1219. It was narrated that Thawbân said: "I heard the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ say: 'For every mistake there are two prostrations, after saying the Salâm.'" (Hasan)

تخريج: [حسن] أخرجه أبو داود، الصلوة، باب من نسي أن يتشهد وهو جالس، ح: ١٠٣٨ عن عثمان بن أبي شيبة وغيره به.

Comments:

The phrase 'for every mistake' means: regardless of whether the mistake is of addition or of deletion, it can be remedied through two prostrations (for forgetfulness).

Chapter 137. What Was Narrated Concerning Resuming The Prayer

(المعجم ١٣٧) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي الْبِنَاءِ عَلَى الصَّلاَةِ (التحفة ١٧٦)

1220. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "The Prophet ﷺ came out to pray and said the Takbir, then he gestured to them to wait. He went and took a bath, and his head was dripping with water while he led them in prayer. When he finished he said: 'I came out to you in a state of sexual impurity, and I forgot until

١٢٢٠ - حَدَّثَنَا يَعْقُوبُ بْنُ حُمَيْدِ بْنِ كَاسِبٍ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللهِ بْنُ مُوسَى التَّيْمِيُّ، عَنْ أُسَامَةَ بْنِ زَيْدٍ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ يَزِيدَ، مَوْلَى الأَسْوَدِ بْنِ سُفْيَانَ، عَنْ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمٰنِ بْنِ ثَوْبَانَ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ: خَرَجَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ إِلَى الصَّلاَةِ وَكَبَّرَ. ثُمَّ أَشَارَ إِلَيْهِمْ، فَمَكَثُوا. ثُمَّ انْطَلَقَ فَاغْتَسَلَ. وَكَانَ

Comments:

Forgetfulness on the part of the Imâm does no damage to the prayer of the followers. The Prophet ﷺ had said Takbir while he was in a state of sexual impurity. However, the Takbir said by the followers was in order. That is why the Messenger of Allâh (ﷺ) gestured to them to remain in the state of prayer.

1221. It was narrated that 'Âishah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Whoever vomits, has a nosebleed, belches, or emits prostatic fluid, should stop praying; perform ablution, then resume his prayer, and while he is in that state he should not speak." (Da'if)

(المعجم ١٣٨) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِيمَنْ أَحْدَثَ فِي الصَّلاَةِ كَيْفَ يَنْصَرِفُ

(التحفة ١٧٧)

1222. It was narrated from 'Âishah that the Prophet ﷺ said: "When anyone of you performs prayer and commits Hadath, (passing of wind) let him take hold of his nose, then leave." (Sahih)

١٢٢٢ - حَدَّثَنَا عُمَرُ بْنُ شَبَّةَ بْنِ عُبَيْدَةَ بْنِ زَيْدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا عُمَرُ بْنُ عَلِيٍّ الْمُقَدَّمِيُّ، عَنْ هِشَامِ بْنِ عُرْوَةَ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ عَائِشَةَ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ ﷺ. قَالَ: «إِذَا صَلَّى أَحَدُكُمْ فَأَحْدَثَ، فَلْيُمْسِكْ عَلَى أَنْفِهِ، ثُمَّ لْيَنْصَرِفْ».

Chapter 139. What Was Narrated Concerning The Prayer Of A Sick Person

(المعجم ١٣٩) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي صَلَاةِ الْمَرِيضِ (التحفة ١٧٨)

1223. It was narrated that 'Imrân bin Husain said: "I suffered from Nâsur[1] and I asked the Prophet ﷺ about prayer. He said: 'Perform prayer standing; if you cannot, then sitting; and if you cannot then while lying on your side.'" (Sahih)

Comments:

a. In case of a serious ailment when a person finds it difficult to sit with ease, it is allowed for him to perform prayer while lying down on his side.
b. This shows the extreme importance of prayer, which is not to be missed even when one is seriously ill. However, there is relaxation for him in its rules.

1224. It was narrated that Wâ'il bin Hujr said: "I saw the Prophet ﷺ performing prayer while sitting on his right side when he was sick." (Da'if)

Chapter 140. Voluntary Prayer While Sitting

(المعجم ١٤٠) - بَابٌ: فِي صَلَاةِ النَّافِلَةِ قَاعِدًا (التحفة ١٧٩)

1225. It was narrated that Umm Salamah said: "By the One Who took his soul (i.e., the soul of the Prophet ﷺ), he did not die until he offered most of his prayers sitting down. And the dearest of the actions to him was the righteous action that the person does regularly, even if it were a little." (Sahih) ١٢٢٥ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو الأَحْوَصِ، عَنْ أَبِي إِسْحَاقَ، عَنْ أَبِي سَلَمَةَ، عَنْ أُمِّ سَلَمَةَ قَالَتْ: وَالَّذِي ذَهَبَ بِنَفْسِهِ ﷺ مَا مَاتَ حَتَّى كَانَ أَكْثَرُ صَلَاتِهِ وَهُوَ جَالِسٌ. وَكَانَ أَحَبُّ الأَعْمَالِ إِلَيْهِ الْعَمَلَ الصَّالِحَ الَّذِي يَدُومُ عَلَيْهِ الْعَبْدُ، وَإِنْ كَانَ يَسِيرًا.

Comments:

If a person wants to make lengthy recitation in a voluntary prayer, but finds prolonged standing difficult, he may do part of the recitation while standing and part of it while sitting, as we shall see in the next Hadith.

1226. It was narrated that 'Âishah said: "The Prophet ﷺ used to recite Qur'ân sitting down, then when he wanted to bow he would stand up for as long as it takes a person to recite forty Verses." (Sahih)

١٢٢٦ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا إِسْمَاعِيلُ ابْنُ عُلَيَّةَ، عَنِ الْوَلِيدِ بْنِ أَبِي هِشَامٍ، عَنْ أَبِي بَكْرِ بْنِ مُحَمَّدٍ، عَنْ عَمْرَةَ، عَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ: كَانَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ يَقْرَأُ وَهُوَ قَاعِدٌ. فَإِذَا أَرَادَ أَنْ يَرْكَعَ قَامَ قَدْرَ مَا يَقْرَأُ إِنْسَانٌ أَرْبَعِينَ آيَةً.

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، صلوة المسافرين، باب جواز النافلة قائمًا وقاعدًا وفعل بعض الركعة ... إلخ، ح:٧٣١ عن ابن أبي شيبة وغيره به.

1227. It was narrated that 'Âishah said: "I did not see the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ offer any of the night prayers in any way other than standing, until he became old. Then he started to pray sitting down until, when there were thirty or forty Verses left of his recitation, he would stand up and recite them, and prostrate." (Sahih)

١٢٢٧ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو مَرْوَانَ الْعُثْمَانِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الْعَزِيزِ بْنُ أَبِي حَازِمٍ، عَنْ هِشَامِ بْنِ عُرْوَةَ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ: مَا رَأَيْتُ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ يُصَلِّي فِي شَيْءٍ مِنْ صَلَاةِ اللَّيْلِ إِلَّا قَائِمًا. حَتَّى دَخَلَ فِي السِّنِّ. فَجَعَلَ يُصَلِّي جَالِسًا. حَتَّى إِذَا بَقِيَ عَلَيْهِ مِنْ قِرَاءَتِهِ أَرْبَعُونَ آيَةً، أَوْ ثَلَاثُونَ آيَةً، قَامَ فَقَرَأَهَا وَسَجَدَ.

1228. It was narrated that 'Abdullâh bin Shaqiq Al-'Uqaili said: "I asked 'Âishah about the prayer of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ at night. She said: 'He used to pray for a long time at night standing up, and for a long time at night sitting down. If he prayed standing, he would bow standing, and if he prayed sitting, he would bow sitting.'" (Sahih)

١٢٢٨ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا مُعَاذُ بْنُ مُعَاذٍ، عَنْ حُمَيْدٍ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ شَقِيقٍ الْعُقَيْلِيِّ قَالَ: سَأَلْتُ عَائِشَةَ عَنْ صَلَاةِ رَسُولِ اللهِ ﷺ بِاللَّيْلِ، فَقَالَتْ: كَانَ يُصَلِّي لَيْلاً طَوِيلاً قَائِماً. وَلَيْلاً طَوِيلاً قَاعِداً. فَإِذَا قَرَأَ قَائِماً رَكَعَ قَائِماً. وَإِذَا قَرَأَ قَاعِداً رَكَعَ قَاعِداً.

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، صلوة المسافرين، باب جواز النافلة قائمًا وقاعدًا وفعل بعض الركعة قائمًا وبعضها قاعدًا، ح:٧٣٠ عن ابن أبي شيبة به.

Comments:

a. The Prophet ﷺ used to pray extremely long Tahajjud prayer, in which he made long recitations.

b. It is allowed for a person performing prayer while standing to make part of the recitation while sitting. In such a situation the bowing and standing up from bowing shall be performed from the standing position. But if the entire recitation has been done while sitting, then both bowing and rising therefrom shall be performed from the sitting position.

Chapter 141. The Prayer Of One Who Sits Is Equivalent To Half Of The Prayer Of One Who Stands

(المعجم ١٤١) - بَابُ صَلَاةِ الْقَاعِدِ عَلَى النِّصْفِ مِنْ صَلَاةِ الْقَائِمِ

(التحفة ١٨٠)

1229. It was narrated from 'Abdullâh bin 'Amr that the Prophet ﷺ passed by him when he was praying sitting down. He said: "The prayer of one who sits down is equivalent to half of the prayer of one who stands." (Sahih)

١٢٢٩ - حَدَّثَنَا عُثْمَانُ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا يَحْيَى بْنُ آدَمَ: حَدَّثَنَا قُطْبَةُ، عَنِ الأَعْمَشِ، عَنْ حَبِيبِ بْنِ أَبِي ثَابِتٍ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ بَابَاهُ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ عَمْرٍو أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ مَرَّ بِهِ وَهُوَ يُصَلِّي جَالِساً. فَقَالَ: «صَلَاةُ الْجَالِسِ عَلَى النِّصْفِ مِنْ صَلَاةِ الْقَائِمِ».

Comments:

This pertains to a situation where a person prays while sitting down without a valid excuse, just as we see people praying their two voluntary Rak'ah following the obligatory prayer in the sitting position.

1230. It was narrated from Anas bin Mâlik that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ went out and saw some people praying while sitting down. He said: "The prayer of one who sits down is equivalent to half of the prayer of one who stands." (Sahih)

١٢٣٠ - حَدَّثَنَا نَصْرُ بْنُ عَلِيٍّ الْجَهْضَمِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا بِشْرُ بْنُ عُمَرَ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللهِ بْنُ جَعْفَرٍ: حَدَّثَنِي إِسْمَاعِيلُ بْنُ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ سَعْدٍ، عَنْ أَنَسِ بْنِ مَالِكٍ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ خَرَجَ فَرَأَى أُنَاساً يُصَلُّونَ قُعُودًا. فَقَالَ: «صَلَاةُ الْقَاعِدِ عَلَى النِّصْفِ مِنْ صَلَاةِ الْقَائِمِ».

one who prays standing. And whoever performs prayer lying down will have half the reward of one who prays sitting." (Sahih) وَمَنْ صَلَّى قَاعِداً فَلَهُ نِصْفُ أَجْرِ الْقَائِمِ. وَمَنْ صَلَّى نَائِماً فَلَهُ نِصْفُ أَجْرِ الْقَاعِدِ».

Comments:

a. Performing prayer while sitting or lying down without a valid excuse means reduction in reward.

b. Whoever performs prayer lying down shall get less reward even than the one who prays sitting down. Therefore, we must avoid praying while lying down, without a valid reason.

Chapter 142. What Was Narrated Concerning The Prayer Of The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ During His Sickness

(المعجم ١٤٢) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي صَلَاةِ رَسُولِ اللهِ ﷺ فِي مَرَضِهِ (التحفة ١٨١)

1232. It was narrated that 'Âishah said: "When the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ fell ill with the sickness that would be his last" — (one of the narrators) Abu Mu'âwiyah said: "When he was overcome by sickness" — "Bilâl came to tell him that it was time for prayer. He said, 'Tell Abu Bakr to lead the people in prayer." We said: 'O Messenger of Allâh! Abu Bakr is a tenderhearted man, and when he takes your place he will weep and will not be able to do it. Why do you not tell 'Umar to lead the people in prayer?' He said: 'Tell Abu Bakr to lead the people in prayer; you are (like) the female companions of Yusuf.'" She said: "So we sent word to Abu Bakr, and he led the people in prayer. Then the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ

When Abu Bakr realized that he was there, he wanted to step back, but the Prophet ﷺ gestured to him to stay where he was. Comments:

a. The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ attached so much importance to prayer in congregation that even while he was seriously ill, he went out to participate in the congregational prayer.

b. The two persons who supported the Prophet ﷺ while he went out to the mosque were 'Ali and 'Abbâs ﷺ (Sahih Al-Bukhâri: 665).

c. If the Imâm is sitting while leading the prayer, the worshipers should be standing up. Scholars hold the view that this Hadith supersedes those Ahâdith that suggested that if the Imâm, for some personal reason, is sitting down while leading the prayer, the followers (even though they have no such excuse) should also do likewise (Sahih Muslim: 1237).

1233. It was narrated that 'Âishah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ told Abu Bakr to lead the people in prayer when he was sick, and Abu Bakr used to lead them in prayer. Then the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ began to feel a little better, so he came out, and saw Abu Bakr leading the people in prayer. Comments:

a. The number of prayers in which Abu Bakr ؓ led the congregation during the last days of the Prophet ﷺ comes to 17.

b. The incident cited in this Hadith happened on Saturday or Sunday i.e. one or two days before the Prophet ﷺ breathed his last. (Safiur-Rahman Al-Mubârakpuri: The Sealed Nectar, P.476).

1234. It was narrated that Sâlim bin 'Ubaid said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ fainted when he was sick, then he woke up and said: 'Has the time for prayer come?' They said: 'Yes.' He said: 'Tell Bilâl to call the Adhân, and tell Abu Bakr to lead the people in prayer.' Then he fainted, then he woke up and said: 'Has the time for prayer come?' They said: 'Yes.' He said: 'Tell Bilâl to call the Adhân, and tell Abu Bakr to lead the people in prayer.' Then he fainted, then he woke up and said: 'Has the time for prayer come?' They said: 'Yes.' He said: 'Tell Bilâl to call the Adhân, and tell Abu Bakr to lead the people in prayer.' 'Âishah said: 'My father is a tenderhearted man, and if he stands in that place he will weep and will not be able to do it. If you told someone else to do it (that would be better).' Then he fainted, then woke up and

Comments:

a. The fact that, of all the Companions present, the Prophet ﷺ singled out Abu Bakr ؓ to lead the people in prayer, shows his excellence over others.

b. Taking their cue from this incident, the Companions chose none else but Abu Bakr ؓ for the greater office of leadership, i.e., caliphate.

c. In case of necessity, it is allowed in Islam to secure certain appropriate services from a woman other than a Mahram (a near non-marriageable relative) only if there is no possibility of it giving rise to any misunderstanding, or leading to an unwelcome result. Barirah ؓ was a freed handmaid of 'Âishah ؓ . She was thus a freed person during the last days of the Prophet ﷺ. However, the correct position in this case, is that the two persons that lended their support to the Prophet ﷺ were 'Ali and 'Abbâs ؓ (Sahih Al-Bukhâri: 665).

1235. It was narrated that Ibn 'Abbâs said: "When the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ fell ill with what would be his final illness, he was in the house of 'Âishah. He said: 'Call 'Ali for me.' 'Âishah said: 'O Messenger of Allâh, should we call Abu Bakr for you?' He said: 'Call him.' Hafsah said: 'O Messenger of Allâh, should we call 'Umar for you?' He said: 'Call him.' Ummul-Fadl said: 'O Messenger of Allâh, should we call Al-'Abbâs for you?' He said: 'Yes.' When they had gathered, the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ lifted his head, looked and fell silent. 'Umar said: 'Get up and leave the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ.' Then Bilâl came to tell him that the time for prayer had come, and he said: 'Tell Abu Bakr to lead the people in prayer.' 'Âishah said: 'O Messenger of Allâh, Abu Bakr is a soft and tenderhearted man, and if he does not see you, he will weep and the people will weep with him. If you tell 'Umar to lead the people in prayer (that will be better).' Abu Bakr went out and led the people in prayer, then the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ felt a little better, so he came out, supported by two men, with his feet making lines along the ground. When the people saw him, they said: 'Subhân-Allâh,' to alert Abu Bakr. He wanted to step back, but the Prophet ﷺ gestured him to stay where he was. Then the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ came and sat on his right. Abu Bakr

(One of the narrators) Waki' said: "This is the Sunnah." He said: "So Allâh's Messenger ﷺ died during that illness."

Comments:

Although the Hadith mentions that the Prophet ﷺ sat down on the right of Abu Bakr ﷺ, more dependable versions have it that he had sat down on the left of Abu Bakr ﷺ. (Sahih Al-Bukhâri: 713). Other narrations quoted by Sunan Ibn Mâjah simply state that he ﷺ sat on the side of Abu Bakr, without specifying which side.

(المعجم ١٤٣) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي صَلَاةِ رَسُولِ اللهِ ﷺ خَلْفَ رَجُلٍ مِنْ أُمَّتِهِ (التحفة ١٨٢)

Chapter 143. What Was Narrated Concerning The Messenger Of Allâh ﷺ Performing Prayer Behind A Man From His Ummah

١٢٣٦ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ الْمُثَنَّى: حَدَّثَنَا ابْنُ أَبِي عَدِيٍّ، عَنْ حُمَيْدٍ، عَنْ بَكْرِ بْنِ عَبْدِ اللهِ، عَنْ حَمْزَةَ بْنِ الْمُغِيرَةِ بْنِ شُعْبَةَ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ قَالَ: تَخَلَّفَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ. فَانْتَهَيْنَا إِلَى الْقَوْمِ وَقَدْ صَلَّى بِهِمْ عَبْدُ الرَّحْمٰنِ بْنُ عَوْفٍ رَكْعَةً. فَلَمَّا أَحَسَّ بِالنَّبِيِّ ﷺ ذَهَبَ يَتَأَخَّرُ. فَأَوْمَأَ إِلَيْهِ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ أَنْ يُتِمَّ الصَّلَاةَ. قَالَ: «وَقَدْ أَحْسَنْتَ. كَذٰلِكَ فَافْعَلْ».

1236. Hamzah bin Mughirah bin Shu'bah narrated that his father said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ lagged behind (on a journey) and we reached the people when 'Abdur Rahmân bin 'Awf had already led them in one Rak'ah of the prayer. When he realized that the Prophet ﷺ was there, he wanted to step back, but the Prophet ﷺ gestured to him that he should complete the prayer. He said: 'You have done well; do the same in the future.'" (Sahih) تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، الطهارة، باب المسح على الناصية والعمامة، بعد ح:٢٧٤ من حديث حميد الطويل به نحو المعنى، وله طريق آخر عنده، الصلوة، باب المسح على الخفين وغيره.

Comments:

a. The incident happened during the battle of Tabuk.

b. The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ had gone away from the caravan to relieve himself. Mughirah bin Shu'bah had carried water for him. By the time he ﷺ returned, one Rak'ah of the Fajr prayer had already been completed. (Sahih Muslim: 105).

c. The prayer was probably started since nobody knew how long the Prophet ﷺ would take before he comes back.

d. The Companions felt that they had probably erred in not waiting for the Prophet ﷺ. The Prophet ﷺ, therefore, comforted them, by stating that it was a correct decision to start the prayer on time.

Chapter 144. What Was Narrated Concerning The Fact That The Imâm Is Appointed To Be Followed

(المعجم ١٤٤) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي إِنَّمَا جُعِلَ الْإِمَامُ لِيُؤْتَمَّ بِهِ (التحفة ١٨٣)

1237. It was narrated that 'Âishah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ fell ill and some of his Companions came to visit him. The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ performed prayer while sitting down, and they prayed behind him standing up. He gestured them to sit down, and when he finished he said: 'The Imâm is appointed to be followed. When he bows, then bow; when he stands up again, then stand up, and if he prays sitting down then pray sitting down.'" (Sahih) ١٢٣٧ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدَةُ بْنُ سُلَيْمَانَ، عَنْ هِشَامِ بْنِ عُرْوَةَ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ: اشْتَكَى رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ. فَدَخَلَ عَلَيْهِ نَاسٌ مِنْ أَصْحَابِهِ يَعُودُونَهُ. فَصَلَّى النَّبِيُّ ﷺ جَالِساً. فَصَلَّوْا بِصَلَاتِهِ قِيَاماً. فَأَشَارَ إِلَيْهِمْ أَنِ اجْلِسُوا. فَلَمَّا انْصَرَفَ قَالَ: «إِنَّمَا جُعِلَ الْإِمَامُ لِيُؤْتَمَّ بِهِ. فَإِذَا رَكَعَ فَارْكَعُوا. وَإِذَا رَفَعَ فَارْفَعُوا. وَإِذَا صَلَّى جَالِساً فَصَلُّوا جُلُوساً».

Comments:

a. It is permissible for a sick person to perform the prayer in his house.

b. We must visit those who are sick.

c. It is not allowed to precede the Imâm, either in bowing, or in prostration (See H. 960 -963).

d. This Hadith says that, if the Imâm is sitting while leading the prayer, the worshipers should also pray in the sitting position even without an excuse. Scholars, however, hold the view that the ruling was later abrogated since, although the Prophet ﷺ himself led the people in prayer while sitting during his last illness, the Companions performed the prayer behind him standing up, which is the correct way.

1238. It was narrated from Anas bin Mâlik that the Prophet ﷺ fell from his horse and he suffered some lacerations on his right side. We went to visit him and the time for prayer came. He led us in prayer sitting down, and we prayed behind him sitting down. When he finished the prayer he said: "The Imâm is appointed to be followed. When he says Allâhu Akbar, then say Allâhu Akbar; when he bows, then bow; when he says Sami' Allâhu liman hamidah, then say Rabbanâ wa lakal-hamd; when he prostrates then prostrate; and if he prays sitting down then pray sitting down." (Sahih)

١٢٣٨ - حَدَّثَنَا هِشَامُ بْنُ عَمَّارٍ: حَدَّثَنَا سُفْيَانُ بْنُ عُيَيْنَةَ، عَنِ الزُّهْرِيِّ، عَنْ أَنَسِ بْنِ مَالِكٍ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ صُرِعَ عَنْ فَرَسٍ فَجُحِشَ شِقُّهُ الأَيْمَنُ. فَدَخَلْنَا نَعُودُهُ. وَحَضَرَتِ الصَّلاَةُ. فَصَلَّى بِنَا قَاعِداً، وَصَلَّيْنَا وَرَاءَهُ قُعُوداً. فَلَمَّا قَضَى الصَّلاَةَ، قَالَ: «إِنَّمَا جُعِلَ الإِمَامُ لِيُؤْتَمَّ بِهِ. فَإِذَا كَبَّرَ فَكَبِّرُوا. وَإِذَا رَكَعَ فَارْكَعُوا. وَإِذَا قَالَ: سَمِعَ اللهُ لِمَنْ حَمِدَهُ فَقُولُوا: رَبَّنَا وَلَكَ الْحَمْدُ وَإِذَا سَجَدَ فَاسْجُدُوا. وَإِذَا صَلَّى قَاعِداً فَصَلُّوا قُعُوداً أَجْمَعِينَ».

Comments:

a. The Arabic word 'Juhisha' means to be bruised lightly in the skin.

b. The Hadith has been taken to mean that the Imâm shall only say Sami' Allâhu liman hamidah, while the followers shall say Rabbanâ wa lakal-hamd. However, it is proven that the Prophet ﷺ, while leading in the prayer used to utter both the sentences. (See H. 875 & 878) Therefore, the view relating to the distribution of the words does not appear to be correct.

1239. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'The Imâm is appointed to be followed. When 1240. It was narrated that Jâbir said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ fell ill, and we prayed behind him while he was sitting down, and Abu Bakr was saying the Takbir so that the people could hear them. He turned to us and saw us standing, so he gestured to us to sit down. When he had said the Salâm, he said: 'You were about to do the action of the Persians and Romans, who remain standing while their kings are seated. Do not do that. Follow the lead of your Imâm; if he prays standing, then pray standing, and if he prays sitting down, then pray sitting down.'" (Sahih)

Comments:

a. Persians and Romans were non-Muslims. Iranians were worshipers of fire (Zoroastrians) and the Romans were Christians following their tampered-with Christian faith. The Prophet ﷺ has commanded the believers to avoid the resemblance of disbelievers.

b. To continue to stand up before a seated 'holy man', or a chief of a clan, or a religious scholar, or a spiritual guide, is not the way of Islam or Muslims. We must avoid such habits and traditions..

Chapter 145. What Was Narrated Concerning Qunut In The Fajr Prayer

(المعجم ١٤٥) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي الْقُنُوتِ فِي صَلَاةِ الْفَجْرِ (التحفة ١٨٤)

1241. Sa'd bin Târiq said: "I said to my father: 'O my father! You prayed behind the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ and behind Abu Bakr, 'Umar and 'Uthmân, and behind 'Ali here in Kufah for about five years. Did they recite Qunut in Fajr?' He said: 'O my son! That is an innovation.'" (Sahih)

١٢٤١ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللهِ بْنُ إِدْرِيسَ، وَ حَفْصُ بْنُ غِيَاثٍ، وَ يَزِيدُ بْنُ هَارُونَ، عَنْ أَبِي مَالِكٍ الأَشْجَعِيِّ، سَعْدِ بْنِ طَارِقٍ قَالَ، قُلْتُ لِأَبِي: يَا أَبَتِ إِنَّكَ قَدْ صَلَّيْتَ خَلْفَ رَسُولِ اللهِ ﷺ وَأَبِي بَكْرٍ وَعُمَرَ وَعُثْمَانَ وعَلِيٍّ هٰهُنَا بِالْكُوفَةِ، نَحْواً مِنْ خَمْسِ سِنِينَ. فَكَانُوا يَقْنُتُونَ فِي الْفَجْرِ؟ فَقَالَ: أَيْ بُنَيَّ مُحْدَثٌ.

تخريج: [إسناده صحيح] أخرجه الترمذي، الصلوة، باب ماجاء في ترك القنوت، ح:٤٠٢ من حديث يزيد به نحوه، وقال: حسن صحيح.

Comments:

Târiq ﷺ does not say that the Qunut as a rule is Bid'ah (innovation). He only says that reciting the Qunut regularly in the of Fajr prayer is innovation. We gather from this, that sometimes an action in itself is Sunnah, but doing it in the wrong way, or making arbitrary additions or deletions in it, makes it an innovation. In other words, it is the particular manner of doing an that act.

1242. It was narrated that Umm Salamah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ was forbidden to recite Qunut in Fajr." (Maudu')

١٢٤٢ - حَدَّثَنَا حَاتِمُ بْنُ [بَكْرٍ] الضَّبِّيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ يَعْلَى، زُنْبُورٌ: حَدَّثَنَا عَنْبَسَةُ ابْنُ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمٰنِ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ نَافِعٍ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ أُمِّ سَلَمَةَ قَالَتْ: نُهِيَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ عَنِ الْقُنُوتِ فِي الْفَجْرِ.

1243. It was narrated from Anas bin Mâlik that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ used to recite Qunut in The Subh prayer, and he used to supplicate in it against one of the Arab tribes for a month, then he stopped doing so. (Sahih) ١٢٤٣ - حَدَّثَنَا نَصْرُ بْنُ عَلِيٍّ الْجَهْضَمِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا يَزِيدُ بْنُ زُرَيْعٍ: حَدَّثَنَا هِشَامٌ، عَنْ قَتَادَةَ، عَنْ أَنَسِ بْنِ مَالِكٍ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ، كَانَ يَقْنُتُ فِي صَلاَةِ الصُّبْحِ. يَدْعُو عَلَى حَيٍّ مِنْ أَحْيَاءِ الْعَرَبِ، شَهْراً. ثُمَّ تَرَكَ.

Comments:

a. The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ had recited this Qunut Nâzilah (supplication in the event of a calamity or distress) against the tribe of Mudar. They were disbelievers in those days, and created many hardships for the Muslims.

b. 'He stopped doing so' means: He stopped supplicating against that particular tribe, because the Muslims living in their midst who were perceived as weak, and therefore ill-treated, had got their deliverance from them. Some of the people take such Ahâdith to mean that thenceforth he never recited the Qunut Nâzilah. This is patently wrong. We may still recite it if the situation so demands.

1244. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "When the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ raised his head from Ruku' in the Subh prayer, he said: 'O Allâh, save Al-Walid bin Walid, Salamah bin Hishâm and 'Ayyâsh bin Abu Rabi'ah, and the oppressed in Makkah. O Allâh, tighten Your grip on Mudar, and send them years of famine like the famine of Yusuf." (Sahih) ١٢٤٤ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا سُفْيَانُ بْنُ عُيَيْنَةَ، عَنِ الزُّهْرِيِّ، عَنْ سَعِيدِ بْنِ الْمُسَيَّبِ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ: لَمَّا رَفَعَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ رَأْسَهُ مِنْ صَلاَةِ الصُّبْحِ قَالَ: «اللَّهُمَّ أَنْجِ الْوَلِيدَ بْنَ الْوَلِيدِ، وَسَلَمَةَ بْنَ هِشَامٍ، وَعَيَّاشَ بْنَ أَبِي رَبِيعَةَ، وَالْمُسْتَضْعَفِينَ بِمَكَّةَ. اللَّهُمَّ اشْدُدْ وَطْأَتَكَ عَلَى مُضَرَ، وَاجْعَلْهَا عَلَيْهِمْ سِنِينَ كَسِنِي يُوسُفَ».

تخريج: أخرجه البخاري، الأدب، باب تسمية الوليد، ح:٦٢٠٠، ومسلم، المساجد، الباب السابق، ح:٦٧٥ من حديث سفيان به.

Comments:

a. The proper place to recite Qunut Nâzilah (supplication in the event of a calamity) is after rising from Ruku' in the last Rak'ah.

b. In it, the Imâm recites appropriate supplications in a raised voice.

Chapter 146. What Was Narrated Concerning Killing Snakes And Scorpions During The Prayer

(المعجم ١٤٦) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي قَتْلِ الْحَيَّةِ وَالعَقْرَبِ فِي الصَّلَاةِ (التحفة ١٨٥)

1245. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Prophet ﷺ commanded killing the two black ones during prayer; the scorpion and the snake. (Sahih)

١٢٤٥ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ، وَ مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ الصَّبَّاحِ قَالاَ: حَدَّثَنَا سُفْيَانُ بْنُ عُيَيْنَةَ، عَنْ مَعْمَرٍ، عَنْ يَحْيَى بْنِ أَبِي كَثِيرٍ، عَنْ ضَمْضَمِ بْنِ جَوْسٍ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ أَمَرَ بِقَتْلِ الأَسْوَدَيْنِ فِي الصَّلاَةِ: الْعَقْرَبِ وَالْحَيَّةِ.

Comments:

There are several other actions reported, which were done either by the Prophet ﷺ, or the Companions, that will not invalidate the prayer. Cases in point are: answering someone's greetings through gesture, performing prayer while holding a child, and stopping anyone from passing in front of the worshiper, and so on.

1246. It was narrated that 'Âishah said: "The Prophet ﷺ was stung by a scorpion while he was performing prayer, and he said: 'May Allâh curse the scorpion, for it does not spare anyone, whether he is praying or not. Kill them whether you are in Ihrâm or not.'" In Al-Hill (outside the sacred precincts of Makkah) or Al-haram (the sacred precincts of Makkah). (Hasan)

١٢٤٦ - حَدَّثَنَا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ عُثْمَانَ بْنِ حَكِيمٍ الأَوْدِيُّ، وَ الْعَبَّاسُ بْنُ جَعْفَرٍ قَالاَ: حَدَّثَنَا عَلِيُّ بْنُ ثَابِتٍ الدَّهَّانُ: حَدَّثَنَا الْحَكَمُ بْنُ عَبْدِ الْمَلِكِ، عَنْ قَتَادَةَ، عَنْ سَعِيدِ بْنِ الْمُسَيَّبِ، عَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ: لَدَغَتِ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ عَقْرَبٌ وَهُوَ فِي الصَّلاَةِ. فَقَالَ: «لَعَنَ اللهُ الْعَقْرَبَ. مَا تَدَعُ الْمُصَلِّيَ وَغَيْرَ الْمُصَلِّي. اقْتُلُوهَا فِي الْحِلِّ وَالْحَرَمِ».

Comments:

a. Although, as a rule, hunting animals is forbidden within the sacred precincts of Makkah, noxious insects and animals can be killed even there.

b. As a human being, the Prophet ﷺ was liable to all the pains and hardships suffered by any other person, such as falling ill, getting wounded, experiencing hunger and thirst, feeling happy or sad, and forgetting things. In all of these circumstances, the words and actions of the Prophet ﷺ present the best exemplar before us.

1247. It was narrated from Ibn Abu Râfi', from his father, from his grandfather, that the Prophet ﷺ killed a scorpion while he was praying. (Da'if)

Chapter 147. The Prohibition Of Prayer After The Fajr And After The 'Asr

(المعجم ١٤٧) - بَابُ النَّهْيِ عَنِ الصَّلَاةِ بَعْدَ الْفَجْرِ وَبَعْدَ الْعَصْرِ (التحفة ١٨٦)

1248. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ forbade two prayers: prayer after the Fajr until the sun has risen, and prayer after 'Asr until the sun has set. (Sahih)

Comments:

Some of the scholars have made a distinction between causal and non-causal prayers, which is to say that the prayer for which the cause was generated, during that very particular time, can be performed even during the time termed as 'undesirable'. Cases in point are: Tahiyyatul-Masjid, the two Rak'ah of Tawâf (circling round the Ka'bah), and the funeral prayer, etc. Prayers other than these (e.g. voluntary prayers), are not allowed to be performed in those hours.

1249. It was narrated from Abu Sa'eed Al-Khudri that the Prophet ﷺ said: "There is no prayer after the 'Asr until the sun has set, and there is no prayer after the Fajr until the sun has risen." (Sahih)

It was narrated that Ibn 'Abbâs said: "Good men among whom was 'Umar bin Khattâb, and the best of them in my view is 'Umar, testified before me that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'There is no prayer after Fajr until the sun has risen, and there is no prayer after the 'Asr until the sun has set.'" Comments:

'He testified" means that he stated as confidently and emphatically as one would while testifying before a recognized authority, that he clearly remembers that the Prophet ﷺ did say so and so in the very words quoted by him.

Then refrain from praying until the sun has risen, and as long as it looks like a shield until it becomes apparent. Then pray as much as you want until a pole stands on its shadow (i.e., noon), then refrain from praying until it has crossed the zenith, for Hell is heated up at midday. Comments:

a. Tahajjud prayer can be performed in any part of the night, but the time for it only begins after one has performed his 'Ishâ' prayer. Even a person who is is late for his 'Ishâ' prayer shall perform Tahajjud only after his Ishâ'.

e. The sun's rising and setting between the two horns of Satan means, that when the idolaters prostrate themselves before the sun, Satan comes and stands in between the man and the sun, so that he becomes the object of the prostration. Satan immensely relishes the sight, because in the worship of the sun, he sees it as truly the worship of himself.

1252. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "Safwân bin Mu'attal asked the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ: 'O Messenger of Allâh, I want to ask you about something of which you have knowledge

It was narrated from Abu 'Abdullâh As-Sunâbihi that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "The sun rises between the two horns of Satan" or he said "The two horns of Satan rise with it, and when it has risen, Satan parts from it. When it is in the middle of the sky he accompanies it, then when it has crossed the zenith he parts from it. When it is about to set, he accompanies it, and when it has set he parts from it. So do not pray at these three times." (Sahih)

Comments:

Shaikh Albâni ﷺ has dubbed this Hadith as 'Weak'. The reason being that, among other things, it mentions that noon is the time when the two horns of Satan draw close to the sun while, contrary to this, other sound Ahâdith state that the reason for refraining from performing the prayer at noon is that at that time, Hell is heated up. The remaining part of the Hadith is, however, in agreement with other Ahâdith.

Comments:

There is no time fixed either for making Tawâf of the Sacred House, or refraining from it at any time of the day or night.

After making seven rounds of Tawâf (circumambulating or circling the Sacred Ka'bah) one has to perform a prayer of two Rak'ah. And since this prayer is associated with Tawâf, it can also be performed at any time of the day or night, without any time being disliked for it.

Comments:

There is so much emphasis in Islam on unity in communal life that even if the rulers take to performing the prayers at wrong times, the institution of prayer-in-congregation must be maintained. It is, nevertheless, incumbent upon the scholars to make an effort to explain the rules of Shari'ah to the leaders and rulers, and persuade them to abide by those rules.

Being it of vital importance to perform prayers at the earliest prescribed times, one should offer the prayer by himself at home at an early hour. However, if timings for prayers in the mosques are fixed by mutual consultation among the Muslims, without intervention from the authorities, it is essential that early hours be fixed for the performance of prayers.

1256. It was narrated from Abu Dharr that the Prophet ﷺ said: "Offer prayer on time, and if you reached the Imâm leading them in prayers (on time), then perform it with them, and you will be safe with your prayer, otherwise it will be voluntary for you." (Sahih)

١٢٥٨ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ الصَّبَّاحِ: أَنْبَأَنَا جَرِيرٌ، عَنْ عُبَيْدِ اللهِ بْنِ عُمَرَ، عَنْ نَافِعٍ، عَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ، فِي صَلاَةِ الْخَوْفِ: «أَنْ يَكُونَ الإِمَامُ يُصَلِّي بِطَائِفَةٍ مَعَهُ. فَيَسْجُدُونَ سَجْدَةً وَاحِدَةً. وَتَكُونُ طَائِفَةٌ مِنْهُمْ بَيْنَهُمْ وَبَيْنَ الْعَدُوِّ. ثُمَّ يَنْصَرِفُ الَّذِينَ سَجَدُوا السَّجْدَةَ مَعَ أَمِيرِهِمْ. ثُمَّ يَكُونُونَ مَكَانَ الَّذِينَ لَمْ يُصَلُّوا. وَيَتَقَدَّمُ الَّذِينَ لَمْ يُصَلُّوا فَيُصَلُّوا مَعَ أَمِيرِهِمْ سَجْدَةً وَاحِدَةً. ثُمَّ يَنْصَرِفُ أَمِيرُهُمْ وَقَدْ صَلَّى صَلاَتَهُ. وَيُصَلِّي كُلُّ وَاحِدٍ مِنَ الطَّائِفَتَيْنِ بِصَلاَتِهِ سَجْدَةً لِنَفْسِهِ. فَإِنْ كَانَ خَوْفٌ أَشَدَّ مِنْ ذٰلِكَ، فَرِجَالاً أَوْ رُكْبَاناً».

قَالَ: يَعْنِي بِالسَّجْدَةِ الرَّكْعَةَ.

1258. It was narrated that Ibn 'Umar said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said concerning the fear prayer: "The Imâm should lead one group in prayer, and they should perform one prostration, and there should be another group between them and the enemy (guarding them). Then those who did the prostration with their leader should move away, and take the place of those who have not yet prayed. Then those who have not yet prayed should come forward and perform one prostration with their leader. Then their leader should move away, and his prayer will be complete. Then each group should perform one prostration by itself. If the fear is too great, then (they should pray) on foot or riding.'" He said: What is meant by prostration here is a Rak'ah. (Sahih) تخريج: [إسناده صحيح].

Comments:

The strategy charted out in the Hadith is meant to be implemented only if the enemy is not on the side of Qiblah. What the Hadith says here, is that the Islamic battalion shall be divided into two groups. One group shall first pray one Rak'ah behind the Imâm, while the other group shall remain standing, ahead of the congregation facing the enemy. When the first group has finished its one Rak'ah, it shall move out and relieve the other group, which shall now come and pray one Rak'ah with the Imâm. The one Rak'ah thus missed shall be performed by each group by itself in their respective places, just as an individual completes his missed Rak'ah after the Imâm has completed the prayer. If the known procedure of prayer cannot be implemented, bowing and prostration can be performed through gesture, irrespective of whether or not one is facing the Qiblah.

1259. It was narrated from Sahl bin Abu Hathmah that he said concerning the fear prayer: "The Imâm should stand facing the Qiblah, and a group of them should stand with him, and another group should stand in the direction of the enemy, facing towards the row (of worshipers). He should lead them in one Rak'ah, then they should bow and do two prostrations by themselves where they are. Then they should go and take the place of the others, and the others should come and pray one Rak'ah, bowing and prostrating with the leader. Then he will have prayed two Rak'ah and they will have prayed one; then they should perform another Rak'ah, bowing and performing two prostrations." (Sahih)

1260. It was narrated from Jâbir bin 'Abdullâh that the Prophet ﷺ led his Companions in the fear prayer. He led them all in bowing, then the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ and the row nearest him prostrated, and the others stood up, then when he stood up, they prostrated twice by themselves. Then the front row moved back and took their place, and they moved forward until they formed the front row. Then the Prophet ﷺ led them all in bowing, then the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ and the row nearest him prostrated, and when they raised their heads, the others prostrated twice. So all of them bowed with the Prophet ﷺ and some of them prostrated by themselves, and the enemy was in the direction of the Qiblah. (Sahih)

Chapter 152. What Was Narrated Concerning The Eclipse Prayer

(المعجم ١٥٢) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي صَلَاةِ الْكُسُوفِ (التحفة ١٩١)

1261. It was narrated that Abu Mas'ud said: The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "The sun and the moon do not become eclipsed for the death of anyone among mankind. If you see that, then stand and perform prayer." (Sahih)

Comments:

The Day of Resurrection will be the day when the sun and moon shall lose their lights. The eclipsing of the sun and the moon should remind us of the Day of Resurrection, which will be a frightful day. Those indulging in sins in this world, must call to their minds the horrors of the impending Doom. They should bow in humility before Allâh, and implore Him to forgive their sins. That is the reason why the Prophet ﷺ has left behind the Sunnah of performing prolonged prayer on this occasion. The formula for this prayer is given in Ahâdith 1263 & 1265.

1262. It was narrated that Nu'mân bin Bashir said: "The sun was eclipsed at the time of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ, and he came out alarmed, dragging his lower garment, until he reached the mosque. He continued to perform prayer until the eclipse was over, then he said: 'Some people claim that the sun and moon only become eclipsed because of the death of a great leader. That is not so. The sun and the moon do not become eclipsed for the death or birth of anyone. When Allâh manifests Himself to anything in His

Comments:

a. The Prophet's coming out of the house 'dragging his lower garment' means his coming out in great haste, so much so that he even adjusted his garment after he had come out of the house.

b. The Prophet ﷺ used to recite for a long time, bow for a long time and prostrate for a long time whenever there was a solar or lunar eclipse.

1263. It was narrated that 'Âishah said: "The sun was eclipsed during the life of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ. The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ went out to the mosque and stood and said the Takbir, and the people formed rows behind him. The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ recited for a long time, then he said the Takbir and bowed for a long time. Then he raised his head and said: 'Sami' Allâhu liman hamidah, Rabbanâ wa lakal-hamd.' Then he stood and recited for a long time, but shorter than the first recitation. Then he said the Takbir and bowed for a long time, but less than the first bowing. Then he said: 'Sami' Allâhu liman hamidah, Rabbanâ wa lakal-hamd.' Then he did the same in the next Rak'ah, and he completed four Rak'ah and four sets of prostration, and the eclipse ended before he finished. Then he stood and addressed the people. He praised Allâh as He deserves to be praised, then he said: 'The sun and the moon are two of the

Comments:

a. The Hadith teaches us how to perform the eclipse prayer, namely that each Rak'ah shall have two Ruku' and, unlike other prayers, the first Ruku' in the eclipse prayer shall again be followed by recitation.
   Even on rising from the first Ruku', the words Sami' Allâhu liman hamidah are to be recited, as is customary in other prayers as well.
b. It is a prayer that must be performed in both the lunar eclipse and the solar eclipse.

1264. It was narrated that Samurah bin Jundab said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ led us in the eclipse prayer, and we did not hear his voice." (Hasan)

Comments:

The previous Hadith speaks of continuing the recitation for a long time, and the words of the Hadith seem to suggest that it was a prayer of audible recitation.

1265. It was narrated that Asmâ' bint Abu Bakr said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ performed the eclipse prayer. He stood for a long time, then he bowed for a long time, then he stood up and stood for a long time, then he bowed for a long time, then he stood up, then he prostrated for a

Comments:

Imâm Bukhâri has inferred the rule from this Hadith that the prayer of a person will be in order despite the presence, in front of him, of anything such as fire (which some people take as an object of worship) if the person concerned has the intention of prostrating himself only before Allâh. (Sahih Al-Bukhâri: 731).

Chapter 153. What Was Narrated Concerning The Prayer For Rain

(المعجم ١٥٣) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي صَلاَةِ الاسْتِسْقَاءِ (التحفة ١٩٢)

1266. It was narrated from Hishâm bin Ishâq bin 'Abdullâh bin Kinânah that his father said:

١٢٦٦ - حَدَّثَنَا عَلِيُّ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ، وَ مُحَمَّدُ ابْنُ إِسْمَاعِيلَ، قَالاَ: حَدَّثَنَا وَكِيعٌ، عَنْ

سُفْيَانَ، عَنْ هِشَامِ بْنِ إِسْحَاقَ بْنِ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ كِنَانَةَ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ قَالَ: أَرْسَلَنِي أَمِيرٌ مِنَ الأُمَرَاءِ إِلَى ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ أَسْأَلُهُ عَنِ الصَّلَاةِ فِي الاسْتِسْقَاءِ. فَقَالَ ابْنُ عَبَّاسٍ: مَا مَنَعَهُ أَنْ يَسْأَلَنِي؟ قَالَ: خَرَجَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ مُتَوَاضِعاً مُتَبَذِّلاً مُتَخَشِّعاً مُتَرَسِّلاً مُتَضَرِّعاً. فَصَلَّى رَكْعَتَيْنِ كَمَا يُصَلِّي فِي الْعِيدِ. وَلَمْ يَخْطُبْ خُطْبَتَكُمْ هٰذِهِ.

"One of the chiefs[1] sent me to Ibn 'Abbâs to ask him about the prayer for rain. Ibn 'Abbâs said: 'What kept him from asking me?' He said: 'The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ went out humbly, walking with a humble and moderate gait, imploring, and he performed two Rak'ah as he used to pray for 'Eid, but he did not give a sermon like this sermon of yours.'" (Hasan) تخريج: [إسناده حسن] أخرجه أبو داود، صلوٰة الاستسقاء، باب جماع أبواب صلوٰة الاستسقاء وتفريعها، ح:١١٦٥ من حديث هشام بن إسحاق به، وصححه الترمذي، وابن خزيمة، وابن حبان.

Comments:

a. Prayer for rain is two Rak'ah, and the time for offering it is after the sun has risen. It is, moreover, offered in an open place — the place used for 'Eid prayers. That is why Ibn 'Abbâs ؓ has likened it to 'Eid prayer.

b. 'He did not give a sermon like this sermon of yours' means that the sermon given by the Prophet ﷺ on this occasion was basically a supplication to Allâh, and unlike you, he did not lengthen it by mixing it with unnecessary excessive words.

١٢٦٧ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ الصَّبَّاحِ: حَدَّثَنَا سُفْيَانُ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ أَبِي بَكْرٍ قَالَ: سَمِعْتُ عَبَّادَ بْنَ تَمِيمٍ يُحَدِّثُ أَبِي، عَنْ عَمِّهِ أَنَّهُ شَهِدَ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ خَرَجَ إِلَى الْمُصَلَّى يَسْتَسْقِي. فَاسْتَقْبَلَ الْقِبْلَةَ، وَقَلَبَ رِدَاءَهُ وَصَلَّى رَكْعَتَيْنِ.

1267. It was narrated that 'Abdullâh bin Abu Bakr said: "I heard 'Abbâd bin Tamim narrating to my father that his paternal uncle had seen the Prophet ﷺ going out to the prayer place to pray for rain. He faced the Qiblah and turned his cloak around, and prayed two Rak'ah."

حدّثنا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ الصَّبَّاحِ: أَنْبَأَنَا سُفْيَانُ، عَنْ يَحْيَى بْنِ سَعِيدٍ، عَنْ أَبِي بَكْرِ بْنِ مُحَمَّدِ ابْنِ عَمْرِو بْنِ حَزْمٍ، عَنْ عَبَّادِ بْنِ تَمِيمٍ، عَنْ عَمِّهِ، عَنِ النَّبِيِّ ﷺ بِمِثْلِهِ.

(One of the narrators) Muhammad bin Sabbâh said: "Sufyân told us something similar, narrating from Yahya bin Sa'eed, from Abu Bakr bin Muhammad bin 'Amr bin Hazm, from 'Abbâd bin Tamim, from his paternal uncle, from the Prophet ﷺ."

Sufyân narrated that Al-Mas'udi said: "I asked Abu Bakr bin Muhammad bin 'Amr: 'Did he turn it upside down or right to left?' He said: 'No, it was right to left.'" (Sahih) قَالَ سُفْيَانُ، عَنِ الْمَسْعُودِيِّ قَالَ: سَأَلْتُ أَبَا بَكْرِ بْنَ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ عَمْرٍو: أَجَعَلَ أَعْلاَهُ أَسْفَلَهُ، أَوِ الْيَمِينَ عَلَى الشِّمَالِ؟ قَالَ: لاَ. بَلِ الْيَمِينَ عَلَى الشِّمَالِ.

Comments:

a. The act of 'turning the cloak over' was like backing up the oral petition to Allâh with the physical form of supplication, and a way to implore Almighty Allâh to change their plight (from famine to a bountiful condition) even as His slave and Messenger had changed the manner of wearing his robe.

b. It is a Sunnah to supplicate to Allâh after the 'prayer for rain' with the back of one's hands turned towards the face.

1268. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ went out one day to pray for rain. He led us in praying two Rak'ah without any Adhân or Iqâmah, then he addressed us and supplicated to Allâh. He turned to face the Qiblah, raising his hands, then he turned his cloak around, putting its right on the left and its left on the right." (Da'if)

Chapter 154. What Was Narrated Concerning Supplication For Rain

(المعجم ١٥٤) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي الدُّعَاءِ فِي الاِسْتِسْقَاءِ (التحفة ١٩٣)

1269. It was narrated from Shurahbil bin Simt that he said to Ka'b: "O Ka'b bin Murrah, narrate to us a Hadith from the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ, but be careful." He said: "A man came to the Prophet ﷺ and said: 'O Messenger of Allâh, ask Allâh for rain!' So the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ raised his hands and said: 'O Allâh! Send wholesome, productive rain upon all of us, sooner rather than later, beneficial and not harmful.' No sooner had they finished performing Friday (prayer) but they were revived. Then they came to him and complained to him about the rain, saying: 'O Messenger of Allâh, the houses have been destroyed!' He said: 'O Allâh, around us and not upon us.' Then the clouds began to disperse right and left." (Hasan) ١٢٦٩ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو كُرَيْبٍ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو مُعَاوِيَةَ، عَنِ الأَعْمَشِ، عَنْ عَمْرِو بْنِ مُرَّةَ، عَنْ سَالِمِ بْنِ أَبِي الْجَعْدِ، عَنْ شُرَحْبِيلَ بْنِ السِّمْطِ أَنَّهُ قَالَ لِكَعْبٍ: يَا كَعْبُ بْنَ مُرَّةَ حَدِّثْنَا عَنْ رَسُولِ اللهِ ﷺ وَاحْذَرْ. قَالَ: جَاءَ رَجُلٌ إِلَى النَّبِيِّ ﷺ فَقَالَ: يَا رَسُولَ اللهِ اسْتَسْقِ اللهَ. فَرَفَعَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ يَدَيْهِ فَقَالَ: «اللَّهُمَّ اسْقِنَا غَيْثاً مَرِيئاً مَرِيعاً طَبَقاً عَاجِلاً غَيْرَ رَائِثٍ، نَافِعاً غَيْرَ ضَارٍّ». قَالَ، فَمَا جَمَّعُوا حَتَّى أُحْيُوا. قَالَ، فَأَتَوْهُ فَشَكَوْا إِلَيْهِ الْمَطَرَ، فَقَالُوا: يَا رَسُولَ اللهِ! تَهَدَّمَتِ الْبُيُوتُ. فَقَالَ: «اللَّهُمَّ حَوَالَيْنَا وَلاَ عَلَيْنَا»، قَالَ: فَجَعَلَ السَّحَابُ يَنْقَطِعُ يَمِيناً وَشِمَالاً.

Comments:

a. It is all right to ask a man of virtue and piety to invoke Allâh for mercy, regardless of whether the matter is of individual concern or of communal interest.

b. The instant answering of the prayer by Allâh, was both an act of His mercy, as well as a proof of the veracity of the prophethood of Prophet Muhammad ﷺ, and a miracle performed by him by Allâh's permission.

c. The supplication for rain contained in the Hadith stands more chances of meeting with Allâh's grace and quicker acceptance.

1270. It was narrated that Ibn 'Abbâs said: "A Bedouin came to the Prophet ﷺ and said: 'O Messenger of Allâh, I have come to you from people who have no place to graze their flocks and even their male camels have become weak. He mounted the pulpit and praised Allâh, then he said: 'O Allâh, send upon us all abundant, wholesome rain, productive and plentiful, sooner rather than later.' Then the rain came down, and no one came to him from any direction but they said: 'We have been revived.'" (Da'if) ١٢٧٠ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ أَبِي الْقَاسِمِ، أَبُو الأَحْوَصِ: حَدَّثَنَا الْحَسَنُ بْنُ الرَّبِيعِ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللهِ بْنُ إِدْرِيسَ: حَدَّثَنَا حُصَيْنٌ، عَنْ حَبِيبِ بْنِ أَبِي ثَابِتٍ، عَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَ: جَاءَ أَعْرَابِيٌّ إِلَى النَّبِيِّ ﷺ فَقَالَ: يَا رَسُولَ اللهِ! لَقَدْ جِئْتُكَ مِنْ عِنْدِ قَوْمٍ مَا يَتَزَوَّدُ لَهُمْ رَاعٍ، وَلاَ يَخْطِرُ لَهُمْ فَحْلٌ. فَصَعِدَ الْمِنْبَرَ، فَحَمِدَ اللهَ، ثُمَّ قَالَ: «اللَّهُمَّ اسْقِنَا غَيْثاً مُغِيثاً مَرِيئاً طَبَقاً مَرِيعاً غَدَقاً عَاجِلاً غَيْرَ رَائِثٍ» ثُمَّ نَزَلَ. فَمَا يَأْتِيهِ أَحَدٌ مِنْ وَجْهٍ مِنَ الْوُجُوهِ إِلَّا قَالُوا: قَدْ أُحْيِينَا.

Comments:

a. The Arabic words 'mâ yatazawwadu lahum râ'in' (literally, no shepherd goes out for collecting provisions of the journey) is a figurative expression meaning: The shepherds do not take their herds out of their settlements as there are no grazing grounds left, because of acute drought, and as a result the cattle are dying.

b. 'Lâ yakhtiru lahum fahlun' (literally, no male camel moves its tail again and again to hit its sides) is also a figurative expression meaning that hunger has weakened even the strongest of animals, like male camels, to the degree that they keep standing listlessly, even without moving their tails.

1271. Mu'tamir narrated from his father, from Barakah, from Bashir bin Nahik, from Abu Hurairah: "The Prophet ﷺ supplicated for rain (raising his hands) until I saw or one could see the whiteness of his armpits." (Sahih)

(One of the narrators) Mu'tamir said: "I think it was during the prayer for rain."[1]

١٢٧١ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا عَفَّانُ: حَدَّثَنَا مُعْتَمِرٌ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ بَرَكَةَ، عَنْ بَشِيرِ بْنِ نَهِيكٍ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ اسْتَسْقَى حَتَّى رَأَيْتُ، أَوْ رُئِيَ بَيَاضَ إِبْطَيْهِ.

قَالَ مُعْتَمِرٌ: أُرَاهُ فِي الاسْتِسْقَاءِ.

[1] That is: "I think that rain is mentioned in the narration." It was narrated by Ibn Khuzaimah in his Sahih no. 1413 through a route from Muhammad bin Abu 'Adi from Sulaimân At-Taimi from Barakah. And This Sulaimân is the father of Mu'tamir who

Comments:

a. Supplication for rain should be long, reflective of man's submissiveness and humility before Allâh.

b. While supplicating for rain, the hands in prayers must be raised higher than usual.

1272. Sâlim narrated that his father said: "Sometimes I remember the words of the poet when I was looking at the face of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ on the pulpit. He did not come down until all the waterspouts in Al-Madinah were filled with rain. And I remember what the poet said:

'He has a white complexion and rain is sought by virtue of his countenance,

He cares for the orphans, and protects the widows.'

These are the words of Abu Tâlib." (Hasan)

١٢٧٢ - حَدَّثَنَا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ الأَزْهَرِ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو النَّضْرِ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو عَقِيلٍ، عَنْ عُمَرَ بْنِ حَمْزَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا سَالِمٌ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ قَالَ: رُبَّمَا ذَكَرْتُ قَوْلَ الشَّاعِرِ وَأَنَا أَنْظُرُ إِلَى وَجْهِ رَسُولِ اللهِ ﷺ عَلَى الْمِنْبَرِ. فَمَا نَزَلَ حَتَّى جَيَّشَ كُلُّ مِيزَابٍ بِالْمَدِينَةِ. فَأَذْكُرُ قَوْلَ الشَّاعِرِ:

وَأَبْيَضَ يُسْتَسْقَى الْغَمَامُ بِوَجْهِهِ

ثِمَالُ الْيَتَامَى، عِصْمَةٌ لِلأَرَامِلِ

وَهُوَ قَوْلُ أَبِي طَالِبٍ.

Comments:

Taking the person of the Prophet ﷺ as a medium of approach (Wasilah) for Allâh in supplication is the way of Abu Tâlib who lived a disbeliever and died a disbeliever. The Companions, however, had a perfect understanding of the teachings of the Islamic faith, as well as of the demands of monotheism, and the limits imposed by Islam in their expression of love for the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ. They always made a request to the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ to supplicate to Allâh for them, as long as he was alive. In other is mentioned by him in this narration. Ibn Khuzaimah's version has it: "I saw Allâh's Messenger ﷺ extending his hands, until I saw the whiteness of his armpits." And after it; "Sulaimân said: 'I think that he was supplicating for the rain.'" So it is clear that Mu'tamir was trying to remember what he heard his father narrate, and that the original does not contain the mention of rain, and Allâh knows best.

words, they made the supplication of the Prophet ﷺ, and not his person, as their means of approach to Allâh.

Chapter 155. What Was Narrated Concerning The 'Eid Prayers

(المعجم ١٥٥) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي صَلَاةِ الْعِيدَيْنِ (التحفة ١٩٤)

1273. It was narrated that 'Atâ' said: "I heard Ibn 'Abbâs say: 'I bear witness that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ prayed before the sermon, then he delivered the sermon. And he thought that the women had not heard, so he went over to them and reminded them (of Allâh) and preached to them and enjoined them to give in charity, and Bilâl was spreading his hands like this, and the women started giving their earrings, rings and things.'" (Sahih)

١٢٧٣ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ الصَّبَّاحِ: أَنْبَأَنَا سُفْيَانُ بْنُ عُيَيْنَةَ، عَنْ أَيُّوبَ، عَنْ عَطَاءٍ قَالَ: سَمِعْتُ ابْنَ عَبَّاسٍ يَقُولُ: أَشْهَدُ عَلَى رَسُولِ اللهِ ﷺ أَنَّهُ صَلَّى قَبْلَ الْخُطْبَةِ، ثُمَّ خَطَبَ، فَرَأَى أَنَّهُ لَمْ يُسْمِعِ النِّسَاءَ. فَأَتَاهُنَّ فَذَكَّرَهُنَّ وَوَعَظَهُنَّ وَأَمَرَهُنَّ بِالصَّدَقَةِ. وَبِلَالٌ قَائِلٌ بِيَدَيْهِ هٰكَذَا. فَجَعَلَتِ الْمَرْأَةُ تُلْقِي الْخُرْصَ وَالْخَاتَمَ وَالشَّيْءَ.

Comments:

The words 'I bear witness' have been used by Ibn 'Abbâs ﷺ to underline the fact that he is narrating the Hadith with full assurance, since he clearly remembers every word of it. It is like a person stating something under oath to dispel any doubts concerning the veracity of his statement.

1274. It was narrated from Ibn 'Abbâs that the Prophet ﷺ prayed on the day of 'Eid with no Adhân and no Iqâmah. (Sahih) ١٢٧٤ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ خَلَّادٍ الْبَاهِلِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا يَحْيَى بْنُ سَعِيدٍ، عَنِ ابْنِ جُرَيْجٍ، عَنِ الْحَسَنِ بْنِ مُسْلِمٍ، عَنْ طَاوُسٍ، عَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ صَلَّى يَوْمَ الْعِيدِ بِغَيْرِ أَذَانٍ وَلَا إِقَامَةٍ.

Comments:

It is imperative to pray the 'Eid prayer without the usual Adhân and Iqâmah. It is not allowed to follow the analogy of other prayers and call the Adhân and Iqâmah for the 'Eid prayer. The reason is that the doing of anything that was possible and convenient to do at the time of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ, but he chose not to do it, will surely be an act of innovation in later years, however beautiful or pious the act might seem to the naked eye.

1275. It was narrated that Abu Sa'eed said: "Marwân brought the pulpit out one 'Eid day and started to deliver the sermon before the prayer. A man stood up and said: 'O Commander of the Believers, you have gone against the Sunnah. You have brought the pulpit out on the day of 'Eid and it was not brought out before, and you started with the sermon before the prayer, when this was not done before.' Abu Sa'eed said: 'As for this man, he has done his duty. I heard the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ say: "Whoever among you sees an evil action, and he is able to change it with his hand, then change it with his hand (by taking action); if he cannot, (do so) with his tounge then with his tongue (by speaking out); and if he cannot then with his heart (by hating it and feeling that it is wrong), and that is the weakest of faith." (Sahih)

١٢٧٥ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو كُرَيْبٍ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو مُعَاوِيَةَ، عَنِ الأَعْمَشِ، عَنْ إِسْمَاعِيلَ بْنِ رَجَاءٍ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ أَبِي سَعِيدٍ. وَعَنْ قَيْسِ ابْنِ مُسْلِمٍ، عَنْ طَارِقِ بْنِ شِهَابٍ، عَنْ أَبِي سَعِيدٍ. قَالَ: أَخْرَجَ مَرْوَانُ الْمِنْبَرَ يَوْمَ الْعِيدِ. فَبَدَأَ بِالْخُطْبَةِ قَبْلَ الصَّلاَةِ. فَقَامَ رَجُلٌ فَقَالَ: يَا مَرْوَانُ خَالَفْتَ السُّنَّةَ. أَخْرَجْتَ الْمِنْبَرَ يَوْمَ عِيدٍ وَلَمْ يَكُنْ يُخْرَجُ بِهِ. وَبَدَأْتَ بِالْخُطْبَةِ قَبْلَ الصَّلاَةِ وَلَمْ يَكُنْ يُبْدَأُ بِهَا. فَقَالَ أَبُو سَعِيدٍ: أَمَّا هٰذَا فَقَدْ قَضَى مَا عَلَيْهِ. سَمِعْتُ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ يَقُولُ: «مَنْ رَأَى مُنْكَراً فَاسْتَطَاعَ أَنْ يُغَيِّرَهُ بِيَدِهِ فَلْيُغَيِّرْهُ بِيَدِهِ. فَإِنْ لَمْ يَسْتَطِعْ فَبِلِسَانِهِ. فَإِنْ لَمْ يَسْتَطِعْ بِلِسَانِهِ، فَبِقَلْبِهِ. وَذٰلِكَ أَضْعَفُ الإِيمَانِ».

Comments:

Righting the wrong, and putting an end to an evil by force, is the duty of the rulers. Even people who have persons such as slaves, subordinates, children and students, etc., under their control, are obligated to stop their evil ways through the exercise of their authority. In other cases, it is enough to try to stop the evil through the use of tongue.

1276. It was narrated that Ibn 'Umar said: "The Prophet ﷺ, then Abu Bakr, then 'Umar, used to pray the 'Eid prayer before delivering the sermon." (Sahih)

١٢٧٦ - حَدَّثَنَا حَوْثَرَةُ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو أُسَامَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا عُبَيْدُ اللهِ بْنُ عُمَرَ، عَنْ نَافِعٍ، عَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ: كَانَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ، ثُمَّ أَبُو بَكْرٍ، ثُمَّ عُمَرُ، يُصَلُّونَ الْعِيدَ قَبْلَ الْخُطْبَةِ.

1282. It was narrated that 'Ubaidullâh bin 'Abdullâh said: "Umar went out on the day of 'Eid and sent word to Abu Wâqid Al-Laithi asking what the Prophet ﷺ used to recite on this day. He said: 'Qâf[2] and 'Iqtarabat.'"[3] (Sahih) ١٢٨٢ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ الصَّبَّاحِ: أَنْبَأَنَا سُفْيَانُ، عَنْ ضَمْرَةَ بْنِ سَعِيدٍ، عَنْ عُبَيْدِ اللهِ بْنِ عَبْدِ اللهِ قَالَ: خَرَجَ عُمَرُ يَوْمَ عِيدٍ. فَأَرْسَلَ إِلَى أَبِي وَاقِدٍ اللَّيْثِيِّ: بِأَيِّ شَيْءٍ كَانَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ يَقْرَأُ فِي مِثْلِ هٰذَا الْيَوْمِ؟ قَالَ: بِقَافْ وَاقْتَرَبَتْ.

Comments:

It is in order to recite the Surah mentioned in the two Ahâdith, which is to say that reciting the Surah mentioned in either Hadith will be according to Sunnah.

1283. It was narrated from Ibn 'Abbâs that the Prophet ﷺ used to recite in the 'Eid prayer "Glorify the Name of your Lord, the Most High."[4] and "Has there come to you the narration of the overwhelming?" [5] (Hasan) ١٢٨٣ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ خَلَّادٍ الْبَاهِلِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا وَكِيعُ بْنُ الْجَرَّاحِ: حَدَّثَنَا مُوسَى بْنُ عُبَيْدَةَ، عَنْ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ عَمْرِو بْنِ عَطَاءٍ، عَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ كَانَ يَقْرَأُ فِي الْعِيدَيْنِ بِـ ﴿سَبِّحِ ٱسْمَ رَبِّكَ ٱلْأَعْلَى﴾، وَ﴿هَلْ أَتَىٰكَ حَدِيثُ ٱلْغَٰشِيَةِ﴾.

Chapter 158. What Was Narrated Concerning The Sermon For 'Eid

(المعجم ١٥٨) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي الْخُطْبَةِ فِي الْعِيدَيْنِ (التحفة ١٩٧)

1284. It was narrated that Ismâ'il bin Abu Khâlid said: "I saw Abu Kâhil, and he was a Companion, and my brother narrated to me that he said: 'I saw the Prophet ﷺ delivering the sermon atop his she-camel, and an Ethiopian was holding onto its reins.'" (Hasan) ١٢٨٤ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ نُمَيْرٍ: حَدَّثَنَا وَكِيعٌ، عَنْ إِسْمَاعِيلَ بْنِ أَبِي خَالِدٍ. قَالَ: رَأَيْتُ أَبَا كَاهِلٍ، وَكَانَتْ لَهُ صُحْبَةٌ. فَحَدَّثَنِي أَخِي عَنْهُ، قَالَ: رَأَيْتُ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ يَخْطُبُ عَلَى نَاقَةٍ، وَحَبَشِيٌّ آخِذٌ بِخِطَامِهَا.

تخريج: [إسناده حسن] أخرجه النسائي: ٣/ ١٨٥، صلوة العيدين، . الخطبة على البعير، ح: ١٥٧٤ من حديث إسماعيل به، وأحمد: ٤/ ٣٠٦ عن وكيع به، وأخوه سعيد كما صرح به ابن الأثير في روايته (أسد الغابة، ترجمة أبي كاهل)، وكذا في تهذيب الكمال وغيره.

Comments:

a. This sermon was delivered on the occasion of the Farewell pilgrimage.

b. The 'Ethiopian' mentioned in the Hadith was in fact the Companion popularly known as Bilâl Al-Habashi ﷺ.

c. It is alright for an eminent personality to let a common citizen render some sort of a service for him.

d. We learn from the Hadith that (i) it is in order to deliver a speech from atop a mount, etc. (ii) it may be stated here that there is no hint of cruelty to the animals in this case, and (iii) we may deduce from this Sunnah, that it would be in order to raise a stage for delivering the speech in order to facilitate the people's viewing of the speaker.

1285. It was narrated that Qais bin 'Âidh, who was Abu Kâhil, said: "I saw the Prophet ﷺ delivering the sermon atop a beautiful she-camel, and an Ethiopian was holding onto its reins." (Hasan) ١٢٨٥ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ نُمَيْرٍ: حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عُبَيْدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا إِسْمَاعِيلُ ابْنُ أَبِي خَالِدٍ، عَنْ قَيْسِ بْنِ عَائِذٍ، هُوَ أَبُو كَاهِلٍ قَالَ: رَأَيْتُ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ يَخْطُبُ عَلَى نَاقَةٍ حَسْنَاءَ، وَحَبَشِيٌّ آخِذٌ بِخِطَامِهَا.

Comments:

a. The name of the she-camel on which the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ rode during his journey of the last pilgrimage was Qaswa' (Sahih Muslim: 147).

b. We may only imagine how faithful the people would have been in preserving the blessed words of the Prophet ﷺ, those who, even recorded for the future generations the minutest details about the she-camel he rode during his journey.

1286. It was narrated from Salamah bin Nubait that his father performd Hajj and said: "I saw the Prophet ﷺ delivering the sermon atop his camel." (Da'if)

١٢٨٦ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا وَكِيعٌ، عَنْ سَلَمَةَ بْنِ نُبَيْطٍ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ أَنَّهُ حَجَّ فَقَالَ: رَأَيْتُ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ يَخْطُبُ عَلَى بَعِيرِهِ.

1287. It was narrated from 'Abdur-Rahmân bin Sa'd bin 'Ammâr bin Sa'd, the Mu'adhdhin, that his father narrated, from his father, that his grandfather said: "The Prophet ﷺ used to say the Takbir between the two sermons and he used to say the Takbir a great deal in the sermon of 'Eid." (Da'if) ١٢٨٧ - حَدَّثَنَا هِشَامُ بْنُ عَمَّارٍ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الرَّحْمٰنِ بْنُ سَعْدِ بْنِ عَمَّارِ بْنِ سَعْدٍ الْمُؤَذِّنِ: حَدَّثَنِي أَبِي، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ جَدِّهِ قَالَ: كَانَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ يُكَبِّرُ بَيْنَ أَضْعَافِ الْخُطْبَةِ. يُكْثِرُ التَّكْبِيرَ فِي خُطْبَةِ الْعِيدَيْنِ.

تخريج: [إسناده ضعيف] وضعفه البوصيري، وانظر، ح: ١١٠١ لعلته.

1288. Abu Sa'eed Al-Khudri said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ used to go out on the day of 'Eid and lead the people in praying two Rak'ah, then he would say the Salâm and stand on his two feet facing the people while they were sitting down. He would say: 'Give in charity. Give in charity.' Those who gave most in charity were the women, (they would give) earrings and rings and things. If he wanted to send out an expedition he would mention it, otherwise he would leave." (Sahih) ١٢٨٨ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو كُرَيْبٍ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو أُسَامَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا دَاوُدُ بْنُ قَيْسٍ، عَنْ عِيَاضِ بْنِ عَبْدِ اللهِ: أَخْبَرَنِي أَبُو سَعِيدٍ الْخُدْرِيُّ قَالَ: كَانَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ يَخْرُجُ يَوْمَ الْعِيدِ. فَيُصَلِّي بِالنَّاسِ رَكْعَتَيْنِ. ثُمَّ يُسَلِّمُ فَيَقِفُ عَلَى رِجْلَيْهِ فَيَسْتَقْبِلُ النَّاسَ وَهُمْ جُلُوسٌ. فَيَقُولُ: «تَصَدَّقُوا. تَصَدَّقُوا» فَأَكْثَرُ مَنْ يَتَصَدَّقُ النِّسَاءُ، بِالْقُرْطِ وَالْخَاتَمِ وَالشَّيْءِ. فَإِنْ كَانَتْ لَهُ حَاجَةٌ يُرِيدُ أَنْ يَبْعَثَ بَعْثاً يَذْكُرُهُ لَهُمْ. وَإِلَّا انْصَرَفَ.

Comments:

a. Rather than praying in mosques, the 'Eid prayer must be held in open places. The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ preferred an open place over his own blessed mosque to lead the congregation of the 'Eid prayer.
b. The sermon must follow (not precede) the 'Eid prayer.
c. The sermon should, in appropriate manner, deal with the problems of the day.
d. A woman can give her personal items and effects in charity without the permission of her husband.
e. The sermon must be listened to, while sitting down, with due attention. However, should anyone wish to leave it, he may.

1289. It was narrated that Jâbir said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ went out on the Day of Al-Fitr or Al-Adha, and delivered a sermon standing up. Then he sat down briefly, then stood up again." (Da'if) ١٢٨٩ - حَدَّثَنَا يَحْيَى بْنُ حَكِيمٍ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَحْرٍ: حَدَّثَنَا عُبَيْدُ اللهِ بْنُ عَمْرٍو الرَّقِّيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا إِسْمَاعِيلُ بْنُ مُسْلِمٍ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو الزُّبَيْرِ، عَنْ جَابِرٍ قَالَ: خَرَجَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ يَوْمَ فِطْرٍ أَوْ أَضْحَى. فَخَطَبَ قَائِماً ثُمَّ قَعَدَ قَعْدَةً ثُمَّ قَامَ.

Chapter 159. What Was Narrated Concerning Waiting For The Sermon After The Prayer

(المعجم ١٥٩) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي انْتِظَارِ الْخُطْبَةِ بَعْدَ الصَّلَاةِ (التحفة ١٩٨)

1290. It was narrated that 'Abdullâh bin Sâ'ib said: "I attended the 'Eid prayer with the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ. He led us in offering the 'Eid prayer, then he said: 'I have finished the prayer. Whoever wants to sit (and listen to) the sermon, then let him sit, and whoever wants to leave, then let him leave.'" (Sahih)

تخريج: [صحيح] أخرجه أبوداود، الصلوة، باب الجلوس للخطبة، ح:١١٥٥ من حديث الفضل به، وصححه ابن خزيمة، والحاكم، والذهبي، وأعلّ بما لا يقدح.

Comments:

It confirms that listening to the sermon is not obligatory. It is, however, preferable to leave the prayer ground only after one has listened to the sermon, as the Companions used to do.

Chapter 160. What Was Narrated Concerning Praying Before Or After The 'Eid Prayer

(المعجم ١٦٠) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي الصَّلَاةِ قَبْلَ صَلَاةِ الْعِيدِ وَبَعْدَهَا

(التحفة ١٩٩)

1291. It was narrated from Ibn 'Abbâs that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ went out and led them in the 'Eid prayer, and he did not pray before it or after it. (Sahih)

١٢٩١ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ بَشَّارٍ: حَدَّثَنَا يَحْيَى بْنُ سَعِيدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا شُعْبَةُ: حَدَّثَنِي عَدِيُّ ابْنُ ثَابِتٍ، عَنْ سَعِيدِ بْنِ جُبَيْرٍ، عَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ خَرَجَ فَصَلَّى بِهِمُ الْعِيدَ. لَمْ يُصَلِّ قَبْلَهَا وَلَا بَعْدَهَا.

تخريج: أخرجه البخاري، العيدين، باب الخطبة بعد العيد، ح:٩٦٤، ومسلم، صلوة العيدين، باب ترك الصلوة، قبل العيد وبعدها في المصلى، ح:٨٨٤ب من حديث شعبة به.

Comments:

Unlike the obligatory prayers that are preceded and followed by Nafl Rak'ah, be they emphasized or unemphasized Sunnah, there are no such Rak'ah, either before or after the 'Eid prayers. Thus, praying no other prayer on this occasion is the Sunnah of the Prophet ﷺ.

1292. It was narrated from 'Amr bin Shu'aib, from his father, from his grandfather, that the Prophet ﷺ did not pray before or after the 'Eid prayer. (Hasan) ١٢٩٢ - حَدَّثَنَا عَلِيُّ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا وَكِيعٌ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللهِ بْنُ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمٰنِ الطَّائِفِيُّ، عَنْ عَمْرِو بْنِ شُعَيْبٍ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ جَدِّهِ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ لَمْ يُصَلِّ قَبْلَهَا وَلَا بَعْدَهَا فِي عِيدٍ.

تخريج: [إسناده حسن] هذا إسناد صحيح، رجاله ثقات .

when he went back to his house he would pray two Rak'ah." (Da'if)

Comments:

What we know from the Hadith, is the fact that the Prophet ﷺ did not perform any Nafl (voluntary) prayer, as was mentioned in the previous Hadith, in fact, this means that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ did not offer any voluntary prayer on the ground chosen for 'Eid prayer. Thus, the Nafl prayer performed on returning home was unrelated to the 'Eid prayer; it was in fact the customary Nafl prayer, good for all days. And Allâh knows best.

Chapter 161. What Was Narrated Concerning Going Out To The 'Eid Prayer Walking

Chapter 162. What Was Narrated Concerning Going Out On The Day Of 'Eid Via One Route And Returning Via Another Route

(المعجم ١٦٢) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي الْخُرُوجِ يَوْمَ الْعِيدِ مِنْ طَرِيقٍ وَالرُّجُوعِ مِنْ غَيْرِهِ (التحفة ٢٠١)

1298. 'Abdur-Rahmân bin Sa'd bin 'Ammâr bin Sa'd said: "My father told me, from his father, from his grandfather, that when the Prophet ﷺ went out on the two 'Eid, he would pass by the house of Sa'eed bin Abul-'Âs, then by the people of the tent, then he would leave by a different route, via Banu Zuraiq, then he would go out by the house of 'Ammâr bin Yâsir and the house of Abu Hurairah to Balât."[1] (Da'if)

Comments:

It shows that the Prophet (ﷺ) took different routes for going to, and coming back from, the 'Eid prayer ground.

1299. It was narrated from Ibn 'Umar that he used to go out to the 'Eid prayers via one route, and return via another, and he said that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ used to do that. (Hasan)

Comments:

The wisdom behind it is to present a spectacle of the believers' splendor and glory. Moreover, by chanting the praises of Allâh and the Takbir through both routes, more and more of His creatures, including the trees and stones shall testify to the virtuosity of the believers on the Day of Judgment.

1300. It was narrated from Muhammad bin 'Ubaidullâh bin Abu Râfi', from his father, from his grandfather, that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ used to come to 'Eid prayers walking, and that he would go back via a different route than the one he began with. (Da'if)

Chapter 163. What Was Narrated Concerning Taqlis[1] On The Day Of 'Eid

(المعجم ١٦٣) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي التَّقْلِيسِ يَوْمَ الْعِيدِ (التحفة ٢٠٢)

1302. It was narrated that 'Âmir said: "Iyâd Al-Ash'ari was in Anbâr[2] at the time of 'Eid, and he said: 'Why is it that I do not see you engaged in Taqlis as was done in the presence of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ?'" (Da'if)

١٣٠٢ - حَدَّثَنَا سُوَيْدُ بْنُ سَعِيدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا شَرِيكٌ، عَنْ مُغِيرَةَ، عَنْ عَامِرٍ قَالَ: شَهِدَ عِيَاضٌ الأَشْعَرِيُّ عِيداً بِالأَنْبَارِ، فَقَالَ: مَا لِي لاَ أَرَاكُمْ تُقَلِّسُونَ كَمَا كَانَ يُقَلَّسُ عِنْدَ رَسُولِ اللهِ ﷺ.

Comments:

Taqlis means to indulge in celebrations on a festive occasion through playing national sports or the singing of nationalistic songs by the girls inside their houses. This sort of celebration on festive occasions has been permitted by the Prophet ﷺ. But it is one thing for the girls to beat the Daff (tambourin) and celebrate the heroic deeds of their ancestors in their songs on a happy occasion, and quite another to organize public shows of scantly-clad, half-naked professional women singers, and dancers of enchanting beauty, and indulging in dancing and singing overtly erotic and immoral songs, to the accompaniment of the most fashionable musical instruments of the day. The two things are millions of miles apart, and cannot be compared with each other.

[1] They disagree over the meaning of Taqlis based upon the differences in religious beliefs. Those that allow singing, and beating instruments interpret it that way. Others saying it merely means the allowable types of play. In his Sunan Al-Kubra, Baihaqi recorded a different route with similar wording to no. 1303, and said: "Taqlis: Play." And he recorded a different route for no. 1302, and Yusuf bin 'Adi one of his narrators said: "Talqis is that the slaves and boys sit at the openings of the roads beating the Tabl (type of drum) and other than that." However, there are texts that indicate a prohibition of the Tabl. Baihaqi also said: "Hushaim reported it from Mughirah but he said: 'For indeed it is from the Sunnah for the 'Eid meaning beating the Daff (tambourin) when leaving.'" According to Suyuti's commentary on Ibn Mâjah, in his Târikh Ibn 'Asâkir reported that Zaid bin Ayyub asked Hushaim if Talqis means beating the Daff and he said yes. In Nihâyah Ibn Athir said: "In the Hadith of 'Umar: 'When he arrived in Shâm, Muqallisun met him with swords and Raihân' (perfume) they are those who play in front of the chief when he reaches their city, and one is: Muqallis." Those that indicate the Daff or displays with weapons are closest to what is correct, and Allâh knows best.

[2] A town in 'Irâq.

1303. It was narrated from 'Âmir that Qais bin Sa'd said: "There is nothing that happened during the time of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ except that I have seen it, except for one thing, which is that Taqlis was performed for the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ on the Day of Fitr. (Da'if)

(Three other chains of narration) with similar wording.

١٣٠٣ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ يَحْيَىٰ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو نُعَيْمٍ، عَنْ إِسْرَائِيلَ، عَنْ أَبِي إِسْحَاقَ، عَنْ عَامِرٍ، عَنْ قَيْسِ بْنِ سَعْدٍ قَالَ: مَا كَانَ شَيْءٌ عَلَى عَهْدِ رَسُولِ اللهِ ﷺ إِلَّا وَقَدْ رَأَيْتُهُ. إِلَّا شَيْءٌ وَاحِدٌ. فَإِنَّ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ كَانَ يُقَلَّسُ لَهُ يَوْمَ الْفِطْرِ.

قَالَ أَبُو الْحَسَنِ بْنُ سَلَمَةَ الْقَطَّانُ: حَدَّثَنَا ابْنُ دِيزِيلَ: حَدَّثَنَا آدَمُ: حَدَّثَنَا شَيْبَانُ، عَنْ جَابِرٍ، عَنْ عَامِرٍ؛ ح: وَحَدَّثَنَا إِسْرَائِيلُ عَنْ جَابِرٍ؛ ح: وَحَدَّثَنَا إِبْرَاهِيمُ بْنُ نَصْرٍ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو نُعَيْمٍ: حَدَّثَنَا شَرِيكٌ، عَنْ أَبِي إِسْحَاقَ، عَنْ عَامِرٍ، نَحْوَهُ.

Comments:

It is allowable for the girls on the day of 'Eid to do some singing to the beat of the Daff inside their houses. (Sahih Al-Bukhâri: 956). Care should, however, be taken that there is no mixing of the two sexes, as is commonly witnessed in marriages and other occasions in our present-day society.

Chapter 164. What Was Narrated Concerning Carrying A Spear On The Day Of 'Eid

(المعجم ١٦٤) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي الْحَرْبَةِ يَوْمَ الْعِيدِ (التحفة ٢٠٣)

1304. It was narrated from Ibn 'Umar that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ used to set out for the praying place in the morning of the day of 'Eid, and a small spear would be carried before him. When he reached the praying place, it would be set up in front of him, then he would pray facing it, and that was because the praying place was an open space in which there was nothing that could serve as a Sutrah.[1] (Sahih)

١٣٠٤ - حَدَّثَنَا هِشَامُ بْنُ عَمَّارٍ: حَدَّثَنَا عِيسَى بْنُ يُونُسَ؛ ح: وَحَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الرَّحْمٰنِ ابْنُ إِبْرَاهِيمَ: حَدَّثَنَا الْوَلِيدُ بْنُ مُسْلِمٍ. قَالَا: حَدَّثَنَا الْأَوْزَاعِيُّ: أَخْبَرَنِي نَافِعٌ، عَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ كَانَ يَغْدُو إِلَى

الْمُصَلَّى فِي يَوْمِ الْعِيدِ. وَالْعَنَزَة تُحْمَلُ بَيْنَ يَدَيْهِ. فَإِذَا بَلَغَ الْمُصَلَّى، نُصِبَتْ بَيْنَ يَدَيْهِ. فَيُصَلِّي إِلَيْهَا. وَذٰلِكَ أَنَّ الْمُصَلَّى كَانَ فَضَاءً، لَيْسَ فِيهِ شَيْءٌ يُسْتَتَرُ بِهِ.

تخريج: [صحيح] أخرجه البخاري، العيدين، باب حمل العنزة أو الحربة بين يدي الإمام يوم العيد، ح:٩٧٣ من حديث الوليد به مختصرًا.

Comments:

It is enough just to put the Sutra before the Imâm leading the congregation. There is no need to put one as well before the congregation.

1305. It was narrated that Ibn 'Umar said: "When the Prophet ﷺ prayed on the day of 'Eid or on another occasion, a small spear was set up in front of him, and he prayed facing it, and the people were behind him." (Sahih)

Nâfi' said: It is from here that the leaders have taken this practice.

١٣٠٥ - حَدَّثَنَا سُوَيْدُ بْنُ سَعِيدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا عَلِيُّ ابْنُ مُسْهِرٍ، عَنْ عُبَيْدِ اللهِ، عَنْ نَافِعٍ، عَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ: كَانَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ إِذَا صَلَّى يَوْمَ عِيدٍ أَوْ غَيْرَهُ، نُصِبَتِ الْحَرْبَةُ بَيْنَ يَدَيْهِ. فَيُصَلِّي إِلَيْهَا، وَالنَّاسُ مِنْ خَلْفِهِ.

قَالَ نَافِعٌ: فَمِنْ ثَمَّ اتَّخَذَهَا الأُمَرَاءُ.

Comments:

The Sutra is not 'Eid-specific. It must be put up in front of the Imâm whenever there is prayer in the open, e. g., during a journey and the like of it.

1306. It was narrated from Anas bin Mâlik that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ prayed 'Eid at the prayer place, using a small spear as a Sutrah. (Sahih)

١٣٠٦ - حَدَّثَنَا هَارُونُ بْنُ سَعِيدٍ الأَيْلِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللهِ بْنُ وَهْبٍ: أَخْبَرَنِي سُلَيْمَانُ بْنُ بِلَالٍ، عَنْ يَحْيَى بْنِ سَعِيدٍ، عَنْ أَنَسِ بْنِ مَالِكٍ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ صَلَّى الْعِيدَ بِالْمُصَلَّى مُسْتَتِراً بِحَرْبَةٍ.

Chapter 165. What Was Narrated Concerning Women Going Out On The Two 'Eid

(المعجم ١٦٥) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي خُرُوجِ النِّسَاءِ فِي الْعِيدَيْنِ (التحفة ٢٠٤)

1307. It was narrated that Umm 'Atiyyah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ commanded us to bring them (the women) out on the day of Fitr and the day of Nahr." Umm 'Atiyyah said: "We said: 'What if one of them does not have an outer covering?' He said: 'Let her sister share her own outer covering with her.' "(Sahih)

١٣٠٧ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو أُسَامَةَ، عَنْ هِشَامِ بْنِ حَسَّانٍ، عَنْ حَفْصَةَ بِنْتِ سِيرِينَ، عَنْ أُمِّ عَطِيَّةَ قَالَتْ: أَمَرَنَا رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ أَنْ نُخْرِجَهُنَّ فِي يَوْمِ الْفِطْرِ وَالنَّحْرِ. قَالَ، قَالَتْ أُمُّ عَطِيَّةَ: فَقُلْنَا: أَرَأَيْتَ إِحْدَاهُنَّ لاَ يَكُونُ لَهَا جِلْبَابٌ؟ قَالَ: «فَلْتُلْبِسْهَا أُخْتُهَا مِنْ جِلْبَابِهَا».

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، صلوة العيدين، باب ذكر إباحة خروج النساء في العيد إلى المصلى ... الخ، ح: ٨٩٠ من حديث هشام به.

Comments:

a. Just as it it is allowable for women to go out to the mosques for obligatory and Friday prayers, it is also necessary that they attend the two 'Eid prayers.
b. If a lady finds herself unable to attend the 'Eid congregation for some compelling reason, she must be helped to get out of this compulsion as far as possible, so that she is not denied the chance to attend the 'Eid prayer and attend the sermon.

1308. It was narrated that Umm 'Atiyyah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Bring out the women who have attained puberty and those who are in seclusion so that they may attend the 'Eid prayer and (join in) the supplication of the Muslims. But let the woman who are menstruating avoid the prayer place."

١٣٠٨ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ الصَّبَّاحِ: أَنْبَأَنَا سُفْيَانُ، عَنْ أَيُّوبَ، عَنِ ابْنِ سِيرِينَ، عَنْ أُمِّ عَطِيَّةَ قَالَتْ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «أَخْرِجُوا الْعَوَاتِقَ وَذَوَاتِ الْخُدُورِ. لِيَشْهَدْنَ الْعِيدَ وَدَعْوَةَ الْمُسْلِمِينَ. لِيَجْتَنِبْنَ الْحُيَّضُ مُصَلَّى النَّاسِ».

تخريج: أخرجه البخاري، العيدين، باب خروج النساء والحيض إلى المصلى، ح: ٩٧٤، ومسلم، انظر الحديث السابق من حديث أيوب به.

Comments:

a. Girls, when they attain puberty, must stick to their houses.

b. Veil-wearing girls should also join the 'Eid prayers, albeit taking due care of Islamic modesty and outer covering.
c. Women who are menstruating should also go to the site of the 'Eid prayer.
d. There is also a hint in it, that mosque is not the place to perform the 'Eid prayer since, obviously, the menstruating women cannot enter it, although it has been made compulsory for them to attend the congregation.

1309. It was narrated from Ibn 'Abbâs that the Prophet ﷺ used to bring his daughters and his wives out on the two 'Eid. (Da'if) ١٣٠٩ - حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللهِ بْنُ سَعِيدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا حَفْصُ بْنُ غِيَاثٍ: حَدَّثَنَا حَجَّاجُ بْنُ أَرْطَاةَ، عَنْ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمٰنِ بْنِ عَابِسٍ، عَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ كَانَ يُخْرِجُ بَنَاتِهِ وَنِسَاءَهُ فِي الْعِيدَيْنِ.

Chapter 166. What Was Narrated Concerning Two 'Eid Occurring On The Same Day

(المعجم ١٦٦) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِيمَا إِذَا اجْتَمَعَ الْعِيدَانِ فِي يَوْمٍ (التحفة ٢٠٥)

1310. It was narrated that Iyâs bin Abi Ramlah Ash-Shâmi said: "I heard a man asking Zaid bin Arqam: 'Were you present with the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ when there were two 'Eid on one day?'[1] He said: 'Yes.' He said: 'What did he do?' He said: 'He prayed the 'Eid prayer, then he granted a concession not to pray the Friday, then he said: "Whoever wants to pray (Friday), let him do so." (Hasan) ١٣١٠ - حَدَّثَنَا نَصْرُ بْنُ عَلِيٍّ الْجَهْضَمِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو أَحْمَدَ: حَدَّثَنَا إِسْرَائِيلُ، عَنْ عُثْمَانَ ابْنِ الْمُغِيرَةِ، عَنْ إِيَاسِ بْنِ أَبِي رَمْلَةَ الشَّامِيِّ قَالَ: سَمِعْتُ رَجُلاً سَأَلَ زَيْدَ بْنَ أَرْقَمَ: هَلْ شَهِدْتَ مَعَ رَسُولِ اللهِ ﷺ عِيدَيْنِ فِي يَوْمٍ؟ قَالَ: نَعَمْ. قَالَ: فَكَيْفَ كَانَ يَصْنَعُ؟ قَالَ: صَلَّى الْعِيدَ. ثُمَّ رَخَّصَ فِي الْجُمُعَةِ. ثُمَّ قَالَ: «مَنْ شَاءَ أَنْ يُصَلِّيَ فَلْيُصَلِّ».

[1] Meaning, when 'Eid occurred on a Friday.

Comments:

People living outside the town must come to the town for the 'Eid prayer. Similarly, Friday prayer should also be performed in a town or city.

If Friday falls on the day of 'Eid, the obligation to attend the Friday prayer is waived, and people are free to offer their prayer inside their houses.

1311. It was narrated from Ibn 'Abbâs that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "Two 'Eid have come together on this day of yours. So whoever wants, that (the 'Eid prayer) will suffice him, and he will not have to pray Friday, but we will pray Friday if Allâh wills." (Da'if)

Chapter 167. What Was Narrated Concerning The 'Eid Prayer In The Mosque When It Rains

(المعجم ١٦٧) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي صَلَاةِ الْعِيدِ فِي الْمَسْجِدِ إِذَا كَانَ مَطَرٌ

Comments:

The Hadith has been declared by Shaikh Albâni as 'Weak'. Yet, the correct position is that if there is a situation which makes it impossible to pray 'Eid in the open, the prayer may be offered inside the mosque.

Chapter 168. What Was Narrated Concerning Wearing Weapons On The Day Of 'Eid

(المعجم ١٦٨) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي لُبْسِ السِّلَاحِ فِي يَوْمِ الْعِيدِ (التحفة ٢٠٧)

تخريج: [إسناده ضعيف جدًا] وقال البوصيري: هذا إسناد فيه نائل بن نجيح وإسماعيل بن زياد وهما ضعيفان قلت: إسماعيل هذا متروك، كذبوه كما في التقريب.

Comments:

a. The ruling is correct. There is a tradition narrated from 'Abdullâh bin 'Umar ﷺ in Sahih Al-Bukhâri (966) to the effect that wearing weapons on the occasion of 'Eid is forbidden in the Islamic law.

b. The interdiction on carrying the weapons is meant to preclude the possibility of unintentional harm to anyone among the assembly of the believers.

Chapter 169. What Was Narrated About Taking A Bath On The Two 'Eid

It was narrated from 'Abdur-Rahmân bin 'Uqbah bin Fâkih bin Sa'd, from his grandfather Fâkih bin Sa'd who was a Companion of the Prophet ﷺ that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ used to take a bath on the Day of Fitr, the Day of Nahr, and the day of 'Arafâh, and, Fâkih used to tell his family to have a bath on these days. Day of Fitr or Adha, and he objected to the Imâm's delay. He said: "We would have finished by this time." And that was the time of Tasbih.[1] (Sahih) عَمْرٍو، عَنْ يَزِيدَ بْنِ خُمَيْرٍ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ بُسْرٍ أَنَّهُ خَرَجَ مَعَ النَّاسِ يَوْمَ فِطْرٍ أَوْ أَضْحَىٰ، فَأَنْكَرَ إِبْطَاءَ الإِمَامِ، وَقَالَ: إِنْ كُنَّا لَقَدْ فَرَغْنَا سَاعَتَنَا هٰذِهِ، وَذٰلِكَ حِينَ التَّسْبِيحِ.

Comments:

By making the remark: 'That was the time of Tasbih' the worthy Companion meant to express his displeasure over the fact that, although the time for Duha prayer had already set in, the 'Eid prayer had not till then been started. As Tabarâni reports, the end of the Makruh time (the time considered undesirable for offering prayer) is the time when the Duha prayer is allowed to be performed.

Chapter 171. What Was Narrated Concerning The (Voluntary) Night Prayer Is Two By Two

(المعجم ١٧١) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي صَلَاةِ اللَّيْلِ رَكْعَتَيْنِ (التحفة ٢١٠)

1318. It was narrated that Ibn 'Umar said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ used to offer the night prayers two by two." (Sahih)

١٣١٨ - حَدَّثَنَا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ عَبْدَةَ: أَنْبَأَنَا حَمَّادُ بْنُ زَيْدٍ، عَنْ أَنَسِ بْنِ سِيرِينَ، عَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ: كَانَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ يُصَلِّي مِنَ اللَّيْلِ مَثْنَىٰ مَثْنَىٰ.

تخريج: [صحيح] تقدم، ح:١١٤٤.

Comments:

There is no doubt that the Prophet's (ﷺ) usual practice was to pray Tahajjud in units of two and two, which means he used to end each two Rak'ah by a Taslim before starting the next two Rak'ah. Yet, it is also proved from the Sunnah that sometimes he even prayed four Rak'ah with one Taslim.

1319. It was narrated from Ibn 'Umar that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "The night prayer is (to be offered) two by two." (Sahih)

١٣١٩ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ رُمْحٍ: أَنْبَأَنَا اللَّيْثُ ابْنُ سَعْدٍ، عَنْ نَافِعٍ، عَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ قَالَ: «صَلَاةُ اللَّيْلِ مَثْنَىٰ مَثْنَىٰ».

Comments:

The number of Rak'ah in Tahajjud prayers could as well be fewer than eight. Witr must have been performed before the onset of the true dawn. Witr could even be of one Rak'ah.

1321. It was narrated that Ibn 'Abbâs said: "The Prophet ﷺ used to pray the night prayer two Rak'ah by two Rak'ah." (Da'if)

١٣٢١ - حَدَّثَنَا سُفْيَانُ بْنُ وَكِيعٍ: حَدَّثَنَا عَثَّامُ ابْنُ عَلِيٍّ، عَنِ الأَعْمَشِ، عَنْ حَبِيبِ بْنِ أَبِي ثَابِتٍ، عَنْ سَعِيدِ بْنِ جُبَيْرٍ، عَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَ: كَانَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ يُصَلِّي بِاللَّيْلِ رَكْعَتَيْنِ رَكْعَتَيْنِ.

Comments:

Nafl (voluntary) prayer should no doubt be performed in units of two Rak'ah each. It is also, however, allowed to pray it in units of four each.

Chapter 173. What Was Narrated Concerning Qiyâm (The Voluntary Night Prayers) During The Month Of Ramadân

(المعجم ١٧٣) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي قِيَامِ شَهْرِ رَمَضَانَ (التحفة ٢١٢)

تخريج: [إسناده حسن] أخرجه الترمذي، الصوم، باب ماجاء في فضل شهر رمضان، ح:٦٨٣ من حديث محمد بن عمرو به.

Comments:

The expression 'previous sins' used in the context, generally mean sins that are of the category of 'minor sins'. However, sometimes even major sins stand the chance of being forgiven as a reward for some exceptional act of virtuosity performed by the sinning person. The more full of sincerity and conformity to the Sunnah of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ our fasting and nightly prayers shall be, the more chances they stand of inviting Allâh's pleasure in forgiving our sins.

1327. It was narrated that Abu Dharr said: "We fasted Ramadân with the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ and he did not lead us in praying Qiyâm (prayers at night) during any part of it, until there were seven nights left.[1] He led us in praying Qiyâm on the seventh night until approximately one third of the night had passed. Then on the sixth night which followed it he did not lead us in prayer. Then he led us in praying Qiyâm on the fifth night which followed it until almost half the night had passed. I said: 'O Messenger of Allâh, would that we had offered voluntary prayers throughout the whole night.' He said: 'Whoever stands with the Imâm until he finishes, it is equivalent to spending the whole night in prayer.' Then on the fourth night which followed it, he did not lead us in prayer, until the third night that follwed it, when he gathered his wives and family, and the people gathered, and he led us in prayer until we feared that we would miss the

[1] Since the month can either have 29 or 30 days, the meaning of 'the seventh night' could either be the night preceding the 23rd day, if the month that year had 29 days, or the night preceding the 24th day if the month had 30 days. Hence, seven nights remaining could be either of these two possibilities, which is not possible to determine from the Hadith. Similarly, the sixth night would be either the night preceding the 24th or the 25th; the fifth night would be either the night preceding the 25th or the 26th; the fourth night would be either the night preceding the 26th or the 27th; and the third night would be either the night preceding the 27th or the 28th. This means that the nights on which he prayed could have been either odd or even nights.

Falâh." It was asked: "What is the Falâh?" He said: "Suhur."[1] He said: "Then he did not lead us in prayer at night for the rest of the month." (Sahih)

Comments:

a. There should be more than usual emphasis on performing the acts of worship and devotion during the last ten (or nine) days of Ramadân.

b. Tarâwih is a Nafl (voluntary) prayer. That is the reason why the Prophet ﷺ chose to lead the congregation just for a few nights instead of the whole month for it.

c. There is no upper or lower limit for the number of Qur'ânic Verses to be recited in a voluntary prayer like Tarâwih. The Qiyâm could, therefore, be long on one day and short on another day.

d. Suhur (predawn meal) is an important preparation for the fast. It is both a dividing line between the fasts of the believers and the non-believers, as well as a means of receiving blessing from Allâh. The Companions, therefore, rightly called it by the name of Falah (success or prosperity).

1328. It was narrated that Nadr bin Shaibân said: "I met Abu Salamah bin 'Abdur-Rahmân and said: 'Tell me a Hadith that you heard from your father, in which mention is made of the month of Ramadân.' He said: 'Yes, my father narrated to me that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ mentioned the month of Ramadân and said: "A month which Allâh has enjoined upon you to fast, and in which I have established Qiyâm (prayers at night) as Sunnah for you. So whoever fasts it and spends its nights in prayer out of faith and in hope of reward; he will emerge from his sins as on

Chapter 174. What Was Narrated Concerning Voluntary Prayers During The Night

(المعجم ١٧٤) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي قِيَامِ اللَّيْلِ (التحفة ٢١٣)

1329. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'At night Satan ties a rope in which there are three knots to the nape of the neck of anyone of you. If he wakes up and remembers Allâh, one knot is untied. If he performs ablution, another knot is untied, and if he gets up to pray, all the knots are untied, so he wakes up energetic and cheerful, he has already earned something good. But if he does not do that, he wakes up lazy and bad-tempered, having earned nothing good." (Sahih)

١٣٢٩ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو مُعَاوِيَةَ، عَنِ الأَعْمَشِ، عَنْ أَبِي صَالِحٍ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «يَعْقِدُ الشَّيْطَانُ عَلَى قَافِيَةِ رَأْسِ أَحَدِكُمْ بِاللَّيْلِ بِحَبْلٍ فِيهِ ثَلَاثُ عُقَدٍ. فَإِنِ اسْتَيْقَظَ فَذَكَرَ اللهَ انْحَلَّتْ عُقْدَةٌ. فَإِذَا قَامَ فَتَوَضَّأَ، انْحَلَّتْ عُقْدَةٌ. فَإِذَا قَامَ إِلَى الصَّلَاةِ انْحَلَّتْ عُقَدُهُ كُلُّهَا، فَيُصْبِحُ نَشِيطاً طَيِّبَ النَّفْسِ قَدْ أَصَابَ خَيْرًا. وَإِنْ لَمْ يَفْعَلْ، أَصْبَحَ كَسِلاً خَبِيثَ النَّفْسِ لَمْ يُصِبْ خَيْرًا».

تخريج: [صحيح] أخرجه أحمد: ٢/٢٥٣ عن أبي معاوية ثنا الأعمش به، وله شواهد عند البخاري، التهجد، باب عقد الشيطان على قافية الرأس . . . الخ، ح: ١١٤٢، ومسلم، صلوة المسافرين، باب الحث على صلوة الليل وإن قلت، ح: ٧٧٦ وغيرهما من حديث أبي هريرة به.

Comments:

a. Satan is a creature invisible to the human eye. We must, therefore, believe in whatever the Qur'ân and Hadith tell us about him.

b. Tying the knots and blowing into them is the way of the magicians and sorcerers.

c. Remembrance of Allâh is the surest antidote to the guiles of Satan.

d. Tahajjud (voluntary prayer during night) is an important defence against the evil machinations of Satan.

1330. It was narrated that 'Abdullâh said: "Mention was made to the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ of a man who slept until morning came. He said: 'That is because Satan urinated in his ears.'" (Sahih) ١٣٣٠ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ الصَّبَّاحِ: أَنْبَأَنَا جَرِيرٌ، عَنْ مَنْصُورٍ، عَنْ أَبِي وَائِلٍ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ قَالَ: ذُكِرَ لِرَسُولِ اللهِ ﷺ رَجُلٌ نَامَ لَيْلَةً حَتَّى أَصْبَحَ. قَالَ: «ذٰلِكَ، الشَّيْطَانُ بَالَ فِي أُذُنَيْهِ».

تخريج: أخرجه البخاري، بدء الخلق، باب صفة إبليس وجنوده، ح: ٣٢٧٠، ومسلم، صلوة المسافرين، الباب السابق، ح: ٧٧٤ من حديث جرير به.

Comments:

We pat the child on or around his ears to make him sleep. Satan, in order to send someone to sleep, however, adopts the method of urinating into his ears.

Tahajjud is doubtless a voluntary prayer. No sin, therefore, is imposed on the one who fails to perform it. But the man who chooses to deprive himself of the blessing of Tahajjud, in fact, provides Satan with an opportunity to celebrate his exclusion from this Divine Favor. He (Satan) would, therefore, love to see man perpetually deprived of this blessed mode of prayer. It is, therefore, the duty of us all, to spend more and more time in the remembrance of Allâh through performing Qiyâm (prayers at night).

1331. It was narrated that 'Abdullâh bin 'Amr said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Do not be like so-and-so, who used to pray voluntary night prayers then stopped praying voluntary night prayers." (Sahih)

١٣٣١ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ الصَّبَّاحِ: أَنْبَأَنَا الْوَلِيدُ بْنُ مُسْلِمٍ، عَنِ الأَوْزَاعِيِّ، عَنْ يَحْيَى ابْنِ أَبِي كَثِيرٍ، عَنْ أَبِي سَلَمَةَ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ ابْنِ عَمْرٍو قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «لاَ تَكُنْ مِثْلَ فُلاَنٍ، كَانَ يَقُومُ اللَّيْلَ فَتَرَكَ قِيَامَ اللَّيْلِ».

Comments:

a. Before embracing Islam, 'Abdullâh bin Salâm was a Jew. As such he was aware of the signs of the would-be Prophet contained in the earlier Books. That is why he had no difficulty in accepting Islam.

b. Face, they say, is an index to a man's character. This means that all the traits of a man's character — virtue, vice, truth, falsehood — get mirrored in his looks and outward personality. It is,therefore, easy for a discerning man to recognize a truthful person from a liar or impostor.

Comments:

a. Even as few as two Rak'ah performed for Tahajjud may win great reward from Allâh. So, naturally, more Rak'ah mean more reward.

b. The husband and wife must encourage and help each other in doing virtuous deeds.

Comments:

a. If either the husband or the wife is used to praying Tahajjud, let him or her try to make the other also used to doing it.

b. If one is feeling too sleepy, a sprinkle of water will make getting up easy, so that he or she performs ablution and prays. The idea is that neither of the couple should remain deprived of this virtuous act.

Chapter 176. Making One's Voice Beautiful When Reciting Qur'ân

١٣٣٧ - حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللهِ بْنُ أَحْمَدَ بْنِ بَشِيرِ ابْنِ ذَكْوَانَ الدِّمَشْقِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا الْوَلِيدُ بْنُ مُسْلِمٍ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو رَافِعٍ، عَنِ ابْنِ أَبِي مُلَيْكَةَ، عَنْ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمٰنِ بْنِ السَّائِبِ قَالَ: قَدِمَ عَلَيْنَا سَعْدُ بْنُ أَبِي وَقَّاصٍ، وَقَدْ كُفَّ بَصَرُهُ، فَسَلَّمْتُ عَلَيْهِ. فَقَالَ: مَنْ أَنْتَ؟ فَأَخْبَرْتُهُ. فَقَالَ: مَرْحَباً بِابْنِ أَخِي. بَلَغَنِي أَنَّكَ حَسَنُ الصَّوْتِ بِالْقُرْآنِ. سَمِعْتُ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ يَقُولُ: «إِنَّ هٰذَا الْقُرْآنَ نَزَلَ بِحَزَنٍ، فَإِذَا قَرَأْتُمُوهُ فَابْكُوا. فَإِنْ لَمْ تَبْكُوا فَتَبَاكَوْا. وَتَغَنَّوْا بِهِ. فَمَنْ لَمْ يَتَغَنَّ بِهِ، فَلَيْسَ مِنَّا».

1337. It was narrated that 'Abdur-Rahmân bin Sâ'ib said: "Sa'd bin Abu Waqqâs came to us when he had become blind. I greeted him with Salâm and he said: 'Who are you?' So I told him, and he said: 'Welcome, O son of my brother. I have heard that you recite Qur'ân in a beautiful voice. I heard the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ say: "This Qur'ân was revealed with sorrow, so when you recite it, then weep. If you cannot weep then pretend to weep, and make your voice melodious in reciting it. Whoever does not make his voice melodious, he is not one of us." (Da'if) 1338. It was narrated that 'Âishah the wife of the Prophet ﷺ said: "One night at the time of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ I was late returning from the 'Ishâ', then I came and he said: 'Where were you?' I said: 'I was listening to the recitation of a man among your Companions, for I have never heard a recitation or a voice like his from anyone.' He got up and I got up with him, to go and listen to him. Then he turned to me and said: 'This is Sâlim, the freed slave of Abu Hudhaifah. تخريج: [صحيح] أخرجه أحمد:٦/ ١٦٥ عن ابن نمير قال ثنا حنظلة به، وقال البوصيري: هذا إسناد صحيح، رجاله ثقات .

Comments:

a. Not to speak of others, even the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ used to listen to the recitation of Qur'ân from his Companions. As such no one, be he among the greatest of scholars, or the highest ranking person among us, should feel shy of listening to the recitation of persons belonging to the lower strata of the society.

b. Women can listen to the recitation of strangers among men. There is also no harm in praising a person for a gift bestowed upon him by Allâh, particularly if the praise is given at his back.

1339. It was narrated that Jâbir said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Among the people who recite the Qur'ân with the most beautiful voices is the man who, when you hear him, you think that he fears Allâh.'" (Da'if)

Comments:

A melodious voice is undoubtedly the adornment of recitation. The beauty of a person's recitation would, however, be increased manifold if it creates the impact on the listeners, that what the person is reciting has also touched the cords of his heart and filled it with the fear of Allâh.

1340. It was narrated that Fadâlah bin 'Ubaid said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Allâh listens more attentively to a man with a beautiful voice who recites Qur'ân out loud than the master of a singing female slave listens to his slave.'" (Da'if)

١٣٤٠ - حَدَّثَنَا رَاشِدُ بْنُ سَعِيدٍ الرَّمْلِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا الْوَلِيدُ بْنُ مُسْلِمٍ: حَدَّثَنَا الأَوْزَاعِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا إِسْمَاعِيلُ بْنُ عُبَيْدِ اللهِ، عَنْ مَيْسَرَةَ، مَوْلَى فَضَالَةَ، عَنْ فَضَالَةَ بْنِ عُبَيْدٍ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «للهُ أَشَدُّ أَذَنًا إِلَى الرَّجُلِ الْحَسَنِ الصَّوْتِ بِالْقُرْآنِ يَجْهَرُ بِهِ، مِنْ صَاحِبِ الْقَيْنَةِ إِلَى قَيْنَتِهِ».

تخريج: [إسناده ضعيف] أخرجه أحمد:٦/١٩، ٢٠ من حديث الوليد به، وصححه ابن حبان (موارد)، ح:٦٥٩، والحاكم، وتعقبه الذهبي بقوله: بل هو منقطع * الوليد لم يصرح بالسماع المسلسل تقدم، ح:٢٥٥، وخالفه الجبل الوليد بن مزيد فرواه عن الأوزاعي عن إسماعيل عن فضالة به منقطعًا، وهو الصواب (والسند حسنه البوصيري).

Comments:

The purpose of mentioning the similitude of a singing female slave in the Hadith, is not to accord legitimacy to the tradition of keeping slave girls. It is rather a ploy to drive home an idea to the people through reference to a well-known tradition existing in the Arabia of those times.

1341. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ entered the mosque and heard a man reciting Qur'ân. He asked, 'Who is this?' It was said: '(He is) 'Abdullâh bin Qais.' He said: 'He has been given (sweet melodious voice) from the Mazâmir of the family of Dâwud.'" (Hasan)

Comments:

a. 'Abdullâh bin Qais ﷺ popularly known by the nickname Abu Musa Al-Ash'ari had an extremely melodious voice. The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ has given much praise to his recitation.

b. A beautiful voice is a boon from Allâh. It is a commendable act to use it for noble purposes.

c. Th Arabic word Mazâmir (sing. Mizmâr), lexically, 'musical instruments', has been used in Hadith in its figurative sense of 'melodious voice'.

1342. It was narrated from Barâ' (bin 'Âzib) that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "Beautify the Qur'ân with your voices." (Sahih) تخريج: [إسناده صحيح] أخرجه أبو داود، الوتر، باب: كيف يستحب الترتيل في القراءة، ح:١٤٦٨ من حديث طلحة به، وصححه ابن خزيمة، وابن حبان.

Comments:

a. The Qur'ân must always be recited with as beautiful a voice as possible.

b. Reciting the Qur'ân beautifully and well also means (i) producing the sounds from correct points of obstruction, (ii) avoiding errors in the articulation of short and long vowels, and (iii) with due modulation of the voice, according to the meaning and content of the recited Verse.

Chapter 177. What Was Narrated Concerning One Who Sleeps And Misses His Daily Portion Of The Qur'ân تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، صلٰوة المسافرين، باب جامع صلٰوة الليل، ومن نام عنه أو مرض، ح:٧٤٧ عن أبي الطاهر أحمد بن عمرو بن السرح وغيره به.

Comments:

a. It is perfectly in order to fix for oneself the recitation of a certain portion of Qur'ân in Tahajjud.

b. There is no time disliked for the remembrance of Allâh and the articulation of his praise.

١٣٤٤ - حَدَّثَنَا هَارُونُ بْنُ عَبْدِ اللهِ الْحَمَّالُ: حَدَّثَنَا الْحُسَيْنُ بْنُ عَلِيٍّ الْجُعْفِيُّ، عَنْ زَائِدَةَ، عَنْ سُلَيْمَانَ الْأَعْمَشِ، عَنْ حَبِيبِ بْنِ أَبِي ثَابِتٍ، عَنْ عَبْدَةَ بْنِ أَبِي لُبَابَةَ، عَنْ سُوَيْدِ بْنِ غَفَلَةَ، عَنْ أَبِي الدَّرْدَاءِ يَبْلُغُ بِهِ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ قَالَ: «مَنْ أَتَىٰ فِرَاشَهُ، وَهُوَ يَنْوِي أَنْ يَقُومَ فَيُصَلِّيَ مِنَ اللَّيْلِ، فَغَلَبَتْهُ عَيْنُهُ حَتَّى يُصْبِحَ، كُتِبَ لَهُ مَا نَوَى. وَكَانَ نَوْمُهُ صَدَقَةً عَلَيْهِ مِنْ رَبِّهِ».

1344. It was narrated that Abu Dardâ' conveyed that the Prophet ﷺ said: "Whoever goes to bed intending to wake up and pray during the night, but is overwhelmed by sleep until morning comes, what he intended will be recorded for him, and his sleep is a charity given to him by his Lord." Among the blessings of the purity or sincerity of intention, is that one gets the reward even for actions one intended to do, but could not, because of some impediment, provided that there was no deliberate insolence or delay on the part of the person concerned.

Chapter 178. How Much (Time) Is Recommended Regarding the Completion Of The Qur'ân

(المعجم ١٧٨) - بَابٌ: فِي كَمْ يَسْتَحِبُّ يَخْتِمُ الْقُرْآنَ (التحفة ٢١٧)

1345. It was narrated from 'Uthmân bin 'Abdullâh bin Aws that his grandfather Aws bin Hudhaifah said: "We came to the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ in the delegation of Thaqif. The allies of Quraish stayed at the house of Mughirah bin Shu'bah, and the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ camped Bani Mâlik in a tent belonging to him. He used to come to us every night after the 'Ishâ' and speak to us standing on his two feet, until he started to shift his weight from one foot to the other. Most of what he told us was what he had suffered from his people Quraish. He said: '(The two sides) were not equal. We were weak and oppressed and humiliated, and when we went out to Al-Madinah, the outcome of the battles between us varied; sometimes we would defeat them and sometimes they would defeat us.' One night he was later than he usually was, and I said: 'O Messenger of Allâh, you have come to us late tonight.' Comments:

We learn from the text, that it is in order to recite the whole of Qur'ân in seven days. Thus the seven portions of the Qur'ân recited over a period of seven days are known as seven Manâzil (portions). The seven Manâzil (after Al-Fâtihah) are as follows:

a) Al-Baqarah; Âl-'Imrân; An-Nisâ' (three Surah)
b) From Al-Mâ'idah to At-Tawbah (five Surah)
c) From*Yunus* to An-Nahl (seven Surah)
d) From Al-Isrâ' to Al-Furqân (nine Surah)
e) From Ash-Shu'arâ' to Yâ-Sin (eleven Surah)
f) From As-Sâffât to Al-Hujurât (thirteen Surah)
g) From Qâf to An-Nâs (sixty-five Surah)

The last Manzil is nicknamed the Mufassal. It is because, lengthwise, these are shorter Surah; therefore the continuity of recitation is frequently broken and a separation (fasl) occurs between each two Surah through Basmalah, the recitation of Bismillahir-Rahmânir-Rahim, before the start of each next Surah.

1346. It was narrated that 'Abdullâh bin 'Amr said: "I memorized the Qur'ân and recited it all in one night. The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'I am afraid that you may live a long life and that you may get bored. Recite it over the period of a month.' I said: 'Let me benefit from my strength and my youth.' He said: 'Recite it in ten days.' I said: 'Let me benefit from my strength and my youth.' He said: 'Recite it in seven days.' I said:

Comments:

a. It is not advisable to unduly overburden one's body.

b. Some of the exercises of this nature practised by the Sufis are in contravention of the Sunnah of the Prophet ﷺ.

1347. It was narrated from 'Abdullâh bin 'Amr that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "No one properly understands who reads the Qur'ân in less than three days." (Sahih)

Comments:

a. No one should complete the whole of Qur'ân in less than three days.

b. The main purpose of reciting the Qur'ân is to ponder over it and try to comprehend it. That is why it is imperative to understand the meaning of Qur'ân in the language that one understands. At the same time, it is necessary to avoid exegeses that interpret the Qur'ân in ways different from those of our pious predecessors.

1348. It was narrated that 'Âishah said: "I did not know of the Prophet of Allâh ﷺ reciting the entire Qur'ân until morning." (Sahih)

١٣٤٨ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ بِشْرٍ: حَدَّثَنَا سَعِيدُ بْنُ أَبِي عَرُوبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا قَتَادَةُ، عَنْ زُرَارَةَ بْنِ أَوْفَىٰ، عَنْ [سَعْدِ] بْنِ هِشَامٍ، عَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ: لَا أَعْلَمُ نَبِيَّ اللهِ ﷺ قَرَأَ الْقُرْآنَ كُلَّهُ حَتَّى الصَّبَاحِ.

ولا قام ليلة حتى الصباح ولا صام شهرًا كاملاً قط غير رمضان * سعيد صرح بالسماع (النسائي، ح: ٢٣٥٠)، قتادة عنعن، ولحديثه شواهد كثيرة.

Comments:

The practice of completing the whole of Qur'ân in one night or two must be avoided. The practice of some of the memorizers of Qur'ân to organize what they call Shabinah (reciting the Qur'ân in the whole night in Nafl Rak'ah) also deserves to be given up. And Allâh knows best.

Comments:

The Prophet ﷺ used to make audible recitation in Tahajjud although, as we shall see in H. 1354, inaudible mode of recitation is also allowed in it.

1350. It was narrated that Jasrah bint Dijâjah said: "I heard Abu Dharr say: 'The Prophet ﷺ stood reciting a Verse and repeating it until morning came. That Verse was: "If You punish them, they are Your slaves, and if You forgive them, verily, You, only You, are the All-Mighty, the All-Wise."' "[1] (Hasan)

Comments:

a. If a person has only memorized a small part of Qur'ân, he may as well earn reward from Allâh for a long Qiyâm and recitation, through reciting again and again, the the small part that he remembers from the Qur'ân.

b. The Verse quoted in the Hadith together with the preceding one, confirms the fact that the Prophet 'Eisa ﷺ was unaware of the deviations that had infiltrated into the system of beliefs of his people after his own self had been raised up in the heavens, since the Prophets have not been given the knowledge of the Unseen by Allâh.

c The Verse quoted in the Hadith was in fact a supplication that the Prophet ﷺ had made to Allâh for his people. We also learn from this Hadith that we may recite any Verse of the Qur'ân appropriate to our situation, as a supplication, in order to invoke the mercy of Allâh.

1351. It was narrated from Hudhaifah that the Prophet ﷺ prayed, and when he recited a Verse which mentioned mercy, he would ask for mercy; when he recited a Verse that mentioned punishment he would pray for deliverance from it; and when he recited a Verse that mentioned the Tanzih[1] of Allâh, he would glorify Him.[2] (Sahih)

١٣٥١ - حَدَّثَنَا عَلِيُّ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو مُعَاوِيَةَ، عَنِ الأَعْمَشِ، عَنْ سَعْدِ بْنِ عُبَيْدَةَ، عَنِ الْمُسْتَوْرِدِ بْنِ الأَحْنَفِ، عَنْ صِلَةَ بْنِ زُفَرَ، عَنْ حُذَيْفَةَ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ صَلَّى. فَكَانَ إِذَا مَرَّ بِآيَةِ رَحْمَةٍ سَأَلَ. وَإِذَا مَرَّ بِآيَةِ عَذَابٍ اسْتَجَارَ. وَإِذَا مَرَّ بِآيَةٍ فِيهَا تَنْزِيهُ اللهِ سَبَّحَ.

Comments:

To glorify Allâh in words is to say: Subhân-Allâh (Allâh is free from all imperfection and from everything falsely attributed to Him). On reaching the Verse mentioning punishment, we may say: Allâhumma ajirni minan-nâr (O Allâh! Grant me salvation from Hell-fire) or another Verse of the same purport.

[1] Tanzih: To declare Allâh to be free of imperfection and everything falsely attributed to Him, such as having a son, partner of the trinity.

[2] By saying Subhâna Rabbiyal-A'la; etc.

So he elongates the Lâm before the Ha in the majestic name Allâh, the Mim before the Nun in the name Ar-Rahmân, and the Ha before the Yâ in Ar-Rahim. This is the interpretation Ibn Hajar chose in Fathul-Bâri (no. 5045). Others said it means to elongate the 'weak' letters appropriately. Others said that it refers to those letters that are customarily elongated (this is the most popular view), and others add that it refers to raising and lowering the voice as well. Comments:

The 'promise' made by Allâh, is His declaration that there is so much reward for such and such act, and such and such act shall attract such and such punishment in this world and the Hereafter.

'Meeting with Allâh being true' means: It is true that everyone of us shall be resurrected after death, and shall have to render his account. It also means that those lodged in Paradise will be able to see Allâh.

Allâh's saying being true means, that whatever He communicated to us of the past events through His Prophets did happen exactly as He communicated.

Paradise and Fire being true means, that they do exist 'really' not metaphorically, and all the details of the bounties and punishment of Allâh mentioned in the Noble Qur'ân and authentic Ahâdith are there, beyond any shred of doubt.

The Hour being true means, that it is sure to happen at the time appointed for it, and all the details concerning it given in the Qur'ân and Hadith are true.

All the Prophets, especially the Prophet Muhammad's being 'true', means that they were all raised by Allâh in their respective times. They were all truthful, were gifted with the highest attributes of character and free from all moral flaws and defects.

1356. It was narrated that 'Âsim bin Humaid said: "I asked 'Âishah: 'With what did the Prophet ﷺ start voluntary night prayers?' She said: 'You have asked me about something which no one has asked before. He used to say Allâhu Akbar ten times, and Al-Hamdu Lillâh ten times and Subhân-Allâh ten times, and Astaghfirullâh ten times, and he would say Allâhumma aghfirli wahdini, warzuqni, wa 'âfini (O Allâh, forgive me, guide me, grant me provision and give me good health)," and he would seek refuge from the difficulty of the standing on the Day of Resurrection." 'Seeking refuge from the difficulty of standing' means: O Allâh! When, on the Day of Resurrection, we present ourselves to render our accounts before You, let it not be difficult for me and all should pass away with comfort and ease.

a. Tahajjud (voluntary night prayers) may also be started with this supplication.

b. All guidance is in Allâh's Hands. Therefore we must keep supplicating to Allâh for it.

Chapter 181. What Was Narrated Concerning How Many Rak'ah Should Be Prayed At Night

(المعجم ١٨١) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي كَمْ يُصَلِّي بِاللَّيْلِ (التحفة ٢٢٠)

He would prostrate for as long as it takes anyone of you to recite fifty Verses before he would raise his head. When the Mu'adh-dhin fell silent after the first Adhân for the Subh prayer, he would get up and pray two brief Rak'ah." (Sahih)

Comments:

Both ways of offering prayer are in order for Tahajjud — praying two Rak'ah by two, saying Salâm after each two Rak'ah, or praying four by four Rak'ah, each four Rak'ah being ended by saying Salâm. As for Witr, it is to be offered after Tahajjud. It could either be one Rak'ah, or three, or five.

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، صلٰوة المسافرين، باب صلٰوة الليل وعدد ركعات النبي ﷺ في الليل ... الخ، ح:٧٣٧ عن أبي بكر بن أبي شيبة به.

Comments:

The Hadith does not run counter to the Hadith mentioning eleven Rak'ah. By adding two Rak'ah of either 'Ishâ' or of Fajr to Tahajjud the total number of Rak'ah reach thirteen. Another way to count the Rak'ah as thirteen could be seen under the coming H. 1362.

١٣٦٠ - حَدَّثَنَا هَنَّادُ بْنُ السَّرِيِّ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو

Comments:

Of this, eight Rak'ah were of Tahajjud and one of Witr. Another possibility is that he ﷺ prayed six Rak'ah of Tahajjud following it by three Rak'ah of Witr.

1361. It was narrated that 'Âmir Ash-Sha'bi said: "I asked 'Abdullâh bin 'Abbâs and 'Abdullâh bin 'Umar about the Prophet's prayer at night. They said: '(He prayed) thirteen Rak'ah, including eight, and three for Witr, and two Rak'ah after the Fajr.'" (Sahih)

Comments:

The previous Hadith speaks of thirteen Rak'ah, including the two Rak'ah performed before the obligatory Fajr prayer. The present Hadith, however, tells us that, even apart from the Sunnah of Fajr, it is allowed to pray thirteen Rak'ah instead of eleven.

1363. It was narrated from Kuraib, the freed slave of Ibn 'Abbâs, that Ibn 'Abbâs told him that he slept at the house of Maimunah, the wife of the Prophet ﷺ, who was his maternal aunt. He said: "I lay down across the pillow and the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ and his wife were laying along it. The Prophet ﷺ slept until midnight, or a little before, or a little after. The Prophet ﷺ woke up and began to rub the sleep from his face with his hand. Then he recited the last ten Verses of Surah Âl 'Imrân. Then he got up and went to a water skin that was hanging up and performed ablution from it, and he performed ablution well, then he stood up and prayed." 'Abdullâh bin 'Abbâs said: "I stood up and did what he had done, then I went and stood beside him. The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ put his right hand on my head, took hold of my right ear and tweaked it. Then he prayed two Rak'ah, then a The Prophet ﷺ let 'Abdullâh bin 'Abbâs ﷺ spend the night in the house of his maternal aunt Maimunah, the Mother of the Believers, since he, being the son of her sister, was her Mahram (in a relationship of same blood).

Comments:

b. The purpose of 'Abdullâh bin 'Abbâs was to observe the actions of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ. The Prophet ﷺ, therefore, accorded him a chance to observe the real-life-example of himself.

c. Some small action taken during prayer, in case of necessity, does not invalidate the prayer.

(المعجم ١٨٢) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي أَيِّ سَاعَاتِ اللَّيْلِ أَفْضَلُ (التحفة ٢٢١)

1364. It was narrated that 'Amr bin 'Abasah said: "I came to the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ and said: 'O Messenger of Allâh, who became Muslim with you?' He said: 'A free man and a slave.'[1] I said: 'Is there any hour of the night that is closer to Allâh than another?' He said: 'Yes, the last half of the night.'" (Sahih)

At the time 'Amr bin 'Abasah ﷺ came to the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ, he ﷺ was at Makkah and had not yet emigrated from there. (For details see Sahih Muslim : 294)

Comments:

The Prophet ﷺ has demonstrated several permissible options concerning praying Tahajjud and resting at night, one of which has been mentioned in this Hadith.

1366. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "Our Lord, the Blessed and Exalted, descends when one third of the night remains, every night, and He says: 'Who will ask of Me, that I may give him? Who will call upon Me, that I may answer him? Who will ask My forgiveness, that I may forgive him?' until dawn comes." Hence they used to prefer voluntary prayers at the end of the night rather than at the beginning. (Sahih)

١٣٦٦ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو مَرْوَانَ، مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عُثْمَانَ الْعُثْمَانِيُّ، وَ يَعْقُوبُ بْنُ حُمَيْدِ بْنِ كَاسِبٍ قَالاَ: حَدَّثَنَا إِبْرَاهِيمُ بْنُ سَعْدٍ، عَنِ ابْنِ شِهَابٍ، عَنْ أَبِي سَلَمَةَ. وَ أَبِي عَبْدِ اللهِ الأَغَرِّ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ قَالَ: «يَنْزِلُ رَبُّنَا تَبَارَكَ وَتَعَالَى، حِينَ يَبْقَى ثُلُثُ اللَّيْلِ الآخِرُ، كُلَّ لَيْلَةٍ، فَيَقُولُ: مَنْ يَسْأَلُنِي فَأُعْطِيَهُ؟ مَنْ يَدْعُونِي فَأَسْتَجِيبَ لَهُ؟ مَنْ يَسْتَغْفِرُنِي فَأَغْفِرَ لَهُ؟ حَتَّى يَطْلُعَ الْفَجْرُ» فَلِذٰلِكَ كَانُوا يَسْتَحِبُّونَ صَلاَةَ آخِرِ اللَّيْلِ عَلَى أَوَّلِهِ.

Comments:

a. So immense is the mercy of Allâh, that He Himself commands His slaves to ask Him what they want.

b. Allâh's descending (to the nearest heaven) is a special attribute of Him, like His presence over the Throne, and the attribute of His speech. We must believe in these attributes as they are described in Qur'ân and Hadith without either denying them, or twisting their meaning. We must, moreover, abstain from giving resemblance for any one of His attributes to any of the created things, and must have the belief that Allâh does come down in a manner that suits His glory and majesty.

1367. It was narrated that Rifâ'ah Al-Juhani said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Allâh provides respite until, when half or two thirds of the night has passed, He says: "My slave does not ask of anyone other than Me. Whoever calls upon Me, I will answer him; whoever asks of Me, I will give him; whoever asks My forgiveness, I will forgive him," until dawn comes.'" (Sahih)

١٣٦٧ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ مُصْعَبٍ، عَنِ الْأَوْزَاعِيِّ، عَنْ يَحْيَى بْنِ أَبِي كَثِيرٍ، عَنْ هِلَالِ بْنِ أَبِي مَيْمُونَةَ، عَنْ عَطَاءِ بْنِ يَسَارٍ، عَنْ رِفَاعَةَ الْجُهَنِيِّ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «إِنَّ اللهَ يُمْهِلُ. حَتَّى إِذَا ذَهَبَ مِنَ اللَّيْلِ نِصْفُهُ أَوْ ثُلُثَاهُ، قَالَ: لَا يَسْأَلَنَّ عِبَادِي غَيْرِي. مَنْ يَدْعُنِي أَسْتَجِبْ لَهُ. مَنْ يَسْأَلْنِي أُعْطِهِ. مَنْ يَسْتَغْفِرْنِي أَغْفِرْ لَهُ. حَتَّى يَطْلُعَ الْفَجْرُ».

Comments:

'Providing respite' probably means that Allâh grants His slaves time for sleep and rest, and does not require of them to remain busy in worshiping Him, around the clock. Or else, it could mean that, as mentioned in the Hadith, Allâh's call comes after a particular point of time.

Chapter 183. What Was Narrated About What It Is Hoped Will Suffice For The Night Prayer

(المعجم ١٨٣) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِيمَا يُرْجَى أَنْ يَكْفِيَ مِنْ قِيَامِ اللَّيْلِ (التحفة ٢٢٢)

1368. It was narrated that Abu Mas'ud said: The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "Whoever recites the last two Verses of Surat Al-Baqarah at night, that will be sufficient for him." (Sahih)

In his narration (one of the narrators) Hafs said: "Abdur-

١٣٦٨ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ نُمَيْرٍ: حَدَّثَنَا حَفْصُ بْنُ غِيَاثٍ وَ أَسْبَاطُ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ قَالَا: حَدَّثَنَا الْأَعْمَشُ، عَنْ إِبْرَاهِيمَ، عَنْ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمٰنِ بْنِ يَزِيدَ، عَنْ عَلْقَمَةَ، عَنْ أَبِي مَسْعُودٍ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «الْآيَتَانِ

قَالَ حَفْصٌ، فِي حَدِيثِهِ: قَالَ عَبْدُ الرَّحْمٰنِ: فَلَقِيتُ أَبَا مَسْعُودٍ وَهُوَ يَطُوفُ فَحَدَّثَنِي بِهِ.

Comments:

'Recitation of the last two Verses of Surat Al-Baqarah being sufficient for the night' means that if a person has failed to perform Tahajjud on a certain night, let him at least recite these two Verses, since they would bring as much mercy from Allâh as would the prayer of Tahajjud, if it had been performed. Or else it could mean that the recitation of these two Verses is enough to ward off any trouble or calamity from him for the night.

1369. It was narrated from Abu Mas'ud that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "Whoever recites the last two Verses of Surat Al-Baqarah at night, that will be sufficient for him." (Sahih) ١٣٦٩ - حَدَّثَنَا عُثْمَانُ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا جَرِيرٌ، عَنْ مَنْصُورٍ، عَنْ إِبْرَاهِيمَ، عَنْ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمٰنِ بْنِ يَزِيدَ، عَنْ أَبِي مَسْعُودٍ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ قَالَ: «مَنْ قَرَأَ الْآيَتَيْنِ مِنْ آخِرِ سُورَةِ الْبَقَرَةِ، فِي لَيْلَةٍ، كَفَتَاهُ».

Chapter 184. What Was Narrated About If The Person Praying Becomes Sleepy

(المعجم ١٨٤) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي الْمُصَلِّي إِذَا نَعَسَ (التحفة ٢٢٣)

1370. It was narrated that 'Âishah said: "The Prophet ﷺ said: 'If anyone of you becomes drowsy, let him sleep until he feels refreshed, for he does not know, if he prays when he feels drowsy, he may want to say words seeking forgiveness but (instead) he ends up cursing himself.'" (Sahih)

١٣٧٠ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللهِ بْنُ نُمَيْرٍ؛ ح: وَحَدَّثَنَا أَبُو مَرْوَانَ مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عُثْمَانَ الْعُثْمَانِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الْعَزِيزِ ابْنُ أَبِي حَازِمٍ، جَمِيعاً عَنْ هِشَامِ بْنِ عُرْوَةَ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ: قَالَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ: «إِذَا نَعَسَ أَحَدُكُمْ، فَلْيَرْقُدْ حَتَّى يَذْهَبَ عَنْهُ النَّوْمُ. فَإِنَّهُ لاَ يَدْرِي، إِذَا صَلَّى وَهُوَ نَاعِسٌ،

لَعَلَّهُ يَذْهَبُ فَيَسْتَغْفِرُ، فَيَسُبُّ نَفْسَهُ».

Comments:

It is not advisable to perform prayer while a person is feeling sleepy. If that be the condition, he should either first complete his sleep, or do something to fight the sleep and regain the freshness of his mind and heart, such as performing ablution, or walking a little, or doing a light excercise.

1371. It was narrated from Anas bin Mâlik that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ entered the mosque and saw a rope tied between two pillars. He said, "What is this rope?" They said: "It belongs to Zainab. She prays here and when she gets tired she holds on to it." He said: "Untie it, untie it; let any one of you pray when he has energy, and if he gets tired let him sit down." (Sahih) ١٣٧١ - حَدَّثَنَا عِمْرَانُ بْنُ مُوسى اللَّيْثِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الْوَارِثِ بْنُ سَعِيدٍ، عَنْ عَبْدِ الْعَزِيزِ ابْنِ صُهَيْبٍ، عَنْ أَنَسِ بْنِ مَالِكٍ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ دَخَلَ الْمَسْجِدَ فَرَأَى حَبْلاً مَمْدُودًا بَيْنَ سَارِيَتَيْنِ. فَقَالَ: «مَا هٰذَا الْحَبْلُ؟» قَالُوا: لِزَيْنَبَ. تُصَلِّي فِيهِ. فَإِذَا فَتَرَتْ تَعَلَّقَتْ بِهِ. فَقَالَ «حُلُّوهُ. حُلُّوهُ. لِيُصَلِّ أَحَدُكُمْ نَشَاطَهُ. فَإِذَا فَتَرَ فَلْيَقْعُدْ».

Comments:

a. One should set a target of prayers and remembrance of Allâh which is not too burdensome for him.

b. In case one feels tired or distressed, it is proper and permissible that he should shorten the target of voluntary prayers that he had set for himself.

1372. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Prophet ﷺ said: "When anyone of you gets up to pray at night, and his tongue stumbles over the words of the Qur'ân and he does not know what he is saying, let him lie down." (Sahih)

١٣٧٢ - حَدَّثَنَا يَعْقُوبُ بْنُ حُمَيْدِ بْنِ كَاسِبٍ: حَدَّثَنَا حَاتِمُ بْنُ إِسْمَاعِيلَ، عَنْ أَبِي بَكْرِ بْنِ يَحْيَى بْنِ النَّضْرِ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ قَالَ: «إِذَا قَامَ أَحَدُكُمْ مِنَ اللَّيْلِ، فَاسْتَعْجَمَ الْقُرْآنُ عَلَى لِسَانِهِ، فَلَمْ يَدْرِ مَا يَقُولُ، اضْطَجَعَ».

تخريج: [صحيح] * أبوبكر مستور، ولحديثه شواهد عند مسلم، صلٰوة المسافرين، باب أمر من نعس في صلاته أو استعجم عليه القرآن . . . الخ، ح:٧٨٧ وغيره.

Comments:

'Stumbling over the words of the Qur'ân' means when drowsiness makes it difficult for him to recite the Qur'ân, or he loses good knowledge of what his tongue is repeating, let him stop his recitation and prayer, and go to bed.

Chapter 185. What Was Narrated Concerning Praying Between The Maghrib and The 'Ishâ'

(المعجم ١٨٥) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي الصَّلَاةِ بَيْنَ الْمَغْرِبِ وَالْعِشَاءِ

(التحفة ٢٢٤)

1373. It was narrated that 'Âishah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Whoever prays twenty Rak'ah between Maghrib and the 'Ishâ', Allâh will build for him a house in Paradise.'" (Maudu')

١٣٧٣ - حَدَّثَنَا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ مَنِيعٍ: حَدَّثَنَا يَعْقُوبُ بْنُ الْوَلِيدِ [الْمَدَنِيُّ]، عَنْ هِشَامِ بْنِ عُرْوَةَ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «مَنْ صَلَّى، بَيْنَ الْمَغْرِبِ وَالْعِشَاءِ، عِشْرِينَ رَكْعَةً، بَنَى اللهُ لَهُ بَيْتاً فِي الْجَنَّةِ».

تخريج: [إسناده موضوع] وقال البوصيري: هذا إسناد ضعيف، يعقوب بن الوليد، قال فيه الإمام أحمد: من الكذابين الكبار، وكان يضع الحديث، وقال الحاكم: يروي عن هشام بن عروة المناكير، قلت: واتفقوا على ضعفه انتهى، وكذبه ابن معين وغيره، وله شاهد ضعيف جدًا عند ابن عدي:١٧٩٨/٥ * فيه عمرو بن جرير البجلي، كذبه أبوحاتم.

Comments:

Some of the people call these Rak'ah as Salâtul-Awwâbin, but it is a misnomer. The correct position is that Salâtul-Awwâbin is another name for the Duha prayer (prayer after sunrise). The Prophet ﷺ has said that Salâtul-Awwâbin is the prayer performed when the young ones of the camels begin to have their feet sizzling (from the heat of the sand). (Sahih Muslim: 143).

1374. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Whoever prays six Rak'ah after the Maghrib and does not speak evil between them, they will be made equivalent to twelve years' worship.'" (Da'if)

١٣٧٤ - حَدَّثَنَا عَلِيُّ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ. وَ أَبُو عُمَرَ حَفْصُ بْنُ عُمَرَ. قَالَا: حَدَّثَنَا زَيْدُ بْنُ الْحُبَابِ: حَدَّثَنِي عُمَرُ بْنُ أَبِي خَثْعَمٍ الْيَمَامِيُّ، عَنْ يَحْيَى بْنِ أَبِي كَثِيرٍ، عَنْ أَبِي سَلَمَةَ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «مَنْ صَلَّى سِتَّ رَكَعَاتٍ، بَعْدَ

الْمَغْرِبِ، لَمْ يَتَكَلَّمْ بَيْنَهُنَّ بِسُوءٍ، عُدِلَتْ لَهُ عِبَادَةَ اثْنَتَيْ عَشْرَةَ سَنَةً».

(المعجم ١٨٦) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي التَّطَوُّعِ فِي الْبَيْتِ (التحفة ٢٢٥)

1375. It was narrated that 'Âsim bin 'Amr said: "A group from the people of 'Iraq came to 'Umar and when they came to him, he said to them: 'Where are you from?' They said: 'From the inhabitants of 'Iraq.' He said: 'Have you come with permission?'[1] They said: 'Yes.' Then they asked him about a man's prayer in his house. 'Umar said: 'I asked the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ and he said: "As for a man's prayer in his house, it is light, so illuminate your houses."''' (Da'if)

Comments:

a. It is necessary for men to perform obligatory prayer at the mosque.

b. As for Nafl (voluntary) prayers, it is preferable to offer them at home. The [1] Meaning: 'with the permission of the chief of Kufah?' (Explanation Sindi).

Rak'ah after the obligatory prayer generally called Sunnah, are in fact of the category of Nafl prayers.

c. It is permissible to offer Nafl prayer in the mosque.

1376. It was narrated from Abu Sa'eed Al-Khudri that the Prophet ﷺ said: "When anyone of you has finished his prayer, let him give his house a share of that, for Allâh will put something good in his house because of that prayer." (Sahih)

Comments:

The Prophet ﷺ liked to perform Nafl prayer at home, not because he had difficulty coming and going to the mosque, as would be the case if the mosque were at some distance from his house. He rather did it, because it is preferable to perform Nafl prayer in one's house.

Comments:

a. Remembrance of Allâh is the life and breath of the heart. Whoever does not remember Allâh is like a dead person.. The best form of remembrance of Allâh, however is prayer.

b. It is forbidden to pray at the graveyards.

c. The words, "Do not make your houses into graves," mean: Do not totally avoid praying in your houses as you (rightly) abstain from praying at the grave yards.

d. Praying obligatory prayer in mosque is an enjoined duty, but do not make it a habit to perform even all your Nafl prayers in mosque. You must also offer some of your Nafl prayer at home.

1378. 'Abdullâh bin Sa'd said: "I asked the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ: 'Which is better prayer in my house or prayer in the mosque?' He said: 'Do you not see how close my house is to the mosque? But praying in my house is dearer to me than praying in the mosque, apart from the prescribed prayers.'" (Sahih)

(المعجم ١٨٧) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي صَلَاةِ الضُّحَى (التحفة ٢٢٦)

1379. It was narrated that 'Abdullâh bin Hârith said: "During the caliphate of 'Uthmân, when the people were present in large numbers, I asked about Duha prayer, and I could not find anyone who could tell me that he, meaning the Prophet ﷺ, had prayed it, apart from Umm Hâni'. Chapter 188. What Was Narrated Concerning Istikhârah Prayer

1383. It was narrated that Jâbir bin 'Abdullâh said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ used to teach us Istikhârah, just as he used to teach us a Surah of the Qur'ân. He said: 'If anyone of you is deliberating about a decision he has to make, then let him pray two Rak'ah of non-obligatory prayer, then say: *Allâhumma inni astakhiruka bi 'ilmika wa astaqdiruka bi qudratika wa as'aluka min fadlikal-'azim, fa innaka taqdiru wa lâ aqdir, wa ta'lamu wa lâ a'lam, wa Anta 'allâmul-ghuyub. You have power, I have none. And You know, I know not. You are the Knower of hidden things. O Allâh, if in Your knowledge, this matter (then it should be mentioned by name) is good for me in my religion, my livelihood and my affairs, or both in this world and in the Hereafter then ordain it for me, make it easy for me, and bless it for me. Comments:

a. If, after having prayed the Istikhârah prayer (prayer for seeking guidance), one feels the quietude of the heart in doing the intended task, let him do it, otherwise forsake it.

b. When you reach the words 'this matter' in the supplication, mention the name of the task or project that you want to undertake, such as: 'this marriage, or journey, or business,' etc., or else, just bring the intended task or project to your mind without mentioning it in words.

c. 'Turn me away from it' means: O Allâh! Do not let me do it, and let not the thoughts like: 'How good it were if I had done it,' etc., should cross my mind.

تخريج: [إسناده صحيح] أخرجه الترمذي، الدعوات، باب:١١٨، ح:٣٥٧٨ من حديث عثمان بن عمر به، وقال: حسن صحيح غريب ، وزاد الحاكم:١/٣١٣، ٥١٩ في الأخير: وشفعني فيه ، وصححه هو، والذهبي وغيرهما، مرةً: على شرطهما، ومرةً قالا: صحيح ولا أشير إلى هذا الاختلاف من أجل الاختصار إلا نادرًا لأن لهما أوهامًا في بعض الأحيان، وهذا الشرح المختصر لا يتحمل الردود، فليتنبه.

Comments:

a. It is perfectly in order for a man to ask a person noted for his piety to supplicate to Allâh on his behalf.

b. To patiently bear a disease or a distress ordained by Allâh is doubtless one of the means to go higher up in one's rank with Allâh. It is also, however, not against either the spirit of trust in Allâh or unquestioning submission to His decree, if a sick person supplicates to Him for his healing or recovery from disease.

c. The Companion did not supplicate to the Prophet ﷺ or invoke him for healing; he only asked the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ to pray to Allâh for grant of recovery to him. The Companion also prayed to Allâh himself for the purpose. The Prophet's supplication to Allâh was for the grant of the Companion's prayer. That is why the act has been termed as intercession by the Prophet ﷺ.

Chapter 190. What Was Narrated Concerning The Prayer Of Glorification

(المعجم ١٩٠) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي صَلَاةِ التَّسْبِيحِ (التحفة ٢٢٩)

1386. It was narrated that Abu Râfi' said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said to 'Abbâs: 'O uncle,

He said: 'Pray four Rak'ah, and recite in each Rak'ah the Opening of the Book (Al-Fâtihah) and a Surah. When you have finished reciting, say: Subhân-Allâh[1] wal-hamdu Lillâh wa lâ ilâha illallâh wa Allâhu Akbar (Glory is to Allâh, praise is to Allâh, none has the right to be worshiped but Allâh and Allâh is the Most Great) fifteen times before you bow in Ruku'. Then bow and say it ten times; then raise your head and say it ten times; then prostrate and say it ten times; then raise your head and say it ten times; then prostrate and say it ten times; then raise your head and say it ten times before you stand up. That will be seventy-five times in each Rak'ah and three hundred times in the four Rak'ah, and even if your sins are like the grains of sand, Allâh will forgive you for them.' He said: 'O Messenger of Allâh, what if someone cannot say it in one day?' He said: 'Then say it once in a week; if you cannot, then say it once in a month' until he said: 'Once in a year.'" (Sahih)

تخريج: [حسن] أخرجه الترمذي، الوتر، باب ماجاء في صلوٰة التسبيح، ح:٤٨٢ من حديث

[1] Subhân Allâh also means to declare Allâh, the Most High, to be free of any imperfections, and whatever has been falsely attributed to Him, such as having a son, a partner, etc.

زيد العكلي به، وقال: غريب ، وانظر، ح:٢٥١ لعلته، وللحديث شواهد منها الحديث الآتي.

Comments:

Allâh greatly loves the words that glorify and sanctify Him. Even outside this particular prayer the words expressing Allâh's praise and majesty, namely Subhân-Allâh wa bi-hamdihî and Subhân Allâhil-'Azim (Glorified is Allâh and praised is He, Glorified is Allâh, the Most Great) must be given due prominence in our normal supplications, for the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ has said that, although these words are very easy for the tongue, they are dear to Allâh and are heavy in the Balance (see Sahih Al-Bukhâri, last Hadith). The reason why Salât At-Tasbih merits such great reward from Allâh, may be attributed to the fact that in it, one repeats words expressing Allâh's oneness, glorification and greatness many times over.

1387. It was narrated that Ibn 'Abbâs said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said to 'Abbâs bin 'Abdul-Muttalib: 'O 'Abbâs, O my uncle, shall I not give you a gift, shall I not give you something, shall I not tell you of something which, if you do it, will expiate for ten types of sins? If you do them, Allâh will forgive you your sins, the first and the last of them, the old and the new, the unintentional and the deliberate, the minor and the major, the secret and the open, ten types of sin. Pray four Rak'ah, and recite in each Rak'ah the Opening of the Book (Al-Fâtihah) and a Surah. When you have finished reciting in the first Rak'ah, while you are standing, say: Subhân-Allâh walhamdu Lillâh wa lâ ilâha illallâh wa Allâhu Akbar (Glory is to Allâh, praise is to Allâh, none has the right to be worshiped but Allâh and Allâh is the Most Great) fifteen times. Then bow and say it ten times while you are bowing.

(المعجم ١٩١) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي لَيْلَةِ النِّصْفِ مِنْ شَعْبَانَ (التحفة ٢٣٠)

1388. It was narrated that 'Ali bin Abu Tâlib said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'When it is the night of the middle of Sha'bân, spend its night in prayer and observe a fast on that day. For Allâh descends at sunset on that night to the lowest heaven and says: 'Is there no one who will ask Me for forgiveness, that I may forgive him? Is there no one who will ask Me for provision, that I may provide for him? Is there no one who is afflicted by trouble, that I may relieve him?' and so on, until dawn comes.'" (Maudu')

Comments:

The Hadith is not only extremely 'Weak' but a clear fabrication as well. As such, there is no basis for observing fast specifically on the fifteenth of Sha'bân. Similarly, there is no substance in Allâh's alleged descent in this particular night to the lowest heaven, as mentioned in this Hadith and the next. Sound Ahâdith, however, do confirm that Allâh (the Glorified) descends to the lowest heaven each night. The exact nature of this descent we neither know nor can comprehend. We must, however, have faith in this attribute of Allâh's descent.

1389. It was narrated that 'Âishah said: "I missed the Prophet ﷺ one night, so I went out looking for him. I found him at Al-Baqi', raising his head towards the sky. He said: 'O 'Âishah, were you afraid that Allâh and His Messenger would wrong you?'" She said: "I said: 'No, it is not that, but I thought that you had gone to one of your other wives.' He said: 'Allâh descends on the night of the middle of Sha'bân to the lowest heaven, and He forgives more than the number of hairs on the sheep of Banu Kalb.'" (Da'if)

Comments:

Scholars hold all the Ahâdith describing the virtues of the night of the middle of Sha'bân, including Hadith No. 1390 as 'Weak'. In fact no special merit of this night is proved from sound Ahâdith. Shaikh Albâni also regards most of these Ahâdith as 'Weak.' The only exception according to him is Hadith no.1390, and according to him the Hadith proves the excellence of the night under reference.

1390. It was narrated from Abu Musa Al-Ash'ari that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "Allâh looks down on the night of the middle of Sha'bân and forgives all His creation, apart from the idolator and the Mushâhin."[1] (Da'if)

Comments:

Performing one prostration on a happy event or occasion is the Sunnah of the Prophet ﷺ. The prostration could as well be considerably long.

Comments:

Three of the Prophet's Companions, Ka'b bin Mâlik, Murârah bin Rabi' and Hilâl bin Umayyah ﷺ, lagged behind the Islamic army on the occasion of the Tabuk military campaign, for no valid reason. Therefore, on Allâh's command, the entire Muslim community observed a social boycott of these three for fifty days. During this long long period, these three remained mentally distressed and kept offering their repentance before Allâh.. Finally, when after fifty days, Allâh accepted their repentance, the Prophet of Allâh ﷺ declared it as the happiest day of their lives.

Chapter 193. What Was Narrated Saying That Prayer Is An Expiation

١٣٩٥ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ، وَ نَصْرُ بْنُ عَلِيٍّ. قَالَا: حَدَّثَنَا وَكِيعٌ: حَدَّثَنَا مِسْعَرٌ وَ سُفْيَانُ، عَنْ عُثْمَانَ بْنِ الْمُغِيرَةِ الثَّقَفِيِّ، عَنْ عَلِيِّ بْنِ رَبِيعَةَ الْوَالِبِيِّ، عَنْ أَسْمَاءَ بْنِ الْحَكَمِ الْفَزَارِيِّ، عَنْ عَلِيِّ بْنِ أَبِي طَالِبٍ قَالَ: كُنْتُ إِذَا سَمِعْتُ مِنْ رَسُولِ اللهِ ﷺ حَدِيثاً، يَنْفَعُنِي اللهُ بِمَا شَاءَ مِنْهُ. وَإِذَا حَدَّثَنِي عَنْهُ غَيْرُهُ، اسْتَحْلَفْتُهُ. فَإِذَا حَلَفَ صَدَّقْتُهُ. وَإِنَّ أَبَا بَكْرٍ حَدَّثَنِي وَصَدَقَ أَبُو بَكْرٍ، قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «مَا مِنْ رَجُلٍ يُذْنِبُ ذَنْباً، فَيَتَوَضَّأُ، فَيُحْسِنُ الْوُضُوءَ. ثُمَّ يُصَلِّي رَكْعَتَيْنِ، وَقَالَ مِسْعَرٌ: ثُمَّ يُصَلِّي وَيَسْتَغْفِرُ اللهَ، إِلَّا غَفَرَ اللهُ لَهُ».

1395. It was narrated that 'Ali bin Abu Tâlib said: "If I heard a Hadith from the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ, Allâh benefited me with it as much as He willed, and if I heard it from anyone else, I would ask him to swear an oath, then if he swore an oath I would believe him. Abu Bakr told me and Abu Bakr spoke the truth that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'There is no man who commits a sin then he performs ablution and does it well, then he prays two Rak'ah,' (one of the narrators) Mis'ar said: 'then performs prayer and seeks the forgiveness of Allâh, but Allâh will forgive him.' Comments:

a. The process of exercising caution in accepting the Ahâdith, and of examining what is true from what is false, dates back to the time of the Companions themselves.

b. 'Ali ﷺ had so much faith in the veracity of Abu Bakr that he accepted any version of Hadith – narrated by him without doubt or delay.

c. Both ablution and prayer are the means by which sins are forgiven.

١٣٩٦ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ رُمْحٍ: أَنْبَأَنَا اللَّيْثُ ابْنُ سَعْدٍ، عَنْ أَبِي الزُّبَيْرِ، عَنْ سُفْيَانَ بْنِ عَبْدِ اللهِ أَظُنُّهُ عَنْ عَاصِمِ بْنِ سُفْيَانَ الثَّقَفِيِّ أَنَّهُمْ غَزَوْا غَزْوَةَ السَّلاَسِلِ، فَفَاتَهُمُ الْغَزْوُ. فَرَابَطُوا. ثُمَّ رَجَعُوا إِلَى مُعَاوِيَةَ وَعِنْدَهُ أَبُو أَيُّوبَ وَعُقْبَةُ بْنُ عَامِرٍ. فَقَالَ عَاصِمٌ: يَا أَبَا أَيُّوبَ فَاتَنَا الْغَزْوُ الْعَامَ. وَقَدْ أُخْبِرْنَا أَنَّهُ مَنْ صَلَّى فِي الْمَسَاجِدِ الأَرْبَعَةِ، غُفِرَ لَهُ ذَنْبُهُ. فَقَالَ: يَا ابْنَ أَخِي أَدُلُّكَ عَلَى أَيْسَرَ مِنْ ذٰلِكَ. إِنِّي سَمِعْتُ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ يَقُولُ: «مَنْ تَوَضَّأَ كَمَا أُمِرَ، وَصَلَّى كَمَا أُمِرَ، غُفِرَ لَهُ مَا تَقَدَّمَ مِنْ عَمَلٍ» أَكَذٰلِكَ يَا عُقْبَةُ؟ قَالَ: نَعَمْ.

1396. It was narrated from 'Âsim bin Sufyân Thaqafi that they went on the campaign of Salâsil, but no battle took place; they only took up their positions. Then they came back to Mu'âwiyah, and Abu Ayyub and 'Uqbah bin 'Âmir were with him. 'Âsim said: "O Abu Ayyub, we have missed out on Jihâd this year, and we were told that whoever prays in the four mosques will be forgiven his sins."[1] He said: "O son of my brother, shall I not tell you of something easier than that? I heard the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ say: 'Whoever performs ablution as he has been commanded, and prays as he has been commanded, will be forgiven his previous (bad) deeds.'" He said: "(Did he not say it) like that, O 'Uqbah?" He said: "Yes." (Hasan)

Comments:

a. One military expedition of the name of the Campaign of Salâsil took place before the conquest of Makkah in the year 8 AH. The one referred to in this Hadith, known as the campaign of Salâsil, is a different campaign which had taken place during the caliphate of Mu'âwiyah ﷺ.

b. Salâsil in Arabic means a range of sand dunes. Both these battles having taken place in sandy areas, came to be known as campaigns of Salâsil.

[1] "The mosques that existed, or the three designated ones, and the fourth being Qubâ' mosque." (Explanation by Sindi).

c. The four mosques referred to in the Hadith are: Al-Masjid Al-Harâm (the Holy Mosque at Makkah), Prophet's Mosque at Al-Madinah, Al-Masjid Al-Aqsa (in Jerusalem), and the Qubâ' Mosque. The Prophet ﷺ has exhorted the people regarding the prayer in these mosques.

1397. 'Uthmân said: "I heard the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ say: 'Do you think that if there was a river in the courtyard of anyone of you, and he bathed in it five times each day, would there be any dirt left on him?' They said: '(There would be) nothing.' He said: 'Prayer takes away sins like water takes away dirt.'" (Sahih)

Comments:

a. Sins are forgiven for one who performs his ablution and prayer according to the precepts of the Prophet ﷺ.
b. Teachings of Shari'ah (Islamic law) are easily driven home and retained in the mind, if given through the method of examples and similitudes. The same is the case with other educational and scientific topics.

1398. It was narrated from 'Abdullâh bin Mas'ud that a man did something with a woman that was less than adultery; I do not know how far it went, but it was less than adultery. He went to the Prophet ﷺ and told him about that. Then Allâh revealed the words: "And perform the prayer, at the two ends of the day and in some hours of the night. The prayers at the two ends of the day are the Fajr and 'Asr. Intervening between the two is Zuhr. Nightly prayers are those of Maghrib and 'Ishâ'. Thus, performing the five daily prayers is the means to get remittance of one's sins.

1399. It was narrated that Anas bin Mâlik said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Allâh enjoined fifty prayers upon my nation, and I came back with that until I came to Musa. Musa said: 'What has your Lord enjoined upon your nation?' I said: 'He has enjoined fifty prayers on me.' He said: 'Go back to your Lord, for your nation will not be able to do that.' So I went back to my Lord, and He reduced it by half. I went back to Musa and told him, and he said: 'Go back to your Lord, for your nation will not be able to do that.' So I went back to my Lord, and He said: 'They are five and they are fifty; My Word does not change.' So I went back to Musa and he said: 'Go back to your Lord.' I said: 'I feel shy before my Lord.'"

a. The Hadith relates part of the story of Mi'râj (Prophet's night journey to the seven heavens). For details see Sahih Al-Bukhâri: 349.

b. When it was the last time, the Prophet ﷺ abstained from appealing for further reduction. The reason being that the promise of the reward of fifty prayers for performing five prayers had the hidden indication that further reduction would not be granted.

١٤٠١ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ بَشَّارٍ: حَدَّثَنَا ابْنُ أَبِي عَدِيٍّ، عَنْ شُعْبَةَ، عَنْ عَبْدِ رَبِّهِ بْنِ سَعِيدٍ، عَنْ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ يَحْيَى بْنِ حَبَّانَ، عَنِ ابْنِ مُحَيْرِيزٍ، عَنِ الْمُخْدَجِيِّ، عَنْ عُبَادَةَ بْنِ الصَّامِتِ قَالَ: سَمِعْتُ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ يَقُولُ: «خَمْسُ صَلَوَاتٍ افْتَرَضَهُنَّ اللهُ عَلَى عِبَادِهِ. فَمَنْ جَاءَ بِهِنَّ لَمْ يَنْتَقِصْ مِنْهُنَّ شَيْئاً، اسْتِخْفَافاً بِحَقِّهِنَّ. فَإِنَّ اللهَ جَاعِلٌ لَهُ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ عَهْدًا أَنْ يُدْخِلَهُ الْجَنَّةَ. وَمَنْ جَاءَ بِهِنَّ قَدِ انْتَقَصَ مِنْهُنَّ شَيْئاً، اسْتِخْفَافاً بِحَقِّهِنَّ، لَمْ يَكُنْ لَهُ عِنْدَ اللهِ عَهْدٌ. إِنْ شَاءَ عَذَّبَهُ، وَإِنْ شَاءَ غَفَرَ لَهُ».

1401. It was narrated that 'Ubâdah bin Sâmit said: "I heard the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ say: 'Five prayers that Allâh has enjoined upon His slaves, so whoever does them, and does not omit anything out of negligence, on the Day of Resurrection Allâh will make a covenant with him that He will admit him to Paradise. But whoever does them but omits something from them out of negligence, will not have such a covenant with Allâh; if He wills He will punish him, and if He wills, He will forgive him.'" (Hasan)

Comments:

a. Obligatory prayers are just five — the rest are voluntary (Nafl). Some of these Nafl prayers are very much emphasized, others are not. However, there is no permission to be defecient with them, since they serve the purpose of making good the defects left by the people in performing their obligatory prayers.

b. 'Omitting something' could either be in the form of completely neglecting them or not performing them with a sense of humility and submissiveness.

1402. It was narrated from Sharik bin 'Abdullâh bin Abu Namir that he heard Anas bin Mâlik say: "While we were sitting in the mosque, a man entered riding a camel; he made it kneel in the mosque, then he hobbled it and said to them: 'Which of you is Muhammad?' The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ was reclining among them, so they said: 'This fair-skinned man who is reclining.' The man said to him: 'O son of 'Abdul-Muttalib!' The Prophet ﷺ said: 'I am listening to you.' The man said: O Muhammad! I am asking you and will be stern in asking, so do not bear any ill-feelings towards me.' He said: 'Ask whatever you think.' The man said: 'I abjure you by your Lord and the Lord of those who came before you, has Allâh sent you to all of mankind?' The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'By Allâh, yes.' He said: 'I abjure you by Allâh, has Allâh commanded you to pray the five prayers each day and night?' The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'By Allâh, yes.' He

Comments:

a. The mosque at the time of the Prophet ﷺ was a structure of unbaked earth or clay. Therefore, entry of camels etc., was not barred. It may be that a part of the mosque was set aside for the animals. This example could serve as a precedent for us to provide parking lots for bikes, scooters and cars etc., adjoining the mosques in our times.
b. The report of one narrator is acceptable in Islamic law but only if the narrator is dependable and trustworthy.
c. It is a commendable act to go and consult a true scholar about the teachings of Islamic law.

1403. Sa'eed bin Musayyab said that Abu Qatâdah bin Rib'i told him that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "Allâh said: 'I have enjoined on your nation five prayers, and I have made a covenant with Myself that whoever maintains them, I will admit him to Paradise, and whoever does not maintain them, has no such covenant with Me.'" Comments:

a. There are three mosques superior to all the rest in the world, namely (i) Al-Masjid Al-Harâm (The Sacred Mosque) that houses the Sacred Ka'bah, (ii) The Prophet's Mosque, and (iii) The Aqsâ Mosque (at Jerusalem). It is, therefore, an act of virtue, meriting reward from Allâh, to undertake a journey to visit these mosques, and offer prayer in them. Barring these three, it is not permissible to go to visit any other mosque or grave etc., in the belief that prayer in those places would fetch greater reward.

b. Performing prayer at the Prophet's Mosque is not equal, but better in reward than offering one thousand prayers.

c. Some of the Ahâdith speak of reward of one prayer in the Prophet's Mosque as equivalent to fifty thousands prayer (e. g. H. 1413 of Ibn Mâjah). However, the Hadith is Weak.

1405. It was narrated from Ibn

١٤٠٥ - حَدَّثَنَا إِسْحَاقُ بْنُ مَنْصُورٍ: حَدَّثَنَا

'Umar that the Prophet ﷺ said: "One prayer in this mosque of mine is better than one thousand prayers in any other mosque except the Sacred Mosque." (Sahih)

عَبْدُ اللهِ بْنُ نُمَيْرٍ، عَنْ عُبَيْدِ اللهِ، عَنْ نَافِعٍ، عَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ ﷺ قَالَ: «صَلاَةٌ فِي مَسْجِدِي هٰذَا، أَفْضَلُ مِنْ أَلْفِ صَلاَةٍ فِيمَا سِوَاهُ مِنَ الْمَسَاجِدِ. إِلَّا الْمَسْجِدَ الْحَرَامَ».

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم (انظر الحديث السابق) من حديث ابن نمير وغيره به.

Comments:

The expression 'In this mosque of mine' does not mean only that part of the mosque that existed in the days of the Prophet ﷺ. It includes all other additions made to it in subsequent years as well, since they do not constitute any separate structure. Therefore, prayer in any part of the Prophet's Mosque, be it old or new, merits this enhanced reward. Nevertheless, the superiority of praying in the front rows over other rows in this mosque is also like the superiority in other mosques.

1406. It was narrated from Jâbir that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "One prayer in my mosque is better than one thousand prayers elsewhere, except the Sacred Mosque, and one prayer in the Sacred Mosque is better than one hundred thousand prayers elsewhere." (Sahih)

١٤٠٦ - حَدَّثَنَا إِسْمَاعِيلُ بْنُ أَسَدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا زَكَرِيَّا بْنُ عَدِيٍّ: أَنْبَأَنَا عُبَيْدُ اللهِ بْنُ عَمْرٍو، عَنْ عَبْدِ الْكَرِيمِ، عَنْ عَطَاءٍ، عَنْ جَابِرٍ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ قَالَ: «صَلاَةٌ فِي مَسْجِدِي أَفْضَلُ مِنْ أَلْفِ صَلاَةٍ فِيمَا سِوَاهُ. إِلَّا الْمَسْجِدَ الْحَرَامَ. وَصَلاَةٌ فِي الْمَسْجِدِ الْحَرَامِ أَفْضَلُ مِنْ مِائَةِ أَلْفِ صَلاَةٍ فِيمَا سِوَاهُ».

تخريج: [إسناده صحيح] أخرجه أحمد: ٣/٣٤٣، ٣٩٧ من حديث عبيدالله بن عمرو الرقي به، صححه البوصيري، وابن عبدالهادي في التنقيح وغيرهما.

Comments:

Performing prayer at the Prophet's Mosque is not equal but better in reward than offering one thousand prayers. Similarly, offering prayer at the Sacred Mosque is not equal but more in reward than offering one hundred thousand prayer. Nevertheless, depending on the degree of humility and submissiveness in prayer, it is possible that one obtain an increase or decrease in his reward.

Chapter 196. What Was Narrated Concerning Praying In The Mosque Of Baitil-Maqdis (Jerusalem)

(المعجم ١٩٦) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي الصَّلَاةِ فِي مَسْجِدِ بَيْتِ الْمَقْدِسِ

(التحفة ٢٣٥)

1407. It was narrated that

١٤٠٧ - حَدَّثَنَا إِسْمَاعِيلُ بْنُ عَبْدِ اللهِ الرَّقِّيُّ:

حَدَّثَنَا عِيسَى بْنُ يُونُسَ: حَدَّثَنَا ثَوْرُ بْنُ يَزِيدَ، عَنْ زِيَادِ بْنِ أَبِي سَوْدَةَ، عَنْ أَخِيهِ عُثْمَانَ بْنِ أَبِي سَوْدَةَ، عَنْ مَيْمُونَةَ، مَوْلَاةِ النَّبِيِّ ﷺ قَالَتْ: قُلْتُ: يَا رَسُولَ اللهِ أَفْتِنَا فِي بَيْتِ الْمَقْدِسِ. قَالَ: «أَرْضُ الْمَحْشَرِ وَالْمَنْشَرِ. ائْتُوهُ فَصَلُّوا فِيهِ. فَإِنَّ صَلَاةً فِيهِ كَأَلْفِ صَلَاةٍ فِي غَيْرِهِ» قُلْتُ: أَرَأَيْتَ إِنْ لَمْ أَسْتَطِعْ أَنْ أَتَحَمَّلَ إِلَيْهِ؟ قَالَ: «فَتُهْدِي لَهُ زَيْتاً يُسْرَجُ فِيهِ. فَمَنْ فَعَلَ ذٰلِكَ فَهُوَ كَمَنْ أَتَاهُ».

Maimunah the freed (female) slave of the Prophet ﷺ said: I said: "O Messenger of Allâh, tell us about Baitil-Maqdis." He said: "It is the land of the Resurrection and the Gathering. Go and pray there, for one prayer there is like one thousand prayers elsewhere." I said: "What if I cannot travel and go there?" He said: "Then send a gift of oil to light its lamps, for whoever does that is like one who goes there." (Da'if) تخريج: [إسناده ضعيف] أخرجه أحمد:٦/٤٦٣ من حديث عيسى بن يونس به، وصححه البوصيري، وضعفه عبدالحق، وابن القطان، وقال الذهبي: هذا حديث منكر جدًا * زياد وأخوه ثقتان راجع التهذيب وغيره، وللحديث طريق مبتور عند أبي داود، ح:٤٥٧ وغيره * ثور عنعن، وعثمان لم يصرح بالسماع عن ميمونة.

١٤٠٨ - حَدَّثَنَا عُبَيْدُ اللهِ بْنُ الْجَهْمِ الْأَنْمَاطِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا أَيُّوبُ بْنُ سُوَيْدٍ، عَنْ أَبِي زُرْعَةَ [السَّيْبَانِيِّ]، يَحْيَى بْنِ أَبِي عَمْرٍو: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللهِ بْنُ الدَّيْلَمِيِّ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ عَمْرٍو عَنِ النَّبِيِّ ﷺ قَالَ: «لَمَّا فَرَغَ سُلَيْمَانُ ابْنُ دَاوُدَ مِنْ بِنَاءِ بَيْتِ الْمَقْدِسِ، سَأَلَ اللهَ ثَلَاثاً: حُكْماً يُصَادِفُ حُكْمَهُ، وَمُلْكاً لَا يَنْبَغِي لِأَحَدٍ مِنْ بَعْدِهِ، وَأَلَّا يَأْتِيَ هٰذَا الْمَسْجِدَ أَحَدٌ، لَا يُرِيدُ إِلَّا الصَّلَاةَ فِيهِ، إِلَّا خَرَجَ مِنْ ذُنُوبِهِ كَيَوْمَ وَلَدَتْهُ أُمُّهُ» فَقَالَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ: «أَمَّا اثْنَتَانِ فَقَدْ أُعْطِيَهُمَا. وَأَرْجُو أَنْ يَكُونَ قَدْ أُعْطِيَ الثَّالِثَةَ».

1408. It was narrated from 'Abdullâh bin 'Amr that the Prophet ﷺ said: "When Sulaimân bin Dâwud finished building Baitil-Maqdis, he asked Allâh for three things: Judgment that was in harmony with His judgment, a dominion that no one after him would have, and that no one should come to this mosque, intending only to pray there, but he would emerge free of sin as the day his mother bore him." The Prophet ﷺ said: "Two prayers were granted, and I hope that the third was also granted." (Sahih)

تخريج: [صحيح] أخرجه ابن خزيمة في صحيحه:٢/٢٨٨، ح:١٣٣٤ عن عبيدالله بن الجهم به * أيوب لم ينفرد به، تابعه الأوزاعي عند الحاكم:١/٣٠، ٣١ به، وأخرج أحمد،

Comments:

a. 'Judgment that was in harmony with Allâh's judgment' means being enabled to pass correct judgments that are free even from well-intentioned errors.
b. The Hadith mentions the virtue of visiting Baitil-Maqdis and offering prayer in it.

1409. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "No one should prepare a mount (travel) to visit any mosque except three: the Sacred Mosque, this mosque of mine, and Aqsa Mosque." (Sahih)

Comments:

Undertaking a journey towards any other mosque, grave, mountain or cave for purposes of visiting it or earning reward from it is prohibited. People going for the annual pilgrimage (Hajj), while going from Makkah to Al-Madinah should only go there with the intention of visiting the mosque of the Prophet ﷺ, not his grave, since we are not commanded to undertake journeys for purposes of visiting graves.

1410. It was narrated from Abu Sa'eed and 'Abdullâh bin 'Amr bin 'Âs that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "Do not prepare a mount (travel) to visit any mosque except three: the Sacred Mosque, Aqsa Mosque, and this mosque of mine." (Sahih) ح:١١٩٧ وغيره، ومسلم، الحج، باب سفر المرأة مع محرم إلى حج وغيره، ح:٨٢٧ من حديث قزعة عن أبي سعيد به.

Comments:

Undertaking a journey for 'visiting' is only allowed in respect of these three mosques. It is, however, perfectly in order to travel to any and every destination in the world for a valid purpose, such as acquisition of knowledge, business, employment, fighting in the cause of Allâh, meeting with relatives, friends or people of known scholarship or virtuosity. Similarly, it is in order for a person living in Al-Madinah to go to the Qubâ' Mosque because this going does not fall under the definition of 'journey'.

Chapter 197. What Was Narrated Concerning Prayer In Qubâ' Mosque

(المعجم ١٩٧) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي الصَّلَاةِ فِي مَسْجِدِ قُبَاءَ (التحفة ٢٣٦)

1411. Abul-Abrad, the freed slave of Banu Khatmah, said that he heard Usaid bin Zuhair Ansâri who was one of the Companions of the Prophet ﷺ narrating that the Prophet ﷺ said: "One prayer in the Qubâ' Mosque is like 'Umrah." (Hasan)

Comments:

a. The Qubâ' Mosque is the first mosque built after Emigration. Before entering Al-Madinah, the Prophet ﷺ had stayed for a few days at Qubâ' and built a mosque there. The Prophet (ﷺ) used to go once a week and offer prayer there. (Sahih Al-Bukhâri: 1193).

b. While staying in Al-Madinah, one must go to visit the Qubâ' Mosque in order to win the reward of one 'Umrah as well as the reward of following the Sunnah of the Prophet ﷺ.

Chapter 199. What Was Narrated Concerning The Beginning Of The Construction Of The Pulpit

(المعجم ١٩٩) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي بَدْءِ شَأْنِ الْمِنْبَرِ (التحفة ٢٣٨)

1414. It was narrated from Tufail bin Ubayy bin Ka'b that his father said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ used to pray facing the trunk of a date-palm tree when the mosque was still a hut, and he used to deliver the sermon leaning on that trunk. A man from among his Companions said: 'Would you like us to make you something upon which you can stand on Fridays so that the people will be able to see you and hear your sermon?' He said: 'Yes.' So he made three steps for him, as a pulpit. When they put the pulpit in place, they put it in the place where it stands now. When the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ wanted to stand on the pulpit, he passed by the tree trunk from which he used to deliver the sermon, and when he went beyond the trunk, it moaned and split and cracked. The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ came down when he heard the voice of the trunk, and rubbed it with his hand until it fell silent. Then he went back to the pulpit and when he prayed, he prayed facing it. When the mosque was knocked down (for renovation) and (the pillars, etc.) were changed, Ubayy bin Ka'b took that trunk and kept it in his house until it became very old and the termites consumed it and it became grains of dust." (Da'if)

Comments:

a. Delivering the sermon while standing is the Sunnah of the Prophet ﷺ.
b. The sermon should be delivered from atop a pulpit.
c. Initially, the pulpit had three steps. More steps were added to it to make it higher after the passing away of the Prophet ﷺ.
d. The moaning of the date-palm trunk within the hearing of the people was a miraculous phenomenon.
e. It is allowed to safe-keep the relics of the Prophet ﷺ but only if we are sure of the authenticity of those relics.

١٤١٥ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ خَلَّادٍ الْبَاهِلِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا بَهْزُ بْنُ أَسَدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا حَمَّادُ بْنُ سَلَمَةَ، عَنْ عَمَّارِ بْنِ أَبِي عَمَّارٍ، عَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ، وَعَنْ ثَابِتٍ، عَنْ أَنَسٍ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ كَانَ يَخْطُبُ إِلَى جِذْعٍ. فَلَمَّا اتَّخَذَ الْمِنْبَرَ ذَهَبَ إِلَى الْمِنْبَرِ. فَحَنَّ الْجِذْعُ فَأَتَاهُ فَاحْتَضَنَهُ فَسَكَنَ. فَقَالَ: «لَوْ لَمْ أَحْتَضِنْهُ لَحَنَّ إِلَى يَوْمِ الْقِيَامَةِ».

1415. It was narrated from Anas that the Prophet ﷺ used to deliver the sermon leaning on a tree trunk. When he started to use the pulpit, he went to the pulpit, and the trunk made a sorrowful sound. So he came to it and embraced it, and it calmed down. He said: "If I had not embraced it, it would have continued to grieve until the Day of Resurrection." (Sahih)

1416. It was narrated that Abu Hâzim said: "The people differed concerning the pulpit of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ and what it was made of. So they came to Sahl bin Sa'd and asked him. He said: 'There is no one left who knows more about that than I. It is made of tamarisk (a type of tree) from Ghâbah.[1] It was made by so-and-so, the freed slave of so-and-so (a woman), (who was) a carpenter. He brought it and he (the Prophet ﷺ) stood on it when it was put in position. He faced the Qiblah and the people stood behind him. He recited Qur'ân, then bowed and raised his head, then he moved backwards until he prostrated on the ground, then he went back to the pulpit and recited Qur'ân, then bowed and raised his head, then he moved backwards until he prostrated on the ground." Comments:

a. "There is no one left who knows more about that than I," i.e., those who knew more are dead by now.

b. There is no harm if the Imâm places himself a bit higher than the worshippers in a congregational prayer.

c. Moving a little forward or backward during prayer does not invalidate it.

d. Leading the people in prayer from a raised position was meant to let the people see and learn the various actions and movements of prayer.

Comments:

a. Tahajjud may to be performed as a congregational prayer.

b. Long recitation is preferred in Tahajjud.

c. A teacher's leading by example gives courage to the pupils and creates in them a desire to follow his example.

d. 'Abdullâh bin Mas'ud ﷺ felt a desire to offer prayer behind the Prophet ﷺ. The etiquette of love and pupilage demanded that he persevered with the teacher until the last, in his noble activity. He, therefore, thought it bad to sit down in the middle of the prayer, for it negated the very spirit of love and reverence for the master.

Comments:

a. If Allâh favors one of His slaves by granting him a higher status, he should, in return, try to demonstrate more and more gratefulness towards Him.

b. The best way to pay thanks to Allâh is to do one's very best in worshiping Him, especially in the offering of prayer and the recitation of the Qur'ân. Tahajjud is a combination of both.

1420. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ used to pray until his feet became swollen. It was said: 'O Messenger of Allâh, Allâh has forgiven you your past and future sins.' He said: 'Should I not be a thankful slave?'" (Sahih)

[1] "They have explained that the Qunut in this Hadith means the standing. And this Hadith does not negate the Hadith: 'The slave is nearest to his Lord when prostrating' since it is possible that that nearness in the state of prostration be with regard to the supplication being answered, as he indicated; so that they would increase in supplication. Comments:

All the actions in prayer are the means to achieve closeness to Allâh. Prostration, however, occupies a special place among all these, since it is the greatest manifestation of man's submissiveness to Allâh, which is the very essence of worship.

1423. Ma'dân bin Abu Talhah Al-Ya'muri said: "I met Thawbân and said to him: 'Tell me a Hadith that Allâh may benefit me thereby.' But he remained silent. Then I said the same and he remained silent. That happened three times. Then he said to me: 'You should prostrate to Allâh; for I heard the Messenger of Allâh

Comments:

The object of 'prostrating a great deal' could be achieved through offering Sunnah and Nafl prayers as well through performing a good number of prostrations at times of gratitude and of recitation of the Noble Qur'ân.

1424. It was narrated from 'Ubâdah bin Sâmit that he heard the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ say: "No one prostrates to Allâh but Allâh will record one Hasanah (good reward) for him, and will erase thereby one bad deed and raise him in status one degree. So prostrate a great deal." (Sahih)

Comments:

a. Great attention should be paid to obligatory prayers, fasts, pilgrimage and obligatory charity, so that no negligence finds its way in any one of them.
b. Voluntary prayers, fasts, pilgrimage and charities are also extremely important.
c. The most important among Nafl prayers are the ones generally dubbed as the 'Emphasized Sunnah,' i.e., the Rak'ah performed before or after the obligatory prayers. Next in order comes the Tahajjud prayer.

١٤٢٦ - حَدَّثَنَا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ سَعِيدٍ الدَّارِمِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا سُلَيْمَانُ بْنُ حَرْبٍ: حَدَّثَنَا حَمَّادُ بْنُ سَلَمَةَ، عَنْ دَاوُدَ بْنِ أَبِي هِنْدٍ، عَنْ زُرَارَةَ بْنِ أَوْفَى، عَنْ تَمِيمٍ الدَّارِيِّ، عَنِ النَّبِيِّ ﷺ؛ ح: وَحَدَّثَنَا الْحَسَنُ بْنُ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ الصَّبَّاحِ: حَدَّثَنَا عَفَّانُ: حَدَّثَنَا حَمَّادٌ: أَنْبَأَنَا حُمَيْدٌ، عَنِ الْحَسَنِ، عَنْ رَجُلٍ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ وَ دَاوُدُ بْنُ أَبِي هِنْدٍ، عَنْ زُرَارَةَ بْنِ أَوْفَى، عَنْ

Chapter 203. Offering A Voluntary Prayer in The Same Place As One Has Offered An Obligatory Prayer

١٤٢٧ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا إِسْمَاعِيلُ ابْنُ عُلَيَّةَ، عَنْ لَيْثٍ، عَنْ حَجَّاجِ ابْنِ عُبَيْدٍ، عَنْ إِبْرَاهِيمَ بْنِ إِسْمَاعِيلَ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ، عَنِ النَّبِيِّ ﷺ قَالَ: «أَيَعْجِزُ أَحَدُكُمْ، إِذَا صَلَّى، أَنْ يَتَقَدَّمَ أَوْ يَتَأَخَّرَ، أَوْ عَنْ يَمِينِهِ، أَوْ عَنْ شِمَالِهِ» يَعْنِي السُّبْحَةَ.

1427. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Prophet ﷺ said: "Is anyone of you incapable, when he prays, of stepping forward or backwards, or to his right or left?" meaning in order to offer a voluntary prayer. (Da'if) تخريج: [إسناده ضعيف] أخرجه أبوداود، ح:١٠٠٦ من حديث ليث بن أبي سليم به، وضعفه البخاري في صحيحه، ح:٨٤٨ بقوله: ولم يصحَّ * ليث تقدم حاله، ح:٢٠٨، وإبراهيم مجهول، وللحديث شواهد ضعيفة، وأثر علي لم أجده في مصنف ابن أبي شيبة بهذا اللفظ، وأخرج ابن أبي شيبة بإسناد ضعيف عن علي نحوه بدون قوله: من السنة ، فيه مدلس عنعن، وعباد ابن عبدالله تقدم حاله، ح:١٢٠ .

Comments:

Most of the people are unaware of this etiquette of prayer. A person should not offer Sunnah or Nafl prayer at the very place where he has offered his obligatory prayer. What he should do is to move aside a little or exchange greetings etc., with a companion, or else he should recite some of the supplications taught by the Prophet ﷺ before resuming his Sunnah or Nafl prayer.

1428. It was narrated from Al-Mughirah bin Shu'bah that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "The Imâm should not pray in the place where he offered the obligatory prayer, until he moves aside." (Da'if)

Another chain from Mughirah, from the Prophet ﷺ with similar wording.

١٤٢٨ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ يَحْيَىٰ: حَدَّثَنَا قُتَيْبَةُ: حَدَّثَنَا ابْنُ وَهْبٍ، عَنْ عُثْمَانَ بْنِ عَطَاءٍ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنِ الْمُغِيرَةِ بْنِ شُعْبَةَ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ قَالَ: «لاَ يُصَلِّي الإِمَامُ فِي مُقَامِهِ الَّذِي صَلَّى فِيهِ الْمَكْتُوبَةَ، حَتَّى يَتَنَحَّى عَنْهُ».

حدّثنا كَثِيرُ بْنُ عُبَيْدٍ الْحِمْصِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا بَقِيَّةُ، عَنْ أَبِي عَبْدِ الرَّحْمٰنِ التَّمِيمِيِّ، عَنْ عُثْمَانَ بْنِ عَطَاءٍ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنِ الْمُغِيرَةِ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ ﷺ، نَحْوَهُ.

تخريج: [إسناده ضعيف] أخرجه أبو داود، الصلوة، باب الإمام يتطوع في مكانه، ح:٦١٦ من طريق آخر عن عطاء به، وقال: عطاء الخراساني لم يدرك المغيرة بن شعبة ، فالسند منقطع، وله شواهد، فالحديث حسن.

Chapter 204. What Was Narrated Concerning Having A Place In The Mosque In Which One Usually Prays

(المعجم ٢٠٤) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي تَوْطِينِ الْمَكَانِ فِي الْمَسْجِدِ يُصَلَّى فِيهِ (التحفة ٢٤٣)

1429. It was narrated that 'Abdur-Rahmân bin Shibl said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ forbade three things: Pecking like a crow, spreading (the forearms) like a beast of prey,[1] and a man having a place in the mosque in which he usually offers the prayer, like a camel has a place to which it usually goes." (Hasan) ١٤٢٩ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا وَكِيعٌ؛ ح: وَحَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بِشْرٍ، بَكْرُ بْنُ خَلَفٍ: حَدَّثَنَا يَحْيَى بْنُ سَعِيدٍ. قَالاَ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الْحَمِيدِ بْنُ جَعْفَرٍ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ تَمِيمِ بْنِ مَحْمُودٍ، عَنْ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمٰنِ بْنِ شِبْلٍ قَالَ: نَهَى رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ عَنْ ثَلاَثٍ: عَنْ نَقْرَةِ الْغُرَابِ، وَعَنْ فَرْشَةِ السَّبُعِ، وَأَنْ يُوطِنَ الرَّجُلُ الْمَكَانَ الَّذِي يُصَلِّي فِيهِ كَمَا يُوطِنُ الْبَعِيرُ.

[1] "That he spread his forearms in prostration and not raise them from the ground as is done by the wolf, the dog and others." (Explanation by Sindi).

تخريج: [إسناده حسن] أخرجه أبو داود، الصلوة، باب صلوة من لا يقيم صلبه في الركوع والسجود، ح:٨٦٢ من طريق آخر عن أبي عبدالحميد جعفر بن عبدالله الأنصاري به، وصححه ابن خزيمة، وابن حبان، والحاكم، والذهبي * تميم موثق عند الجمهور وتعديله راجح.

Comments:

a. 'Pecking like a crow' means hurrying through one's prostrations etc. It is against the spirit of humility and submissiveness – essential ingredients of prayer. We must perform all the recitations and actions of prayer with complete equanimity and composure.

b. While going into prostration, we should only place our hands on the ground. Spreading the forearms (until, elbows) on the ground is prohibited.

1430. It was narrated from Yazid bin Abu 'Ubaid that Salamah bin Al-Akwa' used to offer the Duha prayer, and he would come to the pillar that was near the Mushaf.[1] I said to him: "Why do you not pray over there?" And I pointed to some corner of the mosque. He said: "I saw the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ seeking out this place." (Sahih) ١٤٣٠ - حَدَّثَنَا يَعْقُوبُ بْنُ حُمَيْدِ بْنِ كَاسِبٍ: حَدَّثَنَا الْمُغِيرَةُ بْنُ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمٰنِ الْمَخْزُومِيُّ، عَنْ يَزِيدَ بْنِ أَبِي عُبَيْدٍ، عَنْ سَلَمَةَ بْنِ الأَكْوَعِ أَنَّهُ كَانَ يَأْتِي إِلَى سُبْحَةِ الضُّحَىٰ فَيَعْمِدُ إِلَى الأُسْطُوَانَةِ، دُونَ [الْمُصْحَفِ]، فَيُصَلِّي قَرِيباً مِنْهَا. فَأَقُولُ لَهُ: أَلاَ تُصَلِّي هٰهُنَا؟ وَأُشِيرُ إِلَى بَعْضِ نَوَاحِي الْمَسْجِدِ. فَيَقُولُ: إِنِّي رَأَيْتُ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ يَتَحَرَّى هٰذَا الْمُقَامَ.

تخريج: أخرجه البخاري، الصلوة، باب الصلاة إلى الأسطوانة، ح:٥٠٢، ومسلم، الصلوة، باب دنو المصلي من السترة، ح:٥٠٩ من حديث يزيد بن أبي عبيد به.

Comments:

It is perfectly in order to try to pray at one's preferred place provided that it does not cause inconvenience to others, and nobody who is already in that place is made to move from there.

Chapter 205. What Was Narrated Concerning Where Shoes Should Be Placed If They Are Taken Off During Prayer

(المعجم ٢٠٥) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي أَيْنَ تُوضَعُ النَّعْلُ إِذَا خُلِعَتْ فِي الصَّلَاةِ (التحفة ٢٤٤)

1431. It was narrated that

١٤٣١ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا

[1] "That is the Mushaf (collected copy of the Qur'ân) of 'Uthmân." Explanation by Sindi, Ibn Hajar (no. 502, Al-Bukhâri) said: "This proves that there was a specific location for the Mushaf, and it occurs in Muslim with the wording: 'He prayed behind the box.' And it is as if there was a box that the Mushaf was placed in."

'Abdullâh bin Sâ'ib said: "I saw the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ praying on the Day of the Conquest, and he put his shoes on his left." (Sahih) يَحْيَى بْنُ سَعِيدٍ، عَنِ ابْنِ جُرَيْجٍ، عَنْ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ عَبَّادٍ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ سُفْيَانَ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ السَّائِبِ قَالَ: رَأَيْتُ رَسُولَ اللهِ ﷺ صَلَّى يَوْمَ الْفَتْحِ، فَجَعَلَ نَعْلَيْهِ عَنْ يَسَارِهِ.

تخريج: [إسناده صحيح] أخرجه أبو داود، الصلوة، باب الصلوة في النعل، ح:٦٤٨ من حديث يحيى به * وصرح ابن جريج بالسماع عنده، وصححه ابن خزيمة، وابن حبان.

Comments:

Offering prayer is permitted in both ways, i.e., with or without the shoes on. (Sunan Ibn Mâjah: 1038). Should anyone want to put the shoes aside during prayer, he should put them on his left.

1432. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Keep your shoes on your feet. If you take them off then place them between your two feet; do not place them to your right, or to the right of your companions, or behind you, for they may annoy whoever is behind you.'" (Da'if) ١٤٣٢ - حَدَّثَنَا إِسْحَاقُ بْنُ إِبْرَاهِيمَ بْنِ حَبِيبٍ، وَ مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ إِسْمَاعِيلَ. قَالاَ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الرَّحْمٰنِ الْمُحَارِبِيُّ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ سَعِيدِ بْنِ أَبِي سَعِيدٍ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ: «أَلْزِمْ نَعْلَيْكَ قَدَمَيْكَ. فَإِنْ خَلَعْتَهُمَا فَاجْعَلْهُمَا بَيْنَ رِجْلَيْكَ. وَلاَ تَجْعَلْهُمَا عَنْ يَمِينِكَ، وَلاَ عَنْ يَمِينِ صَاحِبِكَ، وَلاَ وَرَاءَكَ، فَتُؤْذِيَ مَنْ خَلْفَكَ».

Comments:

a. It is compulsory for maintaining, promoting and establishing peace in a Muslim society, that all the Muslims take care of and assure each other's rights. The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ instructed his followers many times to keep their mutual relationships upright. These guidelines also include the above mentioned six golden teachings. These commandments and instructions are declared 'Rights of a Muslim' due to their importance, so that every Muslim should be heedful of these matters regarding other brothers. The result of following these rules will be the establishment of a healthy and sound society based upon peace, love, kindness and mutual compassion, thus all sorts of fighting and quarrels will come to an end, and peace will be determined.

b. A believer should 'love for his brother what he loves for himself' means that one should be sincere to others, and one should treat others as one wishes for himself to be treated by others. For example; a person who longs to be respected and not be mistreated, by the same token should honor others and must avoid insulting them. And as he would want other people to help him, he should help others too.

1434. It was narrated from Abu Mas'ud that the Prophet ﷺ said: "The Muslim has four things due from the Muslim: He should answer [by saying Yarhamuk-Allâh (may Allâh have mercy on you)] to him if he sneezes (and says Al-Hamdulillah); he should accept his invitation if he invites him; he should attend his funeral if he dies; and he should visit him if he falls sick." 1438. It was narrated from Abu Sa'eed Al-Khudri that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "When you enter upon one who is sick, cheer him up and give him hope of a long life, for that does not change anything (of the Divine Decree), but it will cheer the heart of the one who is sick." (Da'if)

١٤٤١ - حَدَّثَنَا جَعْفَرُ بْنُ مُسَافِرٍ: حَدَّثَنِي كَثِيرُ بْنُ هِشَامٍ: حَدَّثَنَا جَعْفَرُ بْنُ بُرْقَانَ، عَنْ مَيْمُونِ بْنِ مِهْرَانَ، عَنْ عُمَرَ بْنِ الْخَطَّابِ قَالَ: قَالَ لِي النَّبِيُّ ﷺ: «إِذَا دَخَلْتَ عَلَى مَرِيضٍ فَمُرْهُ أَنْ يَدْعُوَ لَكَ. فَإِنَّ دُعَاءَهُ كَدُعَاءِ الْمَلَائِكَةِ».

Chapter 2. What Was Narrated Concerning The Reward Of One Who Visits A Sick Person

(المعجم ٢) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي ثَوَابِ مَنْ عَادَ مَرِيضًا (التحفة ٢)

1442. It was narrated that 'Ali said: "I heard the Messenger of

١٤٤٢ - حَدَّثَنَا عُثْمَانُ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو مُعَاوِيَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا الأَعْمَشُ، عَنِ الْحَكَمِ،

Allâh ﷺ say: 'Whoever comes to his Muslim brother and visits him (when he is sick), he is walking among the harvest of Paradise until he sits down, and when he sits down he is covered with mercy. If it is morning, seventy thousand angels will send blessing upon him until evening, and if it is evening, seventy thousand angels will send blessing upon him until morning.'" (Hasan)

عَنْ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمٰنِ بْنِ أَبِي لَيْلَى، عَنْ عَلِيٍّ قَالَ: سَمِعْتُ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ ﷺ يَقُولُ: «مَنْ أَتَى أَخَاهُ الْمُسْلِمَ عَائِداً، مَشَى فِي خِرَافَةِ الْجَنَّةِ حَتَّى يَجْلِسَ. فَإِذَا جَلَسَ غَمَرَتْهُ الرَّحْمَةُ. فَإِنْ كَانَ غُدْوَةً صَلَّى عَلَيْهِ سَبْعُونَ أَلْفَ مَلَكٍ حَتَّى يُمْسِيَ. وَإِنْ كَانَ مَسَاءً صَلَّى عَلَيْهِ سَبْعُونَ أَلْفِ مَلَكٍ حَتَّى يُصْبِحَ».

Comments:

a. Visiting a Muslim brother is such a rewarding deed that walking for this purpose is as if one is walking in the Garden of Paradise and enjoying its fruits.

b. The angels invoking mercy for a person would show his high status, which also has the good news of Allâh's mercy upon him, because the angels invoke good for someone only by the permission of Allâh.

1443. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Whoever visits a sick person, a caller calls from heaven: 'May you be happy, may your walking be blessed, and may you occupy a dignified position in Paradise.'" (Da'if)

١٤٤٣ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ بَشَّارٍ: حَدَّثَنَا يُوسُفُ بْنُ يَعْقُوبَ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو سِنَانٍ الْقَسْمَلِيُّ، عَنْ عُثْمَانَ بْنِ أَبِي سَوْدَةَ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ ﷺ: «مَنْ عَادَ مَرِيضاً نَادَى مُنَادٍ مِنَ السَّمَاءِ: طِبْتَ وَطَابَ مَمْشَاكَ، وَتَبَوَّأْتَ مِنَ الْجَنَّةِ مَنْزِلاً».

Chapter 3. What Was Narrated Concerning Urging The Dying Person To Say Lâ Ilâha illallâh

(المعجم ٣) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي تَلْقِينِ الْمَيِّتِ لَا إِلٰهَ إِلَّا اللهُ (التحفة ٣)

1444. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Urge your dying ones to say Lâ ilâha illallâh." (Sahih)

١٤٤٤ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو خَالِدٍ الْأَحْمَرُ، عَنْ يَزِيدَ بْنِ كَيْسَانَ، عَنْ أَبِي حَازِمٍ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ ﷺ: «لَقِّنُوا مَوْتَاكُمْ: لَا إِلٰهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ».

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، الجنائز، باب تلقين الموتى: لا إله إلا الله، ح:٩١٧ عن أبي بكر بن أبي شيبة وغيره به.

Comments:

a. 'The dying person' in this Hadith means a person at the verge of death.

b. 'Persuading a dying person to recite Lâ ilâha illallâh (none has the right to be worshiped but Allâh)'; the scholars explained the phrase that the people around the dying person should recite Lâ ilâha illallâh; so that the person on death bed may recite by hearing it from other people.

c. It is incorrect to understand from this Hadith that the persuasion by Lâ ilâha illallâh is after the burial at the grave, for the Prophet ﷺ did not do so nor was it narrated on the authority of any Companion of the Prophet through an authentic chain, so it must be avoided. Of course, making supplication for the steadfastness of the person after the burial is authentically proven by the Hadith of the Prophet ﷺ. (Sunan Abu Dâwud: 3221)

1445. It was narrated that Abu Sa'eed Al-Khudri said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Urge your dying ones to say: "Lâ ilâha illallâh." (Sahih)

١٤٤٥ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ يَحْيَىٰ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الرَّحْمٰنِ بْنُ مَهْدِيٍّ، عَنْ سُلَيْمَانَ بْنِ بِلَالٍ، عَنْ عُمَارَةَ بْنِ غَزِيَّةَ عَنْ يَحْيَى بْنِ عُمَارَةَ، عَنْ أَبِي سَعِيدٍ الْخُدْرِيِّ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ ﷺ: «لَقِّنُوا مَوْتَاكُمْ: لَا إِلٰهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ».

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، الجنائز، الباب السابق، ح:٩١٦ من حديث سليمان بن بلال به.

1446. It was narrated from Ishâq bin 'Abdullâh bin Ja'far that his father said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Urge your dying ones to say: "Lâ ilâha illallâhul-Halimul-Karim, Subhân-Allâhi Rabbil-'Arshil-'Azim, Al-Hamdu

١٤٤٦ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ بَشَّارٍ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو عَامِرٍ: حَدَّثَنَا كَثِيرُ بْنُ زَيْدٍ، عَنْ إِسْحَاقَ بْنِ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ جَعْفَرٍ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ ﷺ: «لَقِّنُوا مَوْتَاكُمْ: لَا إِلٰهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ الْحَلِيمُ الْكَرِيمُ، سُبْحَانَ اللَّهِ رَبِّ الْعَرْشِ

Lillâhi Rabbil-'âlamin (None has the right to be worshiped but Allâh, the Forbearing, the Most Kind. Glory is to Allâh, Lord of the magnificent Throne; praise is to Allâh, the Lord of the worlds).'" They said: 'O Messenger of Allâh, what about those who are alive?' He said: 'Even better, even better.'" (Da'if) الْعَظِيمِ، الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ رَبِّ الْعَالَمِينَ» قَالُوا: يَا رَسُولَ اللَّهِ كَيْفَ لِلأَحْيَاءِ؟ قَالَ: «أَجْوَدُ، وَأَجْوَدُ».

Chapter 4. What Was Narrated Concerning What Is To Be Said To The Sick Person When Death Approaches

(المعجم ٤) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِيمَا يُقَالُ عِنْدَ الْمَرِيضِ إِذَا حُضِرَ (التحفة ٤)

1447. It was narrated that Umm Salamah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'When you visit one who is sick or dying, say good things, for the angels say: Âmin to whatever you say.' When Abu Salamah died, I came to the Prophet ﷺ and said: 'O Messenger of Allâh! Abu Salamah has died.' He said: 'Say: "Allâhummaghfir li wa lahu, wa a'qibni minhu 'uqbâ hasanah (O Allâh, forgive me and him, and compensate me with someone better than him).'" She said: 'I said that, and Allâh compensated me with someone better than him: Muhammad the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ.'"[1] (Sahih)

١٤٤٧ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ، وَعَلِيُّ ابْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ. قَالاَ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو مُعَاوِيَةَ، عَنِ الأَعْمَشِ، عَنْ شَقِيقٍ، عَنْ أُمِّ سَلَمَةَ قَالَتْ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ ﷺ: «إِذَا حَضَرْتُمُ الْمَرِيضَ أَوِ الْمَيِّتَ، فَقُولُوا خَيْرًا. فَإِنَّ الْمَلاَئِكَةَ يُؤَمِّنُونَ عَلَى مَا تَقُولُونَ».

فَلَمَّا مَاتَ أَبُو سَلَمَةَ أَتَيْتُ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ فَقُلْتُ: يَا رَسُولَ اللَّهِ إِنَّ أَبَا سَلَمَةَ قَدْ مَاتَ. قَالَ: «قُولِي اللَّهُمَّ اغْفِرْ لِي وَلَهُ، وَأَعْقِبْنِي مِنْهُ عُقْبَى حَسَنَةً». قَالَتْ: فَفَعَلْتُ. فَأَعْقَبَنِي اللَّهُ مَنْ هُوَ خَيْرٌ مِنْهُ. مُحَمَّدٌ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ ﷺ.

Comments:

a. It is also a duty to enquire after the health of a person on the death bed.
b. The people of knowledge and piety should also visit the bereaved family of the deceased, to make supplication for the forgiveness of the deceased, and for the rewarding patience by the relatives.
c. As for the custom followed in some countries that the people sit outside the house on laid rugs or mats for three days mourning, and whenever someone comes they raise their hands for reciting Al-Fâtihah (the first chapter of the Noble Qur'ân), this custom is not proven from the tradition (Sunnah) of the Prophet ﷺ.

1448. It was narrated from Ma'qil bin Yasâr that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "Recite Qur'ân near your dying ones," meaning Yâ-Sîn. (Da'if) ١٤٤٨ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا عَلِيُّ بْنُ الْحَسَنِ بْنِ شَقِيقٍ، عَنِ ابْنِ الْمُبَارَكِ، عَنْ سُلَيْمَانَ التَّيْمِيِّ، عَنْ أَبِي عُثْمَانَ وَلَيْسَ بِالنَّهْدِيِّ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ مَعْقِلِ بْنِ يَسَارٍ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ ﷺ: «اقْرَؤُوهَا عِنْدَ مَوْتَاكُمْ» يَعْنِي يَسٓ.

(المعجم ٥) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي الْمُؤْمِنِ يُؤْجَرُ فِي النَّزْعِ (التحفة ٥)

1451. It was narrated from 'Âishah that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ entered upon her and there was a close relative of hers who was in the throes of death. When the Prophet ﷺ saw how upset she was, he said: "Do not grieve for your relative, for that is part of his Hasanât (merits)." (Da'if)

Comments:

One meaning of 'the perspiration of the forehead' is that a believer gets perspiration due to the agony of death to expiate for whatevor is left of his sins, and another meaning is that a believer does not suffer with a great deal of pain while dying, rather he bears a little inconvenience that makes him just perspire.

Comments:

The logic of closing the eyes of a deceased is that if the eyes remain open the scene becomes horrifying and some people may feel terrified, but if the eyes are closed it resembles the sleeping position which is a familiar position.

1455. It was narrated from Shaddâd bin Aws that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "When you come to your dead ones, close their eyes, for the sight follows the soul. And say good things, for the Angels say Âmin to what the members of the household say." (Da'if)

After death, the deceased should be remembered with good words, and an invocation should be made for the good of the deceased's Hereafter.

Chapter 7. What Was Narrated Concerning Kissing The Deceased

(المعجم ٧) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي تَقْبِيلِ الْمَيِّتِ (التحفة ٧)

Comments:

a. Weeping and shedding tears for grief is not contrary to the endurance of patience, instead it is a sign of mercy and being soft hearted.
b. Kissing a dead body is allowed. It is an expression of love for the deceased.

1457. It was narrated from Ibn 'Abbâs and 'Âishah that Abu Bakr kissed the Prophet ﷺ when he died. (Sahih)

Chapter 8. What Was Narrated Concerning Washing The Deceased

(المعجم ٨) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي غُسْلِ الْمَيِّتِ (التحفة ٨)

1458. Muhammad bin Sirin narrated that Umm 'Atiyyah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ entered upon us when we were washing his daughter Umm Kulthum. He said: 'Wash her three or five times, or more than that if you think you need to, with water and lote leaves, and put camphor or a little camphor in (the water) for the last washing. When you have finished, call for me.' When we finished, we called him, and he gave his waist-wrapper to us and

Comments:

a. Only women should wash the dead body of a female, and the men should wash the dead body of the male; although a husband is allowed to wash the body of his wife, and the wife, is allowed to wash the body of her husband, it is even preferred.

b. The leaves of the lote tree should be boiled with water and the body should be washed with it, thus the body will be cleansed better, or this goal can in these days be achieved by using soap.

c. Water should be poured more than one time over the body, but in an odd number of times.

d. The smell of camphor keeps the insects away from the body, and the water poured over the body for the last time should have camphor in it.

1459. It was narrated from Ayyub who said: "Hafsah narrated to me, from Umm 'Atiyyah" and it is similar to the Hadith of Muhammad. And in the narration of Hafsah it says: "Wash her an odd number of times." And: "Wash her three or five times." And "Start on her right, with the places washed in ablution." And it says that Umm 'Atiyyah said: "And we combed her hair into three braids."
(Sahih)

١٤٥٩ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الْوَهَّابِ الثَّقَفِيُّ، عَنْ أَيُّوبَ: حَدَّثَتْنِي حَفْصَةُ، عَنْ أُمِّ عَطِيَّةَ بِمِثْلِ حَدِيثِ مُحَمَّدٍ. وَكَانَ فِي حَدِيثِ حَفْصَةَ: «اغْسِلْنَهَا وِتْرًا» وَكَانَ فِيهِ: «اغْسِلْنَهَا ثَلَاثًا أَوْ خَمْسًا» وَكَانَ فِيهِ: «ابْدَأُوا بِمَيَامِنِهَا وَمَوَاضِعِ الْوُضُوءِ مِنْهَا» وَكَانَ فِيهِ: أَنَّ أُمَّ عَطِيَّةَ قَالَتْ: وَمَشَطْنَاهَا ثَلَاثَةَ قُرُونٍ.

تخريج: [صحيح] انظر الحديث السابق.

Comments:

a. When washing the body, the right side should be washed first and then the left side; the limbs of the body washed for ablution should be washed before commencing to wash the rest of the body. The right hand, right forearm and right foot have priority over the left ones.

b. The hair of a female may be combed and should be divided into three plaits, and arranged behind her head.

1460. It was narrated that 'Ali

Comments:

Shaikh Albâni gave preference to the view that the thigh is a part of the body which must be kept covered. Imâm Tirmidhi declared the Hadith 'The thigh is from the part of the body which must be covered' as a Hasan (Good) Hadith. (Jâmi' At-Tirmidhi: 2795)

1461. It was narrated from 'Abdullâh bin 'Umar that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Let the honest wash your dead." (Maudu')

1462. It was narrated from 'Ali that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "Whoever washes a deceased person, shrouds him, embalms him, carries him and offers the funeral prayer for him, and does not disclose what he has seen, he will emerge from his sins as on the day his mother bore him." (Maudu')

Comments:

Keeping the faults of a deceased secret is rewarding. The Prophet ﷺ stated: 'One who washes the dead body of a Muslim and keeps the deceased's faults secret; Allâh ﷻ forgives that person forty times. (Mustadrak Al-Hâkim, 1/362. Its chain is authentic.)

1463. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "Whoever washes a dead person, let him take a bath." (Sahih)

١٤٦٣ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عَبْدِ الْمَلِكِ بْنِ أَبِي الشَّوَارِبِ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الْعَزِيزِ بْنُ الْمُخْتَارِ، عَنْ سُهَيْلِ بْنِ أَبِي صَالِحٍ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ ﷺ: «مَنْ غَسَّلَ مَيِّتاً فَلْيَغْتَسِلْ».

Comments:

This commandment is only a recommendation and is not compulsory. So it is preferred to take a bath after washing the dead body but is not obligatory. 'Abdullâh bin 'Umar ؓ said: "We used to wash the body, and some from us would take a bath, and some would not do so." (Sunan Ad-Dârimi, Hadith: 1802, 2/72]

1464. It was narrated that 'Âishah said: "If I had known then what I know now, no one would have washed the Prophet ﷺ but his wives." (Hasan) ١٤٦٤ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ يَحْيَى: حَدَّثَنَا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ خَالِدٍ الْوَهْبِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ إِسْحَاقَ، عَنْ يَحْيَى بْنِ عَبَّادِ بْنِ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ الزُّبَيْرِ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ: لَوْ كُنْتُ اسْتَقْبَلْتُ مِنْ أَمْرِي مَا اسْتَدْبَرْتُ مَا غَسَّلَ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ غَيْرُ نِسَائِهِ.
